The meeting was called to order by D. H. Byrd, Esq., President. The Secretary being absent, Mr. G. Ford was chosen to act pro tem.

Adjourned, subject to the call of the committee.

G. Ford, Sec'y.

REPORT.

Gentlemen: In accordance with the wish of the citizens of Stellacoom, we have examined the trail leading to the Nachess Pass...

First day, March 4th, 1861.—Started from Stellacoom and travelled to Montgomery's, and encamped for the night.

Tuesday, 5th.—Started over the usual route in company with Mr. White...

Wednesday, 6th.—Exchanged our Indian guide for another, better acquainted with the route...

Thursday, 7th.—Left camp at 7 1/2 o'clock and followed up the river some four miles further...

So far as we went, we found the trail passable even now, but to make it a good practicable route requires the fallen trees to be removed...

Respectfully, H. G. WILLIAMSON, WILLIAM TIDD.

GALE.—During the past week, we have had several of the strongest gales of wind ever experienced in this bay.

OVERBOARD.—On Tuesday evening last, while a little fellow named Ben Miller was paddling a small canoe near the steamer Massachusetts...

UNION MAN MEETING.—A call for a Union meeting in Olympia, very numerous signed, appears in the Standard of Saturday last.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—We are indebted to Capt. Fleming, of the Eliza Anderson, for continued favors.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

While the subject of abolishing the terms of the District Court in this County was under consideration, our people seem not to have given it that thought which it merited.

Now what follows? Why, a large number of the citizens of our county are summoned to attend Court at Olympia, as jurors, as witnesses, and as litigants, to the total neglect of business and interests at home.

Curse both loud and deep, both uttered and mental, have been indulged the present week by unfortunate recipients in this county of legal documents from the Court now sitting at Olympia.

GIRLS PLENTY.—We have often heard of the surplus of girls existing in certain towns, but now we have it from the record.

DEATH OF LT. FORSYTH.—The sad intelligence comes to us, says the Portland Daily Advertiser, of the death of Lt. Benjamin D. Forsyth, of the U. S. Army.

OVERBOARD.—On Tuesday evening last, while a little fellow named Ben Miller was paddling a small canoe near the steamer Massachusetts, he was hailed by a man on board, who wished to go ashore.

ATTESTING GROWTH OF NEW YORK CITY.—Since the last national census of 1850, the city proper has increased in population 298,408...

DISTRICT COURT.—This Court convened in Olympia on Monday last; O. B. McFadden, C. J., presiding.

NEW STEAMSHIP CO.—The F. M. S. Co. have sold to Flint & Holladay six boats, comprising the line from San Francisco to Puget Sound...

THE MINES.

As the season approaches for commencing work in the Northern Mines, we notice preparations being made in various quarters, by packers and miners, to start as soon as the weather will permit.

There are strong indications of a gold excitement equal to that of Fraser River, three years ago. Every paper that reaches us from Oregon is burdened with intelligence of the movements of miners, and one or two of them devote several columns of each issue to this news.

Now what follows? Why, a large number of the citizens of our county are summoned to attend Court at Olympia, as jurors, as witnesses, and as litigants, to the total neglect of business and interests at home.

COMMUNICATED.

To the Editor of the Puget Sound Herald: STELLER RANGER, March 9th, 1861.

Prominent among the late improvements on the Sound is the addition of thrifty horse power to the Soaback mill. Mr. Williamson has added a cylinder eight inches in diameter, twenty-four inches stroke, and geared to make three hundred revolutions per minute.

Mr. Garfield says there is a cloud hanging over the American people, which must and shall be dispelled. We hope and believe it will be dispelled.

CONTRADICTION. SEATTLE, March 1st, 1861. FRIEND PROCH.—You will confer a favor on me by sending me the manuscript of the notice of my marriage with Mary Ann Conklin.

So long a period has elapsed since the publication of the marriage alluded to, that we have not only lost the manuscript, but we have also forgotten the writer's name.

WISCONSIN'S U. S. SENATOR.—Judge Howe, Republican, has been elected to the U. S. Senate from Wisconsin, by the Legislature of that State.

SCENIC SENATORS.—It is said that of all the Senators from the succeeding States who have withdrawn from the U. S. Senate, none have resigned excepting those from South Carolina.

THE CENSUS OF 1860.

We find the following interesting census returns in the Portland Daily Advertiser:

The Commissioner of the Census Bureau has furnished for public information a table of the census of 1860. The total population of the United States is 31,647,490, showing an increase since 1850 of about 8,000,000.

The following table shows the population of each State and its relative loss or gain in representation in Congress:

Table with columns: STATE, SLAVES, Total Population, 5th Congress, 6th Congress. Lists states from Maine to Kansas with their respective slave and total populations and congressional representation.

The population of the Territories is given as follows:

Decatur is not a Territory under Congressional organization. Arizona is probably included in the population of New Mexico.

FIRES.

We learn from the Portland Daily Advertiser that a fire broke out in the "Identical" saloon, in that city, on Thursday last, destroying that and a portion of an adjoining building.

At about two o'clock this morning the building adjoining the Musical Hall, in this city, was discovered to be on fire.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

The Pacific Railroad Bill, as amended, passed the U. S. Senate on the 30th January. It goes back to the House for concurrence in the amendments of the Senate.

The following extract from a speech of Gen. Lane indicates the amendments alluded to as having prevailed:

There is another objection to this bill. It provides for making two railroads—a southern and a northern railroad—to terminate at San Francisco. Well, sir, I will go for both these roads at the proper time.

I ask the representatives from the Pacific coast whether they will vote for such an amendment, and that they will vote to extend this road over the best portion of the Pacific coast?

When you get to Portland, you have reached the ocean six hundred miles north of San Francisco, and in a direct line to China.

LATEST EASTERN NEWS.

By the arrival at Portland of the steamer Pacific, advices from the East to Feb. 12th have been received. The following summary is taken from the Daily Advertiser of the 5th instant:—

St. Louis, February 12. Nothing has occurred to change the situation of affairs at South since the late Pony. The President communicated to Congress, last Monday, the correspondence between the South Carolina officials and the Federal Government, in which the latter adheres to the position already indicated, and says, if hostilities are commenced, South Carolina will be responsible.

The Southern Confederacy has elected Jeff. Davis, President, and Alex. Stephens, Vice President. Davis has telegraphed to Col. Hayne, urging him not to precipitate matters relative to Fort Sumpter.

What action South Carolina may take has not transpired. The impression is they will turn over matters to the new Southern government, though some opinionists predict an attack on Fort Sumpter.

Stephens was nominated at Montgomery and made a speech congratulating the people upon the formation of a new confederacy.

Congress has done nothing yet, tending to the settlement of existing difficulties. A vote will be passed on the report of the Committee of Thirty-three this week. The proceedings, otherwise, are entirely devoid of interest.

The twenty-five million loan bill has been approved by the President. Bankers at the North manifest a disposition not to take the loan unless the difficulties are settled.

The Governor of Georgia has seized several New York vessels at Savannah in retaliation for the seizure of arms in the city of New York, but subsequently released them on being informed of the restoration of the arms.

The returns of the Tennessee election indicate a triumphant success of the Union party for the Convention of that State.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post writes, Feb. 24: "Senator Sumner had an interview with the President to-day, in relation to the offer of military aid by the Legislature of Massachusetts for the defence of Federal property and the enforcement of the laws. Mr. Sumner asked what more can Massachusetts do for the Union. The President replied 'Adopt the resolutions offered by Mr. Crittenden.' Mr. Sumner rejoined that the public sentiment of Massachusetts makes that impossible, and I agree with that sentiment."

Mr. Douglas has planned another compromise, which he will soon present. Rumors are afloat relating to some new scheme for re-opening the Tehuantepec route to California. It is said that several millions of capital have already been subscribed in New York, and that Duncan, Sherman & Co. are some way engaged in the matter.

The Tennessee Delegation are in receipt of dispatches showing the result of the election in that State. The Union men have carried every village before them by overwhelming majorities.

Gen. Scott has ordered all the forces of the District to be ready to perform duty on the 12th inst., the day previous to the counting of the electoral votes in the House. No difficulty is anticipated.

Ex-Governor Floyd was expected at Washington, to submit himself to the criminal laws of that District. He pronounces all charges frivolous and malicious, and instigated by Secretary Thompson, aided by the Administration.

Col. Judge had an interview with the President, on the 10th ult., at Washington, who received him as a distinguished citizen of Alabama, but not in an official capacity; nor would he enter into discussion of the subject of his mission to that State.

Two members of the Montgomery Congress have advised their friends here that Ministers have been appointed to represent the interests of the Southern Confederacy in Europe.

The Peace Conference Committee will report on Tuesday, Feb. 12. Various plans are under consideration, but the indications are that the Border States' resolutions will meet with the most favor, and the general opinion is that the Conference will adopt some such plan, including the division of the territory by the line of 36 deg. north of which slavery will be prohibited.

It is understood that the delegates to the Convention from Ohio, with the exception of Gov. Chase, are in favor of conciliation, and that the Pennsylvania delegation is radically opposed to compromise. The success of Curwin's proposition is regarded certain, with slight modifications.

An influential meeting had been held at Manchester to devise measures to relieve the cotton trade from anxiety, resulting from dependence upon the Southern States of the United States. Resolutions were passed recommending efforts commensurate with the danger, and approving the steps taken for the formation of a Cotton Supply Company.

Several American vessels had registered at Liverpool under the British flag, to enable them to carry salt to South Carolina, and return with cotton, without fear of capture.

France is said to be making extraordinary military and naval preparations. In the Episcopal seminary of Bedonia (Parma), a dormitory having been newly whitewashed, was occupied by fifteen of the pupils and their parents; but as the walls were still damp, a stove had been lighted in the room. A quantity of carbonic acid gas was evolved from the stove during the night, and the room not being sufficiently ventilated, all its inmates were found suffocated in their beds on the following morning.

The London Post's Paris correspondent says that the opinion gains ground that the terms indicated by the friends of Garibaldi rather give new guarantees to the peace of the world, than tend to disturb it.

The London Times, in another editorial on the American crisis, is very bitter on President Buchanan. It says few men who have been called upon to play so important a political part, have been found more utterly unequal to their situation.

The bombardment of Gaeta continued and occasioned much damage. The Sarlinians entered the Roman States on the 22nd of January, and dispersed reactionary bands. They burned the convent at Carmelisi.

It is stated that the late Duke of Norfolk, of England, has left a legacy of $50,000, to the Pope. The income of the deceased noblemen was about $100,000 a year, and he had left a large sum of $120,000, principally towards the support of religious institutions connected with the Roman Catholic Church.

The Monitor, a Journal of Paris, thinks that a Dictator is needed to set the United States right, and recommends Capt. Bonaparte, Governor of Baltimore, Md., for the office.

FREE-DEMOCRAT'S CALL. The following verses have been lying on our table for several weeks, entirely overlooked: We designed publishing them sooner, not for their merit as a poetical composition, but simply for the gratification of the writer and for the sake of the sentiment which they contain:

FREE-DEMOCRAT'S CALL. Arise! arise! ye brave and free, And defend your constitution, And let all foreign tyrants see That you'll have no dissolution.

The Emperor Napoleon bears his widowhood bravely. He went to the Varieties a few nights ago, and was never seen in better health and spirits. The piece given was the "Guide des Strangers a Paris," and the joke at which he laughed most heartily was when the father, finding himself reproached with his age, replied, "My age! well, what then? I'm only fifty-two, and, by the bye, I'm not yet fifty-four! I spent two years in England, and those years I do not reckon." His Majesty was observed to turn to Fleury, and evidently applying the joke to himself, he counted on his fingers the years he, too, had spent in England, and which ought to be deducted from the fifty-two accorded to him by Providence. They made him quite a young man again.

A bronze sword, of the Gallo-Roman epoch, was discovered lately at Toulouse, under the road leading to the mill of Buzac, not far from the ruins of the temple of Diana, which are still to be seen in the middle of the bed of the Garonne. This weapon, in good preservation, is long, has a raised part along the centre of each side of the blade, and the point is very sharp. The length of this sword (3 feet 8 inches) adds to its value, and it is now forming part of the cabinet of Prof. Harry, of Toulouse.
