VALUE OF AYRSHIRE COWS.—To judge properly as to the value of any particular breed of cattle, go to their native homes where they are bred and reared.

WILL TWIN HEIFERS BREED?—This is a matter about which there seems to be some diversity of opinion among stock men, or we may say among farmers.

A COW MILKED BY RATS.—A Pittsburg barber owned a valuable cow, which was held in high esteem for its general good qualities, and which gave a large quantity of milk.

A JUSTIFIABLE SUSPICION.—At a Washington tea party, where General Butler was recently a guest, the hostess, glancing over the table, perceived his cup unattended with an important implement, of which he was supposed to appreciate the value.

It was a well meaning man, but he had been married a long time, and when he playfully asked her what was next to nothing, she sarcastically answered that at this season of the year, she thought his winter-flannels were.

The engineers appointed to examine the suspension bridge at Niagara Falls report it entirely safe.

CHEERFUL TO ANIMALS.—The Director's Journal, published at the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill., says: The Illinois Humane Society have for some time past kept an agent at the Union Stock Yards a portion of the time, night and day, for the purpose of looking after such abuses as are referred to by our caption.

TRAINED OYSTERS.—Mr. Hamilton of the Aquarium, has developed a new instance of the wonderful effect of kindness upon the lower orders of animals. In a small tank are kept some five, live oysters.

NO CROPS THIS YEAR.—That we are to have no crops of grain in this section this year, is now a question concerning which there can be no dispute. We are brought face to face with the stern reality, and no amount of puffing or bolstering will change the decree.

BLUE GLASS FOR WEAK EYES.—Noted oculists in Europe recommend either blue, bluish, gray or smoke colored glasses as a protection for weak eyes against the unpleasant effects of red, orange and yellow light.

A Tennessee paper says the maternal harvest is ripe. "Well, why in thunder don't you get your cradles ready and go to work?" inquires a Kentucky exchange.

THE PANAMA CATHEDRAL.—This Cathedral was built in the early days of the Spanish conquest, and is of large dimensions. Its front is ornamented with large statues, evidently as representations of Our Saviour and the Twelve Apostles, each one standing in a niche and nearly hidden from view by the moss and ivy creeping over it.

SECOND SIGHT DECEPTION.—The second sight performance that was perhaps originated by Robert Houdin, and has since been elaborated by Anderson, Heller, and other entertainers, is just now a subject of discussion. Two persons only are concerned in the trick, one who touches articles among the audience, and one who sits blindfolded on the stage and tells what the articles are.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.—Miss Cora Dickson, a young girl of 22, arrived in Paris the other day from South America. Her life has thus far been a checked one. At the age of 15, tired of the monotony of home, she ran away from her father's house with a large sum of money.

HOME CONVERSATION.—Children hunger perpetually for new ideas. They will learn with pleasure from the lips of parents what they deem it dross to study in books; and even if they have the misfortune to be deprived of many educational advantages, they will grow up intelligent if they enjoy in childhood the privilege of listening daily to the conversation of intelligent people.

SURPRISED.—Judge Walton edified the lookers on at Skowhegan, Maine, the other day, though the lawyers looked a little solemn. He was about to sentence a criminal, when he discovered the chap cozily seated in the bar with his attorneys. The Judge manifested great surprise, and requested that hereafter the criminals might be placed outside the bar, so that he could distinguish them from their counsel.

A CHEERFUL WIFE.—What a blessing to a household is a merry, cheerful woman—one whose spirits are not affected by wet days or little disappointments—one whose milk of human kindness does not sour in the sun shine of prosperity.

THERE is an evil fashion of speech and theory that a man's love for woman lasts better, is stronger, if he never wholly assured of hers for him. This is a base and shallow theory.

Why is a man, whose neck has been fatally fractured, like a merchant financially bankrupt? Because he is dead broke.

A delegation from Arkansas irrespective of party or color called on Hayes and congratulated him on his policy.
