Imangural Address of President Grant.
Criticans or the United States, I have, in conformity with the Constitution of our country, taken the cath of dike presented therein, I have taken the cath of dike presented therein, I have taken the cath of dike presented therein, I have taken the cath of dike presented therein, I have taken the cath of dike presented therein, I have taken the cath of dike presented therein, I have taken the cath of the position I feel, but accept them without fear. The office has come to me unsought. I commence its duties untrammeled. I bring to it a conscientious desire add determination to fill it to the best of my ability and to the satisfaction of the people. On all leading questions agitating the public mind, I will express my views to Congress and urge them according to my juagment, and whee I think it advasable I will always exercise the constitutional privilege of interposing a veto to defeat measures which I oppose; but all laws will be faithfully executed, whether they meet my approval or not. I shall on all subjects have a quick or recommend, but none to enforce against the will of the people. The laws are to govern all alike, those opposed to them as weil as those who favor them. I know no method to secure the repeal of bad or obnoxious laws so effective as their stringent execution.

The country having just emerged from a method to secure the repeal of bad or obnoxious laws so effective as their stringent execution.

The country having just emerged from a great robellion, many questions will conclude the contended of the contend box of the precious metal locked up in the sterile mountains of the far West, which we are now forging the key to unlock, to meet the very contingency which is now upon us. Ultimately it may be necessary that the General Government should give its aid to secure this access, but that should only be when a dollar of obligation to pay secures precisely the same as a dollar to us now, and not before. While the question of specie payment is in abeypance, the product business man is careful about courrecting debts payable in the distant future. The nation should follow the same rule. Preatrate commerce is to be rebuilt and all industries encouraged. The young men of the country who, from their age, must be its rulers twenty-five years Lence, have a particular interest in maintaining the national shoner. A moment's reflection as to what will be our commanding in fluence among the national of the carth in their day, if they are only true to themselvey, should inspire them with national pride. All divisions—geographical, political and religious—concur in this common sentiment.

How the public debt is to be paid, or apecie payment resumed, is not so important as that a plan should be adopted and acquiexced in. A united determination to do it is worth more than divided counsels upon the method of doing. Legitation upon this subject may not be necessary, nor even advisable, but is will be when the civil law is more fully restored in all parts of the country and trade resumes its wonted channel. It will be my endeavor to execute all laws in good faith, collect all revenue ansessed, and to have them properly accounted for and economically disburred. It will be for me, to there are individuals to deal with each other, and I would protect every law-abiding citizen, whether of native or of foreign brith, wherever his rights are jeopardized or the flag of our country floats. I would respect the rights of all nations, demanding equal respect for our own. If others depart fram the relief in their dealings with us, we may be compel ing of care and equal study. I will favor any course towards them which tends to their civilization, Christianity and ultimate citizenship.

The question of suffrage is one which is likely to signize the public so long as a portion of the citizens of the nation are excluded from its privilege in any State. It seems mes very desirable that this question should be settled now. I conceptain the hope, and express the desire, it may be by the ratification of the fifteenth article of the amendment to the Constitution.

tion of the fifteenth article or two amounts to the Constitution.

In conclusion, I sak patience and forbear-ance of one towards another throughout the land, and a determined effort on the part of every citizen to do his share towards comenting a happy Union; and I sak the prayers of the action to Almighty God in behalf of this consummation.

of the nation to Almighty Ood in behalf of this consummation.

Tamaguration Day and Cerementee.

Washington, March 4.—The day dawned rainy. The route of procession was soon thronged. Grant arrived at headquartegs at 9 o'clock, and congratulatory dispatches from members of the Berlin Exchange were handed him. Colfax arrived at beadquarters at 10 o'clock, and went to Grant's office. The troops and military organizations formed, and Urant entered the carriage with Rawlings. Colfax was in the next carriage with Admiral Bailey.

The procession started, the band playing "Hait to the Coief." The troops were drawn up along the square, and "presented arms" as the carriage of the President elect passed, amidst cheers and enthusiasm. Eight grand divisions were in the procession: First, regulars under Geocral Undwalader, escorting the President elect passed, amidst cheers and enthusiasm. Eight grand divisions were in the procession; first, regulars under Geocral Undwalader, escorting the President elections, escorting the President elections, officers of the Army and Navy, marines, authorities of Washington Georgetown and other miners, Republicanorganizations, soldiers, andiors and Union fred department. The head of the procession reached the Capitol, when Grant entered to take the oath and deliver the inaugural. The crowd in the front was the greatest ever before witnessed here. The procession was an hour in passing a given point.

The diplomatic corps and ther guests arrived. The diplomate camps and body and attracted attention by the splendor of their uniforms and their dignified boaring. The Ministers of Foreign nations were all present except Baron Gerult of Prussia, who was detained by rikness. Among those particularly noticed, were Thornton, of England, Bertherney, of the French legation, Ceremts, of the Italian, and Blaque Bey, the Turkish Minister. ST PATRICK.

St. Patrick, whose anniversity in cele brated on the 17th of March, was the son of Calphurnius and Conchessa, and was of mixed descent, British, Gaulish and Roman, and was bara at Killpatrick, or the mouth of briton and Glasger. He was of honorable b'rth, as his nam . Patricine, in lieves.

At sixteen years of ago, the Burnerians made a rail upon his father's estate, and earriel him with many others into Ireland, where he served as a state, enduring every privation from hunger, navelness and cold. Here it appears he cried mightly to Gol, au 1 He hal maray on hi n. and he experienced a change of heart, and devoted himself hance forth to a holy life.

He was, at last, delivered from captivity.

hal ratural to his home. Years aforewards he was captured again, but delivered by the interposition of Divine Providence. When returned to the quiet scenes of early life, he enall not rest, but felt him self divinely com nissional to preach Christ and Him crucifi; to the Liolaters of Iroland. Like the Apratles, he endured every privation to converheathens to Coristianity. Il went into all perils, fearless and und suntal. Il soverthre idols and proclaimed the true religion in the nut of the serf and the palace of the king. He founded schools, and introduced purity of life both by teaching and example.

The granieur of his character shows forth respleatently when in the general assembly of the Lings of Ireland, hold at Themeria, in East Meath, where Druidical rites were cele brated with great pomp, he stood up alone, with no support except his simple crock, and proclaimed Jesus to the haughty priests of Error. Some of the kings were conver at though some opposed; but thenceforward, true religion received a new impetus, and Paganism began to ducty and pass into dis-

The chief oh arasteriatic of St. Patrick was that he was pre-eminently a man of prayer, of sublime devotion, that opened the gates of Heaven to the appeal of faith. B.th Catholie and Protestant writers assert that he was a man after Gol's own boart. No country kept the purity of religion so unsullied by heght earthly, as Ireland in the early centu-ties. Isolatel from the rest of the world, the was a nation so pure, that looks were un-used, highwayman and robbers were unknown and never did she lose her high estate till the invalers polluted her shere.

She has always charished with paculiar

To win the leve of the Irish people, Victoria, Queen of England, has named one of her sons, "Patrick." The influence of St. Patrick for good can never be computed by human arithmetic, the ages of E ernity will alone reveal this. This should encurage one in the path of virtue. The go never die, even in the memory of the world, deprayed as the world is by corruption and sin. Peculiarly dear to every American is the name of "Patrick," for Patrick Henry wore it as a crown of his shining patriotism and sublime elaquence.

Fire we conclude our tribute to the illustrious memory of St. Patrick, we call attention to the fact that S. J. McCormick, of Portand, will beture in this city for the benefit of the Catholic Aid Society, on the eve of St. Patrick's Day, the 17th of March. Tickets can be obtained at Dr. Wall's store. New Aps .- Mr. H. Summers, Agent for New Abs.—Mr. H. Summers, Agent for the "Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York" is in this city, on business con-nected with the Company. He has already insured many in this city. See his adver-tisement in the Register. This is the oldest purely mutual company in the United States and has the largest capital of any insurance eempany in the world. It believes every man, particularly these with a family, to avail themselves of this opportunity to secure a competence for those dependent upon them for support. No easier and more certain wy presents itself. A word to the wise is

We would call attention to H. McDonald's Ad. He has lately furnished the plan for the New Methodist Church in Hillsboro, Oregon. He has been the architect of many of the finest buildings, public and private, in that State. He is also an adept in plans for bridges and works of universal utility.

New Columnan. - This is one of the best hotels in Portland. The first time we went there, we thought it equal to the best, but somehow, like a good man, it improves on acquaintance. Mr. Carney knows how to ep a botel, and his lady, like himself, is a worker, and always ready to attend to the wants of their numerous guests. We are glad to know of their success, as they deserve the confidence of the public. The New Columbian is one of the institutions of which Portland is rightfully proud. An increasing patronage shows that the public are not alo to find out a hotel that furnishes them all the conveniences and privileges of home.

THE COMMISSARY DEPARTMENT.-Mai. S. A. Foster, Chief Commissary of the post, has his headquarters at Portland. The Commiseary Opt. in this City is under the charge of Lieut, A. G. Forse, 1st Cavalry, J. C. Hile man is clerk of the depot at Vancouver. Capt, Fittbogen is chief clerk at Portland. The Commissary buildings in Vancouver are looked after by Mr. N. C. Brown, civilian. John Denny, also civilian, is there employed. Everything about the premises is in capital order, and betokens the faithful discharge of duty. The Q. M. Dept., under Capt. Craig, is worthy of note and shall receive due no-

CHARITABLE.-We learn that Mr. George Weeden, of this city, who keeps a livery stable, kindly volunteered the use of all his teams on the occasion of the burial of Mrs.

Johns' child. Mrs. Johns is a poor woman, and is dependent upon her own labor for the support of herself and family. Mr. Weeden, for this generous act, deserves great credit. We understand that several other teams were sent, and thus the bereaved woman was saved considerable labor and expense. Surely, we have a charitable community, any one to the contrary notwithstanding.

impressive that we have witnessed for many days. The procession cortege of little Charlie Wall was very large. The students of Holy ances and we bespeak good houses wherever Angels' College and the orphans from the Mission of St. James formed a very imposing procession, and showed that as young as he was he had won the affections of a large number of friends, who felt it their duty to turn out en masse, to pay their last tribute to their little friend.

ANOTHER .- Mr. Brant has completed another of those fine wagons, which have given him so much credit as a manufacturer.

COAL.—An extensive coal bed has been discovered on the East-Fork of Lewis River, twenty miles from Vancouver. The vein is 14 inches thick and 7 feet in width. Outcroppings were discovered last Fall by E. L. Dole, and a joint stock company of eight in corporators was formed to prospect and open the hypothetic voin. Three tunnels have been run for that purpose. The 8th of March the vein was struck, and the anticipations of the company are fully realized. There will be a load of the coal in Vancouver day. There is much excitement over it, and a general rush to take up claims in

PERSONAL.-Mr. Joseph Cunningham has returned to the city, intending to make his permanent residence here. He is hale and hearty. We give him a cordial welcome. His son, Philander Cunningham, is mining in the mountains, back of Walla Walla. He reports mines that pay considerably more than expenses.

Mr. L. W. Harris, of Union Ridge, has gone to the Goose Lake country. Some time since a tree fell on him, and laid him up for ome time, but now he is convalescent.

Mr. Beach, of Olympia, gave us a call. He s a type in the Echo office. Reports the I. O. G. T. in a prosperous condition on the ound, and particularly in Olympia.

LAUGHABLE .-- We were very much amused in the theatre, on last Saturday evening, when the courtship become interesting, and the "Captain" (R. Glover) urged his suit in vain upon the fair Maid of Croissey, because not in possession of the cross, at two soldiers who appeared to take an unusual interest in the play. As the "Captain" was pleading with all the intensity of a lover, one of them As the "Captain" was pleading sung out, "Take a driok and cell it square."
Thereupon a dog accompanying them began to growl, when the other, litting the dog a slap, cried out, "Stop your growling, and go to barking."

fortunate in their employees. We are re-minded of this whenever we travel upon their boats. There is a quietness, yet diligence, that seems so rare in this Far Purser Ingalls, of the Cascades, and Purser McDonald, of the Rescue, are an honor to the company that employs them. Ling may they wave, and increase the circle of their friends, already very large.

THEATRE. - The Dramatic Troupe exhibited here on Saturday last, and on Tuesday evening they performed for the benefit of the Fire Department. They had excellent houses on IMPOSING CEREMONIES.—The funeral pro-both occasions. We understand that they cessions, on Tuesday morning, were the most they go.

FALSE ALABM .- On Sunday evening, an alarm of fire was sounded from the gar and in a few minutes the Fire Depertmen was out in full force. It proved to be a peedless alarm, as the only fire that could be found was an old stump burning, back of town. The "boys" returned a little disappointed at not getting a chance to "squirt."

and emeciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influences is checking the development of the body. Con-sumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, is too much enfectbled to give rest to the healthful and ru-ral exercise, thoughts are turned inwards up-on themselves.
