Friends of the Children connects young children facing the highest risks with paid, professional mentors who serve as advocate, coach and motivator. Children facing challenges including poverty, homelessness and poor academic performance and family histories of domestic violence and substance abuse -are selected in Kindergarten, and receive mentoring through high school graduation. Our unique strength is that our mentors (called Friends) are full-time, salaried, college-educated professionals who have previous experience working with children. Each Friend works with no more than eleven children, and meets weekly with each child. We believe that our society's most vulnerable, children have the potential to rise above adverse circumstances if given the opportunity. Our Friends provide that opportunity. Potential to build a learning mindset, learn life skills, and plan for their future.

Applications for grants are considered only from tax-exempt 501(c)(3) organizations (private, non-profit organizations) with clearly defined goals aimed at solutions to, or the prevention of, important problems, either through research or the application of existing knowledge and capabilities, rather than those which deal with the consequences of problems or merely react to "needs." Also favored are proposals which address critical priorities of regional or national, rather than local, significance. Of major concern are endeavors which expand man's knowledge of himself and his world and which promote those values and activities of society leading to a happier, healthier, freer, and more- productive life.
