

TERRITORIAL OFFICERS. Rep. in Congress, Thos. H. Brents...

DISTRICT OFFICERS. Judge 1st Judicial District, C. S. Wingard...

COUNTY OFFICERS. Connelman, L. E. Whitehouse...

CITY OFFICIALS. Mayor, J. N. Glover...

SCHOOL DIRECTORS. Geo. A. Davis, Dr. L. H. Whitehouse...

PROFESSIONAL CARDS. J. M. MORGAN, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON...

B. F. STOLL, DENTIST.

BROWNE & JAMIESON, Attorneys and Counselors-at-Law...

HYDE & STOLL, Attorneys at Law...

G. S. MOE, Merchant Tailor...

A. H. Porter, Druggist and Apothecary...

W. H. WHITEHOUSE, Watchmaker...

For Sale.

THE UNDERSIGNED OFFERS FOR sale a handsome new two-seated hack...

W. H. RUE, Proprietor.

Spokane Falls Review.

VOL. I. SPOKANE FALLS, SPOKANE COUNTY, W. T., SATURDAY JUNE 16, 1883. NO. 5.

Chas. McNab & Co., DRUGGISTS, PAINTS, OILS AND GLASS.

SPRAGUE HOUSE, Spokane Falls, W. T. W. ZAISER, Proprietor.

W. H. RUE, Machinist and Blacksmith.

CITY MEAT MARKET, WILSON & DRUMHELLER.

California Brewery, PALMTAG & WILSON.

LAGER BEER, Wines, Liquors & Cigars.

LAUGH, and the world laughs with you; Weep, and you weep alone...

THE LAST ROLL CALL. There was just one hundred and three of us who marched out...

And a month later still the roll was called on the morning of Manassas...

Down went a company to the edge of the forest, spread out like a fan...

The roll was called on Arlington Heights, and seventy-four men responded...

White came and war was chained a while. When the south wind blew the frost away...

LAUGH, and the world laughs with you; Weep, and you weep alone...

we had charged, though every soldier knew that he was charging into the open jaws of destruction...

At Sharpshurg we numbered forty-nine old veterans, I mean. The other three had been killed on picket...

And when Lee faced southward fighting as he marched, I called the roll again. None wounded, none missing...

Only eight left! Only eight men of the one hundred and three who marched out of the hamlet that May morning!

In the dusk of evening Stonewall Jackson came down through the forests and thickets beyond the Rappahannock...

The recruits were there to answer "God's" call. No one thought of death; men cannot turn to death at once...

LAUGH, and the world laughs with you; Weep, and you weep alone...

Not a soldier in company G had been wounded; not one of those who fell back to the river's bank could show a scratch from a bullet or bayonet...

Then came Getty's charge. The eighteen old veterans were there, and the company numbered sixty-eight with the new men...

But only for a moment. A double line of blue pushed its way through the smoke, hurled itself forward, and around Top was won again...

Only eight left! Only eight men of the one hundred and three who marched out of the hamlet that May morning!

In the dusk of evening Stonewall Jackson came down through the forests and thickets beyond the Rappahannock...

The recruits were there to answer "God's" call. No one thought of death; men cannot turn to death at once...

LAUGH, and the world laughs with you; Weep, and you weep alone...

and a second lieutenant only were left to represent the one hundred and three?

There was no one to call the roll. The stark, stiff form of the lieutenant had been given to earth, and the seven men who represented company G looked to themselves...

But only for a moment. A double line of blue pushed its way through the smoke, hurled itself forward, and around Top was won again...

Only eight left! Only eight men of the one hundred and three who marched out of the hamlet that May morning!

In the dusk of evening Stonewall Jackson came down through the forests and thickets beyond the Rappahannock...

The recruits were there to answer "God's" call. No one thought of death; men cannot turn to death at once...

LAUGH, and the world laughs with you; Weep, and you weep alone...

Spokane County. Spokane county is in the north-eastern part of Washington territory and was formerly the southern part of Stevens county...

Spokane county is in the north-eastern part of Washington territory and was formerly the southern part of Stevens county...

Spokane county is in the north-eastern part of Washington territory and was formerly the southern part of Stevens county...

Spokane county is in the north-eastern part of Washington territory and was formerly the southern part of Stevens county...

Spokane county is in the north-eastern part of Washington territory and was formerly the southern part of Stevens county...

Spokane county is in the north-eastern part of Washington territory and was formerly the southern part of Stevens county...

Spokane county is in the north-eastern part of Washington territory and was formerly the southern part of Stevens county...

ADVERTISING. Made known on Application. JOB WORK. Full Sheet Poster.

Ventilation, Exercise and Grooming. Daily grooming (which means currying, combing, brushing, dusting off and wiping) is essential to the keeping of horses in health...

Ventilation is of the highest importance with regard to health, and this refers to all kinds of live stock. No universal plan of ventilation can be suggested...

The Origin of Thirteen at Table. There seems to be a universal and widespread superstition against thirteen persons sitting down at a table together...

Nominally, a car load is 20,000 pounds. It is also 70 barrels of salt, 70 of lime, 30 of flour, 60 of whisky, 200 sacks of flour, 6 cords of soft wood...

Sprague Herald: Mr. C. O. Willis, land agent for the N. P. R. R. in this district, sold during the month of May twenty-two town lots and 13,637.00 acres of land...

Winning a Wife.

The following story of the marriage of Litz, the pianist, is, if true, certainly very remarkably romantic. Litz was at Prague in the autumn of 1846. The day after his arrival a stranger called upon him, and represented himself as a brother artist in distress, having expended all his means in an unsuccessful lawsuit, and solicited aid to enable him to return to his place in Nuremberg. Litz gave him a hearty reception, and opened his desk to get some money, but found he possessed only three ducats.

"You see," said the generous artist, "that I am as poor as yourself. However, I have credit, and I can earn more money with my piano. I have here a miniature given me by the Emperor of Austria; the painting is of little value, but the diamonds are fine; take it, sell the diamonds, and keep the money." The stranger refused the rich gift, but Litz compelled him to take it, and he carried it to a jeweler who suspected that he had stolen it, had him arrested and thrown into prison. The stranger sent for his generous benefactor, who immediately called upon the jeweler, and told him the man was innocent, that he had given him the diamonds.

"But who are you?" said the jeweler. "My name is Litz," he replied. "I know of no financier of that name," said the jeweler. "Very possible," said Litz. "But do you know that these diamonds are worth six thousand forins?" "So much the better for him to whom I gave them."

"But you must be rich to give such presents," said the jeweler. "My sole fortune consists of three ducats," said Litz. "Then you are a fool," said the jeweler. "No," said Litz. "I have only to move the ends of my fingers to get as much money as I want."

Quality of Eggs.

A gentleman once remonstrated with his market-woman on the high price of her eggs, to which she replied: "Eggs is eggs now-a-days, I would have you know," meaning that they were scarce. "I am very glad to know it," said the gentleman, "for the last I bought of you were chickens." Eggs are eggs, whatever may be the price, but there is a difference in the quality even of fresh eggs. They are all manufactured alike, but they are not all made of the same material, and hence the difference. It is a well-established fact that the food of fowls affect the taste of the eggs as well as the taste of the fowls. The flesh of water fowls that live on fish has a fishy flavor, and their eggs partake of the same. So the odor and flavor of onions may be detected in the eggs of barn-yard fowls, and it does not always require a detective to perceive it. All this might be inferred from the slightest knowledge of animal physiology, and it is proved by actual experience.

The quality of eggs cannot be ascertained in the market, excepting as to whether they are fresh or adulterated; the proof is the same in the case of a pudding—it is in the eating. But those who keep fowls and have their eggs to sell, or who may know beforehand what is to be their quality. If you have the right kind of fowls it depends largely on their food. Fowls should be kept in a clean, wholesome place. They should have clean food to eat and only clean water to drink. They should not be allowed to live on the dung hill, but should have plenty of good and wholesome food. Corn and wheat are good enough for a staple diet. Buckwheat will not furnish as rich eggs as either of these. Fowls should have some kind of green food. In summer they gather it for themselves when they run at large; in winter it should be provided for them. Cabbage and other vegetables should be laid up expressly for their use in the winter season. In order to ensure their laying freely they require some kind of animal food. In summer they gather it by catching grasshoppers and various kinds of insects, but in winter they have no such resource. Refuse pieces of meat, liver, etc., may be obtained at the butchers, and scraps of meat from the table should be given them.

But whatever they feed on, care should be taken to have it cleanly. It is well worth the expenditure to try different kinds of food, and then test the quality of the eggs. Great satisfaction will be found in the result of good care and clean feeding. —N. Y. Observer.

Several of our subscribers having inquired of us in reference to indemnity lands being thrown open for settlement, we have taken the trouble to go through our files and find that a special to the Chicago Tribune, under date of May 23, has long run by Secretary Teller from which we make the following extracts: "The first step towards making the selections of lands in the indemnity strip was to ascertain how much land had been lost by pre-emption entry within the granted tract. This railroad could not ascertain except by a search through the local land offices, which would consume a vast amount of time. It will require much time for the government to do this. The land office informs me that fully two months will be required to make an exact compilation of all the quarter and half sections that have been taken out from within the granted tract along the vast line of the Northern Pacific within its granted tract. That company will be required to make its selections within the first indemnity strip. This the road has expressed a willingness to do, and it is, therefore, probable that such odd sections within the first indemnity strip may not be required to make good the deficiencies within the granted tract will be opened for settlement this summer. Of course the even numbered sections are open at any time." Up to the present time no indemnity lands have been thrown open to settlement on the Western division of the N. P. R. R. which includes this county. —Dayton Chronicle.

1776. 1883.

1776. 1883. A gentleman once remonstrated with his market-woman on the high price of her eggs, to which she replied: "Eggs is eggs now-a-days, I would have you know," meaning that they were scarce. "I am very glad to know it," said the gentleman, "for the last I bought of you were chickens." Eggs are eggs, whatever may be the price, but there is a difference in the quality even of fresh eggs. They are all manufactured alike, but they are not all made of the same material, and hence the difference. It is a well-established fact that the food of fowls affect the taste of the eggs as well as the taste of the fowls. The flesh of water fowls that live on fish has a fishy flavor, and their eggs partake of the same. So the odor and flavor of onions may be detected in the eggs of barn-yard fowls, and it does not always require a detective to perceive it. All this might be inferred from the slightest knowledge of animal physiology, and it is proved by actual experience.

The quality of eggs cannot be ascertained in the market, excepting as to whether they are fresh or adulterated; the proof is the same in the case of a pudding—it is in the eating. But those who keep fowls and have their eggs to sell, or who may know beforehand what is to be their quality. If you have the right kind of fowls it depends largely on their food. Fowls should be kept in a clean, wholesome place. They should have clean food to eat and only clean water to drink. They should not be allowed to live on the dung hill, but should have plenty of good and wholesome food. Corn and wheat are good enough for a staple diet. Buckwheat will not furnish as rich eggs as either of these. Fowls should have some kind of green food. In summer they gather it for themselves when they run at large; in winter it should be provided for them. Cabbage and other vegetables should be laid up expressly for their use in the winter season. In order to ensure their laying freely they require some kind of animal food. In summer they gather it by catching grasshoppers and various kinds of insects, but in winter they have no such resource. Refuse pieces of meat, liver, etc., may be obtained at the butchers, and scraps of meat from the table should be given them.

But whatever they feed on, care should be taken to have it cleanly. It is well worth the expenditure to try different kinds of food, and then test the quality of the eggs. Great satisfaction will be found in the result of good care and clean feeding. —N. Y. Observer.

Several of our subscribers having inquired of us in reference to indemnity lands being thrown open for settlement, we have taken the trouble to go through our files and find that a special to the Chicago Tribune, under date of May 23, has long run by Secretary Teller from which we make the following extracts: "The first step towards making the selections of lands in the indemnity strip was to ascertain how much land had been lost by pre-emption entry within the granted tract. This railroad could not ascertain except by a search through the local land offices, which would consume a vast amount of time. It will require much time for the government to do this. The land office informs me that fully two months will be required to make an exact compilation of all the quarter and half sections that have been taken out from within the granted tract along the vast line of the Northern Pacific within its granted tract. That company will be required to make its selections within the first indemnity strip. This the road has expressed a willingness to do, and it is, therefore, probable that such odd sections within the first indemnity strip may not be required to make good the deficiencies within the granted tract will be opened for settlement this summer. Of course the even numbered sections are open at any time." Up to the present time no indemnity lands have been thrown open to settlement on the Western division of the N. P. R. R. which includes this county. —Dayton Chronicle.

A syndicate of capitalists have purchased a tract of land near Hangman creek, about a half mile from Alpha post-office, in Spokane county, and are laying out a town. Arrangements are being made for the erection of a flouring mill, and building of a bridge. —Cheney Sentinel.

Quality of Eggs.

A gentleman once remonstrated with his market-woman on the high price of her eggs, to which she replied: "Eggs is eggs now-a-days, I would have you know," meaning that they were scarce. "I am very glad to know it," said the gentleman, "for the last I bought of you were chickens." Eggs are eggs, whatever may be the price, but there is a difference in the quality even of fresh eggs. They are all manufactured alike, but they are not all made of the same material, and hence the difference. It is a well-established fact that the food of fowls affect the taste of the eggs as well as the taste of the fowls. The flesh of water fowls that live on fish has a fishy flavor, and their eggs partake of the same. So the odor and flavor of onions may be detected in the eggs of barn-yard fowls, and it does not always require a detective to perceive it. All this might be inferred from the slightest knowledge of animal physiology, and it is proved by actual experience.

The quality of eggs cannot be ascertained in the market, excepting as to whether they are fresh or adulterated; the proof is the same in the case of a pudding—it is in the eating. But those who keep fowls and have their eggs to sell, or who may know beforehand what is to be their quality. If you have the right kind of fowls it depends largely on their food. Fowls should be kept in a clean, wholesome place. They should have clean food to eat and only clean water to drink. They should not be allowed to live on the dung hill, but should have plenty of good and wholesome food. Corn and wheat are good enough for a staple diet. Buckwheat will not furnish as rich eggs as either of these. Fowls should have some kind of green food. In summer they gather it for themselves when they run at large; in winter it should be provided for them. Cabbage and other vegetables should be laid up expressly for their use in the winter season. In order to ensure their laying freely they require some kind of animal food. In summer they gather it by catching grasshoppers and various kinds of insects, but in winter they have no such resource. Refuse pieces of meat, liver, etc., may be obtained at the butchers, and scraps of meat from the table should be given them.

But whatever they feed on, care should be taken to have it cleanly. It is well worth the expenditure to try different kinds of food, and then test the quality of the eggs. Great satisfaction will be found in the result of good care and clean feeding. —N. Y. Observer.

Several of our subscribers having inquired of us in reference to indemnity lands being thrown open for settlement, we have taken the trouble to go through our files and find that a special to the Chicago Tribune, under date of May 23, has long run by Secretary Teller from which we make the following extracts: "The first step towards making the selections of lands in the indemnity strip was to ascertain how much land had been lost by pre-emption entry within the granted tract. This railroad could not ascertain except by a search through the local land offices, which would consume a vast amount of time. It will require much time for the government to do this. The land office informs me that fully two months will be required to make an exact compilation of all the quarter and half sections that have been taken out from within the granted tract along the vast line of the Northern Pacific within its granted tract. That company will be required to make its selections within the first indemnity strip. This the road has expressed a willingness to do, and it is, therefore, probable that such odd sections within the first indemnity strip may not be required to make good the deficiencies within the granted tract will be opened for settlement this summer. Of course the even numbered sections are open at any time." Up to the present time no indemnity lands have been thrown open to settlement on the Western division of the N. P. R. R. which includes this county. —Dayton Chronicle.

A syndicate of capitalists have purchased a tract of land near Hangman creek, about a half mile from Alpha post-office, in Spokane county, and are laying out a town. Arrangements are being made for the erection of a flouring mill, and building of a bridge. —Cheney Sentinel.

J. N. SQUIER,

Spokane Falls, Washington Territory, Wholesale and Retail Liquor Dealer, Sole Agent for the Celebrated Whiskies direct from the Distilleries, consisting of— Jos. Finck & Co.'s Wedding Rye, Five Years Old. C. E. TILTON'S & E. L. MILES' FINE OLD BOURBON. W. H. McBRAYER'S SOUR MASH, IMPORTED OLD SWAN GIN, Brandy for Medical Use, Sherry and Port Wines, Champagnes, all kinds of Bitters Dublin Stout and London Ale, Apollinaris' Willott Mineral Water. Milwaukee Beer by Case or Bottle.

BLACK HAWK

Livery, Feed, and Sales Stables, BEN. BRAVINDER, PRO. Good Carriages and Teams always on Hand. Commercial Travellers Supplied with Turnouts and Drivers. COR. MAIN AND HOWARD STREETS, OPPOSITE N. P. HOTEL, SPOKANE FALLS, W. T.

Minnehaha Carriage Shop!

HORSE SHOEING, WAGON MAKING, Repairing and Painting. Agent for FRANK BROTHERS' CELEBRATED

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

WOLVERTON BROS., Spokane Falls and Fort Spokane. Corner Riverside Avenue and Mill Street, Spokane Falls, W. T.

STAGE LINE

D. McLENNAN, PRO. Carrying the U. S. Mails and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express. LEAVES SPOKANE FALLS—Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. FOR THE FOLLOWING POINTS—Deep Creek Falls, Fairweather, Deepport, and Camp Spokane. Returning leaves Fort Spokane on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. S. G. WHITMAN, Agt.

Spokane Harness Shop!

PETER QUEBER, PRO. MAIN STREET, SPOKANE FALLS, W. T. Large Stock of Leather Goods. Farm, Freight and Buggy HARNESS, SADDLES, PAIDS, BRIDLES, COLLARS, SPURS, BRUSHES, HALTERS, SIDE-SADDLES, COMBS, and everything pertaining to a first-class Harness and Saddlery outfit, all of which I offer at prices below any house north of Portland. Call and examine my Goods.

New Furniture Store!

BLOOMER & TITUS. Manufacturers and Dealers in all kinds of FURNITURE. Picture Frames and Mouldings, LOUNGES, SPRING BEDS, BEDDING. WINDOW SHADES. North side of Main, between Howard and Stevens streets, Spokane Falls.

Spokane Brewery!

GEO. ROOS, PRO. Manufacturer of a Superior QUALITY of BEER. Beer always kept on Draught and for Sale by the Bottle or Keg. BREWERY ON POST STREET, OPPOSITE POST'S MILL, SPOKANE FALLS, W. T.

Free Ball.

Turn Out Everybody. —And Participate in the— GRANDEST, GAYEST, PLEASANTEST CELEBRATION —Ever held anywhere.

THE SPOKANE FALLS

REVIEW!

Published every Saturday

AT

SPOKANE FALLS, W. T.

—A PAPER FOR—

The Miner, The Farmer, The Merchant, The Mechanic, The Laborer,

And all kinds and Conditions of Men.

TERMS:

One Copy One Year, $3.00 " Six Months, 1.50 " Three Months, 1.00 Single Copies, 10 Cents

Business men will find the REVIEW a most excellent advertising medium through which to reach the people of this city and surrounding country.

Terms Made known on Application.

Job Printing

In all its various branches neatly executed.

Address all Communications to

FRANK M. DALLAM, Spokane Falls, W. T.