Our widely and favorably known townsman, John A. Todd, has aiddedaill another feature to his bottling establishment that makes it mail, at the head of houses engaged in the same business in the territory. (Mr. Todd commenced the process of receiving Milwaukee beer in bulk and bottling for this market, in a small building at the cornerof Lincoln and Sprague streets. Being a doubte-twist rustler, John soon built up a larger frade than his narrow quar-The Read Question.

As a rule in a new country the highways are more or less neglected for a number of years after settlement commences. The new arrivals have about all, they can do yd-wring land, building protestions for themselves and stock, and wittenling to the ishousind and one-things that are always to be done shout a farm. If a blind road is barely passable between one section and the centre of population that answers the passable to the individual attention than road improved that answers the passable for the time being, and there are more weightler objects awaiting fils immediate and individual attention than road improvements. After awhile the country fills uptowns spring into existence, farms are improved, but the country roads, how an important artery leading on to some newer locality it one end and a larger town or city at the order, assatil in the old original neglected condition, and the farmer wonders how he was everable to and The Road Question. Sprague streets. Being a double-twist rustier, John soon built up a larger trade than his narrow quarters would stand, and he commenced spreading out until he now occupies many square feet of work room. Recently he added soda makingtha his leer bottling works, and he has secoped the trade in that line of goods, making an excellent article and-putting it-on the market at figures that prohibits opposition. Noticing that a vast amount of mineral water is absorbed in the city from day to day, by those who pass on the rosy, Mr. Todd came to the wise conclusion that if the proper article was imported and put up here he could create a run on that light drink. Sulting the action to the thought, he purchased the necessary bottling machinery, which is now in place and working dally like a charm, and secured the agency for the justly celebrated Silurian spring water from Waukesha, Wis., which is prounoned by the best judges in the world to be the leading and most healthful mineral water in existence. The water is shipped to this city in barrels and Mr. Todd has it to the trade. Besides possessing marvelous curative powers, especially in liver and kidney complaints, the Silurian spring water in chaste and is far superior in every way to that dispensed over the bar. We believe that Mr. Todd has hit he nail on the head by introducing this water out west, and his enterprise descrees the reward that most surely will follow. The time will come when no other kind of mineral water will be called for, not only on account of its taste but also its curative properties, which has made for it a world-wide reputation. larger trade than his narrow quar glected condition, and the farmer wonders how he was overable to gut wonders how he was overable to gut up with the rough and, uncared for highway. County organization has been in existence sometime, but the county is new, funds for that purpose scarce, and it is impossible for the countisioners to keep up all of the exaultitude of roads, as it costs much money for bridge building, grating, etc. Such has been the condition of affects in September search. grating, etc. Such has been the con-dition of affairs in Spokane county. There is a big territory embraced in the sourty containing innumerable roads, many of which through sheer necessity have been neglected. Among the master spirits of our city Among the master splitts of our city it became evident sometime ago that in order to secure a fair share of the trade of this county it was absolutely nessary to make an effort to improve the many roads radi-ting from the Falls at every point for the compass. The county government could not justly appropriate any more than a fair portion of money to reval; these highways and it became a duty devolving upon our people to resort to individual subscription to accomplish the work. With that free liberality that has marked every public enterprise that the city has ever embarked in money was cheerfully contributed and the supervision of the work put, into the hands of men who add nersonal attention. AFIER the political Waterloo of last fall the republicans have been compelled to keep pretty dark. They have have had no occasion to be break out in bolsterous acclamations. On the contrary they have suffered from a feeling of humiliation and inortification that had anything but a tendency to promote hilarity. The democrak and his heramphrodite ally, she mugwump, have had the field entirely to themselves, and the hosanians of victory have only been heard from that side of the house, hard from that side of the house.

The liberality that has marked every public enterprise that the city has ever embraced in money was cheer fully contributed and the supervision of the work put, into the hands of men who paid personal attention to seeing the wishes of the people carried out, and the result is that the reading out of the city shave been put in an excellent condition. Not only, have old reads been improved but new ones built for many miles in length. Among the most expensive and extentive improvements in this line we may note the cutting through and cutting down the length of the road from east Riverside of the cutting through and cutting down the length of the road from east Riverside of the cutting from the east. The new read to Deep Creek Falls, over which there has been so much controversy, bis a fine piece of work, and reduces the distance between the two Falls reconsiderably. The heaviest piece of work for theseason was the building of an entire mew road to Spangle, that gives she people of that fine farming country direct connection with strikes city, over easy grades and is seeded. Good roads prove mutually length for properly say that all of this vast amount of road work has been done this year, and now everyholdy can plainly see the benefits to be derived from the same. In this issue of the REVIEW will be found a challenge issued by Hai Odell of this city to run Ryan 100 yards for any sum from $500 to $5000, and at any place that may be agreed upon. Mr. Odell says of the race between Ryan and binse-if at Pomerny last Saturday that as good time was run as was ever made to the northwest. Several parties took the time and the highest indicated 10j seconds as his time for the 100 yards. He feels satisfied that his running, is improving all the time and that he is six to ten yards quicker now than at the time of his first race in this city. Odell is satiswill contribute more to the growth and prosperity of a town as good roads leading into it and Spakaneites will not rest, now that they have seen the advantages of such im-provements, until every road as in condition, and every settled point within reach of the city is con-nected with a first-class wagon road. nected with a first-class wagon road.

Some time ago M. J. Haley, spe-cial timber agent, visited this city city and made many acquaintances. He is a tacitum, keen, observing little gentleman, and on the occasi ile gentleman, and on the occasion of an interview, declined to make any statement in regard to the work he had been doing. From the fol-lowing report that be has recently made, which will be read with in-terest by the people of this section, it is evident that Mr. Haley was not idle during his stay here. He sends the following letter to Commissioner Sparks:

GENERAL LAND OFFICE |

Hon. Commissioner of the General Land Office: Sirk.—I have the honor to report that 1' have complete reports of the Northern Paride railway company, and the Montana Improvement company tumber tressuass cases and herewith transmitteight reports, ment company tumber tressuass cases and herewith transmiteight reports, making, with what I had already transmitted, tilitry-one separate lindictments in all, showing that these corporations have caused to be cut from the public domain $5,100,000 feet of lumber and bridge timber, 84,741 miltrad ties, 15,400,000 shingles, (04,000 banches) $2,035 cords of wood, and 209,000 celar posts. The value, from the lumber at $10 per 1000 feet, which would be a low $g_{g} ure, the railroad ties at 40 cents per tie, the wood at $3 per cord, posts at $30 per 1000, and shingles at $2 per 1000 or 50 cents a bunch, would amount to $613,402. This does not represent all the ties and wood cut for the Northern Pacific railway cumpany by $2dy, Hammond & Co, which changed its name to the Montana Improvement Co, in July 1883, as I found it impossible to get witnesses to testify in those cases, or even to find persons of whem I could obtain anything like satisfactory information. Where the depredations were committed between Rathdrum, I. T. and Bearmouth, M. T., is very thinky settled, and the men who I. T. and Bearmouth, M. T., is very thinly settled, and the men who Ithinly settled, and the men who were employed on contracts during the construction of the Northern Pacific railway have gone to parts unknown. Owing to this, it has daken me much longer to complete this investigation than it otherwise should. I was nampered by omeers of the Montana Improvement company, who repeared to expect an investigation and were fortifying their position. The company had agents along the line attempting to suppress the facts of the Montana Improvement company's operations. press the facts of the Montana Improvement company's operations. The company is an unserupulous-corporation that will leave nothing undone to gain their point. I found that no reliance whatevor could by placed on statements made by officers of the Montana Improvement company. ious to learn whether the application made to congress some two years ago for a charter to build a railroad from this city to the Coeur d'Alene mines was a bona fade enterprise, or merely a booming speculation. It is the presumption that the writer pauses for an answer, or he would not have applied through print for information. While not a party to the transaction yet from gir limited knowledge of the circumstances connected with the prayer for a charter and the granting of the same by congress we have every reason to believe that the motives proupting the gentlemen interested in that uetton were instigated purely through an honest conviction that such a road was a public necessity, and we furthermore have ample cause to believe that at the time the charter of the first part, and the Montana Improvement company, of the section pant. From Our Regular Correspondent. ED. REVIEW:— The Cluxton creek mines for the past month have been the subject of considerable talk among prospectors and others interested in "minerals." The proper spelling of the word is "Cloughston," named from a man of that name who formerly lived on the ranch near the mouth of the creek bearing his name. For convenience the name is now generally shortened to "Cluxton." Mr. Cloughston's ranch is on the Little Dalles road, about a miles from the old garrison. He was a prospector and dug a great deal in the hills in the vicinity, and traces of his work can be seen in various places not far trom the ranch, some of his discoveries having lately been located. For several years our people have recognized the great inced of a railroad tunning from Spokane Falls down through the magnificent agricultural country south of Jhljs city, connecting with Spangle, Waverly, tookford, Farmington, Palouse city, Moscow and other points. The, people of those places and the country adjacent thereto are just as anxious to have a branch road as we are to see it, and they are so alive to the project that eyery exertion is being made to have the road styred next year. Our people should wake up to this important matter at once and lend their aid in securing such connection. A big mass meeting is to be held at Palouas city this week to consider the matter, and would it not be well for our citizens to deonsider the matter, and would it

It has got 50 that a man has no show in the world if he bets an a favorite. A square race is a confest that few have the pleasure to see. Foot meing especially has falley into such bad repute that it will be impossible to get a growd out in eastern Washington to see a contest in the future, no matter who the runpers may be. Dry Goods and Fall Pashlens.

If there is anything that in a degree matches the varied, tints and beauty of the golden colors of the autumn forest, and regales the eye with their planding shades, it is the fashlonable hues and bright designs of a well selected stock of dry goods, artistically arranged in handsome display, as for instance like that in emporium of Loewenberg Brothers of Spokane Falls.

To verify these remarks, especial attention is called to the new advertisement of Loewenberg Bros. in which they set forth the prominent features of their new and fashlonable fall stock. Their grand opening will be Monday next and continue during the week, when the most elegant collection of novelties ever imported by any western house will be exhibited! It is not within the scope of a local notice to enquagrate the great local notice to enquirate the great variety of attractions offered by this popular firm.
