

About the Mormons.

Up to a very recent period, few were to be found who seriously entertained the opinion that the Mormons meditated any fixed resolution to oppose with physical force the resolves of the Administration in relation to Utah.

Matters have reached a point when the Federal Government has either to give way and acknowledge its inability to subdue the seditious spirit that is rampant in Utah, or pursue the policy indicated by the appointment of Gov. Cumming and Gen. Harney as the heads of the civil and military departments of the Territory.

The difficulties with the Indians have been increasing for the past several weeks, until now it is absolutely necessary that stringent means should be applied for the protection of the inhabitants. The troubles arose about the time of the murder of Williams and McManis, and since then have been steadily increasing.

broader scale, will have to be adopted to meet the difficulty which has developed itself in the most undisguised disaffection.—The Administration, we hope by this time, is advised of the necessity of sending a larger body of troops to Utah, and has taken measures to prevent the danger of allowing a small number to proceed, that would, in all probability, be forced to retire before the superior numbers of the Mormons.

Later from Carson Valley. By a telegraphic dispatch from Placerville to the Sacramento Union, dated October 4th, 4 p. m., we have the following particulars from Carson Valley.

John J. Walker, from Arkansas, arrived October 2d, at Genoa. He reports that Abbott and Kirby, members of his company, were killed by Indians near Goose Creek; two of Abbott's men were wounded, and they lost twenty head of stock.

A trading Post at Gold Canon, kept by Atchison, was burned, with its contents, and but for the timely aid of some Pinto Indians, the clerk would have been burned up, being asleep when the Indians discovered the house in flames, and rescued him.

Further from Carson Valley.—Col. Wm. Rodgers furnishes the State Journal some additional facts in relation to the movements of the Mormons and the condition of the inhabitants of Carson Valley. It is his opinion that the Mormons intend to remove to the neighborhood of Vancouver's Island.

On the evening before the murder of these men, the cabin of Col. Rogers was robbed, and some of the employees at the mine kicked the suspected Indians out of the camp. They were very indignant, and the murder followed. The search made by parties has already been published, and it has been related that sufficient has been discovered to fix the act upon a certain body of the Washo tribe.

On Thursday last news was received that two other men had been killed upon the East Fork, about eight miles from Genoa. At this time Col. Rogers was traveling from his mine to the town, and was stopped about midnight at Wade's, about five miles below Cay's old mill. They had just brought in one of the victims of this last murder. He was found dead in his cabin lying on his bed, shot directly in the forehead.

An Old Machine.—The firemen of Philadelphia intend to parade at the Elmiria Tournament "the first Philadelphia Fire Engine." This fire engine, which was the first ever used in Philadelphia, was built as an experiment in London, in the year 1659, and was the first ever made on the air-tight chamber principle.
