COME HOME, FATHER.

[The following gem is copied from an Eastern exchange. Husbands and fathers who are in the habit of spending their evenings in debauchery are requested to read it.] Father, dear father, come home with me now!

The clock in the steeple strikes one;

The clock in the steeple strikes one;
You said you were coming straight home from the shop.
As soon as your day's work was done.
Our fire is all out; our house is all dark,
And mother's been watching since tea,
With poor little Benny, so sick in her arms,
And no one to help her but me.
Come home! come home! come home!

Please father, dear father, come homel Father, dear father, come hone with me now!

The clock in the steeple strikes two;
The night lass grown colder, and Benny is

But he has been calling for you.

Indeed he is worse—Ma says he will die,
Perhaps before morning shall dawn!

And this is the message she sent me to bringCome quickly, or he will be gone!

Come home! come home! come home!

Please father, dear father, come home ! The clock in the steeple strikes three;
The clock in the steeple strikes three;
The house is so lonely—the hours are so long
For poor weeping mother and me!
Yes, we are alone—poor Benny is dead!
And gone with the angels of light;
And these were the very last words that he said!

"I want to kiss Papa gcod-night!"
Come home! come home! come home!
Please father, dear father, come home!

A CURIOUS CLOCK,-Many years ago there was a clock made by one Droz, a mechanic of Geneva, which was renowned for its ingenius construction. The clock was so made as to be capable of performing was so made as to be capable of performing the following movements: There was on it a negro, a shepherd, and a dog. When the clock struck the shepherd played six tames on his flate, and the dog approached and fawned upon him. The clock was exhibited to the King of Spain, who was greatly delighted with it. "The gentleness of my dog," said Droz, " is his least merit. If your Maja sty will touch one of the appless which you see in the shepherd's basket. ples which you see in the shepherd's basket, you will admire the fidelity of this animal." The King took an apple, and the dog flew at his hand and barked so loud that the King,s dog, which was in the same room during the exhibition, began to bark also, which the superstitions courtiers, not doubting that it was an affair of witcheraft, hastily left the room, crossing themselves as they went. Having desired the Minister of Marine, who was the only one who dared to stay behind, to ask the negro what o'clock it was, the Minister asked but received an reply. Droz then observed that the negro had not yet learned the Spanish; upon which the Minister repeated the question in French, and the black immediately answered. At this new prodigy the firmness of the Minister also forsook him, and he retreated precipitately, declaring that it must be the work of a supernatural being. It is probable that in the performance of those tricks Droz touched certain springs in the mechanism, although that is not men-tioned in any of the accounts of his clock.

WHY WE SHOULD WEAR BEARDS .- There re more solid inducements for wearing the beard than the mere improvement of a man's personal appearance, and the culti-vation of such is an aid to every diplomacy of life. Nature combining, as she never fails to do, the useful with the ornamental, provides us with far better respiration than science could ever make, and one that is never so hideous to wear as that black seal upon the face, that looks like a passport to the realm of suffering and death. The hair of the moustache not only absorbs the moisture and minsma of fogs, but it strains the air from the dust and soot of our great smoky cities. It acts also in the most scientific manner by taking the heat from the warm breath as it leaves the chest and applying it to the cold air taken in. The ances, whenever they are wanted for use.

Moffet and Livingstone, the African ex-plorers, and many other travelers say that wrapper can equal the in the night no beard. The remarkable thing, too, is that the beard, like the hair of the head, protects against the heat of the sun ; it acts as thatch does on an ice house; but more than this, it becomes moist with perspira-tion, and then by evaporation cools the A man who accepts this protection of nature may face the rudest storms and hardest winters. He may go from the hottest room into the coldest air without any dread; and we verily believe be might sleep in a morass with impunity-at least his chances of escaping the terrible fever would be better than his beardless compan-

The rioters who attempted to "clean out" the Chineso in San Francisco recently, have been fined five hundred dollars, and be confined in the county jail for three months and in case of non-payment of the line, to serve it out in rison at the rate of two dollars per day.

VETOED .- The President vetoed the recon-VETOED.—The President vetoed the reconstruction bill, and also the bill regulating the tenure of office, and Congress passed both measures over his vetoes. Reverdy Johnson voted for the bills, to rebuke the President for stubborn refusal to yield to SAILING OF THE HERMANN .- The P. M. S. S. Company's steamship Hermann sailed the other day with passengers and freight bound to Yokohama, Japan. Quite a large crowd collected on the Wharf to see her off her parting gun being returned by a salute of three guns from the shore. Quite an incident happened as she left, one of her passengers being arrested for a small debt sued out in a Justice's Court. The passenger was taken ashore, and after making some attempts to get away from the constable, finally got into a small boat with him and started after the steamer. When last seen the steamer was under way far out in the bay, the boat with passenger and con-stable on board being astern from her rud-der chains.—[S. F. Bulletin.

In the San Francisco papers, Wells, Fargo & Co. announce their appointment as the agents of the French company which has chartered the great ship, to run from New York to Brest, in Prance. The ves-sel has been thoroughly refitted, provided with new boilers, and refurnished in all de-partments. She will only carry one class partments. She will only carry one class of passengers, and has accommodation for 2,000. With her seven saloons she can dine 1,000 of them at one time. It is expected by the Commander, Sir James Anderson, that the ship will make the passage in nine days. The first trip from New York is fixed for April 9th; from Brest, April 27th April 27th.

The following is an extract from Artemus Ward's programme distributed to the audience attending his lectures in London: "Tontes, Oct. 20, 1866. Mr. Artenus. Ward; My Dear Sir—My wife was dangelously unwell for sixteen years. She was seweak that she could not raise a tenspoon to her mouth; but in a fortunate moment she connenced reading one of your lectures. She go better at once. She of your lectures. She go better at once. She gained strength so rapidy that she lifted the cottage piano quite a disance from the floor, and then tipped it over on her mother-in-law, with whom she had some little trouble. ted in an exchange: ted in an exchange:

A reporter was around hunting a house for a friend and had called to see a family who were preparing to vacate a cozy dwelling. As the door stood open, the reporter walked in without knocking, and his eyes straightway lighted on the dance of the household, who was making frantic lunges with the broomstick at something, under the bed. "Good morning, madam. Ah, you have a troublesome cat under the bed?" "Troublesome cat! No sir, it's that nesky husband of mine, and !!! have der the bed?" "Troublesome cat! No sir, it's that pesky hasband of mine, and I'll have him out or break every bone in his body!" "You will, ch?" said a faist voice from under the bed. "Now, Susie, you may just pound and rave, but I'll be dogged if I'll come out from under this bed while I've got the spirit of a man about me!" a man about me !'

A distinguished banker, charged with an immense amount of property during the great pecuniary pressure of 1836-37, said : I should have been a dead man had it not been for the Sabbath. Obliged to work from morning till night, through the whole from morning till night, through the whole week, I felt on Saturday afternoon as if I must have rest. It was like going into a dense fog. Everything locked dark and gloomy as if nothing could be saved. I dismissed all and kept the Sabbath in the good old way. On Monday all was sunshine. I could see through, and I got through. But had it not been for the Sabbath I have no doubt. I should have been bath I have no doubt I should have been in the grave.

OLD IDEAS .- Von Helmont tells us that Adam was created without a beard, but that after he had fullen and sinned, because of the sinful propensities which he derived from the fruit of the forbidden tree, a beard was made part of his punishment and his beard entire we are provided with a com-forter as well, and these are never left at home, like the umbrella and all such appli-lie made his nature aproximate. The same stigma was not inflicted upon Eve, because even in the fall she retained much of her original modesty, and therefore obtained no such opprobrious mark. Von Helmont observes also, that no good angel ever appears with a beard ; and this, he says, is a capital sign by which angels may be distinguished.

LOST OVERBOARD .- The bark Vidette. which arrived at San Francisco lately from Newcastle, N. S. W., Australia, reports that on the passage from Puget Sound to Australia, July 16, in latitude 26:22 north, longitude 128:20 west, at 5 p, m, William Post, second mate, fell overboard and was All efforts to rescue him proved fruitless. He was a native of Canada.

LORD DELIVERUS.—Queen Victoria wishes still farther to honor Sir Charles Locock Bart., sen narther to nonor Sir Charles Locock Barri, Her Majesty's family physician and the "earliest friend" of so many of the young British nobility. that the Clerk of the House cause a certified copy of this resolution to be laid before the President.

Butler, of Massachusetts, opposed the resolution. He said that there was but one way by which the house should demand the removal of a high officer—that was by improachusent.

Randell, of Kentucky, said the resolution was unusual and uncolled for.

Butler usked what should be done if the President refused to remove Smythe.

Randall said if the President did what was right he would tell the House to mind
its own business. [Laughter.]
The resolution went over.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Times' special says Rosecrans sent in his resignation two weeks since. Gen. Grant endorsed the recommendation for acceptance before action on the resignation. A letter is received from Bishop Rosecrans, the General's brother, asking for a suspension of action.

The New York Congressmen recommend the appointment of Sickles as Brigadier General in the regular army if Rosectans' resignation is accepted.

It is believed that Congress will adjourn on Monday or Tuesday next.

Washington, March 22.—A spicy de-bate took place in the House yesterday evening over the bill to appropriate one million dollars for the relief of the destitute in the South. Bingham attacked Butler's war record, calling him the hero of Fort Fisher. Butler replied in a salty speech which drew great applause. On the Democratic side of the House the debate was very acrimonious. Several amendments were rejected. The committee reported the bill back to the House. No action was taken. It will probably pass.

Chicago, March 21.—A letter from Fort

Rice, Dakotah, says the Sioux Indians at tacked and captured Fort Buford on the Yellow Stone river, and massacred all the men, women and children of the garrison.

Chicago, March 22.—Gen. Sherman

Chicago, March 22.—Gen. Sherman says the troops in his department have been placed in position to afford protection to the telegraph and mail lines across the plains. Troops are placed on the four principal routes of emigration. A portion of the troops will occupy garrisons and the remainder will be detailed as escorts and on expeditions between the posts. Geu. Hancock has organized a special force of 1,500 men with which be will proceed in person to the country of the Cheyennes and Klowas below Arkansas, and ascertain if their intentions are peaceable. Gen. Gibbons will lead a force of about 2,000 men into the Yellow Stone country, and punish the hostile Sioux who infest that region, and within the past year have killed many people. They are now in open war. No mercy will be shown to these Indians for they grant none.

The Democrats are giving the names of Radical postmasters and asking their re-moval. The President is in constant communication with English. A canvass has just been completed. The Republican State Committee say there will be substanstate Committee say there win ossussame tial gains in most of the towns, and unimportant decrease in any part of the State. Hawley's majority is estimated at 10,000. People in the other States are deeply interested in the Connecticut elections. Patterson, of New Hampshire, Nye, Logan and Van Dyke, will soon canvas the State.

In the Senate Mr. Cole introduced a bill to divide California into two judicial districts.

New York, Mirch 22 .- The Herald's special says the impression gains ground that the example of General Hamton and others in South Carolina, in regard to freedmen, will be generally followed in the Southern States. Much good will grow out of this policy to both races. The next speech of this kind is expected from Gov. Wise, of Virginia.
It is said that Gen. Lee favors the call of a Constitutional Convention under the military bill.

A story is told of a soldier who, about one hundred and fifty years ago, was frozen in Siberia. The last expression he made was, "12 is ex——" He then froze stiff as marble. In the summer of 1800 some French physicians found him, after having laid frozen one hundred. dred and fifty years. They gradually thawed him, and then, animation being restored, he concluded his sentence with "ceeding cold."

Rev. James Freeman Clarke, in a recent lecture, said he wondered why young ladies in dulged in Italian screams and tier an moans, and there the pretense of singing, and why they did not sing some of the beautiful English melodies which abound in our language—a sentiment which met with the hearty assent of the audience.

MEN OF FEW WORDS .- Some men use words as tillemen use bullets. They say but little. The few words used go right to the mark. They let you talk, and guide with their eye and face, on and on, till what you say can be answered in a word or two, and then they launch out a sentence, pierce and then they launch out a sentence, pierce the matter to the quick, and are done. Your conversation fines into their mind as rivers into a deep cinash, and is lost to sight by its depth and darkness. They will sometimes surprise you with a few words, that go to the mark like a gunshot, and then they are silent again, as if they were shooting. then they are significant again, as it they were reloading. Such men are safe counselors and true friends in every case where they profess to be such. To them truth is more valuable than gold, while pretension is too gauzy to deceive them. Words without point to them are like titles without merit, only betraying the weakness of the blinded dupes, who are ever used as promoters of other mea's schemes.

A STANGE COLOSCIE—The Burgkok Recorder describes a visit to one of the wats, or Buddhist cloisters, of the cir., the Wit P'O, which is the largest. It covers ten acres of land, paved with grey granite, and presents the difficulties of a labyriath. It contains two temples of imposing architecture.—In one is an image, twice the size of life, and covered with gold; in the other, tenk doors, beautifully inlaid with mather of pearl. The latter contains an image which far exceeds the Coloscus of Rhodes in size. It is reciting on his right hand,

Onana.—Omaha, as the eastern terminus of the Union Pacific Railway, is fast hooming up into importance. In 1853 it was the site of an Indian village; in 1857 it had a population of 3,500; it now has a population of 18,000. It is situated about mid way between New York and San Francisco, 2,000 it iles from each, Since October, 1865, the company have constructed and are running 325 miles of road westerly, and have elded the Chicago and Northwestern Company, since April last, 180 miles, a fast of railr-as-ing altogether unparallelled. They have also a contract for a bridge over the Missouri river to connect Onaha with Council Bloffs, and in reason expect by July next to have their road in complete running order to the foot of the Rocky Manutains, more than half the distance to San Francisco.

Confemptible Meanness.—About four months

CONTEMPTIBLE MEANNESS .- About four months Confemental Meanness. About four months ago Mr. Louis Fisher, a freeco painter, while engaged in his occupation on the ceiling of a church in Chelsea, accidentally fell from a staging to the pews beneath, a distance of twenty-five feet, breaking several of his ribs and receiving serious internal injuries, which will disable him for life, and from which he is now confined to his house. A few weeks since, the unfortunate man had a bill presented by the trustees of the church for repairing the pews on which he fell, amounting to the sum of $7 50, and he paid it. We doubt if a parallel case of meanness can be found on the records of any society not calling itself Christian.

Nevertheless, us a matter of accommodation, and to ease their consciences, we will take what they owe us, provided they send it imme-diately."

The strong minded women in the East are vigorously contending for their enfranchisement. Equal rights imply equal obli-gations—therefore if they want to vote they should be obliged to wear breeches, chew tobacco, "cuss," and drink mean whisky, as the men do. Let the fair Anna Dickinson then try her hand first, as she appears to be the leader in the female suffrage movement.

The gross revenue of the Girard entate will probably be $330,000. It includes nearly two hundred properties in Philadelphia, consisting of stores, dwellings, wharves, lots and farms, besides valuable coal and timber lands in besides valuable coal and timber lands in Schuylkil and Columbia countries. Some of the rents have been doubled and others tre-bled. It is hoped that the fund will soon be able to support tweive lumilred orphans. A California wife writes thus to her husband in the interior:

Dear Sir:—It may be proper, and perhaps my duty to inform you that about two months ago I succeeded in getting a divorce from you, and also that I have since married again. You may continue your monthly remittances, as I may need them for your three children. An old picture represents a king sitting in state, with a label, "I govern all"—a bishop with a legend, "I pray for all"—a soldier with a motto, "I fight for all" and a farmer, reluctantly drawing forth a purse with the inscription, 'I pay for all,"

TYRANNY OF MAJORÍTIES.

Where government is lodged in the hands of the people, the wishes of a majority must obtain against those of a minority-otherwise, democratic government is a failure. There is no perfect standard of right in any of the affairs of life; and, in the affairs of our government, that standard is the judgment of a majority of the people, and this is as it should be. Therefore, whatever shall be declared according to the established forms of our government, to be the wish of a majority of the people, must, for all 'practice! purposes, be 'taken to be right. Minorities may be firmly convinced that their views are correct, yet there is no umpire. The people are supreme, and who shall presume to sit in judgment over them? Every man has a natural right to his own opinions, and the opinions of one citizen must of necessity have as much weight as those of another; and to argue that a minority may rightfully set up its judgment and attempt to enforce it against the judgment of the majority is to argue against common

It is often a matter of policy to conciliate minorities, and as such it is often done; but as a matter of right, majorities may carry out their own views to the fullest extent without any regard whatever to the wishes of minorities. It may be said that majorities may go wrong. So they may, and often do in the beat of excitement .-But in such cases who is to determine the question of right? The only appeal that can properly be taken is to the cooler and more deliberate judgment of this same ma-

It may be said that a government of the people may become the most tyronical of all governments. It is possible that it may, but how can it be helped ? Our Constitution may be so amended, and such laws enacted and enforced by majorities, as will totally disregard the rights of minorities and oppress them individually beyond the point of endurance in natural reason and justice. In such cases there is no remedy except in open, armed rebellion, and the question then becomes a question of might. A servile cringing to the will of majorities is by no means to be counseled. So long as any question is open, every true patriot will consult only the dictates of his own conscience in the discussion thereof, and in voting thereon; but when the people have spoken and the question has been decided, to yield cheerfully and readily to their views upon the particular question until it has again arisen, is both monly and right.

The same doctrine applies with equal force to party organizations, and no one can, with propriety, claim the right to "bolt" from a party organization simply because he is out-voted; and to do so is a palpable breach of good faith. "Bolting" is as dangerous to party organizations as revolution and rebellion are to governments, and should only be attempted in cases of gross and unbearable fraud and chicanery.

UP-SOUND ITEMS.

The following items are from the Tribune: We are informed that several gentlemen from this place intend forming a party to make the attempt to asceed Mount Ranier some time during the casuing summer. We hope the movement will be pushed forward and a successful ascent made. We believe no white man has ever trodden the eternal snows of old Ranier.

From a private letter from Mr. Denny to one of our subscribers, we learn that a bill had been introduced by him into Congress, for an appropriation to indemnify citizens of Oregon and Washington Territory for property destroyed by Indians during and since the Indian war. At the date of the letter the bill was pending and its fate unknown. We are well assured, however, not only by the letter above referred to, but also by correspondence from other parties in Washington whose situation renders their statement reliable, that Mr. Denny has left no stone unturned to secure not only this appropriation, but several others looking to the internal improvement of the Territory.

Mr. J. M. Scott, of Bush Prairie, met with a severe accident on Thursday last. He fell from a load of hay, breaking two of his ribe. Dr. Cannavan was called in to attend him and he is now doing well.

On Wednesday last, says the Eugene Journal of the 9th, A. S. Patterson, ac-companied by several other gentlemen, visited the bar that has lately formed in the channel of the Willamette some five miles below here. It was feared by some that it had effectually sealed navigation to Eugene for the season; but Mr. Patterson informs us that there will be no difficulty in removing the obstructions at any time and with but little expense. We also learn that a large bar has formed in the month of the slough leading from the main river to Lancaster, rendering it impossible for steamers to reach that place.

From a private letter from Cape Grego-From a private letter from Cape Gregory, mouth of the Umpqua' river, we learn that on the 19th of February the schooner Yaquina, Capt. Juckson, from Crescent City, ran in under the lee of the island, anchored, and hoisted her colors Union down. Upon being boarded from the shore it was found that she had prung a look and that her rangely was all look and that her rangely was all leak, and that her pumping gear was all broken and useless. Preparations were at once made for repairs to the pumps. During the night of the 19th it came en to blow a gale from the southwest and continued till the 21st, when the schooner parted her cables. The captain immediately hoisted sail and ran her ashore about five hundred yards southeast from the island. Size was loaded with flour-25 tons-day goods and groceries, all of which was got out in a damaged condition. There were four men on board-all saved. The schooner, at the date of writing, was high and dry on the beach, but it was thought she could be got off.

The steamer Alert, on Friday, brought down an immense freight of floor in quarter sacks. NEW YORK, 1865.
To the FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE
CO., for the Best Family Sewing Machine.

Highest Premium! Gold Meds REASONS:

1st. Its simplicity and great range of work.

2d. The reversible feed motion.

3d. The perfect finish and substantial manner in which the machine is made.

4th. The rapidity of its working,

and the quality of work done.

5th. The self-adjusting tension.

The "Florence" was awarded the First and Highest Premium at the State Fair of California, the only Fair on the Pacific Coast at which any two double thread Sewing Machines were exhibited in com-petition in 1865.

The FLORENCE received the only premium awarded by the Mechanics' Institute, of San Francisco, in 1864 and 1865, to any Sewing Machine, Sewing Machine Co., or Agent. The claim of a competitor to a medal is without any foundation whatever.

Wherever the FLORENCE has been brought in competition with other Sewing Machines, it has always been declared the best. It is the most simple, the most substantial, the most efficient, and its use is easily learned. Every machine sold is guaranteed in the full sense of the word.

Sent to the Insane Asylam.—The following his me persons were examined yest riday by Judge flake, of the probate court, and sent to the Insane Asylam at Stockton: T.W. Flummer, native of Maine, aged 21 years, single, and by occupation a farmer. His malady appeared about five months ago, and is the result of secret vices. John Wall's another yet into fooliary habits.—San Francisco Call, Oct. 12, 1865.

Yet the quotation speaks for best in unministanble language. It points out with uncertainfieldity to every person adhirted with seminal werkness, one of the olimate easie of that dangeroes complished. At any time before reason became, in cated, these poor victims had they read the warning and followed indivice might have been saved. Let ethers, sho sharly afflicted, who have not yet passed the barner where all hope its left thehind, take warning by their untimely fate, and seak that relief which alone can secure then life and hap, hieses. An unsolicited Testimonial of Cure.

Let all who are afflicted with Seminal Weekness read the sworn to certificate dret published without the Doctor's knowledge. A remarkable case.

[Zevenue stamp.] This is to certify that I was afflicted with Seminal weekness to a degree that brought on severe fits. The trouble commenced about three years ago, when I first learned that the practice of self alwas was rubing me. I first had nervouse trembling of the limbs, pains in my back, and trouble in my mind, a confusion and loss of memory, and other debilitating symptoms of seminal weekness. I gradually grew worse and worse until finally the fits came on. At first I only had a momentary loss of mind, a dizzawas. This grew worse, until in a short time. I would remain in a confused state—for some time after I had them in my sleep. I was satisfied that I must be cured, or I would perish miscrably in one of three tigns a day, sixing me without warning and prooffating me to the earth, where I would remain for an hoar insensible. I lost recollection of persons and things. I could remember nothing for two minutes, but my great suffering. I swallowed bottle after byttle, and box into row of patent medicines. Nothing did me good. In dispair of ever being well, I prayed for death; but I was not to die for help was at hand. My friends visited the Dr. J. C. Young Institute, and I was placed under the care of Dr. Benj. P. Josselys. I very soon experienced a changer. I grew better and better, and I could go to work. My mind became clear: the nate grew lighter; I was son perfectly fire from them, and now, for over two months I layente experienced them at all. All the symptoms of seminal weakness are given and I fell as well as I ever did. It is to Dr. Ben. F. Josselyn that under God, I owe my life; and from the gratifuel o low him, I give this, my testimoney of his skill and success. If this should inou a any one unfortunately afficted with seminal weekness to submit their case to him, I shall feel that I have, in
