Advertising!

ITS USES AND ABUSES!

It carried out to fulfill the legitimate purpose for which it was originated it becomes mutually beneficial to the advertiser and the public alike. But when irresponsible firms or individuals cause to be inserted sensational advertisement setting forth inducements which they have not the remotest intention of fulfilling, then the public press unwittingly becomes the medium by which the public are swindled instead of protected. The following is a sample of what the Clerks in one of our Spokane Dry Goods stores, who advertise prices extensively, are instructed to say when customers inquire for goods advertised:

Customer—I see you advertise 15 yards of Lonsdale for $1; I would like it.

Clerk—I'm sorry, madam; but we are entirely out of Lonsdale; we have other brands, etc., etc.

Hundreds of Similar Instances can be Attributed to the Same Source.

Excitement.

There was more mine talk on the street lately than at any time since the silver panic. Parties had just arrived from the silver bearing districts, and the large crowd in the city which is usually the case Saturdays, discussed late developments and caught the fever while they talked. Mr. Bennett, Prof. Reilly, and A. C. Edwards are just in from the Chewelah district and report strikes in carbonates that surpass all other finds in the upper country. The parties brought in a large lot of rock which is now on exhibition in the show windows of the sales-rooms occupied by the A. P. Hotelling company, in Union block, and a great many novices and experts have examined the specimens. The new strike was made during the present week, and is located about 20 miles north of Embury. The ledge is well defined and the rock brought to town in pieces knocked off the groupings with an axe. It is pronounced by those who are familiar with silver bearing rock, to be fine and rich. We saw fine assays made from this ore, the lowest running 60.00 ounces with over thirty per cent. of lead. Prof. Reilly, who has been in the camp for months, and who has made hundreds of assays, pronounces this the richest and most promising strike yet made. The miners are wild over the discovery. They are all going into the district, and we have very reason to expect better finds than reported, but the boys owning the new diggings are perfectly satisfied with what they have. It settles the question as to the permanency of the district, and insures it being one of the greatest mineral regions in the northwest. The time will come when the mines will be worth thousands of dollars, and will be producing large quantities of bullion.

As Miss Abba Goewey, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Booge for some time, decided to return to her home at Sioux City, Ia., last Monday, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wilson prepared to give a party to the young people of our city, in honor of the lady, before her departure from the west.

The social affair occurred at the elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Saturday evening, and was royally enjoyed by all those present. The evening was devoted to the usual amusements that make such gatherings pleasant. Miss Goewey was the recipient of many kindly wishes for a pleasant journey home, and the expressed hope that she might renew her visit to Spokane Falls in the near future. The following ladies and gentlemen were present: Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wilson, Miss Abba Goewey, Miss Genie Gibson, Miss Blanche Douglas, Miss Fannie Watson, Misses Booge, Miss Edna Douglas, Miss May Gibson, Miss Jennie Ziegler, Miss Ella Myrick, Miss Hazel Dart and Messrs. Love, H. L. Burgoine, W. H. Maxwell, J. M. Kinnaird, O. K. Stout, Charles Vajen, Ralph Clarke, Wm. Ziegler, J. D. Sherwood and Wm. Child.

A Denial.

Some one has circulated the report that Street Commissioner Kohlhauß did not desire to hold that office for another term and was about to resign. We are informed that this is not the case. Mr. Kohlhauß is willing to continue in the office, and would accept a reappointment if the powers that be see fit to choose him for the place. In this connection it is not out of place to remark that no city ever had a more zealous or painstaking street commissioner than the present incumbent has proven to be during the past year, and we doubt if any one else would pay closer attention to the duties of the office. Mr. Kohlhauß is never idle, but constantly engaged on city business of some kind. It is owing to his constant attention that the fire apparatus is always in such excellent condition and that repairs of some kind are always going on on the streets. He is too good a man in the place to discard him now.

Correction.

The people of Chewelah and Embury are laboring under a great error if they suppose that the citizens and business men of Spokane Falls, in any manner whatever, are trying to throw any impediment in the way of the development of that section of the country. On the contrary, the business men feel satisfied that the country is full of miner's ore, and that, in due time, it will produce richly. One or two persons in a community of 5000 do not echo the sentiments of all, nor should that community be held responsible for what one or two persons may say in regard to these mines. We freely say that ninety-nine one-hundredths of the people of Spokane Falls are in sympathy with the miners of the north, are fully satisfied that the mines are good ones, and never attempt to deter parties from going into the camp. Any other idea is a mistaken notion, without cause or foundation.

Big Strike.

A gentleman named Henderson arrived in the city this week direct from Murray, and reports that six men in four days work had just cleaned up $5000 in dust in Missoula gulch. This is one of the richest strikes yet made in the Coeur d'Alene mines, and is a sample of what that bitterly maligned district is capable of producing. When the proper means are at hand for working the ground in that camp we believe it will prove to be what we have always said it would be—the richest gold diggings on the coast.

Emigration Bureau.

Saturday afternoon a number of our citizens met in E. H. Jameison's office for the purpose of making some organized movement toward securing a portion of the westward bound emigration, and providing means for caring for those who may stop off at this point in searching for homes in Washington territory. With their customary energy and phenomenal promptness those who had been solicited responded sufficiently with contributions to meet whatever expenses might grow out of the project, and through the liberality of spirit a sufficient amount has been donated to make the move successful. A permanent organization was effected by adopting the name of the Spokane Falls Emigration Bureau. E. H. Jameison was chosen president, A. A. Newberry vice-president, D. M. Thompson secretary and E. B. Hyde treasurer. The following board of directors was chosen: Jas. N. Glover, J. H. Boyd, R. W. Forrest, Dr. J. E. Gandy, W. H. Taylor, E. H. Jameison and D. M. Thompson. The objects, as above stated, are to disseminate accurate and reliable information regarding Spokane Falls and the country contiguous thereto, and to give the stranger seeking a home in the northwest every opportunity to examine the country at the least possible expense. From the known high character of those interested in this movement we expect to see it contribute more to the good of the country than any effort yet made by any people.

Society Items.

As Miss Abba Goewey, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Booge for some time, decided to return to her home at Sioux City, Ia., last Monday, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wilson prepared to give a party to the young people of our city, in honor of the lady, before her departure from the west. The social affair occurred at the elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. W. MINING LAWS

Of Spokane Mining District, Adopted April 16, 1885.

The miners now working mines in the Little Spokane river, having all been notified to meet at Whitwell and McCornick's camp for the purpose of organizing a new mining district and adopting laws for the government of the same, the following business was transacted: Mr. W. H. Whitwell was chosen chairman and W. H. Montgomery was chosen secretary.

SECTION 1. The name by which this district shall be known shall be the Spokane mining district, situated in Stevens county, Washington Territory, and bounded as follows: By the Colpel lake on the north, on the south to a line on the Little Spokane river, known as Peavine Jimmy's, on the east by the Idaho line, on the west by Loon lake.

SEC. 7. Notices of all miners' meetings hereafter held shall be given by the mining recorder by posting notices in at least three of the most conspicuous places in the district, at least ten days before the date of meeting, specifying the time, place and object of the meeting. The recorder shall call such meetings at any time when requested in writing by eight or more bona fide claimants in the district.

SEC. 8. The office of the mining recorder, and all books, papers and records appertaining thereto shall be and remain at Whitwell's camp until further action by the miners of this district.

Press Notes.

The Cheney Sentinel has entered upon its fourth year, and is in a more prosperous condition than at any time since it first started. We wish the paper many more years of prosperity.

The Yakima Farmer comes out in a gorgeous new heat. It lends an attractive appearance to the sheet.

The Walla Walla Union is luxuriating in a $90,000 libel suit. A party named Stewart considers he is injured to that extent by an article in the Union copied from one of its exchanges. The papers over at Walla Walla must run big libel accounts to justify a man in hitting them for so large an amount.

The Walla Walla Journal and Watchman are to be consolidated, and a large and improved daily issued under the name of the Journal. It is a strong combination and should result in producing a crack daily.

We have received the first number of the Coeur d'Alene Herald, an outgrowth of the defunct Rathrum Courier, and a very creditable issue. Mark Musgrove will give the Coeur d'Alene's a rattling good organ.

Judge Greene has issued his mandate that the Seattle Chronicle must be suspended if Frank Montgomery is not discharged from the editorial chair. It seems that the thin skin judge could not stand the fire from Mont's quill. It remains to be seen what will come of it.

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer has entered its eighth volume. This paper is undoubtedly a well managed sheet, with all the characteristics of a metropolitan paper. The only drawback about it is its tendency to shed its skin at every election, and a man must be fully acquainted with the financial solidity of both parties before betting on the side it will take. This fact throws a mystery about the "principles" of the P-I, that would be amusing if it were not the influence it wields in some quarters.

Charles Hopkins, of the Colfax Gazette, has been to San Francisco to make some arrangements for perfecting his system of telegraph throughout the Palouse country. We do not understand Hopkins' intentions, but feel satisfied that there is something in it or he wouldn't take the risk.

The Chehalis Nugget is now printed entirely at home, and a very good print the boys get on it.

The Vancouver Register is a new exchange that reaches this office. It is neatly printed, well edited and consequently a very readable journal.

What is Thought of the Falls.

We have known for some time that some of our citizens have been in communication with the proprietors of the Dayton woolen mills, that was destroyed by fire in that city a few days ago, with the object of having the gentlemen rebuild their establishment in this city. As far as we can learn the gentlemen have been approached in a fair, business-like manner, and the result of the correspondence is still in doubt. We believe that if the woolen mill men will only visit our city they would meet with a hearty welcome and arrangements could be made that would prove to their advantage. The Dayton Chronicle, speaking of the mill and the efforts being made to secure its location, says: "The citizens of Dayton, when fully aroused, are not of a class to be caught napping, but it sometimes takes considerable time to arouse them. It may not be generally known, but it is a fact just the same, that strenuous efforts are being made by rival towns, notably Walla Walla and Spokane Falls, to prevail upon Messrs. Fouts, Bonnet & Rogers to rebuild their woolen mills in one of those places. Walla Walla are not afraid of, for its enterprise is not of the kind or quality to frighten any one, but Spokane Falls is composed of a class of citizens who never let an opportunity slip for showing the business population of that live town. Advances have already been made by them to the proprietors of the woolen mill property, whereby it is claimed that they can make it an object for them to rebuild in that city. The citizens of our town are composed of a different metal than we think they are, if they stand idly by and see Spokane obtain one of our leading industries without entering a protest. The firm of Fouts, Bonnet & Rogers will no doubt accept any proposition whereby they can become benefited, but they all own residence properties in Dayton, besides what is left of the woolen mill property, hence they could better afford to remain in Dayton than to go elsewhere, unless the inducements were great. Will not our leading citizens who have their all invested here, look into the matter and act before some more enterprising town plucks the fruit that is within our reach? Don't let it be said that Dayton is dead to all enterprise."

J. O. WARMOTH has had the room next to the Germania hotel, on Howard street, very handsomely decorated and improved and opens out therein to-night with a choice stock of cigars and fluids. The place is a neat, quiet resort, and Warmoth intends to keep it up in good shape. In front is a reading room, separated from the bar by a partition. The proprietor has a large circle of acquaintances in the city and will pick up considerable trade.

A LONG FELT WANT.

The Spokane Falls Immigration Bureau.

Its Objects, Its Purposes, and What it Expects to Accomplish.

Associations of citizens having for their object the encouragement of immigration, the extension of aid and information to the stranger coming into a new country for the purpose of securing homes, and particularly to guard the immigrant from a system of imposition that is liable at any place and at all times to be practiced upon the credulous, is an outgrowth of a demand created for such an organization by the influx of home-seekers from a distance to what is to them a new and entirely strange land. In all countries towards which immigration tends, and wherein the members thereof take an interest in the welfare of their fellow-countrymen, it is a natural advantage of all strangers, and especially those surrounded with their household gods, cut adrift from old associates and old homes, coming into unknown lands for the purpose of carving out a fortune and aiding in the establishment of a great commonwealth. At the eastern extremity of one of the fairest sub-divisions of this territory of states and territories, that together form a confederation surpassing in power, influence, grandeur and wealth, any nation upon the surface of the inhabited globe, Spokane Falls could not remain a passing witness to the horde of home-seekers rolling into Washington territory through the gateways of the Rocky mountains, showing evidence of the bone and sinew, and intellectual power that is to aid in developing the country and making the extreme northwestern territory at some future day a bright and glorious star on that field of azure that now boasts of so many representations of sovereign states, without an organized effort to lend assistance to these new-comers in whatever way that would be the most acceptable to them. It is the presumption that the class of immigrants now seeking homes in this territory come not as the indigent and pauper. They have perhaps left localities where they were born and raised, following in the footsteps of past generations. They have heard of the vast west with its great resources and possibilities, and cutting loose from kindred and familiar surroundings, have followed in the trail of the declining sun for the purpose of casting their fortunes with this new country, known to them only by hearsay and what they have read. And it is for that reason that it is well that the older residents of the towns along the line of railway should perfect some system whereby these strangers can be given truthful and reliable information, and that such courtesy should be shown them as to enable them to make personal examination of the territory and decide for themselves. It is not the intention of the Spokane Falls Immigration Bureau to dissemble nor mislead those who may see fit to stop off at Spokane Falls for the purpose of looking over this section. It is formed on a broader and more liberal principle. Those who are connected with the movement are responsible citizens. They believe that they can show the homeseekers opportunities that will prove advantageous to them. He is invited to stop off at the Falls and every care will be taken to make his stay pleasant and profitable. Gentlemen upon whom he can rely will give him all the information in their power. Imposition from no quarter will be tolerated. He will be treated as a man. After looking over the inducements held out to his section, and the immigration laws that he wants to make more extended researches, no impediment will be thrown in his way and the members of the bureau will aid him God speed, and feel proud if he carries away with him a kindly feeling toward the town. Without some one to apply to the strangers would find it a difficult task to escape the importunities of sharks, or to make any satisfactory headway in their endeavors to gather information on any subject. With the formation of a recognized bureau, the traveler needs only apply to the gentleman to whom he is referred on arrival here and he will be cheerfully assisted, without charge, in securing all the information desired, and will not only be supplied with accommodations, if needed, but parties will aid him in person in visiting vacant government or railroad lands. Immigrants will be treated with courtesy and kindness. They need feel no hesitation in calling at the office of the bureau for anything they want, as it came into existence solely with a view to aiding the stranger in a strange land, looking for a location. No compensation is asked for favors, no tax for information. It is purely a local movement fostered by public-spirited citizens, anxious to give all ample opportunity to inspect the city of Spokane Falls and the agricultural sections of Spokane and Stevens counties, feeling that the inducements to home seekers are as great here as anywhere in the territory, willing to show the lands upon their merits, and if the members do not succeed in convincing the visitors of these facts, no harm is done and no one is injured, nor will any one feel aggrieved.

—Immigrants with families arriving in this city, if feeling that they cannot afford to put up as a hotel, will be supplied with accommodations. Families can be left in this city with perfect safety while the heads of the same are out looking up lands and locations.
—Persons or firms liable to pay special taxes as a wholesaler or retail dealer in liquor and dealers in cigars and tobacco, are required to renew their special tax stamps prior to May 1, 1885. Applications should be mailed to E. L. Herrif, deputy collector, Walla Walla, W. T., without delay.
—M. O. McCoy, of Rockford, the genial gentleman who went through a whooping last fall on the republican ticket in the race for assessor, has been in the city for a day or two. He has a whole school of friends over this way who are always glad to see him.
—It is now stated that a road can be laid out from this city to the south fork of the Columbia making the distance but 45 miles. This route will probably be established this summer. It will bring Spokane Falls within easy reach of the mines on that stream, saving a journey of about 100 miles.
—Orchard and Sayre are at work on fifty sets of heavy harness for draught animals, ordered by parties on the Canadian Pacific. This locality, it is evident, will contribute largely to Spokane Falls in the future if the right measures are taken to secure the trade and hold it.
—Thompson & Olmsted are engaged on an immense map of Spokane county that will probably be used by the county commissioners. It gives every section of land every stream, lake and hamlet, and that accurately. The map is not only a valuable one, but it is a fine piece of work that reflects credit on the draughtsmen.
—John Todd is just home from a long trip through the Palouse country. He is bringing over with him of interest, gathered on his pilgrimage. If you see a crowd anywhere, looking the air with laughter, and a man in the center saving away with his elbows, you can bet John is relating some of his experience.
—The location of both the United States land office and a local railroad land office in Spokane Falls, makes this the best point along the line of the Northern Pacific railroad for emigrants to obtain reliable information without expense in regard to vacant lands and the price of property. Travelers should make a note of this fact.
—E. H. Jamieson received a basket of panada, daisies, and a number of other choice flowers from a friend living on the edge of town Monday. As an indication of the mildness of the springs of our Washington this species of flowers, but we can truthfully state further that flowers and grass wave luxuriantly hereabouts on the first of March.
—The people of Spokane Falls are subsiding liberally toward the fund to build the wagon and freight road this side of the steamer landing. The people of Spokane will make that town a St. Paul or Minneapolis. They are saving seed which will grow a rich harvest.—Portland News.
—All kinds of garden vegetables grow to an enormous size in this locality, and the soil produces prolific crops of turnips, potatoes, onions, squash, melons and other kinds of vegetables. The quality is equal to the quantity, and gardening on a large scale has proved profitable to all who have followed it systematically and carefully.
—Call at Washington hotel and try the new game of ten pins. Fresh beer five cents a glass.

—Joe, the front street tailor, is building a uniform for the base ball club.
—E. Thompson, a mine, looking well and repairing great activity in camp.
—R. C. Van Houten, our genial county auditor, is in the city to day, and all the boys were glad to see him. Van has a raft of well-wishers in this community.
—The Bijou restaurant seems to be keeping up a steady run of customers. The house has walked into a profitable business by carefully catering to the wants of the public.
—A social party will be given at the Peone primary school house next Friday evening, which promises to be a very pleasant affair, and which will attract a good many from our city.
—We understand that a number of residents of Sprague and Davenport have been indicted for participating in the county court house riots in Lincoln county, and reports a very interesting series of meetings during his sessions at Moscow, Idaho.
—An invitation signed by a number of citizens has been forwarded to post-Cour d'Alene, asking those who took part in representation of Pinafore that please recently, to repeat the performance in this city.
—C. M. Morgan is sprouting out his business. He has purchased the large gas and quonsetware stock from the store formerly owned by Chas. Bunch, has put a lot of extra shelving in his establishment, and has collected about him quite a large and diversified stock of goods.
—The services of the Presbyterian church will be held as usual in Glover's hall next Sabbath at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sabbath school at 9:15 a. m. The pastor has returned from the Presbytery, and reports a very interesting series of meetings during his sessions at Moscow, Idaho.
—A party just in from the Canadian Pacific reports that the contractors paid off two or three thousand laborers that were participants in the late strike, and not only discharged them, but refused them transportation over the road. He states that the whole crowd is now on the way to Spokane Falls.
—A party of miners are just in from the Kootenai and brought with them a large quantity of gold dust. The Kootenai is the best that comes into the market, and always commands $18 per ounce. From the lot this placer digger it is inferred that the placers of the Kootenai are good operators to stay with.
—The company operating in this gulch made its second claim up this season last Tuesday, and returned over $200. The reporter could not learn the exact amount as some of the larger pieces taken out contained considerable quartz, and these the company has not weighed for delivery. It is estimated, however, that the amount is up to $100. Murray Sun.
—The local ball club has ordered suits, and within a week the boys will be ready to turn out in all their gorgeousness of a fine costume. The organization contains a number of excellent performers with the bat and ball, and while they hardly believe that they can beat any club in existence, they stand ready and anxious to cross bats with any competitors in a friendly contest.
—Strangers arriving in this city can apply either to E. H. Jamieson, over the post office, or to A. A. Newberry, at the railroad, and receive all the information they desire in regard to the country, or those gentlemen will introduce them to a committee from the Spokane Falls emigration bureau, the members of which will spare no trouble in showing them around.
—Parties desiring to purchase railroad lands will be given every facility for selecting out of the large tracts in this vicinity by calling upon A. Newberry. Prices range from $2.00 to $5.00 per acre. Many immigrants come west for the single purpose of securing railroad lands, and at this point they will find a live agent who will take pleasure in showing them around.
—While most of the land in the immediate vicinity of Spokane Falls has been filed upon, yet there are a great many chances to purchase claims from parties who wish to go into other branches of business. Back a few miles from the city there is still considerable good government and railroad land open to settlement. By looking around a few days the immigrant will probably find just about what he wants.
—Report reaches us that the wagon road is now completed about 10 miles from Kingsley to the 100 men are employed who are making good headway. Mr. Bailey, formerly of Spokane Falls, who is an old bridge builder and contractor, took hold of the road last Tuesday, and is pushing it along with energy. The steamer Cour d'Alene is making regular trips, and gives excellent accommodations to travelers, as well as speedy and delightful transit.—Murray Sun.
—The northern portion of Spokane county and many portions of Stevens county contain some of the richest agricultural lands in the territory. Along the many beautiful streams of the sections mentioned are in many acres of vacant government and railroad lands that will be taken up in a few years. Those looking for choice land will have to get on to this property soon or the opportunity will be gone forever. Some of this land has been recently come into market, the surveys having been just filed.
—There is not a community in the United States so much interested in the contributions to public enterprises as the city of Spokane Falls, and none that responds so liberally. A city containing so many public-spirited citizens is bound to flourish sooner or later. While the retail trade is now dull and the place does not show the appearance of activity so conspicuous a year ago, yet our merchants are building up a very heavy jobbing trade, and the old-time life will return some time in the near future.
—A couple of gentlemen from Dayton, Meers, Long & Sumner, have just opened an exclusive music store, on the east side of Howard, south of Sprague street. The firm has already in stock a large number of the best parlor organs in use, and have a number of pianos on the way. They are determined to keep all kinds of musical instruments and a complete line of sheet music and musicians' articles. We believe this to be a good locality for an exclusive music establishment, and hope to see Messrs. Long & Sumner build up a large and lucrative business.
—A gentleman is now in the city figuring upon the feasibility of putting up another mammoth flouring mill at this point. We cannot say whether or no the project will be carried out, as the party will satisfy himself as to the probability of securing a certain market for the product of the mill before starting to build. There can be no doubt but that this is the best locality for industries of the kind in the territory, and the natural inference is that too much good flour cannot be manufactured. By the time a large mill has been constructed the home demand will be met, and the surplus can be manufactured in this vicinity. Communications should be addressed to N. R. Kellinger, manager of the club.

—It would be exceedingly difficult to answer the many questions propounded to us through the many papers of this country. There are no two persons apparently seeking the same information, while questions are asked that could not be replied to satisfactorily. To those desiring to know of the country we could say some and see it. No man should pass through this section hurriedly and base his opinions upon the fleeting view stretched from a car window. Through the courtesy of the railroad company immigrants are supplied with lay over tickets. They should stop in at Spokane Falls for a few days and put in the time carefully looking over the surrounding country and making personal observations. Of course all of the country cannot be seen in a limited time, yet enough of it can be seen to form an idea of its character. The man coming from a populous state will be disappointed in not finding houses-crowded around the city. He will understand that in a few districts, where the railroad has only penetrated recently, and which still possesses the rough edges of freshness. It is undeveloped to a large extent and its possibilities still unknown. It is a new and untried territory, and it is now for time and the hardy settler to develop them. Like all new countries it requires labor and a tenacity of purpose to build Washington territory up. It has made great rapid strides in the past few years, when nothing in comparison with what is to follow in the next five years to come. A man can no more expect to succeed here without work than he could in the community he left. The openings are many and the right man who takes advantage of them will reap the reward. Washington territory with its vast area of unoccupied, tillable lands, its boundless forests, its great extent of grazing land, its rich soil, its many opportunities, invites immigration and holds out a welcome to those seeking homes. It does not propose to support a population in idleness, nor does it promise wealth, influence and power to every man who comes to it. It says here is a great and free country, capable of producing abundantly everything necessary to the support of a population in the commercial world. Come and partake in that spirit in which this project. Every man stands on an equal footing, and the extent of his harvest depends upon the manner in which he sows.

Next Monday will be the 68th anniversary of the secret order known as the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, an organization that ranks second to none of secret organizations in the country, and which has grown with wonderful rapidity. The order is benevolent in character, and is such as no one acquainted with its workings can find fault with. Its charities are beyond computation, and many a family in distress has been relieved by the thoughtful that such an order exists. It is founded on the principles of friendship, and while, like all other societies, there are men in it who neither understand the beauties of the charges nor the sacredness of the obligations, yet, on the whole, the great majority of the members are of the better class, a credit to the order and an honor to the community in which they reside. It is customary to make some kind of public demonstration on the anniversary of the birth of the association, and on Monday, April 27th, the day will be celebrated in some manner in every city, town and hamlet in America where a lodge exists. This year the various lodges of this and Lincoln counties will hold their celebration at Cheney, where the lodge has made every necessary arrangement for receiving and entertaining all visiting brethren. The day will be devoted to a procession and the usual speaking. Jos. Douglas, Esq., of our city, is the gentleman who will address the audience upon the aims, objects and history of Odd Fellowship. In the evening a ball will be given in the Oakes House, which promises to be the largest ever given in Cheney. The lodge of this city will attend the celebration in a body, and the Falls will be largely represented and many of our residents will probably be present at the dance. The following parties are on the invitation committee from this place: J. Kreinhalt, Frank Ziegler, E. Corey, Chas. Wilson and J. M. Grimmer.
Transparations.
Parties desiring to "branch out" into the interior from Spokane Falls will find ample accommodations. A daily stage connecting with the lake steamer will be run by the Cour d'Alene mines, the richest placer gold fields now known. The weekly stages run north to Colville, taking the passenger into a rich, yet sparsely settled agricultural region, besides dumping him, if he so desires, at the new silver mining region of Chase, a section that is to see a prominent figure in our mining history. Tri-weekly stages will carry the land-seeker out into the great region to the west of us, taking in Fort Spokane, Brent, Davenport and other points, where the government and railroad lands can be seen and secured. Tri-weekly stages will run the stranger to Rockford, Farmington and the Palouse country to the south of us, that boasts of its productive lands that lay out doors. Besides these public carriers, private vehicles can be had at a small expense, and the immigrant can go wherever he wishes. The whole country lies open from this city, and the traveler makes a grievous mistake if he does not stop off at Spokane Falls and inspect this section.
A Startling Discovery.
Physicians are often startled by remarkable cures. The doctor Dr. King's new discovery for consumption and all throat and lung diseases is daily curing patients that have given up to get on to this property soon or the opportunity will be gone forever. Some of this land has been recently come into market, the surveys having been just filed.
Backlin's Arica Salve.
The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, scalds, rheum, fever, sore, scalds, chapped hands, chilblains, and all skin eruptions, and, post, twenty cures, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. For sale at the City Drug Store, in this city.
On for Cent.
The Review base ball club of this city, being fully organized, is now open to challenges from any club in the territory, and invites correspondence from the several clubs in this vicinity. Communications should be addressed to N. R. Kellinger, manager of the club.

THE BURNING OF COLON.

A Character.

IT IS THERE.

A Big Clean-up on Dream Gulch.

As the country is more systematically worked up the Coeur d'Alene mines give brighter and brighter promise of great riches. The prospect and preliminary work of last year is now giving ample returns for the labor, and it is safe to say that while there will be a great deal of gold taken out of the district this summer, a far greater amount will be cleaned one, two and three years hence, when all arrangements are perfected for handling the dirt. A letter was received in this city last evening, written by one of our townsmen to his wife, in which he states that at the last clean-up on Dream gulch thirty-seven pounds of pure dust was the result! Dream gulch, it will be remembered, has already become famous for some of its productions, but this surpasses its previous record. The gold represents a money value of over $7000. Gentlemen acquainted with the mines with whom we have talked express no surprise over the find, and state that in their candid opinion that with the proper facilities for handling the dirt the Dream gulch should will be surpassed by no other claims. While mining is an exciting pursuit, in which only a small per cent. of those engaged in it ever make a fortune, yet the news of such strikes awaken a fenshish desire among men to try their luck. There is one pleasant thing about the find we like, and that is incontrovertible proof that the gold is there, all reports to the contrary heretofore circulated notwithstanding.
