A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENT.—We cilp the following beautiful sentiment from an exchange: Sorrow sobers us and makes the mind genial. And in sorrow we love and mird genial. And in sorrow we love and trust our friends more tenderly, and the dead become dearer to us. And just as the stars shine out in the night, so there are blessed faces that looked at us in our grief, though laces that looked at u. in our greet, though before their features were faling from our recollection. Suffering! Let no man dread it too much, because it is better for him, and it will help to make him sure of being im-mortal. with a public announcement duly made in several sporting papers, a wager of a rather novel and decidedly bestial character was decided yesterday afternoon in a stable near the intersection of Jefferson and Division streets · Two weeks ago a bet was made be-tween two well known 'sports'—one from the Seventh Ward and the other from the Tenth -that a certain notorious gourmand would eat three dozen hard boiled eggs, without drink of any kind, within the space of thirty six minutes. A lager beer saloon near the drink of any kind, within the space of thirty six minutes. A lager beer saloon near the corner of Division and Norfolk streets was the place first designed, but the owner peremptorily objected, so it became necessary to adjourn to a stable. Only the champion adjourn to a stable. Unly the enampion glutton, the besting parties, the chosen umpire, and a dozen conspicuous patrons of the ennobling arts, were permitted to be present. At one o'clock precisely the word 'do' was given, and with electrical rapidity two eggs given, and with electrical rapidity two eggs were bolied, but as suddenly the enter stopned and protested that the eggs had been soaped'—that is, boiled to a claumy state—which had been expressly stipulated against. The umpire tasted and de-clared the objection well taken, and ordered forty new eggs to be procured and boiled under his personal supervision. At three o'clock the 'sport' was resumed. The first seventeen eggs were bolted whole in 14½ minutes. The cighreenth stuck fast in the throat; the operator gulped painfully, but the obstruction would not stir. The natural moisture of the throat was gone, and soldered irons could would not stir. The natural unstature of the throat was gone, and soldered irons could not adhere more firmly than did the glutinous egg to the parched throat. The sufferer gulped and strained in vain. He seized the iron handle of the saucepan, which contained the boiled eggs, and was about to inject the the botted eggs, and was adout to inject the obstruction when the opposite party called 'Fonl.' The umpire, with extraordinary judicial perspicacity, rendered his decision—that the operator might inject or eject at pleasure by mechanical aid, but the eggs injected or ejected would not count. He went jected or ejected would not count. He went on to give his reasons, and got to the 'thirdly' when the suffocating wretch, now purple is the face us the gills of a male turkey, eyes distended outside their sockets, breathing distended outside their societies, orealing steriorous, boiled the receleitrant egg with the hundle of the saucepan. Surenteen regular eggs and a blank in sixteen minutes and a half. The eater sank into a chair and a half. The eater—sank into a chair entirely exhausted, with his stomach in a volcanic state. After two minutes rest three more eggs were bolted in manifest pain, eyes running water, and the whole frame twitching spasmodically. Twenty-four eggs in twenty-five minutes, and the operator throws up the sponge and is taken away by his backers. The amount of the wager was fifty ount of the wager was fifty

On the other hand, his wife, who was young and quite pretty, was naturally gay and fond of balls, parties, etc. They had been married but a few months at the time, they came, here, and it is now supposed that the marringe was a mercenary one on her part. Mr. Haile engaged in business and was only home during the night time and at meals, said his wife very soon became acquainted with all her neighbors. Much of her time was passed in visiting and shopping. They had disagreements on a single point; she wished to attend the theat-rs frequently and to go to the many parties to which she was invited, while he strongly objected to it. He did not wish to go himself, and would not permit her to go without him. So there were tears and reproaches, quarrels and rewere tears and reproaches, quarrels and re-conciliations; sometimes he would yield to her and go, but it was generally the contra-ry. During the last week of December, Mrs. Haile received an invitation to attend what was to be one of the most fashionable parties of the season. Not to attend it would be unfashionable. Of course, she wished to accept it, and to get a new dress, etc., for the occasion. Coaxingly she spake to her husband about it, but he at once refused to let her ey. Augered at her husband, with her self-love and pride wounded, and full of longing to attend the party, she determined to go at all huzards. The next day, when her husband was at his business, she went to her dressmaker's and ordered a new and costly dress. When her husband came home in the evening she again implored him to let her go; he refused. She consulted with her maid, who had long been with her, and the result was this:

At supper she gave him, as usual, his two cups of tea, which he drank, complaining of a pecutea, which he drank, complaining of a peculiar taste in it. The tea was drugged with something, and in a short time he was sleeping. About 10 o'check the wife and the maid took from him his watch and chain, money and rings, and out and tore his clothes somewhat. Then they poured some whisky down his throat, and spilled some on his clothes. Then, having not glocke on and down his throat, and spilled some on his clothes. Then, having put cloaks on and covered their heads with shawls, they partially raised him and made him walk-out of the house with them. The night was dark and the streets were deserted. Supporting him on either side, they went three or four blocks from the house, and there left him blocks from the house, and there left him

All happened as they expected. The policeman found Mr. Haile lying on the sidewalk, and knew from his breath that he policeman found Mr. Haile tying on the sidewalk, and knew from his breath that he had been drinking. As Mr. Haile world neither answer or move, he naturally supposed him to be dead drunk, and had him expressed to the police station. The next morning he was brought before the Police Court on the charge of drunkenness. He was still under the influence of the drug, and acted as if drunk. He was fined three dollars, and as he had no money was taken to the Bridewell. He did not fully recover until the eaxt day, and he could not imagine how he came to be at the Bridewell. How to Use a Watch.

How to Use a Watch.

A watch should be regularly wound up as nearly at the same hour as possible Always have a key with a good pipe, or equare, and one that firs properly on the square of your watch; for if it does not fit good and firm, it will be apt to slip, often breaking either the chain, the ratchet, or the click. While being wound, the watch should be held steadily in your hand, so as to have no circular motion. in one hand, so as to have no circular motion It is better to keep a watch continually going than to lay it by and wind it occasionally. The going of the watch keeps the oil in a limpid state, and the watch keeps its regulation better.

Not netter.

Be particular never to trifle with a good watch, or use it as a toy, but as a piece of delicate and complicated mechanism, requiring great care.

Before winding or setting your watch, it is advisable to see that the key and the inside of the pipe contain no dirt or dust that may get on the winding or setting square, and from thence to the wheels or escapement.

When a watch is hung up, it should be perfectly at rest. If hung on a round hook without further support, the motion of the balance will generate a pendulous motion of the watch, and will cause much variation in the watch, and will cause much variation in the time.

Should a watch stop, see if the hands rub on the dial, and are free from each other; if they are caught together, you may free them yourself by taking the point of a small knife blade and disengaging them.

Frequently after a watch has had a new glass put in, it will stop; that is through the glass being too flat, and touching either on the centre pinion, or by pressing on the hands. In that case, blame the person who put the glass in, and let him put another in should a watch get wet by falling in the

Should a watch get wer or raining in the water, no there is, if you are not near a watchmaker, as soon as possible open it, and pour in some oil—any kind will do in an emergency, but olive oil is the best; as soon after as convenient, place it in the hands of a watchmaker, and if attended to in time, the whole movement, or at least many paris, may be saved.

In setting your watch to time, always set it with the key on the square; never do it by pushing the hands, as it most cases you would break or bend them. Many persons think it injures a watch to set it back; it is a mistaken idea, as a watch will not be injured by it unless the pinion which carries the hand turns hard, in which case it would injure it as much to ture it forward as to set it hack; and recourse must be had to a set it back; and recourse must be had to a Peculiar care should be taken to keep the works of a watch clean, even though perfect ly free from dust; they ought to be taken k pieces and cleaned when the oil has become dry, as, without this precaution, the best watch would be spoiled. Yet, with all her advantages, I do not consider Missouri, at this time, a desirable place of residence. And this owing solely to the unhappy condition of her political affairs.

For this state of things the radical party, theorem we is largislation in the large of the control of the contr For this state of things the radical party, through unwise legislation, is in a large degree responsible. The law disfranchising a large portion of the white inhabitants has worked mischief and only mischief, and will be a truitful source of trouble so long as it shall remain in force. The differences and animosities of the war are fostered and perpetuated upon the statute books, and a feeling of bitterness and hatred is engendered and kept alive, only excelled in malignity by that which culminated in open hostility to the Government. There is no good feeling between the two parties, no social intercourse no kindness, no friendship—nothing but a hatred which is deep seated and intense. Already the rude mutterings of the threatening storm are heard; and the radicals are standing upon a slumbering volcano, which, unless they change their policy, will ere long burst through its thin crust, and overwhelm through unwise legislation, is in a large de-gree responsible. The law provides for the disfranchisement not only of those who served in the rebel armies, but also of all who aided, abetted or sympathized with them. While this law doubtless originated in the best intentions, still its unnecessarily rigid and even arbitrary enforcement has been productive of much evil; and instead of converting men to the true faith, it is absolutely driving from our ranks some of our best men; and men who go to Missouri con-cientious republicans, seeing its deleterious and injurious workings, become disgusted with the radical manipulators of the State, and unito their political fortunes with the Conservative element. Said a prominent radical member of the Missouri Legislature to me: "I would rather live in South Carolina to day than in Missouri. I believe there is a better state of feeling there, and more security to lite and property."

THE ROAD TO WEALTH.

"HOW LOYAY, SENATORS BECOME BICH.

"Mack," the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnatti Enquirer, writes: There of the Cincinnati Enquirer, writes: There is some mysterious process or other connected with the office of Senator which enables a man to enter the office a pauper and come out of it a millionaire, silways, provided, he be truly "loyal" and fores his country nearly enough up to the fighting point to urge every body else to go to war, while he stays at home to "fight copperheads in the rear." Now, I wish I could explain the marvelous power of enrichment which seems to inhere in the office of Congressman. I could name swears instances in which it has been agreedised to a remarkable extent. If a sanot be that the habit of caring for the public purse and treasure so reacts upon the individual intrusted with this duty as to teach him the practice of economy in his own affairs to the extent of causling him to save a million in six years, out of a salary of $5,000 per an' extent of cusbing him to save a million in six years, out of a salary of 85,000 per an' num. Yet I could name men who have done this very thing—who have entered the tenate when they hadn't a sixpence to bless themselves with—remained in office six years on a salary of five thousand dollars a year and mileage, lived better than they ever before, and at the end of the term were both worth a clean million. Mr. Harlan's own case is not a bad illustration. I shall not attempt to pry into the privacy of his banks in a country to the sale of the property of the sale of the attempt to pry into the privacy of his banks ing account, nor seek, through the aid of Ben. Butler's committee, to reveal what the public have no right to know. But the inscome list is published under the law of Congress, and one has a right to draw his own conclusions from the figures it furnishes. A tew years ago Mr. Harlan's net income was $2,000. Last year it was more than a hundred thousand. Whence this wonderful increase? Mr. Harlan is pursued in pa husic $2,000. Lost year it was more than a nundred thousand. Whence this wonderful increase? Mr. Harlan is engaged in no business. He has not, as Reverdy Johnson and a few other eminent lawyers have, a lucrative practice in the Supreme Court, that might any year pay him fifty thou-and dollars. He is not a great merchant like Morgan, or an extensive manufacturer like Sprague. His calling before he entered this, to him, profitable field of politics, was that of an instructer of female youth in a Methodist academy in the State of Iowa. The facts are, at any rate, as I have stated them, and I could name uo less than twenty of our public mer who, without engaging ostensibly in any business outside of their official duties, have smassed vast fortunas since 1861 on salaries which ought scarcely to maintain them I know how easy it is to cry "slander," and to denounce the "irresponsible" them I know how easy it is to cry "slan der," and to denounce the "irresponsible" der, and to denounce the "Fresponstue" statements of a newspaper paragraph. I know there is a divinity that doth hedge a radical office holder—and that he who refuses to bow down and worship it in the columns of the newspaper fares as badly as the puny of the newspaper lares as badly as the puny devils who run the republican party can make it for him. But the truth of history will yet be vindicated, and it will be shown that the "treason" of the men who manfully stood up in arms against the Government only differed from the treachery of those who turned their "loyalty" to their own private benefit, in being honorable by compulsion.

FRIDAY EVENING, March 19, 1869.

KENTUCKY, is said, has never lost a cent by the defalcation of any State official, during her entire existence as a State.

CALIFORNIA requires annually fifteen million yards of sacking for grain, and three million for other purposes. A MINT COMPARISON -The Philadelphia

Mint has cost the last three years $139,921 over receipts, while the San Francisco Mint has made an annual income of $42,582.

ACQUITTED. - Henry A. Benjamin, who killed George C. Gilbert, at Truckee, February 6th, had an examination before Justice King of that place and was acquitted.

GENERAL FRANK P. BLAIR .- A letter has been received from General Frank P. Blair, announcing that he expects to arrive in San Francisco about the middle of April

Some one having complained that quantities of American whisky are sent abroad, and then returned as 'French brandies,' the Bos. ton Post thinks people are lucky who get brandy 'which has seen France in any shape.'

GOOD IDEA.-The Balm of a 'Thousand Flowers' used to be a popular and delightful cosmetic. Somebody down South adver, tises the 'Loyal Balm of a Thousand Negroes,' to be used by parties desiring the removal of their political disabilities.

Women and the Ballot.—The Nashville Union believes there " are ten millions, more or less, of women in the United States, and that about five hundred of them want to vote. A true woman-one fit in every respect to be a wife or mother—would as soon touch a tarantula as a ballot."

VERY TRUE .- The Cincinnati Commercial says that "every industrious working man in England carries a pauper on his back." The Columbus Crisis adds: "In this coun try, every laboring white man carries a nigger. besides contributing half his hard earnings tocratic snobbery of national bankers and shoddy bondholders." to support a Jacobin Government and an aris-

A FUNNY LEGISLATURE.-The Legislas ture of Illinois, which recently, by way of a 'joke,' ceded Chicago to Indiana, has passed power in the State in 'the female portion of the population above the age of sixteen over twelve years old to be out after dark, unless protected by a woman qualified to vote. This, it is supposed, is another legislative

SECRET HISTORY .- The Washington Intelligencer says: The 'Secret history which contain much that is rich and racy. It will be an exposition not only of what Mr. Lincoln said and did, but what was said and doue in this connection by many of the politicians now prominent before the country. It will probably strike some hard and unex pected hits, but that it will be full of inter-est to every American student is not to be

OREGON APPOINTMENTS .- A telegraphic dispatch to the editor of the Oregonian been agreed upon: Bowlby, for Collector of Internal Revenue; Meacham, for Superintendent of Indian Affairs; Jacobs, for Chief Justice of Washington Territory; Davenport, Lafollette and Gazley, for Indian Agents; Underwood, for Postal Agent; Willis, for Register at Roseburg; Stevens, for Receiver at La Grande; Young, for Marshal, and Lyon, for Cousulship. Others are unchanged.

RAILROAD EARNINGS .- A New York pa per states that the earnings of the Union Pacific for the year 1868, upon average distance in operation of less than seven hundred miles, were $5,066,651 61, of which $1,024,-005 97 was for passenger traffic, and $2,-040,233 19 from freight. The transportation on Government account was $553,581 10. This is an unusually favorable exhibit for a new road, as those most conversant with railroad progress and profits during the earlier years of their operation can best understand. the vast agricultural, mineral, and manufacturing facilities of the regions traversed by the railroad are considered, it is easy to anticipate an amount of business for

It is stated in a work upon 'Wool and Manufactures of Wool, says the San Francisco Herald, that we require the merino grade of wool to the extent of 20,000,000 counds annually for worsteds, besides 25,000,-000 pounds of Cape of Good Hope class for clear filling goods, but, with the existing duty of ten to twelve cents per pound, and ten to eleven per cent. ad valorem, they are for the most part prohibited, and our manufac tures are thus obliged to compete with the products of cheap foreign wool, aided by cheap foreign capital and labor. The importation of foreign wool into the country, exclusive of exports, were, in 1864, 74,068,-047 pounds, from which they had fallen. last year, to 23,106,752 pounds, but, notwithstanding this great falling off, the price of the native staple has not advanced to any

The Apportionment Question.
WALLULA, March 17, 1869.

EDITOR STATESMAN .- I notice what you say in your last issue about the apportionment of this county, by the first Central Committee. Your statement in regard to the matter is perfectly correct, according to the figures, but the figures used do not give a true basis for the deductions which you draw, consequently the whole article is incorrect. In the first place the Central Committee had no data before them on which to base a fair apportionment. In the last, nor at any other election, the precincts do not represent themselves correctly. Take my precinct, Wallula, for instance; 54 votes were polled here at the last Delegate election, where I know that the whole voting population of the precinct proper, did not exceed half that number. The whole voting popul lation to day, democrats and republicans, is just 23; 13 of them are straight-out democrats, 3 are doubtful, leaving 7 sure republican votes to this precinct. The Democratic Central Committee gave this precinct one delegate for the 13 votes, and the Republican Central Committee gave it 8 delegates for their 7 votes. For every vote over 23 in this precinct at the next election, detracts from some other precinct. At the last election men voted here from Frenchtown, Upper and Lower Touchet, Spokane and Yakima. The object was to get as large a vote for Flanders as possible in his own precinct, consequently men were imported on us, but I can safely say that if Flanders gets the nomination next time, that he will not get three of the republican votes of this precinct,

Then, again, residents of this precinct went to Waila Walla city to vote, democrats too, one of them was A. D. Pambrun, and I am satisfied that at least half of the Frenchtown precinct went to Walla Walla city to vote : and, as I said above, some of the residents of Frenchtown precinct voted at Wallula, and I naturally suppose that some of the other precincts are in the same condition. Now. pray tell me how you are going to take the returns of last election from the precincts, and make a fair and exvitable apportionment? It can't be done. I am satisfied, from my own knowledge, that there is at least 55 democratic votes in the Frenchtown precinct: I am pretty well satisfied that Walla Walla precinct did not have more than 275 democratic voters proper. At the last election a bill vesting all political, civil, and social she polled 372 for Clark This surplus of 97 votes comes from outside precincts; nor was 372 the highest democratic vote cast in years.' It is made unlawful for any male the Walla Walla precipct; one democratic candidate received 433 votes, and another 414: then came Clark's, 372. One republican received 384 votes in the Walla Walla precinct. Nor can you get at a fair apportionment of precincts by the vote for precinct officers. Party ties are not drawn on them Col. Leman is preparing for publication will in the Wallula precinct, notwithstanding it appears so hopelessly republican by the vote for Delegate; we elected a democratic justice of the peace almost unanimously.

The only way that I know of to get at a just and fair apportionment, I suggested to the Central Committee at its first session, which was this: Request the chairman and clerks of the different precinct meetings to take the trouble to enter in a small book the names of every democrat in their respective states that the following appointments have precincts, number same as poll books, and present the same, signed by the clerk and chairman of the primary meeting, to the County Democratic Convention, then, when a new Central Committee is appointed they can take their books and have a basis to operate upon; or, what, in my estimation, would be better still, let the whole convention act at ouce on this data, and apportion the county then and there in open convention. Let all central committees go down to the grave "unhonored and unsung." Thirty-one grave unhonored and unsung. Thirty-one delegates in convention assembled, commes nearer the people than five committeemen in secret conclave. I shall advocate this meas ure before the first convention, and endeavor to apply its workings to the last, or County Convention, then the action of the Central Committee in apportioning the country for the first, or Delegate Convention, will have exhausted itself, and the people will have a fair chance to apportion the county properly, for the County Convention and all must be satisfied.

J. M. VANSYCKLE.

THE OLD RACE DYING OUT IN MASSA CHUSETTS .- A Boston correspondent writes that the decrease in the number of children in Massachusetts is a subject for our alarm ists to ponder upon. Many towns in the State have been settled over two hundred years the completed line of which the above record for the year 1868 is but an indication.

and there history includes from six to eight generations. The records of many of these generations. The records of many of these towns have been examined by a State official with respect to the relative number of children in each generation, and it appears that the families comprising the first had on an average between eight and ten children. The next three generations, aver aged between seven and eight to each family: the fifth generation about five, and the sixth the fifth generation about five, and the sixth less than three to each family. These changes are as suggestive as they are startling. Now it is rare to find married persons having one two or three children. This, also, is the testimony of physicians who have been extensively engaged in the practice of medicine from twenty to forty years in the State. If it were not for foreign immigration, Massachusetts would run out soon. As it is, the Irish servants are now a portion of its existence.

A CONNECTICUT COURT has decided that any a man who will not support his family is a pauper.

ATZERODT'S FUNERAL. - The body ATZERODT'S FUNERAL.—The body of Atzerodt was not interred yesterday, as was expected, but remained in charge of the undertaker, J. W. Plant, No. 420 Seventh street. The remains will this morning be taken to the receiving vault at Glenwood Cemetery, and be deposited there until arrangements are made for their final disposition. There is not little before. tion. There is but little left of Attered but his bones, the body being more decomposed than any of the bodies of the other conspirators that have been raised. The phial into which the name written on parchment had been placed was found to contain a small quantity of water, the parchment having evidently through some obemical process dissolved. The skull was lying alongside of the frame, with not a vestige of hair upon it, whilst the feet had entirely disappeared. Remnants of clothing were yet cinging to the bones, which themselves were separating and orumbling fast away into nothingness—a sad commentary upon the insignificance of There is but little left of Ats sad commentary upon the imman. - Washington Chronicle, COAL.—An extensive coal bed has been discovered on the East Fork of Lewis Biver, twenty miles from Vancouver. The vein is 14 inches thick and 7 feet in width. Outcroppings were discovered last Fall by E L. Dole, and a joint stock company of eight incorpora tors was formed to prospect and open the hypothetic vein. Three tunnels have been run for that purpose The Sth of March the vein was struck, and the anticipations of the company are fully realized. There will be a load of the coal in Vancouver to day. There is much excitement over it.—Van Register.

WAITSBURG .- This pleasant little town contintiones to grow, and gives every evidence of substantial prosperity. In the course of a late visit we noticed quite a number of new buildings going up, and a general stir indicating confidence in the future of the settlement. The trading point for a consideral scope of agricultural country, Waitsburg cannot fail to become a place of importance.

THE EMBARGO. - The low stage of water in the Columbia River, preventing the running of the steamboats, is occasioning serious inconveniene to our merchants and business men generally. Stocks of goods of all kinds are very low, and i is impossible to replenish them until the boats resume their trips. One of our largest houses, tired of waiting, has determined to send team rough to the Dalles for goods most in demand. It is possible that by the time they get there, navigation will be open, but even this risk is preferred rather than take the chances of wait ing a month or two longer for their spring stock A gentleman just up from the Dalles, informs us that a boat was about to be sent up the river for the purpose of making a reconnois-ance, and that if the report proved favorable trips would be at once resumed. We learn that large quantities of goods are now in store a Portland, waiting the apportunity for shipmen to the upper country. The O. S. N. Company to the upper country. The O. S. N. Company decline to receive goods for any point above the Dalles, and will continue to do so until such time as it is ascertained that the boats can come through. A few days since the river showed a rise of four inches at Umatilla, but the cold weather that followed sent it down again to low water mark. So low a stage of water has never before been known at this season of the year, and certainly all who have business interests at stake will unite in sapplicating for an early freshet.

P. S.-Since the above was in type, we learn that there has been quite a rise in the River, and that a boat may be looked for hourly.

WALTHAM WATCHES!

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers, and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughy demonstrated the strength warers, has thorougly demonstrated the strengt steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Watham Watch. To satisfy that class in all the respects, is to decide the question as to the revalue of these time keepers.

More than 400,000 of these watches are not speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enable them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practi-cal use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watchmaking originating in this country, or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which asyzer testing by the process with adopted which severe testing by the most skill ful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essentia to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would articularize:

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main springs, is origi-nal with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Fogg's Patent pinion as being the best and faultless. Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches. best, are used in all agrades of Waltham Watches. All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps protecting the movement from dust, and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch, is already a decided success and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public.

To CALIFORNIANS and other living in por-tions of the United States where watch makers do not abound, watches with the above mentio ed improvements which tend to insure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

PAIN KILLER.

At this season, when coughs and colds are so prevalent, an effectual remedy, and one easily obtained, is Perry Davis' Vegetable 'Fain Mitter'. It is no new nostrum, vended by unknown agents, but has stood the test of over twenty years; and those who use the article, internally or externally, will connect with it grateful recollections of its worthy inventor.—

PAIN KILLER —The teatmonials borne to the effi-cacy of this valuable medicine are sufficient to war-rant its introduction in every house. Our own opin-ion is that no family should be without a bottle of it for a single hour. In flesh wounds, sches, pains, sores, ecc., it is the oost effectual remedy we know of. A bottle will last for a very long time, and, its low price places it within the reach of all.—St. John Rees.

GENUINE PREPARATIONS

Are recommended only for those diseases and accompanying symptoms for which their ingredients are everywhere recognized as thorough, standard specifics. In quoting properties from Medical Certificates, there must be repititions of language. Diseases and symptoms follow, but symptoms should not be mistaken for distinct diseases. This is menioned from the fact that many might say that they proposed to care everything. Additional evidence, also, which fully sustains all that is claimed for them, is found in the medical works of the day, recommendations from promineat Ohemista, Druggists, &c., who have been personally acquainted with the proprietor for many years, as well as certificates in unlimited numbers.
