PACIFIC SLOPE NEWS.

There was quite a snow-fall at Baker City, Oregon, last week. Fifteen miles of the Puyallup railroad has been cleared of trees.

Umatilla county, Oregon, expects to export 1,200,000 lbs of wool next year.

Seven ladies are attending the course of medical lectures at the Willamette University.

It has been found necessary to barricade the Presbyterian church at Seattle to protect it from hoodlums.

The Chinese at San Diego are complained of for a wanton waste of fish. Immense quantities are left to rot on the beach.

Col. J. M. Wilson, U. S. Engineer for the Department of Oregon, is considering the feasibility of deepening the channel of the Columbia river from the Wallamet to the sea.

There are at present six convicts in the penitentiary on McNeill's Island. Joseph Meschell and a Chinaman named Ah Him, who had been furnished with board and lodging while repenting over the sale of whiskey to Indians were discharged a few days ago.

Seven years ago a hotel and a dwelling-house were all that marked the site of Pendleton, Oregon, now a lively town, with over a thousand inhabitants, blessed with churches and schools, planing mills, shops, stores, a number of flouring mill and a printing establishment.

A breakwater has been constructed just above the railroad crossing on the Covilitz river. It is 200 feet long, 20 feet wide at the bottom and 15 at the top.

Judge Lewis has decided that no single man can act as a grand juror.

A man named George Houston, who recently located at Samish, and has been drinking quite freely of late, is supposed to have perished on the way from Sehome to Samish; whether by land or water cannot be ascertained.

A semi-weekly mail has been established between Seattle and La Couver.

Two men have gone to the south fork of the Nootsack river in Whatcom county prospecting for gold.

By a recent judicial decision applicants for liquor licenses must appear in person before the Board. If a license is allowed to expire during vacation, business must be suspended till the next session of the Commissioners.

A site on the summit of Mount Hamilton has been surveyed for the placing of the astronomical apparatus and observatory donated to the State of California by James Liok.

Tilden at Home.

Relieved of his duties at Albany, ex-Governor Tilden immediately returned to New York, and took up his abode at his handsome residence on Grammercy Park. Notwithstanding his hard work of the past few months, the Governor's health is unimpaired. He continues to take his full share of social pleasures, and his home is the scene of many notable gatherings. Perhaps no man in the country is more "called on" than he. Mr. Tilden is easily accessible to visitors; is fond of a good dinner and fonder still of jolly company. He seldom or never sits down to table without a few friends, and his guests include many of the most distinguished men of the country, not unfrequently of both political parties. His favorite pastime of horse back riding is still kept up, and, every day in every kind of weather, his well-known figure is seen mounted on a handsome bay, skirting along the road.

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS.

Captain Boynton is swimming through Italy.

A light house also needs to be a heavy one.

Carl Schurz has inaugurated a Sunday dime lecture course in St. Louis.

The New Hampshire Democrats have nominated Daniel Marcy for Governor.

Plenty of green peas and strawberries in Florida with nobody around to eat them.

A Long Island sea captain named Tyler, wrecked on the south coast of Cuba, has reached home, and tells how he was kept alive on alligator meat.

A postoffice clerk opened a letter just to see if a certain girl was very sweet on a certain fellow. She was, and now the Government is going to be very sweet on him.

The President has pardoned Martin Laturite, a notorious gambler.

Ley pavements caused eleven brogue limbs and other serious injuries in one day in Philadelphia.

Fashionable dressmakers in Paris send dolls to their patrons in America in fac-simile costumes of what they have for sale.

Condensed eggs are the latest novelty, and they come from China, the process being a secret with the pig-tails.

The largest sail in the world has been made in Dublin. It is rectangular and measures 180 feet by 60. It is to be used in raising sunken vessels.

Cronin says it was the climate of Oregon, and not the whisky, that colored his nose.

A statistician mentions a "cultured" New England town that pays $100 more every year for dog licenses than for ministers.

Paris shopkeepers expect a golden harvest in 1878, when the great Exposition will fill the city with strangers.

However fine and elegant a hotel may be, it will never flourish as it ought to while under a bushel. And to remove the bushel it is requisite to advertise.

An Irish housemaid boasting of her industrious habits, said she rose at 4, made a fire, prepared the breakfast, and made all the beds before any one in the house was up.

The new Territory of Huron already has as many inhabitants as Minnesota had when ex-Senator Ramsey went to St. Paul to organize the Territory; and Minnesota at that day was thought to be as uninhabitable as Huron is now.

On the last meeting that Mr Moody spoke in Chicago he made an appeal to the audience to help the Young Men's Christian Association to lift the heavy debt on the hall and grounds which they had just purchased. A subscription was taken up on the spot which amounted to about $67,000.

The huge guns made and to be made for modern warfare continue growing in size. The English "80-ton" gun and the Italian "100-ton" are now to be eclipsed by a gun weighing 150 tons, which is projected at Woolwich. This monster will be thirty-five feet long and have a bore of twenty inches. Six hundred pounds of powder will be required at each discharge, and the ball it is expected to send for an indefinite distance will weigh a ton and a half.

The destitution and suffering in the city of New York in consequence of the lack of employment for those who are able and willing to work are described as something hitherto unprecedented.

An organization of working-men has submitted to the authorities a plan of relief. They recommend that long bonds at a low rate of interest be issued and the proceeds applied to improvements on parks and public works, which shall permit the employment of ten thousand men during the winter, and so far as practicable. They argue that the benefit will be felt by all industries, and that the burden on taxpayers will be transferred to a time when property will be more valuable and business prosperous.

PORT TOWNSEND, W. T.
ANY SICK SAILOR WHO HAS PAID A Hospital dues for two months preceding his application for admission, is entitled to Hospital relief.

Port Townsend Hospital.

The above institution having been placed on a permanent footing, as the United States Hospital for Marine Patients on Puget Sound, the proprietor takes pleasure in announcing that no pains or expense will be spared in ministering to the comfort and convenience of private patients. This is the largest General Hospital north of San Francisco, and by far the most complete in equipment. It has been thoroughly refitted and refurnished. Its general wards have accommodations for about one hundred patients and are peculiarly adapted for cases requiring the most careful treatment and constant supervision at limited expense. Those who desire them will be furnished with private rooms, well separated and distinct, at a slight additional cost.

The attention of Mill owners, and those interested in shipping, is called to the fact that steam suffering from contagious diseases will be treated outside the Hospital without expense to the vessel.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1877.

UTAH AND THE MORMONS.—Now that the people of Utah are seeking for the admission of that Territory into the Union as a State a brief retrospect of the character of its original settlers, and of their faith may not be without interest to our readers. In the history and religion of the Mormon church and people there is much that is good and much that is bad. The story of the discovery of the brazen tablets that disappeared under the translation of Joseph Smith and the account of their finding, are the fables of an artful mind, and only calculated to impress the ignorant and the superstitious. The history of Moroni and the lost tribes of Israel is the clumsy fiction of a young gentleman from Ohio, who wrote a harmless tale to beguile the hours of an invalid, little dreaming that bigotry would use his manuscript to found upon it the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. How from among the uneducated poor of New York was formed the nucleus of a congregation to follow the new prophet into the West; how superstition contributed to swell their numbers, till at Nauvoo, Illinois, was laid the foundations of a temple in which to celebrate the mysteries of the new faith; how the disciples were punished for stealing horses and robbing hen-roosts, rendering them martyrs; how Joseph Smith was inhumanly murdered, and how the blood of the martyrs became the seed of the church—is all told in the story of their first prophet. The emigration from Illinois and Missouri to find a new home in some distant land beyond the reach of civilization and persecution, was conducted under the inspiration of Brigham Young, upon whose shoulders the mantle of prophecy had fallen. He saw beyond the Rocky mountains a land of fertility and beauty, unused and unoccupied—a place for carrying out the experiment of his religion and for the foundation of a colony that might expand into a State.

The perilous adventures of these bold and hardy Mormon pioneers as they went forth to seek the promised land and the resoluteness with which they endured the privations of a toilsome march, form a romantic chapter of our American civilization. Two events have disturbed the dream of the Moses who lead them into the wilderness. The revelation of the doctrine of polygamy, which has proved to be a mistake because of the happening of the other event, the discovery of gold in California—ultimating in the surrounding of the Mormons with a large Gentile population to whose civilization the doctrine of polygamy is antagonistic. Without this feature Mormonism would have made a better fight against its enemies; with it it is literally an Ishmaelite in the desert—its hand is against every one, and every one's against it. The other influences of the church might not compare unfavorably with many an older faith. That the Mormons are an industrious, orderly and in their sense a religious people, will be conceded. They have made the desert literally blossom as the rose; fruitful fields, numerous flocks and herds, comfortable farm houses, thriving villages and a prosperous city are the monuments of their labor. That the colonialist despot at the head of Mormon affairs took advantage of the bigotry and ignorance of his people few will gainsay; he accumulated wealth from others' labor; he lived in ease on others' toil, and appropriated the best fruits and tithe-tithings of all their well-cultivated fields. In greed with hatred and revenge at the treatment himself and followers had received at the East, he endeavored to resent them upon the pioneers who crossed the plains; he encouraged crime, smiled upon murderers and assassins, and vainly thought to defy the power of the general government. But while these events are matters of history, we would not desire to ignore their claims to a position in the sisterhood of States. Mormons have rights that should be respected. Among them are many simple-minded, honest men and women whose condition might be vastly improved if treated with sympathy and kindness.

FISH CULTURE.—Our people who constantly enjoy the luxury of baked and broiled salmon, and whose boast is that the fish of our waters are the best that swim, are possibly not aware of the pains taken at the East, particularly by those bordering upon the great lakes to preserve and propagate the delicious whitefish and salmon trout of those inland seas. The Legislature of Michigan, for instance, recently appropriated $10,000 for this purpose, and the result is that they have had in the incubating establishment at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 10,000,000 whitefish and salmon trout eggs hatching. Ninety-five per cent. of these eggs will hatch and the young fish be distributed in the waters of the State. The greater part will be deposited in Lake Michigan.

The returns for money invested in fish culture are described as enormous—500 per cent. is not a high estimate. The fisheries of the Dominion of Canada for the year 1875 yielded one million dollars worth of fish more than in any one year before artificial hatching was begun. It is reasonably estimated that water with less culture can be made to yield more food per acre than land.

STATISTICS show that the quantity of lumber received in San Francisco last year amounted to 309,159,971 feet, 3,000,000 more than in 1875. Of this amount 124,358,520 feet of rough and 22,399,121 feet of dressed lumber are credited to Puget Sound and Oregon, under the denomination of pine. The exports from that port foreign were with but trifling exception all from Puget Sound, amounting to 10,781,220 feet, valued at $199,894. The exports went to Tahiti, Mexico, Panama, Central and South America, Russian Asia, China, Sandwich Islands, Fiji Islands, New Zealand and England.

SEA WATER AS AN ANTIDOTE FOR OBESITY.—According to the Paris Medicafe, seawater, taken internally, acts like diuretic and purgative salts, a remarkable fact being that the diuretic effect increases when the purgative diminishes. The water should be obtained, when possible, from some depth, and far from shore. It is then to be left to settle from six to twelve hours, and filtered. It is to be taken three times a day, in doses of a small glassful, or in half that quantity at a time, with fresh water or milk. It is stated as a fact that sea water thus used facilitates the oxygenation of the blood, and that it hastens the elimination of effete materials. In combination with this treatment sea water baths are to be taken, free exercise is to be practiced, and fattening foods avoided.

ADVICES from Washington of the 27th ult., state that the electoral compromise bill passed the lower House of Congress without amendment at 5.30 p. m. by a vote of 191 yeas against 84 nays. The vote was taken amid intense excitement; the Republicans recording an unexpectedly heavy vote against it and the Democrats with few exceptions voting for it. The Speaker directed his own name to be called as the Representative from Pennsylvania and he voted eye amid much applause.

LOCAL NEWS.

COMPLETED.—The bridge across what is known as the "Break," at the west end of town, is completed and open for travel. It has been constructed with a view to the durability under the immediate supervision of Mr. Hancock, one of our most experienced bridge builders. It is 200 feet long, and capped with 12x12 stringers, with a railing on either side, and graded at each end. This enterprise saves some five miles in the distance from this place to Chinaman and the Station, and its completion reflects much credit upon Capt. Burton, of the latter place, and Dr. Minor of this city. Its chief promoters.

A PUBLIC SCHOOL was opened in Port Townsend, the 29th ult., under the personal management of the Superintendent of Schools for Jefferson County, E. B. Ryan, Esq. This district organized on two previous occasions but could not become permanent on account of its not fulfilling the requirements of the law, but we are assured that it is the determination to make it a permanent one this time by the Mill Company's managers and the people, served by the local board directors, Messrs. Smith, Green and Pugh, assisted by their efficient School Clerk, Mr. Atkinson, who deserves much credit for his praiseworthy energy in the good cause of education.

Ann Sophia's Slave Husband.

A MEETING AFTER TWENTY YEARS' SEPARATION—WHAT AUNT SOPHIA REMEMBERED.

An interesting drama was enacted at noon in the Union depot. Old Aunt Sophia, the stout, good-natured colored woman who sweeps out the Union depot...

"Ann Sophia, does you know this man?" inquired the express wagon driver. The well-dressed stranger peered curiously beneath the old sun-bonnet and waited anxiously for the answer.

"An' don't ye member how I was sold Souf when I got cotched dat time?" "Yes, I remembers all bout dat; runs off me dat same George Duncan...

"Dat ar man; I's George Duncan, come all de way from Orleans to find you, Sophy, and my boy. Whiam an' dat boy?" "Dat boy an man bigger dan you; he an a good boy, too, an' 'spects his mammy, ho do. He's at wuk in de delumator."

"Is ye married again, Sophy?" queried the stranger, anxiously. "No, I isn't," said the old woman; impatiently, almost angrily, "and I doesn't tend to be again."

After a brief pause the man asked in a sort of a broken voice: "Whiam ar dat boy ob mine?" "He am down in de delumator at de State lino."

"Don't ye know me Sophy, no mo?" Don't you member when I come courtin' ye down at Massa Shelby Martin's place, down dar in Cole county?"

Then old auntie waddled out of the depot ticket office shaking her head and grumbling terribly over the prospect of having to take up with her long-lost husband.

CALVERT'S CARBOLIC Sheep Wash. TRADE-MARK. CALVERT'S CARBOLIC SHEEP WASH.

The following story illustrates the wit and common sense of the deceased ex-Senator Nye, of Nevada: The question under debate was a bill to admit the Chinese to equal privileges of citizenship, and Charles Sumner had the floor, delivering a classical and studied speech in appeal for the children of the Flowery Kingdom, which made quite an impression upon the Senate. So soon as Sumner had taken his seat, Mr. Nye sprang to his feet, was recognized by Mr. Colfax, President of the Senate, and spoke as follows:

Mr. President—I was born in the good old county of Steuben, New York, and raised upon a farm. My parents were hard-working, thrifty people, fearing God and performing their duties with a good conscience. We had morning and evening prayers in which was always offered an appeal to Almighty for the freedom of the slave. My good mother, God bless her, was a careful housewife, and among other standard American delicacies doughnuts were always provided. We all liked doughnuts, and I think the American farm-boy that don't like doughnuts is hardly to be found. I often watched my mother when she made the dough, and kneaded and shortened it until it was in a fit condition. Mr. President, the result of my observations was that she always took a small piece of the dough and fried it in the fat before she fried the whole batch. She tried it first and waited results. I have listened to the eloquent speech of my Massachusetts friend on the Chinese question. I live on the Pacific Coast and know the Chinese better practically than any one can know them theoretically. They have nothing in common with us. They save their earnings, and then return, pigtail and all, to the Flowery Kingdom. You cannot make a citizen of a man who will not sacrifice his pigtail. We have enfranchised the blacks; they are now free and citizens, and I am content. Then turning to Mr. Sumner he resumed: My friend from Massachusetts has made an exhaustive and able argument, but I suggest to him it is far better and safer to follow my good mother's example and fry a little piece of this strange dough before we risk the whole Chinese batch. The effect of this speech was marvelous. Mr. Sumner leaped back in his chair, laughing until tears ran down his cheeks, the Senate and galleries joining. His labored argument had been demolished at one fell blow by Nye's doughnut simile. Doughnuts and the sacred rights of citizenship prevailed. Sumner could neither retort nor explain, and the consequence was the bill failed through the homely doughnut argument.

According to the latest statistical publication of the population of the globe is $1,422,917,000. Europe has 300,178,300 inhabitants; Asia, 824,448,590; Africa, 199,921,600; Australia and Polynesia, 4,784,600; America, 85,519,800. The increase in America for the year is given at 1,260,000.

SUMMONS.

In the District Court of the Third Judicial District, of the Territory of Washington hold for the County of Jefferson, Chas. M. Bradshaw, Plaintiff, vs. JAMES PERES, Defendant. Action brought in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Washington, holding terms at Fort Townsend, on the 24th day of January, 1876, and on the 25th day of January, 1876, at the County of Jefferson, Chas. M. Bradshaw, Plaintiff, vs. JAMES PERES, Defendant. In the name of the United States of America, you and each of you, are hereby required to answer in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Washington, holding terms at Fort Townsend, on the 24th day of January, 1876, and on the 25th day of January, 1876, at the County of Jefferson, Chas. M. Bradshaw, Plaintiff, vs. JAMES PERES, Defendant. The said action is brought to recover of you the sum of two hundred and seventy-five dollars and the cost of suit, and an account for goods, merchandise, &c., sold and delivered to defendant at his request between the 1st day of May and 31st day of May, 1875, all of which will more fully appear by reference to the complaint on which this summons is issued. And you are hereby notified that you fail to answer as aforesaid complaint is above required, the said plaintiff will take judgment against you for the sum of two hundred and seventy-five dollars and thirty-four cents, gold, and the cost of suit.

Witness the Hon. J. R. Lewis, Judge of said District Court, and the seal of said court, this 17th day of January, A. D. 1876.

CENTAUR LINIMENT.

[Letter from a Postmaster.]

"ARTICHOKE, Ill., Dec. 1, 1874.
"My wife has for a long time been a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism. She has consulted physicians and many remedies. The only thing which has given her relief is Centaur Liniment. I am pleased to say this has cured her. I am doing what I can to extend its sale."
W. H. RILEY.

This is a sample of many thousand testimonials received, of wonderful cures effected by the Centaur Liniment. The ingredients of this article are published around each bottle. It contains Witch Hazel, Mentha, Arnica, Castor Oil, Carbolic, and ingredients little known. It is an indisputable fact that the Centaur Liniment is performing more cures of Swellings, Stiff Joints, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Lockjaw, &c., than all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Salves, Ointments, and Plasters now in use.

For Toothache, Earache, Weak Back, Itch, and cutaneous Eruptions, it is admirable. It cures burns and scalds without a scar. Extracts poison from bites and stings, and heals frost-bites and chilblains in a short time. No family can afford to be without the Centaur Liniment, white wrapper.

The Centaur Liniment, Yellow Wrapper, is adapted to the tough skin, muscles and flesh of the animal creation. Its effects upon Head and Poll Evils are little less than marvelous.

Messrs. J. McClure & Co., Druggists, corner Elm and Front streets, Cincinnati, O., say: "In our neighborhood a number of teamsters are using the Centaur Liniment. They pronounce it superior to anything they have ever used. We sell as high as four or five dollars per bottle for anything they have used."

For Wounds, Galls, scratches, Ring-bone, &c., and for Scow Worm in Sheep it has no rival. Farmers, Hivery men, and Stock-raisers, have in this Liniment a remedy which is worth a hundred times its cost.
