Dear Danielle:

Congratulations to you and the staff of the Washington Talking Book and Braille Library on being named the Network Library of the Year by the Library of Congress. I regret that I was not able to join you at the award luncheon in Washington, D.C., but I want to let you know what an impressive accomplishment you have achieved.

Our community is appreciative of the work that you and specialty libraries around the state and country do. I am proud of your work on such critical services and thankful that your Library is providing so many programs for Washington residents.

Again, congratulations to you on this distinguished recognition, and thank you for your service to Washingtonians and our country.

Sincerely,

Patty Murray
