But thanks, everlating thanks de to God, my deliverance came most unexpectedly. On the 28th of Dec., in the morning, while I was yet at the Five Crow's lodge, an Indian rode up leading a horse and handed me a note from Mr. Ogden, said: Treev, see what a war in religious from the captives, that he had redeeming all the unfortunate expitives, that he had redeeming all the unfortunate expitives, that he had redeemed m. I had nothing to do but to accompany the Indian as fast as I could, confortably, to Walla Walla. The Deposition of Mr. Kinzie, before Judge Lenox, of Washington Conaty, Oregon:

Mr. Kinzie was a brother to Mr. Kinzie of Polk County, Oregon. He says: "I went by Doctor Whitman's station to obtain stupplies of I food and to change my poor exe for horses; but the Doctor had no horses to change. I went on to Fort Walla Walla and effected a swap with Mr. McBean, and as I was about to start, he Mr. McBean, said: "Here will be troublewith the Indians, but if they attempt to molest you, show them the brand on the horses. They will know it is the Hudson Bay brand and will let you pass. And let me tell you Spading and Whitman had better leave the country; if they do not the Indians will kill them, for the fathers will have these stations. They offered Doctor Whitman wereything that was reasonable, and in silver dollers, and he would not take it and now he had better leave, for they will have the station." The above is as nearly correct as I can recollect. The Deposition is in the lower country. Mr. Wilcox, before the same Judge, testifies: "Mr. Kinzie overtook our train in the evening, after we had camped at the mouth of the Umatilla, and without getting off from his horse, inquired with much agitation, if we had heard anything from the Doctor. I told him I had heard that he wee looking out an Emigrant road to leave the Umatilla high up, and cross I the country and the John Day well up, and not ette the news of the Walleiptu tragedy overtook them.

Mr. Marsh, son of the Mr. Marsh who was killed, testifies as follows, as well as I can recollect: "I left my father and little sister at Doctor Whitman's Mission two weeks before the massacre and went down to Walla Walla and got work, and while there I heard Mr. Me-Bean say in the presence of the priest, 'Doctor Whitman and Mr. Spalding had better leave or Whitman and Mr. Spalding had better leave or the Indians will kill them, for the fathers will have those stations."

Mr. Hinman, who had charge of our Mission Station at the Dalles, with Perri Whitman, sniphew of Doctor Whitman, as interpreter, testifies! "On the 3d of December 1847, after breakfast, the Indians came in and said a Frenchman was down at the river. I told them to call him up. He came the river.

It is a question of vital importance to American Protestants, not of that day only, but of the present day, why that Frenchman was ordered not to let the Americans at the Dalles with that most tearful of all punishments, more than fines or imprisonment, to deter him from telling them? Why did not Mr. McKen or the priests write by that messenger to the Dalles, when they knew a party of the murderers was soon to start to kill them? Why was the Frenchman told to obtain Mr. Himman to go on with him if possible, thus teaving his family more exposed? That Vancouver was not concerned in this, appears from the surprise of Mr. Donglas. Considering the connection of Walla that Walin with the H. B. Co., it was natural, but that Mr. Donglas should leave the HALF THAT.—When young Hoge first came up to town, his father told him that it would be polite when being helped at dinner to say to the host, "Half that, if you please." It so happened that the first dinstruction is the say to the host, "Half that, if you please." ner to which he was invited, a sucking pig was one of the dishes. The host, pointing with his knife to the pig, asked: "Well, Mr. Hoge, will you flave this, our favorite dish, or haunch of mutton?" Upon which, recollecting his first lesson, he replied: "Half that, if you please," to the consternation of all present."

HEAVENLY LEGISLATORS. - A certain member of the Tennessee Legislature con-cluded a speech as follows—" And when we are done with the troubles of this world, and are called to eternity, I only request that we will be permitted to meet in the kingdom of God, where trouble is no more, to legislate around His throne."

A Good Joke. - Some wag sent Senator Sumner a highly colored piece of Bologna sausage fixed up so as to resemble a big neto night, for I fear the Indians will kill him, and gave as a reason that the officer in charge at Fort Walla Walla Walla had assured him that the Indians would kill Spalding and Wiltman if they did not leave the country soon for the fathers would have those stations."

These men moved on with the emigration of that Fall, but before they reached the Wallam ette the news of the Walleiptu tragedy overtook them.

Mr. Marsh, son of the Mr. Marsh who was killed, testifies as follows, as well as I can recollect: "I) left, my father and little sister at Doctor Whitman's Mission two weeks before the massacer and went down to Walla Walla and got work, and while there I heard Mr. Messach was and while there I heard Mr. Messach was and while there I heard Mr. Messach work and while there I heard Mr. Messach was an and the fish comes out fresh as it should be In the other case it is nearly as said as when put in. whom his neice applied for advice on the question of choosing between two suitors, e of whom was rich and the other poorone of whom was rich and the other portion the latter, of course, being the most ardent we contentiously replied: "My dear, the question being stripped of all illusory elements, your choice simply lies between love and beef. Now, love is an idea, while beef is a reality. Love, you can get along without, but beef you must have. Therefore, make sure of your beef."

A NEGRO preacher, holding forth to his congregation upon the subject of obeying the commands of God, said: "Bredern, whateber God tells me to do in dis book (holding wingdom of God, where trouble is no more, to legislate around His throne."

The following statement of President Johnson's position is very cleaf and succinct. It is from the Washington Sara (Rep.):

The extremists of Congress seek an entire change of the principles of the Covernment of the United States. They aim to substitute (at a cost of doubling our current taxation) the power of, the sword and the agency of imported directors in all matters great and small, for the action of the people of that region in the future conduct of their own local affairs. The extremists at the South seek a restoration of the class privileges and power existing there pribr to take

FALSE TEETH.—A boy and girl of tender age were disputing as to what their mothers could do. Getting impatient, the little damsel blurted out, by way of a climax and a clencher, "Well, there is one thing that

TEAMSTERS' CARD .- It will be seen from the card which we publish below, that the teamsters and freighters give notice that they will freight from Wallula to Colville or Blackfoot, on more favorable terms than from any other point on the River. Although not embraced in the card, we are assured by very many of the teamsters that they will freight from Wallula for one cent per pound less than they will demand if required to load up at White Bluffs. We have here a a telling comment upon the effort being made by interested parties to send the trade and travel by way of White Bluffs. The steamboats charge $20 additional per ton for taking freights to White Bluffs, and arrived there the owner is required to pay an extra charge to get his goods through to the mines. Facts like these require no commente oceamboat men will freight goods any distance out of the way, provided they can be paid for the service, but the question is, willshippers consent thus to be uselessly taxed? In a country like this, where transportation is high, and the people as yet comparatively poor, it should be the aim of all to economise both time and money, and instead of seeking circuitous routes, the aim should be to find the shortest and cheapest means of communication. That Wallula offers the greatest inducement in this respect is sufficiently evidenced by the following Montana Items .- By yesterday's mail we have the Montana Post, of March 10th. There was no particular change to notice in the markets. St. Louis Flour was quoted at $30 per suck; other brands, at $22 $23 50. There was great stringency in the money market, which must continue until the miners get fairly to work. The latest vigilante execution was the hanging of a man named Daniels, who had just been pardoned ont of the penitentiary by Governor Meagher. The execution took place at H. l. Bloods, and Piegan Indians are all reported to be in open hostility to the whites. A fight had taken place between a band of Biood warriors and a party of whites, at the Sun River Bridge. One of the Indians was killed in battle, and three others captured and almost immediately 'hung. The whitee sustained but little damage. The Territorial Legislature was in session, but beyond receiving the Governor's message but little business had been transacted. The Sun River excitement had died out, and is now considered one of the greatest humbugs of the day. The prize fight between Joe Reilley and Jim Shannon, resulted in a victory for the former. The fight lasted one hour and a quarter, when Shannon's friends threw up the sponge. The democrats of Montana have been holding meetings at which they passed resolutions approving President John son's policy.

The negroes were preparing to celebrate the anniversary of the fall of Richmond, but the Government had prohibited the demonstration. The seat of Stockton, U. S. Senator from New Jersey, had been declared vacant. A new election was about to be held, and great efforts were being made to return a radical. No vote had been taken on the veto. The Supreme Court of Wis-consin had decided that negroes were entitled to vote ot all elections held in that State. Jesse D. Bright is a candidate for the U.S. Senate from the Board of County Commissioners, held April amended as follows: Land to be sold to the highest bidder-one third purchase price in cash, and the balance in one year; purchaser to pay one year's interest in advance; on deferred payment, interest at the rate of ten per cent. reyment, interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, and purchaser to execute a mort-gage to the County Commissioners to secure the deferred payments. Occapants are allowed till the first day of June next to remove buildings and fencing, in case they are not the purchasers of said land.

PETITION FOR PARDON.-A petition is being circulated and very generally signed, asking the pardon of a man named William Adams, who it will be recollected was the partner of Robert Waddingham in the commission of a robbery, for which they were Both sentenced to imprisonment for life.
Waddingham was pardoned some months since, and it would seem only fair that his companion in crime should be set at liberty.

OVERBOARD .- At the Corvallis Convention little Pittock's name was not even mentioned in connection with the State Printerhave played the little fellow out.

HUMBUGGING THE MINERS. Heartless indeed must

bo for the purposes of his own gain will induce the miner to travel out of his way. As a class miners are poor, and being the main dependence of the country-indeed, the class upon whom we all depend-it should be the aim of all honest, well disposed persons to give them correct information both as to routes and localities. To divert the miner from the direct moute for no better reason than to gain passengers for a steamboat, or to build up a town in an out of the way place, is a species of robbery at which even the most hardened criminal might well revolt. We are led to these remarks in view of the persistent efforts being made to induce parties bound for the Upper Columbia River mines to go by way of White Bluffs. Arrived at Wallula, the adventurer is as near the mines as when landed at White Bluffs, and if he leaves the river at Wallula he saves the price of his fare to White Bluffs, and has also the advantage of having the Walla Walla market in which to purchase his outfits, instead of being landed n a desert sand bar where nothing is produced, and at which, from its very locality, high prices must always prevail. What is here said is urged in the interest of miners -a class of men we can never see imposed upon without entering our protest. So far as Walla Walla Valley is concerned, we can afford to laugh at any and all attempts to turn the travel away from it. With the exception of the Willamette, the finest agricultural valley on the Pacific coast, we have that within ourselves that must forever attract both trade and travel. The men who penetrate the recesses of the bleak and dreary mountains that stretch to the North, the East, and the South of us, must for all time to come, depend upon this Valley for their supplies of breadstuffs, and whilst purchasing the great staplesse here they will also be our customers for their clothing and everything else necessary to a miner's existence. Nature has given us these advantages, and thus it is we can view with indifference any and all attempts at puffing humbug town sites into temporary notoriety. The injury is to the honest miner, who can ill afford to be robbed of his time and money n following round about routes. It is on this principle of misrepresentation that the Victoria people recommend miners bound for the Upper Columbia to go by way of Fort Hope, and thence through a country that is impassable nine months out of the twelve. So, too, the same motive is at the ottom of the White Bluffs humbug. The convenience of the miners, the duty of expediting them on their journey, is all lost ight of, and the question asked is, " How much can be made by misleading them? To the unprincipled authors of these hums bugs, we have this to say, that for the present they may be the gainers, but sooner or ater the parties imposed upon will discover the imposi ion, and when the reaction comes the imposters are sure to be swept away The wise man, whether engaged in steam boating, or whatever other pursuit in life, will endeavor to build up a reliable business. This can only be done by at all times acting in good faith. A contrary policy may be attended by present gains, but certainly no far-seeing man, be he aerchant or steamboat owner, will mortgage the future in order that he may enjoy a momentary prosperity. Thus much in relation to a current topic, and one that just now agitates the public minde

. THE BENCH AND BAR .- Judge Wyche pels us to omit our usual synopsis of Eastern news on the opening of Court, alluded to his fail-Nothing of particular interest has transpired ure to hold the last October term of the Court, and stated the reasons that prevented his attendance, and said in that connection that while the failure of a term doubtless worked a hardship to more or less persons, he believed that the attorneys perhaps complained more than any other parties, and the Court stated that the relations existing between the Bench and the Bar were intimate, and should always be friendly and cordial, and that no other feelings were enter-Indiana. The foreign immigration is largely in-creasing. The President has directed that all negro troops be mustered out on the 1st of May. After that date none but white men will wear higher esteem than did Peter the Great, who Sale of School Land. -At an extra session of on ascending the throne of his great empire, went abroad to qualify himself to rule over of 1866, the order passed at the March term in the people, and to acquaint himself particu-relation to the sale of certain school lands was places he visited London, and it being term time, went to Westminster. Seeing quite a number of men engaged in the business before the Court, he asked: "Who are all those men, and what are they so busy about, in their long gowns and flowing wigs?" On being told they were lawyers, Peter ex-claimed with astonishment: "Lawyers! Why, I have but two in all my dominions, and I intend to hang one of them as soon

> HIGH WATER .- A friend just up from Wallula, informs us that the River is higher than it has ever before known this early in the season. The rise comes from the Snake, which is literally "booming." As a result, the boats experience no difficulty in making trips to Lewiston; and further, our Lewiston friends are taking advantage of the high stage of water to lay in large stocks of goods.

Oregon Union State Convention The Union State Convention met at Cor vallis, on Thursday, the 29th ult. Every thing appears to have been "cut and dry, and as a consequence the Convention through with its labors with less difficulty than was anticipated. The ticket placed in nomination is as follows : For Congress, Rufus Mallory, of Marion county; Governor, George L. Woods, of Wasco; Secretary of te, Sam'i E. May, of Marion; Treasurer, E. N. Cooke, of Marien; State Printer, W. A. McPherson, of Linn county.

THE PLATFORM.

A. BIOPherson, of Linn county.

THE PLATFORM.

Resolved, That we have abiding confidence in the justice, intelligence and patriotism of the people of the United States that have the firmness and wisdom to preserve the Union their valor has situationed.

Resolved, That as to the best plan of restoring the late revolved States to the exercise of all their functions in the Union, and the legislation necessary, in relation to freedmen, loyal men may honestly differ. We depicate that obsituacy and pride of opinion, when tisplayed, that would give strength to the enemisses the Union through discord and division union is friends.

Resolved, Thak, holding the cardinal principles of our Government to be, that the right of representation goes with taxation, we desire a full recognition of all civil and political privileges to the inhabitants of the States lately in revolt, as soon as compatible with national safety and the protection of the loyal people in those States.

Resolved, That the name of the man or of the party that would propose to this nation to repudiate its just pecuniary obligations, should be consigned to everlasting infany.

Resolved, That the courage and devotion of those who have borne arms in the cause of the Union, entitle them to our enduring gratitude, and we pledge ourselves not to dishonor them by destroying the principles or surrendering the results for which they fought and bled.

and we pledge ourselves not to dishonor them by destroying the principle or surrendering the results for which they fought and bled. Resolved, That we will, as we ever have, support the State Governments in all their rights, as the most competent administrators of their domestic concerns and the surest breast-work against anti-republican teadencies, and preserve the General Government in its whole constitutional vigor.

Resolved, That the dectrine of nullification and secresion held by the so-called democratic party, is antagonistic to the Union, and destructive.

nd secession held by the so-called democratic arty, is antagonistic to the Union, and destruc-ve of the peace, order and prosperity of the an people.

Ned, That we pledge ourselves to sustain dational Union, and to organize for action rrying out and maintaining these principles o the support of the candidates nominated this convention.

Resolved, That we regard any measure which is for its object the taxing or sale of the minal lands of the United States, or that tends to nd peedy development of the sme or occupancy nd speedy development of the same, as detri-iental to the best interests of the country and consistent with sound national policy; and repsectfully call the attention of our present elegation in Congress to the subject of this solution.

Of the ticket put forth, the Oregonian says it is not its first choice. We doubt whether it is the first choice of any body. Certainly a ticket half so weak in point of character or ability was never before presented to the people of a State. On the score of intellect, the nominee for Governor is about equal to an educated monkey. Like a-parrot, he can repeat the words he has been taught, but of their meaning he knows nothing. Our idea of Woods' mental calibre is best illustrated by the story of Thompson's colt; the colt went into the river to get out of the rain. Woods and the colt will do to run together, but on the score of brains it is more than probable the colt will prove to have the advantage. Mr. Mallory, the nominee for Congress, is a gentleman of fair attainments, and if elected promises to make useful Representative. Certainly, he will be a vast improvement upon such a puttyhead as old Henderson. The candidate for State Printer is scarcely known beyond his own county, and by those who know him is regarded as a "weak vessel." In the language of Greeley, the ticket is a very poor specimen of "flap-doodle."

Mum .- The Oregon Union State Conention refused to endorse the President. This is not strange, considering that the Convention was overwhelmingly radical, and that the members, had it been good policy, would willingly have voted to impeach the President. Instead of a bold announcement of principles, the Convention was content to go before the people with a platform that means any thing or nothing, and which affords another illustration of the saying of Talleyrand, "that language was invented for the purpose of concealing ideas." We doubt whether in the present temper of the public mind this game of mum is likely to win. A party that has over and over again made sup port of the Administration a test of loyalty, cannot very well ignore the President. If at any time in the history of the nation it has been the duty of all good men to support the Government, it is more especially so at the present time. In view of this fact the public will naturally distrust the loyalty of men who refuse openly to take sides with the Government. "WITHOUT HONOR IN HIS OWN COUNS TRY."-At the Wasco county union convention Woods was a candidate for delegate to the State Convention, and received but three votes. In the State Convention he was nome inated almost by acclamation for Governor. There is a scriptural saying, "that a prophet is without honor in his own country.' Woods' case this is literally true, it being doubtful whether he could be elected a constable in Wasco county.

DALLES CITY ELECTION .- A gentleman from below informs us that at the charter election held on Monday last, the citizen's ticket was elected by an average majority of fifty over the ticket presented by the dem-

POLITICAL.—The Umatilla Union County Convention meets at Swift's, on Tuesday next, the 10th inst., for the purpose of nor inating a ticket for county officers.

DISTRICT COURT. The April term of the District Court, Judge wyche presiding, commenced on Monday last. The names of the Grand and Petit jerymen have already been published. We appead a synopsis of the Judge's charge to the Graff Jury, toschlar with list of the control of the State of the State gether with a list of the cases disposed of Thursday evening. We may here add that the the business of the Court is progressing satisfactorily, and that there is every reason to believe that the docket will be cleared before the end of the term.

OHAROR TO THE GRAND JURY.

Judge Wyche's charge to the Grand Jury was not written out and so we are unable to lay it before readers—but represent some of the leading features of the charge:

before readers—but represent some of the leading features of the charge:

The Court said that the attention of the Jury would be briefly called to their duties as stated in the oath jurs administered to them—impressing upon them the importance of keeping their proceedings strictly serret, and of imparting information of their doings to no one, either directly or by intimations or suggestions, and calling the attention of the Jury to the spirit in which they should investigate cases brought before them—that they should in the jury room have neither friends or foes, and that very citian whose same might be before them, had right to have his case investigated, fairly and impartially and without either favor or malice, and that no citizen had a right to ask any more at their hands.

The Court hands in stated that there were a number of prisoners in jail and on bail, awaiting their action, and the Court then proceeded to state briefly the law in reference to the several charges they would in these cases be required to investigate. What constituted murder and its tate briefly the law in reference to the several charges they would in these cases be required to investigate. What constituted murder and its degrees in our statute, find what mansfaughter, was explained to the jury, and what constituted perjury was stated—the swearing would have to be not only false, but knowingly and wilfully false, and to some matter material in the case; but if the matter was material—it did did not matter as to its degree—if the matter tended to determine the question at issue that was all the materiality required, and the Court then stated while it required a clear case for was all the materiality required, and the Court then stated while it required a clear case for conviction in perjuty and so the jury should be considerate in finding a bill of that kind, and yet in a proper case the highest considerations required that the perjurer should be punished, as there was, unless perhaps murder was excepted, no darker crime; as beside the injury that might be done in a particular case, the perjurer might be considered as an enemy of mankind, and destroyer of all civil government, as myon the sanctity of an oath and the faith reposed in statements made under oath, the whole fabric of civil government reposed, and if the fraud, rather than law and justice, rule the land.

Some observations were then made upon the statute in reference to exhibiting dangerous weapons in a crowd of two or more persons; and the Court said it was quite too common to draw out pistols or knives in crowd and slozh around with them in a way to endanger life and limb, and that the practice should be promptly and properly punished.

The Court tien made some observations on larceny and robbery, and called the attention of the jury to the estray law, and stated that it had been suggested to the Court, that it was getting to be common in some neighborhoods for parties to take up estrays and use them without paying any attention to the requirements of the law; and the Court requested the jury to look into this matter, and stated if such a custom was growing up it was wrong, and a had example to set before the young, and indeed before, it is a state we even we to guiterful! for te set before the young, and indeed before, and that we could not be too careful to ictly observe the distinction between what ple test before the young, and indeed before all tests before the young, and indeed before all tests are never too careful to all the state and are all to control to careful to the state and and to others.

The Court then called the attention of the jury to the investigation of the condition of the jury to the investigation of the condition of the jury in the control the officers of the County; and of the financial condition generally of the County—the expense of keeping the papers—the smount of taxes collected, and the expenses of the County, generally—remarking that there digit to be some law requiring the County Commissioners to publish once a year a full statement and exhibit of the financial condition of the County, but as there was no such law, it would be for the public interest to have such a statement and exhibit of the financial condition of the County, but as there was no such law, it would be for the public interest to have such a statement and exhibit of the financial condition of the County, but as there was no such law, it would be for the public interest to have such a statement and exhibit of the County would, generally, be improved by giving to the public all the information possible. The Court also called the Jury's attention to the sale of the school lands of the County, and stated it to be a question of grave doubt whether the Legisluture had any lawful authority to authorize a sale of the school lands of the Territory. If there was a proper authority to sell these lands, whether it was policy now to sell them or not, was a guestion upon which no opinion was expressed; but the Court said the school fund was a sacred fund, and so regarded in every civilized country, and that in the present attitude of this matter it was thought advisable to direct attention to this subject.

The Court stated that in reference to the sale of the school lands and the management generally of the affairs of the County, it was not intended by any one, of the Commissioners, and both the citizens and the Court were

" Booming." - The Walla Walla river and the various other streams that drain our Valley have been "booming" for several days back, and so high has been the water that many places in the lower part of the Valley have been submerged. The stages in making the trip to Wallula have been compelled to keep on high ground, thus materially lengthening the trip. The water in the streams, at this writing, is receding, and in a day or two it is expected the stages will be able to resume the usual route.

ITDMS FROM BOISE ROAD .- Mr. Edgar, of Wells, Fargo & Co's Express gives us the following:-On Buena Vista Ber, March 26th, a man named McKay was shot and killed by another named McKay was shot and killed by another named Dunn. Cauté—a former quarfel or old grudgé. The Indians on Burnt river, and also on Birch and Willow creeks, are troublesome again. Mr. Miller's Ranth on Burnt River, was attacked March 3d and a lot of stock driven off, it being the third time that it has suffered from Indian incursions this spring. A Stage passenger was drowned on the Weiser river on the 28th uls.

EMPIRE-STATE LEDGE.

The discovery of the Empire State ledge, at Yuba, by Huffaker & Parrish, has made much Yuba, by Huffaker & Parrish, has made much excitement. It was originally discovered by these men whilst digging clay out of the bank for a chimosy. After striking the ledge they proceeded to ent through it, and at last accounts had cut six feet, but had not yet got through. They say that in richness it discounts the famed "Poormen" ledge of Dwyhee; but then the latter is in litigation, and that invariably raises the character of a ledge in point of richness.

YUBA WAGON ROAD CORPASY.

Hadge the charter granted to the Yuba and Big

Under the charter granted to the Yuba and Big Cammas Prairie Wagon Road Co., they will soon go to work. The original corporation, Messrs. Dilly, Dr. Stuart, H. W. O. Margery, and W. F. Stocking, propose to form it into a joint W. F. Stocking, propose to form it into a joint stock company. It is the only really good road into the Yuba, and will cost about $20,000. It is as good a road property as any in the country and the only pass by this route. No one lives on the road except some quartz workers. The whole route runs through a quartz district. The charter is for ten years, and must be a very valuable property. It is the only road for produce and hay into that country; is almost direct from Volcano, and thence to Salmon Falls, on the Owyhee river, and commences at the old emigrant road in Cammas Prairie. The rates of toll are just half what the other roads domand. It grant road in Cammas Prairie. The races of are just half what the other roads demand. will be ready for travel by the Spring of '67. OWYHER INDIAN WAR.

The Indians have lost a great many of their braves" this Spring already. Capt. Walker's first expedition made account of eighteen, and a small party scouting on the Boise river took a small party scotting on the Boise river took in fifteen miore: The Camp Lyon troops have made many others inhabitants of the "happy (?) hunting grounds;" and Updyke's company, now over two weeks out, have not been heard of since steeling for the Indian camps. Captain Walker left this post to-day with a party of soldiers, ou another soot. With all this, Mr. Lo is very troublesome, and Mr. Todd, the captains all the captains and the Overland these line. Mr. Do is very troublesome, and Mr. Todd, the gentlemadly agent of the Overland stage line, any be is afraid the Indians will cause the line to stop by stealing their stock. Governor Lyon has moved all those Indians who were around here up to the Fort for protection, as he was afraid the soldiers and routherer settletling, and not having worn off the remembrance of the last brush, might make a descent upon these pets of his Excellency, and clean them out. I for one do not believe in killing every Indian one meets, but it is better that a few Indians, even if souwar and monoses, should be killed. whose only wealth consists in their house (that is, their wives and children) and some stock, and who are thus necessitated to live some miles and who are thus necessitated to live some miles from settlements and scattered through our valleys, as well as single travelerajourneying alone, should ever live in fear of a savage attack Doubtless the, in some instances, unprovoked attacks upon the peaceable Indians, will render it not very safe to travel singly; and whilst hitherto it has been unnecessary to carry any arms in traveling to and from South Boise, Owyhee and Boise City, in future such precautions as a revolver, etc., will, to say the least, be prident.

THE MINT.

In Owyhee the mills are turning out plenty of silver. What with the gold of the plater diggings of Boise Basin and the quartz ledges of South Boise, as well as Boise Basin and the silver leads of Uwyhee, and those also of Banner City, on the waters of the north fork of Boise river, that will; in a year or so, make themselves Knowd by "their works," is not this the proper place for the Mint? You of the Dalles and Walla Walla may disagree with me, but the saring to the miner (not to the merchant or broker—they always, take good care to plaster the charges fully on to the miner,) will be not less than six per cent, and all will be benefitted by it, as coin will be our circulating medium, instead of gold, silver, lead sind "thougns—that is, galvanized—brass filings." The merchants below, knowing that they are getting bread twenties, will sell at more reasonable rates, our merchants again not being afraid of losing 12 to 40 per cent. on gold (?) dust, will hold their goods at reasonable figures. Why, sir, f orce saw a goodly looking parcel of dust taken at Rocky Bar for $16 per ounce, which only grielded $7 15 at the Mint in San Francisco. You may be sure that morchant made a lift in prices immediately after. He was compelled to. No one can do business and buy and sell and live on the loss. In that case he did not realize two-thirds of prime cost. But a Mint here will stop all grumbling—here, at the Dalles, and everywhere else. Much Owyhee dust brought here is not worth over five dollars an ounce. This evil that tempts men to Imitate gold dust, and to swindle in organized companies, can only be cured by establishing a Mint at the most central point of our mining region, and that is Boise City. It is only 260 or 280 miles to Helena, in Montana, 100 to South Boise, 114 to Yuba, 60 to Gwyhee.

35 to Idaho City and Boise Basin, and about 70 to Bannar City. Setting astdeal prejudice, and looking calmly and dispassfonately at this matter, all will be most benfetted by the Mint being located at Boise City. Yours respectfully, silver. What with the gold of the placer dig-gings of Boise Basin and the quartz ledges of WALLA WALLA, April 4, 1866.

Editor Statesman: —As we farmers have leisure, would it not be a good improvement of our time to talk over our interests relative to agricultural pursuits in this locality? And the work names as a medium—in the above our time to talk over our interests relative, to agricultural pursuits in this locality? And with your paper as a medium—in the absence of agricultural societies, clubs, etc., which we so much need—I think we can add materially to our mutual interests. It is not need—I think we can add materially to our mutual interests. It is not satisfied not speak of our market and its demands upon the resources of this Valley, for the remon that vary man who can read of write is satisfied to this point. But let us see how we are to supply this demand, and how we are going to maintain this market. It is my opinion that unless the people of Walla Walla bestir themselves to supply the demand for domestic produce which is now dependant on us, some other locality will supply it, and we shall be forever barred from competition with them. So is it not best for ut to make a greater effort, and supply our market, rather than drive our customers to some other locality for domestic produce? For we mut to make a greater effort, and supply our market, rather than drive our customers to some other locality for domestic produce? For we mut to make a greater effort, and supply our market, rather than drive our customers to some other locality for domestic produce? For we mut to make a greater when they goe tesswhere for their supplies, and get 'their trade once staticus which they now come for and fail to get in saficient quantities to meet their wants. I say, let us try and offer to the miners of the numerous localities abound in, and the articles of agricultures. they now come for and fail to get in sufficient to quantities to meet their wants. I say, let us try and offer to the miners of the numerous localities afround in. Sill the "serieble" of gricultural produce in quality and quantity sufficient to retain the old and tempt new customers. Walla dealers are sufficient to the staple articles of agricultural produce for these mines. Yes, Mr. Editor, I assume to say that if all, or nearly all, of the arable land of this Valley was put in cultivation, we could have a sufficient to the suf quantity necessary to supply the demand.
Yours, W. W. FARMER.

DRY CREEK RANCH, March 27, 1866.

DAY CHERK RANCH, MARCH 27, 1866.

EDITOR STATESMAN: — As you have previously manifested a desire to be placed in possession of the general business transactions, I propose to give you a few lines in reference to the present prospects of the coming crop of this Valley. The dreary winter has passed away, and smilling spring has ushered in with all its lovely charms. The farmers generally are pitting forth every energy to replace their fencing, which the winter winds have destroyed, and plowing and sowing at a rapid rate. I think there will be a $15,358,97 215 07 93 10

The farmers generally are putting forth every energy to replace their fencing, which the winter winds have destroyed, and plowing and sowing at a rapid rate. I think there will be a a much targer crop produced here than has been in any previous season. Winter broke up at leart six weeks earlier than usual, though the snow has not entirely disappeared yet in the timber around the edge of the Valley. In the open prairie the ground is warm and vegetation growing rapidly. Many gardens are being made.

The Blackfoot fever is raging to some extent, though there will be laborers enough remain to do the requisite work for a plentful crop.

The improvements in the northern portion of the Valley appear to be progressing more rapidly than formerly. A good grist mill is being erected by Messrs. Hannah and Rich, one and a half miles north of Summerville which will be a material benefit to the grain-growers in the vicinity. The above firm expect to make flour in a short time.

The weather for the past ten, days has been very changeable, from rain to sunshine, and vice terie, but pleasantly warm. At present the prospects are good for some nice clear weather. Perhaps some of your readers may be desirous of knowing something in regard to the locality and magnitude of Summerville, as it is a city of very recent structure. It is about twenty-six miles very nearly north of Uniontown, on Thomas and Ruckle's wagon road, about sixty-five miles south of Walla Walla, and surrounded by as good, if not the bost, farming land in the Valley. The town consists of a blacksmith shop, grocery caloon, hotel, warehouse, stage stable, feed stable, two stores, and three families. There is a rumer current—and I fear correct—that a lady, while attempting to dup to a pail of water from the Grand Ronde river, broke through the ce, upon which she was a standing, and was drowned. My informant was unable to learn the place of accident, or the name of the unfortunate.

My friends, our aim have honestly been to git you all back into the folds of the glorious old Union. Like the prodygal son, we had nothin to live on and feelin lonesome and hungry, have been bowin and scrapin and makin apologys, for four or five months. We have been standin afur off for weeks and weeks, but durn the caf do they kill for the term of the standard of the standard of the seeks and weeks, but durn the and as for puttin rings on our fingers we cudn't expect it until they bring back the jewelry they carried away. I cannot say in the langwidge of the poet, that our labor have been a labor of love, for we have had very poor encouragement to be shore; but we had all set our heds towards the stars and stripes; and we jintly determined that come wool come wo, sink or swim, survive or perish, thunder or litenin, we'd slip back, or sneak back, or git back somehow or somehow else, or we'd stay atternard events.

Up to this time it have been an up hill business. The team was a good one and the gear all sound and the wargin greased, but the road are perhaps the ruffest, the rottenest cordyroy in the world. It's pull up and skotch and ever an anonymous the skotch slips out and the tung cuts round and away we go into the gally. Andy Johnson is the driver, and he says "Go slow," and he hollers wood wood." and loses the road, then we have to go back to the fork and wait till he blazes the way. He seems to be doin his best, but then there is Samner and Satan and Stevens and Pavis and other like gentleme, who keeps hollerin at him and stevens and Pavis and other like gentleme, who keeps hollerin at him and stevens and Pavis and other like gentlemen, who keeps hollerin at him and stevens and Pavis and other like gentlemen, who keeps hollerin at him and stevens and Pavis and other like gentlemen, who keeps hollerin at him and stevens and Pavis and other like gentlemen, who keeps hollerin at him and stevens and Pavis and other like gentlemen, who keeps hollerin at him and strong the proper stay of the stay of the second the brake of the stay of the second the brake of the second the second the second the brake of the lands the second the brake of the lands the second the brake of the lands the second the secon lastin nigger; want him to vote and make laws, and squat on a jewry, and want to prophibit us Rebels all from doin the same thing for thirty years to come. Jerusalem! where is the cussin man? They say it is all right for a nigger not to vote in Connecticut, because there aint but a few of 'em thar; and tis all wrong for 'em not to vote in Georgy, bekaus there's a heap of 'em here, and they talk Logik and Retorik amazin to prove how it is. Well, I haint gota whole parsel of sence like sum, but as shore as I am two foot high, a nigger is a nigger, I don't keer whar you smell him, and a vote is a vote, I don't keer whar you smell him, and a vote is a vote, I don't keer whar you frap it. I golly! they can't git over that.

The truth is, my feller citizens, I some-can't git over that.

The truth is, my feller citizens, I sometimes feel like we dident have no Government. I felt that way sorter when Mr. Gibson appointed me a committee on the State of the Republik. When the Sekretary read of the Republik. When the Sekretary read out my name all mixed up with the Republik, I felt that I was oblegged to renig Risin magesticully to my feet, says I 'Mr. President, I beg to be respektibully exkused sur, if you please. If that is any Republik this side of Jordin, I cant purseve it at this time with these specks. Thar was a place in Old Virginia called Port Republik, but Mr. Rebel General Stonewall Jackson, wiped out its contents generally in 1863, and I havent since heard of it in Northern literature. I have heard of a skrub consarn over about Washington, they call a Republik, but it are likely to prove the grandest imposture that ever existed on a continent of freedom. I suppose, sur, it are to be moved to Boston. ever existed on a continent of freedom. I suppose, sur, it are to be moved to Boston, or the infernal region in a few days and I want nothin to do with it. Exkuse me, sur, but I must insist on being respectably discharged." I took my seat amidst the most profoundest and tumultuses silence I ever seed, and Mr. G. remarked that he wouldest impose the Repfublik on any men agin his wishes. He then transferred me to the Finants Committee, and sed he hoped agin his wishes. He then transferred me to the Finants Committee, and sed he hoped we would take immediate action, for the State had no money, as well as himself, and board was high and cat seteras frequent. This may not have been his exactual langwidge, but it is anglin toward it. I bowd my head and said, "Ditto, except I don't eat acteras." Forthwith I telegrafid varyous gentlemen for a temporary loan, but they wouldn't lend a dollar until Mr. Jenkins were inorgorated, for they wanted his name to the note. Thinks, says I, there's a tap host about the wagin. If we are a State, we can borry money in Augusty. If we ain't a DROWN, BRO'S & CO.

In the hall of mirrors adjoining, the linen was arranged in three divisions.

On the right was her royal highness's traveling bed, trimmed with white and blue silk hangings intermixed, and a blue silk coverlid. In another part of the room were the sheets (four dozen in number), the towels napkins (twenty-four dozen of each), nicely arranged with toilet covers, and so forth, all numbered and bearing her royal highness's
