NATURE'S NOBILITY.

BY THE REV. GEORGE APPELL.

Room for a nobleman to pass!
In costly robes? In trappings gay?
A top tricked out before the glass?
No! clad in sober gray;
A nobleman in heart is he,
With mind for his nobility.

His crest, a soul in virtue strong.
His arms, a heart with candor bright;
Which gold brings not to what is wrong,
Nor blind to what is right.
The patent of his courtly race—
Behold it in his open face.

He cringes not on those above,
Nor tr implies on the worm below;
Misfortune cannot cool his love,
Nor flattery make it grow;
He is to his friends in woe or weal,
As to the meagrest to the steel.

He envies not the dearest age;
He scoffs not at the meagrest wight;
And all the war that he doth wage
Is to the cause of right;
For honest estate and waving hand
He has the poor man's willing hand.

He is not rich, and yet, indeed,
Has wealth; nor poor, his stock though small;
Nor rich, he gives so much to need;
Nor poor, for on his fall
Such blessing, heaven-pollered distress,
To crown his path with happiness.

Room for a lord, ye truckling crew,
Who roam earth's great ones fawn and wind;
Fall back! and gaze on something new—
A lord, at least in mind—
That bravely works in nature's plan—
An upright, independent man.

THE TEMPER OF THE NORTH.—The Dramatic Chronicle says: "We do not think there is any wish on the part of the masses of the North to exact hard terms of the South. There are no doubt a few who desire this. But this is not the case with the intelligent masses of the North, the great majority of honest, good citizens. They have been profoundly agitated by the war. Multitudes of them have lost sons or brothers or friends by the war. They feel that the war on the part of the Southern leaders was uncalculated for and unjustifiable. They feel with Alex. H. Stephens, and the Union men of the South generally, that up to the time of secession the Southern precipitators could not point to a single act of the National Government of which they could reasonably complain. The Northern masses feel, therefore, that there ought to be some guarantee for future peace. They know that slavery was the pretext, if not the cause of the outbreak; and they want therefore, to be sure that it shall never be the pretext for another struggle."

NITRO GLYCERINE.—This compound, which produced the explosion, April 16th, in San Francisco, is for aed of a white crystalline salt or acid used in the manufacture of gunpowder and a sweet viscid liquid consisting of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen. Glycerine is a colorless transparent syrup, without odor, of specific gravity 1.28. It is inflammable, mixes freely with water, is also soluble in alcohol, but not in ether, and dissolves salts that are soluble in water. It may be supposed from these elements that nitro glycerine must be highly inflammable. We are informed that a comparatively small quantity—say a pound—will produce an immense explosive and highly dangerous effect. Explosion will result to a package of it from a sudden blow or fall and by exposure to heat. This article of nitro glycerine has been used in blasting on the Central Pacific Railroad and is stated to be much more powerful than gunpowder, exploding taking place so quickly that effects are produced downwards as well as laterally and upwards.

HOW TO EXTRACT A NEEDLE.—Dr. W. W. Porter, of Geddes, recently removed a needle which had been for nearly four weeks deeply imbedded in the muscles of the hip of a child two years of age, by passing the positive pole of a horseshoe magnet, highly charged, over one extremity of the needle. In a few minutes he readily discovered the needle coming nearer the surface, and in less than half an hour the head was drawn through the skin, and it was easily removed. It was about two inches in length. The child during most of the process was as quiet as though nothing unusual was being done. This statement will interest readers generally, and it may be of service in cases like the one related above.

"Don't lay in that posture, dear," said Mrs. Partington to her nephew, who was stretched upon a sofa, with his heels a foot or two higher than his head. "Don't lay so raise yourself up and put this pillow under you. I knew a young man once who had a suggestion of the brain in consequence of laying so—his brains all run down into his head!" and with this admonition she left him in his nap in the little back sitting room.

The gentle tendrils of a woman's heart sometimes twine around a proud and sinful heart, like roses and honeysuckles around a lightning rod—clinging to what brings down upon them the blasting thunderbolt.

Men will always be apt to think the money market is tight, if they are in the unfortunate habit of getting so themselves.

Omens.

Few loyal men have believed implicitly in the sincerity of southern pretensions to loyalty. Nor, indeed, have we demanded an involuntary and abrupt change of southern personal opinions however we may have wished it, for individual opinion is not a matter of volition. The South accepted the issues of the war as an absolute necessity; not conviction but necessity constrained it to this point; all that could be demanded of it is that it be sincere in the acknowledgment and acceptance of this necessity, and then time might be relied on to effect the correction of opinions and the arrangement of passions.

But it cannot be disguised that the South has for some time been depriving the sincerity of its first acknowledgments. It accepted the issues of the war with the pledge of faithfully and loyally abiding by them. There is now conclusive evidence that it has quite generally changed its opinions. The testimony recently published, from the congressional committee, cannot fail to convince impartial readers that things are going fearfully and ominously wrong in the insurgent States; that the spirit of rebellion is as profound as ever; that its acceptance of the present status is only conditional, and that it only awaits a sufficiently favorable opportunity to reassert all its original claims.

Such a hope seems indeed preposterous, for what sanguine southern reader of the signs of the times can fail to see that, with the abolition of slavery, the new and aspiring attitude of the freed blacks, and the rapid transition southward of northern and foreign population and capital, another revolt must be morally impossible? Yet we have long been convinced that the barbarism of slavery has politically demoralized the mind of the South? The original project of secession was itself a proof of the fact; the attempt to break up the prosperous Union and nationality of these States for the purpose of organizing a social system founded on slavery (which Alexander H. Stephens declared to be the essential project of the rebellion) is proof of an expectation which any statesman outside of the South would have declared to be absolutely absurd. Yet the South had the folly to attempt it, without suspicion that it could fail. We may expect, therefore, almost any new folly from it, till it has had time, by reflection and by the infusion of a better population, to attain a better judgment.

The testimony issued by Congress is from the best sources, and is singularly consistent. General Thomas, the hero of Nashville, and commander of the department which comprises Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, etc., says that though Northern Alabama is loyal, yet generally the people of his department hate the government; that the withdrawal of our troops would expose to intolerable treatment Unionists and freedmen; that there is a secret organization to promote Southern independence again, etc. General Grierson, the famous raider, confirms all these statements; he believes that "there is now an organization existing throughout the South for the renewal of the rebellion," and that in the event of a war with any foreign power, the South will again revolt and take side with the enemy.

Other witnesses (including army officers, functionaries of the Freedmen's Bureau, provost marshals, clerks, etc.) declare similar facts, and assert that it is quite generally designed among them, if they get again into public power in Congress, or by combination with "southern friends," to repudiate the national debt. In short the spirit of the rebellion is as rampant as ever, if we may judge from these well authenticated reports. On one other point these testimonies are quite clear and concurrent, namely, that this state of feeling did not exist immediately after the collapse of the rebellion; that the insurgents then saw their helpless condition and acknowledged that they had "forfeited all their political rights," and that the revulsion set in only when they saw the excessive clemency of the government; then, instead of gratefully responding to the moderation of the Executive, they began to calculate how they could avail themselves of it to resume their lost political control of the country in connection with northern democrats. This we believe to be the real rationale of the present reign of arrogance and disaffection in the South. It is ominous, we repeat, and it shows that the country must wield a strong hand if it would settle the peace of the land and restore the safety of the Union. The whole civilized world will say that after the moderation of the government any further necessary for the complete and prompt restoration of order and safety in the South are justifiable, and we hope the country will not trifle with fastidious questions of policy, but go to work energetically to do up and dispatch out of the way this whole question of southern law and order. Our financial safety and the liability of the national debt to repudiation demand it, the business and industry of the nation require it, the welfare of suffering Unionists and of the faithful and gallant freedmen claims it, and the majesty of the laws command it.

OREGON INDIAN WAR DEBT.—The following resolution was submitted on the 21st of March by Mr. Henderson, read, considered and agreed to by the House.
Resolved, That the committee on claims be instructed to inquire into the justice and extent of the claims held by the State of Oregon and Washington Territory against the Government of the United States for expenses incurred in Indian hostilities in said State and Territory in the year 1855 and 1856; and if anything is found due said State and Territory they report a bill for the payment of the same according to the principles of justice and equity.

A LAWYER is something of a carpenter. He can file a bill, split a hair, make an entry, get up a case, frame an indictment, impanel a jury, put them in a box, nail a witness, hammer a judge, bore a court, and other like things.

LITTLE THINGS.—As daylight can be seen through very small holes, so little things illustrate a person's character. Indeed, character consists in little acts, daily 1/2 being the quarry from which we build it up, and rough how the habits that form and stamp it.

Eastern News.

(From dispatches to the Daily Oregonian.)

Congressional Proceedings.

Chicago, May 4.—In the Senate, Wednesday, Sherman introduced a bill to consolidate the national debt, except greenbacks, into a thirty years five per cent. loan. The bill exempts the bonds from taxation, including the tax on income derived therefrom. Sherman said the reduced rate of interest would not only compensate for the loss of the tax to the revenue, but would create a sinking fund and go far toward the payment of the principal.

Williams, of Oregon, submitted an amendment of the reconstruction enabling act, allowing Tennessee and Arkansas to be admitted as soon as they ratify the proposed Constitutional amendment.

Fessenden, of Maine, defended the action of the committee, saying the question was not one of personal opinion, but of the matured agreement of men who had carefully considered the whole subject; and he thought the report entitled to great weight.

Dixon, of Connecticut, also submitted an amendment providing for the immediate admission of loyal representatives in accordance, he said, with the President's plan.

Sumner did not believe Congress was now in a condition to give the country the best proposition on this subject. He was afraid the committee had listened too much to the clamor for a policy. He thought there was no occasion for haste. He was sure this report would not have been made a month ago, and he was equally sure a better one would have been made a month hence. He hoped, therefore, that action on the report would be delayed as long as possible, and that meanwhile it would be deliberated.

The Senate adopted Trumbull's amendment of the Post office bill.

The Senate, in executive session, rejected the nomination of Frank Blair as Collector of Internal Revenue at St. Louis—ayes, 8; noes, 21.

The Senate also laid on the table the nomination of Rousseau as Minister to Honduras. The House on Wednesday, the 2d, rejected Schenck's army bill, ayes 36, noes 83, and on the 3d, reconsidered the vote and re-committed the bill to the committee. During the debate on Wednesday Schenck, of Ohio, stated that only 29,059 volunteers, white and colored, were in service on the 25th of April, and a trifle over 30,000 regulars.

The Senate on Thursday, recalled the post office bill from the House, on motion of Poland, of Vermont, in order that Trumbull's amendment might be a separate bill.

The House, on Thursday, passed the bill admitting Colorado, ayes 80, noes 55. This quick result surprised everybody. The bill was taken from the Speaker's table. The House refused to table it by a vote of 29 to 109, then refused to refer it to a committee by 44 to 14, and then rejected an amendment offered by Washburne, of Illinois, requiring the word white to be stricken out of the Constitution by a vote of 39 against 59, after which the bill passed as above. There seems to be a general apprehension that the President will veto the bill.

The House passed the bill extending the boundaries of Nevada, by including a portion of Utah and Arizona. So Nevada shall have 104,000 square miles, Utah 88,000, Arizona 121,000. It also passed a bill annulling all the acts of the so-called Legislature of Montana, which met at Virginia on the 5th of March, 1866, forbidding the payment of the members thereof, and requiring the Government to re-apportion the territory. It also passed the Senate joint resolution fixing the time for the construction of the Pacific Railroad, Eastern division, after amending it so as to extend the time to two years.

Washington, May 1.—It is understood that in a cabinet meeting to day, the President invited an expression of opinion from his Constitutional advisers respecting the plan reported to Congress by the reconstruction committee. An interesting and animated discussion ensued. Mr. Seward declared himself in a very decided and emphatic manner against the plan of the committee, and in favor of the immediate admission of loyal representatives from the lately rebellious States. McCulloch also spoke in opposition to the plan, and expressed himself strongly in favor of the immediate consummation of the President's restoration policy. Stanton was equally decided in his opposition to the committee's report. Welles was unequivocally against the scheme, and earnest in support of the President. Harlan expressed no opinion. Dennison was in favor of the President's policy, but expressed doubts as to the precise terms on which loyal representatives from the South should be admitted to seats in Congress. Speed was not present. The President was earnest in his opposition to the report of the committee, confessed himself against all conditions precedent to the admission of loyal representatives from the Southern States, such as amendments to the Constitution or Congressional legislation. He remarked in general terms, that if the organic law be changed at all, it should be done at a time when all the States participate in one nation.

New York, May 4.—Sherman's thirty year five per cent. loan bill has been fully discussed here and is well received.

New Orleans, May 8.—By instructions of the President, Gen. Canby has released the town held by the military, and turned it over to the United States Marshal. The President ordered Gen. Canby not to interfere with the U. S. Court.

Chicago, May 4.—The Connecticut Legislature met at New Haven on Wednesday. The Senate elected Hon. J. T. Waite, of Norwich, President; and the House, Hon. David Gallup, of Plainfield, as Speaker. Gov. Hawley was then inaugurated.

Cincinnati, May 4.—A convention was held in Knoxville, Tennessee, yesterday, which adopted a resolution in favor of a separate State Government for East Tennessee. It appointed a committee to bring the question before the Legislature. Judge Samuel Rodgers, who presided, said this was but an adjourned meeting of the convention which met at Greenville during the dark days of 1861. It is not a secession movement but expresses the "erect wish of the people for a separate State."

Washington, May 3.—Hon. James Patridge Minister to San Salvador, has resigned. The President has withdrawn the nomination of Nicholas Smith, of Kansas, as Minister to Grenada. U. S. Marshal Jackson, of Wisconsin, has been removed, and General Cassius Fairchild nominated as his successor. It is also rumored that M. A. Howard, postmaster of Detroit has been removed. Congressman Eldridge boasts that there is to be a general sweeping among office holders who do not support the President's policy. Col. Florence, of the National Union closed his editorial this evening on Congress as follows: "These men had better beware. They are not a loyal Congress, but an unconstitutional body of usurpers. The country feels that the great error of the President was in ever recognizing them at all in their self important rump condition. A little rebellion is just the thing needed now, and there are two hundred thousand democrats north, who would back that kind of pluck with good relish. The statement of the public debt on May 1st, shows a reduction of $15,956,674. The department has issued an order that hereafter civilians shall not be tried by military courts, where proper civil tribunals are in existence. The order does not apply to contractors. The following answer to the Governor of North Carolina is published dated Executive Mansion, April 20th.—I am directed by the President to inform you that the proclamation of April 2d, was not intended to interfere with the military commissions then or previously organized, or trials pending before that commission. Gen. Rodgers has been instructed to proceed with the trial of Maj. Geo. but before execution of sentence, will report fully to the War Department.

Signed,
EDWARD COOPER,
Acting Private Secretary.
Mr. Cooper is a member of Congress, elected from Tennessee, assisting the President in the above capacity while awaiting admission.

The Resolutions of the Law.

The Wisconsin Legislature had formally considered a proposition to abolish all laws for the collection of debts. The mover of the bill, Mr. Ellmore, is a great wag, as evinced by the following extract from his speech on that subject: "The speaker proceeded to review the present system of collecting debts. It was all a bung and a cheat, a matter of technicalities and legal shuffling. Lawyers gave advice in order to obtain fees and encourage litigation. Judges made blunders and mistakes. He had a little experience in law and that was rich. [Laughter.] He would give a history of it. The speaker then related how he had purchased a yoke of oxen about fifteen years ago—paid thirty dollars for them—a few days after the son of the man of whom he had bought the oxen came to him and said the oxen were his. He insisted on having pay over again, and commenced a suit before a Justice. The jury didn't agree. Finally, through the Basswood Justice of the Peace, the case went against him. He appealed it to the Circuit Court in Milwaukee. There I lost again, and said to my lawyer: I will give you ten dollars to quote Pennsylvania law to Judge Miller, and get a new trial ordered. [Great laughter.] He took the ten dollars and performed his duty. A new trial was then granted, and the venue changed to Walworth county. Judge Irvin was then the Judge. Any man who wanted to gain a cause in his court, had either to go hunting with him and let the Judge claim all the game that was shot, or pat his dog. I patted his dog. [Laughter.] I fed that dog. [Renewed laughter.] The case was decided in my favor. When I heard the decision, I thought the dog had followed me about long enough. I turned round and gave him a kick. [Laughter.] The yelp of the dog had hardly subsided ere I heard the Judge say: "Mr. Clerk, this judgment is set aside and a new trial granted." [Great laughter.] Mr. Speaker, that kick cost me 200! [Conclusive laughter.] You have no doubt seen a suit in a Justice's court in the country? There is spent by the juror and hangers on, besides other costs, at least fifty dollars, besides the ill feelings and discussions caused by it. It is all a cheat. The litigants had better sit down and play a game of old sledge to decide the case. It would be more sure to settle the disputes justly."

UNION CONVENTION.

The Union voters of Clark County are requested to meet in their respective precincts on SATURDAY, MAY 6, 1866, To elect Delegates to represent them in a County Convention to be held at Vancouver, Saturday, May 12, 1866, for the purpose of nominating candidates for County Officers.

Table listing precincts and delegates: Vancouver 10, Lakemont 7, Preston 2, Washburn 2, Clatsop 4, Paterson 2, Pollock 2, Jewett 2.

H. COCHRAN, Chairman County Committee.

THE TASK.

The great task now before the American people, is a complete reconstruction of the American Union, so as to secure and forever preserve the great ends proposed in its original constitution. In the completion of that task, every mind and every journal—however limited its sphere of influence—has something to do to lead and mould the thinking and acting of the people.

In the midst of this growing condition of feeling and action, the people waited for the assembling of Congress. If the Executive had said, while the people were thus waiting, Congress has nothing to do in this matter, it would have soured all hearts.

Now it seems to us the question, simply is, whether or not these States, or any of them are entitled to representation. If they are not out of the Union now, they were not during the armed rebellion.

By order of the Society, JOHN T. MARONY, Corresponding Secretary.

COUNTY CONVENTION.—The County Convention will be held in this city to-day. Some of the important county officers are to be filled, beside the election of three members of the House of Representatives.

It were better to leave all the questions now before us unsettled for a generation than to settle them wrongly. Our great danger is here. A deluged political sentiment will try to hurry the nation on to the perilous yielding to demands that have no foundation in right, to the compromise of principles for the deceitful lure of an ephemeral peace.

Riot and Killing.

On Monday night a row occurred in the Mt. Hood burly gurdy saloon during which one soldier, Jack McDonnell, was shot and instantly killed, another slightly wounded, and Mr. Goldbeck, City Marshal, was severely, though probably not fatally injured.

Records.—The Oregon Statesman of last week has a column article revealing something of the treacherous secret associations organized on this coast during the war.

Now it seems to us the question, simply is, whether or not these States, or any of them are entitled to representation. If they are not out of the Union now, they were not during the armed rebellion.

By order of the Society, JOHN T. MARONY, Corresponding Secretary.

COUNTY CONVENTION.—The County Convention will be held in this city to-day.

MILITARY.—Company "B," 14th Infantry, Capt. Henton commanding, left this place on Friday for Boise.

It is stated that the head quarters of Gen. Steele are ordered to be removed to Portland.

Olympia Correspondence.

OLYMPIA, May 7th, 1866.

Our usually quiet little town presents quite a business like appearance in consequence of people coming in to attend Court.

Last Saturday, a man who gave his name as George Lightfoot, became light-fingered, and appropriated to his own use and benefit the property of a Mr. Mills, of this place.

When the bright sun gilded the eastern horizon (that last remark is purely original), proclaiming to Polly Tix and her lovers that the 5th of May had arrived, (that's original too), the delegates from the various precincts in the county had arrived at the seat of Government, and at 10 o'clock precisely, a large procession of delegates—and some who were not delegates—marched up to the Court House.

ITEMS.

We notice a studied effort on the part of all the California papers not to mention anything relative to the mines or mining interests of Oregon, Idaho, Montana, or Washington.

Five hundred dollars more of the money stolen from Collector Adams has been recovered from Rogers, another waiter on board the steamer.

NATIONAL BANK.—The First National Bank of Portland, Oregon, opened May 7th, under favorable circumstances.

PRECINCT MEETINGS.—The Union Precinct meetings were held in the various precincts of the county on Saturday last.

THE STEAMER FORTY-NINE, plying on the Columbia river between Little Dalles, W. T., and Death Rapids, B. C., Capt. L. White, commanding, has made her first trip.

OBLIGATIONS.—We are under obligations to our very genial friend Jones, of the book and periodical store, and telegraph office, for favors.

Notice.—Prof. Frambes, of Portland, will preach in the M. E. Church of this city to-morrow, May 12th, at 10 1/2 a. m. and 7 1/2 p. m.

Speech of Senator Yates.

Senator Yates of Illinois, in a speech lately delivered in the Senate of the United States made the following reference to Abraham Lincoln and the qualities and principles which made him President of the United States.

Sir, what made Abraham Lincoln President of the United States? I know he was good, very good; he was great, very great, in all those qualities which constitute the Statesman; but it was his persistent advocacy of the declaration of American independence, in his debate with Stephen A. Douglas, in his speeches at the Cooper Institute in New York, in Connecticut, and Kansas; it was his clear definition of the principles of human freedom; it was those God-inspiring words—"This Union cannot permanently endure half-slave and half-free; the Union will not be divided, and this which riveted the attention of the nation, and made him President of the United States.

It is too late to change the title of human progress. The enlightened convictions of the masses, wrought by the thorough discussions of thirty years, and consecrated by the baptism of precious blood cannot now be changed.

Nashy Cautions the Democracy.

CONFEDERATE X ROADS, (which is in the state of Kentucky), 29, 1866.

I notice all over the North the Democracy is a grin and march in brass bands and hirn halls for indorsing Andrew Johnson.

In the name of sufferin Kentucky, of which stait I am a adopted citizen, I protest!

Andrew Johnson may possibly be on the highroad to Democracy, but ex yet what asserences have we? Am I datin my letters from "Post Office, Confederate X Roads"?

More Developments.—From Mr. S. D. Maxon we learn that another ledge of gold and silver quartz has been struck a mile or more north east of Vancouver ledge.

PLEASANT.—A San Francisco paper gives the following very pleasant picture of affairs in that city.

SOMETHING NEW.—Mr. James H. Bolton has shown us a specimen of whitish clay, taken from a bank near his residence some twelve miles above this place.

COULDN'T STAND IT.—Our friends of the Herald have dissolved the "junior" withdrawing list of subscribers was probably more prosperously than the young man could stand.

Constitutional Changes.

The Stockton Independent, in treating of the necessity of changes in the U. S. Constitution, to adapt it to the growing wants of our great Nation, says: "We call to mind no example in history of a nation that did not outgrow its fundamental law.

The laws of the Medes and Persians were distorted by a crisis by suspending their laws; the Romans adapted their fundamental law to the exigencies of the Republic, and even the inspired Books of Moses, as early as David and Solomon, had, for the greater part become obsolete.

At this juncture I thought of my grand parents, and so pulled them out and composed a reading. Sure enough, there it was—the very message of the President, and his harangue in a crowd of Copperheads. I felt sad.

Six weeks traveling through the Southern country had taught me how necessary it was for my Government to give a protecting hand to the poor, ignorant and inoffensive freedmen.

What I have said has been fully illustrated to me by experience. While in North Carolina, a planter made his complaint to the Freedmen's Bureau about his hands being threatened to leave him when they received their first installment of monthly pay.

Through the South.

West Point, Ala., March 4th.—On the morning we left Atlanta (Ga.), the news of President Johnson's veto of the Freedmen's Bureau bill had just been received. I had bought a morning paper, but on getting in the cars I found there were a party of young ladies. This was such a rare occurrence that I could not resist keeping my eyes on their comely faces.

Young men and old men, all seemed to be joyful and long hair, and dressed in suits of either gray homespun, lincey woolsey, or the neat and glossy doeskin, were all merry, talked loudly, asked defiantly and congratulated me on my other. I noticed at the same that there were a few in the car who looked grave and serious.

At this juncture I thought of my grand parents, and so pulled them out and composed a reading. Sure enough, there it was—the very message of the President, and his harangue in a crowd of Copperheads. I felt sad.

THE CELEBRATED STALLION
MORGAN!
WILL STAND THE ENSUING Season at the Stable of the subscriber Vancouver, Clark Co., T. P.
MORGAN
Is 10 1/2 hands high, 8 years old, weighs 1200 pounds; bright dappled mahogany brown, and a white hair from his nostril to the heel, kind disposition, any body can drive him in a buggy with perfect safety.

Morgan
Was sired at Springfield, Missouri, from a full blooded Vermont Morgan horse and a Morgan and Sampson dam, and was taken to the State Fair of Missouri in the fall of 1863, and took the premium for the best three years old colt, and trots a mile in three minutes. The next spring he was purchased by Mr. Hark and brought across the plains the same year, and purchased by myself in 1853.
MORGAN has sired some of the finest colts in the Territory, and is stock raisers want a horse for all work they need not look further; and for the saddle or buggy he is unsurpassed on this coast.
For a description and recommendation of Morgan stock, see Patent Office Report of 1861, pages 206, 216, 218, 9, and 541. The Americans give the Morgan Horse the preference over all others for roadsters and farm horses.

SANDS' SERRAPARILLA.
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD, AND FOR THE CURE OF
Scalds, Mercurial Eruptions, Cutaneous Eruptions, Rheumatism, Liver Complaint, Stomach
Ailments, Dyspepsia, Leucorrhoea,
Winds, Scirrhus, &c., &c.
Enlargement of the Spleen and Spleen, Fever Sore,
Erysipelas, Felt Rheum,
Loss of Appetite, Nipples, Elixes, General Debility, &c., &c.

GENERAL TONIC FOR THE SYSTEM
IT IS UNRIVALLED.
Serrapapilla has never yet explained the philosophy of its action. We know that the medicated food is first converted into the semi-fluid called chyle, and afterwards, by admixture with the bilious secretions and other fluids into chyle, a milky fluid, which, in its passage to the veins, becomes blood. But how this is effected, we know not.
Now it is evident, that if the vital fluid be diseased or impure, the whole system suffers from it, and every organ, liver and tissue of the body will be in an abnormal state. This condition of the system is developed by various causes, such as, indigestion, or, inwards, as Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Scirrhus, and decay of the Lungs. It is evident, then, that a medicine which will CLEANSE AND PURIFY
the elements of the blood will cure these deplorable diseases; and practical experience has established the fact that SANDS' SERRAPARILLA is the best medicine for restoring the very seeds of disease, it restores to the stomach its tone; it cleanses the digestive apparatus, its vigor; and to the blood, its purity.

ASTONISHING CURE.
Copy of a Letter addressed to our Agents in Chicago, Ill.,
showing, in a plain and concise manner, Messrs. J. H. REED & Co., Gentlemen.—I obtained from your store a bottle of SANDS' SERRAPARILLA, and was then suffering from a regular Fever Sore, of long standing, on my right leg. My physician advised me to have it cut out, and I was obliged to undergo the operation, and preserve my life. After using half of the bottle, the pain subsided, and by the time I had used nearly three bottles, I was able to neglect my regular medicine, and before I had finished the sixth bottle, I was as well as ever I had been. I most cheerfully recommend it to all my friends, and I most valuable medicine for the purification of the blood.
Yours, most respectfully,
JAMES MILLER.

with small streaks, which gradually ran together, and became very much. Various remedies were resorted to, but the eye continued to grow worse, and I was

FLORENCE
SEWING MACHINE
COMPANY,

Florence, - Massachusetts,

MANUFACTURERS OF THE CELEBRATED
REVERSIBLE FEED
SEWING MACHINES!

Making Four Distinct Stitches.

While a large number of Machines have been offered to the Public, some of which possess points of excellence and acknowledged merit, we have long felt that the only one, in the country of a Machine more perfect in its mechanical structure, combining in the highest degree simplicity with durability, and while capable of doing a perfectly equal amount of work, and that can be easily understood and comprehended by all.

To supply a Sewing Machine free from the objections attaching to any other, we have had our own made, and only to put on others as the approved years ago, but also as improved from time to time, by more recent experience.

This we claim has been accomplished by the liberal expenditure of capital, and the patient, untiring labor of years; and in presenting our Machine to the public, we trust that our strong and fully tested merits, which we are prepared to substantiate in every particular.

Regarding the Chain and Loop, or Knit stitches, we adopt the Sewing Machine, the most perfect of the kind, which is regarded by the masses as best suited to all kinds of work. But to meet objections sometimes urged against this favorite stitch, we have added the Knit, Double Lock and Double Knot, either of which is stronger and more elastic than the Lock; thus enabling the operator to select a stitch perfectly suited to every grade of fabric, and here necessary new seams much stronger than it is possible to do by hand.

The Florence makes four distinct stitches with as much ease as ordinary Machines make one, and with as little machinery.

The result of repeated tests has been all we could desire, and from its first introduction the FLORENCE has gained the approval of the public, and has been regarded as a most desirable addition to the wardrobe of every family, and is now being sold in all the leading cities of the United States.

We claim for the FLORENCE the following advantages over any and all Sewing Machines.

1st.—It makes four distinct stitches, Lock, Knit, Double Lock, and Double Knot, none and the same Machine.

2d.—Every Machine has the reversible feed motion, which enables the operator, by simply turning a thumb screw, to have the work feed either to the right or left, to make part of the seam, or to form the ends of seams, without turning the fabric.

3d.—The length of stitch, and from one kind of stitch to another, can readily be done while the Machine is in motion.

4th.—The needle is easily adjusted.

5th.—It is almost noiseless, and can be used where quiet is necessary.

6th.—The motions are all positive; there are no springs to get out of order, and its simplicity enables the most inexperienced to operate it.

7th.—It does not require finer thread than the other, and will sew upon silk, and will sew through the heaviest seams, or upon one to another thickness of cloth, without change of needle, thread, or breaking through.

8th.—The needle is easily adjusted, and will turn any width of hem desired.

9th.—No other Machine will do so great a range of work as the FLORENCE.

10th.—It will hem, gather, fill, bind, knit, quilt, and gather, and sew on a ruffle at the same time.

11th.—The taking up of the slack thread is not performed by the circular contraction of a wire coil or suction pipe, but by means of a simple and effective device, by which the FLORENCE draws the thread into the cloth, is unobtrusive in any Sewing Machine, and is superior to all others.

We furnish our Machines with "Barnes's Self-Severing," which guides the work, and is of inimitable value, and is especially adapted to the cutting of cloth, and is fully patented and licensed by Elias Howe, Jr., and his associates, and our own Letters Patent.

The Florence is sold at corresponding prices with other first class Machines, and a careful examination will fully substantiate all that we have claimed for it, and justify the assertion we now make, that it is the best Sewing Machine in the world.

We warrant every Machine to be all that we claim for it and will give a written warranty.

FLORENCE
Sewing Machines!

COPY OF THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF AWARDS AT THE FAIR OF THE American Institute,
NEW YORK, 1865.

To the Florence Sewing Machine Co.
For the Best Family Sewing Machine.

Highest Premium! Gold Medal!

REASONS:
1st.—Its simplicity & great range of work.

2d.—The Reversible Feed Motion.

3d.—The perfect finish and substantial manner in which the Machine is made.

4th.—The rapidity of its working and the quality of the work done.

5th.—The Self-Adjusting Tension.

The FLORENCE was awarded the First and Highest Premium at the State Fair of California, the only Fair on the Pacific Coast at which any two double thread Sewing Machines were exhibited in competition in 1865.

The Florence received the only premium awarded to the Mechanical Institute of San Francisco in 1864 and 1865, for any Sewing Machine, Sewing Machine Co. of Agent.

The claim of a competitor to a medal is without any foundation whatever.

Which the Florence has been brought into competition with other Sewing Machines, it has always been declared the best. It is the most simple, the most substantial, the most efficient, and its use is easily learned. Every Machine sold is guaranteed in the full sense of the word.

HOLY ANGELS' COLLEGE!

THIS COLLEGE, ESTABLISHED AT ST. JAMES Mission, Vancouver, is conducted by Catholic Clergymen, under the immediate supervision of the Right Rev.
A. M. A. BISHOP.

The Domestic Department and Infirmary are under the care of the "Sisters of Charity."

Terms for boarders, including Tuition, Board, Washing, and Bedding, are from $22 to $25 per annum, with no other charges except for Music, Foreign Languages, and Medical Attendance.

The new building erected in the spring of '64, and greatly improved during the past summer, together with the play ground attached, are, on the testimony of reliable authority, most conducive to the comfort and health of the occupants.

To the Boarding School is attached a Day School of which the terms, according to different studies pursued, vary from $4 to $24 per annum.

5th. Payments are invariably made quarterly in advance.
The object of the institution is to give a thorough moral and scientific training to the attending pupils, and make them men highly competent for either professional or commercial pursuits.

PROVIDENCE SCHOOL!
For Young Ladies,

CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF CHARITY,
VANCOUVER, W. T.

THIS INSTITUTION, which was commenced in the year 1856, is delightfully situated at Vancouver, on the north bank of the Columbia. The beauty of the surrounding scenery, and the salubrity of the place cannot be surpassed.

The course of studies embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education, and a particular attention is given to form the pupils to household duties and plain and fancy needle work.

Parents may rest assured that every care will be paid to the conduct of the young ladies placed at this Institution, which pains will be spared to furnish them with the principles of virtue which alone can render education profitable.

No undue influence will be exercised over the religious opinions of the pupils; however, for the maintenance of good order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the house.
