SPOKAN FALLS, THURSDAY, Feb. 21.

BASE MISREPRESENTATION.

The Tribune would have its readers believe that the late removal of a portion of the county records from Spokan Falls was "regular" in every respect. It states that "auditor Bishop, on Tuesday of this week, called his assistants together, canvassed the vote, declared the result: Cheney, 980; Spokan Falls, 575; Sprague, 10; Spangle, 12; Marshall, 2; Medical Lake, 1. Accordingly auditor Bishop very properly immediately moved the records to Cheney." Although not "regular" on the part of the Tribune editor, it would have been only fair had he told the whole truth about this questionable affair. On Monday night before the Tuesday mentioned, the county records were seized by a mob. That armed mob of lawless persons was composed of individuals who were determined to make the count tell in favor of Cheney. There is no doubt whatever that these individuals were ready and prepared to fix the returns to suit their own desires; and, if necessary to give Cheney a majority, they then and there made it appear satisfactory upon the face of the returns, while closeted in the auditor's room, with a bed blanket nailed against the window.

Furthermore, if these proceedings were intended as "regular," and could be sustained by law, why did not the proper officers appear in broad daylight, announce their intentions, and canvass the returns like honest men? If regular, why did nine individuals from Cheney hitch their teams in the outskirts of Spokan Falls at midnight, sneak into town, steal the county records, and bear them away, in defiance of law and order? If this was regular, why was this mob fully armed with guns and revolvers?

It is but fair to state that not an honest man in Spokan county sustains such lawless demonstrations. Many fair-minded men who heretofore believed the county-seat should be at Cheney denounce the proceedings of the mob in very bitter terms. Others laugh at the situation of affairs, while they despise the action of the mob.

The Cheney Tribune attacks superintendent Graves because the North Pacific stages between Spokan Falls and the end of the railroad track are to run by way of Medical Lake instead of Cheney. Any man of sense knows that those stages are to be put on the route to make money; and if it would pay better to run by way of Cheney than it will by Medical Lake, that certainly is the route they would adopt. Sad, isn't it? In the creation of this country, the Master Builder never designed Cheney to be much of a place, anyhow. Since that great event, however, railroads have been introduced, and the art of driving piles and bridging swamps has become a science; therefore, the town will soon have a railroad. The next thing to be done to keep up the reputation of the place will be to get about nine of her best citizens to sneak into the N. P. stables at midnight, steal the horses, books and superintendent, and take them to Cheney and thus get a stage line of their own in their "regular" way.

New York, March 16.—Among the stories that are current here is that James Gordon Bennett is seriously contemplating another Arctic expedition. Harry Jerome, who is in Europe with him has recently written to a friend that while Bennett is enjoying himself greatly as master of a hunt somewhere in England, yet he is very depressed and anxious over the Arctic expedition which he equipped and sent out in the name of the Herald. He considers it to be his duty to fit out another expedition and go in search of the lost one and take command of it himself. He has already telegraphed to stop work on the new yacht he contemplated building in this country, and thinks that the money he proposed to expend that way shall be devoted to the building of a vessel constructed with a view to encountering ice in the northern seas. Already he has had some interviews with Scotch ship builders on the subject. Therefore news that Bennett has seriously entered upon this new project may be expected at any time. It is a characteristic of Bennett that execution follows closely on the heels of conception.

Chicago, March 19.—The Tribune's New York special says that Mr. Billings is not at all disturbed by reports that Mr. Villard has bought a majority of the stock of the Northern Pacific Railroad Co., and that he has no fears that the enterprise of which he is the head will ever be subordinate to the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co. This statement of course is made by Billings, but the fact remains that it is believed by some Northern Pacific officials that Villard has secured control of the stock as telegraphed to the Tribune last Saturday, and this being the case, the interest he represents will be likely to do as they see fit when the time comes.

Fifty thousand people were driven out of their houses at New Orleans by the late overflow of the Mississippi river, which is attributed in some measure to the jetties at the mouth.

Davidson, the Nurseryman of Moran Prairie, will be in Spokan Falls on Saturday of each week (until notice is further given) to receive orders and deliver trees.

It is thought the Seattle barrel factory will start up with a full crew about the middle of April. At present but comparatively few men are employed at this establishment, and consequently but little work is being turned out. Everything is in readiness, however, for a lively season's work.

In the town of Dayton of over a thousand people, taxes to the amount of only $238.26 were collected last year. Small as was the amount it seems to have been enough, and $3.96 over, for that many dollars and cents were left in the treasury at the end of the year. The town is incorporated.

Grave as his offense was, the Probate Judge is not without shame. After holding one day's session of court in this city, he adjourned the court to meet in Cheney on the following morning. He could not bear the presence of the people he had so unjustly wronged. The adjournment, however, worked a great hardship upon many; but no persons have rights now-a-days which the average Cheneyite is bound to respect.

MARRIED.—At the residence of Col. L. B. Nash, in this city, March 26, by Rev. R. D. Navius, Mr. Geo. F. Graves and Miss Mary Langenbacher, all of Spokane Falls.

A few intimate friends of the happy young couple were invited to be present at the ceremony, and the pleasant parlors of our fellow-townsmen were comfortably filled at 7 o'clock, the hour set for the wedding. Mr. Chas. Chilberg and Miss Jennie Zeigler stood up with them. The ceremony was brief and interesting, after which the newly married pair received the warm congratulations of the friends assembled. After a social chat for a few minutes, refreshments were served, and Mr. and Mrs. Graves took a carriage which bore them away to the hotel where they are to board for a season. Mr. Graves is the well-known superintendent of the North Pacific stage line, and a general ruster, by the way. The bride has made her home with Col. Nash's family for the past seven years, where she is much loved. She is a lady and a scholar, and makes a lasting friend with whomsoever she becomes acquainted. Having spent her leisure hours as a companion in THE TIMES office during the past few months, where she was highly esteemed, "all hands" unite in wishing her a very happy married life.

DIFFICULTY WITH INDIANS.—Settlers on Peone prairie, north of this city, have had considerable trouble, lately, with Indians who dispute their right to certain lands. It seems that several brief hand-to-hand encounters have been engaged in over certain boundary lines. In one instance, Mr. G. F. Hone was trying to make an overgrown aborigine understand him by placing a rail on the ground to indicate the direction of the survey. The Indian thought Mr. Hone had the rail for some other purpose, and dashed at him with a knife. Mr. H. raised the rail and knocked the Indian down. This had to be repeated several times, without any lasting effect, after which he took to his heels and made good his escape from the red man of the forest, who followed but a short distance. Enoch, one of the most peaceable and industrious Indians in this country also got excited over land matters and shot at a white man. He was afterward arrested and gave bonds for his appearance at the next term of court to be held in this city.

RETURNED.—Mr. John Glover, brother of our fellow-townsmen, N. N. Glover, returned a few days ago from a sojourn in the Willamette Valley during the past few months. He brought up a splendid covered back, which he will keep for hire to parties wishing an easy-going, commodious vehicle. A pair of trucks is also on the road hither. We had thought that he would also bring along a blushing bride, but hope he has made arrangements to have her come along pretty soon. Mr. Glover is delighted with the appearance of our city, and says a great many people are coming to Spokane Falls this spring. Like any other good business man, he will tell our readers what he intends to do in a business way. As he comes to remain with us, and make this his future home, we all welcome him back.

BRIDGE MEETING.—Pursuant to adjournment of citizens' meeting, a number of contributors to the bridge building fund met in Glover's Hall last Saturday evening, and appointed the following committee: Building—Messrs. Zeigler, Hama and Henry Melder. Finance—Messrs. Havermale, F. R. Moore, J. S. Graham, Berg, Foster, McCammon, W. C. Gray, Hi Allen and J. N. Squire. The committee were instructed to take such steps as were necessary to secure the early completion of the bridge.

HOME AGAIN.—Mrs. A. M. Cannon and daughter arrived in this city on last Sunday's stage, from Portland. They are welcomed by a host of friends. While crossing a swollen stream below Colfax, Mrs. Cannon's trunk, containing many valuable articles, fell into the water and there remained for three hours, causing no little damage. Both ladies are happy to get back into the land of sunshine and bright prospects.

FREIGHT RATES.—As has been expected, the opportunity has finally arrived when all freight for the Spokane country will leave the river at the mouth of Snake, and be brought through on a direct line. Freight can now be shipped to Ritzville on the railroad, a point 64 miles from Spokane Falls. A great tent will always be at the end of the track, where freight will be received and carefully protected. First-class freight from Portland to Almoda, $43 per ton; 2d class, $38; 3d class, $33; 4th class, $28. From Portland to Ainsworth, 1st class, $33; 2d class, $29; 3d class, $24; 4th class, $21; being about $9 per ton difference in favor of Ainsworth. ANDERSONVILLE!!

By JOHN H. McELROY, Late of Co. L 10th Ill. Cav.

"Andersonville" will be a book of 656 large pages, and will contain about three hundred illustrations, drawn under the immediate supervision of the author. It is the daily experience of a soldier, who, captured by the rebels at the beginning of the war, was confined for 15 months in the prison pens of Richmond, Savannah, Andersonville, Milton and Florence.

From the heart of every loyal man and woman in this broad land goes forth a tender wish that the memory of Andersonville, for that Golgotha in which the "biting bones" of 15,000 gallant young men, represent to them very much of the dearest and costliest sacrifice of the war—the preservation of our national unity. It is more than hundred headlongs of dead represent several times that many of their brethren, for whom the prison gates of Belle Isle, Danville, Salisbury, Florence, Columbia, and Cahaba opened only in eternity. There are few families in the north who have not at least one dear relative or friend among these 60,000 whose names were written on their service for the Union by lying down and dying for it in a southern prison pen. The manner of their death, the horrors that clustered thickly around every moment of their existence, the loyal unflinching stand which they endured all that fate brought them has never before been adequately told. Hidden from the view of their friends in the North by the impenetrable veil which the military operations of the rebels drew around the so-called Confederacy, the people were not aware of their sufferings.

656 LARGE PAGES.

The present book is the work of a man who is by tests and training a journalist. His reports of observation, of gathering, arranging and classifying facts, and of presenting them in a comprehensible manner were not all owed to his dormant, but were exercised continually. The story is told in a plain, simple, straightforward way—told as a soldier would tell it,—with a graphic and accurate description of places, scenes and incidents, but without any straining after effect—any pretentious word-painting—any attempt to excite prejudice or partisan hatred.

PRICE, $3.00, CLOTH BINDING.

Among the most thrilling incidents anywhere is that of the desperado who infested the prisons, and six of them were hung in terror. This is the only full and accurate account of this noted episode that has ever been published. You should have it.

Subscriptions received at the Times Office, FRANCIS H. COOK, Agent.

It gives the location of all the principal and many little towns between British Columbia on the north, Oregon on the south, Idaho on the east, and Camp Spokan on the west. The "TIMES GEM MAP" is more accurate than any other yet published. Price, on Postal or other Cards, only six cents each; two for 10 cents, or six for 25 cents. The Spokan Times

State of Washington.

From the Olympia Nurseryman. A certain newspaper east of the mountains, for the past year or more, has either been trying to make capital against the Territory becoming a State, or is trying to make a boom in favor of a new constitution. We are inclined to believe a sectional interest has made it adopt this course, and not any love it has for the whole territory. It matters not whether the capital of the new state remains at Olympia, goes to Walla Walla, or goes anywhere else; nor whether the officers get a small salary, or a large salary, or none at all. All these matters or defects of the constitution, or any others, can be remedied hereafter a great deal easier than to have the delay and expense of another constitutional convention. The constitution adopted was as perfect as it could be expected that it could be at this date, and as perfect as a new one would be a few years hence. We do not deny there are no objectionable features in it; but there would be in any, and is in those of all new states. They may not have been considered so at the time of the adoption of these instruments, but the length of time intervening before the admission of those states has caused changes which made them seemingly objectionable. Usually they are very trivial matters. It would seem that the editor of the above paper started out to make a new constitution suited to his views or interests, or else to defeat the admission of the state. So he sent out letters of inquiry, presumably to those prominent men who formerly opposed the admission of the territory, and no doubt unexpectedly to him, received letters endorsing the measure. Other papers east of the mountains are publishing letters from prominent men, both republicans and democrats, who all urge standing by the present constitution, and favor the admission of the territory as a state at the earliest possible moment. And this is the universal feeling of the people all over the territory, regardless of politics. The territory is suffering and is embarrassed because it cannot demand its rights in Congress as it would do were it a state. It wants the aid and assistance which the government can give, so that our vast resources can be developed. It wants stable laws and government which will give standing and stability to capital that will then be drawn here. Washington Territory possesses as many natural advantages, perhaps as any country of its size on the continent. It has one of the finest harbors in the world, vast forests of fine timber, inexhaustible beds of coal, and more or less of the precious metals distributed throughout its mountainous regions. In addition, it has an agricultural region capable of producing millions of bushels of grain, besides thousands of other advantages, all of which would sooner be developed under a state government.

How to Reach this Country. Inquiring letters are so frequently received, as to the best mode of reaching this new country, the rates of fare, the shortest routes, &c., that we have compiled the following facts for the express benefit of those who would come among us. Those persons who have friends contemplating a visit to this country, either for pleasure or profit, ought secure some extra copies of this week's edition of THE TIMES:

There are three routes when Eastern people may take in coming hither. If a person wants to save time, and desires to bring stock, wagons, &c., the quickest and most direct route would be to come from Omaha to Ogden, thence by wagon road to this new country; traversing the distance from Ogden in two or three weeks, when roads are good—say in the month of June, July or August. Those having neither wagons nor teams, can come by rail to Kelton, at a cost of about $50 in emigrant car; thence by stage to Walla Walla, at an expense of $30, exclusive of meals, and on to Colfax or Spokan Falls, at an additional expense of ten and seven dollars, respectively. The remaining route is via San Francisco, by rail thence to Portland, Oregon, by ocean steamer; thence to Astoria, by boat. Fare to Portland, $2 to $30, according to cabin occupied, and state of opposition on the route; to Astoria, $18, exclusive of meals and berth. The overland railroad company makes the best difference in price of through tickets to San Francisco or Kelton. At the present time, the route via San Francisco and Portland is undoubtedly the easiest and cheapest, provided you are not accompanied by your own team, everything being taken into consideration. First class fare from Omaha, St. Joseph or Kansas City, to Walla Walla, via Kelton, is $124.25; via San Francisco, $182.

Immigrants from Oregon and California, in the earlier part of the season, when they have the money to spare, often come by water to The Dalles or Astoria; thence overland by teams. Those who travel without teams should come by boat to Penawawa or Astoria, and there take the stage for this upper country via Colfax. Many families make the entire trip overland.

Pure Summer comes by way of Portland and Astoria, unless they want a delightful horseback ride over the Cascade mountains in mid-summer. The Snoqualmie route is the best for horsemen, leading the traveler by way of the Kittitas Valley, Yakima City and Alinsworth. Be sure that your saddle-horse is gentle, sure-footed, strong, and in splendid condition for travel. Accommodations on the Columbia river boats are excellent, and every attention is paid to the comfort and convenience of passengers. No one who has an opportunity to do so should fail to take a trip either up or down the Columbia river, where the scenery is magnificent and beautiful in the extreme.
