FROM DAILY OF THURSDAY.

HERE FOR INSPECTION.—The steamer Capital, that triumph of Flypina ship-builders, about which so many long and interesting "loans" have appeared in the Echo, is here for inspection. To us it appears very much like a good-sized lighter, fitted up with a donkey engine and a pair of wheels and seems admirably fitted for the work for which it is designed, which is lightening goods from the new wharf at Olympia to town, a distance of two miles. The lighter is the property of Capt. H. L. Chapman.

Mr. M. T. Tawes of Cedar Grove is maintaining his reputation as a marksmen by his frequent applications to our County Auditor for bounty on panther scalps. Last week he was in with one which displayed evident signs of the beast being pierced through the eye with the bullet.—B. B. Mail.

We have no desire to get up a corner in tar, but in a note to the British Medical Journal Drs. Sidney Ringer and William Murrill state that in the treatment of bronchial catarrh and winter cough, they have employed tar in two-grain doses, made into a pill, every three or four hours, with remarkably success.

ANOTHER COAL DISCOVERY.—Mr. B. F. Brown showed us yesterday some fine specimens of coal from a newly discovered vein, recently opened on Green River, near his place. The vein is 9 feet thick and the coal is of good quality, somewhat resembling that from the Talbot Mine.

RECONSIDERED.—The case of Mrs. Sebort, of Nootsack, who was declared insane by the Probate Court of Whatcom Co., has been reconsidered and dismissed, on petition of 16 citizens of Whatcom.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—Arrived, ship Revere, Departure Bay; steamer City of Panama, Victoria. Sailed, French bark Cape Horn, Port Townsend.

TACOMA.—The Dashing Wave is about loaded and will go to sea to-morrow. The Italian bk. Iona is loading for South American ports and will go to sea Saturday next.

The schooner Carrie Hayden is discharging a load of grain at Buzby's mill.

The barks Tidal Wave and Northwest have arrived at Port Madison.

DRUNK.—Benj. Elbush, drunk and disorderly, was up before Justice Scott yesterday and fined $10 and costs.

REAL ESTATE.—Francis A. Uter has sold to David W. Crooks 768.77 acres in Township 25, North of Range 3 East, for $500.

MARRIED.—In Olympia, at the residence of the bride's parents, Feb. 22, by Rev. J. T. Wolfe, A. L. Francis, of Seattle, and Miss Ella Chapman of Olympia.

A new barber shop has been opened in a small building in Yesler's new row.

The Fanny Lake is undergoing some slight repairs, preparatory to resuming duty.

The daily newspaper of Messrs. Bagley & Murphy will make its appearance in Olympia on Monday next.

The Dashing Wave was towed out of Tacoma at an early hour yesterday morning.

FROM DAILY OF FRIDAY.

THE LEWIS BROS.—The Lewis Bros. will give the last of their performances to-morrow night. They have succeeded in getting larger audiences for a greater number of nights than any show of the kind that ever visited this place, and their performances have deserved the patronage they received. We hope they will meet with as much success to-morrow evening as on the previous occasions.

THE WEATHER.—The weather during the last 24 hours has presented every aspect possible. Yesterday afternoon at different times there was rain, sunshine, wind and sleet, winding up in the evening with a violent hail-storm, which however, lasted only a few minutes. This morning it settled down into a heavy snow storm which kept up all forenoon, and as it melted nearly as fast as it fell, it made walking very sloppy and disagreeable.

The following dispatch was received from Mr. Freeman, just as we go to press:

OLYMPIA, Feb. 26, 1876.
City of Panama sailed at noon to-day with new steamers.
OTIS FREEMAN.

The building of the elevated track on the S. C. & T. Co.'s new wharf, connecting the shute with the top of the bunkers, is progressing fast. The structure now extends nearly to the slip in which the vessels lie to load.

PEDDLER'S LICENSE.—By the new city ordinance peddlers are obliged to take out licenses, costing from $12 to $250 a week. This will tend to prevent the usual summer incursions of patent-medicine men, etc. We believe the law also applies to book agents.

CURIOUS ACCIDENT.—A servant girl employed in the house of Mr. Jas. McNaught, while whistling, to amuse the baby, on a piece of glass-tubing about two inches and a half long and a quarter of an inch thick, unfortunately swallowed it. She has suffered no serious inconvenience from it yet.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—Jas. Dixon was fined $5 and costs yesterday afternoon by Justice Scott, for assault and battery.

A wooden bowl factory is to be started at this place shortly. The machinery is already in town and it is proposed to put up a small building near Nation's foundry for the factory.

LORD JOHN SCOTT.—A good story was told by the chairman of a public dinner lately given in celebration of the Duke of Buccleuch's birthday, to illustrate the aptitude for business displayed by the duke and his brother, Lord John Scott, in early life. 'About forty years ago,' he said, 'when there had been severe distress in the manufacturing districts, and among other places in Hawick, where the duke possesses a large property, this nobleman and his brother went from one weaving shop to another, making inquiries as to the wages paid for this and that bit of work. At last they came to a shop where they were weaving woolen hose, the men assured his grace they could only get three pence a pair, or about nine pence a day. 'That is little,' said Lord John to the man sitting at the loom: 'will you allow me to try my hand at the loom, and see if I can't make more than you?' 'Your lordship will make little of this,' said the man. Lord John however, sat down, took up the shuttle and worked away, the men all the while looking on in wonder. After a short time he pitched off one hose, then took out his watch and worked another, and at last exclaimed, 'I could make fifteen pence a day at this work.'

Do you think 't was best to drop Deacon West and Sister Moulton, too? But who would suppose such a trifle as those would cause such a hullabaloo?

PUGHKEEPSIE, Feb. 24.—The sleeping cars on the Harlem railroad burned last night, and Mr. Bissel, the proprietor of the Sherman House in Chicago, and his son perished in the flames. Ten others are reported badly burned. The accident was caused by a broken rail and the upsetting of the car.

FISHKILL, Feb. 24.—Interviews with passengers show that the railroad calamity happened at midnight near Wallingford, on the Harlem extension. The train was composed of engine, a baggage car, one passenger car and a sleeper. There were ten passengers in the sleeper which was thrown from the track by a broken rail, and rolled down the embankment and caught fire. Mr. Bissell's son, aged seventeen, was in the centre of the car. The father got out but hearing the cry of his son, went back to save him, and both burned to death. The charred remains were found. No other passengers were burned, but all were more or less injured.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—The annual reunion of the army of the Potomac will be held here June 6th.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Arrangements have to-day been completed for a concert hour in California by P. S. Gilmore, accompanied by 50 performers, among whom are several artists of prominence. The visit to California will be in April, and preparations, looking to one of the greatest musical successes ever known on the Pacific coast, are actively making.

At a largely attended meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to-day. Resolutions were adopted in favor of the resumption of specie payments on Jan. 1st, 1879.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The committee of Ways and Means to-day, by a vote of six to four, agreed to report a bill to carry into effect the Hawaiian treaty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A prominent member of the Cabinet authorizes the assertion that all published reports of a serious disagreement between the President and any member of the Cabinet, are absolutely devoid of any foundation; in fact, it is stated upon the same authority that there has never been either of recent date or at any other time within many months, the occurrence of any event in the Cabinet sessions that could be construed into an indication of bad feeling. These statements have been superinduced by many references to the effect that the Secretary of the Treasury will shortly retire from his present office and furthermore, that the acquittal of Gen. Babcock would be a sure promoter of such action on the part of Bristow. There is direct authority for the contradiction of this impression and the Cabinet officers say the result of the trial can have no effect whatever in disturbing the harmony of the Cabinet.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—The Court was not opened to-day until 11 o'clock, the Judges being engaged in finishing the charge to the jury. As soon as the roll of jurors was called, Judge Dillon read the instructions, which were very long, including in various groups the telegrams introduced in the evidence. At 25 minutes past three, the jury sent word they had found a verdict, and were immediately ushered into court. On taking their seats, the foreman handed the verdict to the clerk, who read it as follows: "The jury find the defendant not guilty." Some demonstration in favor of the defendant was made, but it was quickly stopped. There was a general handshaking however, and Gen. Babcock crossed over to the jury men and thanked them kindly for the verdict. The General and his friends left the Court for their hotel. On reaching the street, the party was heartily cheered by the great crowd congregated in front of the Custom House and almost every one seemed well pleased with the result.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The Brooklyn Eagle says Mr. Bowen declines to give the text of the statement to the newspapers, and Plymouth Church committee say they will not. The substance of the statement however, has been ascertained. Mr. Bowen does not claim to have any knowledge of guilt on Beecher's part. He says he believes him guilty because of what he has heard of divers parties. The only names mentioned by him are Mr. and Mrs. Richard, who, he said told him that Mrs. Tilton confessed to them; and another woman, whose name he declines to give, told him he says, that in 1858 she saw Beecher enter in a suspicious manner the study of Plymouth church with a woman whose name he declines to give. The third and chief case cited by Bowen was that of a woman, who he says told him she had been twice outraged by Mr. Beecher, and that subsequent to the outrages, she remained improperly intimate with him. Who this woman was, where the outrages took place, or when they took place, are facts which Mr. Bowen declared he could not be induced to disclose. Apart from these cases, the statement is devoted to a fense of Bowen's behavior towards Beecher and the public, since he became convinced of Beecher's guilt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—The Pacific Mail Company is said to have contracted for three new iron steamers for the China fleet, to be built entirely of American material, midway in size between City of San Francisco and City of Tokio.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—In the House of Commons to-night, Whitbread, member for Bedford, moved a resolution in regard to the treatment of fugitives, calling for the revocation of the recent circulars issued by the Admiralty. He asserted that these instructions sent to the commanders of our men-of-war indicated an inclination on the part of the government to abandon the traditional policy of England with regard to slavery. Hamburg, member for Tamworth, a Liberal Conservative, moved as an amendment to the resolution that it is desirable to await further information to inquire into the object. He maintained that the circulars contrasted favorably with those issued by the Liberal government. He argues that when the United States and Russia were the great slave-owning powers, they would not have tolerated the high-handed doctrines which were now being proclaimed. It would not be creditable for England now to take up a position now which she could not have maintained against them. He advised the House to hesitate before attempting to enforce the observance of English municipal law on Foreign nations. The government was quite justified in referring the subject to a Commission, if only for the object of seeing to what extremity it could push English municipal law in favor of slaves, and, in order that the question might not be decided under the influence of popular excitement. Foster believed both the policy and law would vindicate the position that a slave once received on a British man-of-war could not be surrendered. There was not a single constituent in the country which would not at once repudiate the idea of waiting for the report of the Commission.

Sir John Holker, Attorney-General, declared that the last circular correctly defined the law. Gathorne Hardy, Secretary of State for War department, said the government hoped by means of the Commission to be able to reconcile the maintenance of the utmost extent of personal liberty with their own international obligations and good faith towards friendly nations. He pointed to the act passed by the Liberal government empowering the Colonial Courts under certain circumstances to restore slaves illegally captured as a proof of the inconsistency of the opposition. The debate then adjourned.

PARIS, Feb. 22.—Le Soir announces that the President has accepted M. Buffet's resignation.

MADRID, Feb. 23.—A te deum was sung in the Cathedral here to-day for King Alfonso's entrance into Tolosa. It may be considered that the war is finally at an end.

The Archbishop of Toledo and other prelates have petitioned the Cortes to grant Catholic unity, and prohibit any other worship in Spain. It has been officially confirmed that Gen. Dorregay has been interred in France.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—A dispatch to the News from San Sebastian states that Alfonso visited Andavain and Santa Barbara and was received with wild enthusiasm.

The Times' Paris dispatch says it seems to be now decided that soon as the Carlist war is over, ex-Queen Isabella will enter Spain. King Alfonso will meet her at the frontier and conduct her to the capital.

BERLIN, Feb. 22.—The Federal Council has accepted the bill passed by the Reichstag amending the penal code.

AN OLD MAN'S INFATUATION.—The contest in Cincinnati over the will of Timothy Kirby, (the father-in-law of Gen. Banning and Don Piatt,) who recently died very rich, develops the fact that the woman whom he regarded as his wife, although he gave her money lavishly, often whipped him. "He came to my office with a broken arm," a physician testified, "and the fracture had occurred several days before. He had told his friends that the hurt came from a fall off a ladder, but to me he confessed that the woman, Mrs. Francis, had struck him with a club." Kirby seemed infatuated with her, and her abuse of him did not cure his folly. The will devises a great amount of property to Mrs. Francis, and his children are contesting on the grounds that her influence over him was undue, and that his love for her a mania.

WILL PAY PROMPT ATTENTION TO all business a Law, Equity and Adm. ap14-3m.

Ordinance No. 95.

Mr. Editor:—Allow me, in a few words, to criticize ordinance No. 95 of the city of Seattle, which, without any further preliminaries, I unhesitatingly pronounce, a piece of high-handed imposition and injustice upon certain classes of our citizens, who are comparatively poor and hardworking men, who perform all the drudgery of the city, exposing themselves to all inclemencies of the seasons, and who have a hard enough time to make a living for themselves and families without being subjected to such invidious, unjust, and class burdens, which this ordinance imposes on them. It is the legislation of wealth against labor; and none but abject slaves will willingly submit to it. The only source from which revenues for the support of government can justly come is through a direct tax on the wealth of the people. But ordinance No. 95, so far as it goes, exempts wealth from taxation and imposes it on labor.

To carry out the principle of license, why not impose it on the Druggist, the Butcher, the Grocer, the Hardware merchant, the Dry Goods merchant, and every other occupation as well? Why single out the comparatively poor and hardworking men and impose burdens on them who have already more than they can conveniently carry? It seems to me this ordinance was passed with but very little consideration; and the sober second thought of the city fathers ought to lead them to its immediate repeal.

St. Louis, Feb. 25.—Ever since Gen. Babcock's discharge from the court, his hotel has been crowded with the most prominent men of St. Louis to extend their congratulations on the result of the trial. About 8 o'clock this evening, the officers of the arsenal, accompanied by a band, gave the General a serenade. Col. Harry made a brief speech. He congratulated Babcock, and said the verdict was another evidence of the closing of the gap between the North and South, and the restoration of peace and fraternal feelings and called on the band to play Dixie, which was done.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 25.—The Appeal's Jackson, Miss., special says the House spent the entire day yesterday in considering the reports of the investigating committee. The report of the committee recommends that Governor Ames be impeached, and removed from office for official misconduct, on eleven separate and distinct charges, which are specified, consisting of his failure to remove certain officials, and his removal of others without cause; for causing bloodshed at Vicksburg in Crosby's case; for calling the U. S. troops, and having them eject the sheriff of Warren county from his office in violation of law; for attempting to incite a war of races in arming the colored militia and causing them to defiantly parade the streets of Clinton.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—It was said by some western members of the National Democratic committee yesterday that the financial platform which will be prepared by the House caucus committee, based upon representative Payne's bill will be such that the democracy can safely present it to western voters. The Secretary of the treasury to-day sent to the House a communication from the officers designated to select sites for life saving and life boat stations on the Pacific. They say a suitable location was found at Port Leguise, Drake's Bay, but as all the land bordering on it belongs to one person who would not sell, and whose conditions of occupancy could not be despised, they selected a site at Bolinas, in Bolinas Bay. This is the only selection which the officers report.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The Advisory Council dissolved to-day. A very exciting and unlooked for denouement of the meeting between H. C. Bowen and Plymouth Church examining committee took place to-night at assistant pastor Holliday's house. About 8 o'clock Mr. Bowen, his son Edward and Henry E. Bowen and Dr. Ward entered Mr. Holliday's house, and in about an hour the door was flung open, light flashed, loud and angry voices were heard. The cause is herewith set down in the words of Mr. Bowen. Since the receipt of that letter Bowen has been busily preparing a statement from the committee. On entering the room in Holliday's house to-night, Bowen found to his astonishment a company of 40 or 50 persons, among who was Henry Ward Beecher, who sat in a corner of the room behind the door, not in view of Bowen, who being called up for his statement, presented and read it. Said he should decline to give it to the press, and if submitted, it should be by the examining committee not by him. In reply to a question if he had any other facts to give, Bowen replied that is all this evening. As he was leaving Mr. Blair said, 'I protest against Mr. Bowen's leaving.'

Mr. Shearman said, 'Mr. Bowen, you will not be permitted to leave the room.' Bowen stepped towards the door of the front parlor, when Mr. J. O. White jumped up and locked the door and put the key in his pocket. Seeing Mr. Bowen looking towards the door of another room, Mr. White called out

'lock that door.' Several men jumped toward it. Every one jumped to his feet, but Bowen was too quick and got to the door before the crowd. His son, Henry E., followed, rushing to the door and called for the press. The Associated Press reporter and another rushed up. Mr. Bowen told them of the occurrence. Then one of Mr. Bowen's sons upbraided Mr. White.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25.—Gov. Kellogg has issued a proclamation convening the Senate in extra session, to commence immediately on the expiration of the regular session, March 2nd, to consider executive or other business, or for the purpose of serving as a court of impeachment, if necessary. The impression among Republicans seem to be that the purpose of the House was to prefer articles of impeachment against the Governor and Lieut. Governor, on the last day of the session, which would suspend them from office, and leave the Speaker of the House acting-Governor, under the Constitution. It is believed that convening the Senate in extra session will operate to quiet the impeachment schemes.

The special committee of the House, to investigate the conduct of Governor Kellogg, have made the following report: The special committee appointed to investigate the conduct of W. P. Kellogg, and to ascertain whether he has committed such high crimes and misdemeanors in office while exercising the functions of Governor, as to demand his impeachment, respectfully report, that they find on investigation that the said Kellogg, acting as Governor of the State, has committed many violations in his official capacity and in the exercise of the functions of Governor. They submit the following preamble and resolutions for consideration of the House, and recommended their adoption: (Here follows a statement of acts done from October, 1874, to January, 1875, in regard to the division to the State funds.) Report concludes as follows: Whereas, Many Democrats and Conservative members of this House feel bound to carry out in good faith the terms of the adjustment known as the Wheeler compromise, and not to disturb said Wm. P. Kellogg for official conduct occurring anterior to the 14th of April, 1875. And, whereas, your committee find of investigation that said Wm. P. Kellogg, in disregard of the high trust imposed upon him by the Constitutional laws of the State of Louisiana, has since and subsequent to the 14th day of April, 1875, been guilty of many and divers high crimes and misdemeanors in office against the laws and constitution of the State, therefore be it resolved, that a committee of 5 members of the House be appointed by the Speaker to go to the Senate and at the bar thereof, in the name of the House of Representatives of the State of Louisiana, impeach Wm. P. Kellogg of high crimes and misdemeanors in office committed since April 14th, 1875, and acquaint the Senate that the House will in due time, exhibit particular articles of impeachment against him. That we now demand that the Senate should order for appearance the said W. P. Kellogg to answer to said impeachment.

The Republicans claim that the report of the committee was only got before the House by a gross violation of parliamentary rules. The minority of the committee offered a report setting forth that no investigation whatever had been entered upon by the committee. That they had demanded that the Governor should be heard and had been refused; and that the whole proceedings were a revolutionary attempt to subvert the government.

The Conservatives confidently assert that the House will adopt the report on Monday.

Feb. 27.—The papers published the memorial mentioned in yesterday's dispatches, expressing unqualified disapproval of the attempt on the part of the House of Representatives to impeach at this time, Gov. Kellogg. The memorial is signed by sixty prominent commercial houses and individuals.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 26.—The Appeal's Jackson, Miss., special says in the House, to-day, a resolution impeaching Governor Ames, of high crimes and misdemeanors in office, was adopted. Yeas, 86; nays, 14. The counsel of Lieut. Gov. Davis, filed a plea denying wholly and severally the articles of impeachment.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—At the business meeting of Plymouth Church, to-night, the report of the examination was read. It recites White's grievances against Bowen; how the latter was asked for essential facts relating to Beecher, and in reply he only read what was a vindication of his own conduct, with a report of a confession made to him 10 years ago by a woman, not named or identified, and how he refused answering their questions and precipitately withdrew. In conclusion the committee recommended in view of Bowen's refusal to answer, that he be called before the Church at a business meeting on Wednesday evening next, to answer orally, questions as to the accusation and insinuations against the pastor. McKay moved that Bowen be summoned before an examining committee to give him another chance to appear and vindicate himself. C. V. White moved an amendment that in default thereof, Bowen be cast out as a slanderer, acting in defiance of his obligation. (Great applause.) White said they should stand triding no longer. There was one other example of a church being so hampered by a brother, but that one other brother had the decency to go and hang himself. (Great applause and laughter.) He thought that Bowen ought to be excommunicated. (Applause.) Beecher here interposed and depreciated these manifestations of approval and merriment. He hoped they would view the matter with solemnity. The resolution of the examining committee was unanimously adopted.

Feb. 26.—Gold closed at 14. WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The Examination of Gen. Miller, President of the Alaska Commercial Company, by the Sub Committee of the committee on ways and means, was concluded yesterday. The questions asked by chairman Fernando Wood were particularly directed towards the manner in which the lease of seal islands had been awarded. The point of the investigation turns upon this special inquiry, inasmuch as there appears to be no direct evidence to show that the obligations under the lease have not been fulfilled. General Miller claimed that the company had not only fulfilled its obligations, but had done more in the interests of the Government and natives than is strictly required by contract. He called the attention of the committee to the fact that the Secretary of the Treasury had power to annul the lease of the company if it failed to comply with its conditions, and said therefore it was not only the desire, but also, the policy of the company to deal with the government honestly. That pamphlet which was sent to the Government in General Howard's report was a repetition of editorials from a paper which had always been hostile to the company, and every line of it contained a falsehood. It was issued in a secret manner, and signed by some person who purports to be secretary of an association which could not be found to exist; that Gen. Howard did not visit the seal islands but picked up this pamphlet a year after it had been in circulation and forwarded it to Washington, without vouching for its correctness. He claims that the company's bid was $18,000 more than the bid of these parties, and that the government received $63,000 more per annum than was required by act of Congress, and that the income of the government from this source is about $325,000 per annum. It costs the company six dollars to put a seal skin on the London market, while they would only sell for five dollars when the lease was taken. The company has raised the value of skins by close attention to business, and by making seal for popular. Gen. Miller, having answered fully and satisfactorily all questions put by the committee, will return to San Francisco. To-morrow Senator Boutwell will be the next witness called.

COUNTING A BILLION.—What is a billion? The reply is very simple—a million times a million. This is quickly written, and quicker still pronounced. But so man is able to count it. You count 100 or 170 a minute; but let us suppose that you go as far as 200, then an hour would produce 12,000; a day, 288,000; and a year, or 365 days, 105,120,000. Let us suppose now that Adam, at the beginning of his existence had begun to count, had continued to do so, and was counting still, he would not even now, according to the usually supposed age of our globe, have counted near enough. For to count a billion he would require 9,512 years, 342 days, 5 hours and 20 minutes, according to the above rule. Supposing we were to allow a poor counter 12 hours daily for rest, eating and sleeping, he would need 19,025 years, 319 days, 10 hours and 45 minutes.

SPRUNG A LEAK.—A special telegram from Port Townsend to the DISPATCH is as follows:

The bark Iconium, loaded at Port Blakely for San Pedro, left Port Blakely Feb. 13th. She arrived here to-night water-logged, having been 70 miles southwest, outside of Cape Flattery. While head-reaching under lower top-sails, with a heavy sea running and the wind blowing strong from the southeast, she started leaking Tuesday night, the 22d. At 11 p. m. the pumps sucked for the last time. At 2 a. m., Feb. 23, the Iconium had 5 feet of water in her hold and she has now 12 feet. While running for Fuca straits, close to Cape Beale, Vancouver shore, the Iconium was near going ashore. The crew wanted to take to the boat, but at the earnest commands of the Captain, F. H. Hatch, they stuck to the vessel, and the wind suddenly shifting from southeast to southwest, saved the vessel from going ashore and proving a total wreck.

LEWIS BROS. TO-NIGHT.—To-night will be the last opportunity our people will have of attending the Culmination, and witnessing a constellation of inexplicable performances, as presented by the Lewis Bros. in the principal Eastern cities, among which may be mentioned the wonderful handstand rope-tying feat, by Prof. Lewis, in which he allows himself to be bound and tied with a hundred and fifty feet of rope and handcuffed, from which he extricates himself in full sight of all. Also Mile. DeCoursey, the trance-medium, in her repertoire of spiritual manifestations, allowing her hands to be tied with small cords, afterwards sealed with wax and fastened to a post, in which she will introduce the coat scene. Don't fail to attend, as there will be a new performance throughout.

ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY.—Last night about 2 o'clock an attempt was made to burglarize the store of Mrs. Jamieson, on First St. The burglar had succeeded in picking the lock and catch and had entered the front room, when he was alarmed by Mr. F. A. Dyer, who was passing, on his way home, and made off. Mr. Dyer attempted to catch the rascal but was unsuccessful. He saw, however, that he was a Chinaman.

A FLOAT AT LAST.—By a telegram received in this city last evening, we learn that Mr. Colman succeeded in getting the bark Windward afloat at an early hour yesterday morning, and that she is now lying at anchor in Useless Bay, awaiting a tug boat. She will, in all probability, be up here this evening.

Hill, the Evangelist, lately arrived at Seattle, has concluded to commence laboring among the people at the different points on the Sound, and is ready to notice communications from different religious societies that may see fit to engage his services. His address will be Seattle, W. T.

P. M. S. S. ITEMS.—Mr. Otis Freeman furnishes us with the following information: The City of Panama does not coal at Seattle this trip, but will leave for Departure Bay immediately after discharging her freight and passengers here. Sound passengers and freight must connect at Victoria, March 3d, unless they wish to take passage at this place and remain on board while coaling at Departure Bay. Commencing with April 1st, the P. M. S. steamers will commence making 3 trips per month, leaving San Francisco on the 10th, 20th and 30th of each month. Returning, they will leave here about 7th, 17th and 27th, or probably a little late.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The store of Messrs. Schwabacher Bros. in this city, has been undergoing some quite extensive alterations lately. The stairway which formerly opened at the front has been removed so as to open from the rear of the store, thus adding about ten feet more frontage to the store. Upstairs all the partitions have been torn down and the room fitted up with shelves, counters, etc., similar to down-stairs. The upstairs is to be devoted to the crockery and wholesale departments. These alterations have, in fact, doubled the size of the store.

The bark Windward is on her way up in tow of the str. Polikofsk. She is expected up early this evening.

SAILED.—The schooner W. H. Meyer, loaded with 200 tons of Renton coal and a deck-load of lumber, sailed on Saturday evening at 6 o'clock. The bark Gem of the Ocean, loaded with Seattle coal, went to sea yesterday. The ship Eldorado has commenced loading at the Seattle coal chute.

THE LEWIS BROTHERS.—These gentlemen have met with a success unusual in the history of amusements given in our city, which is remarkable considering the number of entertainments they have presented. On Saturday night, they gave their last performance which was highly enjoyed by the vast number assembled and it was by many voted the best of all. We have no doubt that this troupe would meet with continued success if they should stop another week. They started for Victoria this morning and will favor our people with more of their enjoyable entertainments at no distant day.

The 4th of July executive committee met on Saturday evening to hear reports from sub-committees. The finance committee report progress favorable. Upwards of $1,300 has been subscribed. THE WRECK.—The hull of the bark Windward, which was wrecked in Useless Bay some weeks since, arrived here last night about 8 o'clock in tow of the Polikofskoy. The work of getting her off, conducted by Mr. Colman, has been attended with an unusual amount of bad luck, for on every occasion when the tide has been high enough to float her, the weather has been too rough to attempt it. However, last Saturday, the good weather and high tide occurred at the same time, and the scow and tanks having been previously lashed alongside of her, and she was towed up here as stated previously. While her hull is in good condition, her mizzenmast and bow-sprit are the only sticks left in her. She will be beached this afternoon and her cargo and ballast will be discharged, after which she will be hauled further up on the beach and the extent of her injuries ascertained.

THE BARK ICONIUM.—A survey was held yesterday on the bark Iconium, which put back to Port Blakely in a leaking condition on Saturday last, by a board consisting of Capts. The barkentine Discovery has arrived here. She is to load with Talbot coal.

The steamer City of Panama arrived in Victoria yesterday and may be expected here this evening or to-morrow.

RACES.—There is some expectation of getting up a horse race at this place on the Fourth of July. If the attendance of such horses as Foster, Nell Flaherty, Osceola, etc., could be obtained, as there seems to be some hope of doing, it would prove a great addition to our proposed Centennial celebration.

W. 1/4 of Section 25, now makes application to make his final entry of said land, and has filed in this office his affidavit declaring that there is not within the limits of said land, to his knowledge, any coal or other valuable mineral deposits, and that said land is essentially non-mineral. Now, therefore, in accordance with instructions from the Commissioner of the General Land Office, it is ordered that testimony touching the character of said described land shall be taken before the Clerk of the United States District Court, at his office, in Seattle, King County, W. T., on the 11th day of March, A. D. 1876, beginning at 2 o'clock P. M., at which place and time all persons having interest in the matter of the character of the above described land are required to appear and there and then to present such evidence as may serve to fully establish the character of said tract of land. Given under our hand, at the United States District Land Office, Olympia, W. T., this 27th day of December, A. D. 1875. J. T. BROWN, Register. ROBERT G. STUART, Receiver.

AN IMMENSE ESTATE CURIOUSLY TIED UP BY TESTAMENTARY OBLIGATIONS.—Probably the wealthiest young man in Boston is Joshua Montgomery Sears, son of the late Joshua Sears, who died February 7th, 1857, leaving his son heir to his large estate. The heir reached his majority Christmas, but by the terms of the will, which left the property in trust, he now receives but a small fraction of the estate. The elder Sears left property of the estimated value of $1,500,000. Alpheus Hardy, Horatio Harris and Hugh Montgomery being named in the will as trustees. Under their management the property has increased in value until it amounts, according to the assessor's returns of May, 1875, to $1,026,400 in real estate in Boston in addition to investments in mortgages, etc., of a like value. Young Sears is at present a student in Yale College, and has been educated under the guardianship of Hon. Alpheus Hardy. He is a young man of intelligence, and is said to be possessed of many of the characteristics of his father. By the terms of the will the son was to receive $30,000 annually from that age to twenty-five; $6,000 annually from twenty-five to thirty, and $10,000 per year subsequently. There seems to be no direct provision in the will who shall ever receive other of the estate than the above, save in the matter of his education. Who will inherit the vast property in the event of the son's decease is a question for the courts.—Boston Traveler.

The great popularity of seal-skin jackets will receive a severe set back from an incident which recently occurred in Liverpool. A lady wearing one of those fashionable garments was waiting at a railway station when a popular bear who happened to be passing in a barrel, seized her around the body, and she was "severely squeezed" before the animal could be induced to release her. On the action for damages against the railway company, counsel for the bear excused his conduct on the ground that he had probably mistook the lady for a seal; but the jury gave the plaintiff $300. Hereafter we hope no lady will trust herself near a barrel unless she knows what is in it.

The reports from the Black Hills continue to have a rosy tinge. It is said that there are now twelve thousand men in that portion of the Black Hills through which Rapid Creek runs. California Joe says $34 were taken out of one pan, there being one nugget worth $20.

A much esteemed clergyman who resides not far from Utica, and who is quite noted for his dry humor, was out on a recent stormy evening, and to protect himself against the cold had muffled up his face and ears. While passing along, a man who mistook him for a physician of the place accosted him, saying that his system was out of order—that he was ailing generally, and he desired to know what would be good for him. The clergyman replied, "The best thing I know of you can do is to get a prayer-book and go to church twice every Sunday." The man immediately discovered that he was not the doctor, and went on in search of him.

NEW MODE OF WASHING.—The ill effects of soda on linen has given rise to a new method of washing, which has been extensively adopted in Germany, and introduced into Belgium. The operation consists in dissolving two pounds of soap in about three gallons of water as hot as the hand can bear, and adding to this, one tablespoonful of turpentine and three of liquid ammonia; this must then be well stirred, and the linen steeped in it for two or three hours, taking care to cover up the vessel containing them as nearly hermetically as possible. The clothes are afterward washed out as directed in the usual way. The soap and water may be reheated and used a second time, but in that case half a tablespoonful of ammonia must be added. The process is said to cause a great economy of time, labor and fuel. The linen scarcely suffers at all, as there is little necessity for rubbing, and its cleanliness and color are perfect. The ammonia and turpentine, although their detergent action is great, have no injurious effect on the linen; and while the former evaporates immediately, the smell of the latter is said to disappear during the drying of the clothes.

CURIOUS FRENCH HABITS.—Travelers in France are often puzzled by the curious habits of the country. The people are very social and kind-hearted, and polite in many ways, but they seldom invite foreign visitors to a meal. That is not their way of showing friendship. When they show special attentions, and invite to dinner, visitors are perplexed by the curious order and kinds of dishes. Meat comes on the table without potatoes, and after the meat is removed green peas and salad are served as a separate course. Knives and forks are not changed until the dessert appears, and are sometimes kept through the entire meal. The strong black coffee at the close, without either sugar or cream, is rarely palatable to ladies. To complete the bewilderment of guests, the lady of the house will often excuse herself after dinner and go out for a promenade. Chamber's Journal gives an amusing account of some Scotch ladies visiting Paris—very prim and precise—who, after passing through an experience of this kind, concluded the French had no taste in table arrangements, and no good manners towards guests. They forgot to make allowance for differences in national customs.

Some time ago two London thieves put in practice a plan of robbing a jeweller which had been described in a story in a popular periodical—a piece of pure invention. The jeweller was furious, (he lost forty thousand dollars, so it was excusable), and wrote to the editor of the magazine, asking him if it was his mission to instruct thieves in new ways of plundering the public. 'My dear sir,' replied the editor blandly, 'if you had taken my periodical, which I hope in future you will do, you would have been put upon your guard. This comes of neglecting the claims of literature.'

"Doing it Up Brown."—On Saturday a Saint by the name of Fulmer, with an Octavianus prefix, who had been chosen among the faithful to take a tramp from the Sixth Ward to Arizona, called upon the Profit Brigham.

"Married?" quired the Profit.
"Not any," said Fulmer, on whose brow forty odd years had left their imprint.
"Must marry, Brother Fulmer, before you go to Arizona to build up the kingdom."
"Don't know anybody who will have me," was the reply.

"I'll find some one. Do you know Brother Brown in the Seventeenth Ward? Well, he has several daughters; you take one of the teachers with you to Brother Brown's and tell him I want you to marry one of his daughters."
Fulmer left and obeyed counsel to the letter. Knocking at the door, he was admitted by Brother Brown, who upon learning what was wanted, called in his several daughters to be selected from like fat pigs for the slaughter. Fulmer taking his choice, Brown told the girl to be ready in fifteen minutes. 'I'll do as you say, dad,' was her meek reply, as she walked out.

"That's the way I raise my daughters; if they disobey there's war in camp."
The wedding festivities take place to-night. And of such is the kingdom of Brigham.—Salt Lake Tribune, Feb. 1.

SOME months ago a lecture on explosives was delivered at Hoboken, illustrated by experiments. Just before the lecturer stepped on the platform, an anxious committee member approached him and whispered that no package had arrived, and perhaps something else might be substituted for the proposed experiments. 'It is all right,' smilingly replied the lecturer; 'I have the nitro-glycerine and all the other things with me in my pockets.' The committee member immediately took a seat among the audience instead of on the platform.

The following letter, received at the Post Office Department recently, illustrates the high order of intelligence possessed by the average Western Postmaster. It is from the Postmaster of a small office in Indiana: 'I have understood and believe that as P. M. of this place I am entitled to a railroad pass, and, as my business as such calls me to Indianapolis often, I hereby apply for the same, provided I am allowed it, and if so, please furnish as soon as convenient.'—Washington Star.

WINSLOW'S WAY.—The feeling at Boston against the several men who had caught Winslow at his forgeries during the last year but let him off on his making them whole, continues to be strong, but the explanation is probably in all cases to be found in the apparently sincere repentance of the clerical swindler, his protestations that it was his only offense, and his personal entreaties. Thus Asa P. Potter, president of the Maverick National Bank, having discovered early last week, that Winslow had forged D. E. Poland's name on a $5,000 note, went for him, found him in the Boston News office, Wednesday afternoon—only a few hours before he left the city for good—and said to him: 'For reasons which I will not now discuss, I want this note paid.' 'I will pay that note,' said Mr. Winslow, 'before half-past ten o'clock to-morrow.' 'That will not do,' replied Mr. Potter, 'I want the money now.' Mr. Winslow hesitated for a moment and then said: 'I will pay it within ten minutes.' As Mr. Potter left the News office it was five minutes to 3 o'clock, and soon after Mr. Winslow brought the money in and, as he handed it to Mr. Potter and received the note, he said: "You need not count it, for it came from the Exchange Bank." Mr. Winslow then burst into tears, and said he had been sorely pressed, but he thanked God he was now out of his difficulties. Mr. Potter then said to him: 'Winslow, how much more of this kind of paper have you put upon the market?' Winslow assured Mr. Potter that he was the only piece. 'I don't know why I did such a thing, but I supposed it would not be known, for I have made arrangements with a savings bank for a loan, and at last I am out of all my difficulties.' He then urged Mr. Potter to preserve silence, assuring him again and again that it was the only note of the kind, and that was his first departure from the straight path. He urged Mr. Potter to write Mr. Poland a note requesting secrecy. He asked Mr. Potter if he thought his intended visit to New York was with a view of getting clear, to which Potter replied that he had not thought of it in that light, but he was determined that he should not go to New York that day, if the note was not taken up. The confession of forgery was clear, but the evidence of the guilty transaction was in the possession of Winslow, and believing it to be Mr. Winslow's first and only transaction, Mr. Potter kept silence.—Chicago Times.

A FEW mornings ago some persons living in a house on Pennsylvania avenue, Pittsburg, Pa., were roused from their beds by cries, and found in the garden a burglar, who, endeavoring to break into the house by shattering a window pane with his arm, had cut a frightful gash in the flesh, severing one of the main arteries. His clothes and the ground for some yards around were soaked with blood, and the man died before the inmates of the house could summon a physician.

One of the New York papers recently gave its readers a homily on matrimony, and as an incentive to marriage, it states that 'there never was a time in the history of the country when there was so many charming, frugal, and affectionate maidens in the community as there are now.'

He sat in a railway car. His head was thickly covered with a mass of red hair. Behind him, in a seat, sat a man with hardly any hair on his head. He said to him: 'I guess you wasn't around when they dealt out hair.' 'Oh, yes, I was, but they offered me a lot of red hair, and I told them to throw it into the ash-bin.'

The government has just sold the old steamer Macedonia for the sum of $15,000, not having any further use for her. This vessel was captured from the British in 1812 by Capt. Stephen Decatur, then of the U. S. frigate United States. The purchaser, it is understood, intends to put this veteran on exhibition during the centennial.

A DOCTOR TERRIFIED.—A letter from Atlanta, Ga., to the Augusta Constitutionalist tells this amusing story: 'At a masquerade ball recently given, a young Benedict personated the devil. Those who saw him in costume say he was horrible to behold. During the evening, at a time when the gay maskers were having their best joy, the devil was requested to go to the door. There he found a summons from home to run for a doctor. In the excitement he forgot impersonation and rushed to the doctor's office. The son of Galen was snoring away, dreaming, of ponderous pills and prodigious powders, when the bell sounded. The ringing was of such terrific vehemence that it caused the doctor to bounce out of bed and rush in negligee costume to the door. He took one sudden, hasty glance at the disturber of his slumbers and then ran. Being an important case, the young man rushed through the doorway and commenced a vigorous search for the fugitive physician. He found him under the bed, with a pistol in each hand. It took a long time to convince the doctor that he wasn't really the cloven-footed personage he represented.'

An old musket was recently dredged up by a wrecking steamer on Long Island Sound, between Fisher's Island and Stonington, Conn. Its mountings are those of the so-called 'Queen's Arm' of the early part of the century. The barrel is completely eroded, but the black walnut stock is almost as sound as ever. On the brass butt-plate are the figures 65, probably indicating the number of the regiment in which the soldier bearing it served. It is supposed that the gun was lost overboard at the battle of Stonington, in 1814.

WEST UP.—A well-to-do farmer, not long ago, went to Manitowoc and purchased a new stove and a quantity of gun-powder, which, for fear of losing, he packed away in the stove. But as he journeyed home over the rough roads, the paper containing the powder wore out, and the powder was scattered through the stove. Arriving home, the stove was duly put up and a fire built. The stove was a fine one. It just suited his wife, and it drew finely, but as it became hot the powder ignited, and the stove took its flight through the window, taking along with it a piece of the man's nose, a good-sized piece of the boy's shin, and the sash, glass, lace curtains and all. Upon receiving his senses, he exclaimed, 'Wife, where is that powder?' The problem was solved, and hereafter we will have one careful man in our town.

BAKED BEANS THE 'DEVIL'S FOOD.'—A Massachusetts preacher, the Rev. Edwin Bromley, of the Baptist Church at Norwood, has down in the face of New England traditions and customs by warning his congregation that 'baked beans are the devil's food,' and advising them not to partake of them. While the reverend gentleman is crediting the devil with most excellent taste, it seems to have had no effect upon his flock, who are inclined to laugh at his shepherd and call him bilious. Our readers will remember that some time since we too occasion to warn the clergy against the free use of beans on Sunday mornings, but this is the first time a clergyman has publicly warned his people against their use. It is all the more surprising since this has happened in the very State where baked beans were invented, and where the savory event has given tone to theology even from the days of the fathers. If anything that we have hitherto had to say upon this subject has influenced the Rev. Bromley to make this onslaught, we shall grieve.—Chicago Tribune.
