A New Railroad.
PLAN FOR AN AIR LINE DOUBLE TRACK ROAD TO CONNECT NEW YORK, CHICAGO AND OMAHA.
New York, Jan. 29.—The Times prints the prospectus of a Continental Railroad Co., which proposes constructing a double track air-line road from New York, Chicago and Omaha by consolidation of free companies organized under the laws of Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania. The promoters aim to furnish a great thoroughfare for transportation of freight at less cost and with greater ease and expedition than any other line. The present trunk lines, it is argued, were originally built for local purposes and circuitous routes chosen to avoid expense or reach business centers. The new road will have sufficient grades and its carrying capacity will be three-fold that of any present line. The schedule proposed is 15 cents per bushel for grain from Chicago, 18 cents from St. Louis and 24 cents from Council Bluffs. The tariff on grain from Chicago during the past year has been but 20 cents per bushel. The management will begin with eighty trains per day each way from Chicago and New York which they expect after the first six months to increase to 100 trains daily each way. The estimated cost of the Continental railway, including stations, ground equipping, machine shops and all property and necessary appliances to put the road in first class running order, is $100,000,000. Prominent capitalists of Europe and America have already pledged the amount required to begin operations. The Times says that work will be commenced within a few weeks, and that contracts have actually been made for grading and the construction of bridges between here and Chicago. The line crosses 511 railroads between New York and Council Bluffs, and will shorten the distance of 45 miles (these roads over 100 miles. At Council Bluffs the road will connect with the Missouri river and the Pacific railway. Although the primary idea is a freight highway, it is nevertheless proposed to furnish rapid passenger transit and bring New York and Chicago within 20 hours of each other.

On short notice and on the most reasonable terms. New stable on Stevens street. Leave your orders with J. A. Johnson.

With it we will get the bulk of the trade north of us in this Territory. This city will be to Colville what Walla Walla has been to the portion of country. I believe, with anything like unanimity, a bridge can be built. Benefits of the bridge are increased trade and enhanced value of real estate. So far as mercantile interests are concerned, it does not matter where the bridge is built. I believe a bridge can be built at the foot of Post street for one-fourth less than it can be built at foot of Howard or Stevens, and one-fifth cheaper than at the foot of Washington street.

Mr. W. C. Gray said he would go toward the construction of the bridge—more for a bridge at the foot of Howard street than elsewhere. Mr. Ziegler favored the bridge a desirable thing, and said the question is, "Can we build it?" With it we will get the bulk of the trade north of us in this Territory. Real estate in this city is in very good demand.

New is the time to construct your garden and dooryard fences.

The Spokan Library has just received 40 volumes of new books. Thirty additional volumes have been sent for.

Mr. Rickard contemplates the construction of an oyster room, to fill the vacant spot between Black Hawk stable and Rick's Place, on Main street.

To-morrow President Garfield will be ushered into the White House, and Mr. Hayes, respected and honored by a great nation, will retire to private life.

Engineer Trumbull has finished his work near Pen d'Oreille lake, and has returned to this city, to finish his maps and await further orders. His party will arrive in a few days.

Mr. Hays, the N. P. bridge builder, is framing a pile-driver near the warehouse, where Howard street crosses the railroad. This driver will be hauled to Cheney and be used near that place in driving piles.

A tailor, photographer and a first-class harness maker and saddler are needed in Spokan Falls. The beautiful scenery in the vicinity of Spokan Falls will justify the permanent location of an artist in our midst, who is prepared to take stereoscopic views.

OFF FOR THE MINES.—Mr. A. J. Miner, accompanied by two assistants, and a wagon loaded with provisions and tools, left this city yesterday, bound for the new mines, where he will sink the shaft of the Callespell mine to a depth of 100 ft., and then run some cross cuts. Mr. Miner says that if he cannot get over the little Spokan otherwise, he will construct a bridge at the regular crossing. This looks like business. May success attend thee.

DEATH OF CAPT. JOSEPH LAWSON

—On the night of the 30th of January, Capt. Joseph Lawson, of the 3d Regular Cavalry, died at Fort Steele, Wyoming. Capt. Lawson was the father of Mr. Charles Lawson, one of our popular merchants. He was also well known as a brave cavalry officer to some of our citizens and many military officers and soldiers who will be pained to learn of his death. Capt. Lawson was 62 years of age at the time of his death. His wife and two daughters were with him at his death, which was hastened by influenza. A short time previous to his death he had obtained leave of absence on account of ill-health, and his son, J. E. Lawson, was expecting his arrival in California when he received the sad news.

Capt. Lawson was a native of Kentucky, and served in the Union service in his native state, and has been an officer ever since, with the exception of one year at the close of the war when he retired from the service. His personal bravery and gallant conduct during the war made him colonel in the 11th Kentucky Volunteer Cavalry.

A special dispatch from Fort Steele says:

"Capt. Lawson served through the rebellion, and on the frontier since, being one of the bravest and best officers in the service. He was the real hero at Milk river, when Thornburgh was killed by the Utes, in September, 1879.

His company held the Utes in check, with great loss, while breastworks were being built. The Wyoming Legislature specially thanked Capt. Lawson for his meritorious services on this occasion.

A CARD

A change of masters has this week taken place in the Rodney Morris school. Mr. C. B. Batten retires from that position to practice his profession in the law office of Mr. J. J. Browne, and Mr. C. A. Absolon succeeds to his place in the school. Mr. Batten retires from the school with the confidence and affection of the Rector and all the pupils. He has been eminently successful as a teacher and leaves the school wholly at his own desire and only to accept more congenial, and it is hoped more lucrative employment, in a position which was offered him some time ago. Mr. Absolon, who will now have charge of the school, is a graduate of Cambridge University, England, and is a man of sound learning and apt to teach. He is commended to the patrons of the school and all persons interested with perfect confidence by R. D. NEVIUS, Rector.

A NEW RAILROAD COMPANY.—The Minnesota Northern, which has been organized in the Northern Pacific interest, has filed amended articles defining the route as follows: "From a point on the Northern Pacific Railroad, in range 33, in the county of Otter Tail, in the State of Minnesota, and extending thence southwesterly, by the way of East Battle Lake, and Fergus Falls, to the western boundary of said State of Minnesota and thence to the Black Hills in the Territory of Dakota; and from Fergus Falls northerly up the Redwood Valley to the northern boundary line of said county of Otter Tail, and from a point of junction with the main line of said railroad above described in said county in a southerly direction through the counties of Douglas and Pope, and northerly from said point of junction by way of Otter Tail-Lake Perham and White Earth to Red Lake Falls in said State of Minnesota. The principal place of transacting the business of the organization shall be at the village of Fergus Falls, in said county of Otter Tail.

It gives the location of all the principal and many little towns between British Columbia on the north, Oregon on the south, Idaho on the east, and Camp Spokan on the west. ry Queen of Scots was wrong and contrary to every principle of justice. L. Ziegler, leader of the affirmative; C. A. Absolon, negative.

Work for this day was suspended, and all hands were at perfect liberty to enjoy themselves, an opportunity that was observed by every soldier in the garrison in an orderly and gentlemanly manner.

There being too much snow on the ground, we were unable to have any outdoor amusement, and instead gave a masquerade ball, which was held in "G" Company's quarters. It is needless to state that the room was handsomely decorated for the occasion; nor was the wants of the inner man neglected as on a sideboard in the dining hall we observed ham, canned fruit, and pies in profusion, with tea, coffee, lemonade and cigars ad libitum. In fact the affair was carried through in every particular, brilliantly, and reflects credit on the committee of arrangement for the pleasure afforded in this their first ball at Camp Spokan.

Though the dresses were not of the usually gorgeous style observed in New York, Paris, &c. yet the costumes adopted, and characters assumed, would be hard to beat, as will be seen by the following list: George Washington, Murphy, Co. F; Martha Washington, Aulet, E; Uncle Sam, Heslin, E; Miss Miranda Shupp, Quinn, F; Miss Avia Long, they, Mehan, E; Miss Ekman, Welby, E; Miss N. R. Timont, Brown, E; Southern Beauty (dark) Sergt. Swope, D; Herr Scheppe and Frau, Ziegler and Fries, E; Mons. Bon Top and Lady, Burke, D; Bajrel, E; Romeo, the irrepressible, Evana, D; Juliet, the gushing, Gettes, F; Colored German, Ballance, E; Burnt Cork, song and dance, Walsh, D (nobby); Bosen's mate U. S. S. Wabash, Goeing, E; Clog dancer, Sergt. Andrews, F; Southern Planter, O'Brien, F; &c. Those named above do not fill the bill, but your space deters me from naming all.

Occupying the reserved seats, we noticed Major Smith, Captain Cook, Lieut. Sarson and Lieut. Pickering, accompanied by their respective ladies, as also Lieut. Ulio, Lieut. Webster and Dr. J. E. Gandy, of Spokan Falls. The above distinguished visitors remained some two or three hours, and were evidently pleased with the entertainment. A dancing was kept up with unabated vigor until a late or rather early hour the following morning.

Too much notice was given to the committee of arrangement for the splendid banquet in which the whole affair was conducted, both as regards food management, the order preserved, and the excellent supper provided for their guests. Success to their next ball masque.

Rev. M. S. Anderson will conduct religious services at the school house next Sunday, at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M.

By JOHN H. MCELROY, Late of Co. 1st Regt. Ill. Cav. Andersonville!!

Andersonville!! A book of 656 large pages, with 300 illustrations, giving a full and complete history of the life and death of a soldier, who, captured by the rebels at the beginning of the war, was confined for 15 months in the prison camp of Andersonville, Ga. The author, John W. Arthur, was a member of the 1st Regt. Ill. Cav., and his experiences there are so graphic and so full of interest that the reader will find it impossible to read the book without feeling as if he were actually present at the scenes described. The book is a masterpiece of descriptive writing, and is one of the most valuable contributions to the history of the war.

656 Large Pages.

300 ILLUSTRATIONS!

PRICE, $3.00, CLOTH BINDING. The author begins with an account of the march made into the enemy's country by the cavalry command in which he was serving as an enlisted man. They met the Rebel cavalry, and after a sharp fight, were driven back to the camp. For a while the Union cavalry live off the fatness of the land, but at length they are trapped in a narrow valley, and after a desperate resistance, are all captured and sent to Andersonville. Two months of hardship and exposure on Belle Isle and the tedious march to Andersonville—the author arriving in the first fortifications and being sent to Andersonville—two months of terrible suffering, which would enter the pen of a poet, then comes the fall of Atlanta, when four out of five of those around him die. This is ended by the fall of Atlanta, when the Rebels hurry the bulk of them off to other and more remote places of confinement.

RAILROAD PROSPECTS.—The Dalles Mountaineer is informed that it is the intention of the company to put 6,000 men at work on the road between The Dalles and the Cascades this spring. Also that the connection would be made between that place and Walla Walla in 35 days after work at the front is resumed, the iron ties and other material being on hand for its completion.
There will then be at least two first-class passenger trains run over the line between The Dalles and Walla Walla, and the time made will be very fast. Mixed trains will probably be done away with—it will be either freight or passenger entirely. Without a doubt by the first of April at the furthest, through trains will run on schedule time between The Dalles and Walla Walla, and in less than two years passengers for the latter-point will take the train at the Cascades and go straight through. The company have the means to accomplish the work, and they are determined to push it through in a hurry.

RAISE CABBAGES.—The probabilities are that an army of men, several thousand strong, will be at work on the railroads being built by the O. R. & N. Co. and N. P. R. R. Co. in Eastern Oregon and Washington, during the next year or two. These men cannot and will not live on bread alone. They will consume thousands of potatoes, onions, beets, turnips, beans, peas, carrots, parsnips, besides radishes, lettuce, and such without end. Then, too, they will furnish a cash market for quantities of large and small fruits.
That farmer is wise who raises all of his various vegetables for the use of his own family. In fact it is a duty every farmer owes to his family to put in and cultivate a good garden every year. This year all surplus garden stuff will find a ready market among the railroad men. We are of the opinion that some men will get rich in this country raising cabbages for the Portland market. Steamship loads of cabbage are sold in Portland each year.—Union.

Our cattle men will do well to note the fact that black-leg is prevalent in Baker county, Oregon, and is extending into the Grande Ronde. An exchange thus describes its characteristics:
the disease is carbuncular erysipelas commonly known as black-leg, black quarter and bloody-murrain. It is a blood disease produced by too copious feeding and consequent unwholesome assimilation of the food. It is confined to young cattle in good thrifty condition and is so sudden and virulent in its attack that remedies are unavailing. When its approach is suspected the danger may be averted by a full dose of opson salts, four ounces for a two year old. As other cattle, or even man may become infected from contact with the diseased germs in the bodies of animals that have died from this malady, the carcasses should be buried deeply or better still, burned, hides and all.
