HERE AND THERE.

The report of Agent Prosser on the Oregon military road fraud has been submitted to Congress by Secretary Schurz. The Secretary says he will suspend further proceedings until some action has been taken by Congress.

A LETTER written by Mr. A. H. Huntington dated on the 15th inst., at Yakima City, says that snow had fallen to the depth of 26 inches, and that cattle were dying from exposure and starvation. Ben. Snipes, a "cattle king" of Eastern Washington, has 10,000 head only 800 of which he is able to provide for.

PORT MADISON with its foundry, saw mill, machine shops, warehouse and residence—everything, in fact, situated on the 103 acres comprising the town site—will be sold at sheriff's sale on the 15th of February. The sale will be made to satisfy a judgment of $57,800 with interest and accruing costs.

THE "Ledger" says: In December last the Northern Pacific Railroad Company paid taxes levied on its road and property, for the year 1880 as follows: To Pierce county, including tax on shops, wharves, etc., $3,565.69; Cowlitz, $1,793.02; Lewis $1,826.24; Thurston, $1,892.24. Total, $9,089.19.

A BILL has been introduced in the Nevada legislature to "prevent and punish corruption in elections." The late purchases and bargains in that State to gain the United States Senatorship have been disgraceful, and it is time some effort was made to stop it. Such proceedings are entirely too prevalent all over the coast.

THE Italian expedition, under the command of Lieutenant Bove and commander Negri, will start upon their voyage to find the south pole, about the first of March. This will be the first antarctic expedition in which steam has been used by the explorers for their vessels. This expedition will shortly be followed by one from England under the command of Sir Allen Young.

THE Tacoma "Ledger" says: All of the coal cars belonging to this division, 100 in number, are loaded with coal from the Wingate vein of the Carbon Hill coal mines. Seventy-two of the loaded hoppers are waiting for a ship. The 500 tons used by the O. R. & N. Company on their ocean steamers proved to be thoroughly satisfactory, and a favorable report has been made. There is now further demand in Portland for this coal, owing to miscarriage of a cargo which had been ordered from Australia for the O. R. & N. company's ocean steamers. The vessel bringing the coal is reported to have been lost on the northern coast. On Tuesday last the steamer State of California took aboard 112 tons of Wingate coal.

MECHANICAL EDUCATION.

Governor Perkins, of California, in his recent message expresses himself strongly upon the educational problem, and the inefficiency of the public school system of the State, which is now allowing 50,000 children of school age to grow up in ignorance, that number being reported as "not attending any school" during the past year. In speaking on this subject the Governor uses words which should be studied by those having charge of our public schools. He says: "The greater number in any community must earn their bread by manual labor. In the number of absentees from the common schools, the ordinary number of the unemployed, and the prevalence of vicious and idle youth in all of the principal communities of the State, we see conspicuously presented the necessity for an education different from what is now taught in our schools, in the direction of trade or mechanical instruction—schools where some of the useful arts should be imparted to a sufficient extent or degree of thoroughness, so that, in addition to the common elementary branches of an English education, the pupil can obtain a reasonable knowledge of some of the ordinary trades, by which he may be the better able to obtain a livelihood, and have, by so much, a better start in the race of life." Of the necessity for trade schools, there can be no doubt, and there is no question of their moral and educational value.

"Intelligencer:" From the very best authority we learn that the Columbia and Puget Sound Railroad Company need more coal than the Seattle mines can produce, and are perfecting arrangements to open another mine to make up the deficiency. Next fall and winter they will require from 1500 to 2000 tons of coal per day, and when the Seattle mine produces 1000 to 1200 tons per day it is doing its best and therefore another mine must be opened at once. It will probably be the McCallister mine on Cedar river.

HON. N. Shakespeare, of Victoria, B. C., was recently elected to the City Council of that place for the fourth time, receiving the largest vote ever given there for a councillor—all of which is highly complimentary to our friend. Mr. Shakespeare is a man of considerable force of character, very positive in his ways, and hence his enemies are as bitter as his friends are devoted. His constituency evidently has faith in him.

THE Tacoma railroad wharf is being built for the third time. It was first built in 1873, and again in 1877. This illustrates the loss of Puget Sound wharf owners by reason of the toredo. The railroad wharf is a very large one, and its building and rebuilding must be worth to the company not less than $10,000 or $15,000 each time. The company intend from this on to fill in between the piles with earth and stone.

The Oregon Kidney Tea.
 If your back aches, or if you have any trouble with your kidneys or urinary organs, don't buy some nostrum that you know nothing about, made in some distant city to sell, but buy a remedy that has never been known to fail, made from herbs produced in Oregon and put up by a firm known all over the coast. Patronize home industry and be cured at the same time.

MALARIAL BLOOD POISONING,

Causing Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, Intermittent, Remittent and Typhoid Fevers, Biliousness, Liver, Stomach, and Kidney disorders, and many other ailments, destroying the health and lives of millions, is driven out of the system, and radically cured by the use of the LION MALARIA AND LIVER PAD AND CANCLIONIC BODY AND FOOT PLASTERS, the cheapest and only perfect treatment by the Absorption principle. The Plasters acting in conjunction with the Pad upon the nerve centers and remote parts of the body, in absorbing and thoroughly ridding the system from MALARIAL POISON.

FINE OPPORTUNITY.—We have a stocked farm for sale, not far from a good local market, in Jefferson county. To those who may be seeking investments of this kind, we deem the opportunity a rare one. The farm is situated on the salt water front, in a safe and commodious bay; it comprises 133 acres of land, about 40 acres of which is fine bottom and marsh. About 32 acres are clear and under fence. Good house, barn, outbuildings, fences, &c., &c., that cost upwards of a thousand dollars. There are about 175 fruit trees of various kinds, carefully and well selected, and including apple, plum, pear, cherry, prune and other trees—some 7 years old and all in excellent condition. A fine lot of stock and tools are also for sale with the land and improvement, including 10 cows, 1 yoke of oxen, 1 horse, 8 head of young stock (half Jersey) also bees, fowls, boat, etc. The place has a cash income of $50 per year from a logging camp, besides being near a good market for butter, eggs, beef, vegetables, hay or other produce. The whole property is offered very cheap—could be bought for less than $2,000—and possession will be given immediately if desired. The owner, on account of failing health, desires to engage in some lighter occupation. For particulars, enquire at the Argus office.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

PORT TOWNSEND, JAN. 21, 1881. On and after this date, the business, good will and patronage of the "Democratic Press" is and will be consolidated with the PUGET SOUND ARGUS.

ALLEN WEIR, Proprietor P. S. ARGUS. FRANK F. MYERS, Proprietor "Press."

THE ARGUS.

We have been asked several times about the real meaning of the announcement regarding the consolidation of the business and patronage of the "Press" with this paper; what effect it would have on the ARGUS, etc.

No, there will be no change, gentlemen, that will in any wise affect the course or value of the ARGUS, unless it be to improve by making the paper broader in its views, less partisan, and more thoroughly than ever devoted to general news and news only.

We are gratified to notice that Gen. Joseph R. Hawley has been elected U. S. Senator from Connecticut. This is in accord with the prediction and desire expressed in the ARGUS some time since.

The delay of the Dakota occasioned some inconvenience to Olympia newspapers, by non-arrival of their "patents." The "Standard" issued on half sheet size and the "Courier" printed both sides at home.

GRAND CONSOLIDATION.

The Western Union and American Union telegraph companies have consolidated their interests and pooled their issues. The combination was effected on a basis of $80,000,000 capital, of which Western Union is to have $58,000,000, American Union $15,000,000 and Atlantic and Pacific $7,000,000.

MAJOR Wm. G. Morris, U. S. Treasury Agent, will soon transmit to Washington a very exhaustive report on Alaska and its resources, in fact a more valuable and complete treatise on that section than he has ever produced before.

THE material of the "press" office is under attachment to satisfy a mortgage owned by Dr. Willison. The trial bids fair to result in some interesting developments as to former ownerships of the paper, in which case we propose to resurrect a certain bit of old ARGUS correspondence, in which an interested party disclaimed over his own signature any business connection whatever with the "Press."

We have just received from D. M. Ferry & Co., of Detroit, Mich., their "E. ed Annual" and descriptive catalogue for 1881. We also acknowledge the receipt from them of two dozen packages of flower and vegetable seeds the value of which we expect to test in some degree and let the public know what they are worth.

ONLY TWO more issues of volume 10 of the ARGUS. Now is a good time to subscribe. Having weathered the storm of opposition, it will now shoot ahead with renewed vigor. We propose to make it such a paper as no enterprising citizen of the lower Sound can afford to do without.

PROP. Vertelli will favor the public here to night with his remarkable illusion of the "enchanted canopy." Don't fail to see it.

A COMMUNICATION was presented to the Senate on the 12th, from the Secretary of the Interior, recommending an appropriation of $5,000 to become immediately available, for the survey and subdivision of Indian reservations, with a view to the allotment of lands in severalty to Indians.

THE Seattle "Intelligencer" recently issued in supplement form, a full page advertisement for the firm of Mellis Bros. & Co., of Portland, Oregon, who are about establishing a branch house in Seattle.

THE P. C. S. Co. claims salvage on goods shipped on the Dakota, and the Seattle and other merchants do not take kindly to the proceeding somehow. It will perhaps be tested in the courts.

PROP. W. E. Wells, who once taught the youth of Puget Sound how to write, and was afterwards engaged in canning clams at Arcadia, is doing business at Glendale, Montana.

THE directors of the Seattle Library Association, have ordered the library closed and the books boxed. Cause, lack of interest and adequate support.

DR. J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell, Mass., have favored us with a complete edition of their Almanacs for 1881 neatly bound in one volume.

THE February number of the "Californian" is at hand, and its tone and general value seem to be up to if not above its regular standard.

EX-MAYOR Bate was elected Mayor of Nainaimo by acclamation. Mayor Turner, of Victoria, was re-elected.

THE "Oregonian" man has received a terrible castigation in an open letter, by ex-Senator J. H. Mitchell, in reply to the former's continued abuse of Mr. Mitchell on the N. P. R. R. land grant extension.

PUGET SOUND ARGUS.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF PORT TOWNSEND.

BRIEF LOCAL ITEMS.

WEAR, frosty weather again. Some of the young folks are enjoying fine skating. The Dispatch was delayed this week by head winds. Mrs. J. J. Rogers and Mrs. R. Delanty, of Clalam, are in town. Mr. Holcombe has a fine lot of valentines on hand, of all kinds. The new board of County Commissioners will hold its first meeting on the 7th of February. The work of overhauling and repairing the schooner Mist is progressing quite rapidly. Mr. G. M. Haller returned home this week after an absence at the La Conner and Seattle courts. A LARGE amount of job work has recently been turned out from the ARGUS office giving general satisfaction.

THE schooner Teazer was in our harbor this week. Messrs. McCrean and Quinn went down to the cape in her on Wednesday.

THE iron furnace at the head of the bay turned out some fine looking metal this week. All seems to be working splendidly so far.

THE schr. Perkins arrived Tuesday with a load of oats and wheat, and a deck load of fish, oil and hay for Messrs. Waterman & Katz.

A COUPLE of young horses from up the Sound were sold at auction at this place last week. Mr. Salley buying one and Mr. A. I. Smith the other.

ON Monday night several inches of snow fell on Vancouver's Island, and the San Juan archipelago. There was no snow on this side of the straits.

THE Idaho laid here for several hours on her way to San Francisco, taking in a lot of freight consisting of oats, potatoes, salmon, hides and furs, shipped by Waterman & Katz.

WE are authorized to announce that services are expected to be held in the Presbyterian church here on Sunday, Feb. 6th, conducted either by Rev. J. Reid, of Victoria, or his son, the pastor.

WE are requested to say that Rev. E. Davis, of the Episcopal Church, of this place, will be absent next Sunday, having an appointment to preach in Tacoma on that occasion. His pulpit here will be vacant.

THE ARGUS will be moved next week to the office recently occupied by the defunct "Democratic Press." We will also open in this building an office for our self as Justice of the Peace and Committing Magistrate.

MARRIED.—In Port Townsend, at St. Paul's Church, on the 22d inst., by Rev. E. Davis, pastor, Carl Kasch and Miss Lovedy Lory, all of Jefferson county. The bride is a niece of Mr. Nicholls, of Seow Bay, and is recently from England.

THE prospect for the grand masquerade ball to be given here on the 22d of February opens up very bright. In fact the preparations are fairly booming, and subscriptions to the fund are rapidly increasing. On Wednesday over fifty names were down. A splendid time is anticipated.

JUDGE D. W. Smith, Vice President of the Immigration Aid Society, has been receiving and answering letters from the colonists recently coming to this territory, relative to the advantages of this section of country. If those colonists will quietly take a look through this portion of country we opine that they will find it profitable to them. That is the best way to determine whether they want to come or not. They can get plenty of courtesies shown in the way of information, &c.

THE ARGUS job office this week turned out some rather unique work, being nothing less than a hundred Chinese calling cards to be used on the Celestial new year holiday next week. They were printed on thin tinted paper slips about ten inches long by four wide. The modest name of Mr. Zee Tai appeared in Chinese characters. This, we believe, is the first printing of the kind ever done in Port Townsend.

WE learn that the pilot schooner Champion recently met with a serious mishap at Neah Bay, by dragging ashore in a gale and getting her keel pounded off. She was hauled off and towed up the Sound for repairs. It is believed that her injuries are not extensive, as she was reported to be still free from leaks. We hope she may soon be in service again.

WE have just received a copy of another issue of John P. Morton & Co's old "Western Farmers' Almanac," published at Louisville, Kentucky. This publication is in the fifty-fourth year of its existence and has a circulation of 100,000. Send ten cents to the publishers for it. The best investment farmers can make.

MR. Barthrop complains that some evil-minded person or persons took two bells and straps off of his cow's neck within the past three months, the last time being day before yesterday. A reward of five dollars will be offered for the apprehension of the guilty ones.

READ Prof. Vercelli's advertisement. He will exhibit here this week. Don't fail to hear him. He drew crowded houses at Port Discovery and at Dungeness. In fact his success has been remarkable.

THE smiling face of Mrs. Dodd again graces the Central hotel. After the intense anxiety about the safety of the Dakota, everybody is correspondingly elated over the safe arrival of the passengers.

The iron furnace has already turned out several tons of metal.

Edison's Electric Light.
Has thus far proved a failure as a practical light for family use, and the owners of gas stocks breathe more freely and see renewed dividends near at hand, but the Oregon Kidney tea has been a success from the first, paying large dividends of restored health to all those afflicted with backache or any disease of the kidneys or urinary organs, and carrying consternation to the pockets of rival concerns with worthless nostrums to sell. Ask for the Oregon Kidney Tea and take nothing else.

THE MYSTERY OF DEATH.

BY EDWIN ARNOLD.

"She is dead!" they said to him; "Come away! Kiss her and leave her—she is clay!"

They smoothed her tresses of dark brown hair. On her forehead of stone they laid their feet. Over her eyes that gazed too much. They drew the lids with a gentle touch.

Did She Do Wrong?

Mr. Barker Bennington scolded and looked across the lavish table, nervously. He was a tall, portly, elderly gentleman, with pale eyes and scant hair, and a tuft of hay-colored chin whiskers.

"A bay window just there, sir, opening at one end into a vinery, and—" "You'll do. You may stay and superintend some changes I intend making. I'll board you and give you ten dollars a week to look after things for awhile.

Maud Anglesey's sweet little face was swelled and red with crying, as she lifted her black eyes to her mother's face. "I don't want to marry him, mamma!" she sobbed, piteously.

"But I despise him so! He is fifty-seven, and I am not nineteen yet. Mamma, mamma! it is cruel—" Mrs. Anglesey's maid tapped on the boudoir door, with a splendid basket of orchids for Mrs. Anglesey, and a tiny casket and a note for Maud, with Mr. Bennington's compliments.

At the avenue palace, Maud roamed lither and thither, with shining eyes, and a face such as a delighted child wears when it has a beautiful new toy.

"It is lovely," she said. "And so good of him," seconded Mrs. Anglesey, rapturously. "My dear child, you ought to regard yourself the happiest girl in the world. Go get your new hat—the one with the lemon plume—and let Abbey put your locket on a velvet ribbon at once."

"I dropped my parasol, mamma, and such a time as I had to find it. An elegant young gentleman, out there in the conservatory, helped me. Who is he, Mr. Bennington?" "An awful look darkened all over Mr. Bennington's florid face.

"But you will not regret what you have said my darling." And Maud gave him a swift, rapturous look that was even more bewitchingly eloquent than her eager answer.

Three weeks after that, and the November day all one blaze of golden glory with a gentle southwest wind stirring—Maud Anglesey's wedding-day, and Mrs. Anglesey rustling about in black satin and velvet and diamonds, putting the last touches to the exquisite snowy lace of her child's wedding-dress.

And Maud, radiant and bright as a humming bird among rarest flowers. "I know she will be just so," Mrs. Anglesey said, triumphantly, in her own heart, as two minutes later she had sailed into the well-filled parlors, on Dr. Tumbleton's reverend arm and she sat down to await the entrance of the bridal party who came in and went up to Dr. Tumbleton, standing, open book in hand before the canopy of roses and tuberoses.

And there was no gainsaying the desperate earnestness in her face, the womanly, positive look in her eyes, or the determined, manly bearing of the handsome young fellow at her side.

Jack bowed, and Mr. Bennington gasped, and finally understood it all. "You—you—how dared you?" Maud answered, promptly: "Because we loved each other; and I think you and mamma would suit each other better than you and I."

Well, Mrs. Anglesey actually did marry Mr. Barker Bennington; and as they drove out in their landau, they turned their heads if they happened to meet Jack Willard and his wife on the street.

The Real King of Paris.

The real King of Paris is the editor of La France, its best newspaper. Perhaps some day the editor of a news-sheet may be King of London. It is also true that the great French editor is also the finest gentleman of his time and nation, though his birth is a doubt and he fought his way upwards.

He seems to have been always thought too clever for office, though, strange to say, he has frequently desired it, yet he is not only one of the founders of the Third Republic, but he overthrew the Duc de Broglie almost single-handed.

"No, sir!" answered the indignant Dade. "When people talk about me, I want them to tell the truth, sir! they should have told you, sir, that there is no gentleman in Washington, so thirsty as I am."

The Kentucky Live Stock Record says that John M. Vanmeter, Maple Herd, near Midway, Ky., has bought of Mr. A. J. Alexander, Woodburn Farm, Spring Station, the short-horn bull 7457 30th Duke of Airdrie, red and white, calved April 12, 1878, by 3493 7th Duke of Oneida, dam 9th Duchess of Airdrie, by 486 Royal Oxford. The 9th Duchess of Airdrie is the dam of the 20th, 24th, 26th, 27th, 29th, 30th and 31st Dukes of Airdrie, and the 17th and 20th Duchesses of Airdrie, most of whom are celebrated and noted animals.

The Boers.

What is now happening to the Boers, however, is simply what has happened to the weaker peoples everywhere and at all times. The native inhabitants of Hindostan, of New Zealand, of Australia, of North and South America, have in turn been overrun and driven to the wall in precisely the same way.

Jack bowed, and Mr. Bennington gasped, and finally understood it all. "You—you—how dared you?" Maud answered, promptly: "Because we loved each other; and I think you and mamma would suit each other better than you and I."

Well, Mrs. Anglesey actually did marry Mr. Barker Bennington; and as they drove out in their landau, they turned their heads if they happened to meet Jack Willard and his wife on the street.

An Example for Office-Seekers.

The great number of Whigs who had swarmed from Virginia to Washington at the inauguration of Harrison, in search of offices, and who had not been successful, when Mr. Tyler became President were very importunate, says an article in the Atlantic.

"I think, in all conscience, that is enough." "No, sir!" answered the indignant Dade. "When people talk about me, I want them to tell the truth, sir! they should have told you, sir, that there is no gentleman in Washington, so thirsty as I am."
