OFFICIAL PAPER OF EFFERSBY CO

ALLEN WEIR, Editor and Proprietor

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1882

The Next Legislature.

Washington Territory is republican by over 2,000 majority, yet the political complexion of its next Legislature is in doubt. In fact the lower House is claimed by the democrats. It looks as though there was method in the madness of democratic managers during the recent election campaign in their combination arrangements with independents. They quietly secured the legislative offices for themselves wherever possible.

In this district, in connection with the nomination and canvass for Joint Representative, there was (to say the least) some inexcusable blundering on the part of republican managers. It now looks as though Mr. Kuhn was elected, although returns are not all in yet.

If such is the case it is very probable that the confusion of the names of William and Edward Callow caused it. All we know about the matter is that the name of Wm. Callow was first announced, and we so advertised the ticket in the paper. After the canvass was well along, and some tickets had been printed, the chairman of the county committee said it was a mistake, and had the name changed and the printed tickets laid aside; then, a few days afterward, he had it changed back again. Evidently, sufficient pains were not taken to ascertain just who the nominee was. So important an office should not have been lost to the republicans through such bungling carelessness. It is openly charged that the matter can only be explained on the theory of a "put up job;" but it does not appear who was implicated, or how the thing was done; besides, the story lacks probability; we are satisfied that it was the result of carelessness. However, there is much dissatisfaction, and many complaints are made. If Mr. Kuhn is elected by reason of the republican vote being divided between the two Callows, we suggest that the more honorable course for him to take would be to allow William Callow to be seated by the Legislature upon a proper showing of the facts. Whatever faults may be chargeable to the politicians, the people were innocent parties to the blunder. If a majority of the ballots in the district were cast for Callow (whether William or Edward) it is evident that the intention was to elect the Callow nominated, and the politician who would take advantage of a technical error to obtain a seat in the Legislature might as well write his political obituary.

A SEATTLE correspondent of the Walla Walla Statesman accuses Judge Kuhn of "manipulating" the democratic territorial convention so as to have no nomination made in this district for prosecuting attorney, alleging that W. H. White could have been elected by an overwhelming majority. The statement is simply absurd. It was notoriously known that White could have had the democratic nomination if he had wanted it, and that he thought his best show would be in running as an independent; and the nomination is said to have been allowed to go by default in order to give him a chance — yet he did not dare to make the race, on account of the certainty of defeat. He would have been "left" by about 800 votes had he entered the field, although there was said to have been a large number of disaffected republicans in King county who would have supported him.

If Washington is not admitted into the Union by this Congress the people will have the democratic members of that body to thank for it, as they are expected to use every trick of parliamentary tactics in order to prevent the passage of Delegate Brents' Bill between now and the 4th of March next. If we do not get in before that time it is not at all likely we will be admitted for several years.

TELEGRAPHIC.

New York, Nov. 21.—Thurlow Weed's condition has changed for the worse, and his demise is but a question of time.

Boston, Nov. 20.—Isaac R. Butts, the oldest Boston printer and publisher died last night, aged 86 years.

STRENSVILLE, Ohio, Nov. 20.—Congressman Updegraff again is reported in a dying condition. All hopes of his recovery are given up.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—There is a report that England has obtained the consent of the Khedive to the cession of Messanah to Abyssinia, and is now seeking the approval of Turkey.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 20.—The total vote for Governor at the recent election was 743,803. Patterson's plurality was 40,232. It was the largest vote ever polled in the State, except for Presidential candidates in 1876 and 1880.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17.—The wholesale drug warehouse of Gilbert Bros. & Co. is burned. The loss sustained is unknown. Six young women on the fourth floor were rescued by firemen and brought down on ladders.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Business failures for the week, 139, of which 131 were in the country, 8 in New York city. The Eastern States had 23, Western 37, Southern 29, Middle 16, Pacific 12, and Canada 12.

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—A most alarming fire today broke out in the extensive lumber yards of Stetson, Mosely & Co., at the corner of First and E streets, South Boston. By 10 o'clock it had assumed such dimensions that it threatened to eclipse any fire ever known in that part of the city. The flames spread rapidly, and the entire property is now on fire.

PORTLAND, Nov. 17.—It is reliably reported that the Northern Pacific express company will begin operations on the 1st of May next on railway and steamboat lines in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, supplanting Wells, Fargo & Co. The latter will do business on the steamships between Portland and San Francisco.

The Associated Press agent was informed that the Northern Pacific company will operate all the O. R. & N. company's lines, including the narrow gauge division, the Columbia and Willamette rivers, the Pacific division of the Northern Pacific, and the Puget Sound route. Wells, Fargo & Co. will retain the business of points not on the transportation lines. Rates will be unchanged.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 20.—A Jackson Miss., special says that the leading Democrats and prominent citizens generally, disapprove of the action of Secretary of State Myers and Gov. Lowrie in awarding a certificate of election to Van H. Manning, upon a clerical error in the tally sheet of Lake county. The Commissioners of Election of that county have telegraphed that the name of Chambers appearing on the tally sheet is a clerical error, and should have been J. R. Chalmers. A corrected tally sheet with a certificate has been forwarded to the Secretary of State.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Senator Miller, of California, in conversation with a reporter regarding the political situation in his State, said: "I have just returned from the Pacific Coast, having come East to remain until Congress adjourns. As to the situation, we practically have none out there. It is true the Democrats have been successful in the state, but it is a hollow victory, and will not stand any length of time, and the success of either party in the next Presidential election depends entirely upon what happens between now and that time."

"What were the local issues during the late campaign?"

"The prohibition question was the only one at issue which was of importance. The Republicans had a plank in their platform upholding the observance of Sunday and preventing the sale of liquor on that day. This frightened the liquor people, producers and consumers, and they, combining with the wine interest, proved too much for the Republicans."

"What is the general condition of the people of California?"

"A feeling of satisfaction exists, but at present the grain crops have been very large and the quality good, although small prices are being realized. The crop is going away rapidly which is better than to have it on hand unsold."

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—The annual session of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, began its sessions in this city yesterday. The National Grange is composed of masters of State Granges and their wives, and 32 states are represented in the convention. Among the delegates present are Gov. Frederick Roble, of Maine, and Congressman Aiken, of South Carolina. The sessions are secret, and will continue till next week. A public meeting was held at the court house, at which addresses of welcome were delivered by Gov. Porter and Mayor Grubbs, and responses made by prominent members. The treasurer reported the finances in good order, the receipts being more than equal to the expenditures. He also reported the reorganization of the Louisiana State Grange in September. Grand Master Woodward's report, a lengthy document, was largely devoted to a discussion of the objects of the Grange, urging members to avail themselves of all benefits accruing from membership. He recommends an organization of co-operative stores, nearly a hundred of which are in operation in Texas alone. That step he taken to secure the elevation of the Bureau of Agriculture into an executive depot, that Congress be petitioned to pass the bill for the relief of purchasers of patent right articles; that just statutory laws be passed relating to transportation. He also showed that 20 states have an increase in membership, and 5 but little variation or decrease. In the year ending October 1, 1882, 77 new granges were organized in the United States, and 14 since then.

CLIPPINGS.

Martin Maghinis, Democrat, was re-elected Delegate from Montana for the sixth time.

President Arthur is six feet two inches in height and weighs two hundred and twenty-five pounds.

The president has accepted another twenty-five miles of the Northern Pacific railroad in the western part of Montana.

Jacob Hoover, Democratic nominee for Representative in Whitman county, was elected by 550 majority.

A "real live lord," the Duke of Newcastle, is in Boston, and will visit portions of the United States, including California.

Dennis Kearney has again appeared on the sand lots in San Francisco, and advocates the nomination of Ben Butler for President.

W. H. Smallwood has retired from the Sprague Herald succeeded by J. T. Armstrong in the editorial chair. Capt. Smallwood still remains at Sprague.

More than half of the faces in the next Congress will be new ones. Many prominent Republicans will have disappeared, and there will be a new Speaker.

It takes a long time to get in all the returns from the different counties, but so far as heard from, Delegate Brents has received a majority of about 2,500.

Two thousand postmasters will go out of office in the United States by limitation between this and the 4th of next March. The President fills all their places.

The Oregonian says: "It is gratifying to learn that the Whitman monument scheme is not to be abandoned. The venerable W. H. Gray continues his efforts for it with hopeful results."

The first issue of the new Portland daily paper has been postponed from Dec. 4th to Jan. 1st, 1883. An office on First street has been secured, but the material has not yet been moved into it.

The grain crop of Whidby Island is all threshed, and amounts to 74,000 bushels. The average for wheat was 25 bushels and that of oats 45 bushels to the acre.—Mail.

James G. Blaine, instead of seizing the defeat of the Republicans as an opportunity for attacking the administration, announces that he is not a candidate for the Presidency in 1884.

The Utah Commissioners have counted in John T. Caine as Delegate to Congress, and tomorrow will leave for the east. They have sent a voluminous report of their work in Utah to the President, the purport of which is known only to themselves.

Failing to secure the services of Rev. Mr. Banfield as Principal of the new proposed academy at Steilacoom, the Congregationalists are looking to Mr. A. T. Burnell, the teacher of the Indian school on the Skokomish reservation.—Post-Intelligencer.

Albany Ogn, is credited with an anti-corset society, composed of young men who vow never to marry a girl who wears. Now let the young ladies form an anti-whisky and anti-tobacco society, and the town will be blessed with two "moves in the right direction."

In Mason county Burke received 118 and Brents 46, a majority of 72 for the Democratic nominee, while the vote for the Democratic militia officers is eleven less, excepting Dubean, whose majority is 66. McFadden for Prosecuting Attorney received 118 and Israel 48, a majority of 70 for the former. John McBeavy received 92 majority over R. C. Kerr, for Joint Councilman, and J. A. Kulu 50 majority over E. Callow, for Joint Representative.

WALLA WALLA Union:—The returns show that the Republicans on Puget Sound supported Mr. Brents as heartily as they ever did one of their own number. Dr. Minor, in telegraphing the result to Mr. Brents, said: "Jefferson county has been redeemed." We gladly admit that the returns from King, Pierce, Kitsap, Jefferson, Whatcom and other counties have removed all of our bitter-entertained ideas about "Puget Sound going for its own man without regard to party." And we confess with sorrow that, had the Puget Sound Republicans been as lukewarm as were Mr. Brents' neighbors, the Walla Walla Republicans, his majority would have been exceedingly small. All the honor of the recent Republican victory, one of the few victories won by that party in the United States at the late election, belongs to Puget Sound.

Indian Commissioner Price is informed by Judge Edmonds, Chairman of the Sioux Commission, that 8,000 Yankton Ogallala Indians at Pine River Agency, Dakota, have agreed to separate on reservations of limited proportions. The Indians at Rosebud had previously agreed to separate on reservations, and as the Indians at these two agencies comprise more than half the Sioux nation, the work is practically accomplished. The object of the Commission in having the Indians select separate reservations, is to concentrate all Indians in about half the present reservation room, in order that the other half may be thrown open to the public.

Secretary Teller will not, in his annual report, recommend a reduction in the cost of obtaining patents. He is persuaded in this course, it is said, from the fact that the patent laws are now the most liberal of any country in the world. In England it costs $1,000 to obtain a 14-years patent, in Germany over $600, in Russia about $400, and in Canada about $140, while here it costs but $35 for a 17-years patent. It is not thought by Commissioner of Patents Marble that a reduction would materially increase the number of patents and stimulate invention, as the small fee is now in the reach of all. He thought the large revenue derived from this source no urgent reason in favor of reduction, unless it can be shown that the fees bear heavily upon deservng inventors.

FARM AND HOME.

Farm Havings.

STRAWBERRIES.—We would not advise the Wilson for a heavy soil. It is suited only to light soils and a dry, warm climate.

HOFFMAN ON GRASS.—I have cut grass so green that I have, in consequence, been ranked as a very improvident farmer.

FOUNDER.—The first thing to do is to place the horse's feet in tubs of warm water, then blanket heavily and get the animal thoroughly warm all over.

WESTERN ORCHARDS.—A farmer in Nebraska says: "There has been so much said already about the care of apple trees that I can think of little that I have not read over and over again."

LEADING RASPBERRIES.—A well-known Western fruit grower sends to the Prairie Farmer an account of his comparative examinations of five leading raspberries.

MULCHING.—Although we have suggested many times in the past the great advantage of mulching the raspberry and blackberry beds, it cannot be suggested too often.

GINGER ALE.—Ginger, three ounces; cream of tartar, three ounces; brown sugar, three pounds; rind and juice of four lemons; boiling water, four quarts.

GREEN PEA SOUP.—Take one pint and a half of green peas, boil them in salt and water with a little mint; when thoroughly cooked pound them and pass them through a hair sieve.

Complete. SEATTLE, W. T., March 15, 1881. H. H. WARNER & Co.: Sire—After suffering over ten years with kidney complaint I made use of your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

to-day. I have a cow that got choked by a turnip that resisted the usual treatment—pressing upward with the thumb and fingers below the obstruction.

COST OF THE SILO.—When a silo is dug in the side of a hill and the walls are constructed of rough stone laid up with mortar, composed in part of hydraulic cement, or of concrete, the cost is ordinarily about $1 per ton capacity.

DELICATE CAKE.—The whites of three eggs beaten to a froth, one cup of pulverized white sugar, half a cup of sweet milk, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar, half a teaspoonful of soda, two and a half cups of flour, a teaspoonful of almonds and one cup of melted butter.

BOMBAY WINE OR MILK PUNCH.—Put the rinds of eighteen lemons pared fine, in half a bottle of rum. Let it stand three days. Then take two bottles of water, half a bottle of lemon juice, two pounds of white sugar, one nutmeg, grated and two bottles of rum.

WHEN WELL MIXED PUT IN A TIN LINED WITH BUTTERED PAPER AND BAKE IT. To know when it is done run a wooden skewer into it; if it comes out quite dry it is sufficiently baked.

GINGER ALE.—Ginger, three ounces; cream of tartar, three ounces; brown sugar, three pounds; rind and juice of four lemons; boiling water, four quarts.

GREEN PEA SOUP.—Take one pint and a half of green peas, boil them in salt and water with a little mint; when thoroughly cooked pound them and pass them through a hair sieve.

Old-fashioned remedies are rapidly giving ground before the advance of this conquering specific, and old-fashioned ideas in regard to depletion as a means of cure, have been quite exploded by the success of the great remedy.

Assessment Notice.

PUGET SOUND IRON COMPANY.

Location of principal place of business, San Francisco, California; location of works, Ironside, Washington Territory. Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Directors held on the 31st day of October, 1882, an assessment (No. 3) of fifty cents per share was levied upon the capital stock of the Company, payable immediately in United States gold coin to the Secretary at the office of the Company, No. 325 Montgomery St., Room No. 7, San Francisco, Cal.

Admission.

It has been suggested that a commission should be sent to Washington from this territory to second Mr. Bronts' efforts to secure our admission to statehood by the present Congress.

Our territory is already abundantly able to sustain a state government, and is making rapid strides not only in the matter of population, but in developing all her material interests.

Some of the democrats in this territory are trying to make Judge Burke shoulder the blame for the recent defeat of their party at the polls, and are accusing him of "selling out."

THURLOW WEED, the veteran journalist, closed a long, active and useful career on Wednesday.

The Delav of Statehood.

The following is a brief extract from a long and interesting article upon the lumbering resources of Puget Sound, published in the West Shore, from the pen of our townsman J. G. Swan, Esq.

The question is often asked, why is it that Washington, with its wealth of forests and vast resources in its coal deposits, as well as its enormous yield of wheat, should still continue a mere colony of the central government at Washington.

who will make themselves effectually heard in Congress, and cause our lawmakers to hasten their tardy justice to the great northwestern corner of our national domain.

Herbert Spencer.

It is interesting sometimes to note the opinions and the observations of eminent foreigners concerning our land and country. Herbert Spencer, in a recent article in the N. Y. Evangelist, speaks as follows about the future of America in citations:

Increase of Population.

Walla Walla Union.] As far as reported every county in the Territory, save two, cast an increased vote at the last election. The total increase reported is over 4,000, and there is no doubt that it will exceed 5,000 when all the returns are in.

If the present Congress, which contains fifty members whose districts cast less votes than Washington and north Idaho, will, before March 3d next, pass an enabling act to create a State out of the two regions, it will take until the first of January, 1884, for the people to elect delegates to a convention to frame a constitution.

A Daily Mail.

Victoria Colonist.] It is earnestly to be hoped that the "new brooms" who are to visit Ottawa in a political capacity for the first time at the forthcoming session, will impress on the minds of the government of Canada the importance of establishing a daily mail service between Victoria and Puget Sound.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF PORT TOWNSEND.

BRIEF LOCAL ITEMS.

The telegraph line to Port Angeles is now in good working order, connection having been established yesterday. Mr. Dyer, formerly of Seattle, is operator in charge at that end of the line.

From Thursday's Daily.

A lot of new carpets at Waterman & Katz.

Mr. Jas. S. Swaye is at New Tacoma attending district court.

Real estate is coming up with steady strides and rather brisk sales.

TURKEYS, geese and chickens, any quantity, at Waterman & Katz.

A new floor is being put in the front of the post office waiting room.

New piles are being put in position at the outer end of Union wharf, under the supervision of Mr. Hallock.

The schooner Perkins, from the Islands, has discharged a load of grain at Quincey wharf for Messrs. Waterman & Katz.

The A. 1 ship George Stetson is now loading at New York for San Francisco. For particulars, apply at Waterman & Katz.

AN exchange wants people to quit "cassia." If you will buy more at Clinger's auction store you won't feel so much like it.

A LARGE number of people attended the M. E. socials at Dr. Hill's last evening. A very pleasant time is reported. The collection amounted to $12.

RETRIEVER PUP LOST.—Has no one seen that little white breasted dog answering to the name "Jack." Please call at this office if you have, and you will be liberally rewarded.

CITY taxes will soon be delinquent, "and don't you vas forget id some." If you don't believe it, just ask Dan Hill, city treasurer, and he will talk to you "wass nor a Dutch uncle." Don't it?

THE advertisement of the Gem saloon will be found in another column. Messrs. Barton & Eddy, the new proprietors, have had the building thoroughly refitted, and have purchased a new billiard table, and they naturally want to let the public know about it.

We are requested to announce that there will be union Thanksgiving services at the Presbyterian church on Thursday next, 30th inst., Revs. Todd and Ried officiating. All who can take displays of grain, fruits, etc., are requested to do so, as a showing of that kind is contemplated.

Mr. Korter's altered and enlarged advertisement of cutavaco appears in another column. This tonorial preparation for dandruff, falling hair and diseases of the scalp is obtaining a merited reputation. Parties who have tried it are loud in its praise. Speaking from personal experience, we can heartily recommend it to all.

THE Hamburg American Packet Co.'s rates from Hamburg, Havre, London and Southampton to New York are reduced as follows: 1st cabin, $120; 2nd cabin, $72; steerage, $24. Steamers to sail in December: Allemania, Combia, Ragia, Gallert, Silesia, Suevia, Wieland, Bohemia, Frisia and Vandalia. For further information, apply to Waterman & Katz.

SPECIAL SERVICE OF SONG, ENTITLED: "THE WOMAN OF SAMARIA."—This will (d.v.) be given on Sabbath next, Nov 26th, at the Presbyterian church by the Sabbath school children assisted by the church choir. There will be no sermon, but short and appropriate selections of Scripture will be read between songs, thereby casting the whole service into a connected narrative. Copies of the songs to be rendered by the children have been printed and will be distributed to the audience. Collection at the close to aid in reducing the adverse balance of about $100 on the financial year just closed.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Mr. Frank Woodley has a situation in the Custom House employ.

The steam tug Tacoma carried the mail to Noah Bay again this week.

Mr. S. A. Clarke, editor of the Whilamette Farmer, is making a tour of Puget Sound.

Lots in Waitsburg, which three months ago sold for $50 each, are now in demand at $100.

SCARCITY of female help in domestic service is creating some comment in the principal towns on Puget Sound.

A REGISTRY law is asked for by the Seattle Herald, to prevent illegal voting. It would be a good thing.

Mr. Hartman, whose law card appears in our advertising columns to day, is a successful lawyer in Olympia.

Saw mill matters seem to be in something of a muddle, there being a difference about fulfilling contracts.

AN exchange suggests putting the Eliza Anderson on the route from Seattle to New Westminster, recently abandoned by the Evangel.

A FEW days ago Wm. Masterson was stopped by some Indian loafers near Walla Walla, who tried to rob him. He drew a revolver and killed one.

MR. Chas. Whitehead, general agent of the Northwest News, the new daily paper soon to be started in Portland, is in town today, making arrangements for news agents, etc., for that publication.

A DISPATCH to the Oregonian states that Bishop Paddock, of Washington Territory, who went East some time since is lying seriously ill at his former home in Norwich, Conn.

VICTORIA papers are quarreling over election contests for seats in B. C. Provincial Parliament. There seems to be a very narrow margin between the dominant party and the opposition in point of numbers.

GOING INTO BUSINESS.—Mr. Purser Jocelyn, who for some time past has been the careful and obliging purser on board the steamship Dakota, has resigned his position and is going into the hard and willow-ware business in Seattle. He is succeeded on the Dakota by Mr. Hillman.

HERE is something for our young cigarette smokers to consider. The S. F. Occident says that over a hundred cases of leprosy among white cigarette smoking boys have been traced directly to the fact that the cigarettes used were manufactured by Chinese who lick them in making.

Professor Vertelli!

The great Ventriloquist and Magician, assisted by Mrs. Vertelli, Master Vertelli and Johnny Carter, will perform at Good Templars' Hall on Saturday, the 25th instant. 100 Presents will be given away. Admission 50 cents. Vertelli will walk across the street on a rope by torch light at 7:30. Do not fail to witness this accomplished actor.

A WISE PLAN.

Everyone wishing to try the new remedy for biliousness and constipation—Syrup of Figs—can obtain a trial bottle free of charge at N. D. Hill & Son's Drug Store. Knowing Syrup of Figs to be better in its effect and more pleasant to the taste than any other remedy, the California Fig Syrup Company has adopted a wise plan to make its merits known to the people.

Korter's Cutavaco

Cures Pityriasis, or Dandruff, and stops the hair falling out.

Alopecia, or Baldness is caused by a fungus destroying the roots of the hair. A spot may first arise where first inoculated, spreading in a circular form, and so enlarging by degrees that the whole hair is swept away, leaving a glistening scalp; or, the disease may first appear in various places. The hair is dull and lustreless and easily extracted, or it begins to fall, and progressing by degrees is soon lost unless remedied.

It will cause the hair to grow, because it at once destroys the offending cause which prevents; the hair is at once preserved, and the scalp and bulbs made healthy and vigorous.

The Cutavaco is a fine dressing for the hair, and should be used in every family. There are no poisonous substances in it whatever, and it can be used without danger to the hair or scalp.

Price 75 cents per bottle. Prepared and sold by WM. KORTER,

REPUBLICANISM (THREE GENERATIONS)

BY MARGARET B. HARTY.

PIRE. "Squire Cool, at his high-arched gate Stood with his son and heir; Around him spread his rich estate, Near rose his mansion fair. And when a neighbor ragged, sad, Unknown, passed that way, The father turned, and to the lad These kindly words did say:

"There goes poor Muggins! Ah, my son, How thankful we should be That our republic gives a chance To fellows such as he!"

TO BE. Miss Muggins blazed in jeweled light, And swept in slyly then; Her courtiers thought a maid so bright And beautiful never seen. About she led her haughty head, Surveyed her Paris clothes; "And I must patronize," she said, "Miss Cool, I suppose.

"She's poor, she teaches, has no style! In Europe, now—but oh! In this republic, we're compelled To meet all kinds, you know!"

—Scribner's Monthly.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL PROOF.

"Never condemn a person on circumstantial evidence; it is unreliable, even when the circumstances seem to fit into each other like a couple of cog-wheels," said John T. Norris, who is an experienced detective of Springfield, Ohio.

"Give us the story Uncle John." "Not long ago there resided in Franklin county a wealthy old maid, Miss Sabine Smith. By inheritance she was the possessor of a large farm, on which was an old-fashioned though comfortable dwelling house. She was reputed to have a good square bank account."

"How old is she?" "Well, on the shady side of 70, but she had a weakness like all old maids; not for kittens, poodles or canaries, but children. She had raised several orphan girls, who are now well settled in life. In 1865 she adopted a 6 year-old black-eyed girl, bright as a button, named Mollie McCann, whose father had fallen in battle fighting for his flag and country, while her mother, crazed with grief, pined and faded away. Mollie soon learned to love her new mother, and from a prattling maid in short clothes and pinafores she soon bloomed forth into a gushing school-girl, and at 18 was the belle of every rustic gathering—the pretty Miss Mollie McCann, over whom the boys raved and the girls envied. To all her admirers she turned a deaf ear, and with a pretty toss of the head and a merry twinkle of her roguish eye, bade them off and not bother her.

"Miss Smith was sensible; knew that Mollie would probably marry and have a home of her own some day, so she neither discouraged her fondness for society nor harped upon the miseries of wedded life in the maiden's ear, but when she came back from the State Fair at Columbus in 1878, and told her adopted mother about the young gentleman she had met, his attentions and good qualities, Miss Smith was not pleased, nor did she hesitate to frown her displeasure and advise her ward to turn a willing ear to the many suitors of the neighborhood instead of seeking in far-off fields that which was nearer home.

"But Mollie was like many another struck on a traveling man, and she carried on a secret correspondence with him through a lady friend for a long time, until at last they were engaged.

"Miss Smith and Mollie were the sole occupants of the house. The bedrooms were four in number, two of which were used as spare rooms, one occupied by Miss Smith and containing two beds, Mollie occupying one, Miss Smith the other. The fourth bedroom was called Mollie's, but was only used by her when a lady friend was visiting her. In one of these spare bedrooms was an old-fashioned bureau and book-case combined, the top drawer of which could be converted into a desk. The back part of this drawer was fitted up with small drawers. One of these small drawers had from time immemorial been used as a money drawer. In the summer of 1879 the sum of $355 was missed from the drawer; in the summer of 1880 $200 mysteriously disappeared, together with a quantity of gold coins which had been in the family for over a century. On the 20th day of May, 1881, Miss Smith loaned to a neighbor $500, giving him her check and he signing a note in her favor. Sickness prevented his presenting the check at the bank of Columbus, and learning that Miss Smith was going to that city on the 30th, he requested her to get it cashed. She did so, and returned with Mollie about dark on that day, having the money all in $100 bills.

"The house was all securely locked down stairs, and Miss Smith deposited the $500 in the secretary drawer, closed the drawer, locking it and placing the key in the bureau drawer beneath. She then locked the room containing the bureau, and placed the key under some quilts that lay in a wardrobe in her room. Before retiring she locked her bedroom door, and she and Mollie retired for the night in separate beds in the same room. The next morning, April 1, the neighbor who had borrowed the money, having a long journey to perform, during which he expected to make a payment on some land purchased, called as early as 5 o'clock, before Miss Smith and Mollie had arisen.

"Awakening, Mrs. Smith took her key from the wardrobe, unlocked the bedroom, then taking the bureau drawer of the secretary, opened this to find the money gone. She went down stairs; everything was locked and bolted as she had left it the night before.

"Who took the money?" "That was the question that confronted me. There was no sign of a burglary; no lock forced, windows and doors all right. No one else in the house but Miss Smith and Mollie. Of course I at once examined the girl. She talked freely, said she always had a presentiment that the money would be stolen—in fact, had a presentiment that night, but feared to tell the old lady, for fear of alarming her. I soon learned that Mollie had a key that fitted the bedroom containing the bureau; hence my suspicions were strengthened that Mollie had arisen in the night, either unlocked the door with her own key or taken the one in the wardrobe, and, securing the money, hid it, either in or out of the house, without awakening the old lady. I finally told Mollie that I should have to search her and make a thorough examination of the house.

"Well," she naively remarked, "if you do find any money about the house, it won't prove that I stole it, will it?" "It will be prima facie evidence," I said.

"I locked her up in her bedroom and began a thorough search; handboxes pried into, bureau drawers pulled out, cupboards ransacked, and finally went through her own room. Under the carpet, under her bed, I found, in a compact wad, twelve $100 bills. Now the total amount known to be missing was only $1,045. Where had the $135 come from? Where had the gold coin gone to? Was the the bureau-drawer paying interest on its deposits?"

"Now I've got you, Mollie," I said, as I confronted her. "A bottle of camphor and a little cold water brought her speedily to, yet she sturdily proclaimed her innocence. "I did not take Miss Smith's money; nor I did not," she convulsively exclaimed between her sobs.

"Miss Smith would not allow me to take her to jail, where I reasoned confinement would soon compel her to confess.

"My work, however, was but partially done, for the gold coins had not turned up.

"I determined that those coins must be in the house, and resolved upon a thorough search from cellar to garret. The cellar disclosed nothing, and at last I stumbled upon a small stairway leading to the garret, the door to which was a common t up door, and was securely fastened by a padlock, to which was attached three links of a chain.

"Give me the key," I said to Miss Smith, "to that trap door up in the attic."

"Oh, no use of looking there; the keys have been lost over five years, and no one has ever been up there since."

"There were cobwebs on the door, but I noticed that over the crack at the door's edge they appeared to have been broken away, caused by the door having been recently opened. With an ax I speedily got the door open, and saw large footprints in the dust. By the aid of a lamp I followed the course of the tracks over the boards which lay across the garret rafters to the furthest part of the garret, where, over an old cross-beam, hung a pair of old-fashioned saddle-bags. The dust on the bags had been recently disturbed. In one of the pockets I found the five $100 bills which had disappeared on the night of the 30th of May, the $355 that was missed in the summer of 1879, the $200 that was lost in 1880, and, better than all, the rare old gold coins upon which Miss Smith set such store as an heirloom. I had found the money, but I had found $1,200 too much. The mystery deepened. I resolved upon one thing, and that was that Mollie must know something about the money that was hid under the carpet beneath her bed. I talked kindly to her, told her that Miss Smith's money had been found, and urged her to tell me how the $1,200 came under the carpet of her bed.

"You will not believe me if I tell you, but if Miss Smith will go out I will explain. I put the money there; it was my lover's. He had saved it out of his wages and given it to me to keep. I deposited his letters for fear my aunt would find it out. There's the story."

"But how did the old lady's money get into the garret?" "She carried it there herself. She was a somnambulist and walked in her sleep."

"How did you prove it, Mr. Norris? Did the old lady let you occupy the bedroom and catch her?" "Oh, no! I got the old lady to take off her shoes and stockings and place her No. 6 foot down on a sheet of white paper. With a lead pencil I marked out her foot on that sheet of paper. With a pair of scissors I carefully cut the exact shape of the old lady's foot, which fitted exactly in the tracks in the dust on the garret boards. Beside that, Mollie's foot was much smaller, she only wearing a No. 2 1/2 shoe, which would not fit the track. I also on careful examination found traces of cobwebs in the frill of the old lady's night-cap, while Mollie wore no night-cap. So you see I proved it by both ends—the old lady's head and by her feet. I explained it all to the old lady; she paid me in money, and I now predict an early wedding at the Smith mansion, with Mollie McCann as the bride."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

HE WENT.

President Garfield's cousin, Mr. Harry Boynton, relates a pleasant little story of the former's school life: There was a spelling match in the little log school house, in which James, who was 13 years old, took part. The teacher told her scholars that if any whispered she would send them home. The lad standing next to James became confused, and to help him James told him how to spell his word. The teacher saw him, and said: "James, you know the rule. You must go home." James picked up his cap and left. In a very few seconds he returned, and took his place in the class. "Why, how is this, James? I told you to go home," said his teacher. "I know it, and I went home," said James.

AN OLD STORY.

Every story comes from another story. That of the ragged and thirsty tramp, who went up to a bartender and said, "Say, Master, give me a drink and have some fun with me," is based on a speech of Callidemus in Macaulay's "Athenian Boyals." He says to his son Sponstipus, "What! I suppose you will wander from house to house, like that wretched buffoon, Philippus, and beg everybody who has a supper party to be so kind as to feed you and laugh at you." Thus the story goes back to Plato's time, for Plato is the character mentioned in Xenophon's "Symposium."

Sunday Reading.

Ben Hill Georgia's great Senator was once invited to hear a very popular preacher. At the close of the discourse the friend of a D. D., who invited him to hear the sermon, said, "How do you like him?" "He does not understand the use of words," replied the Senator. "Why," said the admiring friend, "I thought that was the very thing he did understand." Hill replied, "he uses words as an end; not as a means. Language is only useful to convey thought, and should never be used for any other purpose. He uses words for themselves."

The New York Advocate tells this story of Sojourner Truth, which happened some years ago: An abolition meeting was in progress in some church on a certain Sunday afternoon, when a terrific thunder-storm arose, and the lightning flashed vividly about the church. A preacher who had strayed into the meeting arose, all pale and trembling, and made humble confession of his sin in attending an abolition meeting on Sunday, for which he had no doubt the Lord in judgement had sent this terrible storm. Sojourner immediately arose, and pointing her long bony finger toward him, exclaimed, "Why, honey, do you think the Lord sent all this just for you? I don't 'speak he ever heern tell on you!"

Respect the Body.—Respect the body. Give it what it requires, and no more. Don't pierce its ears, strain its eyes, or pinch its feet; don't roast it by a hot fire all day, and smother it under heavy bed covering at night; don't put it in a cold draft on slight occasions, and do not nurse or pet it to death; don't dose it with doctor's stuffs, and, above all, don't turn it into a wine cask or chimney. Let it be "warranted not to smoke," from the time your manhood takes possession. Respect the body; don't over work, over rest or over love it, and never debate it, but be able to lay it down when you are done with it, a well-worn, but not misused thing. Meantime, treat it at least as well as you would a pet horse or hound, and, my word for it, though it will not jump to China at a bound, you'll find it a most excellent thing to have—especially in the country. —Health and Home.

We are informed that our respected friend the Rev. T. J. Weekes of San Juan received by last mail the sad news of the death of his beloved and much honored father, in England, whom he entertained the happy prospect of greeting once more in the coming spring upon his projected visit to the General Assembly meeting at Saratoga, N. Y. But now that hoped for auspicious meeting is deferred for the meeting "on the other shore." The saintly father of our grief stricken friend was surrounded in his last moments by his entire family resident in England, the long absent son being the only member away from the sacred home of his childhood. We join the numerous friends of Mr. Weekes in tendering heartfelt sympathy and condolences.

KERR is elected Joint Councilman by 80 to 100 majority. His majority in person county was 60; in San Juan, 109; three precincts in Clallam gave him 15 majority; total, 190. In Mason, McReay received 92 majority, which leaves Kerr 98 ahead as far as heard from. The few precincts in Clallam yet to hear from cannot materially change the result. This result is largely due to the position of the two candidates on the pilot bill question, as viewed in the light of the Puget Mill Co's attitude in connection with that subject in the past. Mr. Kerr we believe to be the superior of his late opponent in several important requisites for a legislator, although the latter is a very popular man. We expect the councilman elect to discharge his duties to the credit of himself and his constituents.

THE AURORA BOREALIS.—Every clear night for more than a week past, there has been an unusual display of northern lights. Great waves of light illuminated the northern heavens looking at times like a reflection of terrestrial fire. On the 13th, just a week ago, a similar display of Aurora was reported by Professor Brooks, of the Redhouse Observatory at Phelps, New York. This uncommon display, seen from the Pacific to the Atlantic, at the same time, is thought by astronomers to indicate that great meteorological disturbances may be expected. Capt. James Dalgarno, of pilot boat Mary Taylor, who arrived on Sunday, reports that the northern lights have been very brilliant during the past week, as seen from Cape Flattery. Capt. Dalgarno also reports that the comet has made a fine display. The tail measured by a transit instrument, or an aneroid barometer, exceeds twelve degrees in length and is full of brilliant stars. Capt. Dal thinks that the remarkable display in the heavens is caused by the atmosphere coming in contact with the hemisphere. We commend the above suggestions to the attention of Gen. Hazen, of the U. S. Signal Service. Doubtless some very interesting reports will be forwarded to Washington after a signal station is created at Cape Flattery.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT OF WASHINGTON.

PROCLAMATION.

Thanks and adoration are due and will be heartily rendered to Almighty God for the manifold benefactions which He has bestowed upon us as a people.

Possessed of large domains replete with all elements of agricultural, mineral, manufacturing and commercial prosperity and greatness, healthful influences and fruitful harvests; ever exempt from poverty, epidemic diseases, tempests, floods, or droughts, blessed with free self-government; with liberty to worship God, each inhabitant from his own standpoint of conscience and duty, all these inspire us with gratitude and constrain us to offer our tributes of thankfulness with willing hearts to the giver of all good.

The President of the United States has designated Thursday, the 30th day of November, 1882, to be observed as a day of Thanksgiving and praise throughout the nation.

Therefore I William A. Newell, Governor of Washington, do recommend to the people of the Territory that they abstain from secular pursuits on that day, and assemble in their places of public worship to give thanks and homage to the Creator and Benefactor of mankind for His merciful forbearance and tender care.

Given at Olympia on this, the 15th day of November, 1882, under the great seal of Washington Territory.
WM. A. NEWELL.

By the Governor:
N. H. OWINGS,
Secretary of the Territory.

THE LEADING SCIENTISTS OF TODAY agree that most diseases are caused by disordered kidneys or liver. If, therefore, the kidneys and liver are kept in perfect order, perfect health will be the result. This truth has only been known a short time, and for years people suffered great agony without being able to find relief. The discovery of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure marks a new era in the treatment of these troubles. Made from a simple tropical leaf of rare value, it contains just the elements necessary to nourish and invigorate both of these great organs, and safely restores and keeps them in order. It is a POSITIVE REMEDY for all diseases that cause pain in the lower part of the body—for Torpid Liver—Headache—Jaundice—Dizziness—Gravel—Fever—Ague—Malarial Fever and all difficulties of the Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs. It is an excellent and safe remedy for females during Pregnancy. It will control Menstruation, and is invaluable for Leucorrhoea or Falling of the Womb. As a Blood Purifier it is unequalled, for it cures the organs that make the blood. READ THE RECORD. "I saved my life."—E. B. Lakely, Selma, Ala. "It is the remedy that will cure the many diseases peculiar to women."—Mother's Magazine. "It has passed severe tests and won endorsements from some of the highest medical talent in the country."—New York World. "No remedy heretofore discovered can be held for one moment in comparison with it."—Rev. C. A. Harvey, D. D., Washington, D. C. This remedy which has done such wonders is put up in the largest sized bottles of any medicine upon the market, and is sold by druggists and all dealers at $1.25 per bottle. For Diabetes, inquires for WARNER'S SAFE DIABETES CURE. It is a positive remedy. H. H. WARNER & CO., Rochester, N. Y.

General Land Decisions.

WOLF VS. STRUBLE.

A homestead entry is an appropriation of the land and removes it from liability to any other disposition.

Parties claiming the right to enter under the third section of the act of May 14, 1880, land embraced in a homestead entry, required to establish the priority of their claims and secure the cancellation of the intervening entry prior to the allowance of their application.

Pre-emptors applying to transmute their filings to homestead entries required to give notice to adverse homestead claimants who will be allowed to contest the application to transmute.

The decision in the case of Esrey vs. Glenn (Copp's L. O. Vol. 7, p. 148), will not be held to control the action of the General Land Office.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, GENERAL LAND OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., September 25, 1882. REGISTER AND RECEIVER, Wa Keeney, Kansas:

GENTLEMEN:—I am in receipt of your letter of 24th ult., reporting in the case of Lillo R. Wolf vs. Alpheus Struble, why you allowed Mrs. Wolf to transmute her pre-emption filing to a homestead entry without first giving notice to Struble and Reese, homestead claimants to the same land.

I find upon further investigation of the matter that a difference in the rulings in cases of this kind has inadvertently arisen, and that your action in this case is sustained by the later practice of this office.

It was always held that a homestead entry was an appropriation of the land; that one entry could not be allowed over another, and, consequently, that in cases where an entry was made subject to a prior pre-emption claim, the pre-emptor, in order to transmute, must first give notice to the homestead party in order that the latter might show that the former did not have a valid filing capable of transmutation, or had not complied in good faith with the requirements of the law, thereby preserving his own entry, which otherwise would be canceled upon the allowance of the application to transmute.

In the case of Esrey vs. Glenn (Copp, Vol. 7, p. 148), my predecessor, Mr. Commissioner Williamson, held that the act of May 14, 1880, the third section of which allowed a person who settled upon public land with the intention of claiming under the homestead law, the same time within which to make his homestead entry as is allowed pre-emptors to file their declaratory statements, incorporated a new principle in the homestead law; that such settler could make his entry notwithstanding the fact that the land was already appropriated by another entry, and that the rights of the parties should be adjusted when either applies to make final proof.

After a careful examination of this subject, I am unable to concur with the views expressed in that decision.

A homestead entry is an appropriation of the land; it segregates it from the body of public land, and removes it from liability to any other disposition. This proposition, the correctness of which was never disputed in this department until the rendition of the decision above referred to, is forcibly presented in the opinion of Mr. Attorney-General MacVeagh of July 15, 1881. (Copp, Vol. 8, p. 72.)

If an entry was erroneously allowed, or conflicts with previously acquired rights, it is voidable, and upon a proper showing may be set aside and annulled.

Said decision will not, therefore, in the future be held to control the action of this office.

In every case where a party applies to make homestead entry under the third section of the act of May 14, 1880, of land already appropriated by homestead entry, he will be required to give notice to the adverse claimant and establish the priority of his claim. If this is satisfactorily done, the adverse claim will be canceled and the applicant allowed to enter.

In cases where pre-emption claimants apply to transmute their filings, they will be required to give notice to subsequent homestead claimants who will be allowed to contest the application to transmute. If the validity of the pre-emptor's claim is not impeached, the adverse homestead entry will be canceled and the transmutation allowed.

In the case relative to which your report was made, you will allow the adverse homestead claimants, Struble and Reese, sixty days within which to show cause why their entries should not be canceled for conflict with the claim of Mrs. Wolf.

Very respectfully, N. C. McFARLAND, Commissioner.

The "utterly utter" kind of talk has infected the street gamins, one of whom, after picking up a more than usually fragrant cigar-stump, exclaimed to his friend: "Jack, this is quite too positively bulky."

THE CHINESE BAMBOO.

A bamboo, he it said, can be put to more uses than any other thing of the vegetable kind in the world. What would our opposite neighbors in the Celestial empire do without it? It is employed for every conceivable, beside some inconceivable purposes, on land and water, and even in the air; for kites are made of it, and so are the queer little whistles bound to the tame pigeons to frighten crows from the grain fields. It can be used in the whole cane, in strips, in segments or in threads, and no part comes amiss. The tubes are suitable for water pipes, and so it is an answer for aqueducts; it is so strong that foot bridges are constructed of it, and light enough for rafts; so available that a whole house can be built of it—the frame, the hatch, the lattices, the partitions—and it furnishes material for the tables and chairs and some of the utensils and decorative articles; it is so hard that knives are made from thin slices, and so delicate that it may be carved into dainties of boxes, and even thimbles and neckties; so elastic that baskets are woven of it, so fibrous that it may be twisted into ropes and cordage. It supplies lung for the chests of tea, straws for fishing nets, strips for fans and caudex stuff enough for oars and spears and palanquin poles. It is one of the four things without which China would be China no longer; rice for food, tea for drink, silk for wear and bamboo for everything.

There are said to be more than sixty varieties of this wonderful thing, which is neither grass nor tree, yet is in structure like grass, while it grows in dense groves, like trees, and shoots away up even to a height of 150 feet, and is nothing after all but a hollow, jointed reed.—Wide Awake.

TABLE MANNERS.

Nothing reflects more upon home training than bad manners at table. Restlessness, shown by fidgeting in your seat, moving the feet unnecessarily, playing with the table utensils or crumbling the bread is very annoying to those who have been trained correctly in youth.

To open the mouth while chewing the food instead of keeping the lips closed; to talk when the mouth is full; to suck up soup from the spoon; to put a knife in the mouth; to bend the head down over the plate; eating rapidly, or to make a noise in eating, are breaches of good manners.

Chew the food well, but quietly, and eat slowly. Never use a spoon for anything but liquids, ice cream, cheese, fish (where silver fish knives are not used.)

Everything that can be eaten with a knife, or a spoon, should be eaten with a fork—such as sweetbread, rissoles, pies, etc. Bread is always broken, when not buttered; not bitten nor cut with a knife.—Youth's Companion.

THE SUBSTITUTE FOR THE COW.

This is what a big Boston milk-dealer says, according to the Providence Journal: There is a method of doctoring milk so that no one would know it. One contract I have calls for twenty cans of milk per day, and the price is cut down so low that I am obliged to adulterate it to the extent of ten cans, that is to say, the fluid I supply is half milk and half something else. What I put in is not at all injurious. A baby might be fed with it without harm. I sold the recipe in North Providence a little while ago for $25, and you may have it for the same price. I can assure you that no one is drinking it would know that it was not of the purest and richest character. All the ingredients contained in these "added" ten cans cost only about 5 cents.

A POTENT TALISMAN.

A group of superstitious folk were talking over charms, amulets, fetiches, and the subject of luck generally. "An old uncle of mine," says one of them, finally, "when he died, bequeathed to me a talisman, thanks to which I have always got along well in the world." "And what was it?" "Fifty thousand a year."

WHAT'S GOING TO MAKE POLYGA-MY A FAILURE.

A man stepped into a Man street barber shop to get shaved. While the barber was passing the steel over his face, the man began to shed tears. This attracting the attention of the proprietor of the shop, he directed the manipulator of the razor to sharpen the implement. As the shave continued the man's tears flowed unceasingly, and the barber continued to whet his tool, occasionally changing razors, and striving as diligently as possible to ameliorate the sufferings of his customer.

"We are using the best razor in the shop, sir," said the man with the lather cup. "Your face must be very tender. Does it pain you much?" "A razor pain me! Do you suppose that a man that has been through the war shrinks from physical suffering?" "Then what the deuce have you been blubberin' about?" queried the boss.

"I got to thinking over bad news from the East. Another mother-in-law comin' out next week to spend the winter. Here's the money for the shave."

"I shan't charge you a cent," said the barber, sally. "I never bleed a man's pocket when his heart's bowed down. Come in occasionally, and get mingle your tears with mine. I've got some mother-in-law myself. Four, by thunder!"

"That's what's goin' to make polygamy a failure in Utah," said the tearful man as he slammed the door.—Salt Lake Tribune.
