California Expert's Opinion Their Extent, Richness and Permruency.

It is with pleasure, we can, at least, present our readers with a reliable account of our neighboring mines. Mr. Legh Harnett, a gentleman associated with the local paper, the Sun, published at Murrny, on his way, to Portland, arrived in Spokaue on Saturday evening, and we interviewed him on the subject of the mines, when he gave us a most flattering account of their richness and permanency. Then come of the miles below in a direct line to the north fork of the miles are of the miles are not of the mi Coeur d'Alene river, where the same result is found. On the 20th of this month, New York capitalists are to be in Murray to complete arrange-ments for cutting a bed rock flume from the river to Murray at an esti-mated cost of $500,000. This is one mated cost of $500,000. This is one of the great things needed to open the mines fully and to develop their immense riches; and while it will

These, Mr. Editor, are all the points I have time just now to enlarge upon. Taken in connection with the new wagon road to Murray, it he excellent accommodations along the road, the cheapness of the fare—$20 for the round trip, and the short time it takes to make the trip, I think I have said sufficient to show it is about time some effort was made by your local merchants to secure this trade of the mines and keep its benefits at home, before it passes for, ever into the hands of more entertyrising men at the cast. Again the to practical and theoretical mining I know what I see. From what I have seen and tested, I doubt if Coeur d'Alene, for mineral wealth, has its equal to-day on the whole Pacific coast.

way off from the Web-foot claim, on striking pay diftr, in their first cleanup had eight pounds of gold for a week's work with eight men, or $200 to the min. This also the writer saw. Unfortunately, these companies are at law about the right to water, and this of course interferes with regular and continuous working. Other claims on the main creek, the high bars, and in the gulches, having water, are paying from 8 to 16 ounces or more for the week's work. The claim, on the

In Murray, out of a pit twelve by sixteen feet, last week took out 25 ounces. It is quite reasonable, even with the present scarcity of water, which certainly keeps two-thirds of the developed, paying claims from working, to put the general weekly receipts of gold at Murray, outside the big claims mentioned, at $4000. So mich for Murray district. With such figures, givers that cannot be gain-said, is that section of the mines, an uncertainty or a developed fact? Is the binsiness worth contending for or not?

Much the same, so far as the fu-

Much the same, so far as the fu-ture of the mines goes, when judged by actual developments, may be said Howard Wilson and Mr. Shaffer have secured the agency of five counties east of the Caecades for the sale of Gen. Grant's "Personal Meof Myrtle and Delta. I regret I did not have the opportunity to give on three the opportunity to give this section the personal investigation I desired. The Myrtle district, beyond question, is proved to be very rich. The principal claim is large and paying enormously. The exact proceeds cannot be got at as the owners bank outside of the district, merely selling sufficient gold to pay their hands. From close inquiries I heard, however, with the present great want of water, the general receipts of gold at Delta would be about 200 onnees a week, whythe and Delta form in themselves, a distinct and separate system, and have no connection with sale of Gen. Grant's "Personal Me-moirs," and are meeting with great success in the sale of the work. Oncof the listed signers for the work is Charley Tye, a Chinese cook em-ployed by S. J. There has been fewer deaths and far less demand for the places east, they are totally ignorant of the names of the business houses of Spokan and Portland, the line of goods they carry, or the conditions on which they sell. Thus, from business apathy when it ought not to exist, an immense and profitable to exist, an immense and profitable to exist, an immense and profitable trade is passing away from them which hereafter no energy or libertal error of Spokane and Portland have lost some monoy in the past by the mines, but that is no argument at present, for the mines of the past and the presentance or many for the mines, but that is no argument at the presentance of the past and the presentat Coeur d'Alene bear no comparison. The atmosphere is completely loaded with smoke, reminding one very much of two years ago. The dense smoke, coupled with the intense hear of the past week, makes a combination not altogether pleasant. There are several fires raging along the Spokane river which keeps us well supplied with the murky element.

There are two threshers in our midst at present, owned respectively by Messra. Boyer and Bartlett, of Larene. of Arkansas, one of the members of the congressional committee that is now traveling through the territories looking after the expenditures of the Indian appropriations and the number and success of the reservation schools devoted to the Instruction of the youthful aborigine. We found Col. Peel a genial and pleasant gentleman, with mone of the ostentations show that many political office holders take pains to exhibit. The gentleman has the reputation of being a bright and creditable ornament to the body of legislators that he has the honor to be a member of, and is held in high esteem among his constituency where he has been elected to a number of important offices by a large compilmentary voto from republicans as well as democrats. He informs us that the committee started west early in July and he joined the party this month. They go on from here to the Sound, probably visiting the Umatilla reservation on the route. From the northwest they go to San Francisco, returning home by the Southern Pacific, stopping in Arizona and New Mexico. More About Coeur d'Alene.

The capitalists from New York, expected at Murray yesterday passed on by rail to Bathdrum Friday. The intention of these gentlemen is to cut a large drain ditch from the north fork of the Cocar d'Alene river, to Murray, and thus give a bedrock drainage to all the mines. The estimated cost is $500,000. But there is no speculation in this matter. Probably from the start money will be taken out, enough, perhaps, to pay expenses—cretainly as the work progresses it will be so. On completion of the ditten the syndicate will reserve either six or ten chains in the heart of the mines of 20 acres each. Evidently, in this case, the percentage Entron Review:—The Big Bend being the by-word through this section of country, a whisper of the late developments may have resulted you. The latest sensation is the finding of a second rich ledge on the west fork of McCullough creek. The fortunate proprietors have but just returned, and I take advantage of the leaving of the beat to-night to give you as early news of its a possible. Mr. Jonathan Davis, the discoverer of the ledge, I have just had an interview with, and he has shown me some quarts that would delight the gyo (and pocket) of our Cosur d'Alene friends. An assay only can definitely give the vaiue of the find, but the one-night interest in the Barrett or Homestake ledge, situated a few hundred feet above this last find, "The Molly," and only separated by a small mountain stream, was sold here for $1200. The rock is nearly the same in both ledges and the number of people daily leaving here for funds it is a find that of the government, which will make it comparatively easy to get to the gold bearing district.

(From Brockville, Ont., Recorder, Aug. 8.)

"On Monday noon, August 24, the and news of the death of Win. McCullough. Deq., one of our oldest and most esteemed cilizens, took everybody with painful surprise. For weeks and days has family watebed with painful anxiety the obbing life of a kind, toving father and true friend. The same fortlitted and patient demeanor that has characterized his successful career while in health, kept from those who were nearest and dearest to him, a full knowledge of his sufferings. To him, the end is peace, to his family and friends, pain and crief. The deceased gentleman laft behind a prefectes herizing of a name respected and beloved, and his memory will be revered in town and country by a large citcle of sorrowing friends, citizons and people of all alsaes."

Mr. McCullough was the father of F. B. McCullough, was the father of F. B. McCullough, with Jos. Douglass, Esq., engaged in the real estate business in our city, and spent several weeks in this city last summer. The deceased left for his castern bone with the intention of returning to Spokane Falls at a later date for the purpose of securing a couple of thousand ckville, Ont., Recorder

The Old Dominion.

The Old Dominion.

Col. Parker, of the Walla Walla Statesman, has managed to pick up a for items in reaard to the Stevens county mines and in the following article on the subject he gives some good advice to prospectors, and tells what he knows about mineral candie. There is quite in romance at-tached to the discovery. A party of Can-adians had crossed from British Colum-tion as prospecting renture, and one day one of the party was coming home to camp, dishearmed at his want of success, be went off the trail about one hundred yards and saw the lodge looming up, and it being altogether different from the sur-rounding formation he examined it and to camp, it was tested by a common method well known to prospectors and found to be very rich in silver. Further work demonstrated it to be of fabulous values, and from all accounts there are millions in sight which is so easily worked that it can be picked down, sorted and shipped wild so, froft of thousands of dollars per week. That there was a deposit of silver in the vicinity of Colvillo has been known for years past, as at different times finat has been picked up that assayed so largely that parties even in Walla Walla, Mr. H. P. Isance being one, pad the expenses of prospose even in Walla Walla, Mr. 11. 11. Itsaace being one, paid the expenses of prespec-tors to go in search of it, but without suc-cess, and there it lay, within six miles of one of the oldest settlements in the terri-tory, and only 100 yards from a well used trail, without anyone dropping on to it. As Befan O'Linn said, "lock is every-thing." There are usen we meet every dar who have senent the best vart of their dar who have senent the tots tyrat of their never showering her manifold favors on them in return for all their perseverence. The mountains of this territory of ours hold mineral wealth in abundance ready it. Before pospecting a miner should make himef sequainted with the nature make himef sequainted with the nature of minerals, the formation, and learn what rocks are most likely to carry salver and gold. Some do not know snough to tall the difference between porphyry, limestone or talcose slate from common basalt, and we have known, in many instances, men to prospect for weeks in a basaltic country where there are not, by any possibility, be minorals. And we have seen men come in laden with speake, porphyry and even dolomite and bine limestose, thinking they had struck something rich. Young prospectors should first, on starting out, when in the mountains, look for such formations as granite, especially micacious granite or alate; there they will perhaps find gold, but they should not around for quarts on tile surface, and if they strike a ledge they should not prospect it all in one spot, but in several places, as gold is more likely to be in chimneys in the quartz. If they strike a country where the alate, timescon and porrbyry are the formations it is worth while staying with, as in these the richest mines on the ceast have boen struck, although they do not always hold out with depth."
