TOPICS OF THE DAY.

By the Constitution of the new State of Colorado the Legislature is required to submit the woman suffrage question to a vote of the people next fall. It is thought that a majority of the inhabitants are in favor of the measure, and that in order to stop the agitation of the subject women will be endowed with the elective franchise in the Centennial State. There is a Mexican population of about eighteen thousand in the southern part of the State who would naturally vote solid against it, but it is thought that this could be overcome by sending Miss Anthony, Dr. Mary Walker, and Woodhull and Claflin down among the growers a few weeks before election.

A bill has been introduced into the New York Legislature which ought to be embodied into the laws of every State in the Union. It requires the State Engineer to carefully examine all the railroad bridges, viaducts, etc., with reference to their safety, once every four months. If they are pronounced unsafe by him, the company to which the structure belongs must replace or repair the same without delay, and for every days delay after notice is given the company shall be liable to a penalty of $100 a day, they also not to be exempt from any other existing liability. The strict enforcement of such a law would much increase the safety of railroad traveling and prevent the recurrence of any more Ashtabula horrors.

A "Robert Fulton Monumental Park Association" has been recently organized in Lancaster Co., Pa., the avowed object of which organization is to obtain a piece of land containing about ten acres, embellish and improve, and erect upon it a colossal statue of Robert Fulton. Unless the colossal structure which it is proposed to produce shall be of a higher order of artistic merit than the majority of American monuments, the Association would act wisely in restricting themselves to piece of real estate, say ten yards square, and in digging a hole in the same wide enough and deep enough to bury their bronze monster in, leaving the steam-vessels of the world to supply in themselves a fitting monument to the father of steam navigation.

The annual per capita consumption of sugar by the inhabitants of different countries varies greatly. The average John Bull consumes 58 pounds per annum, and yet he is no sweeter than he should be. It takes 41 pounds on the average to satisfy an American sovereign, without regard to age, sex or previous condition. The German, Dane, Frenchman and Dutchman, although differing so widely in temperament, habits and diet, respectively average an annual consumption of sixteen pounds. The Russian and Spaniard only six.

"I'll do the best I can," was all the new Governor of Iowa said in his inaugural.

PACIFIC SLOPE NEWS.

California will probably have two-thirds of a grain crop this year. The coast counties, both north and south of the bay, have not suffered for rain. Such is also the case with the northern part of the State. There will not be one good crop of wheat in the whole of the San Joaquin valley along the line of the road for a distance of 350 miles. Along the line of the Southern Pacific Railroad there are a great many flock of sheep on the range, in very bad condition. What little grass had sprung up after the rains in January is fast drying up, and sheep are getting weaker every day, and dying along the road, with no feed in the country. Neither would the sheep pay freight to take them away on the cars. Some have offered their flocks at 50 cts. per head and some at 25, with no one to buy; whilst some owners of large flocks just go away from their sheep leaving them to go where they please.

Yesterday was the 25th anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. A. Laubach's wedded life. They returned home about 2 o'clock p. m. to find the parsonage in possession of the ladies, who had neatly set a table loaded with refreshments of all kinds. After the dinner, Dr. Dillon made a congratulatory address, presenting, in behalf of the ladies, a handsome cloak to Mr. Laubach, and various other articles to the bride. Mr. Laubach responded with appropriateness and deep feeling. Then followed other impromptu exercises, in which Messrs. Royal, Corson and Stansberry participated. — Portland Oregonian, March 3d.

A letter received recently from the Columbia river gives the following relative to the coming season for catching salmon: "The salmon season which is approaching bids fair to be the most active ever witnessed on the river. The number of canneries has been increased, some have increased their capacity, and all are exerting themselves to do a larger business than ever before. The main question of course is: Will the fish come in large numbers? If the run is a good one there will be exciting times here for awhile. Boats and twine for nets are constantly arriving, and the number of the former is so great that it is feared, that large as the river is, there will not be sufficient room for all to operate without danger to the nets.

The banks of British Columbia have advanced the rate of discount on silver to seven per cent.

Oregon farmers are greatly encouraged with the wheat prospects for the next season.

At Cassiar mining has been going on all winter. Provisions are scarce. Mr. O. W. Childs, near Los Angeles, Cal., has 300 full bearing orange trees, which averaged 1,000 oranges a tree, and sell for three cents apiece. Nine thousand dollars yearly return from less than four acres is not to be sneezed at.

John McPherson, direct from Scotland, has bought $12,750 worth of land in Napa county, Cal., at the same price per acre that he had just sold four times as much land for per acre in Scotland.

Thirty-three men who arrived at Victoria from San Francisco to work at the Wellington colliery, returned immediately, refusing to work while the strike lasted.

The experiment of boring an artesian well is being tried near Walla Walla, with good prospects of success.

Mrs. Isabel Toomes, of Oakland, Cal., is the latest person to die and leave her fortune to her faithful nurse. The nurse was the Mrs. Butler, a printer's wife, and the little fortune amounts to $141,000.

Judge Bradley may possibly be the Republican candidate for the Presidency in 1880.

The past winter in Texas has been unusually severe, causing the death of many cattle for want of food. Stock cattle are selling at $3 a head.

"All flesh is grass," sighed Snodgers after dinner one day, "but of all grasses give me a plump grass widow."

Wood deserves praise. Randall rendered indispensable service at the final crisis, and full credit should be given to the conservative southern men whose attitude from the start confounded the counsels of the Democrats. It is a providence that the forces which have resulted in the election of President Hayes came from so many different quarters that he is under plain obligation to be even handed between all parties. He is providentially delivered from the slightest obligations to one class, namely the machine politicians, who fought against him at Cincinnati. He has had help from the north and the south, and from the Northern Democrats and Southern Democrats, from the native and carpet-bagger, but the help came so as to leave him free to do right, while fully justifying him in being impartial.

U. S. Marine Hospital.

PORT TOWNSEND, W. T.
ANY SICK SAILOR WHO HAS PAID Hospital dues for two months preceding his application for admission is entitled to hospital relief.
The above institution having been placed on a permanent footing, as the United States Hospital for Marine Patients on Puget Sound, the proprietor takes pleasure in announcing that no pains or expense will be spared in ministering to the comfort and convenience of private patients. This is the largest General Hospital north of San Francisco, and by far the most complete in equipment. It has been thoroughly fitted and accommodations for about one hundred patients and are peculiarly adapted for cases requiring the most careful treatment and constant supervision at limited expense. Those who desire them will be furnished with private rooms, entirely separate and distinct, at a slight additional cost. The attention of Mill owners, and those interested in shipping, is called to the fact that scurvy suffering from contagious diseases will be treated outside the Hospital without expense to the vessel. Sold in the Olympic Range.

Reports have been current here for the past month relative to the discovery of gold on Morse's creek, Port Angeles, but thus far we have made no mention of the matter, preferring to wait until we could obtain some definite and reliable information. One day last week, Mr. Wm. Delanty, of Port Discovery, a man well known in this county as reliable and trustworthy, came to our office and stated that he had been to Port Angeles and had seen some of the gold, which was very pretty; that there are some old California miners at work on the creek, and they think when the water gets lower that they will find good digging on the bars.

The existence of gold in the foothills of the Olympic range has been known for several years, as well as the fact that valuable deposits of gold, silver, cinnabar, copper, lead and iron exist in quantities in that range of mountains, but as yet there never has been any organized expedition to explore the snowy range. It is true that parties have been fitted out from time to time but they never went further than the foothills which are mountains of themselves, although not snow-covered. But beyond these foothills is the great valley we mentioned in our last, and by the time a party surmounts the difficulty of the foothills their patience or provisions generally give out, and they return without any practical results.

The proper route to approach the Olympic range is by the way of Hood's Canal, making Seabeck the base of supplies, and the mountains can thus be approached either on their northern side by way of the valley we refer to, or by the Skokomish river, by way of Lake Cushman.

But our citizens have been too ready to extend their mining interests to other points—to Cariboo, to Colville, Cassiar, and other localities in British Columbia—and to leave the exploration of the Olympic mountains so close at hand, to be yet commenced.

Gold was discovered on the southern slope of the Olympic range as early as 1859. When Hon. F. A. Wilson was Collector of Customs here, he informed several gentlemen who are still living in Port Townsend, that in 1861 Capt. Williams of the ship Leonidas, then in port, told him that in the summer of 1859 he crossed the country with four others from the mouth of the Columbia river to Hood's Canal via Shoalwater Bay, Gray's Harbor and the Chehalis river. Passing up one of the tributaries of that river—probably the Satsop—nearly to its head waters in the snow mountains, in one of the canons of a creek he found gold, a specimen of which he showed Mr. Wilson, who stated that it was well washed gold and weighed $4. Capt. Williams, who gave Mr. Wilson the small specimens, each of the size of half a pea, which he showed to gentlemen here on various occasions, also discovered a fine deposit of cinnabar ore in the same region. There are many persons in this town as well as on the Sound who were acquainted with Capt. Williams who was here in 1867 in command of ship Georges which loaded with lumber for Hong Kong. The late Edward Lill has on several occasions stated to parties in this town his belief of the existence of rich deposits of metals in the Olympic range and the ease with which these mountains can be reached. He stated on one occasion that during the summer of 1867 a party of men started out on an old Indian trail which leads from or near his farm on Quilcine Bay to the great prairie between the foothills and the snow mountains. They were absent five days, and on their return they stated that the first day's journey was a hard one owing to the dense undergrowth of brush, but after that the country was open and traveling easy.

They estimated the distance of the first snow mountain from Quilcine by the way they traveled, to be from 17 to 20 miles. They were not on a prospecting tour, but their experience is of value as showing the near approach of these snow mountains to tide water as compared with Cassiar or Cariboo.

Mr. Hartley, the gentleman who discovered gold in New Zealand, and who lives within five miles of Olympia at the present time, was out a few years since on a hunting and fishing tour in the vicinity of Lake Cushman. He is a practical miner and geologist, and stated that the southern slope of the Olympic range presented a similar appearance to the rich gold-bearing district of New Zealand, that the country was more open and the timber much less in size and density than the northern slope. He found valuable deposits of iron ore, and gave it as his opinion that the range was rich in minerals.

In order to make a thorough exploration of the range, a party should be organized who will first open a road from the bay to some point inland, where a camp should be established with supplies, having ready communication of all times with the bay. From this camp exploring parties should proceed in various directions, and thoroughly explore every foot of ground. Traveling 16 or 20 miles a day with a sack of flour and a piece of bacon on your back is not prospecting; although many old miners seem to think that no one can prospect who does not go half-starved, half-fitted out, and wholly exhausted when night overtakes him. A man to prospect to insure success should have nothing else to do, either to pack provisions or to cook them. Three reliable men with Indians as servants, can produce better results in one season if they go properly equipped, than a score of men who will start out with a week's provisions, tramp over a great extent of country, and return when their food is out.

Parties should go out prepared for a three month's stay; and if during the season they will thoroughly prospect an area of five miles square, they will effect better results than parties who have or may travel from the Pacific coast to Hood's canal and hurry through in the least possible time. Parties should be formed to operate simultaneously from the point we indicate, and from the western slope by way of the Skokomish.

The evidence of mineral wealth in the Olympic group, and in fact in the foot hills from Hood's canal to Cape Flattery, is very positive; but as yet the whole region is terra incognita—no one has visited it or explored it, and no one can assert that it is not as rich as the richest gold fields in Australia or Cassiar; and we advise those of our citizens who have had experience in Cassiar, to look into the subject and get up parties to go into the Olympic mountains this spring.

Mysterious Treasures.

The Santa Barbara Index of the 1st Inst. contained the following intelligence respecting the sailing of an expedition from that port to the northern coast under the conduct of Capt. Kimberly, well known to many of our readers, from his former connection with the fur-trade while in command of the schooner Cygnet:

Capt. M. M. Kimberly left the port of Santa Barbara nearly two weeks ago with two schooners going up the channel. It is said the vessels obtained their clearance papers from the post officer at Wilmington. Various surmises have reached us as to the probable object of the expedition the most plausible one being that Captain Kimberly, during one of his several fur-hunting expeditions in the past twenty years on the coast of Alaska, discovered a large ledge or body of a heavy metallic substance, of which he brought away specimens. For years nothing was done with the specimens, they lying neglected in an out of the way corner. During the late months that he has passed at his home in Santa Barbara, he wished to know what value, if any, the specimens contained. It is said that the result of assays proved that they were immensely rich in gold and silver. The facts were quietly given to a few of the enterprising, wealthy men of Santa Barbara who associated with Kimberly and organized the expedition to visit the locality of the discovery and bring away their ships loaded with the rich ore. The persons supposed to have furnished the means for the expedition are extremely reticent, and will not stand interviewing.

The losses of American ships have been so great this winter the shipyards of New England will be busy this year.

The New Cabinet.

Wm. M. Evarts, Secretary of State, is an eminent lawyer, was born in Boston in 1818. He was principal counsel for President Johnson in his impeachment trial, in 1868, and was appointed Attorney-General the same year. He is an able statesman, and his office is the head of the Cabinet.

John Sherman, Secretary of the Treasury, was born in Lancaster, Ohio, in 1823; lawyer by profession. In 1841 he was chosen U. S. Senator for Ohio, on resignation of Senator Chase. He was during the last term a candidate for Speaker of the House and only lacked two votes of election. He is a man of considerable ability and a warm friend of the President.

Richard W. Thompson, Secretary of the Navy, was born in Virginia in 1809, but has spent the most of his years in Indiana. He has, in that State, held the offices of Member of the Legislature, Lieutenant-Governor, and three times Presidential Elector.

David McKendell Key, the Postmaster General, was born in Tennessee in 1824; was admitted to the bar in 1853; was Presidential Elector on the Buchanan and Breckenridge ticket; entered the Confederate army in 1861, and served throughout the war as Lieut. Col. of the 43d Tenn. Inf.; was appointed U. S. Senator by a Democratic Governor in 1875 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Andrew Johnson.

Carl Schurz, Secretary of the Interior, came to America in 1852; practiced law for awhile in Milwaukee, Wis.; was appointed by Lincoln, Minister to Spain; joined the Union army as Brigadier-General and rose to be Major-General; was elected U. S. Senator in 1869. The appointment of Schurz as Secretary of the Interior was bitterly opposed by some radical, whitewashed Senators, because while a Senator Schurz had the honest boldness and candor to denounce corruption in the Republican party wherever he found it.

George W. McCrary, Secretary of War, was born in Indiana in 1829; his parents removed with him to Iowa in 1850, where he has since resided; was admitted to the bar in 1856; elected to the State Senate in 1861.

Chas. Devens, the Attorney-General, was born in Massachusetts in 1820; is a graduate of Cambridge law school; he entered the army as Major and was promoted till he became Brigadier-General; in 1867 he was appointed by a Republican Governor as a Justice of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, which he has since held. Gen. Devens is and always has been a Democrat, with a character against which even opposing politicians have never breathed a word.

With the exception of "a machine" politicians, the cabinet chosen by President Hayes gives general satisfaction to the people. There is not an office-seeker among them, and one of them has not held an office for 28 years.

There was a panic in the church of St. Francis Xavier, in New York city, on the evening of the 8th inst., caused by a woman fainting and cries of fire; a rush of women, from one of the galleries was made, and in the tumult which ensued six women and one boy were trampled under foot and killed. The audience was composed entirely of women and children, it being woman-week in Lent. The priest was preaching on hell and the terrors of the damned, and as he was picturing the torments of purgatory, a young girl in one of the galleries was so overcome by her feelings that she screamed hysterically and fainted, which caused the worshippers to spring to their feet in affright. The next moment some reckless person cried fire and this gave rise to the panic. The pastor called upon the congregation to keep their seats as there was no fire. The women in the main body of the church passed out in an orderly manner, while those in the gallery where the commotion had begun became maddened and fought their way toward the choked-up stairway, trampling upon those who had fallen and crushing the life out of them. They screamed and fought like maniacs, and every effort made by priests and policemen to hold them back was of no avail. Many escaped almost denuded of clothing. The next morning, at the church where the calamity occurred, a requiem mass was offered for the dead, and prayers said for the recovery of the wounded.

LOCAL NEWS.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER.—W. H. H. LEARNED, Esq., having filed his resignation of the office of U. S. Commissioner with the Clerk of the District Court, and Judge Lewis having made no application to fill the vacancy, this town is left without a Commissioner. This is to be regretted, as nine-tenths of all marine cases brought before a Commissioner here, are from causes arising on board vessels coming in from sea, and this being not only the port of entry but the first port a vessel reaches from the ocean, the presence of a Commissioner here seems to be a very important demand. The duty of a Commissioner is simply to hear the preliminary complaint, and if in his judgment there is just cause for action, to bind the parties over to the next court, or to dismiss the case if found frivolous. As the matter now stands, any preliminary hearing will have to be taken to Seattle, thereby entailing unnecessary expense and delay. Now as we have no idea that Judge Lewis favors Seattle more than Port Townsend, or that he cares one straw in which place these sailor cases have a preliminary hearing, we simply look to the non-appointment of a Commissioner as an inadvertence, and a subject which undoubtedly has slipped his mind, and which would be respectfully suggest to His Honor that if he can find in this town any one who would be willing to take the appointment to an office which brings but a little money to the incumbent, he would confer a favor on our citizens by appointing a Commissioner as such as his business will permit.

THE concert of Camilla Urso, on Friday evening last, at the Good Templars' Hall, was attended by the largest audience that ever was gathered in this town to a musical performance, persons being present from the Foot, Port Discovery and Astoria Islands, besides the regular representation by our own citizens. The world-wide fame of Camilla Urso makes it unnecessary for us to bestow a word of praise, but we would simply remark that her playing was magnificent, while the singing and accompaniment on the piano, proclaimed the actors to be vocalists and musicians of a high grade. But the singing would have been better appreciated by the audience if Madame Urso, in her program had substituted ballads, or selections from English operas, instead of lectures from French and Italian. There are songs from Norma, La Sonnambula and other English operas, which have been arranged for the piano and are familiar to most people, and they would have enabled the artists to have displayed their talents quite as well as in the music they did sing. Jenny Lind's great popularity consisted in the songs she sang which were understood by and touched the hearts of the people. We understand that the singing at the house were over $200. On Saturday Madam Urso and Miss Wandesford, with some of the gentlemen of the troupe took a drive on the hill to have a look at the town, and expressed the conviction that Port Townsend has the most beautiful location of any place they had seen on the Pacific coast.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Last Friday night, between nine and ten o'clock, a fire caught in the upper story of the house occupied by Wm. H. H. Learned, Esq., which came near being a very serious affair. A girl working in the family had been to the room with a lamp in her hand and accidentally set fire to a curtain and without noticing it departed, but happily leaving the alarm so that another member of the family on passing saw the blaze and gave the alarm. Mr. Learned immediately repaired to the scene to find that it was without any of the wood-work was ablaze. Grasping a vessel containing water he managed to control the flames until receiving a supply he extinguished it without incurring a general alarm. The opportune discovery and presence of mind displayed by Mr. Learned makes a trivial affair of what otherwise would have been most deplorable in its consequences, situated as the building is in the midst of a range of wooden houses.

PERLS OF THE SEAL HUNTING.—By a Makah Indian who arrived on Sunday last from New Bay, we learn that some ten days previous to Makah causes sailed out for seals. Each canoe had three Indians in her, powerful, stalwart fellows, who feared no danger, and who had for many seasons been out on these blunting expeditions. They went out to sea some fifteen miles from land and were quite successful. At last a southeast wind commenced to blow and soon increased to a fearful gale. All the canoes put out then for the Vancouver Island shore. Three arrived safely and three were lost with all the Indians they contained. Thus nine of the strongest and best men of the tribe have lost their lives in their attempts to procure furs with which to decorate Indian dresses and to make garments for the fashionable world. As Eugene Sue would say, "Who cares?—God!"

REV. P. E. HYLAND, writing from Belmont, Ontario, Canada, to a gentleman in this town—formerly one of his parishioners—says of that country as follows: "Though it is cold here for so many months in the year, yet it is a fine country and good soil. My father has made about the usual amount each farmer works. Land is worth from $50 to $100 per acre. Cattle are housed and stabled during the winter months, but they exercise them when they are watered—they eat up in winter all that is raised during the summer. Servants' wages are very low, we pay for those servants who do all the work in a first-class manner, $6 a month; and to the man who takes care of the horse, only $4 a month. Hard wood costs $2.50 per cord, and to have it cut and split 80 cents. Living costs about one half what it does in Port Townsend."

Mr. Hyland expresses himself as well pleased with his situation.

The Port Discovery will close for general repairs last Saturday. Operations will be resumed in a week or two.

WHO KILLED THE PANTHER? has been a leading question among the habitués of Port Discovery. The origin of the inquiry, as we are told, is as follows: A party of hunters were encamped a week or two ago not far from Duaneville, and they had not yet gone to reach the scene, when lo! high above the dogs, on a massive limb, reposed a panther. The men were all good shots, but the question arose as to should kill the animal. Finally it was settled that two of them should shoot when three had been counted by the third party. The rifles were brought to the point and sighted, "the lower," and the sharp crack of F's rifle told that the missile had sped on its errand, but the discharge was premature and while of the mark "three" and the cool, sure aim of W. had lodged a ball in the breast of the beast. He fell to the ground, and now with the dogs on either side of him commenced the fearful struggle for life until, in consideration of the value of time, the contents of Mc's rifle were lodged in the animal's head, and the war ended. But the question, "Who killed the panther," like Janquo's ghost, will not down. The animal was a splendid specimen of his kind, measuring over nine feet in length.

MR. H. L. MARYOTT, of Oak Harbor, Island County, favored us with a call recently and in the course of conversation detailed his method of breaking coals, which as it may be of service to our patrons we give it, as follows: It consists in taking a cord of small rope, doubling it, and making a knot in it sufficient to allow it to go over the hind part, extending as low down as the breeching, or a little lower, the knot coming on its back, and the other end fastened to the rope tied around his neck, which forms a breeching that he will work well back upon his shoulders, and on being led will help to move him forward, as he will not resist the pressure thus brought to bear upon his hind parts. This accomplished, he puts one of his legs, for a short time while handling or rubbing him. He has never, in his experience, known his method to fail in breaking the wildest colt, in three or four days' trial. The above, of course, includes the use of a halter to keep him in check while being led.

THE steamship Dakota, from San Francisco, arrived here on Wednesday morning. She brought a large quantity of merchandise consigned to our merchants and business men, viz: Waterman & Katz, C. Bartlett, C. Hill, Dodd & Fugh, C. E. Smith, John & Thomas, P. Ferguson, Hunt & Learned, Jas. Jones, T. Jackson & Co, F. W. James, B. S. Miller, D. D. Hill, M. Hammond, O. F. Gerrish, Rev. Geo. W. Sessaville, after discharging, and on lading out from the wharf, her anchor caught the piles, and although the anchor was broken, the cable was firmly implanted in the earth, three of them were carried completely away and seven broken off. She will probably return from Puget on Monday.

POISONED.—Last Thursday night Mr. McDonald and wife, formerly restaurant keepers, in this place, had a cow shipped on board the bark Columbia bound for Australia, as steward and stewardess, had a narrow escape from death. After having assumed their duties some one sent on board the vessel a bottle of whisky as a present to them in which had been put a quantity of arsenic, and whether by accident or design is not fully known. McDonald and wife partook heartily of the contents of the bottle, joined by the cook, and soon after all of them were taken sick. Dr. Minor was called, and by his aid, and the fact that they had taken such a large quantity of the deadly poison their lives were saved.

CHIMACUM PIGS TAKE THE PRIZE BANNER. A few days since a sow belonging to Mr. Wm. Bishop of Chimacum gave birth to a litter of twenty pigs, and all are doing well. This shows the wonderful efficacy of feeding pigs on buttermilk and other nutritious food for which the Chimacum farmers are so famous. We are not, in former days of the particular breed, but judge it must be from the celebrated stock of full blooded Berkshire whites, imported a few years since by C. E. P. Wood, Esq., of Port Discovery.

MR. R. E. RYAN opened the public school in Chimacum, District No. 4, on the 1st inst. and has been attending school in Portland, Oregon, during the past year. This speaks well for our public schools which are beginning to supply our own teachers. We are advised that the above change was arranged to the mutual satisfaction of all parties concerned.

FOR the best California wines and brandies go to the wholesale house of Hunt & Learned, who have just received by the Dakota a large and well-selected stock to be sold at San Francisco prices.

Six men who recently came to the Sound on the Dakota, have taken up farms on Pish river, near Pillow Point, in Clallam Co., and are busy clearing them.

THE passengers by the Dakota were H. E. Brown and wife, S. Hadlock, Mrs. J. W. Wood, C. E. W. Wood, P. M. Hammond, R. Rain, and four in the steerage.

MR WILSON, the tide observer at this port, received orders from Washington to work the tide gages, box up the material and send it to San Francisco.

JUDICIAL.

The Judge of this Judicial District during a recent session at Steilacoom made the following orders relative to the despatch of business at chambers in accordance with the late amendments of the Code:

1st. That the Judge of this Court will attend at his office in Seattle on the first Mondays of April, June and December for the transaction of business at chambers.

2d. At these sessions defaults will be entered and judgments rendered thereon; causes will be tried on written stipulations of the parties, and wherein defaults have been entered; all motions and demurrers on file in the Clerk's office in Seattle will be heard and determined, as also motions and demurrers on file at Steilacoom, Port Townsend and Snohomish City, of which ten days' notice of the hearing thereof at such terms has been given.

3d. All other matters will be heard at any time on proper notice; and in case no time is fixed by law or rule, then upon five days' notice by either party.

The fees of all witnesses before the Grand Jury will be taxed by the foreman of the Grand Jury.

Witnesses in criminal causes in the District Court must claim their fees of the Clerk before the close of the term, or they will not be allowed.

The Clerk will tax no fees of witnesses in civil actions unless the parties file a cost bill claiming the same.

"I don't believe in fashionable churches," said a lady recently; "but after all, considering that we all go to the same heaven, perhaps it is better to keep up the social distinction as long as we can."

Marquis Cauz and his wife, Adeline Fati, appeared on March 1st in Paris, before the President of the civil tribunal, in order that the usual attempt at reconciliation might be made. The attempt failed and judicial proceedings for a divorce will accordingly begin. The lady left immediately for Vienna to fulfill a professional engagement.

The People Want Proof.
There is no medicine prescribed by physicians, or sold by druggists, that carries such evidence of its success and superior virtue as BOCCARD'S GUMMAY SYRUP for severe coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, consumption, or any disease of the throat and lungs. A proof of that fact is that every person afflicted, who gets a sample bottle for 10 cents and tries its superior effect before buying the regular size at 25 cents. It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wonderful cures are establishing every one that uses it. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sold by druggists generally.

CENTAUR

LINIMENT.

(Letter from a Postmaster.)

"ANCHOCH, ILL., Dec. 1, 1874.
Messrs. J. B. Ross & Co.:
My wife has for a long time been a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism. She has tried many physicians and many remedies. The only thing which has given her relief is Centaur Liniment. I am rejoiced to say this is cured and I am doing what I can to extend its sale."
W. H. RING.

While is a sample of many thousand testimonials received, of wonderful cures effected by the Centaur Liniment. The ingredients of this article are published around each bottle. It contains Witch Hazel, Mentha, Arnica, Rook Oil, Carbolic, and ingredients little known. It is an indisputable fact that the Centaur Liniment is performing more cures of Swellings, Stiff Joints, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Lockjaw, &c., than all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Salves, Ointments, and Plasters now in use. For Toothache, Earache, Weak Back, Itch, and cutaneous Eruptions, it is admirable. It cures burns and scalds without a scar. Extracts poison from bites and stings, and heals frost-bites and chilblains in a short time. No family can afford to be without the Centaur Liniment, white wrapper.

The Centaur Liniment, Yellow Wrapper, is adapted to the tough skin, muscles and flesh of the animal creation. Its effects upon severe cases of Spavin, Sweny, Wind Gall, Big Head and Foul Evil, are little less than marvellous.

Messrs. J. McCure & Co., Druggists, corner Elm and Front streets, Cincinnati, O., say: "In our neighborhood a number of teamsters are using the Centaur Liniment. They pronounce it superior to anything they have ever used. We sell as high as four or five dozen bottles per month to these teamsters."

We have thousands of similar testimonials. For Wounds, Galls, Scratches, Ring-bone, &c., and for Sore Worn in Sheep it has no rival.

Pitcher's Castoria.

Mothers may have rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sore Mouth, Croup or Hoarseness, Constipation. It is perfectly a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mineral, morphia, nor alcohol. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and neither gives nor gripes. Dr. H. Dimsack, of August, O., says: "I am using Castoria in my practice with the most signal benefits and happy results. It is what I use every one says. Most nurses in New York city use the Castoria. It is prepared by Messrs. J. B. Ross & Co., 46 Day Street, New York, successors to Sargent, Pitcher, & D."

Copy of Telegram received by
SRRERMAN & HYDE:

New York, Sept. 29, 1876.
Received the highest award for sympathetic, pure and rich tone, combined with greatest power, as shown in the three styles—Grand, Square, and Upright Pianos—which show intelligence and solidity in their construction, a pianist and easy touch, which at the same time answer promptly to its requirements together with excellence of workmanship.

A. WEBER.
