SELF-RAKING MACHINE.—The latest invention that has come to our knowledge is that of a self-raking machine, which we witnessed on trial yesterday, in this city. Attached to a Kirby reaper the simple little thing which consists of a revolving table, about fifteen inches in diameter, three wooden fingers and a rake of uniform length, say three feet, all under the control of the driver, by placing his foot upon an iron strap, raked into bundles all the grain that the machine cut, as it moved along. This model was sent to Captain Hopkins, agent for this State for the sale of the Kirby, and other agricultural implements, from California, being the only one on the coast, for the purpose of giving it a trial for the satisfaction of the people here who are interested in such inventions. The trial in California elicited great attention, and that the model may be on exhibition at the Fair at Sacramento next month he will return it to San Francisco next steamer, hoping to get it back for exhibition at the State Fair at Salem in October. The ground on which the trial was made yesterday is very rough and uneven, and the crop of oats being harvested was very light, which rendered the exhibition less effective, but as all could see who witnessed the operation, it is most assuredly a very desirable article, and one which every farmer ought to have. The action of the Kirby reaper was as satisfactory as any one could desire.—Oregonian.

COMMUNICATED.

Port Discovery, Aug. 15th.

Mr. Editor:—It having been rumored about that the Government intends locating a navy yard and depot somewhere on Puget Sound, it has caused considerable discussion among people on the lower part of the Sound as to where the most suitable place is for such an establishment. I have never heard a voice raised in favor of Port Discovery, which in the opinion of those pursuing the nautical profession, cannot be surpassed for such a purpose.

—But, perhaps, you would like to know the whereabouts of Port Discovery, for it is hardly known except to the coasting Captains, who trade with the mills of S. L. Mastick & Co., and who all claim that the Government can hardly choose a more suitable place than this bay. It is situated on the Straits of Fuca, about 70 miles to the westward of Port Townsend, but so hidden from view from the Straits by Protection Island that to a stranger passing up the Sound, it would hardly seem possible that there is such a large and beautiful land-locked bay secreted behind the island that hides its mouth.

The bay of Port Discovery was discovered by the English navigator, Captain Vancouver, who wintered here, if I mistake not, in the Winter of 1792-3, and, in his report to the British Admiralty, he makes particular mention of what a splendid natural harbor the bay was, and other officers, both American and foreign, have visited the bay; and all of them have expressed the opinion that if the Government ever established a navy yard on Puget Sound, that Port Discovery would certainly be the most suitable place.

Port Discovery is the first good harbor, after leaving San Francisco, and is a harbor of easy access and at the same time, is easily defended, having an entrance of about one and a half miles wide and an island in the center suitable for strong defensive works for the island. One side of the entrance is very high land and exactly suited for the erection of forts to throw a plunging fire on a vessel's decks; and on the other side of the bay, the land is about 30 feet high and just fitted to mount guns on for ricochet firing for hulling vessels; and then, from the fact that the English intend to build a naval depot in Esquimalt harbor on Vancouver Island nearly opposite and about 45 miles distant, it would certainly be highly judicious, not only in a strategic point of view but also in the desirability of the location.

The bay is not only capable of being easily defended by its water approaches but it is impossible for an invading force to get to it by land without making roads through an almost impassable forest cut up by ravines, gulches and hills over a country where artillery could not possibly be brought forward for service.

As for the depth of water in the bay, the Great Eastern could lie in perfect security and safety from all winds with 20 fathoms of water or more under her.

VERITAS.

EXTRAORDINARY CRIM. OR. CASE.—The Albany (N. Y.) Argus says:

People up in Montgomery county must be strange people. Alexander and Mary are a wedded couple in Spraker's Basin, he being twenty-eight and she twenty-four. They were married a year ago. The course of true love had run smooth before marriage, but afterwards an intimacy sprung up between Mary and her cousin Charles. Alexander was out digging post holes one Saturday afternoon, and as night came on, he went home and retired to bed and so did his wife. During the course of the night the husband woke up and found that the bed was encumbered by the presence of a third person. It was Charles, who had taken advantage of the sleep of the other to crawl in at the back of the bed. It might have been expected by some that Alexander would have grown angry, but he didn't. He kept his temper and quietly inquired "Who's there?" No answer. "Who's there?" he repeated. No answer yet. So the injured husband told him that he had better get up. Thereupon his wife told him to be still and let him lay. "Did you keep still?" inquired one to whom he told the story. "No," said he, "I told him to get up—I hadn't room enough myself—I was crowded." "What then?" asked his interlocutor. "Then my wife told me if I didn't lay still she would throw me out of bed." Now, Alexander, unlike his namesake, who sighed for more worlds to conquer, was not a courageous man, except in that which the poet says is the better part of valor. So he laid still; Mary and Charley laid still, too. At least, so says our history. In the morning Mary got breakfast, cleaned away the thing, and said she would not live with her husband any longer. Charles went with her, and Alexander now worships his household gods alone. Truth, certainly, is stranger than Fiction.

The result is that the Canajoharie Radii of last week contains the following notice, which we insert free of charge:

SPRAKER BASIN, June 5th, 1866.

NOTICE.—Whereas, my wife, Mary, has left my bed and board without just cause or provocation, this is to forbid all persons harboring or trusting her on my account, as I shall pay no debts of her contracting.

ALEXANDER DINGMAN.

UNBOLTED FLOUR.—Having been raised in a good wheat country, we cannot well overcome an early attachment for "mother's nice, white bread." Yet science plainly teaches that the most healthful bread is made from wheat ground without separating the bran. The coarser portions of bran keep the finer particles of flour separated so that the gastric juice of the stomach more readily penetrates and dissolves the mass, and hence the better for digestion. These coarser particles also promote the healthful action of the intestines, and prevent constipation, which is one of the most prolific causes of disease in these days. It would be far better, doubtless, if every flour bolt were removed from our great mills, and people consumed the meal of the whole wheat kernels, just as the several parts are combined naturally. Taste depends mainly upon habit; those accustomed to the unbolted flour eat it with a relish.—American Agriculturist.

THE VANCOUVER MINES.—

From a gentleman who has just returned from the mines near Vancouver, we learn that the prospects of the district are very encouraging. The granite which is running on the McConnell ledge is kept constantly at work but the results are privately known. The Rising Star ledge has a shaft to the depth of twenty-nine feet, and rock is now being taken out, a quantity of which is to be taken to San Francisco for test. The Columbia Co. have sunk a shaft some ten feet upon their ledge, and our informant is of the opinion that the rock from this mine is of better quality than any other in the district. All parties engaged are sanguine of success.—Oregonian.

THE VALLEY OF THE AMAZON.—In the lecture on the Amazon, delivered at Rio Janeiro, Prof. Agassiz said that the general impressions in regard to the Amazon river was very erroneous, not only in regard to the climate of that region, which he has been informed was unhealthy, but also to its fertility. He found the valley of the Amazon uncommonly fertile, and its climate very healthy. It was his opinion that it would one day become the mart of the world, supporting in comfort twenty millions of inhabitants.

Sassy.—The saucy editor of the Brunswick Telegraph says the ladies' hoops, on a windy day, give ocular demonstration of a "spring opening." He has apparently been studying the latest fashion in garters.

SMALL BUSINESS.—New Orleans papers tell of an old colored preacher at Port Gibson who recently baptized thirty colored converts and charged them a dollar apiece. On the following Sunday he only succeeded in inducing two to present themselves who were willing to pay. Becoming indignant at the parsimony of his congregation, he refused to baptize the two candidates, saying "he warn't gwine to slosh hisself up for no two dollars of any body's money."

WANTS TO BE A PRINTER.—A Paris letter says: The Prince Imperial has asked his father to allow him to learn the art of printing. A miniature press has accordingly been set up in his apartments and Forester, son of the well known printer of Montauban, has undertaken to initiate the child into the mysteries of his craft. It is to be hoped that the future ruler of France will likewise imbibed an early appreciation of the advantages of a free press.

NEW BETHEL CHURCH.—The new building for the Seamen's Bethel, at the northeast corner of Sacramento and Drum streets, is being rapidly built. Its length will be 60 feet, width 50 feet, and 34 feet high. The lower floor will be divided into four stories and a large school-room. The total cost of the building to the Society, aside from donations received, will be about $12,000. For the purpose intended the location of the Bethel is most appropriate.

A very coquettish-looking vehicle is now the fashion in the Bois de Boulogne. It is hung on the finest springs, and is like the car of a water nymph—a theatrical one. There is but room for the fair one and her petticoat, and she fills it as completely as an oyster does its shell. There are no hangers-on, either tiger behind or lion at the side; and, on account of its peculiarities, it is called the exclusive, by ladies, and the egoiste, by gentlemen.

A VERY SIB CASE.—One of our prominent lawyers, in conversation with a friend, remarked that there was actually danger of his starving to death. "Why, is not your credit good at the butcher's?" asked his friend. "It is not that," was the reply, "the fact is, I have no appetite for breakfast, I never have time to go home to dinner, and when I go home to supper I am generally to drunk to eat."

It seems Wigfall escaped from the country, by passing himself off, under disguise, as a paroled soldier. He asked a soldier of the guard what they would do with old Wigfall if they caught him, and the reply being "O, we would hang him," he remarked, "And you would serve him right. If I should be with you, I have no doubt that I should be pulling at the end of the rope myself."

The following is the epitaph upon a tombstone in East Tennessee: "She lived a life of virtue and died of the cholera morbus, caused by eating green fruit, in the full hope of a blessed mortality, at the early age of twenty-four years, seven months and sixteen days. Reader, go thou and do likewise."

An exchange advertises for composers "who won't get drunk, and adds that the editor does all the getting drunk necessary to support the dignity of the establishment."

A comedian lent a brother actor two shillings, and when he made a demand for the sum, the debtor turned peevishly from him and said: "Hang it! I'll pay you to-day in some shape or other." Peterson good humoredly replied: "I shall be much obliged to you, Tom, to let it be as much like two shillings as you can."

The cemetery at Andersonville—the charnel-house of the South—is the largest in the country; it contains 12,079 graves.

The Rocky Mountain News, complaining of the scarcity of female help in Colorado, wants to know if there is not, somewhere, a Mercer who can assist them. No; there never was but one Mercer and he has settled himself down into a contented, happy Benedict.—Oregonian.

GOLD PRIZES.—A Parisian has conceived the notion of opening an exhibition, at ten centimes a head to show a million of money spread out in gold pieces. He thinks he will have a rush of visitors, as the curiosity to know what a million is like, is universal.

Ed Walker, a goodsmith of Hartford, Conn., has just inherited an estate in England valued at $35,000, 000.

Garters, says an exchange, with diamond buckles are worn with 180 new hoops in Paris.

The new hoops are quite prevalent in this place but we observe no buckles. Most of the garters are of red tape, and tied above the knee.—Marion County Journal.

We are shocked—horrified. The Marion County Journal ought to be ashamed of himself.

Pope Pius IX., who completed his seventy-fifth birthday May 18, and has been twenty-two years Pope, says he is going to die in 1868.

Three things that seldom agree—Two cats over one mouse, two wives in the same house, and two lovers after the same maiden.

A contemporary tells us of the sad case of a man who was abandoned and cast upon an uninhabitable island without a shilling in his pocket.

SALT.—Is salt necessary for horses and cattle? A writer in the Massachusetts Ploughman and the California Home Journal says no. The fine Arab horse won't touch it.

If all the tops and knives were black, what a very sombre-looking world this would be.

"SISTER," said one of the brethren of a love feast, "are you happy?" "Yes, deacon, I feel as though I was in Beelzebub's bosom." "Not in Beelzebub's bosom." "Well, some of the patriarchs, I don't care much which."

A New York merchant recently advertised for a clerk who "could bear confinement." He received two answers—one from a fellow who had been ten years in the penitentiary, and the other from a woman who had fourteen children.

As CLAUDE R.'s wife sat quietly in the twilight, a fellow stole behind her and kissed her.

"Is it you, Claude?" she asked hurriedly.

"No, dear madam." A moment afterwards he was heard to exclaim: "O, yes, I am—indeed I am."

SHARP PRACTICE.—Night before last, as the express train on the Little Miami Railroad was approaching Xenia, two men entered one of the cars, and going to a seat occupied by Randolph and Peck, traveling salesmen of New York houses, held a lantern before the face of the former, and inquired in an authoritative tone of voice his name and place of residence, to which the party addressed replied, in the vernacular of the metropolis, "Aw, Randolph, sir, of New York, aw." The party with the lantern, tapping him on the shoulder, said, "You are my prisoner, sir," and drawing out a pair of handcuffs, compelled Randolph to permit him to place them on his wrists, Randolph all the time stating that there was some mistake, but nevertheless submitting.

At this stage of the proceedings, Peck ventured to suggest that they had made a mistake in arresting the prisoner, when one of the chevaliers, pulling out a pair of handcuffs and a revolver, informed Peck that he, too, was arrested, and compelled him to submit to the handcuffing.

Several of the passengers now interfered and wanted to know what it was all about. They were positively informed that the persons arrested were well known swindlers, and were now arrested for a forgery recently perpetrated in New York, and that the parties arresting them were New York detectives. Randolph and Peck were taken from the

for you have always been very kind to me. I attempted the same thing several years before I was married, but was discovered and saved, and I have always blamed them for not letting me die then. It is useless for Coroner D'anna to make any examination, for this will prove that I killed myself with my eyes open, and in the full enjoyment of senses, and will also prove what I have always said, that I am not afraid to die. I want you to send my mother all my clothes, and remember 'em my dying request, and that you shall always help her as long as you have anything left to divide—give her what you would have given me had I lived—I should have done this long since, but for her—it has been my constant study for the past year. Do not mourn for me; I love you both and do not wish to make you trouble, but I am so tired of life I cannot be happy myself nor make others around me. I shall take fifty-five cents worth of morphine—

MRS. MARY MOSELEY.
P. S. Keep me two or three nights certain. Spread my white veil over my face, not a sheet. It is twenty minutes of six, and I took it five minutes ago. Good-bye, darling. Don't forget to help mother.

LATER.—I am not sorry nor frightened the least, though I know I am dying. Do what you think best with my rings and trinkets. Remember I always loved you. Love to friends.

A GOOD FEEDER.—Some 20 years ago, a man named Standard drove a stage between Windham and Norwich, taking dinner on his return at the Half-way House. One morning he carried a turkey, which he sold to the landlord for a dollar and a quarter. On his way back he stopped for his dinner as usual, and found the same turkey, stuffed and roasted, served up in good style, with the usual trimmings. He ate the whole turkey and all the fixings, drank five or six glasses of cider, and paid but thirty-seven and a half cents for his dinner. Standard said he always wondered how they could make money keeping taverns.

...but their extracts may be taken for learned men in all parts of the world, all they pay the cost of copying.

MANUFACTURE OF EYES.—We have gleaned the following curious details of the manufacture of false eyes in the city of Paris, from an exchange: "The average sale per week of eyes intended for the human head amounts to four hundred Paris appears to have the monopoly of this strange trade, which does not lead one to conclude that the population of that gay city is very clear sighted. Twelve manufacturing flourish within the barriers, each of which gives employment to twenty workmen. English and American oculists have vainly endeavored to compete with the French artist. 'Do you see, sir,' remarked one of the first of the art, not oculists, but ocularists. 'Englishmen have not sufficient taste for this trade; their eyes are only good enough for stuffed animals.' The trade is very remunerative. The said ocularist resides in a magnificent saloon, resplendent with gilding and mirrors. His servant has but one eye, and if you want to see the effect of one of the eyes, he rings the bell and tries the eye in the wet bed servant's head, so that you may judge of the effect it will produce in your own or that of friend. For the poor there are second-hand visual organs, which have been worn by some eyeless duke or nabob, and exchanged for a new one after twelve months service."

BOUNTIES.—It is estimated that $20,000,000 will be required to pay the bounties to colored soldiers granted by the recent act of Congress. The claim agents are preparing for the golden harvest. One of the principal firms in Washington expect to realize a fortune by collecting claims under this bill. About half the estimated amount—unless the negroes

...has proved itself well adapted. Combined with ground cork, it is spread on a stout canvas, the back of which is afterward water-proofed with oxidized oil. The fabric is then printed by means of blocks in the ordinary way. The floor cloth thus produced is pliable, noiseless to walk upon, washes well, preserves its color, and rolls up like an ordinary carpet. It is very durable and its component parts will not decompose by heat or exposure to the sun or air, as will India rubber.

A CUNNING BANK ROBBERY.—Recently in Atlanta, Georgia, at about 10 o'clock in the morning, a man entered the Atlanta National Bank through an open window. The cashier and another gentleman were standing near the end of the counter, but the thief was concealed from them by an angle. He took several packages of money from the counter and threw them out of the window into an alley. The cashier, hearing a noise, went toward the end of the counter and saw the thief in the act of escaping from the window. He was in time to seize him by one leg and hold on till the other gentleman ran around and seized him outside. In this position he was held until the Police came and secured him. The packages of money he had thrown out amounted to $10,000. The prisoner gave his name as William Young, and was conveyed to jail.

A NEW WAR VESSEL.—The new iron screw-of-war Monocacy is under orders for the squadron in the East Indies. She registers over 1,000 tons, carries twelve guns of the heaviest caliber, has engines of 500 horse power, and her complement of men will be over 200, with about twenty-five officers. She is pronounced by the Government inspectors the finest man-of-war of her class ever built, and swiftest ship in the service. On her trial trip she logged fifteen knots under unfavorable cir-

...from the top of the kitchen stairs. "Why, marm," said Bridget, wiping the sweat from her red face with her checked apron, as she put her head round the staircase partition, "why, marm, you see the ice I put in the lemonade is so hard that it hasn't melted yet, though it's stirring it over the fire, I've been for the last fifteen minutes or more."

PLUCKY.—The little Kearny Herald is plucky to the core. It has heretofore preached that the two lines of the Pacific Railroad would unite at Fort Kearny. Since the passage of the bill for their union near the Rocky Mountains, it says railroads are of no account, and that all the heavy freighting will be done by wagons anyhow.

The Baltimore Sun estimates the population of that city, at the present time, at three hundred thousand.

An Irish bailiff recently undertook to serve a cupias upon a debtor, who fortified himself within his domicile. Describing his bootless efforts to secure admission, the bailiff, who made the return under oath, proceeded to say:

"Whereupon the defendant presented himself at the open window, pistol in hand, and said to this deponent that if this deponent did not instantly leave said premises, that he would send this deponent to hell, which this deponent verily believes he would have done if he had not immediately fled."

AN OLD MAN'S ADVICE.—Never attempt to strike the guilty where, by the undirected or too hasty blow, the innocent, the gallant, and the good may suffer. Never attempt to expose a villain if your efforts in so doing are likely to injure those who have been the unsuspecting dupes of this artifice. Never carry more than you carry in your pocket. Never shake hands with a man if you are not glad to see him. Never forget when you meet, to recognize your friends, and be even more

MONDAY, August 27, 1866.

"The Post-office in our village," writes a Vermont lady, "was kept in the bar-room of the tavern, a great resort for loungers. An old chap, more remarkable for his coarseness and fidelity than his good manners, was sitting there one day with a lot of boon-companions, when the Methodist preacher, a newcomer, entered, and asked for his letters. Ned Swipes asked, bluntly: 'Are you the Methodist parson just come here to preach?' 'I am,' pleasantly replied the minister. 'Well,' said Swipes, 'will you tell me how old the devil is?' 'Keep your own family record,' replied the preacher, and left the room amidst the roars of the company."

Mrs Partington, who was reading an account of the death of a venerable lawyer, was stated to be the "Father of the bar," exclaimed, "Poor, dear man! he had a dreadful noisy set of children."

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the third section of the act entitled "An act to establish a postal money order system," approved May, seventeen, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, be, and the same is hereby, amended so as to authorize the issuing of a money-order for any sum not to exceed fifty dollars, and that the charge or fee for an order for a sum not exceeding twenty dollars shall be ten cents; for an order exceeding twenty dollars shall be twenty-five cents.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That if any person or persons shall wilfully and maliciously injure, deface, or destroy any mailable matter deposited in any letter-box, pillar-box, or other receiving boxes established by the authority of the Postmaster General of the United States for the safe deposit of matter for the mails or for delivery, or shall wilfully aid and assist in injuring such mailable matter so deposited as aforesaid, every such offender being thereof duly convicted shall, for every such offense, be fined not more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not more than three years, at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That whenever it shall become expedient, in the opinion of the Postmaster General, to substitute a different kind of postage stamps for those now in use, he shall be, and is hereby, authorized to modify the existing contract for the manufacture of postage stamps so as to allow to the contractor a sum sufficient to cover the increased expense, if any, of manufacturing the stamps so substituted.

Sec. 8. Sec. 9. OUR AGENTS.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Get Back! - Hon. A. A. Denby, our Delegate to Congress, arrived at home on Wednesday last.

Screw-Loose. - We are informed that Commissioner Farnsworth has completed the exploration of the Natchess pass, through the Cascade Mountains, and has rendered his decision in favor of it as more favorable for a wagon road, over those mountains, than the Snoqualmie pass.

From Victoria. - The steamer Josie McNear, Capt. Crosby, arrived here last Thursday night on her regular trip from Victoria to Olympia.

Thanks. - Mr. W. E. Barnard will please accept our thanks for favors.

We learn that Mr. W. B. Barnard, late President of the University of Washington Territory, has been appointed Deputy Collector of Customs, instead of Rev. Geo. F. Whitworth, who has resigned and assumed charge of the University as President thereof.

The barque Mauna Kea, which arrived at Port Angeles on the 15th inst., left Honolulu on the 21st of July, making the voyage in 15 days. A quick passage.

The barque Mauna Kea, which arrived at Port Angeles on the 17th inst., had been absent on a five years' cruise in Chinese waters. She left Kanagawa, Japan, on the 14th of July, 1866.

The Captain proceeded to Port Townsend to find the Custom House, having cleared from there in Dec. 1861, and being ignorant of its transfer to Port Angeles - not having been in these waters nor any American port since then. Had he deferred his arrival a month or two, he would have, probably, found Uncle Sam's boys ready to receive him at the old port of entry.

The Br. barque Radama, which arrived at Port Angeles on the 21st inst., will receive a cargo of lumber at Port Ludlow for Amoy, China.

Passengers by the Josie McNear. - The following passengers arrived at Seattle by the Josie McNear on Monday last, not including those who proceeded to Victoria and other places, down the Sound:

Mr. Donnelson, S. W. Tucker, Dr. J. C. Kellogg, H. N. Sharps and lady, H. M. Goodrell, Chas. Egan, lady and 3 children, Geo. Gillespie, John Van Wormer, Rev. A. R. Elder, Rev. Father Vary, Patrick Murphy and Geo. Reynolds.

THANKS - Mr. J. E. Whitworth has placed us under renewed obligations for late Victoria and New Westminster papers. Mr. Whitworth, we believe, has been in the publishing business himself and consequently, knows the value of the favors he bestows upon us in this regard.

The Seattle band, on Friday evening last, proceeded to the residence of Hon. A. A. Denby in this city and serenaded him. They then proceeded to the residence of Hon. John Denny and serenaded him also. Both gentlemen appeared and thanked them in a few brief remarks.

Friday evening last, the numerous friends of Rev. C. G. Bellin surprised him at the parsonage with a purse of $25. He leaves, we understand, on the Josie McNear to-day, en route for Albany, Oregon, where he is sent by Conference to take charge of the church at that place. He is a worthy man, earnestly devoted to his sacred calling, and has won the esteem of all who know him.

Bold Robbery. - On the 21st, L. V. Wyckoff, Sheriff of King county, received the following telegram:

STEILACOOM, Aug. 21st. To L. V. Wyckoff. John Lock's safe has been robbed of $1,600. It was done by three soldiers. A young looking one, an Irishman. Four hundred dollar reward is offered for the arrest of the men and the recovery of the money.

The telegram was signed by the Sheriff of Pierce county.

The facts as we are informed, are as follows: Mr. Lock is the proprietor of a brewery at Steilacoom, and the three scoundrels came to the brewery and called for some beer. Mr. Lock proceeded down cellar, whereupon, the thieves, following him down and taking from him the keys of his safe, fastened him up in the cellar and proceeded to the safe, which they succeeded in opening and robbing of $1,600 in coin. In the safe at the same time, there were greenbacks to the amount of over $2,000, which the thieves did not, in their haste, discover. Every effort is being made to procure the arrest of the thieves, but in a country so heavily timbered and, being armed, we are informed, with muskets and well supplied with ammunition, their arrest is doubtful.

Col. O'Neil, the Fenian invader, is only 25 years of age. His brief life may be lengthened by his happy faculty as a retreat.

TELEGRAPHIC.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco, Aug. 20. - Jas. Miller had an altercation with some Italians at the corner of Vallejo and Dupont streets, which resulted in revolvers and knives being used by the Italians. After inflicting wounds on Miller, supposed to be mortal, they fled. Mat Brady of the Washington Hose Co., and Rodgers who interfered, were also wounded. The culprits were unknown.

San Francisco, Aug. 21 - Miller, who was stabbed in a cutting affray yesterday morning, died last night; the other wounded men were doing well. The affair is still shrouded in mystery, and nothing transpired tending to throw any light upon who inflicted the wounds.

Rumor is current that arrangements have been entered into between the California Steam Navigation Company and owners of different opposition steamers running to Portland and down the Southern Coast, whereby these steamers have been induced to withdraw. It is reported that the Montana will only make one more trip before being laid up. On inquiring of one of the agents, he states that he has no knowledge of any such arrangement but there is reason to believe the rumor not without foundation.

Nathaniel Whistler, who was severely injured by the falling of Sumner Street House is still lying at Dr. Murphy's office, in a low condition, with slight hopes of his recovery.

New York, Aug. 20. - The steamer New York It appears did not wait for arrival at Asplund all of the San Francisco passengers and mail. Great Eastern and accompanying vessels of the telegraph fleet spoken on the 20th, were attempting the recovery of the lost cable. Total losses by Jersey City fire $164,000.

FOREIGN NEWS.

London, Aug. 17. - Noon. - Consols 88 for money; 5-20's 68 1/2. There is nothing in regard to peace negotiations except that all is going well.

Liverpool, Aug. 17. - Noon. - The cotton sales for the week were 86,000 bales. The prices have improved. Breadstuffs are firmer.

Further Point, Aug. 20. - The steamer St. David brings dates to the 10th.

The London Times says the speech of the King of Prussia, (which has already been reported by cable) has not made a favorable impression in Paris, even among those who most approved of his success. The absence of any allusion to France offends Parisians.

The Times Paris correspondent thinks the French people would hail a war with Prussia.

Baron Werther left Berlin on the 8th for Prague. It is said that definite negotiations would be held between Austria and Italy. The King of Prussia would shortly proceed to Carlsbad where a treaty of peace between Austria and Prussia will probably be signed.

MEXICO.

Washington, Aug. 21. - Senor Romero has received the following dispatch:

Matamoros, Aug. 19. - The French have evacuated Matamoros and Saliello, and both places are now in our possession. Within a month, General Escobado will have ten thousand men, and within three months, he will be before San Luis. Tampico has been attacked by Questra, and one fourth of our forces are in possession of the place, except where the French to the number of one thousand, are concentrated. Pava and his forces were crossing the river in aid of our troops. The forces under Herroza consisting of 3,000 men, returned to the national cause and united with Pava's.

(Signed) MANUEL SOAYIBERAT.

COMMUNICATED.

Mr. Enton: - Having just returned from a trip up White river, I thought I would give a sketch of the improvements of the country.

We left Seattle and after riding six miles over the bluffs, came to the bottoms along the Duwamish where every thing looked green and flourishing in spite of the drought. We noticed as we passed along, various improvements going forward. A ride of some four miles brought us to the ferry on Black river. Mr. Foster, who keeps the ferry, has the site for making a most delightful place here, his house being on a bluff with the river in front while there are bottom lands on each side. We crossed the ferry and came to Mr. L. V. Wyckoff's farm. He is improving and beautifying things very much. We crossed the ridge and came to the White river bottoms, where we beheld beautiful fields of grain just ready for the sickle. The further we went up the valley, the better things looked and the more industrious and public spirited the inhabitants appeared to be, as the roads improved as we journeyed on. When we got half way up the valley, we had occasion to go back from the river. We were surprised to find so many farm houses all over the valley, where three years ago a man could scarcely get along. Now, roads run in every direction. Instead of the vine-maple and other trees, the cereals and different varieties of root crops now are seen, while there is room for hundreds yet to settle. We noticed the school-houses by the way side, while the juveniles were skipping round with all the joy of childhood, which made us think of our school-boy days. We reached Mr. Russell's in the evening and after tea, took a moonlight ride in company with Dr. Ballard, to his father's. We passed through some of as fine country as we wished to see. If the valley continues to improve as it has done, it will soon become one of the pleasantest sections on Puget Sound, if not the garden spot of Washington Territory. There is one mistake. Instead of holding out inducements to others to come and settle, the settlers are buying up all the land around them. The land is a composition of denuded vegetation, which has been in course of formation for centuries. We arrived home in good spirits, well paid for our trip.

I would say to all persons wishing to come to Washington Territory as farmers, to go to White river valley, the best land I know of on Puget Sound with facilities for roads, schools and churches.

JUVENILE.

Seattle, Aug. 23, '66.

Simpson, the actor, would never take medicine and his medical men was often obliged to resort to some stratagem to impose a dose on him. There is a play in which he is sentenced, in prison, to drink a cup of poison. Simpson was playing this character one night, and had given directions to have the cup filled with port wine; but what was his horror, when he came to drink it, it contained a dose of arsenic! He could not throw it away, as he had to hold the goblet upside down to show his persecutors he had drained every drop of it. Simpson drank the medicine with the innocence of a poisoned martyr, but he never forgave his medical men, as was proven at his death, for he died without paying his bill.

Dr. PERRAULT's studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of the various forms of Nervous and Physical Debility, the results of injurious habits acquired in youth, which usually terminate in impotence and sterility, and permanently induce all the concomitants of old age. Where a secret, infirmity exists involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and morality dictate the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that premature decline, of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unhappiness, compulsory single life, etc., have their sources in causes, the germ of which is planted in early life, and the bitter fruit tasted long afterward.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases in any stage, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Bubo Ulcers, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., will be treated successfully. All Syphilitic and Mercurial Taints entirely removed from the system.

Dr. PERRAULT's diploma are in his office, where patients can see for themselves that they are under the care of a regularly educated practitioner. The best references given if required.
