REFORMED.—From the following, taken from an interior New York paper, it would appear that Joseph and his brethren, since their residence in the East, have reformed; for when here they were always in the habit of taking their whiskey straight or crooked, of taking their whiskey straight or crooked, just as the opportunity offered. The New Yorker says: "None of the Nez Perces drink liquor. They sell trinkets occasionally to visitors, and on several occasions these visitors from Leavenworth have brought bottles of whiskey with which to ingrathate the control of the Leavenworth and the control of the Leavenworth have brought bottles of whiskey with which to ingrathate the control of the Leavenworth and the control of the Leavenworth have been selected to the control of the Leavenworth and the Leavenworth and the control of the Leavenworth and the bottles of whiskey with which to ingratiate themselves with the Indians. They are very religious, and have services of their own and a religious dence at sundown each day."

JONES remarks on frequent cases of ambiguity in expression, as when a man said he saw a lady sewing with a Roman nose. Another remarked, "I saw two men digging a well with straw hats." "Garret Clauson shoots squirrels without spectacles." "A respectable young woman wants washing." A proprietor of a bone mill advertised that "parties sending their own bones to be ground will be attended to with fidelity and dispatch." It does make a difference how words are arranged.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, May 2d, 1878. EDITOR STATESMAN: — Speaker Randall took the floor yesterday and very :b y and properly lectured the republican representatives on their bad habit of voting against a reduction of government expenses. He showed the absolute necessity for economy. The small wits of the other side dodged the question and attempted to make the house question and attempted to make the mosts merry over votes of Mr. Randall in times past. Mr. Garfield attempted to show that reductions since the democrats controlled the house were not as large as claimed, for-getting, if such is the fact, that the republican senate and the solid republican minority in the house prevented the accomplishment, as they are doing again to day, of much that the democratic house wished to do. Mr. Garfield made the best of a bad case, but Walla Walla in Early Days.—Theeditor of the Astorian has been interviewing Major Vic Trevitt, now a prominent member of the working men's party, of Oregon, but an early pioneer "east of the mountains." From him the Astorian learns that 23 years ago the present site of Walla Walla was covered by adense ent site of Walls Walla was covered by a dense forest of cottonwoods. The article continues with this statement: "In 1855 Col Doty, (son of Gov. Doty of Wisconsin), and Col. Vic Trevitt were appointed a commission to look up a site for a point at which to hold a grand pot latch with the Indians east of the Cascade range of mountains. They fixed upon the present site of Walla Walla. It required several days hard work to cross Mill creek about where Tom Termey's stable stands now, but they made it, sind built a house there. Then the war broke out, and Steptoe made a post at Walla Walla. Judge Cain took up a claim, and also, the house that Vic built; and that was the start of Walla Walla. When we saw the town first trees were as scarce as hairs on the town first trees were as searce as hairs on the top of uncle Geo. We visited the county jail. It is needless the honors of the debate remained with the speaker. So, I doubt not, are the sympathies of the people with him. They have waited long for some one to do just what Mr. Randall did yesterday.

The senate finance committee has reported against, and the hones ways and means committee in favor of the proposition of senator leck to suspend payments to the sinking fund. The honse bill, as agreed upon by the committee, enspends such payments until 1885. The Mechanics' Parillon, an editice capable of seating 25,000 persons, has been chosen for the performance, which is to continue for three days, begin-ness of arrangements. The Mechanical Tavillion, an elidice capable of seating 20.000 persons, has been closen for the performance, which is to continue for three days, beginning on Thesday, the 28th of May. The resources of the entire coast will be drawn upon to furnish the telent for this coloscal undertaking, and the cherns alone will consist of 2000 voices. Carl Zerralon, of Baston, and John Morgan and R. Herold, of San Francisco, will act as conductors. It is the intention of the management to introduce artiflery, electricity and telephonic effects in the music.

EXPLAINED.—Som after the commencement of the present year all the small-fry papers throughout this territory and Oregon, and without the slightest warrang, commenced a terrible warfare against the O. ATTENTIONI THE BEST PUMP MANUFACTURED on the Pacinic Coast by A. Prescott, Salera, Oregon. I am in this vicinity patting in that celebrated Pump which has driven its competitors from the contest in the Willamette valley, and is acknowledged to be the best in use. It is made of and wood of two sizes; it is simple and neat in its construction, and will draw water faster, easier and last longer than any other Pump in use. These Pumps are put in on trial and satisfaction guaranteed or no sale. The Willamette Farmer says:
