POETICAL SELECTIONS. GREEN GRASS UNDER THE SNOW. The work of the sun is slow. But as sure as Heaven, we know; So we'll not forget, When the skies are wet, There's green grass under the snow.

A VALENTINE. Oh! little loveliest lady mine, What shall I send for your valentine? Summer and flowers are far away; Gloomy old winter is king to-day. Birds will not fly, and sun will not shine; What shall I do for a valentine?

THE REAPERS. The reapers bend their lusty backs, Their scythes about their necks they swing; At every stroke the golden grain, Recedes to give them way. The heavy years fall fowing down And nestle at their feet.

MEN IN THE PRIME OF LIFE.—The venerable Peter Cooper, who was born in 1791, and is now consequently 85 years of age, delivered a speech at a public meeting, not long ago, in the Institute which he founded.

The Praetorian Guard. It is interesting to observe the plots and counterplots of the minor republican candidates for the Presidential nomination; but the motive of the interest is pure curiosity.

Pennsylvania Gas Wells. My engagement at Millerstown, Pa., took me into the very centre of the Butler county gas producing region. After the lecture I went up on the hill above Millerstown and counted forty-nine small burning wells.

CONGRESSIONAL REFORMATION.—By the Washington dispatches of the 25th it is announced that the House committee on appropriations is actively at work considering the legislative, judicial and executive appropriation bill, which indicates that the House will act at an early date.

could see it in the air. After two days I got a ball of anndie wick soaked in turpentine, tied a stone to it, lit it, and that night slid it into the gas.

STAGK ROBBERY.—Yesterday morning the Silver City stage was stopped just before crossing the first bridge over Boise river, by highwaymen, and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s treasure box demanded of the driver, Tom Huston.

ENOUGH PRESSURE. So great is the pressure that engineers say this gas would flow through tubing to Pittsburgh, a distance of forty miles in 10 minutes. The pipe lines here pass 1000 miles over hills and valleys, with 1000 pounds pressure to the square inch.

CENTENNIAL FARES. The Bill Gilted Very Charmingly, But Still Too Costive. NEW YORK, January 29, 1876. At the meeting of the special committee appointed by the general ticket-association of the United States to arrange a schedule for Centennial passenger-rates, held in Philadelphia recently, Western railroad rates were represented.

DRUNKEN BARS. WALLA WALLA, February 6, 1876. EDITOR STATESMAN.—The following lines are not written for the merit of the writer, but that they may come under the gaze of some of our young men, who are addicted to the practice of drinking, on receiving a little cash for their week's toil.

A RIGHT VIEW.—It is believed that both the expenses of the army and the navy can be greatly reduced without detriment to those necessary arms of the public service; but we think the New York Tribune about right in saying that most of the abuses will be found in the management of the separate departments.

NO RIGHT TO INDORE. 1. A man has no right to indorse when the failure of the first party to meet his obligation will render the creditors liable to loss in consequence of such indorsements.

PREPARING FOR THE THIRING.—Philadelphia is preparing on a large scale for feeding and lodging eight-sevens this year. It is expected she will be able to lodge 125,000 people in her hotels and private houses.

SPEND YOUR MONEY AT HOME. An exchange gives the following ten reasons why people should spend their money at home. We present them to our readers, hoping that they will give them the consideration which they deserve.

HOW BE SCARED HIM AWAY.—Leavenworth tells a tale of love and terror! A young man who has the reputation of being rather rough in his manners did not like the lover of his sister, and the sister herself did not exactly like her lover, but didn't know how to get rid of him.

HOW TO CHOOSE MEAT.—It is always important to know how to choose meat in buying. Ox meat should be of fine grain or fibre, the flesh or meat of bright red color and firm, the fat white, and distributed throughout the lean; it should not be yellow or semi fluid.

THE PLAN OF AN INTERNATIONAL MONETARY UNIT does not, it appears, meet with much favor in England. The London Times, in announcing its impracticability, takes occasion to twit the United States for their suspension of specie payments, and rolls up England's millions of circulating gold sovereigns before our eyes as Dives might display his dinner of courses to Lazarus gnawing his crust.

St. Valentine's Party, at the Brick Hotel, promises to be the ball of the season.

Schwabacher Bros. continue their great clearance sale, and are selling the finest and latest styles of goods at astonishingly low prices.

Territorial Laws.—To Secretary Struve we are indebted for a neatly printed and handsomely bound copy of the laws enacted at the last session of the legislature. The book embraces 341 pages, including the index, and altogether is creditably got up.

School Teacher Wanted.—The parents living in the neighborhood of Maxon's school house, desire to secure the services of a competent teacher. Full particulars can be had on application to C. Maier or P. Yancy, committee; or of J. F. Boyer, who will afford all necessary information.

Still Greater Reductions.—Adams Bros. have this day made a still greater reduction in prices and many articles have been marked down far below imported prices. Such liberal inducements have never been given before, and all should avail themselves of the present sweeping reduction. Call early.

A SAVING.—Under the amended charter, the city clerk is allowed a compensation not to exceed $100 per annum. For the same services the city council allowed $369 a year and fees besides. In this matter alone a saving of $300 per annum is effected. The legislature was disposed to protect our citizens against the exactions of their own officials.

Special School Tax.—The late legislature enacted a special law authorizing the legal voters of any school district to vote a special school tax not to exceed 2 mills, the proceeds from the same to be applied toward the support of a common school. This special tax added to the regular school fund will enable many of the districts to maintain schools at least half the year.

Explanation.—The number of well dressed ladies and gentlemen seen on our streets lately has been the subject of comment. This is easily explained. The low prices at which Schwabacher Bros. are selling the finest dress goods, clothing, etc., enables everybody to dress well. If you are tired wearing your old clothes, just go to Schwabacher's and get a new rig, at about half the usual rates.

Seattle has held a meeting preliminary to the celebration of the Fourth of July. A committee of arrangements was appointed with Hon. J. R. Lewis as chairman. Seattle is the liveliest town in the territory, and hence it is proper that she should take the lead in arranging for the centennial celebration. After Clapquato and all the other little meadow towns have made their arrangements, Walla Walla may be expected to join in.

Prof. R. Magee, a practical optician, late of Cincinnati, Ohio, has been in our midst a few days, furnishing those who use spectacles with some fine goods in that line. The Professor is an expert in his business, being the eye, and adapting his spectacles to each individual case. He comes highly recommended by the Eastern press. Those who wish glasses to suit their sight, had better call on the Professor at the Stone House today, as he leaves by stage going East tomorrow.

St. Patrick's Day.—We understand that the Knights of St. Patrick contemplate celebrating St. Patrick's day by a procession, or games, etc. Last year, from some cause or other the celebration was omitted, much to the disappointment of all good Irishmen. This year they intend to again sound— "The harp that once through Tara's halls The soul of music shed."

And invite every Irishman and friend of Ireland to join in a grand demonstration in honor of the green Emerald Isle.

City License.—The amended charter permits the city authorities to "license, tax and regulate peddlers, brokers, restaurants, hawkers, auctioneers, hotels, pawnbrokers, money changers, liquor dealers, brewers, beer saloons, liquor saloons and Chinese wash houses." The Seattle authorities are subject to the same restrictions, and are perfectly satisfied. Our barbers are the only persons that complain, and this for the reason that the margin for stealing is materially cut down. The dirty birds will have to grin and bear it.

Birds-eye View of Walla Walla.—Messrs. Everts & Able, the publishers, have had on our table a birds-eye view of Walla Walla, which has been taken from the town that has ever been taken. The view is from the west, looking east, and affords an excellent view of the town with the Blue Mountains for a background. The picture is printed on a sheet 30x21 inches, and suitably framed will make an excellent parlor ornament. Messrs. Everts & Able are prepared to supply these views at the rate of $5 each; or three for $10. Every property holder in the city should secure a copy, and if he can afford it, a second copy to send to a distant friend, who may desire to know what Walla Walla looks like.

The Wool Trade.—We notice from time to time that wool from Eastern Washington and Oregon is quoted at a much lower figure than wool from the Willamette valley. The difference is all the way from 6 to 10 cents a pound against the wool clip from this side of the mountains. A writer in a Portland paper characterizes this discrimination as an absurdity, and says that having resided ten years in Eastern Oregon, we claim to be acquainted with its climate, soil and grasses, and are personally acquainted with many of the wool growers of that section, and know the men engaged in the business are as well posted as the average men in that pursuit, and we also know that they have done as much as any other portion of the State to improve their flocks. The climate, the soil, the grasses and water of Eastern Oregon are now, and have been, acknowledged superior to those of almost any other country—second to none. Then why this discrepancy? The answer to which is, that Portland and San Francisco dealers find it to their advantage to thus fleece our wool growers.

EXTRAVAGANT RATES OF INTEREST.—Of the outstanding city indebtedness some $6000 is in the shape of money borrowed, for which the authorities are paying at the rate of 1 1/2 per cent a month. We need not say that this is an extravagant rate of interest, and one that is not justified by even the present low condition of the city finances, brought about by gross mismanagement. We doubt whether the authorities had the right to borrow money at a rate exceeding 10 per cent per annum; but conceding that all was right and regular, we contend that measures should at once be taken to obtain the money at a more reasonable rate. On good security, money in any amount can be had in this valley at the rate of one per cent, and where the loan is to run for a considerable period, at a lower figure. We know of cases where loans stood against brick buildings being taken up, and the money replaced at less than one per cent a month. There can be no better security than the good faith of the city, and on this credit the authorities, if they have any financial ability whatever, will go to work and replace the present loans at a rate of interest not in excess of 10 per cent per annum. The money can be borrowed at the figure we name, and the present creditors paid the amounts they advanced. This is simply a matter of business, and should be adjusted in a business way. The holders of city scrip are only paid at the rate of 10 per cent, and there is no good reason why the holders of other obligations should be paid a greater percentage. In the length and breadth of the land not another city is to be found that is paying anything like one-and-a-half per cent a month on borrowed money, and there is no good reason why Walla Walla should pay this extravagant rate of interest. In the name of all that is honest, let this leak be stopped!

PERSONALLY RESPONSIBLE.—The town of Atlanta, Georgia, has a provision in the city charter which might be profitably adopted by other towns. It is to the effect that whenever the authorities embark in a measure that involves the expenditure of money, means shall at once be provided to meet the same. The charter further provides that at the expiration of the term for which the mayor and councilmen are elected, the outgoing officials shall be personally responsible for any and all debts they may have contracted, and that the same shall cease to be a charge against the city. At the next meeting of the legislature it will be in order to amend the Walla Walla charter, and apply the individual responsibility. Then elect men of means to the council, and they will be careful to keep the city out of debt.

THE STEAMER is again in good condition, and with careful handling may render excellent service for several years to come. In the early part of the week the covering of the boiler was removed, when it was found that of the whole tier of outside tubes nearly every one had started, and generally the boiler was in a leaky condition. Andrew Hartman, an experienced boiler maker, was employed to make the requisite repairs, and with the aid of proper machinery he succeeded in closing up the breaks and generally placed the steamer in good condition. Of course the machine is weakened from strains and overheat, but with proper care and skillful handling it may be made to render efficient service in extinguishing fires.

A SUGGESTION.—We learn that an arrangement can be made with the publisher of an Eastern periodical to republish the view of Walla Walla, the cost of which will be $50. The appearance of this picture in one of the Eastern illustrated papers would be an excellent advertisement of the town, and we think it would be well for our property holders to subscribe the amount named. Messrs. Everts & Able, publishers of the picture, have been applied to in the matter, and are assured that if the sum named is raised, the view will find a place in an Eastern pictorial of large circulation.

THE DELEGATE.—This year Washington territory elects a delegate to Congress, but up to this time there is little or no discussion as to the merits of possible candidates. As usual, we presume the Sound will claim the candidate, and as has been the custom the claim most likely will be allowed. So far as the question of usefulness is concerned, it matters little who the candidate is, or where he comes from. After his election he will do little more than attend to dividing the offices and drawing his pay, and this is a service that can be rendered by the most indifferent hombre.

TERRITORIAL PRISONERS.—The late legislature passed a law requiring sheriffs having charge of territorial convicts to keep them at hard labor, not to exceed 10 hours per day. It is furthermore made the duty of the sheriff to find and cause them to perform such labor, and all money so earned by convicts is to go to the officer having them in his charge. Under the operation of this law county jails will no longer be pleasant places of refuge for felons too lazy to work.

PLEASANT PARTY.—Judge Mix and his accomplished lady entertained their friends on Thursday evening, and to those who have the pleasure of their acquaintance, we need not say that it was an occasion of rare enjoyment, in which taste and refinement were everywhere, the music grand, and the dancing superb. Every one was made to feel at home, and gaiety and festivity ruled the hour.

CONSCIENCE.—We hear of a man in a neighboring city, who conscience stricken, returned $25 that he had dishonestly obtained from a city. If all the men who have robbed the city of Walla Walla under the color of law were to become conscience stricken and make restitution, the city treasury would be full to overflowing.

POSTAL IRREGULARITIES.—A subscriber living on Tucannon, complains of postal irregularities, and thinks the neglect is at Waitabed office. Postmaster Smith will now rise and explain.

JURY LIST.—We append a list of persons drawn to serve as grand and petit jurors at the May term of the District Court: GRAND JURY. 1 Frank Kimmerly, Walla Walla 2 Sewell Trust, Walla Walla 3 John Manion, Lower Touchet 4 Stephen Brinkerhoff, Russell Creek 5 W. T. Barnes, Dry Creek 6 Marcel Gayon, Frenchtown 7 Amos Cummins, Wallula 8 M. C. McBride, Mill Creek 9 John G. Mitchell, Watsburg 10 Wm. Vawter, Watsburg

PETIT JURORS. 1 James Simonton, Walla Walla 2 E. P. Hawley, Walla Walla 3 John Shotts, Walla Walla 4 Asa Fall, Walla Walla 5 Samuel Adams, Middle Touchet 6 Charles Bach, Lower Touchet 7 Samuel R. Maxson, Russell Creek 8 C. R. Frazer, Dry Creek 9 E. A. Linn, Wallula 10 D. A. Hamilton, Frenchtown 11 George Cantonwine, Dry Creek 12 J. J. Rhen, Mill Creek 13 N. J. Harkness, Watsburg 14 Henry Engles, Watsburg 15 H. Billups, Watsburg

SENSIBLE.—A cynic says that a wise man provides himself with the necessities of life before he looks after the luxuries. One who should go about with a handsome diamond pin in his bosom, while he had not a whole pair of shoes to his feet, would be regarded as a lunatic. The citizen who should set up an elegant carriage with liveried footmen, while he could not supply his family with food or clothing, would be pronounced a pretentious fool. What is true of an individual is also true of a community? Is it not absurd for a city to provide itself with luxuries before it provides itself with common conveniences? It would be very nice no doubt, for Walla Walla to have a grand centennial celebration upon the Fourth of July next; but when we come to look at the dirty streets, the dilapidated sidewalks and the lack of a number of other necessities, we are constrained to ask, would it not be better to provide for our wants than to appropriate for our luxury?

SALT LAKE RAILROAD.—Hon. Lafayette Lane has introduced in the House a bill relating to the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad. His bill provides for a government guarantee of the interest on $10,000 five per cent bonds per mile for the route, and in return the company must transport United States mails and Indian and military supplies free of any charges forever. The bill also provides that the road shall be of standard instead of the narrow-gauge.

DULL.—Hotel-keepers and others complain of dull times. At the season of the year when River navigation is suspended, business is uniformly dull, and this year is no exception to the rule. The favorable stage of water and mild weather all favor an early resumption of trade and travel by way of the River, and when once the boats begin to run we may reasonably count upon a business revival.

CAUTION.—Under the new law it is made a misdemeanor to sell a minor spirituous liquors, and persons offending in that way are liable to fine and imprisonment. We cannot imagine a more disgusting sight than to witness a half-grown boy swilling himself with rot-gut whisky, and think the legislature acted wisely in making the sale of liquors to boys a misdemeanor, with several penalties attached.

PETTY LARCENY.—A squaw was up before Justice Lacy, Thursday, on the charge of stealing from store of Messrs. Fitzgerald & Bro. a horse blanket. The squaw claimed that she was drunk at the time and did not know what she was doing. Judgment for the prosecution, and the defendant ordered to pay a fine of $20 and costs.

PLATS FILED.—On the 10th of February the Register United States Land Office, received and filed authenticated plats of the "Trux Survey," as follows: Townships 13 north ranges 44, 45, 46 east; townships 14 north ranges 44, 45, 46 east, in Whitman county; townships 13 north ranges 42 east, in Columbia county.

HANDSOME PRESENT.—Mr. C. Davis has exhibited to us a gold pen, pencil and holder, sent to him as a New Year's present by his old friend and neighbor, Lt. Governor Parker, of Wisconsin. The present is certainly beautiful, and the letter that accompanies it shows the high regard in which Mr. Davis is held by his distinguished friend.

HON. T. K. McCOY has returned from his trip to the Willamette Valley. He reports money very scarce in the valley, and says there is great complaint of hard times. Your average web-footer has great capacity for getting away with money, and this penitentiary accounts for the scarcity of the needful.

COUNTY POOR.—M. A. C. Dickinson has again been awarded the contract for the care of the county poor. The contract price is $800. This embraces board, medical attention, clothing, and in case of death, funeral expenses. At this rate the contractor is not likely to get rich.

THE FRENCHTOWN people are arranging for a six months' public school. They have secured the services of Mr. F. Russell as teacher. The interest of the Frenchtown people exhibit in the cause of popular education is highly commendable.

FRANK LODDEN has been selected to fill the vacancy in the county board. Mr. Lodden has had much experience in the conduct of county affairs, and is sure to prove a useful member.

THE STANDARD MILLS, A. McCalley, Proprietor, are in full operation and turning out an excellent quality of flour. Mr. McCalley is now paying the highest cash price for good clean wheat, delivered at his mills.

CHARLES HULL, book-keeper at Adams Bros., and a young man who is held in high esteem, is dangerously ill. Drs. Bingham and Alden are his attending physicians, and are doing all in their power for his relief.

MONEY can readily be borrowed on good security at 3/4 per cent. Our city buzzards pay 1 1/2 per cent, and pledge the city faith as security. There's financial ability!

JUDGE GUICHARD has recovered from his recent severe sickness and is again able to attend to business.

FRAMES.—Messrs. Everts & Abel will furnish frames for the views of Walla Walla, at low prices.

Wm. McKee, proprietor of the Globe-Democrat at St. Louis, has been found guilty of defrauding the government by participation in the profits of the whiskey steal. He will be sentenced to keep company with Joyce in the Missouri penitentiary, and have an opportunity in confinement to repent of his misdeeds. Such a result must have a salutary effect. This man McKee was at the head of the republican party in Missouri, and controlling a leading republican paper, his influence in the party councils was very great. Wielding this influence it was deemed impossible to convict him, but so positive was the evidence of his guilt that the jury in less than half an hour after leaving the court room returned a verdict of guilty. He is now far advanced in years, and in early days was one of the most extreme anti-slavery men in Missouri. Crooked whiskey was too much for him.

DEMAND FOR CATTLE.—An extensive cattle operator who hails from Kansas, is now in this valley for the purpose of buying a band of cattle, to be driven East. We hear also of a Colorado operator who wishes to buy 1500 head of yearlings. All the indications are that the cattle market has reached its lowest ebb, and hereafter stock men may expect to realize fair prices. Rates in this valley have been lower than at any other point in the United States, and it was to be expected that the market would rally.

THE county board has been in session all week, and most likely will occupy several days next week before the business of the term is settled up.

LAND REGISTER.—The President has sent to the Senate the name of Seth S. Slater as Register of the Land Office at Lewiston, Idaho Territory.

VIEW OF WALLA WALLA.—The subscription list was duly assigned to Messrs. Everts & Abel, who are now prepared to deliver pictures to subscribers.

THE YOUNG MEN'S LYCEUM is progressing finely and advancing in interest. The members cordially invite the public to attend and see how they are progressing.

Men and women make their own beauty or their own ugliness. Lord Lytton speaks in one of his novels of a man "who was ugly but not so as he looked; every human being carries his life in his face, and is good-looking or the reverse as that life has been good or evil. On our features the fine chisel of thought and emotion are eternally at work. Beauty is not the monopoly of blooming young men and of white-and-pink maidens. There is a slow-growing beauty which only comes to perfection in old age. Grace belongs to no period in life, and goodness improves the longer it exists. I have seen sweeter smiles from a lip of seventy than upon a lip of seventeen. There is the beauty of youth and the beauty of holiness—a beauty much more seldom met, and more frequently found in the arm-chair by the fire, with grandchildren round his knee, than in the ball-room or promenade. Husband and wife, who have fought the world side by side, who have made common stock of joy and sorrow, and aged together, are not infrequently found curiously alike in personal appearance, and in rich of tone of voice—in the same public place on the beach, exposed to the same tidal influences, are each other's second-self. He has gained a feminine something, which brings his manhood into full relief. She has gained a masculine something, which sets as a foil to her womanhood.

A QUICK TRIP AROUND THE WORLD.—One British steamship has already gone out from England to take her place in the regular line between San Francisco and Australia, and another will leave for the same destination at an early day. These steamers are to be of immense capacity and fitted up in magnificent style. There are to be three English and three American steamers in this line, which receives a subsidy of £20,000 a year from the Australian colonies and New Zealand, and the New York World says expects that when they are all put on the stations M. Jules Verne's "tour of circumnavigating the globe in eighty days" will be easily beaten. The calculation is that Liverpool to New York will occupy eight days, New York to San Francisco six days, San Francisco to Hong Kong twenty-one days, and thence to London thirty-six days, making in all seventy-six days.

Representatives of the Northern Pacific and Utah Northern Railroads are at the capital of Montana, each with propositions relating to the advancement of the interests and extension of the respective roads.

Colorado has a sensation in which Mr. H. H. Honore and other gentlemen prominent in public life figure conspicuously. They are charged with an attempt to corrupt the judiciary of that Territory for the purpose of adding to their own private fortunes.

DIED.—CAMPBELL.—At his residence in Elk City, January 16, William Campbell, aged 62 years 11 months. A native of Maryland. (Baltimore Star please copy.)

LETTER LIST.—List of advertised letters remaining in the Post Office for the week ending February 12, 1876. Brown, J. S. Kesler, John Lawrence, Henry Jones, John S. Johnson, Charles M. Ion, Daniel Davis, Z. A. Newburn, John H. Galloway, John Parke, Edithania Rollingford, Miss Annie E. Persons calling for the above letters will please say "Advertised."

Pratt Thomas, a delinquent subscriber, is invited to call at this office. If we are correctly informed, Mr. Thomas lives somewhere in the neighborhood of Dayton, but at all times have on hand the best calling and setting his account.

W. H. HIND, a settler who lived on the Touchet, has come off leaving an unsettled newspaper account. We are inclined to the opinion that this man Hind is a deliberate fraud, and shall only change our estimate when he puts in an appearance, and settles his bill.
