By Telegraph.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 7.—Sailed on the 5th
bark Parkhurst, for San Francisco.

GARDNER (Mo.), Aug. 7.—A fire is raging here, and a great portion of the manufacturing section is already destroyed, together with many dwellings.
The flames are spreading rapidly. Assistance has been asked from Augusta and Hollowell.

CHONG (N. Y.), Aug. 7.—Harmony
mills reopened this morning, but only 70
operatives resumed work.

AIRO (Ill.), Aug. 7.—The steamer Gold dust blew up and was burned to the water's edge and sunk 200 yards off Hickman, Kentucky. Seventeen persons were killed that are known of and 47 were wounded. The captain was wounded slightly. A tug with physicians, left here
at 8 o'clock this evening for the scene of the disaster.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—John A. Blair, proprietor of the Blair railroads in the west,
left this city for a trip into that section
this evening. He says he has just completed a line of forty miles between St.
Joseph and St. Charles, Missouri, forming an important connection with the Wabash system. He has recently completed the organization of a company to build a bridge across the Missouri river
at Blair, Iowa, at a cost of $1,000,000.
The contracts are to be let at once. This bridge will connect the Blair systems in Iowa and Nebraska.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the British grain trade last week, says grain ripened very rapidly. If the weather holds good the larger proportion of wheat will be in the sheaf by the end of the week. All descriptions of breadstuffs are dull and slow. Sales of foreign wheat have shown a languid demand, and prices have declined about 6d. American red wheat declined 6 1/2c on Friday. Flour is dull and unchanged. Maize in London continues scarce. Prices on Friday were rather higher. A better inquiry for oats exists, and rates are firmer. Cargo trade is at a standstill for want of supplies.
Two fresh arrivals are reported and about twenty-four wheat cargoes. Wheat due this week and wheat on the passage or for shipment is sparingly dealt in. Prices are rather against buyers. Sales of English wheat the past week were 10,541
quarters at 51s 3d, against 12,743 quarters
at 41s 3d the corresponding week of last year.

BROWNSVILLE (Texas), Aug. 9.—Fifty cases of yellow fever and epidemic are developing. The people are preparing for the worst.

MARYSVILLE (Ohio), Aug. 9.—The republican convention of the Ninth District this morning renominated General
James S. Robinson for congress.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—Every wholesale grocer here has been notified of the advanced price of matches from 25c to $1.50 per gross.

SANDWICH (Mass.), Aug. 9.—The forest
fire is rapidly reaching its height. The wind is south, blowing harder than ever.
Tenants of fifteen buildings in the line of the flames are preparing to leave. If the winds hold forty-eight hours the loss will be much. The fire is now sixty miles wide, and is progressing towards Monument.

BOMBAY, Aug. 8.—Five transports with troops sailed for Egypt yesterday. Seven more will start today.

Gen. Sir Hobart McPherson and staff
will start today for the seat of war at Alexandria.

LONDON, August 9.—The Royal Irish Dragoon Guards left Aldershot this morning for Southampton, where they will embark for Egypt.

ATHENS, August 9.—A commission has been appointed to proceed to England
to commence the construction of a powerful war vessel, costing 40,000,000
drachmas.

MALTA, August 8.—The Spanish sloop
of war Tornado has arrived here on her way to Alexandria.

Admiral Seymour does not intend to send Egyptian prisoners to the Khedive. The gun-boats Ali and Don have arrived.

ATLANTA (Texas), August 7.—The governor has received from the state health officer at Brownsville a statement that eight or ten deaths from yellow fever
have occurred at that place in the last two weeks. He urges citizens to organize, so as to prevent the disease becoming an epidemic. No mail or freight or steamers have been quarantined at this place against Matamoras, as it is useless

to do so.

GALVESTON, Aug. 4.—The schooner Henrietta, from Matamoras, with yellow fever
on board, was towed to Ship Island and supplied with medicines, officers and provisions.

A dispatch from Matamoras says several additional yellow fever cases are reported, and a number of new cases are not yet made public. The new cases are put down at nine.

A heavy rain-storm last evening extended over a wide tract.

BROWNSVILLE, August 7.—The yellow fever has attacked the mayor and other notable citizens. The people object to doctors visiting Matamoras and returning. One death has occurred here during the last 24 hours.

WASHINGTON, August 9.—The president
who has $100,000 available for the suppression of epidemics, has referred the matter of yellow fever in Texas to the secretary of the treasury.

Exports for the twelve months ending
June 30, 1882, were 251,232,763.

The Arabs will now fold their tents
and quietly steal away.

The Gladstone Ministry.

For some time past the people have considered the present English ministry
so weak that nothing decisive would be done to perpetuate the dominions of Her Majesty's government, but the following from a New York dispatch of July 30th,
shows that since the late move against Alexandria, the public confidence is again being strengthened in Mr. Gladstone and his management of governmental affairs,
which may result in him occupying a different position than would have been accorded a few weeks ago when he was making his Irish blunders.

The government of Mr. Gladstone is showing for the moment, at least, more firmness than was anticipated in any quarter. It seems at the present writing fully determined to prevent Turkey from obtaining the mastery in Egypt, which the sultan would almost infallibly obtain should his troops once set foot in the Khedive's dominions, and I hear from very good authority that it will adhere to the conditions to which it alone invites Turkish interference, the maintenance of Tewik Pasha as Khedive and
the suppression of his rebellious subject, Arabi Bey. Turkey, like every other
power in Europe, has calculated on Mr.
Gladstone's weakness and indecision, as shown in the earlier stages of the Egyptian difficulty; and now in England believe, is general that the Boer story will be reported. The strength of the government and the consequent vigor of its action, are largely due to the unflinching support which it has received from Birmingham, Manchester and the other great constituencies interested in manufacturing. The feeling there is that if the supply of Egyptian cotton should fail us, great losses will be inflicted on one of our most important industries;
therefore, paradoxical as it may at first
seem, the way, even in radical constituencies for an English protectorate of Egypt is hourly becoming stronger.

The Tacoma Ledger has a two-column editorial in its last issue, accusing Dr. Minor, candidate for delegate, of gross plagiarism. The doctor delivered the Fourth of July oration at Seattle, and the Ledger says it was built entirely upon Bob Ingersoll's decoration day speech, and gives cop-ious extracts from both. The language is entirely dissimilar, though
the ideas have some strong points of resemblance. Fourth of July speeches are necessarily confined to pretty much the same line of thought, and it would be hard indeed to find one freshly different from all others. If the doctor is a strong vigorous thinker, we can readily see how he could approximate Ingersoll's speech without having seen it; but if he be the opposite it is extremely probable that he used it as the ground-work of his building. It is fair to state that the doctor's language, which is entirely
his own, does not bear the resemblance to Ingersoll that it would be difficult to avoid had the theft been committed outright.—Cheney Sentiment.

The Nicaragua canal bill has passed congress after undergoing some very great modifications at the hands of the committee which has been se-cretely manipulating it. There is no guarantee of interest by the government on seventy-five millions of bonds, as asked. There is not much prospect that the proposed canal will be built, there being no subsidy in sight. Lessees will have his work through, we imagine, long before the American company does anything except talk. The controlling influences at Washington are opposed to any canal at all, and encouragement was given to American schemes merely to get a backing to talk up the Monroe doctrine and try to scare the French-

man from the work he had proposed.
In spite of the terrible opposition,
we are likely to have speedy communication with the Atlantic seaboard,
for which we will be indebted to the energy of the French company.—Astorian.

The river and harbor appropriation bill has been passed over the President's veto by a large vote. The following remarks which occur in the President's message on the subject,
will briefly explain the reasons for which he withheld his signature: "I regard such appropriations of the public money as beyond the powers
that are given by the constitution to grasp, and as President I feel more bound to withhold my signature from
the bill because of the peculiar evils
which manifestly result from this in-fracture of the constitution. Appropriations of this nature, to be devoted purely to local objects, tend to increase in number and amount. As citizens of one state find that the money, to raise which they in common with the whole country are taxed,
is to be expended for local improvement in another state, they demand similar benefits for themselves, and it is not unnatural they should seek to indemnify themselves for such use of the public funds by securing appropriations for similar improvements in their own neighborhood. Thus as the bill becomes more objectionable
it secures more support. This result invariably and necessarily follows
neglect to observe the constitutional limitations imposed upon the law-making power. The appropriations for river and harbor improvements
have, under the influences to which I have alluded, increased year by year
out of proportion to the progress of the country, great as that has been.
In 1870 the aggregate appropriations
were $3,975,900; in 1875, $6,648,517;
in 1880, $8,976,500; and in 1881, $11, 145,135, while by the present act there is appropriated $18,742,875."

The Wallacetown, now lying in the stream opposite the city, says the Astorian, will finish loading in a day or
so. She has on board 72,000 cases of salmon. She will take on board about 200 tons of flour forward to steady
her. This salmon and flour aggregate in value nearly $400,000. This is the most valuable cargo that ever left the Pacific coast. The vessel was chartered by Astorians, loaded at As-toria, and of the $400,000 which her cargo represents, $388,000 is the direct products of Astoria. This is worthy of comment. The simple fact of a vessel leaving port with the most valuable cargo that ever set sail from any Pacific coast port, is of itself an item worthy of chronicle. The nearest approach in value, of any of which we are cognizant, was a vessel that left San Francisco about twenty years ago with a cargo of furs. Her cargo was worth about $295,000, $100,000
less than that of the Wallacetown.

During the present term of the Supreme Court, John F. Gowey, Esq., Register of the Olympia land office,
presented certificates of admission to practice in the courts of Ohio and the Supreme Court of the United States, and was thereupon admitted as attorney and counsellor at law in all the courts of Washington Territory. Mr. Gowey enjoyed a large and lucrative practice in Ohio, which he was compelled to relinquish, owing to ill-health.—Courier.

A very ridiculous story has been started in Baltimore to the effect that Capt. Hooper, of the revenue cutter
Corwin, is in disgrace owing to certain illegal transactions said to have taken place while he was in search of the Jeannette. The story seems to be totally unfounded, and it is to be regretted that respectable journals will lend themselves to such work for the sake of manufacturing news.

CLIPPINGS.

Having failed to defeat Garfield in his lifetime, they now propose to lick him on a five cent postage stamp.

In San Francisco the Catholics have 15 churches; the Presbyterians 15; the Methodists 15; Episcopalians 11; Baptists
19; Congregational 6; in all, 86 churches;
19 chapels, and 7 synagogues, for a population of about 250,000.

What relation is a loaf of bread to a steam engine? Bread is a necessity; a steam engine is an invention; necessity

is the mother of invention, therefore a loaf of bread is a mother to a steam engine.

A man was arrested and fined for kneeling and praying aloud in the streets
of Wichita, Kansas, and the Times declares that he could have stood up and sworn with impunity.

The Olympia Standard hints at democratic support of a conservative republican as against the regular nominee for delegate. The main difficulty with this class of political adultery lies in the fact that a real good man can never be induced to make the race.—Sentinel.

LEARNING THE ROPES.—Charles Evans,
the newly appointed postmaster at New Tacoma, is at present in Seattle very wisely familiarizing himself with the duties of the office, under the direction of Mr. Carr. When his commission arrives, he will be enabled to step into the office at the terminus, and carry on the business like an old hand.—Post-Intelligencer.

WHEAT MARKET.—The Oregonian's
commercial editor says ocean freights
are going up; that the iron ship Ohari Bey, has been chartered to arrive, at the equivalent of 67s 6d to U. K. This freight rate, with the English market
standing at about 46s 6d for Walla Walla
wheat and 47s 6d for valley wheat, means respectively $1.52 1/2 and 1.57 1/2 per cen-tal for wheat free on board; or, in other words, the buyer who pays the fumer cost of the Cascades fifty-five cents per bushel for sacks, twenty-four cents per bushel freight, and five cents per bushel for receiving, weighing, cartage and wharfage
in Portland, will make two cents per bushel on his venture. This, of course, provided prices remain stationary. He loses or gains with changes of the market.

Shipping Items.

PORT TOWNSEND, August 9.—Bkme
Katie Flickinger arrived yesterday and has gone today to Port Discovery to load
lumber for San Francisco. Bark Bavere
in port, loaded with lumber, bound for Sandwich Islands.

PORT TOWNSEND, Aug. 10.—Schooner
American Boy sailed to-day from Irondale for Seattle. Bark Maritima Rideout arrived from San Francisco. Capt. Francis' schooner Perkins is lying at Union
wharf. She will go from here to Point
Roberts for a load of salmon.

The bark Nonantum, that was here in June and July, has been sold since her arrival in San Francisco, to Capt. Foye.
—Post-Intelligencer.

One-ninth of the steamer Ascott was sold at San Francisco last week for $6,700.
This is at the rate of $60,000 for the whole vessel.

The steamship Idaho sailed for San Francisco last night, taking a fair list of passengers and the following freight:
From Olympia, 163 bales wool. From Tacoma—30 bales wool, 250 green hides,
150 dry hides, 10 bales pelts. From Seattle—300 tons barrel material, 300 green
hides, 200 dry hides, 10 cases household goods. From Port Townsend—300 barrels salmon, 200 green hides, 20 bales
wool.

The builders of the Alaska are constructing a vessel to eclipse even her performances. The Oregon is to be 500 feet between perpendiculars, 54 feet beam,
and about 49 feet moulded depth, indicative horse power, 13,000; consumption
about 720 tons per day on very full steaming.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—The British ship City of Madrid, 1,029 tons, has been chartered to take wheat to Cork, for £2, 17s 6d.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Steamship Mosel,
free Bremen for New York, is aground
under Lizard Point. Her position is precarious. She has a hole through her bow.
She struck at 7:30 this morning. Tugs have been sent to her assistance. Weather calm and hazy. All the passengers were landed at Penzance.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The Moselle had mails for New York. She also had a full complement of passengers and a full cargo,
including jewelry valued at 91,500 francs.
She is full of water and will probably be a total wreck. There was a dense fog
when the steamer went ashore.

The secretary of the navy has approved
the design of flags to be known as President's flag. It will fly from the mainmast of every vessel used by the President. The first to be used will fly from the steamer Dispatch when the President
leaves on that vessel for New York.

A WISE PLAN.

Every one wishing to try the new remedy for biliousness and constipation—
Syrup of Figs—can obtain a trial bottle free of charge at N. D. Hill & Son's drug store. Knowing Syrup of Figs to be better in its effect and more pleasant to the taste than any other remedy, the California Fig Syrup Company has adopted
a wise plan to make its name known to the people.

The Aleuts.

These Aleuts seem a perfect link between Japanese and Esquimaux, but their language has not one word that resembles either. They have so mixed with other nations that they present all types, from negro to Caucasian. They have small, wide-set eyes, broad and high cheek-bones, full square jaws, sometimes peaked, coarse, straight black hair,
neatly-shaped hands and feet, and brownish yellow complexions. Men are generally five feet four or five inches, but some are six feet. Their manners and customs are those of an advanced semi-civilization. They are very polite to strangers and to each other. They visit in winter freely and pleasantly, and are great gossips, and remarkably attached
to their church, and visit on their 290
Saint days, and give dinners on their birthdays. They have accordions and violins, and the women play and the young ones dance, while the old sip their nicely sugared tea. They used to have drinking orgies, but Mr. Elliot induced the treasury to interfere, and they have none now. They are very docile and amiable. There has not been a single instance where the simplest function
of a Justice of the Peace has been needed. They dress as we do and use kerosene lamps.

Cross Women and Rows.

If a man catches a tartar or lets a tartar
catch him, he must take his dose of tartaric acid and make as few ugly faces
as he can. If a three-legged stool comes flying through the air he must be thankful for such a plain token of love from
the woman of his choice, and the best thing he can do is to sit down on it and wait for the next little article. Some people like rows—I don't envy them
their choice; I'd rather walk ten miles
to get out of a dispute than half a mile to get into one. I have often been told to be bold and take the bull by the horns, but, as I rather think that the amusement is more pleasant than profitable, I shall leave it to those who are so cracked already that an ugly poke
with a horn would not damage their skulls. Solomon says: "Leave off strife before it be meddled with," which is much the same as if he had said:
"Leave off before you begin." When you see a mad dog don't stop to argue with him, unless you are sure of your logic; better get out of his way, and, if anybody calls you a coward, you need not call him a fool—everybody knows that.

MR. F. J. FURNIVALL says that George Eliot felt the symbolism of gems, while Shakespeare felt that of flowers. "Her works," says he, "were an indictment of men in favor of women. Men, with her,
were drift logs. All Shakespeare's heroes
had a feeling of God."

At an annual election of officers in Olympia, last Tuesday, J. W. Sprague was made President of the Olympia and Quehalis Valley Railroad Company. Robert Wingate, Vice President, P. R. Brown, Treasurer, J. R. Hayden, Secretary, and Otis Sprague, Superintendent.

PUGET SOUND ARGUS.

ALLEN WEIR, Editor and Proprietor.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1882.

LOCAL ITEMS.

From Friday's Daily.

If you want to buy a good cow just interview Mr. Clinger.

No music teacher in town since Miss Galliber left.

Five brick buildings have been built in Dayton since the April fire.

Mr. F. SWAYZEE, inspector of customs at Seattle, is quite ill in this place.

Mr. F. YOUNG, of Port Blakely, is undergoing a spell of severe sickness.

The Californian for August is at hand, and is crammed full of interesting reading matter as usual.

A LARGE party of picnickers have gone up Hood's Canal in the steamer Ruby, to visit the famous Lillawaup falls.

THE river and harbor appropriation bill passed the lower house of congress over the President's veto by a large majority.

THE Seattle Post-Intelligencer blames Postal Agent Tuttle for over officiousness and exceeding his authority in the matter of the Alaska mail service.

It is pretty clear that all this fuss about the Evangel and the mail to Alaska is worked up by monopolists who are trying to get the contract away from Puget Sound.

PRINTERS are a scarce article on Puget Sound just now. The ARGUS has been short-handed for several weeks, and some little inconvenience and delay has been the result.

BOYS will be boys. At Alton, Ill., recently, a preacher asked all the little fellows in his Sunday school, who intended to visit the soul-destroying circus, to stand up. All but a lame girl rose to their feet.

AN exchange publishes a late crop of lies about spring snakes. They were delayed somewhat on account of the immense labor of preparation, but were hurried into print finally for fear of the early frosts.

THE mail steamer Evangel left here this afternoon (4th) for Alaskan ports, minus the mail bags. It seems that the intention of the contractor is to send his steamer over the route, demanding written refusal of the mail and then contest the matter on the ground that the steamer was properly licensed and that his bond was accepted.

From Saturday's Daily.

OUR county commissioners will meet next Monday.

WE hear of a camping party going to Dungeness soon.

MR. J. McCURDY and family, of San Juan, are in town.

DR. J. R. PRICE is the new physician on the Neah Bay Indian reservation.

MR. H. TRENHOLM is to move Dr. Williston's flouring mill from Coveland to Irontdale.

LAST week Mrs. W. O. Chapman and Mrs. F. Hastings took a trip to Neah Bay, to visit friends there.

MR. J. J. HUNT goes to Alaska on the excursion. Mr. Bartlett is expected home from there about the 20th inst.

DID you hear that music by the 21st Infantry Band, of Fort Vancouver? They're going to make it lively for the folks on the Alaska excursion.

MR. DRUMMOND has taken a contract to cement and paint the outside of the stone court house, and with assistants has been engaged in the job the past few days.

THERE will be no morning service in the Presbyterian church tomorrow (Aug. 6th), as the Rev. J. Reid expects to officiate at Port Discovery, returning in time for evening service; and it is probable this arrangement will hold good for the first Sabbath in every month.

WE find that we were mistaken respecting there being no music teacher in town. Miss Nellie Frost, niece of our honored townsman, Lawyer Bradshaw, has come from Olympia to risk her fortunes among us, and we have no doubt from her musical knowledge and general vivacity that she will command a flourishing class.

LAST evening we had the pleasure of seeing something magnificent in the way of game. Messrs. Charles Lambert and Abner Spades had treed a couple of fine deer near Diamond Point with their hounds. They brought back the carcasses of both—one as fine a buck as you ever saw. Sportsmen want to get away from home worse than ever now.

DAN PULEN, at Quilente, had some difficulty recently with the Indians there on account of the tearing down of a epee by them. Two or three of them set upon him with clubs in the house of one Obe, an Indian, and would have killed him but for the intervention of friendly Indians. Two of the offenders were arrested and taken to Neah Bay where they are confined on bread and water.

OFF to ALASKA. The Dakota arrived from up Sound ports this morning, and left late this afternoon for Alaska. She had on board upwards of eighty excursionists, who are anticipating a pleasant time. Among the passengers are Dr. Meade, J. J. Hunt, Capt. H. E. Morgan and Miss Kate Morgan, of this place. Mr. Chas. A. Morden, of Portland, is representing the Oregonian.

Go to the Episcopal church and see the old worn out organ. It has been thoroughly overhauled, revoiced and renewed by Mr. Langusford, of Sacramento. He has certainly made a splendid job of it. It is now as good as new, and is equal to the best organ in the town.

CIRCUS!!!

WARM weather again makes farmers smile.

MR. A. L. BLAKE, Inspector of customs at Whateam, is in town.

HARRY TIBBALS' new dwelling house is rapidly nearing completion.

ANDREW BOQUITO is rebuilding his dwelling house. It looks neat and tasty.

By a Seattle paper we learn that Nelse Babeock, an old Puget Sound logger, is dead.

THE dedication of the new Catholic church yesterday was THE sensation of the day.

JUDGE WINGARD and brother passed through here Saturday on their way to Victoria.

MR. and Mrs. Geo. Gerrish and Mr. S. Brooks, of Sequim, have been spending a few days in town.

WE learn that Mr. John Carroll and Miss Nettie McCisick, of Dungeness, were married at that place on the 30th ult.

THE Seattle Daily Chronicle has been changed to a morning paper. It is a thrifty, go-ahead journal, and deserves success.

MR. R. COOPER, of Port Discovery, is in town under medical treatment for an affection of the head which threatens to injure his hearing.

MR. LANDES has on hand one of the finest fur seal skins we ever had the pleasure of seeing. It was purchased from the Neah Bay Indians.

J. M. E. ATKINSON, of Newcastle, formerly of Port Discovery, has gone to San Francisco on the steamer Umatilla, on a two weeks' leave of absence.

It perhaps is not generally known that Port Townsend contains a resident who was a schoolmate of General W. S. Hancock. Read what "Schoolmate" says.

In last week's Mail Mr. J. A. Gilliland, of LeConner, announces his farewell to the democratic party, and intention of affiliating with republicans hereafter.

A RECENT decision of the P. O. department is that it is illegal for rubber stamps to be used in cancelling stamps on letters, for the reason that indelible ink cannot be used with them.

WESTMAN'S circus arrived today on the steamer Favorite. They have set up a tent alongside of the Good Templar Hall and will open at 8 this evening. Go and see the performance of Jim McCue's celebrated trick horses.

MR. HASTINGS, our photo artist, was utilizing old Sol's rays for some of his fine work enlarging pictures Saturday. His showing is really meritorious, and if people had to go to New York to get it done they would appreciate it.

It seems that J. J. didn't go to Alaska after all. The Dakota was so top heavy when she left here that it was thought unsafe to take him on board unless he was stowed with the freight in the hold. He objected to this, and so stayed at home.

THE "enterprising" soap peddler who recently enriehed some of Port Townsend's citizens by sundry greenbacks found in his packages of soap—and depleted the pockets of many others who invested but didn't find any greenbacks—was "fired" out of Seattle by Mayor Struve.

LATE dispatches state that Gen. U. S. Grant and W. H. Prescott, the latter of Chili-Peruvian fame, have been nominated by President Arthur to negotiate a commercial treaty with Mexico. The selection, as far as Grant is concerned, is perhaps the best that could have been made.

SOME of the Seattle speculators have been trying to play smart by jumping the water frontage of certain lots there. Hearing of it, Mr. James went up last week to see about some of his property in north Seattle. He warns all persons through the papers there not to trespass on said property.

In our published report of the proceedings of the republican territorial central committee, several errors appeared in the matter of apportionment of delegates to the territorial convention from the several counties. The errors were not ours, but were in the paper from which we copied. We have received the original minutes of the committee meeting from Mr. R. D. Attridge, secretary of the central committee, and insert them today that there may be no misunderstanding.

OUR Catholic friends had a memorable time yesterday. On Saturday Rt. Rev. Bishop Yungler arrived from Vancouver, accompanied by Rev. Father Duffy, of Walla Walla. At an early hour yesterday morning the ringing of the Catholic church bell indicated the calling of members of that denomination together for the celebration of holy mass. Long before the hour for the dedication ceremonies to commence the church was filled, there being a great many respectful spectators present. In fact both sitting and standing room was occupied. The ceremony of formally dedicating the building and fixtures to the service of God was quite impressive. It was conducted by the Bishop, assisted by Father Duffy and Father Maniouloux, of this place, the latter having devoted much time to the work just completed. To his energy and judicious management Port Townsend is indebted for a church building that would do credit to any town on the coast. The singing for the dedication service was an important feature. Misses Lou and Nettie Tibbals, Miss Bartlett, of Lopez, and Miss Teresa McCabe, of this place, were all in the choir. The collection was quite large.

LAST Wednesday the corner stone of the new Episcopal church at New Tacoma was laid by Bishop Paddock. He was assisted by Rev. George H. Watson, of Seattle, Rev. A. E. Wood, of Olympia, Rev. John B. Alexander, of Port Townsend, Rev. J. C. Fair, of Seattle, and Rev. Dr. Miles, of New Tacoma. A large gathering of citizens was present on the occasion and they were addressed by Bishop Paddock in an earnest and appropriate manner. The corner stone appeared to be about 3 by 2 1/2 feet on the top. In it were deposited the name of the builder Mr. Charles B. Wright, the President of the Tacoma Land Company, formerly President of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, with his autograph and photograph, together with a record of births and deaths in his family and photographs, the names of the Bishop and clergy taking part in the service, names of the superintendent and teachers of St. Luke's Sunday school, of the officers of the guild, and of the mayor and common council of New Tacoma. Also, an account of the opening of the Fannie C. Paddock Memorial Hospital, a copy of the Columbia Churchman, copy of the first report of the mission Bishop of Washington Territory, and copies each of the Tacoma Ledger and Pierce County News. The handsome structure, formally begun by the liberality of Mr. Wright, is to cost $30,000, and he has set apart this sum for that purpose.

The steamship Queen of the Pacific, which recently left Philadelphia, has in cargo the bell, chandeliers and two memorial tablets, one marble for the inside, and the other granite, for the outside. Contract for the stone work has been let to M. J. Carkeek, and the wood work to F. W. Lewis. The lots have been graded and the stone hauled on the ground. It is expected that the church will be ready for dedication by the holidays.

Shipping Items.

The ship Richard Robinson, 1653 tons register, built at Thomaston, Me., in 1856, has been sold at New York for $16,000.

The ship Tonawanda, 1504 tons register, built at Philadelphia in 1850, has been sold for foreign account through Theodore Rager for $12,000.

The ship Red Cloud, 2208 tons, built at Quincy point in 1877, lately hailing from Boston, before reported sold for German account, has had her name changed to Carl Friedrich and sailed from Liverpool June 20th for San Francisco.

Her majesty's ship Rocket will go on the ways to Victoria for examination and repairs preparatory to her trip back to England.

GOOD TIME.—The steamer Evangel made the run from Seattle to Port Townsend, on Wednesday evening, in four hours and ten minutes, which is considered pretty good time.

THE British steamship Triumph, lately at San Francisco, will come up to Portland with Chinese cargo and passengers, and from there will come around to the Sound and load lumber at Port Blakely for Shanghai.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Dakota brought to Victoria 92 passengers and 436 tons freight, to Port Townsend 16 passengers and 57 tons freight, to Seattle 98 passengers and 345 tons freight, to Tacoma 22 passengers and 75 tons freight, to Olympia 19 passengers and 48 tons freight, and to Alaska 19 passengers and 41 tons freight.

THE steamer Yaquina, as rebuilt, will leave Portland August 10th for Newport, on Yaquina Bay. She has cabin accommodations for forty passengers, and is in a much better condition than before her burning.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Word has been received that the ship Wilna bound from New York to Portland, Oregon, has met with an accident by collision, the time, place and extent of action being unknown. The Wilna, previous to this accident, had just come out of St. Thomas, where she had gone for repairs.

The steamer Oceanic is due on the 9th instant. She will be the first steamer to arrive after the operation of the Chinese restriction bill, and will probably have the smallest number of passengers she has carried for a long time.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6. The British ship Abbie S. Hart, which arrived yesterday from Liverpool, reports that on June 27th, in 1030 north and 112 west, she passed the hull of a vessel bottom up; the copper looked like American work. A few hours after, another vessel, apparently about fourteen hundred tons was sighted, also keel up.

MARINE FIGURES.—The pilot dues collected at this port during the year 1881 were $1,434.25 British and $5,232.99 foreign; a total of $6,667.24. There are eleven licensed pilots belonging to the port. The receipts and expenditures connected with the office of Port Warden for the ports of Victoria and Esquimalt from April 18th to December 31st, 1881, amounted to $261. Standard.

The steamer Chehalis has gone into the towing business, and is now engaged in pulling logs for the Yesler mill and manufacturing company.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—It is now thought that one of the two wrecks reported to have been sighted bottom upwards by the ship Abby L. Hart is the hull of the British wooden ship Navarro, that was burned March 13, 1882, in latitude 14 north and 114 west longitude.

PORT TOWNSEND, Aug. 7. The schooner American Boy, that arrived on Sunday from San Francisco, brought 30,000 brick and a lot of machinery for the new furnace at Irontdale, which she is now discharging there. She also has a hold full of freight which she will take to Omatulaska.

The bark Camden was towed to sea this afternoon by the tug Goliath, lumber laden.

Immense arrival of cooking stoves at Sheehan's. Also steamboat fittings, gas pipes, and pumps.

For good cigars, go to James Jones' head of Union Wharf opposite Central Hotel.

Why should you cough while you can get a preventative by going to LATIMER & Co's? *

The Cutavaco Cures

PITYRIASIS, or Dandruff, with which many are afflicted.

ALOPECIA, or Baldness, also depends upon a fungus destroying the roots of the hair. A spot may first arise where first inoculated, spreading in a circular form, and so enlarging by degrees that the whole hair is swept away, leaving a glistering scalp; or, the disease may first appear in various places. The hair is dull and lustreless and easily extracted, or it begins to fall, and progressing by degrees is soon lost unless remedied.

The Cutavaco will cause the hair to grow, because it at once destroys the offending cause which prevents; the hair is at once preserved, and the scalp and bulbs made healthy and vigorous. Parties from a distance must send the price of bottle with the order. Price 75 cents.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF PORT TOWNSEND.

ASHER FREEMAN DEAD.

OLYMPIA, Aug. 6, 1882.

ALLEN WEIR, Esq., Dear Sir:

I dare say it may be of some interest to your readers to know that a late resident of Port Townsend, Mr. Asher M. Freeman, (whose wife died a week ago) followed her on Friday night last and was taken to the cemetery by the same hands that carried his wife there only a few days ago. The poor fellow was suffering from typhoid when his wife died, and did not seem to have any inclination to live afterwards, and death came suddenly to his relief on the above evening. Mr. Freeman and his wife had many friends here who mourn the sudden departure of this young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman's little orphan child is being cared for by its grandmother, Mrs. Waldron.

Yours truly, W. H. ROBERTS.

EDITOR ARGUS: Sir: The writer has seen in your last issue what appears to him to be a singular statement in reference to General Hancock's early youth and parents. In 1839, Winfield Scott Hancock, now the noted General, attended Willard's school at Norristown, Pa.; his father was a justice of the peace, a strong Democrat, and in moderate circumstances, living near what was known as Stoney Creek bridge, at the upper end of the main street of Norristown, then a pleasant town about the size of Port Townsend. A few years after this Winfield obtained his appointment to West Point, presumably in consequence of his father's influence with Democratic leaders that party being then in the zenith of its power. At the time he attended Willard's school he was a tall, slim, well-behaved youth, showing no great ability in his studies nor in athletic sports.

SCHOOLMATE.

Port Townsend, Aug. 7, 1882.

Irondale Items.

From our regular correspondent.

IRONDALE, Aug. 8, 1882.

The fire that has been raging in the timber here has become nearly extinguished by the rain; fortunately little damage was done.

The family of Mr. G. M. Rouse arrived here from California on the steamer Dakota. Mr. Rouse had preceded his family about ten weeks, having been here in the employ of the P. S. Iron Company. We had their arrival with pleasure and hope they will remain with us.

The iron company is crowding its work ahead as fast as possible. The last of the machinery has just arrived on the schooner American Boy from San Francisco. The old store has been removed, remodeled and repaired and now presents a very creditable appearance. It is under the personal supervision of the gentlemanly and courteous bookkeeper, Mr. Bradford, and will be first-class in all its appointments.

CLIPPINGS.

The school census of the Vancouver school district for 1882 shows 634 persons of school age, and 137 under school age, a total of 771.

Four Port Gamble boys are now in attendance at one school in San Mateo California, and three girls from the same place are in Mills' Seminary at Oakland.

The crops look well hereabout and it is evident now there will be a good yield. It prices keep up and the harvest season is favorable our farmers will realize handsomely all except those who were flooded by the recent freshet. LaConner Mail.

Agent in charge of the consolidated reservations of Quinalt, Neah Bay, Puyallup, Nisqually, Squaxon and Chehalis, is in town. The General has heretofore dwelt on the Quinalt reservation, but will hereafter make his home at Neah Bay. Post-Intelligencer.

Canada has anticipated the United States in the matter of abolishing postage on newspapers. Commencing with the 1st of July, all newspapers will have free transmission throughout the Dominion.

An appropriation of about $20,000 has been secured by Thos. H. Brents, through an act of Congress, a few days ago, to be used in removing jams and otherwise improving the Skagit and Nooksack rivers. This, no doubt, will be highly appreciated by the people in this county.

The hide and fur dealers of Walla Walla have to fight this year $50,000 worth of skins and pelts. One dealer, M. D. Wisdom, purchasing 2,400 beef hides, 1,800 sheep pelts, 1,000 elk hides, 11,000 pounds of deer skins, 800 pounds of beaver skins besides furs and skins of the otter, martin, lynx, etc.

STILL ADVANCING.—As high as $7.50 per thousand has been paid for logs during the week, with the probability of a still greater increase. If the building boom continues, which is extremely probable judging from present indications, loggers will have a chance to make some money. Four or five years ago, logs were only $4 per thousand. Anacortes Enterprise.

The great cry throughout Eastern Washington now is for more laborers. Farmers are in search of harvest hands and stand ready to pay wages in proportion to the increased price of wheat. Carpenters, bricklayers, and merchants of every description are wanted in every city, town and hamlet. Projected improvements are awaiting more help. Railroad building is giving employment to thousands of men who otherwise would be scattered throughout the country to meet the general demand. No one of either sex, who really wishes work, need be idle. Post-Intelligencer.

Geo. W. Mattice, late of New Tacoma, will soon commence the publication of a new paper to be called the Press at Medical lake, Spokane county.

The Teachers' Institute for the Western Division of Washington Territory will meet in Seattle August 29th, and remain in session four days.

The letting of contracts for street improvements in Seattle to a Chinese firm has given occasion for the outburst of intense feeling against that race.

The cattle drive from Yakima this season is expected to go up to 4,500 head, against 3,500 last season. This, in addition to home production, indicates a pretty large demand for beef in these parts. Post-Intelligencer.

The Chico Enterprise says: It is expected that by another month some 2,000 laborers will be transferred from the line of the Southern Pacific railroad in Texas to the extension beyond Redding, and that work will be pushed right along on the California and Oregon road.

Capt. Robt. Pollock, 21st Infantry, was at department headquarters last week, returning from leave of absence. He has been detailed on recruiting service during the coming two years, and will leave for New York so as to assume his duties Oct. 1st. Vancouver Register.

A tree was cut at Jackson's camp on the Skagit, a few days ago, that yielded four logs of 32, 30, 30 and 26 feet, in all 118 feet in length, and measuring 71 inches on top. The logs cut from the tree scaled 24,000 feet, which at $7 per thousand will amount to $168.

The hop-growers of Puyallup are the fortunate ones this year, as they will get from 30 to 35 cents per pound for their crop. It costs about seven cents to cultivate, pick, cure and bale hops, not including the cost of planting, so even at 30 cents, there is a large margin for profit. About $200,000 will be distributed in that region this fall.

There was some talk that the cannery men on the Columbia river would not shut down at the close of the fishing season as fixed by law of August 1st, but they all did stop. The catch of this season is estimated at 500,000 cases, or about 50,000 cases less than last year. During the season two canneries burned down and one suspended operations. This left thirty-four canneries running during the season. The Cutting Packing Company intend to rebuild on their newly purchased site; two other canneries, co-operative, will be built on the Oregon side, and two in Washington Territory, making 39 (if those engaged this season continue) that will fish in '83. Courier.

Republican Committee Doings.

The following is the corrected transcript of the important part of the doings of the Republican Territorial Central Committee at its meeting in Vancouver, June 21st:

On motion the committee fixed the time and place for holding the Republican Territorial Convention, as follows: At Vancouver, Wednesday, September 20th, 1882, at 10 o'clock A. M.

The committee recommend that the several county conventions for choosing delegates to the Territorial Convention be held at their respective county seats on Saturday, the 9th day of September, 1882.

The committee further recommend that the primary meetings for choosing delegates to the county conventions be held at the usual places of voting in the several precincts, on Saturday, the 2d day of September, 1882.

The committee fixed the apportionment of delegates to the Territorial Convention as follows: One delegate at large for each county in the territory, and one additional delegate for every one hundred votes, and one additional delegate for every fraction of forty or more votes cast in each county at the general election of 1880 for the republican candidate for delegate to Congress.

Upon this basis the various counties of the Territory will be entitled to representation in said convention as follows:

Table with 2 columns: COUNTIES, Delegates. Lists counties like Chehalis, Clallam, Columbia, etc. with their respective delegate counts.

The county of Garfield having been organized since the last election, that county with Columbia, being each entitled to one delegate at large, the committee recommend that the remaining eight votes be divided between them in proportion to the republican votes cast in those counties at the last general election.

The committee recommend that the nominations of joint councilmen, joint representatives, and all district officers, be made by the delegates of the respective districts at the Territorial convention.

Delegate to Congress

As the coming election approaches, interest in the nomination of a republican candidate for Delegate to Congress deepens.

We are among those who believe that the nomination ought by right to be made west of the mountains this time, the east having had it two terms.

It has long since become a reproach to the American nation that our navy is such an inefficient make-believe. In fact the matter has become so notorious that jokes and puns about "Our Navy (!)" are as common as those about the average lightning rod agent.

The river and harbor appropriation bill provides $100,000 for the improvement of the Willamette and Columbia rivers from Portland to the sea, and yet an Oregon exchange thinks the amount will be insufficient to accomplish anything like substantial relief from the dangers of the "gateway" bar.

As exchange estimates the number of Chinese in Oregon at 25,000, and suggests that this number will be quite enough to meet the demand for the next ten years, Doubtless the railroad and construction companies view the matter in a different light.

It now looks as though the Star route swindlers would be convicted and punished for their wholesale thievery. The country clamors for it almost as much as the conviction and hanging of Gaitan was clamored for.

Every day a general European war seems more imminent. England has by a master stroke of policy occupied the Suez canal and resolved to protect her interests in it at all hazards.

The West Shore for August contains some very fine illustrations of Alaska, that are unique and interesting, as showing how Sitka looks and indicating what native carvings, &c., look like.

The famous Chinese restriction Bill will become a law to-morrow. Its beneficial effects are foreshadowed in our dispatches already, in the marked decrease of passengers to our shores from the flowery kingdom.

Communicated.

PORT ANGELES, Aug. 5, 1882.

EDITOR ARGUS:—Having read in the ARGUS that T. T. Minor has received a telegram that the bill had passed for a government line of telegraph from Cape Flattery to connect with the line already constructed to this place from Port Townsend by the P. S. T. Co., I consider it the best news for some time, especially for the commercial interests of Puget Sound.

This is really a step in the right direction, and ought to have been taken long ago. All hail to whoever has been instrumental in pushing the bill through Congress, whether it is Thos. Brents or Thos. Minor.

Yours respectfully, THOS. STRATTON.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE third Judicial District of the territory of Washington, holding terms at Port Townsend, for the counties of Jefferson, Clallam, Island and San Juan.

In the name of the United States of America, you are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the District Court of the third judicial district of the territory of Washington, holding terms at Port Townsend, in Jefferson county, for the counties of Jefferson, Clallam, Island and San Juan in said territory, and to answer the complaint filed therein (a copy of which accompanies this summons) within twenty days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county; or, if served out of this county, within thirty days; or, if served out of said district, then within sixty days—or judgment, by default, will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between the plaintiff and the defendant, and that the custody and control of the minor child, Maurice Winfield Williams, be adjudged to the plaintiff, and for such further equitable relief as may be by the court granted, and for costs of suit, on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment of plaintiff by defendant, continuing during their cohabitation as husband and wife; and you are hereby notified, that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint as above required, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Witness the Honorable ROGER S. GREENE, Judge of the said District Court, and the Seal of said Court, this 10th day of August, A. D. 1882.

PUGET SOUND ARGUS.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF PORT TOWNSEND.

LOCAL ITEMS.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Eggs are scarce. Miss C. Downer, of Dungeness, paid Port Townsend a visit last week. Houses for rent are so scarce in town that renters who have to move hardly know where to go. The new chandeliers for the Episcopal church have been received, and are a vast improvement on the old ones. Mr. Dyer, of Irondale, called on us today. He reports everything flourishing about the head of the bay. STREET CLEANING is still going on piecemeal—the last being in front of Mr. Bradshaw's office on Taylor street. AL. PLUMMER, of the firm of Plummer & Terry, will start for San Francisco in a few days, to purchase a stock of goods. A SMALL party went out after wild blackberries today. These luxuries are said to be scarce except in isolated localities. Rev. R. S. Stubbs, chaplain of the women's bethel in Portland, passed up the Sound today on his return from Victoria.

The British steamer Triumph arrived in this port yesterday (7th) from Hong Kong, via San Francisco. She will load with lumber at Port Gamble. Messrs. Rothschild & Co. are agents.

We call attention to Messrs. Rothschild & Co.'s advertisement today in regard to the transportation of Chinese passengers on board the English steamer Triumph. The country can well afford to spare a few if they wish to go.

An exchange calls attention to the fact of British Columbia people looking to Puget Sound for much of its farm produce, on account of the disastrous floods in Frazer and other rivers of that section. Prices will doubtless be materially increased thereby.

The Portland Daily Telegram has issued the fifth of its illustrated numbers—the last being devoted principally to Umatilla county, Oregon. We feel like expressing our admiration for the enterprise and genuine worth of the Telegram. It is a credit to Portland.

The best minstrel song of the day has just been issued. The title is "De Gospel Crown," the words and music being by Dan Lewis, whose fame is world-wide. As an "end song" this is par excellence. Sherman, Clay & Co., San Francisco, are the publishers, and will mail copies for 35 cents.

MR. A. D. BOWEN, of the Anacortes Enterprise, is in town. Mr. Bowen has done remarkably well in his newspaper venture, considering the necessarily limited support for it. The Enterprise is a new sheet, and gives evidence of vitality enough to live a long time. We wish it every success.

WESTMAN'S circus was an agreeable disappointment to Port Townsend folks. Conflicting reports had confused people so that they hardly knew what to expect; but curiosity overcame all other considerations, and the tent was crowded. The performance from first to last was good. "Jim" McCue, the renowned horse-trainer, had an opportunity of displaying his wonderful skill in taming and controlling high-spirited equine. His main trick horse, Americus, is a vicious young brute, but so thoroughly in subjection and so intelligent that his feats surprised and delighted everybody. The trapeze performance was first-class, as were also the tumbling, high kicking, the tricks of the clowns, feats of strength, &c. A side-show included display of a boa constrictor, sword swallowing, tricks of a learned pig, etc. After the main show there was a concert, which we did not have time to remain for. All in all, it was anything but the catch-penny arrangement it had been represented to be by a rival combination.

From Wednesday's Daily.

MR. W. P. BELL, is up at Tacoma. The schooner Perry has been launched from Toby's ways. JOE KOHN is getting more filling done in front of his office. PREBENT and county political conventions will soon be held. CAPT. J. L. BUTLER went to Alaska as second officer of the Dakota. MR. J. M. HERNANDEZ announces that he has all kinds of leather and findings for sale. MR. WISLOW'S new building has had a fine glass front put in, and is nearly completed. OUR new city council met Monday and adjourned a few days on account of there not being a full board present. MISS L. DALY, who has been visiting with friends on Lopez Island several weeks, is expected home Sunday.

On her down trip today the Starr was detained several hours, on account of an unusual amount of freight to handle.

It is said that Hon. J. H. Mitchell is about leaving Washington for Oregon, to enter the contest for U. S. Senator.

We notice the schooner Mary Parker at the wharf again discharging another load of stone for Mr. Eisenbeis's building.

AN exchange east of the mountains says it is reported that L. B. Nash is a candidate for the nomination for Delegate, subject to the decision of the democratic territorial convention.

THE county commissioners were to meet on Monday, but owing to the absence of Messrs. Tibbals and Mastick an adjournment was had for want of a quorum. Mr. Attridge is still in town.

AN attempt was recently made to arrest Fleming, by some of our efficient (?) minions of the law—but failed for want of grit. It is such administration as this that makes law a farce and justice a by-word.

AMONG the passengers on the Starr today were: Col. N. H. Owings, wife and son, of Olympia; Dr. J. M. Kollock, of Seattle; and Mr. Buckley, wife and daughter, assistant superintendent of the O. R. and M. Co.

WE present today the advertisement of the U. S. mail steamer Hope. Messrs. Gilmore & Lott have made her a useful and profitable craft from the start. No doubt the people along the Semiahmoo route all appreciate such accommodations as the Hope affords them. Long may she prosper.

WHY don't our farmers go into beef-raising more extensively? With the price of beef at 90 in the shade, British Columbia people selling large quantities to us, and a fair prospect for a greater rise still, it would seem that "there's millions in it" for somebody. Feed up those young steers and prepare to pocket lots of cash.

NEWS comes that the Alaska mail contract has been awarded to Chas. Goodall, of the firm of Goodall, Perkins & Co. By this move the P. O. Department has settled the matter far enough to make it a certain thing that the P. C. Co.'s steamers will continue on the route. It is to be regretted by Puget Sounders that the affair has ended in the loss to us of this contract, for the contract in itself was nothing compared with the trade that goes with it. Much of Alaska's trade will hereafter be taken to Portland and San Francisco, as heretofore. The owners of the Evangel, too, will be heavy losers, because they had gone to enormous expense to make their vessel suitable for the business.

From Thursday's Daily.

MR. BASH is expected home soon. DALLES, Ogn., has had a $25,000 fire. BISHOP PADDOCK is in town, and will be in Seattle next Sunday. THE family of U. S. Marshal Hopkins will shortly remove from Olympia to Seattle.

THE steamer Hope left last night with the Alaska mail, to connect with the Dakota at Nainaimo.

MR. PHILLIPS, our insurance agent, who has been rusticated on Whidby Island, returned yesterday.

MR. PETTIT proposes to take Port Townsend by storm with a stock of auction goods. Read his advertisement.

ANY number of passengers likely to go to China can get passage on the British steamer Triumph. Read Rothschild & Co.'s advertisement.

VILLARD has made the Colfax people happy by telegraphing them confirmation of the news that they should have a branch railroad running to their town.

LATE last evening an unusual amount of lightning was seen, indicating some atmospheric disturbance. During the night a very heavy shower of rain fell.

WE present to-day the advertisement of the steamer Dispatch. She will do all the jobbing there is to be done, when off her mail route, at reasonable rates.

THE Seattle Chronicle is now published as a morning paper, with the associated press dispatches. It will contest the field with the Post-Intelligencer henceforth.

MR. HADLOCK has returned from Port Angeles, and reports the new telegraph line completed to that point. An office can be opened in a few hours any time.

MR. HAWLEY, the newspaper correspondent who has been visiting this place Irondale and Port Discovery for a few weeks, expects to return to Seattle tomorrow.

IN to-day's ARGUS Mr. H. B. Litt, of Seattle, announces that he will bring a stock of ladies dresses, dolmans, etc., to this place about the 15th inst. Save yourself for a share.

COL. OWINGS called on us this morning before leaving for Victoria. The cares of state and executive departments (he being acting Governor at present) seem to rest lightly on his shoulders.

THE Princess and Marquis of Lorne are to visit British Columbia, via San Francisco. H. M. steamship Comus will proceed to Frisco to meet the royal party and they will arrive in Victoria some time in September.

IT does not look as though Port Townsend was going to suffer for want of mercantile facilities. Mr. Harker's stock of general merchandise will arrive on the 14th, and he will then open in the stand recently occupied by Gross Bros.

COUNCIL MEETING.—The new city council held its first meeting to-day. Present councilmen Kuhn, D. H. Hill, Landes, Hunt, Sheehan and Weymouth; absent, Tibbals. Nominations by Mayor Minor approved by the Board: J. J. H. Van Bokkelen, committing magistrate; R. C. Hill, clerk; C. M. Bradshaw, city attorney; D. H. Hill, treasurer; F. W. James, surveyor; C. H. Jones, harbor master; D. H. Hill, assessor and collector. Licenses granted: Rice & Logan, retail; J. Jones, wholesale; T. Torgusen, to keep a pool table. Assessment of 4 mills on the dollar levied for city purposes. Action was had looking to the payment of $100 per year to the city attorney for all services rendered.

THERE will be five nice presents given away to the ladies each afternoon at the auction sale.

AUCTION.

CREDITORS' SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION, commencing Friday, Aug. 11th in the new store building, opposite Post Office, in Port Townsend. The fine stock of goods shipped here by Crippen & Rowley to open a branch store, will be sold at auction to satisfy claims of San Francisco creditors. The stock consists of Middletown, Meridan and Rogers Bros. Plated Ware of the best manufacture, elegant castors, butter dishes, tea sets, water pitchers, cake baskets, etc together with a small stock of dry goods. Ladies' sale at 2 o'clock each day; comfortable seats provided; and sale at 7:30 in the evening. All goods sold for cash to the highest bidder. G. J. PETTIT, Manager for creditors.

Mrs. Wells would like to say to the ladies of Port Townsend that she will keep a nice assortment of Ladies' and Children's Underclothing, Ladies' Dressing Sacks and Children's Clothing a specialty. At the residence of Mrs. REVELL.

WANTED.

A woman to do general housework. German preferred. Apply to W. KORTER.

JUST received at Jas. Jones', a large lot of Sensides, double, elephant drawing paper, Drawing pencils, tracing cloth, etc.

$1500 per year can be easily made at home working for E. G. Rideout & Co., 19 Barkley street New York. Send for their catalogue and full particulars.

NOTICE.—On and after this date we will deliver our goods to all parts of the city, free of charge. C. C. BARTLETT & CO. July 25, 1882.

SHE WOULD BE A MASON.

The funniest thing I ever heard,
The funniest thing that ever occurred,
As the story of Mrs. Maudie Byrde,
Who wanted to be a Mason.

Her husband, Tom Byrde, a Mason true—
As good a Mason as any in your
He is byer of Lodge Cornish Bine,
And true and devout the solemn due,
And she wanted to be a Mason, too,
This ridiculous Mrs. Byrde.

She followed round, this inquisitive wife,
And nagged him and bowed his half out of his life;
So to terminate this unblissed strife,
He consented at last to admit her.

And first, to disguise her from boumet and shoon,
This ridiculous lady agreed to put on
His breech—ah! forgive me—no! meant pantaloon;
And miraculously did they fit her.

The lodge was at work on the Master's degree,
The light was ablaze on the letter C;
High soared the pillars J and B,
The officers sat like Solomon, wise;
The brethren bowed and bowed their heads;
The great roomed widely through the room;
The candidate begged them to let him go home;
And the devil himself stood up at the east,
As broad as an alderman at a feast,
When in came Mrs. Byrde.

Oh, horrible sounds! oh, horrible sight!
Can it be that Masons take delight
In spending thus the hours of night?
Ah—could their wives and daughters know
The unutterable things they say and do,
Their feminine hearts would burst with woe!
But this is not all my story.

These Masons joined in a hideous ring,
The candidates howling like everthing,
And thus in tones of death they sing
(The candidate's name was Morye):
"Head to drink and bones to crack,
Skulls to smash and lives to take,
Hearts to crush and souls to burn,
Give us Morye another turn,
And make him grim and gory."

Trembling with horror stood Mrs. Byrde,
Unable to speak a single word,
She staggered and fell in the nearest chair
On the left of the junior warden there,
And scarcely noticed, as loud the groans,
That the chair was made of human bones.

Of human bones! On grinning skulls
That ghastly throne of horror rears,
These skulls, these skulls that Morgan wore,
These bones, the bones that Morgan wore,
His scalp across the top was flung,
His teeth around the arms were strung,
Never in all romance was known
Such a scene made of human bones.

There came a pause—a pair of paws
Reached through the floor, up sliding doors,
And grabbed the unhappy candidate!
How can I, without tears, relate
The last and ruin of Morye's fate?
She saw him sink in fiery hole,
She heard him scream, "My soul! My soul!"
White robes of flesh and laughter roll,
And down the yells for mercy,
"Blood to drink," etc., etc.

The ridiculous woman could stand no more,
She fainted and fell on the checkered floor,
"Might all the diabolical roar,
What then, you ask me, did befall
Maudie Byrde? Why, nothing at all—
She dreamed she had been in a Mason's hall."

THE RED DEATH MASK.

A Venetian Legend.

About the middle of the seventeenth century there lived in Venice a certain haughty Duke, so rich and powerful as to be feared by friend as well as foe; for that was a period of constant murder and assassination, and a mere whim, or unjust suspicion, was often sufficient to bring the deadly poison or secret stiletto to bear upon those supposed to be in highest favor.

It was the custom of this nobleman to give costly banquets in the great hall of his palace; but there was always one thing to mar the festivity of the occasion—the constant dread of some secret agent of death. It was known that of those who attended these feasts some one or more generally died shortly, and not infrequently in a manner to lead to the suspicion of secret poison; and this knowledge filled the minds of all with dread, though none dared remain away on this account, lest what they most feared should happen through the anger of him who was powerful enough to reach them anywhere in Venice.

And what tended still more to mystery and fear on these occasions of festivity was the presence of the red mask. Next to the lord of the feast, on his left hand, always sat a silent, mysterious figure, in a red domino, with a blood-red mask concealing every feature. No one could say who he was and only conjecture why he was there. His face was never seen—his voice was never heard. He ate and drank with the rest, but never spoke. Before the guests separated he always rose, gave his hand to the noble host, and then went slowly, solemnly and silently around the table, shaking hands with each. This done, he glided out of the hall, through a private door, and was not seen again until the re-assembling of the guests at another banquet. As all believed that he was the Duke's secret poisoner, he was regarded with awe and dread, and came in time to be spoken of and known as the Red Death Mask. How his fatal purpose was effected, none could say; but it was conjectured that upon one of his jeweled fingers he wore what was known as the Death-Ring—a ring curiously constructed with deadly poison in the interior—which could be injected, by a sudden pressure upon a concealed spring, into the hand of any one taken in apparent friendship; and from the mortal effects of which—though no wound, however slight, could be discovered at the time—not all the medical skill of Venice could save the victim.

In the very zenith of his life and power, the Duke one day received the singular intelligence that a gentleman had made his appearance in Venice, so closely resembling him in face and figure that more than one person had mistaken him for his Grace, and even some of his Grace's friends had been thrown so much into doubt as to address the stranger for himself. To one so proud and haughty as the Duke, the idea of another human being in the whole wide world looking like himself was anything but pleasing; and the fact that this unknown counterpart was actually in Venice, causing great talk and wonder, was irritating in the extreme.

"Who is this adventurer? this base counterfeit?" angrily demanded the Duke. "Of what nation is he? and what brings him here?"
None could answer.
"Go, seek him out, and say it is my pleasure to see him at my palace."

The stranger was found, and readily accepted the invitation of the nobleman, who received him in his private apartments, with only one attendant present.

The resemblance of the two was certainly very striking. Both were slenderly built, about five feet eight inches in height, of dark complexion, black hair and eyes, with slightly aquiline noses, cold, stern, haughty, sinister expressions, and between 45 and 50 years of age. Each saw himself in the other, as in a glass; and to men of their peculiar temperaments the counterpart was not pleasing to either.

"Who are you?" demanded the Duke, in an imperious tone.

"Your equal!" was the sharp reply.

"Sir, you forget your manners!"

"Sir, you have not shown any!"

"Sdeath, sirrah! do you know in whose presence you stand?" cried the Duke.

"No more than yourself!" was the laudible answer.

"I am the Duke of Francavella!"

"And I the Count of Palmera!"

At the mention of this title, the attendant of the Duke gave a slight, quick start, and fixed his eyes searchingly upon the stranger.

"I am glad at least to hear you are a nobleman," pursued the Duke, "as the thought of having my likeness borne by a plebeian would have been too humiliating. It is said, Count, and my eyes confirm the report, that you and I look remarkably alike, which is a fact very displeasing to me."

"And to me also, Duke!"

"There should be but one such face in Venice, Count!"

"So I think, Duke!"

"I may hope then you will take early leave of our proud city!"

"I was in hopes your Grace had made arrangements to quit this country!"

"You are insolent, Count!"

"So are you, Duke!"

"By the bones of St. Mark!" the Duke began, in a malignant rage; but, suddenly recollecting himself, he stopped, smothered down his anger, and added, in quite a different tone, with a forced smile: "Your pardon, Count! I am too hasty. It is not the fault of either of us that we look alike. If we cannot be friends there is no need of our being enemies; but, as the first provocation proceeded from me, I will hope to remove it by a proper apology, and trust we may be passing friends after all."

The Count bowed and replied: "I am disposed to meet your Grace half way, in either anger or friendship."

"I thank your Lordship! and trust you will honor my banquet, on Friday evening next, with your presence, when I will do myself the pleasure to introduce your Lordship to some of the first nobles of Venice!"

"I will endeavor to be present and do myself that honor, so please your Grace!" replied the Count.

"This well, Antonio (turning to his attendant), see that his Lordship has proper conduct from the palace."

With polite bows, forced smiles, and suitable adieux, the Venetian and Spanish nobleman separated, each secretly hating the other with a bitter and deadly hate.

As Antonio left the presence of his noble master, he seized the first opportunity to say to the Count:

"My Lord, I have a private word for your ear."

"I listen."

"We are countrymen."

"Indeed?"

"Yes," pursued Antonio, speaking low and in Spanish, "I know your house well, and I would serve you. Your life is in danger here."

"So I believe."

"I think this banquet is given expressly to destroy you."

"I had my fears."

"Yet, if you will come to it, and follow my instructions, you shall not only be saved, but may become the Duke of Francavella."

"How? Speak!"

"Seem indifferent to my remarks, now, my Lord—for all beneath this roof are spies upon each and every other, and if I am suspected of what I am saying my life will not be worth a song. Have you ever heard of the Red Death Mask, my Lord?"

"Never to my knowledge."

"It is briefly this: On the nights of festivity a figure in red domino and red mask sits near the Duke. At the close of the feast this figure shakes hands with all present, and it is rare that some one of the number does not die shortly after. Does your Lordship comprehend?"

"I think I do—secret poison!"

"Through the Death Ring, my Lord."

"Ay! well?"

"When this Red Mask takes your hand on that night, he will leave within it a paper of instruction, which you must find an opportunity to read in secret and follow to the letter."

"How do you know this?"

"I know it, my Lord, that must suffice for the present. Will your Lordship come and see a duke-dome?"

"But how that?"

"You shall know if you come."

"I will come—though how am I to know you mean me well?"

"If I meant you ill, my Lord, what need to warn you?"

"True—it is enough—I will be here."

Punctual to the appointed time, the Count of Palmera appeared at the banquet of the Duke of Francavella. The Venetian received him with apparent pleasure, and, as he had promised, introduced him to many a noble guest. The feast began and wine circulated freely. At the close came the hand-shaking round of the dreaded Red Death Mask. Scarcely one of all those present that did not turn pale at the thought that perhaps his own time had come at last. The Count, being a stranger, was the most indifferent of any, as was natural he should. He poured out more wine and drank, and then seemed to reflect. In this mood he held the small paper, which he had just received, in such a way that he could peruse it without being suspected. This paper contained these words:

"Feign illness, and be shown to a private apartment. I will be there to complete the design."

In a few minutes the Duke, who had been furtively watching the Count, remarked with seeming concern that he feared his Lordship was ill.

The Count certainly did appear rather faint, but affected to believe it only a temporary ailment, which would speedily pass away. The nobles exchanged glances, and each breathed freer as he had discovered the victim in other than himself.

But the Count, instead of getting better, seemed to grow more faint, and his kind host suggested that he should be shown to a private apartment and his chief physician be summoned.

"I will accept the kind offer of your Grace, with many thanks!" said the Count, in a low, faint tone.

"I will do myself the honor to attend your Lordship!" was the courteous reply. "My Lords and gentlemen, pray excuse a brief absence! I will shortly rejoin you."

He offered his arm to the Count, who leaned heavily on it, and thus they left the hall. Passing through the ante-room, they entered one hung with damask, and richly furnished. The Red Mask, who had left the banquet hall before them, was standing there, as if awaiting their coming. As the duke assisted his guest to a divan, the Red Mask quietly closed and bolted the door. Then producing a small rope, with the clip-knot of a hangman, he glided up to the Duke, as he bent over the Count and throwing the noose around his neck drew it tight, and strangled him before he could comprehend his murderous design and raise his voice for help. When the Duke was quite dead, the mask was removed and the face of Antonio appeared before the Count.

"Quick, my Lord!" said Antonio, pale and trembling at what he had done; "disrobe, put on the dress of the Duke, return to the hall, and be lord of the palace. If you succeed in deceiving the assembled guests—which I trust your close resemblance will enable you to do—we are safe; if you fail, we are lost! Leave the Duke's body to me. I can put it forever beyond human sight, where its bones will keep company with those of more than one of his victims."

Assisted by Antonio, the Count of Palmera was soon dressed in the gorgeous robes of the Duke of Francavella, and the counterfeit was so perfect that none but a wife could have detected the difference.

"Remember your Grace is now Duke of Francavella, and say your guest is much better and will be well by the morrow!" were the instructions of Antonio. The plan of the iniquitous schemer succeeded perfectly, and all the guests that night retired in the belief that the false Duke was the real.

The next day the Count of Palmera appeared in St. Mark's place and other parts of Venice in his own proper person. This destroyed the suspicion that he had been poisoned, as all at the banquet believed; and those who had the night before taken leave of him as the Duke of Francavella now congratulated him on his recovery as the Count of Palmera.

In fact, this proved to be one of the most successful and remarkable impostures ever known; and it was only through the dying confessions of the Count himself that the truth came out at all, which many would not believe even then. Long before this event, however, the Red Death Mask had ceased to appear, because of the real death of Antonio, whom his new master had murdered in turn, for fear of being himself murdered or betrayed by the only one who possessed his fatal secret. So crime always leads on to crime.

Hope Ahead.

A committee of stockholders, who waited upon the superintendent of a California mine in days gone by to ask why in blazes the said mine hadn't panned out anything but assessments, were graciously received, invited to be seated, and the official explained: "Gentlemen, you are all aware of the fact that we had scarcely begun work when the mouth of our mine was blocked by a landslide. That put us back a month. They n dled their remembrance. "Then we had just got in shape to take out 4,000 tons of ore, worth $2,000 per ton, when the mine caved in. You recall it?"

"They did."

"Once more we bent ourselves to the burden of reaping $500 for every ten invested when the mine was flooded by a subterranean river."

"That was true also."

"Then we had just got the water out when we discovered that our mine was located on another man's claim. We had him shot to prevent trouble, and once more we were about to declare a dividend of 200 per cent, when the dead man's heirs put in an appearance. There were three of them. We chased one over the range, had another hung by the vigilance committee, and I am happy to inform you that I have four men out after the other, and am every hour expecting to hear that he has tumbled off a cliff. Gentlemen, there is hope ahead—golden hope. Please come up and drink with me; after which there will be another assessment of 10 per cent!"—Wall Street Daily News.
