COIN ROAD TAX.
We understand that a class of farmers throughout the Territory are in trouble lest the law will be so changed that they will be required to pay their road tax in money instead of in work from this on. That the law will be so changed, we are confident, but that it will prove inimical to the best interests of the farmers we cannot believe. In fact, the change is intended more for the benefit of this large and useful portion of the community than for any other. Our present method of making roads approaches the dead failure very closely, and has been a curse to every citizen, and to none more than to the farmer. The rapidly worn-out wagon, the frequently broken-down wagon, the wagon with only 500 pounds in it drawn most heavily through mud from six to eight inches in depth, all tell forcibly of the enormous indirect cost of these most wretched roads. If the old plan had worked at all advantageously in the past, there would be some reason in favor of continuing it a while longer in the future;
but as it has not so worked there is no such reason, and the farmers are the ones who should most persistently and diligently urge the making of the change indicated.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The fall term of the Spokan county Teachers' Institute, will convene in Cheney on Tuesday, September 27, and remain in session four days. Teachers having schools in session, are expected, as required by law, to adjourn them and take part in the work of the Institute.
Special work of the institute will be assigned to the several teachers of the county. All friends of education are cordially invited to be present. School officers, teachers, parents, citizens join with us, on the above occasion, and assist in placing our favorite county in the front ranks of educational advancement.

The Spokan Times

Edited by Francis H. Cook
SPOKAN FALLS, TUESDAY, Sept. 27.

We are sorry we cannot furnish our readers with a full telegraph report for to-day. The telegraph wires have been down between Portland and Wallula all day.

As we go to press, we see by the "Chronicle," that some one has written "a card," to which J. N. Glover has signed his name, attacking the editor of this paper. While we cannot take the time and space to answer each assertion, we simply say that the card is a compilation of lies, and when J. N. Glover signed them he knew them to be lies. Anyone who has any idea whatever that Glover is a truthful man, can be convinced that he is not by making proper inquiry at this office regarding any statement he has made. Glover is simply provoked at the proprietor of this paper because he cannot get him to do all the dirty work necessary to carry out his schemes.

COLFAX.

Local News by Telegraph
Colfax, Sept. 27.—J. A. Perkins

Esq. is soliciting contributions... twenty-five cents each... to the Garfield monumental fund.

Hon. Jacob Hoover, joint councilman for Whitman, Columbia and Walla Walla, and H. F. Stratton, councilman for Whitman county left by stage for Dayton yesterday, en route to Olympia.

Church bells were tolled yesterday fifty minutes, commencing at two o'clock—one stroke each per minute, representing fifty years.

CHENEY, W. T., Sept. 23.
Editor Spokan Times:

I do not desire to reply at length to the communication of J. R. Depute, or to the unkind comments of the Chronicle of the 21st inst. But with your permission, I simply wish to correct the false impression that might be created were they to be passed in silence.

There is no motive or desire on my part to do an act of injustice to Mr. Depute. He is a stranger to me. Neither is there any motive or desire to favor Mr. Allen. I have a very slight acquaintance with that gentleman, and in writing the article referred to, I made an error in noting these applications on the memorandum book.

If Mr. Depute had valuable and substantial improvements on railroad land, and was following up said improvements, thereby adding something to the wealth and business of the country, as well as establishing his good faith in his desire to make a home on that land, then he was entitled to the first consideration.

The character and extent of improvement, its location, when made, and if followed up with other improvements, are important factors to determine his rights. If Depute had established these facts, under our rule, he would have had precedence over any subsequent application of Mr. Allen's; and they would also correct any errors found in my memorandum because the presumption would be that he wanted the land that he had improved, and Mr. Allen had no right to step in ahead of a bona fide settler.

The facts are as follows: In the spring of 1880 Mr. Joseph Allen came in person into our office and signed a purchaser's application for the E 1/4 of Sec. 23, T. 26 north range 42 east, and wanted to make the purchase. We declined selling for the reason that we had no map of that T. Allen informed us that he had deposited payment in full in the bank and awaited our action. A short time thereafter Mr. Depute wrote a letter making an informal application for a tract of land. He says it was the NE 1/4 of sec. 23 covered by Allen's application. Possibly it was; but if I had noticed that it came in conflict with Allen, I should have notified him of that fact. My memorandum says sec. 23. Subsequently, Depute wrote that he wanted the NE 1/4 of sec. 23, and had valuable improvements thereon. Mr. Allen was informed of this, and told that if Depute had complied with the requirements of this company in relation to settlement and improvements, that it gave him the preference in the purchase. In reply to that we were informed that Depute's improvements E 1/4 of section 23 were not of a substantial character, that there was but two or three acres plowed, that it was not followed up with additional improvements to show the required good faith—to entitle him to preference over others. In visiting that section last summer, I found the quantity of land plowed correctly stated, and also found that it was not only neglected, but abandoned, and left to the open, common prairie, and suffered to grow up to noxious weeds and was in a worse condition than before being plowed. In my judgment the improvements are not of that character that would entitle them to the respect that is usually accorded to the bona fide settler. If Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Allen should happen to read Depute's communication, they will be as much surprised to learn that I dined with them as I was at many other statements made therein. In conclusion, let me say, we have no personal choice who we sell lands to.

Respectfully,
D. C. LEWIS.

The Saginaw, Mich., Courier remarks that the increase in value of Michigan forests within the last dozen years is probably unprecedented in the annals of the lumber trade. Twelve years ago a man with a few thousand dollars to invest bought a tract of land in Menominee county, Mich., from the United States, for $1.25 per acre. On Wednesday he sold 2,875 acres of pine timber from the same section to a Chicago lumber firm for $25 per acre, reserving the land for himself. The investment has, therefore, paid a profit of over $68,000 on the 2875 acres in only twelve years, the original investment being less than $3,600; and, as the land is worth something, "the returns are not all in yet."

TERRITORY OF WASHINGTON, 1881

In the District Court of the First Judicial District of Washington Territory, holding terms at Spokan Falls, on the counties of Spokan and Stevens.

E. W. Talbot, plaintiff vs. Thomas Norcross, J. H. Stahl and J. S. Graham, defendants. The United States of America, To Thomas Norcross, a defendant: You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by E. W. Talbot, plaintiff, in the District Court of the First Judicial District of Washington Territory holding terms at the town of Spokan Falls in said county of Spokan, and to answer to the same within sixty days after the date of this summons, or the said plaintiff will take judgment against you by default according to the prayer of the complaint, said action is brought to recover judgment against the defendant Thomas Norcross for the sum of fifty seven and 74/100 dollars for lumber sold and delivered to him on the 24th day of August 1880, to be used by him in the erection of a certain building, and to foreclose a certain lien upon said building and land to secure the payment of said lumber sold and delivered in said complaint, and a copy of which lien is hereto attached; that said land and premises may be sold under the decree of the court, and the proceeds thereof be applied to the payment of the costs of this suit, including one and 25/100 dollars paid for tariff and recording said lien and for twenty-five dollars a attorney's fee and for the said sum of fifty-seven and 74/100 dollars due the said plaintiff, and that said defendants, each and all may be barred and foreclosed of all rights, claims, and interests of redemption in said premises, and for other and further relief as will more fully appear in said complaint.

Witness the Hon. S. C. Wignard, Judge of the District Court of the Territory of Washington, at Spokan Falls, this 19th day of February, A. D. 1881.

From Saturday's Daily.

Look out for another general mercantile establishment in Spokane Falls before ten days.

Hon. J. M. Armstrong, of Colfax, accompanied by his wife, visited this city last evening, and returned to Colfax today, via Sprague.

Wm. Cushman, of the railroad land office, Cheney, accompanied by his wife, came to this city on last evening's train, and returned this morning.

J. L. Hallet, superintendent of construction, expresses the opinion that the line between the Dalles and the Cascades will be completed by the last of September. Thirty-five hundred men are at work between the two points.

The following is thought to be a pretty accurate estimate of the population of the larger towns of the Territory: Seattle, 4,800; Walla Walla, 4,200; Vancouver, 1,800; Dayton, 1,500; New Tacoma, 1,800; Olympia, 1,200; Port Townsend, 800; Goldendale, 800; Spokane Falls, 700; Colfax, 600.

Mrs. Brandt returned from California last Saturday. C. F. Yeaton, post trader at Fort Coeur d'Alene, accompanied by his family, arrived in this city this morning.

A LITTLE FRAUD.—Last evening a couple of fellows bent on having their own way, attempted to run the North Pacific hotel for a short time.

Judge Buck returned from Westwood last evening. Court was organized on Monday, and adjourned after the appointment of Geo. B. Montgomery as clerk, and admitting attorneys L. B. N. and Julius H. Lemm to practice.

NIGHT WATCHMAN.—Wm. W. Kilham, a fine looking, strong and sassy young man, will soon be engaged as night watchman in this city. He will undoubtedly give entire satisfaction, as he knows how to perform the duties of watchman, and is perfectly willing to perform them.

SHERIFF SALE.—Sheriff Hatten will commence to sell at public auction at Nosler's new building, an immense stock of dry goods, newly made clothing, boots, shoes, crockery, hardware, tobacco, cigars and whisky, and everything imaginable. The stock will be sold regardless of cost to the highest bidder for cash.

Leoni walked across the Spokane river, near Post's mill, Sunday evening, on a rope, in the presence of about 250 persons. The wind was blowing fresh and cold, but Leoni performed his feat manfully. He was prevented from performing the trapeze by friends who thought the weather too chilly for the performance.

RESPECT.—At All Saints' Chapel, last Sabbath, Bishop Paddock referred to the life and untimely death of President Garfield in an appropriate and eloquent manner. Yesterday, at 2 o'clock, a large audience was assembled at the City Hall, where memorial services were conducted by reverends Stratton, Anderson, Clarke and Norton. Business was generally suspended during the day.

We learn from Frank Olendorf, who is just down from the Kootenai mine, that J. S. Meade and Abraham Gervais were burned to death in their cabin on Joseph prairie on the morning of the 18th. It is presumed that they were smothered by the smoke. Their remains were found in the fireplace. Mr. Meade was the originator of the Kootenai Mining company, in which Mr. Fairweather and Mr. McCarty are interested. Mr. Olendorf says he is satisfied with the prospect of the Kootenai mine, in which he has an interest.

HAUL DOWN YOUR SIGN.

We must very respectfully request the "Tribune" to haul down its sign "Official Paper of Spokane County," which it persists in printing at the head of its local columns. At the last session of the Board of Commissioners the Spokane DAILY and WEEKLY TIMES was made the official paper of Spokane county, according to law; and in such official paper the officers of the county are required to publish all official notices.

The Jury shall be instructed that E. B. Hunsaker is now opening and selling from the best selected stock of Hats, Gloves and Suspenders in Spokane Falls.

A Jurymen from Stevens county says that there are more fresh candles just received at the Spokane Bakery than 16 Cans can eat in a week. It has not yet been drained.

PRESIDENTIAL Death Scene.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—J. Stanley Brown a Times correspondent, gives the following description of the president's death scene: When Brown entered the room Mrs. Rockwell and Miss Lulu, who had just come in with Mrs. Garfield and Mollie, left the room and stood in the hall just outside the door. Dr. Bliss stood at the head of the bed feeling the patient's pulse. Doctors Agnew and Hamilton were trying to revive the president with hypodermic injections of brandy. Col. Rockwell then went out a moment and returned with little Mollie Garfield. As the president passed into a sinking condition he began to breathe with great exertion and gasps. Col. Rockwell went quietly to the windows and closed them. Brown walked to Mrs. Garfield. She leaned upon his arm as the president slowly breathed his last. Mrs. Garfield was calm, save for convulsive shudders that at times overmastered her. Mollie came up to her a moment later. Her mother put her arm around her, and the little girl sobbed bitterly. The weeping and the president's gasps for breath were the only sounds in the room. Then Gen. Swaine came to Miss Mollie, taking her grief worded to be too much for her mother, and led her away out of the room. There was a dreadful period of gasping and then the president ceased to breathe. Mrs. Rockwell then placed her arm around Mrs. Garfield and they left the room.

The Queen.

The following cablegram has been received by Mrs. Garfield:

Words cannot express the deep sympathy I feel with you. May God support and comfort you as He alone can.

QUEEN, Balmoral.

Final Words.

Long Branch, 20.—Previous to his death, the only words spoken by the president were, that he had a severe pain in the heart. It is supposed by surgeons that death was occasioned by a clot of blood forming in the heart.

Arthur is President.

Long Branch, 20.—12 M. McVeagh has just received this reply to the dispatch sent by the cabinet to Gen. Arthur last night. It was addressed to all members of the cabinet: "I have your message regarding the death of president Garfield. Permit me to renew through you, my expression of sorrow and sympathy which I have already telegraphed Attorney-General McVeagh. In accordance with your suggestion, I have taken the oath of office as president of the United States before Hon. John R. Brady, Justice of the supreme court of the state of New York. I will advise you further in regard to other suggestions in your telegram.

C. A. ARTHUR.

The other suggestion referred to was that the president should come to Long Branch this morning.

Conkling.

New York, 20.—Roscoe Conkling left the Fifth Avenue hotel at 10 o'clock this morning. It is said he drove to president Arthur's house and had returned at 12.

Various Rumors.

President Arthur, accompanied by Col. Bliss, left this city at noon today for Elberon, by special train. Various rumors about the purpose of the incoming administration are rife. High officials who are close friends with president Arthur say there will be no change in the cabinet before the meeting of congress. In regard to an extra session, it is not believed any will be called. Many think that even the senate will not be convened in extra session, as the time for the regular meeting is so near at hand. It is the opinion among some prominent republicans that the senate will be convened early. Under the circumstances president Arthur will feel disposed to resign before the senate is convened.

It is not likely that president Arthur has given any thought to them.

Off for New York.

Washington, Sept. 20.—At 4:20 P. M. president Arthur left Long Branch for New York on a special train.

Gen. Grant.

The withdrawing surgeons and Dr. Lamb, of Washington, have arrived. Gen. Grant went arm in arm with Arthur to the carriage which took him from Elberon. The carriage returned empty. He probably went to New York with president Arthur. He called on Mrs. Garfield before leaving, expressing his sympathy and assurance of great sorrow.

Good Sense.

Chicago, 20.—The Times has some kind words to say for Arthur, who it says in his native state is highly esteemed by republicans who differ from him in politics, but admire him as a man. The Times believes it is a well recognized fact that the people who chose Gen. Garfield to be their president approved his policy as far as he had an opportunity to carry it out. They desire no changes in it, and no more changes in the personnel of the government than circumstances may make imperative. Arthur's administration begins with the shadow of death overhanging it and a considerable amount of distrust in the minds of the people.

Guiltless Feelings.

Washington, 20.—Guiltless, when told the particulars of the president's painful death, said he was glad his sufferings were over.

To be Buried Monday.

Washington, 20.—The president's funeral will take place next Monday. His body will be taken to Washington to morrow, and will lie in state at Washington on Thursday, and buried in Lake View Cemetery, Cleveland, on Monday. The burial spot is said to be the one of his own choice.

The Body at Washington.

Washington, 21.—The train bearing the remains of the late president Garfield arrived in Washington at 4:41. A vast throng of people had assembled about the depot to do honor to the illustrious dead, every avenue of approach being densely packed. A large force of police was on duty. The hearse used is known as the Centennial Hearse, having been awarded a prize at the centennial exhibition. It was draped in black, of rich, heavy material, wholly unrelieved by any other color. It was drawn by six gray horses, whose trappings were also draped in black.

Just before the train entered the depot, the platform was cleared by the police. Officers of the army and navy to the number of 130 formed a single rank upon the left, facing the train. As the train slowly rolled into the depot, every head upon the platform was uncovered, and stillness prevailed with the vast throng which for more than an hour had been patiently waiting by the roadside. Soon after the train stopped, Mrs. Garfield, assisted by Secretary Blaine, descended from the car, she taking his arm upon her right, and that of her son Harry upon her left. They walked directly to the carriage in waiting. Mrs. Garfield's face was completely concealed by a heavy black veil, which hung nearly to the ground. Whatever emotions she may have experienced were sacredly kept from the sight of those who gazed upon her. She entered the state carriage, followed by her daughter Mollie Garfield, her son Harry, Mrs. Rockwell and Miss Rockwell.
