J. Walter Walsh was arrested vesterday J. Walter Walsh was arrested yesterday upon a complaint issued at the request of Mr. Sheldon, of the firm of Sheldon & Lloyd, dancing masters, charging him with libel. He was released on giving bail and promises to rebut the complaint by proving that what is charged to be libelous is really nothing but the naked truth. I have an idea that Walsh did tell nothing but the naked truth, but whether he will be able to prove it or not is quite another matter. The dancing establishment referred to is situated on the corner of Market and Second streets, and Walsh called it a free-love temple, and said it was nothing but a rendezvous for married women, and single ones, also inclined to adulterous indulgence, and young men who were willing to be of assistance to them in the matter. I know enough about these public dancing schools here to be a market. the matter. I have enough about these public dancing softools here to be perfectly satisfied that the most of that charge will apply to all of them. It is a shorter step from a San Francisco dancing school to the assignation house than it is from the sublime assignation house than it is from the sublime to the ridiculous—a considerably shorter step. The oldest of these establishments is famous as a place where scores of young girls have gone astray, and where the usual order of things is reversed, and it is accepted ettir quette for married women to freely make advances to young men which ordinarily come from the other direction in fear and trembling, and accompanied by visions of double-barreled shot-guns and irate husbands.

New York, Dec. 20 .- Commercial's Wash ington dispatch says: The President's action in restoring the Southern States which have adopted the Constitutional Amendment to the enjoyment of all their constitutional privileges, except representation in Congress, has paralyzed the action of the radical Republicans and produced an intense interest, and an exciting contest may be expected, however, between the radicals and conservatives, supporters of the President.

Resolved. That the President of the United States be requested to transmit a copy of these resolutions to Mrs. Lincoln, and assure her of the profound sympathy of the two Houses of Congress for her deep personal affliction, and of their sincere condolence for the late national bereavement.

CORRECT.—M. Thiers descants thus on the office seeker: "Of all the appetites that curse young men, the appetite for office seems to be the silliest and meanest. There seems to be the sintest and meanest. There is nothing which fills me with greater dissingust than to see a young man eager for the poor distinction which an office confers. An office seeker, for the sake of honor, is constitutionally mean. I have seen men beg at twenty-one as prudential candidates in some small school districts, and stick to office until everybody was sick of them. Whether it rained porridge or potatoes, paving stones or pearls, their dish was always out. They and their families had to be cared for."

EDIDAY EVENING JANUARY 12, 180

PRODUCTS OF WALLA WALLA VALLEY .- A few weeks since we gave place to a statement show-ing that during the last year we exported sever thousand barrels of flour, the product of this Valley. In continuation of this subject, and as showing the productiveness of our country, we compile the following statement of shipments to the lower country, principally by steamers :

Hay,				166,000
Gats and	Barley	,	4	159,247	lbs.
Onions,				58,265
Potatoes,				42,462	lbs.
Cabbages,				1,400	lbs.
Wool, .				15.504	lbs.
Bran,				14,300	lbs.

In addition to the foregoing, there were larg shipments of hides and furs, the figures for which we have not at hand. Bearing in mind the fact that the development of our resources has but just commenced, and that previous t last year we scarce produced sufficient to meet home demand, and certainly this exhibit the year just commenced it is estimated that our surplus yield in the single article of flour will be equal to twenty-five thousand barrels. For every surplus pound of flour thus produced we will find a ready market in the Blackfoot, Co-lumbia River and Boise mines—all of them to great extent dependent upon us for their supplies of this important staple. In the line of early regetables, we shall be fully able to supply the Portland market and thus stop shipments from California. Centrally situated, the coast markets, as well as those of the whole vast interior are open to us, and thus we have every inducement to stimulate to the very utmost our sources of production. We mention these facts for the encouragement of those of our readers who are engaged in agricultural pursuits. During the year just closed they have done well, but we expect them to do better in the future. With another year we shall have a large surplus of fruit, for which we will find a market in the mines; fruit for which there is not an immediate demand should be canned and in that way preremarkably well adapted to the soil of our Valley and flourishes here in the wildest profusion. Hundreds of bushels of this most excellent vegetable were allowed to go to waste in the cours of the last year, which put up in cans and properly prepared for market would have yielded large return. On the shelves of our merchants will be found cases of tomatos imported from the East, and this at a time when we allow the same article to rot at our doors, all for the rea son that we are too indolent to preserve and pre-pore them for market. In this regard there is room for improvement, and with another season we hope to see exhibited a disposition to im-prove all the sources of wealth with which we are so bounteously favored.

THE LESSON OF THE WINTER. - The terribly severe winter teaches a lesson that should not be lost on our people. Living up on the 46th parallel, we have no right to calculate upon the mild climate poculiar to the temperate regions.

Instead of this, we should make our arrangements so as to be prepared for the cold winters that usually obtain in high Northern latitudes Instead of flimsy structures, scarce fit for sum-mer residences, we should build strong, substantial houses, such as will afford protection against the heat of summer as well as the cold of winter. If other and better building material is not to be had, we should resort to the adobe by the use of which we shall obtain comfortable dwellings, such as will stand the test of all seasons. Whilst thus providing for ourselves, we should not be indifferent to the comfort of the animals that minister so much to our enjoyment. Arrangements for the winter should never be deemed complete that fail to include abun dance of feed for stock. Shelter too should be provided. The stock thus cared for will be vage. ly more valuable than under the present make shift arrangement. In an early day we fell int. the habits of the miserable Cayuses who peopled this country. Let us now go back to the good old customs of our fathers.

THE WEATHER .- In the absence of any other topic of news, the weather affords a fruitful theme for speculation. How long the winter will last? How much more snow we are likely to have? are the questions that are constantibeing asked. Without pretending to answe of these queries, we have only to say that the weather is in the last degree unpleasant. Or Sunday last the sun shone out magnificently and gave every indication that winter was about to relinquish his icr grasp ; but the following day dispelled this pleasing anticipation, and for past five days we have had nothing but cloudy, gloomy, disagreeable weather. The oldest in habitant declares that he has never before known such a miserable winter, and the new-come echoes back that it would do credit to Green land. There is an old saying, that "misery loves company," and inasmuch as the severe weather has extended to the whole coast, pessibly we have no right to complain. When every thing is dreary and unpromising, it is well to culti-vate a kindly, jovial disposition, and patiently wait for the "good time coming."

ITEMS FROM THE BOISE ROAD .- Mr. Chas. P Eagan, who arrived from Boise City on the 7th inst., informs us as follows in regard to the Boise Road: The weather at Boise City was pleasant considering the fact that the thermometer had been down as low as fifteen degrees below zero Snow was laying upon the ground to the depth of fifteen or sixteen inches. Between this place and Boise City, cattle were in a bad condition, teamsters and farmers having made no preparations for feed for animals during the winter. was still going over the Thomas' Road notwithstanding the statements of "cappers" for the Meacham Road to the contrary. He also, informs us that the report of Charley Barnes having been frozen to death while carrying Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express from Boise City to South Boise, is untrue, as Barnes arrived in Boise City the day before he left.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—There will be an elec tion of officers, of the Fenian Bretherhood, held at the Court House, on Thursday next, and an address will, also, be delivered to the Circle by the Rev. Father Delahunty. A full attendance

FORT WALLA WALLA.

The present condition of Fort Walla Walla reflects but little credit upon the Military Department-or rather upon the individual who lately had the honor to command this immediate district. Governed by no higher motive than predjudice against the people of Walla Walla, the late District commander industriously applied himself to the work of dismantling Fort Walla Walla. Uunder his orders, all the troops, with the exception of a corporal's guard, scarce sufficient to protect the public property, were ordered away, and the post left to go to ruin. This, too in the face of the fact that troops, particularly cavalrymen, can be wintered at Fort Walla Walla, at an infinitely cheaper rate than at any other point east of the mountains. As illustrating what slight regard the late accidental commander paid to economy, when the gratification of his spleen was in the way, we have the fact that the cavalry horses now being wintered at Fort Dalles, are fed on grain that was grown in Walla Walla Valley. This grain cost the contractors in this mar ket an average of one-and-a-half cents per pound; but on being delivered at Fort Dalles the figures had run up to four-and-a-half cents. We by no means find fault with the contractors. After paying the cost of teaming and freight bills, they made nothing more than a fair per centage on the transaction. The fault is with the commmander in not ordering the mounted troops to rendezvous at Fort Walla Walla, where he knew subsistence could be had in abundance at a very much lower figure than at a post located in a district of country almost destitute of agricultural resources. The stationing of these troops at a point where they could have been subsisted at the least possible expense to the Government, would have thrown a few dollars in the way of Walla Wallathe seldiers would have spent their spare greenbacks with our merchants - and to guard against this contingency the dirty Colonel, disregarding his duty to the Govern ment, ordered them to Fort Dalles. From the first occupation of the country by the military down to date, it has been the uniform opinion of officers of training and edu-cation that this is the best possible point from which to direct operations against the Indians. The opinion of all the more important officers, from Steptoe down to the lamented Wright, all runs in one current, and that is in favor of keeping a military country lishment at Fort Walla Walla. Disregarding the counsel of these distinguished soldiers, skilled in the art of war, the late accidental commander set himself studiously to work for the single purpose of dismantling the post, and this to gratify a feeling of dislike he had in some way imbibed against the people of our town. Carrying out this policy he has left public property of an aggregate value of hundreds of thousands of dollars, without even a military guard, and attended with the dangers incident to a large number of unoccupied buildings. The present commander, Capt. Noble, is doing all that he can for the protection of the property committed to his care; but stripped of soldiers, he is measureably powerless, and for the most part is compelled to trust to luck. Fort Walls Walla to-day will furnish comfortable quarters for six companies of troops, with stable accommodations for a thousand horses, all which can be subsisted at a much lower cost to the Government than at less favored localities. Dirty Curry knew this, but to gratify

THE IDAHO JUDGES .- The memorial to ongress asking the removal of the Idaho Judges, concludes as follows: That the legal acquirements of our Judges have not been such as to inspire confidence in the minds of the members of the Bar or mass of the people; that there are great and growing interests in our Territory, involving immense outlays of capital, and that security of life and property in our Territory require Judges of a higher order of talent and great purity of character, as well as knowledge of the wants and interests of our rapidly developed Territory; as suits involving mining interests of almost incalculable value, and now pending in the Courts, your memorialists would therefore request an immediate reorganization of the Judicial Department of our Territory, by the removal of the present incumbents and the appointment of persons to the Supreme Bench who know their duty and have the honesty and integrity to perform it.

his private spleen he has left Fort Walls

Walla literally a deserted habitation.

NEW TERRITORY .- A memorial to Congress has been introduced in the Idaho Legislature, praying for a division of the Territory, along the line of the Salmon River Mountains. The memorial also asks for the creation of a new Territory to be called the Territory of Nez Perces, to be composed of the eastern portion of Washington Territory, including Walla Walla, and all that country lying along the Hellgate river, including the Blackfoot county to the ridge of the Rocky The proposition is said to be received with much favor, and the prospects are decidedly favorable to its passage

LUMINOUS.—Congress has passed a reso lution declaring treason a crime that ought to be punished. We should like to know whether there is any crime in the catalogue that ought not to be punished?

EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS.

OREGON FINANCES.—From the report of Samuel E. May, Secretary of State, we find the receipts of the State, from all sources, for the last year, foot up $172,203. Dis bursements for the same period, $146,834. Leaving an unexpended balance of over $25,000. From this showing it would seem that the finances of Oregon are in a fourish ing condition, and that the talk about the Sate being bankrupt is without foundation, in fact. As a measure of retrenchment, the the humbug militia law has been, as we are informed, repealed. This will be an important saving, and a material relief to tax-payers. We mention these facts as possessing interest for our readers, in view of the probability that we shall shortly be annexed to Oregon. The great bugaboo with the opponents of annexation has been the high rate of taxation; but with the light before us we are strongly of the opinion that when the change is made it will be found that a State government, properly managed, is quite as cheap as a Territorial organization.

FROM BLACKFOOT .- Quite a number of ersons have arrived at Walla Walla within the last week direct from Blackfoot. As a general thing they came by way of the Pen d'Oreille. They report having experienced but little difficulty in making the trip. The weather was exceedingly cold, but having made proper preparations they suffered but little from that cause. All the streams on the way in were bridged with ice, on which they crossed in safety, thus escaping the importunities of toll collectors. The teams with the machinery for the Pen d' Oreille boat had succeded in reaching the Lake, and nothing is now in the way of completing the steamer. Some of the teamsters who took out freight for the boat have returned to Walla Walla, bringing their animals. After crossing the Spokane, we understand that the teams went through without delay.

CALIFORNIA SENATOR .- Cornelius Cole has been elected to the U. S. Senate from California, to succeed McDougal, whose term expires March 4, 1867. The newly elected Senator has been identified with the republican party since its first organization on this coast, and has been one of its truest if not ablest defenders. In 1856 he supported John C. Fremont for President, and in '60 he published a paper that advocated the election of Lincoln. His record from that day to this has been consistent and thoroughly identifies him with the republican sentient of the country. Not by any means a brilliant man, he is vastly superior to that windy numbekull, Conness, and without doubt will creditably represent the people of California in the position to which they have elevated him:

ANOTHER FLOURING MILL.-With the pening of the season, Col. J. S. Ruckle will commence the erection of a flour mill, which will adjoin his quartz mill. We believe this will be the fourth mill in Powder River Valley. Hitherto the miners have been mainly dependent upon the Willamette Valley for their breadstuffs; but with another season the mills in Grande Ronde and Powder River Valleys will turn out sufficient flour to meet this demand. Our "Webfoot" friends have had a pretty good thing on the trade to the mines; but their day is about over, and n future they must look to California for a market for their breadstuffs. In a very fev years the country east of the mountains will be self-sustaining, and then we shall be the richest people in the world.

DEFAULTERS .- From the report of the daho Territorial Auditor, it would seem that nearly every county treasurer in the Territory is in default. From other sources we learn hat the late Secretary, who, it will be recollected, died very suddenly, is in default but to what amount it is not known. The Idaho officials seem to be reviving the early history of California in a small way. The officials of every grade are charged with dishonest practices, and the judiciary, with the exception of one Judge, is open to the charge of corruption and inefficiency. Truly, a haps

THE BRANCH MINT .- The Idaho Legis ature has passed a memorial asking Congress to establish a Branch Mint at Boise City. It really seems as if the whole country is afflicted with mint on the brain. The Montana Post is out in a long article, the object of which is to show that instead of Oregon or Idaho, the Mint should be located at Vir ginia City, in that Territory. It would be a good thing if the Government could locate a Mint in every mining gulch and thus meet the universal demand for coining facilities

Modified -Parties who have arrived from below, inform us that the Oregon Legislature, at its late session, materially modified the Sunday law, and so changed it as to relieve it of all its oppressive features. This law was one of the stumbling blocks in the way of annexation, and its removal has a ten dency to reconcile those who have been most determined in their opposition to the neasure.

APPLICTING .- A bill has passed the Idas ho Legislature assigning Judge Kelly to the Northern Judicial District. We sympathize with our Lewiston friends in their affliction.

Launch of the Steamer "Forty-Nine." By the light of some candles, and fitful glimp see of the polar star, the Steamer "Forty-Nine, built by Messrs. White & Briggs, was launched White & Briggs, was launched at the old Hawkin's Barracks, the winter-quarters of the Boundary Commissioner, on the evening of the 18th of November, 1865, in the pres ence of a large crowd of the citizens and milita ry of Colville Valley.

As she slid into the Columbia on her por broadside, there was a strong north-west gale upon her bows, and on the heads of her spectaors. Yet those trans-planted mountaineers and spectators gave the brave little vessel three hearty cheers, which borne by the passing breeze k the Colville hills with the sound of struck the Colville nuis with the fact that never happened before nor shall happen again. There she lay affoat, and nearer the of the celebrated Mount Hooker, the source of the Columbia, by four hundred miles, than any craft, propelled by steam, ever was.

Shortly before the launch, two riders were seen on the banks of the Columbia eyeing the boat. One of these was a medium sized savage. of more than ordinary cranium and name, riding a beautiful elk colored horse. He was the great red orator of Oregon fame, called "The Eagle of the Light," which signifies, when translated,
"The Eagle of the Dawn." The other rider was a tall, fleshless son of Scotland, riding the celebrated Rocky Mountain black horse, that, in his day, performed the extraordinary feat of overtaking, in one heat, five elk stags in suc-

A few days after the launch of the "Forty Nine," she steamed down to the old landing of the Hudson Bay Company, in front of Fort Colville. With her decks crowded with miners hunters and farmers, Celestials, Gentiles and Jews, she cautiously and boldly edged the Ket tle Falls, to her temporary landing. Her crew and passengers behaved well, particularly at they saw and knew that a few yards below then was a grave that possibly might cover them with was a grave that possion in gut corol are a watery sheet. Her lady passengers were Mrs. Brown with her daughters, and Miss Christine Brown with her daughters, and Miss Christina McDonald, daughter of Mr. A. McDonald, chief factor of the Hudson Bay Company, at Colville When the steamer appeared in sight of the fort and upon hearing the whistle, the officer in charge signaled the Union Jack, and fired a sa lute from the old brass piece said to have been taken at the battle of Waterloo.

Upon the draining of a few bottles of Hudson Bay by the people of the steamer and the Fort the vessel started up the river on her trial trip Sheperformed the trip with skill and power turning back at the upper end of the Lower Col-lumbia Arrow Lake, with the thermometer at 28 degrees below zero. If it had not been for the ice forming in the river, Upper Lake and the "Rapids of the Dead," 260 miles above Col-ville, would have been reached, having gone over the difficult portion of the river. This prove beyond a doubt, contrary to previous notions of travelers, that the Columbia River is navigable for steamers 100 miles above the 49th parallel The steamer was named in allusion to the 49th parallel.

Engagements for wood all along the river an akes were concluded on the upward trip. The steamer returned in safety, and is laid up for the winter above old Fort Colville, some two niles, at the point where she was built.

The dimensions of the steamer are as follows 20 ft 4 in Depth.

She is furnished with a pair of engines, each 121 inches bore, by 4 feet stroke, with a nomina ower of 80 horses.

QUICKSILVER .- Great excitement has been occasioned at Canyon City by the discovery of a rich quicksilver mine in that neighborhood. A friend has forwarded us a piece of the cinabar, which bears unmistakable evidence of being genuine. A few months back rich quicksilver mine was discovered at Owyhee, and this latter discovery only goes to show that the country inside the Cascades is more richly endowed with minerals than any other like extent of country.

EXPRESS FROM BELOW .- On Monday st, Thomas & Co's stage got through from below, bringing our friend Cann, the express messenger, who, with his usual care, brought with him full files of the Portland and Dalles dailies, for the use of this office. By this arrival we have two weeks later intelligence from the East, embracing the doings in Congress, details of which will be found on our first page.

WEEKLY TRIPS .- Thomas & Co.'s stages are now making weekly trips between Walla Walla and the Dalles. Passengers go through in four days, and stop at houses over night. The trip cannot be said to be particularly pleasant, but it is unattended with danger, and if occasion requires, no one need hesitate about undertaking the journey.

A STEP DOWN .- Brig. General Alvord, ormerly in command of this military depart ment, has been returned to his former position of paymaster, with the rank of Major. Those who bave had an opportunity of know iug the ex-General regard him as an unmittigated humbug.

CHILLING .- Professor Agassiz announce the theory that at one time the North American continent was covered with ice a mile thick. Judging from recent experience, we are inclined to think that the ice period is bout to return.

H. N. MAGUIRE, formerly of Portland, where he was connected with the press, is announced as editor of the Montana Post. Under his direction the Post has become a vigorous advocate of the Fenian movement.

STEEP .- The first-class hotels in New York charge $6 per day for board.

A party direct from Blackfoot, arrived at Valla Walla on December 31st, 1865. They report having experienced much suffering by the way. Two of the party, Messrs. Emery and flickman, kept journals, from which we copy:

Dec. 17.—Had but little to eat; having fed nearly all our flour to the animals. This day had a fall of 15 inches of snow, making in all two feet, but in places dritted to a depth of four and five feet. Traveled most of the day on the cie, along the margin of the lake, and at 3 r. m. crossed to the south side, and continued down five miles to the ferry. Crossing the lake was the most perilous part of the whole journey, as the ice broke clear across and the water spouted until it was two inches on the ice.

party were occupied in reaching Walla Walla. Several of them have feet more or less frozen, and all suffered greatly from cold.

SNOW SLIDE.—A snow-slide occurred near Robie & Bush's saw mill, on Dry creek, last Saturday. It struck an ox team and sled, stand-ing at the base of the hill, knocking them about ing at the base of the hill, knocking them about forty feet, covering all completely up and killing an ox. The driver shouted for help as he west under, und a party of men at work near by went to his rescue. They had to dig down to the man's feet before they could get him out, and had not timely assistance been rendered, he would have perished in a short time.—Boise Stateman.

SOLDIER SHOT.—We learn that a soldier was shot at Fort Boise 'recently. The facts as we learned them were that Shay, who had been a long time confined in the guard-hone, somehow got enough liquor to get intoxicated, and got possession of some firearms, wherewith he commenced offcupive operations upon the guard. The officer of the guard called men to his assistance, and Shay, refusing to give up his arms or submit to orders, was shot.—Boise Statesman.

STOCK DYING.—It is reported that Mr. Majors, whose train is located about twenty miles east from here, has lost nearly one hundred animals already, and is likely to lose the remainder if the present weather continues. It is also said that there are large droves of cattle on Catherine and Sinker creeks, in Owyhee county. It seems impossible that they can live through the winter.—Boise Statesman.

High Prices.—If we had any means of arriving at the price of wood in Boise City, we would priat it, but it appears to be without any price. It is sold by the load, about three armsful, for twelve to sixteen dollars. At this rate it would be from twenty to twenty the conditions of t

ECONOMY.—We hear of a farmer in Owyhes county who sold his hay in Ruby last fall for seventy-five dollars per ton, and is now houling hay from this valley, paying the same price here that he got in Ruby. That kind of farming won't pay very well.—Boice Statemen.

SECRETARY MCCULLOCH ON THE PRESIDEN In a recent speech at Fort Wayne, Indiana, the Secretary of the Treasury made some remarks in regard to the character of the President, secretary of the President, which we copy:

Trying and difficult as is his situation, Mr. Johnson is master of it. He possesses in an eminent degree the qualities that fit him for the presidency at the present time. A southern man, thoroughly acquainted with the effects of slavery upon society, he knows how to deal with southern men in their present circumstances. Ardenly attached to Tennessee, the love which he bears to his State is entirely subordinates to that which he bears to the Union Jealous of state rights, he is equally jealous of the rights of the general government. Aradical and uncompromising enemy of nullification, secession and every form of disloyasity, he is equally an enemy to every measure which, is his judgment, are calculated, by depriving the States of their just rights under the Constitution, to convert the general government into a despotism. Raised in slave States, and until recently a slaveholder, he has never had any love for slavery, and has always been the opponent of the aristocracy that was based upon it. By nature and by education, he is just the man for the great work of re-establishing the Federal authority over the recent rebellious States. And he has taken hold of the work with a devotion, an energy and prudence that promises ites the best results. He is a man, also, of purpose. Honest himself, he expects honevery in others. Although long in public life, and a leading politician of his own school, he is in no sense a partitisan. Unassuming immanners, he is yet self-possessed and digmanners, he is yet self-possessed and digmanners. and a leading politician of his own school, he is in no sense a partisan. Unassuming in manners, he is yet self-possessed and dignified. An OLD POSTMISTRESS.—Mrs. Ann Gentry, for twenty-seven and a half years Post-mistress at Columbia, Missouri, resigned her mistress at Columbia, Missouri, resigned her post a few weeks ago. She is widow of Genral Richard Gentry, who was made the Postmaster at that place during Jackson's first term. On his death, in the Seminole war, his wife was appointed his successor by Amos Kendall. The Statesman concludes an interesting account of her thus: "Indeed, we much doubt whether any Postoffice in the nited States has been so well ordered or so raithfully conducted during so long a time as the Columbia Postoffice. Mrs. Gentry's advanced age, and the diverse business engagements of her son, Thomas B. Gentry, gagements of her son, Thomas B. Gentre who for the last ten years has been the acing Postmaster, always faithful, always true induced her to tender her resignation "

Turante - At the late term of the Wasco Coxety District Court, Mrs. Louise Besserer ob-Walls Waila. The plaintifi also put in a claim for allmony, but this was denied by the Court, speech : the lady being required to pay the costs of suit.

ACCEPTABLE .- Mr O. Brechtel, of the Walla Walla Bakery, sent to this office, on Tuesday last, an iced-pound cake, of huge dimensions, accompanied with an abundant supply of wine The editor, printers, and all hands, return thanks for this acceptable present, and unite in wishing their liberal friend unbounded prosperity.

GROSS CARELESSNESS .- The fire that occurred on the premises of Mr. J. Rosenthal, on Thursday of last week, originated from ashes thrown on the roof by one George Buford, occupant of the adjoining building. The offender was brought before the Recorder and fined twenty dollars and costs-a fi

THE LOWER RIVER remains closed. the 2d of January, Capt. McNulty, with the steamer Idaho, attempted the trip to the Cas cades, but was compelled to put lack on account of ice. Between Ceiilo and Wallula, as we learn from a correspondent, the river is open in places, whilst in others it is choked by ice, and altogether gives no promise of an early resumption of navigation.

IDAHO JUDECIARY. - The Idaho Legislas ture has adopted a memorial asking for a reorganization of the Territorial judiciary. Two of the present Judges-Kelly and Smith -are declared to be morally and intellectually unfit for the positions they hold. Chief Justice McBride, very properly, is exempt from this sweeping denunciation. The object of the movement is to get rid of Judge Kelly, who for some reason or other is in-tensely unpopular.

Public Lectures .- At the close of religious exercises, on Sunday last, at the Congregational Church, Rev. H. H. Spalding gave notice—and requested the STATESMAN to mention the factthat on Thursday and Friday evenings, January 18th and 19th, he would lecture on the early dement and history of this section of country, down to and including the Whitman mas-The familiarity of the Rev. gentleman with all that relates to the early settlement of the country, and his identity with many of the more important scenes, gives assurance that these fectures will be eminently interesting.

FROZEN MEN .- From below we hear of the death of two men by freezing. A Mr. Kohlberg, who started to walk from Dalles to Portland, gave out by the way, and before relief could reach him the unfortunate man had perished. Mr. K. was an Israelite, and is spoken of by the Oregonian as a young man of great promise. An expressman employed in carrying the military mail to Camp Watson, was caught out in a severe storm and frozen so badly that amputation of both legs above the knees was necessary to rave life. He refused to submit to the operation and subsequently died.

CATTLE DYING. - Mr. Bledsoe, the expressman, informs us that along the line of the road to Boise the cattle are perishing by hundreds. In Grand Ronde and Powder River Valleys the winter has been terribly severe, and as a consequence the mortality among the stock has been very great. Some owners of trains will lose every head they have, and all will suffer more or less. In one place our informant counted fourteen head of dead oxen, and similar sights were a common occurrence. In this Valley, as yet, there has been but few deaths. As a rule, our stock owners are abundantly supplied with feed, and hence they are likely to get through the winter with small loss. Cattle will most likely command high prices in the Spring, and amply repay for any present outlay or extra exertion on the part of owners.

Pastics sending us notices of marriages or pastes should invariably furnish their sames. This is necessary as a protection against fraud. Revietue. Ageneral invitation is extended. Cold.—After two or three pleasant days, the weather is again cold enough to freeze a Greenlander.

FIRE.—A fire broke out at Fort Dalles a few days since, destroying the commander's quarters.

Vasion.—A sieigh-load of venison was brought down from the mountains yesterday, and our batchers were basily engaged this morning in furnishing their patrons with venison steeks.

ENCOURAGING.—La Montana Territory, goor women are allowed to prosecute suits for divorce without being liable to the pasyment of coals.

Through by Sleighs.—The road is now broke and in good condition over the mountains, and passengers are taken from Walls Walla thyough to Boise, traveling the whole suited to the mining trade, which they offer at figures that leave no inducement for purchasers to go below.

Da. BRECKINRIDGE ON THE SUFFRAGE QUESTION Rev. Dr. Breckinridge of Kentucky, who has done such valuable service to the Union cause pation as a war measure, objects to negre sized a divorce from Mr. Charles Besserer, of suffrage, as is natural enough in an old conservative Kentuckian. He said in a recent

That any State, left to itself, will ever bestow suffrage on a mass of slaves of a different race, suddeuly set free by a paramount authority, and nearly equal in number to the rest of its inhabitants, is an event that will hardly be witnessed in this world. That in any State where slavery never existed, or where it has long ceased to exist, a white race, both cultivated and predominant, will ever give suffrage of its own accord to a black race, resident with it, equal to itself in number and greatly beneath it in civilization, is an event contrary to the common judgment of mankind, and wholly improbable in itself. Nor if the relative position of the parties was exactly reversed would the result be different. Because the instincts of mankind are more permanent by far than the caprices; of enthusiasm, and wiser by far than the extreme conclusions of debasive theories or of party spirit. Secured in the great gift of freedom, protected in the rights of person and the rights of property, four That any State, left to itself, will ever bestow of delasive theories or of party spirit. Secured in the great gift of freedom, protected in the rights of person and the rights of property, four million slaves of a different race will have received—if fod continues to smile on our end-avors—an installment of blessings indefinitely rich. Let these blessings be enjoyed and improved, not wasted and risked in the agination of demands which have no foundation in reason. In engineer, or in public pressure that reason, in experience, or in public necessity, and which are attended with many perils and no hope of true success.

TREATY WITH THE BLACKFEET. For Baxrox, Nov. 17th, 1865.
On the 17th of October, 1835, a treaty was made with the Blackfool Indian Nation, A. Cumming and Isaac L. Stevens acting as Commissioners on the part of the United States, by which nearly the whole of what is now Monana was given over to their exclusive use, the northern portion for a dwelling place, and the part south of the Muscle Shell river for a hunting-ground. Gold had not then been discovered here, and Government thought stuelf perpetrating a master-stroke of policy when it appropriated to the Indians lands that it seemed would never be good for anything to the whites. No one needs be told that it has become desirable to extinguish the Indian title to these lands, since nearly fifty thousand whites have settled upon them, attracted state by the magnetic ment, in March last, specially empowered and authorized Major God E. Upson, the Indian Agent at this point, to enter into a new treaty with the Nation mentioned, and to obtain, if possible, a cession of lands now occupied and likely soon to be settled by the whites. This treaty, after the usual delays which are allways necessary when dealings are had with the Indians, back to their camps upon the Teton and Missouri, fully Especting to surprise the with preparation for the morrow, the whites getting in readiness to astonish the natives, and the Indians, back to their camps upon the Teton and Missouri, fully Especting to surprise the whites. The morrow came, and with it, a bright bracing day; and to the Council House, about noon, went forty-three chiefs and bead men, with their wild retinues, delegates being present from the Piegans, Gros-Ventres, Bloods and Blackfeet, all embraced under the general name of the Blackfoot Nation. With regard to the Bloods, it must be noticed that the hostile band by whom the murder of the eleven whites was prepetrated last spring, on the Marias river, was not represented, these savages, ever since the murder, having outlawed themselves beyond the British line. The Gros-Ventres came into the Pittl and the pipe being stroked affectionately, some of the chiefs even going so far as tep at each other on the head in token of smity.

The talk, which was carried on through the means of a French and Blackfoot interpreter, was necessarily somewhat tedous, and cannot be repeated at length. The Indians were assured that we desired a permanent peace, and that we wished peaceful relations to exist the tween the various tribes. The treaty was then read by Judge Munson, and interpreted. The principle provision, and the one which will most interesty our readers, is contained in Article III, which provides for a cassion of all lands heretofore claimed by the Reckfect, excepting those lying north of 48° north lattude—the Teton. Marias and Missouri rivers, as far east as Milk river—the Indians agreeing that other tribes may be settled in this reservation. This Article is somewhat modified by the next, which allows the Government to build roads and telegraphs, establish military posts, agencies, mission schools, etc., in the reserved territory, and permits the whites are prohibited from making settlements or trading (unless specially licensed) within the limits of the reservation; and intoxicating liquors, and all persons dealing in them, are to be strictly debarred entrance thereon. The limitans acknowledge their dependence on the United States and their obligation to obey the laws thereof; and they agree to expend for the Blackfeot Nation, in addition to the goods distributed at the time of signing the treaty, $50,000, annually, for twenty years; such portion of this money as may be deemed proper by the President, to be used in promoting to the good of the Picgans, and spoke for the defendence on the United of the Picgans, and spoke for the defendence on the United of the Picgans, and spoke for the defendence on the United of the Picgans, and spoke for the defendence on the United of the Picgans, and spoke for the picgans.

tion among the Blackfeet.

After the reading of the treaty, "Little Dog." head chief of the Picgans, arose, and spoke for his tribe as follows: "We are pleased with what we have head to day. One reason why I am glad to hear what you have had to say, is, because the treate the manner. am glad to hear what you have had to say, is, because there are three nations here to listen. With regard to the Indians, the words are strong that you have told us. The land here belongs to us; we were raised upon it; we are glad to give a portion to the United States, for we get something for it. We don't intend to put aside the whites who have married in the nation; we want to give the half-breeds a share of cur annuities. They own the land as much as ourselves, and we want them to get their proportion of what we receive for it. Am very glad that you have told us to day that you are going. portion of what were ceive for it. Am very glad that you have told us to-day that you are going to send mechanics, physicians and teachers among us. Everything told us to-day we are willing to agree to; we see nothing bad in the treaty. Whatever we Piegans have promised, we shall try to perform; so that the Great Father below shall be pleased."

"Bull's Back Fat " spoke to the same effect on behalf of the Bloods.

"Fish Child," the sole representative of the Blackfoot tribe present, agreed in sentiment with "Little Dog" and the others.

Blackfoot tribe present, agreed in sentiment with "Little Dog" and the others.

Major Upson, the Commissioner, expressed to them the pleasure that their pledges of peace and amity had given him; said he should expect all agreements mude to be fully performed by them, in the same good faith that the promises made by the Government would be kept. He hoped that the pipe they had smoked to-day might indeed prove a pipe of peace, not only between the tribes, but between the Indians and the whites; and that when they looked upon the face represented on the medials about to be presented to them, they would remember that it was the portrait of their Great Father at Washington, who would be displeased with them if they did not keep the word they had given. Certain designated chiefs were then invested, by General Meagher, with the large sliver medials sent them from Washington, and, in conclusion, the treaty was signed, each chief touching the pen in turn as a token of his assent.

And so was concluded a treaty in the highest degree advantageous to the whites; which gives over to us all that vast extent of country (embrand upon the pen in turn as a token of his assent.
