Regular Democratic Nomination. FOR DELEGATE TO CONGRESS, MARSHALL F. MOORE.

Democratic County Central Committee. At a meeting of the Democratic Central Committee, held at the Court House, on Thursday, March 11, the following proceedings were had:

WHAT HE GOT FOR HIS VOTE.—The Illinois legislature recently appointed a committee to investigate the conduct of certain members charged with corruption.

THE LIVE MAN.—The live man is like a little pig; he is weaned young and begins to root early.

A DID IN AND DID OUT.—The Nevada Transcript relates the following: A short time since a resident of this place in passing by an old shaft, observed that fresh dirt had been thrown into it and he imagined that "fool play" had been committed.

DOWN TO CHINA.—The celebrated artesian well of St. Louis is now at a depth of 3,500 feet, and is still going downward.

THE SOUND OF YOUR HAMMER, says Franklin, "at five in the morning, or at night, heard by a creditor, makes him easy six months longer; but if he sees you at a billiard table, or hears your voice at a tavern, when you should be at work, he will send for his money the next day."

ILLINOIS dug last fall twenty-six million bushels of potatoes.

THE LAW AND THE GOSPEL.

BY PSALM RIVERS. The girl sits reading the Jewish Law, With the Bible on her knees; The sun like the Gospel shines around, But I do not think she sees.

An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, In a cold, hard voice she reads; In the woodland near calls the tender dove, But I do not think she heeds.

I met him up at the Hall last night, And often saw him glance At my queenly form and he pressed my hand When he turned me to the dance.

And he praised the songs that I sang for him; And flattered the Bible leaves, And tenderly did he say good night, And to-day he will be here.

And sigh for sigh I will pay her back, And scatter the seed of hate broadcast, And the harvest she shall reap.

What reads the girl on the open page? Blessings for curses speak; Resist not ill; to the smiter turn With patience the other cheek.

And bowing her head on the Holy Book, "Oh, God, teach me so to live! Father," she prays, in a low sweet voice, "Forgive me, as I forgive."

CELEBRAL DEBAUCHERY.—In view of the rapid strides we are making toward the complete accomplishment of radical purposes, the following, which we slip from an exchange is worthy of consideration.

THE LIVE MAN.—The live man is like a little pig; he is weaned young and begins to root early.

THE LIVE MAN.—The live man is like a little pig; he is weaned young and begins to root early.

Grant Quarrels with a Radical Senator.

The Herald's Washington special gives the following account of an alleged interview between Senator Ross and President Grant. Ross was admitted at the same as old Zeeb. Chandler, but had the first chance to speak to the President:

"I come, Mr. President, to talk with you about the appointments for my State; having heard that you intended to make certain nominations; they may not harmonize with my desires, if you deem it worth while to consult them in the least."

"To which Grant laconically and interrogatively responded: "Well, Sir?"

"The Presidential response was not in the true manner to be relished by the Kansas Senator. "Am I to understand that I am rightly informed as to your stated intention to disregard my preferences in the matter of appointments, Mr. President?" inquired the Senator.

"That is a question hardly susceptible of an answer, sir. To what appointments do you allude? Inform me and then I can reply," rejoined Grant.

"Senator Ross liked the second answer as little as the first, but having come for enlightenment, he was determined not to go away in a fog. The Senator therefore, with grave explanation the appointments to which he had reference.

"Frankly, sir," said Grant, "I intend not to make those appointments." "What, sir, you scorn to accommodate me the least," exclaimed Ross, boiling over with rage.

"Sir, I believe I have given you my answer," firmly, and sternly, replied Grant. "This is not treating me fairly, Mr. President, nor is one gentleman to treat another," uttered Senator Ross.

"I have no intention of being dictated to, sir," said Grant, sharply. "Nor have I to be insulted even by you, sir, nor you twenty times the president, exclaimed Ross, with his ire stirred up to a white heat.

"I must decline to be annoyed any further on this subject," muttered Grant between his teeth, "and desire the interview should terminate."

"You and your desires may go to hell," roared out Ross.

THE MAN IN THE IRON MASK.

From the mouth of the beautiful grotto in the Esterel mountains, even with the naked eye, one can see very distinctly the outlines of the strong fortress built by Cardinal Richelieu, on the north western shore of the island of St. Marguerite.

It was during the latter part of the thirty years' war, about 1632. After having been taken by the Spaniards and re-taken by the French, it was remodelled and repaired by the famous engineer Vauban, and after the revocation of the edict of Nantes, its dungeons became the prison of many distinguished Protestants, guilty of not wishing to believe their consciences and abjure their faith.

It was into one of the bomb-proofs of this fortress, that, on the 30th day of April, 1687, a man was introduced by Monsieur de St. Mars. He had conducted him from Pignerol in Piedmont, then a Province of France, where he had been incarcerated since 1632.

The fame of this prisoner has gone through all the countries of the world as "The Man in the Iron Mask," and his name his rank and the object of his imprisonment form one of those mysteries of history which will probably remain a mystery forever.

One day the prisoner wrote on a silver plate with the point of a knife and threw it out of the window toward a fisherman's boat that lay just under the wall of his prison. The fisherman picked it up and carried it to the governor of the fortress, St. Mars.

He took it, greatly astonished, and asked the fisherman if he had read what was written upon it; and upon his replying that he did not know how to read, he had him held in custody until he had the most positive proof of that fact, and that the plate had been seen by no one else; he then dismissed him, saying, "You are a fortunate fellow in not knowing how to read."

Immediately after this occurrence, the governor had fastened into the thick walls (about twelve feet thick) outside of the window of his prison, a triple net-work of strong iron bars. They are still to be seen there, half consumed by rust.

No demand of the prisoner, possible to supply was refused him. He had the greatest fondness, amounting to a kind of mania, for the finest linen and laces. The fact is well known that, at the request of Madame de St. Mars, Madame le Bret, her intimate friend, busied herself at Paris in choosing the finest laces and most beautiful laces, which were sent to him in his prison.

One day a frater saw something white floating on the water under the window of the prison. He crept around the wall and drew it up, and carried it to St. Mars. It was very tightly folded up. St. Mars unfolded it, and found it to be a fine linen shirt upon which the prisoner had written from end to end. With an air of great concern, he inquired of the frater if he had had the curiosity to read what was written upon the shirt. The latter protested many times that he had read nothing. Nevertheless, two days after, he was found dead in his bed.

At another time the prisoner was found writing a woman to live with him in his prison. A woman of Mongius was found willing for the price offered, which was a fortune for her poor children. But when she was about entering the door of the prison, she was told that she was never to come out or see her children again, or to have any relation with any other human being. She refused to be shut up with a prisoner whose acquaintance cost so dear.

At one time the arrogant minister of Louis XIV, the infamous Duke de Louvois, came to see the prisoner, and it was observed that he stood up in his presence, and spoke with great respect and humility.

THE SPOILS OF VICTORY.

The radical cabinet ministers distribute the spoils of office to the followers of the party with the same want of delicacy with which they accepted Grant's appointments, themselves. That eminent patriot, Adolph Borie, Secretary of the Navy, who owes his office to Grant's gratitude for personal favors in the shape of subscriptions for house and furniture, has compelled the commandant of the Philadelphia Navy Yard to issue the following order:

COMMANDANT'S OFFICE, UNITED STATES NAVY YARD—Philadelphia, March 21, 1869.—Sir, by direction of the Navy Department, you will see that no person hostile to the present administration will be employed in the yard department under your control.

Preference should in all cases be given to those who have belonged to the Union Party. The Secretary of the Navy particularly desires this should be done. Very respectfully, J. B. MARCHAND, Commandant.

Under the sweeping orders of Borie, Union soldiers are being turned out of the navy yard every day to make room for hungry partisans, who never saw the face of an armed enemy during the war. Scenes like the following take place every morning. An officer of the army who had entered the service as a captain, and was mustered out honorably as Colonel of his regiment, and who had bravely participated in many battles of the war, held the insignificant position of master plumber in the navy yard. He is brought up before the Chief of his department for dismissal, when the following dialogue takes place:

Superintendent.—"Mr. — my orders are to remove all the employees of this yard who are not Union men." Colonel.—"I believe I am a Union man, since I served in the Union army from the beginning of the war until its close."

Superintendent.—"O, yes, very good, but, perhaps, you do not quite understand me. It is rumored that you did not vote for General Grant. How's that?" Colonel.—"I did not vote for Grant?" Superintendent.—"That will do. Your services, I regret to say, are no longer required. Good morning." (Exit Union soldier.)

One of the truly loth who has been promised the place puts his head in at the opposite door, as the Colonel withdraws. He served manfully during the war as a sutler's clerk, and did a fair share of repeating the tickets of the Grant electors at various precincts last November.

The next candidate for dismissal is a poor Union soldier who lost his right arm at Gettysburg. He was employed in the navy yard at the hard work of turning a grindstone for a pittance from his grateful country. One of the radical spies who hang about the yard had reported him as a democrat.

Superintendent.—"What is your employment in the yard?" Soldier.—"I turn a grindstone." Superintendent.—"I am informed you are not a Union man."

Soldier.—"If this is any sign, I am, (holding up his stump.) Superintendent.—"O, that's not what I want to know. Did you vote for Grant and Colfax?" Soldier.—"No, sir! Not by a d—d sight!" Superintendent.—"That's enough. We have no more need of you here."

The last heard of the soldier, he had purchased from his savings an organ, and was grinding out dulcet music for the ears of the truly loth on Broad street, not far from the palatial club house known as the Union League Building, where Borie and his friends nightly met to toast their patriotism and love of the soldier.—Harrisburg Patriot.

WEIGHT OF CATTLE.—Many experiments have been made by graziers and dealers in cattle to ascertain the net weight of cattle by measurement. Rules have been given and tables constructed of the results obtained. At best, these are but approximations, and the measure of correctness will depend much upon a practical acquaintance with the form and prominent points to be measured. Something will depend, too, on the breed, size, mode of fattening, the time the process has been going on, and the character of the feed supplied. The following method comes as near a correct result as any known: Measure carefully with a tape line from the top of the shoulder to where the tail is attached to the back; this will give the length. For the girth, measure immediately behind the shoulders and fore-legs. Multiply half the girth by itself in feet, then multiply this product by the length, and the product will give the net weight in stones of eight pounds. For example, with an ox or cow 5 five feet in length and 7 feet in girth, the calculation will be as follows: Multiply half the girth by itself in feet... 3.5 This multiplied by eight, the pounds in a stone, or rather half a stone, and the result will be 490 pounds net.

WHITEWASHING.—This article as ordinarily made, rubs off the walls after it becomes dry and soiling everything coming in contact with it. This may be obviated by slaking the lime in boiling water, stirring it meanwhile and then applying, after dissolving in water, white vitriol, sulphate of zinc, in proportion of four pounds to a barrel of white wash, making it to the consistency of rich milk. The sulphate of zinc will cause the whitewash to harden, and prevent the lime from rubbing off. A pound of white salt should also be put into it. This makes the best whitewash known.

Judge J. E. Wyche will speak on the political issues of the day, at the Court House, on Monday evening next, at 7 o'clock.

W. B. Kelly is a candidate for Justice of the Peace, for Walla Walla Precinct, subject to the decision of the democratic convention.

Action.—Read the advertisement of Captain Craig's sale of Government horses and mules, to take place at Fort Walla Walla on Friday next.

Court.—The District Court of the First Judicial District will convene at the Court House in this city on Monday next, Hon. J. E. Wyche presiding.

Thanks.—The typos return thanks to Messrs. Hartman & Cook, of the Oriental Hotel, for a supply of ice cream and cream cakes, furnished them on Saturday and Sunday.

City Assessment.—O. P. Lucy, city assessor, informs us that the Walla Walla city assessment for this year amounts to $476,292.00. The increase over last year is about $70,000.

The School Superintendent of Walla Walla county, W. T., will be at his office, in Whitman Seminary, on Saturday, the 15th inst.; also, on the 22d, to attend to official business.

Public Examination.—There will be a public examination of the pupils of the lower district school, in this city, on Friday next, May 14. Parents and friends of education are respectfully invited to attend.

More New Goods.—A. Frank has returned from San Francisco, and is now daily receiving a fine supply of spring and summer goods, which he purchased in that city, and will sell at low prices. Mr. F. is accommodating, and prides himself on being the farmer's friend.

Declines.—E. C. Ross, the republican nominee for Prosecuting Attorney for this Judicial District has declined the nomination. Very sensible in Mr. Ross, we take it; for what's the use of going into a canvass where there is not the ghost of a show for an election?

Schwabacher Brothers this week call the attention of the public to their new goods. They have a beautiful stock on hand, and have this year fully sustained their long established reputation for keeping one of the most extensive and varied assortments to be found in the upper country.

Wishes you go to Portland to buy anything in the line of paints, oils, turpentine or glass, don't fail to call at the establishment of O. S. Savage, at No. 88 Front street. An acquaintance of many years standing with Mr. Savage has convinced us that he is one of the most honorable dealers on the coast.

Catar Hoax.—Workmen are now engaged in painting and ceiling the rooms that have heretofore been used by the grand and petit jurors. These rooms were so open that everything that transpired was heard on the outside, thus practically nullifying public proceedings which the law contemplates shall be secret.

Get an Office.—Our venerable friend, Dr. Baker, having failed in his Congressional aspirations, at last finds himself safely anchored in an office—that of County Commissioner. After this unenviable position, and others required to take out licenses will understand how they can expend $10 to advantage.

Radical Primaries.—The radicals will hold their primaries throughout the county to-morrow, and their county convention on to-morrow week. There is some strife among candidates for nominations for county offices in that party, who to democratic lookers on smacks much of all candidate and no office.

Moose Creek Mines.—Mr. J. Perrault, of Lewiston, informs us that about five hundred miners have gone into the new mines on Moose Creek this spring, and that all the reports received from there have thus far been of the most favorable nature. Mr. Eimer has a lot of dust from these mines in his assay office in this city.

Homeward Bound.—M. Ward, Esq., an early settler in this Valley, where he has been fortunate in acquiring wealth and gaining friends, left for Salt Lake on Wednesday last, whence he will take the cars for the old homestead in Illinois. Mr. W. is accompanied by his estimable wife, and proposes to occupy several months in a general tour of the Atlantic States, after which he will return to his adopted home.

Renewed.—At the political meeting in Roberts' Grove, on Saturday last, Governor Cox in his usual violent and dictatorial manner interrupted the democratic speaker. This indecency was promptly checked, and the old "pig driver" taught the lesson that the members of the "hog pen" would not be tolerated at a public meeting. Even the radicals were ashamed of the Governor's conduct, and had not a word to say in defense of the outrage.

Good Pictures.—Cupp & Day are now taking better photographs, ambrotypes, etc., than we have ever before seen taken here. Their new gallery, in the rear of Mr. Kohlhaas' store and nearly opposite this office, is a model structure of the kind, well arranged as to light and for the comfort of their patrons. They have on hand some fine specimens of their art, taken in their new gallery, which they invite the public to call and examine.

A Deliberate Falsifier.—At the political meeting, on Saturday last, Garfield denied the charge of having been a rebel sympathizer. The effrontery of this denial will be understood when we state that two gentlemen were on the ground who were with Garfield in the Cariboo country, and had frequently heard him "harrah for Jeff Davis and denounce the war for the suppression of the rebellion." The affidavit to convict the radical candidate of sympathy with treason can be had at any time, and yet he (Garfield) has the brazen impudence to go on the stand and flatly deny the charge. If downright lying will avail, Garfield has a "sure thing."

Promoted.—We are both glad and sorry to announce that Mr. J. H. Henderson, who has for the past six or eight months been acting as Walla, Fargo & Co's Agent in this city, has been promoted and ordered to the office at Idaho City. Glad because the promotion is made as a reward of merit and a pecuniary benefit; and sorry, because in the removal of Mr. Henderson from the office here, we lose one of our best citizens, a genial gentleman, and one of the most accommodating expression men with whom we have ever transacted business.

Mr. D. F. Wagner, who comes highly recommended by his friends, takes the place of Mr. Henderson here.

CITY HOTEL.—Travelers and others will read the notice of the City Hotel, in another column. Mr. A. J. Gregory, the new proprietor, has had the Hotel refitted and refurbished throughout and placed in the most perfect order for the accommodation of guests. Persons who desire the comforts of home—nice, clean rooms, comfortable beds, and the best market affords, served up in a style to tempt the appetite—will patronize the City Hotel.

LATEST EASTERN NEWS.

Dates to April 30th.

[COMPILED FROM THE OREGONIAN.] Chicago, April 29.—Letters from London represent that active efforts are being made to effect a systematic organization of English emigrants, expected here this summer.

It appears that leading Trades Unionists, aided by liberal capitalists and politicians, such as Samuel Morley, M. P., for Bristol, have turned their attention to the encouragement of emigration, and it is believed several thousand miners and spinners now on a strike at Preston and Yorkshire, are bound to emigrate. It is proposed, among other things, to send a commission of leading working men here to obtain information and soon return and establish a bureau in London, for disseminating information.

Advices from Cuba indicate the failure of the last movements of the Spaniards under Lesca. This is the third effort to destroy the revolution.

In several engagements in the Central department, the Spaniards met with severe results. The patriots captured a large number of arms, etc. A large number of leading Cubans, especially the younger ones, favor the idea of a separate republic and an endeavor to establish a Federation between Porto Rico and St. Domingo with an eye to the inclusion of the English and French islands. Afterwards, all the movements of the Spanish troops must soon terminate.

Chicago, April 24.—A Republican special says the officers of the regular army who have been thrown out of active service by the consolidation of regiments, will be assigned to duty as Indian agents. It is believed this will be a great saving to the Government, and also insure an honest administration of affairs on the frontier and dismiss frauds upon the Indians. It has the recommendation of General Sherman, the Secretary of the Interior, the Indian Commissioner, and President Grant approved it.

The Postmaster General has instituted inquiries in regard to late transportation of the mail by the far West. It is asserted that in some long routes, where the pay is enormous, no equivalent is rendered, and the contractors refuse in some cases to carry public documents and printed matter.

New York, April 29.—A Tribune's Washington special says Butler is getting his views on the Alabama claims, in opposition to Sumner's ideas, into shape. He holds that so far as recognition of belligerency of rebels is concerned, our case is as grave against France and Spain as England.

Washington, April 29.—The President has directed the dissolution of Retiring Boards: At San Francisco, General Ord, President; at St. Louis, General Graham, President; at New York, General McDowell, President; at Washington, General Hardy, President. The following officers are assigned to duty at the War Department: Generals Butterfield, Ketchum, J. E. Smith, Wager Swayne, W. McK. Dunn, and Col. Oscar A. Mack. The following officers are relieved from duty in the Freedmen's Bureau: All the Assistant Commissioners of the States named; General Reynolds, of Texas; Gen. Charles H. Smith, of Arkansas; Gen. Adelbert Ames, of Massachusetts; Col. J. R. Edie, of South Carolina; Col. Chas. Compton, of North Carolina, and Col. Jas. Thompson, of Tennessee.

Baltimore, April 30.—E. Fulton, the new Surveyor of this port, has appointed W. H. Taylor, colored, as a subordinate in his office. This is the first appointment of a negro to a Federal office in Maryland. Colored citizens waited on Fulton to thank him.

Chicago, April 30.—A Republican special says that on consolidating the regiments, it was found that several hundred terms of service of enlisted men were expiring every month. Therefore the order to commence recruiting was issued yesterday. This explanation is deemed proper to put a stop to the sensation reports about the increase of the army for war purposes.

New York, April 20.—The District Attorney at Hudson says Josephine Brown, who recently pretended her husband had left a confession of the murder of her little girl, Angie Brown, instead of proceeding to Hartford to obtain the pretended confession, remains in that city carrying on a love correspondence with a nigger.

A pressure having been brought to bear against the citizens of Montana, the President has seriously considered the removal of Ashley of that territory.

The creditors of the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company, held a meeting to day and decided to wind up the company and sell the remaining steamers. The company started five years ago with a capital of five millions of dollars and twenty-three of the finest steamers on the Western rivers, all of which have been destroyed by fire, explosion or sinking, except five.

MISSOURI RATIFICATION.—The radicals in Missouri, in order to show their fealty to the party, have verified the old maxim, "Much haste, little speed." In their great anxiety to ratify the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution, they took advantage of the lightning line and ratified by telegraph. It is so happened that the telegraph, under radical control, was anxious to assist them, and in its haste left out an important section, The Legislature, without information as to what it was they were to ratify, not having received notice through the State Department, as required by law, hastily ratified whatever came to them and adjourned. The section left out still awaits their action. We presume, however, as Missouri is under radical rule, that the amendment will be returned as ratified. The oath of office, or legality of action, are matters of no moment in that State, when coming in contact with the will State of a tyrannical, radical measure. Radical papers there have every confidence in the Legislature elect, which has adjourned to meet again next Winter. A Jefferson City paper says the amendment "was not transmitted through the Secretary of State, and we presume will be re-ratified next Winter, thus making assurance doubly sure."

WALTHAM

WATCHES!

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers, and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, sturdiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, it is to decide the question as to the real value of these time keepers.

More than 400,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enable them to produce in one work, at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch, merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

We are now selling Waltham Watches at less prices in greenbacks, than the gold prices before the war. There is no other manufacture of any kind in the United States of which this can be said.

These time pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watchmaking originating in this country, or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which were tested by the most skillful makers in our workable world, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Fogg's Patent pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps protecting the movement from dust, and lessening the frequency of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch, is already a decided success and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public.

To CALIFORNIA and other living in portions of the United States where watch makers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements which tend to insure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

Each watch bearing the trade mark of Waltham is guaranteed to be a thoroughly reliable timekeeper.

To prevent imposition, buyers should invariably demand a certificate of genuineness.

The trade supplied by Messrs. R. B. Gray & Co., San Francisco, Cal., and generally for sale at retail by all respectable dealers.
