THE DEATH OF THE REBELLION.

BY A. G. ADAMS.

Now Glory to the Highest,
The foul Rebellion's down!
And hail! thou bird that fliest
Right up to meet the sun.

Thy course lies up and onward
With a progress never lags,
Thy flight forever eastward
From our lofty mountain crags.

Thou glorious untamed eagle,
The Universe's hope,
No Tyrant's power or regal
With thy destiny can cope.

Through all the empire azure
Thy pinions are unfurled,
Fit type of race Caucasian
That liberates a world!

The fetid and poisonous adder,
That thought thee all too weak,
Has sunk into a shadow,
Torn by thy ravenous beak.

Up to thy eyrie creeping,
To rob thee of thy young,
He did not find thee sleeping,
And the Stinger was the stung!

Back to the darksome valleys,
Back to the loathsome slime,
With unaccomplished malice,
He runs from height sublime.

There let him rest forever
In a bathos deep of mind,
Emblem of base endeavor,
And stooped in brother's blood.

As in past ages most distant,
Hurled from the heights of bliss,
With fate alike consistent,
The serpent falls in this,

And the hearts he stung to madness
When they know that they are free,
Will sing with a burst of gladness,
The song of Liberty.

No more shall fetters broken
Emit their horrid clanks,
But instead shall be outspoken
The living voice of thanks.

And the East-wind and the West-wind
Shall the glorious pean bear,
Like a bird that sings unquestioned
Through unmeasured space of air.

Instead of Slavery's matters,
From dungeons deep and damp,
Will be the voice that Freedom utters,
Like an army moving camp,

As the sound of many waters,
O'er Niagara of roses.
Are our Country's stormy slaughters,
But she's passed her equinox.

And the hydra-headed terror,
Is crushed 'neath feet of brazen,
And the land is purged of error,
As the land is purged of slaves,

And fit for Savior's empire,
Is our mighty Commonweal,
For at last, the loathsome vampire
Is crushed beneath our heel.

PILOT MATTERS.

Masters of vessels complain with much bitterness, and, as it seems to us, with much reason, of the negligence of the pilots at the Columbia river bar. A similar complaint is also made by shippers, whose goods are often delayed many days beyond the time their arrival is expected, by the waiting of vessels outside. For instance, the bark Osmyn on her recent trip from New York was obliged to wait off the bar eleven days before she could get a pilot, and the Frosty King which arrived here on Saturday from the Sandwich Islands waited outside eight days, though the weather most of the time was fine; and she finally came in without a pilot. She was quite near the bar several times before she came in, but saw nothing of the pilot boat until she got inside. These delays are very very detrimental to the commerce, of the Columbia river. The occasions are very rare when a stress of weather is such as to prevent vessels from passing the bar, for a long or period than two or three days at a time. With a steam tug there would rarely be any delay at all. The interests of commerce demand that the pilots should be vigilant and energetic men. They ought always to be at their posts and ready for duty. It will not suffice for them to spend their time at Astoria and once or twice a week, if they happen to wake up, sail lazily down towards the bar, providing the tide serves, and back again. The pilot boat should often go outside to ascertain if there are any vessels within sight desiring to come in. It is not so important a matter for our commerce that the "bars" at Astoria should be watched as that business on the bar at the mouth of the river should be attended to. It is just as easy to come into the Columbia river as to enter the harbor of New York. But if vessels are to be forever subjected to unreasonable delays, they will avoid the Columbia river hereafter as heretofore. Indeed we may as well wake up at once to a realization of the fact that until we have better regulations at the mouth of the river our commercial affairs will always be in an unsatisfactory condition. We want a steam tug and must have it. Last fall a law was passed by the Legislature in due form and approved by the Governor, to provide for placing a tug on the bar, and money appropriated to carry the act into effect; yet nothing has been heard of the matter since. It is claimed by some, we believe, that the act did not become a law; who knows anything about it? Perhaps the matter is in the same unsatisfactory and impracticable shape as almost everything else which was touched by that boggling Legislature. The act also provided for a reaction of pilotage at the rate of two dollars per foot draft, for all descriptions of vessels. The old rates are, however, still charged. Some of the wise men of the Legislature ought to give the public an explanation of these things.—Oregonian.

One of the shining lights of the Democratic Party in this County says he was discharged from the army for inability. According to Webster, inability means defect of requisite moral or intellectual capacity; impotence; incapacity; incompetence; weakness. This was a very proper term, nor has he recovered yet.

Discriminating Duties Abolished—Progress of Reciprocity.

The following has been issued officially by the President of the United States of America:

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, Satisfactory evidence has been received by me that his Majesty the Emperor of France, through the Count Faverney, his Charge d'Affaires, that on and after this date the discriminating duties heretofore levied in French ports upon merchandise imported from the country of its origin, in vessels of the United States of America, are to be discontinued and abolished—now, and therefore, I, U. S. Grant, President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested to me by an act of Congress of the 7th day of January, 1824, and by an act in addition thereto on the 24 day of May, 1828, do hereby declare and proclaim, that on and after this date, so long as merchandise imported from the countries of its origin into French ports in vessels belonging to citizens of the United States is admitted into French ports on the terms aforesaid, the discriminating duties heretofore levied on merchandise imported from the countries of its origin into the ports of the United States, in French vessels, shall be and are hereby discontinued and abolished.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington this twelfth day of June, in the year of our Lord 1869, and of the independence of the United Stated of America ninety-third.

[Seal.] U. S. GRANT.

The foregoing proclamation was issued upon the reception at Washington by the Charge d'Affaires of France of the following cable dispatch from the French Minister for Foreign affairs.

"Discriminating duties on merchandise imported from the countries of its origin in American vessels have this day been discontinued in the ports of the empire. Ask for reciprocity."

THE "OREGON GRAPE," SO-CALLED.—A correspondent of the Oregon City Enterprise contributes the following:

"Seeing something in a recent number of your valuable paper in regard to what is erroneously called the "Oregon Grape," I thought by your permission to add a little in regard to it.

It is a Berberry.

There are two varieties in this country. The greatest distinguishing feature which I have noticed is the hight. One (Berberis acquifolius.) growing four or five feet tall, while the other, (Berberis nervosa, only attains the height of one or two feet. The leaves of the latter variety seem to be larger and of a deeper green than those of the former. The flowers also are larger. Nuttall has given these splendid evergreens the name of "Mahonia," and by that name they are known in the East, where they are grown for ornamental purposes.

The last Tribune charges the Democratic party with assassinating T. J. Fletcher. The only fact relied upon to sustain the charges is, that though a life-long Democrat, he had after the nomination engaged in the support of Garfielde.—Standard.

The Democratic party shot Fletcher as they assassinated Lincoln, but the bullet that pierced Fletcher's back rebounded causing the death of the Democratic party in Washington Territory. It reminds us of the history of St. Philomene. Her persecutors shot at her with arrows, and every arrow returned to lodge in the bosoms of the assailants.

How W. S. L. appreciates the people of this Coast. He says he "had rather be a King among Hogs, than a Hog among Kings." Perhaps he thinks the people of Washington Territory are to be his serfs for all time to come, and also serfs of the O. S. N. Co., but he may get a thistle in his hose by rooting around. W. S. L. is like a snake, trying to sting the Government to death that clothes and feeds him. The O. S. N. Co. are the same stripe, and grow fat on the Government. they try in an underhand manner to overthrow.

WON'T KNOW HIMSELF.—Garfielde will be so badly beaten on Monday next that his friends will scarcely know who ran in opposition to Gov. Moore. Even Watson will be ready to admit that his candidate's name was Sing Foo instead of Salucius Garfielde.—Standard.

Go slow Murphy! "Garfielde won't know himself." hey? If he doesn't he'll have plenty to tell him.

O, the murphies they grow small,
Over there, over there!
'Cause they plant them in the Fall,
And they eats 'em skins and all.
Over there, over there.

Last seen of Murphy he was "peeled," ready for "hash."

The lying Herald said:

"The last Vancouver REGISTER declares that Governor Moore's address is exactly after Garfielde's style, and then denounces it as a very feeble effort. This is certainly very complimentary to Salucius."

This is what we did say: "Moore comes out with an address after Garfielde's style. It is a feeble imitation." This shows what a truth-teller the Oregon Herald was.

Photographing by moonlight is attracting great attention in England. An artist at Glasgow, it is stated, has, by using the light of the moon, succeeded in producing several landscapes and marine views, which were wonderfully faithful productions of the scenery represented. The pictures have been prepared for the stereoscope, and give an entirely different effect from that produced by sunlight views.

Wiggins is sixty five years old and a very observing fellow; and he says he never yet has seen a white man go into a saloon and take a drink with a "colored gem'man" that upon inquiry was not found to be a Democrat.—Republican.

Walla Walla, June 28th 1869.

Ed. Vancouver Register:

I am creditably informed that some person or persons has made reports, that I quietly and understandingly worked and used my influence to defeat the election of Mr. Garfielde, for Delegate to Congress in the late election. If it be true that any parties have made such reports, I have to say that he or they, whoever they are, wilfully reports falsehoods, and I pronounce them liars, and defy anyone to produce reliable evidence to sustain their falsehoods. But on the contrary I can furnish satisfactory evidence that I worked for the election of our candidate through the counties of Pacific, Wahkiakum, Cowlets, Clarke, Skamania, Klikatat, and Walla Walla, and that I was not out of the Territory on election day, but was here and voted a solid Republican ticket, with Mr. Garfielde's name at the head.

Respectfully etc., J. D. LAMAN.

A GUN SPIKED, AND A GALE SUSPENDED.—The Olympia Transcript, a professed Republican paper, published at Olympia by Gunn & Gale, refused to support Garfielde. After the Republican Convention made its nomination the Transcript threw itself back in the traces and refused to hoist the name of the nominee, assuring its readers that defeat and disaster were in store for the party, and declaring itself not responsible for the impending calamity. Gunn belched forth anathemas upon the derpted head of Garfielde, while Gale winded his horn and piped feebly for Moore. Since the election, the reverberating echoes of Gunn's discharges have been growing small by degrees and beautifully less, until now, not the faintest boom can be heard above the shouts of victory from the host of triumphant Republicans. Gunn is completely spiked; his thunders are hushed, and the services of a case-hardened drill will be required before he will be fit for further use.—Gale has blown his last blast, his force is exhausted, and he don't amount—at this time—to the gentlest zephyr. Pour Gunn! poor Gale! how transient are all sublunary things.—Unionist.

Vancouver, May 21, 1869.

Ed. Standard: We had a large Democratic gathering here on Saturday night. Judge Lancaster, Mr. Dennion and Mr. Ben Hayden addressed the Democratic Club and citizens of this county. The audience was large and enthusiastic and all were well pleased. The Republicans attempted a grand rally last night. Notice was given in the REGISTER of the meeting, and lo! and behold! one lady and about a dozen gentlemen gathered together in the name of Garfielde, when the chairman called the meeting to order and stated that he had failed to get a speaker to address them, whereupon the meeting adjourned without motion to reflect upon their sad condition. Yours respectfully,

LEWIS VAN VLEET.

Another hasty plate of soup.

For Salt river direct, punctually Tuesday morning June 8th the old rotten scow, Democracy, Marshall F. Moore, Master, L & T and O S N Co. owners, sailed with all the piratical crew direct for Salt river. Frank Clark as pilot. He is well acquainted with the channel of that river, and passengers will be landed high and dry away up its banks. Frank sung the Campaign song, his ablest effort and his last, as like a dying turkey buzzard he floated away to fester in perpetual infamy.

So mote it be!

TRYING TO WRING IN.—We are informed by a gentleman from Washington Territory, that the Federal office holding apostates, who did everything in their power to defeat Garfielde have changed their tone amazingly since his election. Flanders, Ritz, Dennison, Wilson and their confreres in duplicity and treachery, now find a great deal to admire in the triumphant Garfielde. They extol his oratorical powers—think he used up his opponent in the most terrific manner, and even go so far as to say "Garfielde will make his mark in Congress." The whining curs tremble for their heads, and would eat any amount of dirt to win a smile from the man they lately sought to sink in infamy, now that he is in power. We shall be much mistaken in the character of the man if Salucius fails to treat the time serving menials as they deserve.—Unionist.

—The following is affirmed by Mr. Jarland, of Durham, who is eighty-four years old:

Last year he held the plow to plow two acres of land, which was planted with corn and potatoes. He did all the planting and hoeing, and gathered the crops. During the hay season he cut four tons of hay, doing all the mowing, raking and pitching on. He also "worked out" enough to pay for all the labor not performed by himself, and for the use of oxen. Mrs. Garland is eighty-five years old, and performs her full share of the labor incident to a small farm.—Dover Enquirer.

—"Tommy, my son, fetch in a stick of wood." "Ah! my dear mother," responded the youth," "the grammatical portion of your education has been sadly neglected.—You should have said, Thomas, my son, transport from the recumbent collection of combustible material upon the threshold of this edifice one of the curtailed excrescences of a defunct log."

JUST LIKE HIS FATHER.—There is a certain boy in town comes to the Post office to get a letter. If he gets nothing, he will stay all day, so the Post master has to give him an envelope.

The Democrats in times of political trial and trouble instinctively cling to the Constitution.—[Ex. [We saw one cling to a lamp post last evening.]

CONCLUSION

OF THE TESTIMONY OF J. T. LOVELACE IN THE COFFEE FLETCHER AFFRAY.

Question by Mr. Mitchell. Did you ask him to give you a pistol, or did he offer it? Answer. Well, if I recollect, we went back into the back room at Mr. Crawford's. Says I, "boat's rather late." "Yes," says he; the first I asked him was when did he expect a difficulty with Mr. Fletcher. "About the time the boat started." Says I, "How do you expect it will commence." "I expect the boys and Mr. Fletcher will be in here, from what I can learn to make a general row." Says I, "in case they do, what had best be done?" He said he "did'nt know; keep on the lookout; if they come fronting me, I'll d, the best I can. If they come from the rear, all I can ask of you is to let me know." I told him if there was going to be a fight, and regular knock-down, I'd better have something to defend myself. I told him I had nothing. He took this small pistol or derringer and handed it to me. I put it in my pocket. Ques. Did you and Mr. Van Vleet go to the boat together? Ans. Not together. Ques. You have taken a pretty active part? Ans. You have all for and against it as far as I am concerned. One shot made a long fire. Kind of a flash before the discharge. Ques. Why didn't you give that pistol to Mr. Beall? Ans. Mr. Beall asserted he was sheriff, but I didn't really know. I didn't see any grab by William Fletcher. Fletcher's back was to Coffee when he fired. Mr. Fletcher was advancing to Van Vleet. Ques. Did he state what reasons there were for making the statement it would take place at that time? Ans. That T. J. Fletcher wanted to break up the excursion. He (Van Vleet) came with Governor Moore. I saw him at the stand. Said he to me I want to see you after awhile.

THE COLD EYE.—We read in an eastern paper that a man recently hung, said on the scaffold: "I am a sinner; I am guilty of the murder charged upon me. For one little error in my life my relatives and friends turned upon me a cold eye," and he wept like a child. Those few words told the man's life. He erred. His kindly words of forgiveness fell upon his ears. No soft looks of encouragement met his gaze. The cold eye lost him in his path. He fell before it. He arose, but it still hunted him. It was photographed in his sleeping and waking hours. It stared at him from every corner of daily existence. It drove him from the altar of repentance, from the font of good resolves, from the fruitful vase of hope. He left the true and upright walks of life and sauntered in meditation, regrets and despondency, in the haunts of vice. The good turned against him. The bad invited him on. He was a poor, weak man. One kind look, one friendly look, might have snatched him from the sea of crime which led him to the gallows. Who may tell his struggles? Who may tell the conflict in his heart where vice triumphed? He was the victim of a cold eye. Every day repeats the story.

A Good story is told about John Van Buren. He had taken some technical legal advantage, by which an opponent's client in an action was non-suited. The man was furious and declared his purpose to give John a piece of his mind when he saw him; he would wither him. Happening to see John one day at Downing's, standing at the bar, getting on side of a dozen New York boys, he boldly confronted the Prince, and being a small man looked up to him fiercely and burst out—"Mr. Van Buren, is there any chance so low and mean, or any case so nasty, that you won't undertake to defend him in it?" "I don't know," said John, stepping to put away another oyster; then bending down, and confidentially drawling out his reply in the little man's ear, "what have you been doing?"

PROTECTION TO NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS.

The following are the laws of Congress, touching the liability of subscribers to newspapers.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscription.

2. If subscribers who have not paid, order their papers stopped, the publisher may continue to send them until paid.

3. If subscribers refuse or neglect to take their papers from the office, they are held responsible until they have settled the bill and ordered the paper discontinued.

4. If subscribers remove to other places without informing the publishers, and their papers are continued to the former direction, they can be held responsible.

5. The Courts have decided that refusing to take a paper from the office, or removing, and leaving it uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud on the part of each subscriber.

GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN.

George Francis Train has promised to telegraph to us from Victoria the time he will lecture in this city.

Mr. Train is inimitable. Amid the clouds of humanity he is the chain-lightning that electrifies the atmosphere of the world, and dazzles the beholder. He is a walking Encyclopedia; a book in breeches; a preambulating History; a transitory theatre, with every shade of character and every style of acting in a single person. He knows the sciences, the studies, the aspirations, the ambitions of man around him, as a boy blows soap-bubbles, and laughs like Diogenes at all those realities of life, that age has covered with the ivy and moss of veneration. He shows the Earth but one huge theatre at a single glance. He mingles the grand with ridiculous in such strange juxtaposition that he never wearies his auditory. One moment he describes a hog with all the technicality of a naturalist, or analyzes as flower a particularly and accurately as a professional botanist; the next moment he hurries away like a wild hunter of the forest, who knows not a single flower by name, only recognizing them by color, shape or smell. He has peeped into every keyhole of humanity, and looked at man in every phase and condition of life. He plays on the human harp as the wind on the Eolian or sunrise on the Memnonian. It is simply stupid to ignore the talents of George Francis Train. He finds every one's attention, however reluctant. Deny the sun shines, but deny not to Train rare gifts of intellect. He is thoroughly awake; he knows his power, and like a truthful man gives himself credit. It is mockery for a man to say he is is inferior, when he knows every one thinks he says it for effect. Some make it a great complaint that people must pay for his lectures. They are worth every dollar paid. What huge folios of stupidity in law, religion and art are paid for every year by mankind without a murmur! Who that heard George Francis Train at Philharmonic Hall, Portland, Oregon, on Tuesday night last, did not get his money's worth?

Editorial Notes.

The wife of J. K. Henrikhsen of this city met with quite a serious accident on Sunday morning when on a visit with her husband to the house of Mr. Nixon, just below the city. The horse became frightened by a fishing-net that lay by the side of the road. Mrs. H. attempted to jump from the carriage, and fell, injuring herself externally. She received, it is feared, internal damage which will preclude her recovery. She lies in a critical condition.

The celebration at St. Helens was a fine affair. Hon. M. R. Hathaway, of Lake river, presided. Hon. Alanson Smith delivered the oration, which was enthusiastically cheered. Thomas A. McBride, Esq., read the Declaration of Independence and W. B. Daniels, Jr., delivered an original poem. Over 400 were present. There was good singing and a large concourse of ladies to grace the occasion.

The steamship Fideliter is put in excellent preparation to convey Gen. Thomas and staff to Sitka. Capt. White, of the Wyandank, is detailed on special service by Gen. Thomas to take charge of the Fideliter. He is more thoroughly posted on affairs relating to Alaska than any other officer of the Navy. Capt. White has demonstrated that if the government of Alaska were left to the Navy it need not cost the United States more than a half a million per annum.

Some typographical errors crawled in inadvertently on the outside of the paper. In the poem the "Rebellion's down" should read "Rebellion's done;" and "wath a deep of mind" should read "baths deep of mind;" though mead and mind when speaking of a rib are synonymous terms.

"Gale succeeded" should be "Gale subsided," though "gale suspended" will doubtless be his final destination. "Wringing in" should be "Ringing in," though doubtless the hearts of the disaffected, under the course things have taken are "wrung" with anguish.

We have received the following autograph letter from George Francis Train, containing a very life-like photograph with the inscription "Capt. Adams, kind regards of Geo. Francis Train—1870—Civis Americanus sum," written across the face of the card:

ON BOARD STEAMER, EN ROUTE TO VICTORIA,
Wednesday, July 7th.

Dear Capt. Adams—I wish to make my acknowledgements for press-hospitalities and kind words of welcome to your beautiful Oregonian land. Sincerely,

GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN.

At the celebration at St. Helens, Oregon, a young man from Lewis river, Carothers by name, was hit by the piece of an anvil, on which he was firing salutes on the 5th of July. The anvil burst, and one of the pieces hit him in the side or back. It is feared he cannot recover.

There was a large delegation of Astorians at the celebration of the 5th in Portland. Col. Taylor, wife and children, Capt. W. H. Gray, Mrs. W. W. Parker, Hon. A. Ilsman and others.

PERSONAL.—Hon. E. E. Edwards and family of Iowa, arrived at this place on Tuesday last and are the guests of A. G. Cook, Esq. Mr. Edwards was a member of the Senate of Iowa in 1867. Is the son of General John Edwards—has been in the practice of the law for several years in Iowa, and served in the late war as an officer in an Iowa regiment. We learn that he intends to locate on the Sound, at Olympia. He is an ardent Republican, and we extend to Lima a hearty welcome.

Mr. W. W. Nichols intends soon to remove his store from Williamsburg (at the junction of Lake and Lewis River) to Cathlamet, Washington Territory. He has the patent or "Van Allyn's Quarter Lime Soap," and will soon be in Vancouver to sell family licenses for manufacturing it.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 21.—Brevet Lieutenant Colonel H. R. Wirtz, Surgeon, having reported at these Headquarters, in accordance with paragraph 5, Special Orders, No. 92 C. S., from the Adjutant General's Office, is hereby announced as Medical Director of the Department, and will comply with the requirements of the order referred to.

By Command of Brt. Maj. Gen. George Crook:

A. B. NICKERSON,
Captain and U. S. Infantry,
Official: A D C and A A A General.

Asst. to Camp.

A Letter from Thos. J. Fletcher Esq.

We publish below a private communication from T. J. Fletcher Esq. which explains itself. We cannot better comply with his request, than by publishing the letter, which shows his sense of deep gratitude to those who stood by him in his deep affliction. We are happy to state, that Mr. Fletcher, although still suffering to some extent, is able to be out again with every reasonable expectation to regain his former robust health.

Jacksonville, July 7th 1869.

MR. EDITOR,

DEAR SIR: As I have in a measure recovered, I now feel like saying something by way of expressing my thankfulness.

But not possessing language sufficient to express my present feelings, will you, be kind enough through the medium of your truthful sheet to say to my friends (and it is in your very best manner of telling the truth) that I ask them to accept from me a silent token of gratitude for the many kind offices and tokens of sympathy bestowed upon me during my late affliction, and you may add, that, although I may be miserably deficient in many respects, yet (many true) I am grateful for the throes of gratitude; and shall ever hold in dear remembrance their many kind expressions of humanity while standing over me when there was but little hope of my recovery.

And you will be pleased I know to make special mention of the kind attention I received from that class of ladies whose large humanity and generous impulses always lead them on the side of justice and right. And oh! how it served to buoy me up, and as I believe, to heal my wound, when I compared these noble minded women, with those women who were not only degraded enough to take sides with a set of cold blooded assassins, but were even ready to perjure themselves in order to screen them from the punishment of the law. Indeed, sir, it is highly gratifying when I contrast my friends, both male and female, with those who uphold my assailants.

And last, though not least don't forget those Angels in human form, the Sisters of Charity.

And be sure to remember Father Manns in particular, for ministering to my spiritual (poverty).

Put these items together in a respectable shape, but don't alter the sense, as I want it, printed just as it comes from the heart, and I shall ever be your most humble servant,

THOS. J. FLETCHER.

VANCOUVER SEMINARY.

MR. EDITOR:—In the course of our life we have listened to many able and interesting discourses, heard many speeches, attended school examinations, and exhibitions, but the exercises at the above institution was the most interesting, the finest, yes, a little the best we ever witnessed. I had the pleasure (with a number of others) of witnessing the exercises of the close of the term. The room is the large assembly for good reason, when rightly used is one of the most powerful weapons used by mankind—as education must excite it. How pleasing when virtue and religion goes hand in hand, but these must be obtained in the school room; but when indecency, vulgarity and atheism goes in it, how contemptible. There is no country upon the face of the earth where the influence of the pen is more powerfully felt than in the United States, hence the importance of selecting the right kind of teachers.

We print more books, scatter more newspapers than any other nation in christendom, heathendom, or paganism. A man, no matter on the earth numbers so large a train of men and women as we do who possess the ability and disposition to read. How the importance of furnishing the right kind of reading. How far extends the influence of the teacher! It is impossible to reach anything like a correct estimate of the amount of good done here by this institution during the past year. It has more than met the expectations of patrons and friends. The recitation room is the place to show the ability of teachers and classes. I am of the opinion that many of our institutions of the Atlantic States, would fail to evince the spirit and marked improvement that was exhibited on this occasion. The compositions were of a high order and well delivered. I do not deem it worth while to name any class of student as being the best, from the fact that all did so well.

The examination and all the exercises of the institution reflected great honor upon Rev. C. Smith, Principal, and Mrs. E. J. Hines, Preceptress.

Clarke county should be proud of such an institution located in one of the most pleasant localities on the face of the earth. The most interesting, the most healthy of any other, and here is the richest scenery both winter and summer, making it the more interesting for the student. C. A. R.

[From the Republican of May 31st.]

THE MEETING LAST MONDAY NIGHT.

The following is a condensed but imperfect report of the speech of Mr. Cook, Republican candidate for Prosecuting Attorney in this district, at Olympia Hall on Monday night last. It is a plain and truthful exposé of the interference of Oregon capitalists in the political affairs of Washington Territory:

An act of Congress gave from July 1866, to July 1868, to build twenty miles of railroad to the Willamette valley, to secure from the United States the munificent grant of 12,800 acres of land for every mile of road built from Portland south to the California line. A similar grant was made to California. Her capitalists accepted it; and the cars now run on part of that road. But it remained for Portland monopolists, using such tricksters as Gaston and Newby, transgress purposely, an illegal company under the plea of building a road, yet for the real and concealed purpose of preventing any road from being built in Oregon; preferring that the O. S. N. Co. should monopolize the freighting, and the burning house, the decimating, shaving, and bleeding of the citizens of Washington Territory, well knowing that if a road should once run through the Willamette Valley, it would certainly be continued on to the Columbia river, and thence through the rich valley of the Cowlitz to Olympia. As long as the country remained as it was, and is, those two classes of business which affect every pound of sugar and coffee consumed by the laboring man, could be controlled by those two corporations combining. They were satisfied with their incomes and for the country but to progress; and thus are the people groaning constantly beneath, as it were, the upper and nether millstones. And, although these haughty monopolists could well afford to expend $25,000 per annum out of the margin of their profits, to prevent a railroad, as that they could control those two classes of business, yet Gaston and Newby, under the West Side railroad organization, were beat up the Long Tom and Soap Creeks, begging subscriptions in dried apples, poultry, eggs, calves, grain and money; and one citizen to Lafayette gave as high as $600, cash, to commence work at Portland. As designed, when two miles of work had been done in the vicinity of Portland, for Portland's benefit, the Company failed, from poverty in debt—and by responsible and courageous transcontinental the time of the U. S. land grant having expired in July last, they would have been lost to the Northwest Pacific coast, as intended, the magnificent benefits of that grant. Further, Ladd and Tilton have over two hundred dollars in warrants due to the road contractor, for the payment was borne by the people who were imposed upon, and thereby cajoled out of their hard earnings. Mr. Holladay hearing of these foul wrongs, indignantly entered the field as an honorable opponent for the grant, with his corps of engineers and 900 laborers and for three months gave work to all who would work; expended 300,000 dollars, built saw mills, machine shops and cars, blasted ledges and rock, although the time had legally expired in which the grant could be acquired, before the completion of his contract, yet the Company being in earnest, and the work done by a bona fide company, the first vice Company was created by the Oregon legislature as a true Company and entitled to the grant, and Congress by a law extended the time to cover the work done by Holladay and thus that grant was saved to Oregon, and its resulting benefits to Washington Territory.—Hated by the O. S. N. Co., and Ladd's friends resisted the confirmation by Congress of that grant to the Holladay, or East Side Company. And further they have obstructed eve y exception to cheaper transportation. Mr. Moore is the agent of Ladd and other Portland capitalists. Mr. Moore erected a wharf for Ladd on the bank of British Columbia in the employment of Portland capitalists, the water of the Cosmopolitan Hotel, and a City Marshal and ex-Sheriff of Multnomah county. Mr. Ladd and A. P. Dennison, the Collector, and our Chief Justice, both Portland capitalists, did contract Mr. Moore's wharf to be exempt from wharfage at the bank of British Columbia. Mr. Ladd and Moore owns some 10 or 15 city and two steamboats they run in the monopoly. Mr. Moore and Ladd have talked it in the street for months and over the counter that they would not let Ladd's boats land at Portland. Hence came the late Ladd's boat to run on the Sound, &c. In this manner was all the people's business transacted and the people's money squandered. Mr. Moore and Ladd's boats, identified with the interests of W. T., are represented as Astorian. He, Moore, sometimes runs all the boats, identified with the interests of W. T., who don't own a tenement in the wheelhouse. Portland capitalists not interested in Moore? Why, voters, you know well the truth that the O. S. N. Co. and Bank

WHO IS THE SUPERIOR?

We have received a letter from the Dalles, Oregon, in which Ben Hayden reverses situations with the darkey of the olden time. We beg pardon of the darkey for introducing him into such questionable society:

"Our folks like your paper. The licking you give Ben Hayden once in awhile is worth the subscription. Ben and I happened to be on the boat together, when he went up to Walla Walla, and when breakfast came on, we had to hand over our six-bits to a negro for our our board, just when Ben came to the "nigger" he [Ben] showed him his pass, and then "Mr. Nigger" let him pass free. It seems that a man must give him a free ticket from Portland. I was born in North Carolina and lived there until I was eighteen years old, and I never saw, from negroes hand their pass to a white man, and I never saw a white man show his pass to a "nigger" before I saw Ben Hayden do it. He is the first. He seemed to look so proud when the "nigger" let him pass, as I have seen "niggers" look when a white man would let them pass. How things have changed since 1860? Ben happened to be born too late at the time. I have no doubt if big hat had been on, he would have taken it off to the "nigger."

The Company at Centerville, Pacific Co., have invested $175,000. Capt. S. B. Abbott is constructing a sawmill that will turn out from 75 to 100,000 per day. The Knapps are the leading spirits in this enterprise.

Miss Ostevia B. Mercher gave her farewell concert in Portland last week. We are glad to learn it was a success. She started on Tuesday evening on the steamer Pacific for California, where she intends to remain for a year at the Pacific Institute, in San Jose, under the instruction of Miss Hagn, a distinguished vocalist, who accompanied Jenny Lind to this country.

CLARKE COUNTY EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.—The regular monthly meeting of the Clarke County Educational Association will be held on Saturday, the 10th inst., at 7 o'clock P. M., at Mrs. Nicholson's School School House. All teachers and friends of Education are respectfully invited to attend. JULIUS STUTE, Secretary.

Hon. T. J. Fletcher was in the city on Wednesday. He met a hearty reception from his many friends. His wife accompanied him. Judge Bridges, from Pacific Co., arrived in the city on the afternoon boat, and the meeting of these gentlemen was like the meeting of brothers.

A PROPER ARTICLE.—The average annual importation of coin into the United States is estimated at 40,000,000 pounds. Just about a pound for each man, woman and child in the country. But some do not get their share.

Ex-Judge Wyche visited this city on Wednesday with his beautiful wife and daughter. The Judge intends to settle on the Sound.

We notice some Portlanders in the city. Mr. West and Mr. Meskowitz.

VACATION.—From the humdrum routine of schoolday life how welcome comes vacation. Welcome to the humblest and thrice welcome to those fortunate children of kind and indulgent parents who will give them the full liberty of the occasion for the gratification of some long-planned but oft-deferred excursion to some brain-pictured elysium where the pure air of Heaven promises soonest to restore the rose-tint of health to the blanched cheek and its old strength to the enervated nerve. The children of the less prosperous, though deprived of the romantic and costly pilgrimage to some much-vaunted Mecca of health, are recompensed for their deprivation by strolls among the green fields and hawthorn hedges of their own neighborhoods, where the chirrup of Nature's own minstrels, the perfumed breath of the newly mown hay, the cheerful voices of the harvesters, render them forgetful and careless of the artificial pleasures of the rich.

Down from accustomed hooks the boy takes the long-neglected rifle, and the determination in his eye bodes no good to any free rover of the glen or winged messenger of Heaven that may chance to cross his path. His trusty dog affectionately caresses his master's feet, so mingly conscious and pleased with the anticipated sport. Wearied of the excitement of the chase, the capture of the speckled and savory trout from the adjacent creek furnishes a pleasant diversion. Thus glide by the pleasant weeks of vacation with the American school-boy.

Nature furnishes no gladder, merrier sight than a bevy of girls of ages ranging from five to twenty years just relgased from the restraints of a six month's course of study. Placed by the side of so many antelopes their capricious caperings, graceful gambols and mischief makings would carry off the palm to a certainty. Demure looking misses, pinks of propriety under pedagogical surveillance, suddenly discover a most unlooked-for propensity for devilment.

"Her eye, though bewitchingly simple,
Yet there's mischief in every limple," is literally true of many we have in our mind's eye at this moment. To witness their carryings on for the shortest time would throw their precise and well-meaning preceptors into an hysterical fit of astonishment.—They are free! and that God-given boon was never more highly prized by the veriest criminal prisoner when the doors of his prison are unexpectedly thrown open for him. Nature has implanted in the human heart an element antagonistic to servile obedience, and in exact proportion to the pains taken to repress the natural ebullitions of childhood will be the reaction when the power to enforce obedience is removed. We would not be understood as counseling less restraint. We recognize its necessity, and besides we should be deprived of those bi-annual feasts of youthful effervescence, were it otherwise than what it is. It is the extreme tightness of the cork that preserves the "snap" and all that is most admirable about champagne. A gradual escape of the affiatus might by as damaging to the savor of the woman as we know it would be to the wine. We propose no innovation in that way. The rattling rollicking schoolgirl, whose unstudied grace we so much admire, would become flat and insipid had she a vacation every month.

Make the most of your time, girls, that when you are called upon to resume your studies it may furnish another green spot in your memory to look back upon as a relief for the eye wearied by poring over the printed page.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Portland got up the late celebration at an actual expense to its citizens of about $5,000. It was extensively advertisted and as a result between seven and ten thousand strangers flocked to Portland to witness the grand display. As the fire-works formed one of the principal features, at least one half of those who remained to see them had perforce to remain over night. Any one acquainted with Portland hotel prices knows full well that it takes two dollars to supply him with the most ordinary accommodations. Well, we will say that five thousand visitors stayed over night in Portland, and the result is $10,000 for the hotel keepers. Incidental expenses considered, carriage and steamer fare, etc., the grand result is that Portland has pocketed in the neighborhood of $50,000 from this last venture in the celebrating business. Let us try our hand next time.

THE 5TH AT VANCOUVER.—The 5th passed off at Vancouver in a very quiet inoffensive manner. Everybody who could get away of course went to Portland to hear Train orate and see the fireworks scintillate. There must have been five hundred people drawn thither from this county. As the noisy portion of our population had gone to add their voices to the general Babel at Portland, Vancouver of necessity threw itself on its good behavior and preserved a decorous and dignified bearing throughout the day.

THE 5TH AT PORTLAND.—The 93d anniversary of American Independence was celebrated at Portland on a scale never exceeded in Oregon, neither as to numbers participating, nor as to the magnitude and elaborateness of the ceremonies. The Oregonian estimates that at nine o'clock when the signal rockets went up, there were not less than twelve to fifteen thousand persons present. Strange to say, no accident is chronicled as having resulted from the unprecedented jam.

COMPLIMENTARY.—The Oregonian of Wednesday morning refers in complimentary terms to the appearance of the delegation of Vancouver firemen who attended the celebration in Portland on the 5th. Without desiring to appear egotistical we say that that delegation, so far as regarded morale and personnel, was calculated to attract attention and excite eulogium in any assemblage.

The Company will at any time make AN ADVANCE of Cash on its Policies as future Dividends.

No permits or extra rates are required for traveling East or in Europe.

Dividends actually non-forfeitable.

Thirty days grace on the payment of all premiums.

After two annual payments the Company will, two years after the last payment, issue a paid up Policy for the proportion of the Premiums received, or pay the equivalent in cash

The rate at which we have been sending money East for Life Assurance will amount with interest, to at least Ten Million Dollars by January 1, 1870. This sum, enormous as it seems, is totally eclipsed by the magnitude of the interest which the Coast is losing for want of it. For instance: Its yield in the East at 6 per cent., compounded annually for ten years, is $6,952,167 27; here, at 12 per cent., for four years, and 10 per cent., for six, compounded monthly, $25,630,905-62, or a difference of over eighteen millions!

With these facts in view what Company will likely pay the largest Dividend? The funds of the PACIFIC are all loaned at 1 to 1½ per cent. per month.

Of this large sum it is computed that Oregon and Washington Territory may contribute about one-fourth. This involves the sending away annually, to keep up the Premiums on Policies already issued, at least six or seven hundred thousand dollars, which if continued will soon drain the State of all its cash. If to California, it finds its way back here for our productions, a market for which we must look for there.

The applicant need not wait two or three months to know if he is accepted or rejected, but can receive his Policy in less than two weeks, and in case of death the money will be paid to his wife in as short a time.

Automatic Clothes Washer and

BOILER.

THIS BOILER, being made upon purely PHILOSOPHICAL principles, is self acting, and dispenses with labor and the wear of the clothes.

The foul suds and steam, by the action of heat, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest lawn to the bed blanket. Our Vitriolate is to furnish us, as it does not rot them as to the ill process of rubbing and pounding.

The time required for cleaning a boiler full of clothes is from 20 to 30 minutes and from 300 to 500 gallons of boiling suds are forced through the fabric, thoroughly loosening and exhausting the last vestiges stains or dirt. A thorough rinsing finishes the process.

Where directions are strictly followed, success will be certain.

The agent will be here in a few days.

GOLD MEDALS

AWARDED TO

WHEELER & WILSON FAMILY SEWING MACHINE!

Over 32 Competitors,

—AT THE—

Great Paris Exposition,

Being the highest honors and all the Gold Medals awarded any Sewing Machine Company at this Exposition.

As a MONDAY Present, Nothing will be more appreciated THAN ONE OF these MACHINES.

America, England and France, now unite in his grand Proclamation:

Good news! good news the cable brings,
Over all the wires it flies,
Wheeler & Wilson's sewing machine
Brings back the golden prize.

Our "Uncle Sam" first struck the note,
"John Bull" then caught the sound;
Now comes from France the echo back,
Wheeler & Wilson's crowned.

And now, no more the people doubt,
So long its stood the test—
The thing is fairly noised about
And they will buy the best.

☞ We can now supply those who wish to purchase "STODDARD'S PATENT TUCK-MARKER," one of the most useful attachments to the Machine yet invented; which, while sewing on tuck, makes the line of marks for the next.

THE FLORENCE WAS AWARDED

A Silver Medal at the Paris Exposition,

Silver Medals being the highest on Family Sewing Machines. The Gold Medals were awarded then: One for Button hole Machine, and the other to the original inventor of sewing Machines.

The Committees on Family Sewing Machines

At the numerous Fairs held on the Pacific coast in the last four years, have unanimously decided in favor of the Florence, this machine having taken every First Premium since the Agency has been established in California. Among the gentlemen who served as judges we mention Messrs. Thomas Hazebrow, George Schneider, Samuel Blair, J. N. Andrew Thomas C. McHale, A. F. Hitchcock, and S. C. Bridgham—men well known as being among the first and best mechanics in the State—establishing beyond question the superiority of the

WILL STAND FOR A LIMITED NUMber of mares the ensuing season, at the stable of his owner, on the Lackamas Plain, in Clarke county, W. T., at the following prices: $25 to ensure a mare with foal, to be paid as soon as the mare is known to be in that condition. Parting with the horse, however, before she is known to be with foal forfeits the insurance. Good pasture will be furnished mares from a distance free of charge, and great care taken to avoid accident, but no liability will be assumed should any occur.

N. B.—No Indian half breed or Spanish mares will be taken. This fine, well bred young stallion is a beautiful bay, fifteen and a half hands high, and for size, form, figure and action is not surpassed on this coast, and for disposition has no superior, being ambitious and spirited, yet docile and tractable. He recommends himself to all good judges of horses, and to such and those who are anxious to in prove their stock, we say "come and see him and his progeny and convince yourselves that 'blood will tell'." MANHOOD.—IN THE YOUNG and rising generation, the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye, and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some devouring influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, is too much enfeebled to give zest to the healthful and rural exercises, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which Nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it feeds on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo as fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds with anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HEMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses of early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion, and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and retiring they more dread, for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were both sexes, and about twenty years of

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth or Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur, it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of efficacy for the removal of the consequences! HEMBOLD'S High Concentrated Fluid Extract Buchu! There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Prepared at

RECOMMENDATIONS.

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH,
Jan. 28th, 1868.

Mr. H. T. HEMBOLD:
Dear Sir:

Your communication requesting our terms of advertising was duly received, but from a prejudice I had formed against advertising "cures for secret diseases," it was left unanswered. During an accidental conversation in a Drug Store tha other evening, my mind was changed on the character of your Buchu. It was then highly commended for other diseases by two physicians present. Inclosed please find our rates of advertising.

Yours, &c.,
T. B. H. STENHOUSE,
Editor and Proprietor of Daily and Semi-Weekly TELEGRAPH.

N. . . O. VOL. INSTITUTE,
Corner of 5th Avenue & 76 h St.
(A Home and School for the Sons of Deceased Soldiers.)

Dr. H. T. HEMBOLD:

Two bottles only of the package of your valuable Buchu presented to the Institute have been used by the children, and with perfect success. In the case of our little Lieutenant, A. J., his pride is no longer mortified, and he is free from the daily anathemas of the chambermaid who has charge of his bedding. I feel that a knowledge of the result of our use of your Buchu with the children under our charge may save many a Superintendent and Matron of Boarding Schools and Asylums a great amount of annoyance; and many a poor child sufferingmore from weakness than from habit, may be spared punishment, that is (not knowing it as a weakness instead of a bad habit) most unjustly inflicted upon them. Thanking you on behalf of the children, and hoping others may be alike benefited.

I am respectfully yours,
COL. YOUNG,
General Sup't and Director.

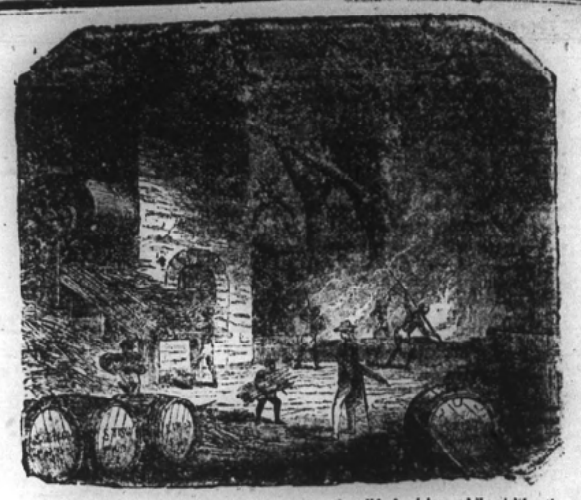
E. W. BROWN.

Vancouver, W. T., February 1, 1869. 19tf



Many years ago, the writer of these lines and an invalid physician, while visiting the Island of St. Croix for their health, experienced and witnessed many surprising and beneficial effects of the Rum there produced upon many of the invalids who were (like ourselves) seeking health; and, upon inquiry and investigation, obtained a full history of its medicinal virtues. He was delighted and surprised, and after his own recovery, which soon occurred, determined, if possible, to procure the sole right to manufacture and sell it in the United States.

The result of his labors was a glorious success for himself and suffering humanity, for the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS was thus made known to the world. PLANTATION BITTERS being an article of real merit, founded upon new principles, and relying wholly upon the vegetable world for its medicinal effects, worked a rapid revolution in the history of medicine, and became as a household word all over the civilized world. The cabalistic S. T.—1860—X. was a talisman of health, and the demand for the PLANTATION BITTERS soon far exceeded the abilities of the proprietors to supply.

Notwithstanding the large importation of St. Croix Rum, made expressly for the compounding of these Bitters, the quantity was inadequate. It therefore became necessary that arrangements upon an extensive scale abroad should at once be made, and an agent was dispatched to St. Thomas for that purpose. He was fortunate in securing and leasing several plantations on some of the largest and most productive estates on the island. Houses, stills and presses were erected as if by magic, which utterly "astonished the natives." The services of experienced men and natives of the island were procured, and very soon the proprietors of the PLANTATION BITTERS were in a position to supply their laboratory with all the perfectly pure St. Croix Rum needed in manufacturing the GREAT DYSPEPTIC TONIC AND INVIGORATOR. The above cut represents the natives crushing the sugar-cane and otherwise preparing it for the stills and presses.

As an antidote to Fever and Ague, Intermittent and Malarious Fevers, Dyspepsia, and other kindred diseases, the use of the PLANTATION BITTERS is unsurpassed in the history of the world. Over five million bottles are disposed of annually. They are adapted to old and young, male and female. They are agreeable in taste, and always produce an immediate beneficial result.

ROBINSON'S

CELEBRATED MAGIC SOAP

WHICH REMOVES PAINT, TAR, Pitch and dirt of every description; and which has given such general satisfaction, by proving that your washing can be done with one-half the time and labor of wash-tub, washboard and hard rubbing, to wear out your clothing, as commonly dispensed with, as the washing is simply done by soaking your clothes from 20 to 30 minutes in hot water—then boiling from 5 to 10 minutes. Thus, the washing for a dozen persons can be done in from 1 to 2 hours, and your washing getting three-fourths less than by any other process. This Soap has not only proved superior for washing any and all kinds of goods, but will not injure in the slightest degree any fabric of the finest texture. It also keeps your hands from chapping when exposed to the air, and leaving them soft and white as well as your clothes. In many instances it has cured the worst chapped hands. The manner in which it is put up makes it a desirable article for the toilet, being nicely perfumed as ordered—it also being an excellent article for washing the head, removing dandruff and scurf leaving the scalp in a healthy condition, and the hair soft and silky. We defy any person or persons to produce to us superior for washing any and all kinds of goods; from the kitchen floor to the finest broache silk, and we ask it a fair trial, and if it does not do the work your money will be refunded. It will wash in hard or soft water.

We take pleasure in announcing below a few of the many ladies' names (by their consent) who have used our Soap from six months to one year.
