The Farmer's Corner.

Facts for Farmers. If you invest money in tools, and then leave them exposed to the weather, it is the same as loaning money to a spendthrift without security, a dead loss in both cases.

Cure of Sweeney in Horses.

Wm. H. Ladd, who is excellent authority upon matters of this kind, says sweeney is simply a wasting or shrinkage of the part, produced by anything at all that retards or decreases the circulation through that part, and so materially diminishes the natural healthy secretions.

I sought medical assistance, and expended large amounts, but without the least beneficial result. I was daily drawing closer to the tomb; my physicians held out no hope of recovery; my strength had wasted, and I was a prey to almost utter prostration.

FOUR RECENT AND VALUABLE INVENTIONS. M. Glatard has invented a harness which can be detached from a horse by merely pulling the rein specially devoted to that purpose.

M. Mommier, an old hostler, has invented a new safety-apparatus for saddle-horses, by means of which, on pulling the reins, great pressure is exercised on the nose and also on the crupper of the horse; in fact, the effect of it is to squeeze him together.

M. Leroux has invented a feed-bag for horses, which is ventilated in front so as to allow the dust of the grain to escape, and the horse to breathe freely.

M. Anthaize Dupre has invented methods of sowing which are of considerable value in practice. By means of a cylindrical saw he cuts a cane or an umbrella-handle so that it can be polished with sand-paper, or cuts out the sides of a small barrel or a circular wooden measure.

Guano stimulates land in some cases wonderfully for one or two years after its application, but it does not seem to add staple to the soil, nor to be sufficiently permanent in its influence to be relied on as a sole fertilizer.

IMPROVED HOOK FOR A WHIFFLE-TREE. Among recent inventions is an improved hook for a whiffle-tree, from which the trace can never get loose, however slack it may be, while in use.

Remove the immediate cause of the shrinkage and nature will mostly restore the muscle without further assistance. Her recuperative powers may, however, be aided, and a cure hastened by any stimulating application to the spot.

TRANSPANTING VEGETABLES AND ANNUALS.—Seedlings may be safely transplanted in hot and dry weather, if shaded for a few days by a common flower-pot. The hole at the bottom serves as a chimney.
