THE WEATHER.—Rain, rain, rain! Nothing but rain has been the order of the time for the past month. To be sure it has held up now and then for a day or so; but just as surely as old Sol has let the light of his shining countenance beam on us one day, it has been sure to cloud up the next and give us a double dose to make up for lost time. We hardly know what the upshot of it all will be. It certainly has a tendency to retard our farmers in getting in their crops; and some, we fear, will, on account of the "excessive dampness," be unable to get in any crop at all. We understand that on some parts of Whidby Island, which is the most extensive agricultural district on the Lower Sound, plowing, etc., is altogether out of the question, and will be for a month to come, even should the weather turn fair, and as a matter of course, most of the farms on our river bottoms are in the same fix. We would advise those of our farmers who are fortunate enough to have farms which are not affected by the heavy rains which we are having, to put in as much land as possible, for, in our opinion, all kinds of country produce will bring good prices the coming autumn.

A GOOD IDEA.—The Board of Regents of the University have made arrangements to admit the children of Seattle into the Primary Department of the University, without charge for tuition, the Board of Town Trustees having agreed to pay the Common School Fund into the treasury of the University. We heartily commend the arrangement and think it will be advantageous both to the University and the School. The Board appointed an Executive Committee consisting of Frank Clark, Esq., H. Burnett and Rev. G. F. Whitworth.

FIGHT.—The Victoria papers contain an account of a trifling disagreement that occurred on the street in that city a few days ago, between Mr. DeCosmos and Dr. Ash. The former "waded" into the Doctor in the first instance, striking him with his fist when the parties were separated. Again the quarrel was renewed and the Doctor "pitched into" DeCosmos striking him several times in the face. They were again separated. Both gentlemen (?) are, we believe, members of the Legislature of Vancouver Island and, we presume, the difficulty grew out of legislative disagreements.

HORRORS OF WAR.—One of the boys of the third Colorado Cavalry, who passed through one season of bushwhacking in Missouri, all the battles of the border, and through an Indian campaign on the Arkansas, writes from Indiana that he "never realized the horrors of war till he got home to Indiana, and found his gal married to a stay-at-home dry-goods clerk."

The steamer Anderson sailed from Olympia at 7 1/2 o'clock this morning for Seattle and Victoria.

NARROW ESCAPE!

A correspondent writes as follows: On Wednesday last as Mr. Finkbonner, Indian agent of the Lumie Reservation was on his way to Seattle, a few miles below the Talalip Reservation, his attention was attracted by an unusual number of Indians, collected upon the shore. His curiosity being excited, he landed to see what they were about. They were a large number of the Talalip Indians, who had captured a canoe load of Hyder Indians, from Queen Charlotte's Island, consisting of 4 siwashes, 7 kloochemen and 3 children, 2 of the kloochemen were half-breeds. They had stripped them of everything, even of the clothes on their backs, and distributed the kloochemen and children among the Chiefs for slaves, and, having held a council, and decided to kill the siwashes, were in the act of plunging their knives into their helpless victims when Mr. F. fortunately made his appearance. Mr. F. says that never in his life has he seen such a manifestation of joy as was shown on his liberating the prisoners. It was some time before he got them to desist from hugging and kissing him and crying. They would even fall down and kiss his boots. Recovering what he could from the captors, Mr. F. took the rescued Indians to the Talalip Reservation. On arriving and making the facts known, the steamer Gem, Capt. Hill, happening to be there at the time, by order of A. R. Elder, Indian agent, and in charge of Mr. Henry Hale, 2d clerk in the Indian Department at Olympia, and accompanied by Messrs. Hindbough, Finkbonner, N. Crosby and Cleal, was dispatched to arrest, if possible, the ringleaders who are supposed to be the two Indians who murdered Carter on the Snohomish a few years ago. Night overtaking the party, they returned but were unable to find the savages. It was very fortunate that this outrage was stopped, for its perpetration would have brought on hostilities between the tribes resulting most disastrously to the Indians themselves.

MORMONISM.—Mr. F. Percy, a witness in the case of a Mormon marriage which came before the Divorce Court in London, writes to a contemporary: "What I did say was that 'I once saw a man and his four wives living in a small room containing three or four beds, separated by curtains only.' I may add that this was a most heart-rending case. Three of the women were sisters, sweetly pretty, accomplished English girls, whom I had known here. They were all married the same day to their Mormon elder—elder in a double sense—and what is in harmony with the discord, a butcher by trade. The heavy expression of gravity on the old first wife's face I shall never forget, and tears come to my eyes now as I remember the hopelessness of tone with which one of the young ones said, in answer to a question of mine, 'Ah, we don't sing now.' In England they used to sing like a choir of angels."

TWO SORTS.—After all, there are only two sorts of disease, says a French doctor—one of which you die, and the other of which you don't.

At a printers' festival, recently, the following toast was offered: "Woman—Second only to the press in the dissemination of news."

The Mormons have commenced cutting a canal of magnitude far exceeding anything of the kind ever undertaken in the Territory before, for the two-fold purpose of irrigation and navigation. Starting near the boundaries of the Utah and Salt Lake counties, it will wind its way along the eastern side of the valley, watering the land on its course, including a very considerable tract yet unbroken, and reaching a terminus in the city a short distance south and west of where the artesian well is being sunk, its entire length being over thirty two miles.

LUCKY MAN.—A Washington City paper says that Gen. Grant is to have as a Christmas present the centre mansion of the three known as the "Douglas Row," built for Senator Rice of Minnesota; the other two having been built for Douglas and Breckenridge. This is the third residence the General has had presented to him. In 1858 the gentleman now known as Lieut. Gen. Grant, was a clerk in his father's hild store. Better to be born lucky than rich.

DRESS.

When men wore tight pantaloons, women wore simply petticoats. It was at this time that the French Lord Ogleby, in farce, giving his tailor an order for pantaloons to fit closer than his skin, ends with this warning: "Mind, that if I can get them on I shall not take them." Towards the end of the last century the French revolution shook, with all other things the empire of dress. It gave liberty to the limbs of men. It emancipated them from tight clothing, hair-powder and pig-tails. It banished breeches and buckles and introduced trousers. At this period the female fashion was behind the male in ease. The petticoat was so narrow that it was difficult to walk in it. It was in fact, a pantaloons of one leg for two legs. The waist was just under the armpits. This thralldom was broken by the Peninsular war, which introduced what was called the Spanish dress. As if to indemnify themselves for their long restraint in the narrow clothing, the ladies then shortened their petticoats very liberally, and ankles were no mystery. But emancipation was yet partial to them and imperfect, the parallel to the trouser being still wanting; but it came with a vengeance with the crinoline. The crinoline is the peg-top trouser exaggerated, and turned the opposite way—the peg at the waist, the wide end downward. Women now live in tents—under canvass as it were. All their ways are unconfined. They walk up and down within their premises. They have succeeded in the encroachment which would be described by Blackstone as making a larger estate than they are by law entitled to. They have enormously aggrandised themselves. They are topographically thrice what they use to be in circumference.

Old gentleman, (affectionately) — "My son, why do you chew that filthy tobacco?" Precocious youth, (stiffly,) — "To get the juice out of it, old codger."

THE SEMI-WEEKLY.

SEATTLE, APRIL 16, 1866.

THE LIGHT FANTASTIC.—On Friday evening last, at Yesler's Hall, the talent, beauty and worth of Seattle, which would do credit to many a larger and older city than ours, were assembled for the purpose of having a good time in a social reunion. It is impossible for us to go into a minute description of the style of dress, and of what material it was made, worn by each of the ladies, a la London Times or Vancouver Post, for, just between you and ourself reader, we were so enrapt by sparkling eyes and prettily faces that we really didn't see what they did wear. Among the guests we noticed several "limbs of the law," who seemed to stash all thought of business for the time being and go in for a good time generally, which we certainly had.

MR. WILLIAM PICKERING, JR. called upon us last Saturday. He is just down from the Snoqualmie. He reports the Snoqualmie and Snohomish rivers very high though not as yet overflowing their banks but in the event of very warm weather, he thinks that the snow will melt on the mountains and cause very high waters. He says the Snoqualmie Falls present more than their usually magnificent appearance. The volume of water pouring over them being very much increased by the late rains.

RESIGNED.—We are informed that Prest. Barnard has tendered his resignation as President of the University, which has been accepted by the Board of Regents. Rev. Geo. F. Whitworth, at present Deputy Collector of Customs for the District of Puget Sound, has been appointed as the successor of Prest. Barnard.

DESERTED.—Three privates, Francis Brown, — McIntyre and Robert Battersby, of the 14th United States Infantry, deserted a few days ago from Fort Steilacoom. A reward of $50 each has been offered for their apprehension.

FAILED.—Spratt & Kriemler of the Albion Iron Works at Victoria have failed, we are informed. Their liabilities are said to amount to about $50,000.

PARALLEL OF THE SEXES.—There is an admirable partition of qualities between the sexes, which the Author of our being has distributed to each, with a wisdom that challenges our unbounded admiration. Man is strong—woman is beautiful. Man is daring and confident—woman is diffident and unassuming. Man is great in action—woman is suffering. Man shines abroad—woman at home. Man has a rugged heart—woman a soft and tender one. Man prevents misery—woman relieves. Man has science—woman taste.

"What a soul-harrowing thing that steamboat explosion was!" exclaimed a lady, who had just read an account of a recent blow-up. "I know a more soul-harrowing thing than that," responded a gentleman who was limping past. "What can it be?" asked the lady in surprise. "Pegs in your boots," snarled the gentleman, as he limped away.

INFLUENCE OF AFFECTION.—There is a good deal of canting about involuntary affection in the world, and all that; but a young lady should never let such foolish notions enter her head. She should allow the pride of conscientious strength of mind to keep her above every foolish, vain and nonsensical preference towards this precious fop and that idle attendant on a lady's will. She should lay it up in her heart as an immutable principle, no love can last if not based upon a right and calm estimation of good qualities; or at least, that if the object upon which it is lavished be not one whose heart and whose head are both right, misery will surely be her portion. A sudden preference for a stranger is a very doubtful kind of preference; and the lady who allows herself to be betrayed into such silly kind of affection, without knowing a word of the man's character or his position, is guilty of an indiscretion which not only reflects unfavorably upon sense, but argues badly for the nature and ground work of that affection.
