Jennie Cramer.

This Jennie Cramer seems to inspire respect in New Haven, because of a general belief that she leaned toward men not with a low desire, but with a childish heart.

Therefore there is the more expectation that with her credulous, gentle, errant nature she should have been deceived, and, perhaps, murdered. Besides, there is the idea about that, although not the possessor of much mind or force of character, she did adhere to her maiden estate, and would only give a surrendered herself to some extraordinary inducement, such as promises of marriage, pressed while she was a prisoner in the home of her seducer's uncle, unable to return to her mother's cot weak with want of sleep and weariness and excess of wine.

Girls of her class are unable to buy wine for themselves; and it appears in evidence that the Malley boy pilfered the champagne bottle, the sherry glass, the mixed drink of brandy or whisky upon her.

Indeed we are lost in doubts and marvels concerning this crime. The only value it has to young women like Jennie Cramer is the fact that they are in perpetual danger while trifling with young men above their estate and class, using liquor, keeping doubtful company and late hours, and that they never can know what devils they have aroused in the male sex by their very innocence. A young woman, instead of resenting the safeguards her parents throw around her, ought to feel that her everlasting future is the cause of those cares and endeavors. It is not the object of her parents to alter her destiny in life, but only to direct it toward that honorable estate

The Escape of "Dixie."

Marshal Hopkins, by his gross carelessness, allowed "Dixie" and Smith to escape from his custody by reason that his pecuniary policy prevented him from hiring proper guards and he himself did not attempt to guard them, as he too well knew his own incompetency.

History and oratory have been spent in telling of the heroes of war—the men of helmet and plume, of bayonet and sword, the men whose life-chorus were suddenly snapped away by the keen, cleaving sword-blade, the whistling bullet or the crashing cannon-ball—the men who died in the awful holocaust of the battle-field.

While we of modern times have not been tardy in this, we have invoked a custom that is even more significant than monuments and arches. Decoration day. First a heartfelt and spontaneous tribute in the south, it has become a universally recognized National holiday, a festival of peace, an observance that tells us the Union is established not only in its supremacy but in the hearts of the people.

And it is a beautiful custom that makes the flowers of our Decoration day symbolize the tender affection and regard of the living for the virtues of the dead; and it is growing more beautiful each year for at each recurrence the memories of the past are growing less and less distinct and the symbolic act more and more hearty and true.

Another Railway Boom. The Statesman is cosmopolitan enough to feel an especial gratification in making the announcement, that the up-country is having a well-defined railway boom; coming in the shape of a line from a point about forty miles east of Anusworth, to a central portion in the Palouse country, passing through the town of Eudocott, thence on to Colfax, Moscow and Farmington.

Mr. Pennington, the present candidate on the democratic ticket, who was in the senate two years ago, very materially assisted in defeating what was considered by the people of this end of the county, to be not only less than one-third of the territory they required and what should rightfully be given them, but he also failed to divide by giving the people of Heppner what they demanded; therefore, having been tried and found wanting, the people of each end of the county, irrespective of politics, are opposed to again returning him, for the reason that he is a Pendleton man, first, last and all the time, and therefore, opposed to division under any circumstances.

On the other hand, Mr. Steco is a man chosen by the division republicans, and being a man from this end of the county and having shown his calibre by his works in the past, and not being interested in any particular town, cannot be accused of being partial to any of them.

When the welfare and personal interests of the voters are directly concerned, as in this case, politics are a dead letter and are not considered, and as the democrats, in nominating their ticket placed the names of men whose sentiments on the division question are opposed to the majority they must now accept the usual consequences of such a blunder.

The people of Unatilla county have been fooled once and do not intend to be a second time. Between the two parties who advocate division, the citizens had better cast their votes for those whose position on the question is such that they dare not go astray. It is not for the benefit of a few office-holders, but themselves, they will vote for this time, and by so doing will show the political manipulators what the vote of an independent people really means.

When a horse is brought into the stable for the first time, let him stand a short time, particularly if sweating, then give him three or four quarts of water, not over cold; then some uncut hay; after this a feed of grain or meal; and half an hour or so after that is eaten, all the water he pleases to drink. Some horses will eat cut hay with impunity, others cannot, or at least not till after they have first eaten some uncut.

County Division.

Says the Weston Leader: "The Walla Walla Statesman is doing noble work for the division of Unatilla county. Hurrah for it! They have an experimental knowledge of division over there, and know whereof they speak."

The Statesman has been usefully interested in this question of a division of Unatilla county, because it honestly believes it to be for the good of the majority of the people over there. As the Leader says, there is territory enough in that jurisdiction to make four or five good-sized, profitable and easily managed counties, and in the view of the case the people should insist upon the following as expressive of the demands of the people.

Resolved, That the senator and representatives to be nominated by this convention are hereby instructed to use their best efforts in the legislature to accomplish the passage of a law dividing the county of Unatilla into three counties, according to the wants of the people, as may be designated by petition.

From a thorough canvass of the sentiment expressed on all sides in Unatilla county, we are satisfied that the only exception of its being unanimous is found among the officials. The question of politics is entirely foreign and should not be made an issue in this important matter, but from what can be learned, the republican candidates have expressed very pronounced views upon the subject, and are willing to stand with the people. These gentlemen should have the heartiest support at the coming election.

Coming by the Hundreds.

Rev. D. J. Pierce, pastor of the Baptist church in this city, had a call yesterday from Mr. Schrogg, a bishop of the Mennonite church in Dakota, who is the emigrant of eleven colonies of these good people, who desire to emigrate to this great northwest. Among these people there are upwards of five hundred farmers. Mr. Schrogg remained in the city until this morning when he started on a prospecting tour up-country, going to Texas Ferry. From there he will proceed to the Palouse and Spokane country. If he can be entirely satisfied with the outlook, he will bring his people. The question naturally occurs, what are our people, who have land for sale, who are interested in the up-building of our city and the advancement of the general interests of the surrounding country, doing towards inducing these people to stop here and invest their money. According to Washington statistics one foreign emigrant is worth $1000. Now it is patent that an emigrant from Dakota or Iowa, with his teams, stock and other property is worth fully four or five times as much as one who comes, lacking experience, and this property. Now just figure up how much a thousand of these Mennonite farmers would be worth to Walla Walla and the country adjacent, and deterring if it is not a short-sighted policy that either gives them the cold shoulder, or looks upon them as victims for plucking, merely.

The Northern Pacific land sales for the month of April were 142,846 acres, or 131,214 more than in April 1881. Of the acres mentioned, 123,214 were on the eastern divisions, against 1,636 last year and 19,632 on the western divisions, against 9,065 acres last year. Thirty six thousand nine hundred and forty dollars worth of town lots were sold, an increase of $9,475 on the value of town lots sold in April, 1881. All the increase is on the eastern divisions, the sale of town lots on the western divisions falling off $722 from the amount realized, or from $4,245 to $3,523.

The postmaster general has sent a letter to the house recommending that postage on second class matter, papers and magazines, be abolished. He states that fourth class matter, merchandise, is carried at a loss to the government, and if the government is to be taxed for transportation of either class it should be for second class.

Secretary Folger has been led to believe currency has been duplicated in a number of instances, and transfers from original plates in possession of the government have found their way into the hands of outside parties. If the charges are proved true the result must demoralize public credit and seriously impair values. The release of D-ryle in Chicago, Saturday, was part of a programme adopted by the secretary to unearth more testimony bearing upon the case. Upon one side or the other there is an enormous conspiracy. It is charged that the conspiracy is upon the part of the government, and his officials have conspired to debauch the currency. Several weeks ago Samuel Felker, a detective of Chicago, came to this city, placed himself in communication with the secretary of the treasury through a friend, whom he instructed to see Folger and tell him he had in his possession an electrotype transfer from the original plate in possession of the government of the $1,000,000 bond issue of 1880, and that he desired an interview. An interview was granted after some hesitation, and Folger then told Folger he would bring the plate, which he claimed was an electrotype transfer, and would leave it with the secretary for examination upon certain conditions. Folger said: "I do not pretend to know anything about the plates; I simply claim to have an exact transfer of one of the plates of the government bond issue. I make no charges against anybody. I simply present this fact, and I want you to pass on it. If you think it worth while to surrender Doyle, and give him freedom, I will change this plate for that."

The secretary saw the plate, and promising to preserve it carefully, closed the interview. Since then various experts have been summoned to examine the plate, and all have reported it a transfer from the original dies. It was upon this that the order for Doyle's release under suspended sentence was given. Now the department is in a most embarrassing position, and confronted with the proved fact of a duplicated bond plate. From this must follow a rigid official investigation to ascertain who are the guilty parties.

Three years ago there were probably not one hundred fish ponds in Georgia. There are now over twenty-five hundred. These ponds are for the most part stocked with carp. The carp movement was started in Georgia by the Constitution, under the guidance and encouragement of Prof. Baird and Dr. Cary. They advised us that there was in it a great and profitable industry. Upon investigation we thought it promised well, and we gave the public the suggestions and figures at our disposal. It has been fairly demonstrated that we were right. The carp flourishes in Georgia waters beyond expectation. In hundreds of ponds the young fish have at the end of the year averaged four or five pounds in weight and some few have been found to weigh over seven pounds. A half dozen pair have been found sufficient to stock a two-acre pond to the swarming point in three years. Besides being prolific and hardy the carp is a fine table fish. It is of good flavor and fibre and really surpasses the public estimate, which was based on the idea that so fast a grower must be coarse grained.

ONE PRICE ONLY!

All Goods Marked in Plain Figures.

We are now prepared to offer every prevailing Eastern Style at the Lowest Possible Prices.

We are satisfied that the people of this Territory believe that every statement we have heretofore made has been faithfully carried out, and we now respectfully invite them to severely test every assertion we now make, as we are assured by that means they will come to the conclusion that we are offering better inducements than any house north of San Francisco.

DRESS GOODS AND SILKS.

In these Departments we have never had a rival in this Territory, in either Time or Styles, and this season we are far in advance of any other in the inducements we are prepared to offer. A price list of these goods can give no definite idea to any lady of what we are offering. However, we submit some items, with which the public are familiar, which will convey some impression of prices, but any estimate of the styles can only be arrived at by a personal examination.

New Styles in Wash Poplins, 10 Cts a Yard. Bronteelle Suitings, 11 Cts a Yard. Wool Debbige, Oxford Plaid, English Cashmere, 15c 27-Inch Mohair Serges, 20 Cts a Yard. All-Wool Nuns Cloth, all shades, 25 Cts a Yard. All-Wool French Cashmere, black and colored, 50c. Every Novelty in Fine French Dress Goods, with all the prevailing Trimmings to match. Black Cashmeres, Silk and Colored Silks, Satins, Surahs, Bhlanas, Meris, Striped and Check Satins, Black Meris Grosgrains.

ALL GOODS MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES!

DOMESTIC GOODS.

In this Department we are now offering some of the most substantial Bargains ever shown in the Territory, and an examination of our prices is respectfully invited as the only means of getting a clear idea of what we offer.

Heavy Linen Table Damask, 25c, 37c and 50c. Fine Bleached Double Damask, 50c to $1. All- linen Table Napkins, 7c and upwards. Heavy Huck Towels, 1 yard long, 15c each. Extra Large Turkish and Damask Towels, 25c each. Sewing-knives, Pipes, Cigarettes, Gingham, etc., etc.

Of course these prices give no idea of what the goods really are. For example we offer Table Linen at 25c a yard, but the price conveys no idea of the quality. It only serves as an illustration of the prices we charge for Popular Goods, but the real inducements these prices represent can only be understood by seeing them.

DOHENY & MARUM,

CORNER MAIN & SECOND STREETS,

Walla Walla, W. T.

THE LATEST.—How can a boy get ahead of George Washington? By buying a 3 cent postage stamp.

TOWN LOTS.—The town plats for the future metropolises of Prescott and Endicott are ready, and there is a good opportunity for our citizens to invest their money on the future of the country.

CASH HAVE IT.—Coffin is not to have a railroad; we are sorry for that, for the people here would not have invested in gold faith. Hopkins is the son of Colfax as Leland is of Lincoln. Such critics are enough to mar the prospects of any community.

CEMENT PIPE.—The new cement pipe manufactured by J. M. Snook is coming into use in all parts of the country. Mr. Snook has recently finished a job of 15-inch culvert for the city below John Stahls' brick culvert, and 10 feet for a branch creek near this. See Page 3 place for the country.

SISTER WEDDING.—Mr. Jacob Kost and wife were surprised at their home on Dr. Newell street on Sunday, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. Many very handsome silver articles were presented by their friends, and have been received a fine silver watch chain. Many friends were present.

DEPORTED PRISONERS.—The prisoners confined in the jail at Union, Ogn., escaped last Wednesday evening. After getting away they proceeded to a farm house, borrowed two guns, which they promised to return in a few minutes, and two horses and two saddle horses. At latest accounts they were still at liberty and liable to re-appear.

DEVELOPMENT.—A few years since such a thing as a dandelion was unknown in this territory, but some seed having accidentally or otherwise become scattered, their pretty yellow blossoms are seen everywhere now. The green of the dandelion are among the most beautiful of spring vegetables and are recommended by the best physicians in the world.

A LAND CASE SETTLED.—The land case of H. Parker vs. Dan Hayes for forcible detainer and entry has finally been decided. The case was given to the jury on Monday and they returned a verdict in favor of Parker with $400 damages. By this verdict Hayes loses the land, his time, money, and impotents and everything else.

"BETTER LATE THAN NEVER."—We are pleased very pleased indeed to see our contemporary the Union following in the steps of the STATESMAN on the Umattila county division question. It is a little late in the day, to be sure, but the little assistance our friends can give will be nevertheless welcome on the good old principle of "better late than never."

SIGHTS.—The country between Walla, Colville and the Columbia river, known as the Cold Spring country, has hitherto been badly infested with squirrels, but this year, strange to say, there are none. A week since we drove over the country for forty miles in every direction and only saw two, the whole distance, and that on the stage road. The question is, what has become of them?

HOW TO LEAVE US.—Manufactures never come singly; not only is "K" company about to leave us but that gallant young officer and pleasant gentleman, Lieut. Edwards goes with it. Ever since we have known him whether on the war path or in society's life he has ever proved himself a noble and kind man. Society here will greatly miss the man we can only say adieu with the best wishes and success with his friends here that he will not so distant day return.

SCHOOL REPORT.—The following is the report of the Maxon school district No. 8, for the term commencing March 5, and closing May 10. On account of sickness in the district, the school closed one week earlier than it otherwise would. Number of pupils enrolled, male 21, female 9, total 30, average attendance 22. Names of those not attending on or before during the term, Robert and Harvey Young.

BEAUTIFUL GOLD COIN.—On Wednesday, a beautiful five dollar gold coin was discovered in the city and was taken by one of our merchants. The coin is about the size of a dime, but a trifle larger in size. It is tolerably certain that the single coin did not find its way into this city without some previous notice, and it will be our people to be on their guard against such "finds."

SOBRIETY SUBSTANTIAL.—During the 1907 days the contractors have been arriving in our city from the railroad, wagon and stage, loaded with families are passing through our city bound to the upper section of country, and almost in every case, they know where they are going, having been advised by the police. In passing along through our valley they have seen wheat fields, and beautiful farms which were all the guarantee they want as to the fertility of our country.

A R. P. RAILROAD.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Columbia and Puget Sound Railroad Company, held in Seattle on Wednesday, C. H. Prescott, A. A. Denny, W. H. Bond, Bailey Gatzert and J. N. Dill were elected directors for one year, and subsequently C. H. Prescott was made president of the company. J. N. Dill, superintendent, Jos. Sampson, secretary, W. H. Bond, assistant secretary, J. I. Howard, superintendent, and J. M. Colman, assistant superintendent.

OUR TRIBUTE.—George P. Eaton, private secretary to Gen. Sprague, was married on Tuesday to Miss Emma Kinross, of Wallingford. The STATESMAN, on behalf of the people, presents to the happy pair the following tribute:

Bright as the bridal blossoms that strew thy path today,
May thy flowers, fresh, unfolding, smile on the future way;
As these, and love, attend thee on earth—in
The lowly home in fadeless light and love.

REMARKS.—We received a letter from the Dalles as we went to give particulars of a railroad, but we had nothing to know about any recent accident or collision, but a little collision occurred on Monday on the Northern by a fine action running into a car, breaking it and killing a brakeman. Another man was injured somewhere along the line by an engine backing and running over him as he was standing on the rail putting his coat on.

FROM LEWISTON.—Major Rees and Miles were returned from Lewiston on Tuesday and it is thought that two practical men in the world who are sanguine of the future of the upper country these are the ones. They say—and we know it to be true from many years of personal experience—that the country is equal in everything that the Walla Walla valley can boast in building up a large town and making it a commercial center. There is surely a great future for Lewiston and it would be now if it were not for the fact that it is a town of 1000 people who are scattered out of their lives by the advent of young and fresh blood.

Judge Lacy sports his new summer suit. Judge Sharpstein has taken to equestrian exercise.

Before you are sick and be an invalid use Oregon Blood Purifier. John Leary has retired from the firm of Haines & Leary, of Seattle.

H. C. Paige has been badly beaten in his claim for the town site of Umattila. The enterprising firm of Goldman Bros. have opened a branch house at Pendleton.

Drake's engine house at Dayton is rapidly being rebuilt and will be the finest hall in the territory. The St. Louis Hotel presents a better appearance than for years past. It looks refreshing, cool and neat since it has been overhauled.

We have it from good authority that Mr. Pillsbury, the Minneapolis mill man, intends to invest largely in Spokane Falls' water power. Decoration Day is going to be the best affair our city ever saw. It will be a Fourth of July on the 30th of May. Our country friends will come in great force.

As there is bound to be a large attendance of people from the country on Decoration Day our citizens should make extra efforts to prepare for extra patronage. Converted Chicago Chinamen gave a concert which netted the Methodist Church there $200. Wonder if converted whites could net that amount in Walla Walla?

That energetic George G. W. Evans left on Monday's train for Salem to attend the State Grange. "Chris" Major was to have gone, but his recent severe accident prevented.

A charter for a national bank at Spokane Falls has been granted. J. N. Glover, F. R. Moore, Dr. L. B. Whitehouse and Wm. Bigman are, we believe, the interested parties.

Many a good watch is spoiled by being repaired by blacksmiths, and therefore when yours is out of repair take it to Lewis's; he will guarantee that it will be all you may expect.

Jimmy Kelly has laid on our table a fine bouquet of the wild grasses, and some grains of this year's growth. The barley especially looks good and the heads are fully six inches in length.

Mr. M. B. V. Stacy and other distinguished gentlemen of Seattle will arrive here on the first of June, remain a short time, and proceed on the journey to Baker City. Something of the import of this visit may readily be imagined.

John Justice is the only city official who comes boldly out and says he wants to be the mayor; and all the rest are "in the hands of their friends," who do not know what to do with them. John is true to himself, and depends solely on Justice.

The maximum of the upward tendency of meat in the East has been reached, and a reaction will soon commence. We hope to hear that the maximum in toughness has been reached. A reaction in that direction would cause a very broad smile hereabouts.

Mr. George H. Johnson, agent of the company at the Lower Cascades and Bonneville, with his wife are visiting the city and are guests of H. M. Chase, Esq. They express themselves as highly pleased at the present appearance of our lovely city and surrounding country.

The Cheney Tribune is offered for sale. Bring it to Walla Walla, Robt. Kolbe. This is the best field for a few more newspapers in the United States. The people have nothing else to do but to subscribe to and read newspapers. But seat your pants with a flourish and fire.

W. I. Turner, the genial physician that which makes the sick man well—if you shake the bottle—at the City Drug Store, Spokane Falls, is in town en route to Portland. Mr. Turner is about to open up a branch store at Sprague. Everybody seems to be going to locate at Sprague. Well, it is a bright town.

"I will be rich," I said,
And I am poor;
"I will be great,"
And I am least of all;
"When I am old," I said,
And I am dead;
"I will be loved,"
And I am clean forgot;
"I will be wise,"
This truth alone I learned:
That death alone is certain in my life.

G. A. R.—A glance at our advertising columns will show that the 30th of May is to be set apart and appropriately sustained as Decoration Day. The arrangements for the event are in the hands of Abraham Lincoln Post No. 4, G. A. R., and the names given of those who are to carry out the details of the programme are sufficient guarantee that everything will be made not only appropriate to the occasion, but agreeable to everyone. There are indications that on the 30th next Tuesday there will be a very general adjunction of business, both in this city and adjoining country. We are told that large numbers of our former friends, many of whom have soldiered dead, will come to the city and co-operate in the observance of the day.

THE CHANGE IN R. R. ARRANGEMENTS.—Now that the railroad is completed from Bonneville to the Dalles, all through travel east-bound will go by rail. The Harvest Queen will leave the Upper Cascades every afternoon, but there is no surety that she will arrive at the Dalles in time to catch the east-bound train which leaves promptly at 7 P. M. The Portland boat lands at the Lower Cascades, and those destined for the Dalles, but no others, may take the river ride. Coming west, however, passengers may choose either route below the Dalles, if by rail they will connect at Bonneville with the boat which will stop at the Lower Cascades for the passengers via the old Portage.

A RIO FIRE.—On Wednesday at Portland Capt. W. S. Thomson, of the British steamship Bothwell Castle, was fined $1000 for having violated section 4206 of the revised statutes, in omitting to deliver to the collector of customs at Astoria a true list of the passengers; and $500 for having violated his passenger; and $500 for carrying 100 passengers more than the American measurement laws permitted than American measurement laws permitted.

FRUIT AND WOOL.—Mr. Lewis Cox, one of the sheep raising firms of Cox Bros., who own large tracts of land in this county and in Whitman county, informs us that he has shipped the large amount of 30,000 pounds of wool, all sacked and cleaned, and the largest shipment ever made at one time from the country above Walla Walla. Two thirds of the wool was pure merino and the whole shearing averaged eight pounds to the fleece while 2,300 sheep gave 93 each. This is a splendid showing and speaks well for the business like care and management which has created the Snake river as booming wool, the despised Snake river is booming wool, as a fruit growing region and peaches, apricots and other delicate fruits, will yield very large crops this year. Wool, fruit and grain will be the future staples of this upper country which derive from this upper country its greatest prosperity.

NECROLOGICAL.

Aldy Neal, a "Bad Man" from Montana, and a Menopis in Horseshoe Bend at Rockford with his Boots on Twenty Citizens Assist in the Ceremony.

Those of our readers who have kept themselves acquainted with the run of affairs in the up-country, know that for a year or so affably by the name of Neal has lived in the valley near Rockford, and it will here express the character of the family as a whole, by saying that they are a "tough lot of citizens"—a sort of Younger family on a small scale. There were two or three sons in the family until last Monday, and their petty devilry has been the subject of conversation in that part of the country for many months. Last year one of the brothers was indicted for creating a disturbance in a Methodist church near Rockford and arraigned in the District Court, then held at Spokane Falls. He succeeded in getting a continuance, and in the meantime most of the family pulled up stakes and journeyed to Montana; and their going was a signal for great rejoicing among the decent, law-abiding citizens in that section. It seems that Aldy, one of the boys, and a sister, remained, and in November this young man was arrested for the theft of a horse, but he "left" those who had him in charge, and from that time on he has been in the "gang" in Montana. Last Sunday he appeared upon the scene at Rockford, coming, as he said, for his sister. One hundred there, a party of citizens, knowing that he was wanted by Sheriff Hatten, surrounded the house, and quietly captured him. A detail of citizens was made to convey the prisoner to Cheney, and as threats of lynching him had been made, the detail with their faces masked, stepped into the road both before and behind the prisoner and guard, and under cover of darkness, but without a word being said, brought them to a full stop. A couple of the men untapped Neal from the saddle, lifted him to the ground and led him into the timber. Realizing his position, he piteously begged for his life, promising that he would confess all the wrong himself and family had done in the neighborhood, and that he would leave the place forever. His captors paid no heed, but told him that his time had come, and he had better make his peace with his Creator. They gave him a few minutes for this preparation, then fastened a stout rope about his neck, and throwing the loose end over a limb, severed him outright, and Aldy Neal lay on the ground. After the crowd had become satisfied that their victim was dead, they separated and rode away. Those who arrested Neal and from whom the mob took him, say that they did not identify the lynchers.

GOLD EXCITEMENT.—Last Sunday it was discovered that a lot of Celestials, located at Rocky Point, a few miles above Ainsworth, on Snake river, were rocking out from ten to fifteen dollars in gold per day to the man, and it has created the wildest sort of excitement in that quarter. Quite a number of the railway employees have gone to the pug-bait camp, to rock the Celestials and cradle for gold dust. It seems that the mongolians are working in what was at one time the bed of the river, or an arm of it, and here they struck it rich. We think it well enough for those who have a situation which insures bacon and eggs, to hold on to it until the new find has been more fully developed.

LAND GRABBERS.—This thing of land grabbing coming around to this office with accounts of the fine country in which they grabbed Uncle Sam's land is getting played out in this locality. We wish to inform these gentlemen that we advocate "actual settlement" and improvement on lands and not that they are taken up for nest-egg purposes. Mr. Fraser of the First National Bank is the last one to take the fever and by his account the lands on the other side of the Columbia are second only to the Plains of Paradise.

DEATH OF WM. S. CALDWELL.—The death of this gentleman is recorded in the Oregonian. He died in Portland on Saturday evening last. He came to this coast in 1859 and has ever since occupied responsible positions by reason of his great trustworthiness and probity. A native of Newburyport, Mass., his family for generations back have been noted for honesty and financial ability, two characteristics which in these days are worthy of record.

THE ENBROTT LINK.—There is but about 40 miles of grading to do on the line to Endicott, Colfax and Moscow before the workers will strike the line that is already graded to Colfax from Texas Ferry. It is understood that the cars will be running almost in time to take away this year crop. There is but one bridge of any size to build and the other grading from the Northern will be very easy work.

STEAM TRACTION ENGINE.—On Tuesday much attention was attracted on Main street by a steam engine navigating the streets as easily as if drawn by a couple of well-trained horses. It went along smoothly, turning in its own length with Charles Kraft as engineer. It was a steam traction engine imported by Mr. Wm. Jones, agricultural implement agent here, and is worthy of record as showing to what lengths the farmers of the Walla Walla country are going.

SEATTLE PROGRESSIVENESS.—The young boys of Seattle are in advance of all the other boys on the Northwest coast; one of their institutions is that called "The Young Naturalists," they have a fine collection of birds, beasts, fishes, fossils and minerals and the young gentlemen appear to take a great interest in their museum. No wonder that Seattle is advancing when ever her children are so progressive. Around other towns the greatest ambition of the youth appears to be able to smoke cigarettes.

PROGRESS.—Railroad work between the Lower Cascades and Portland is progressing very fast. We are reliably informed that at least 4000 men are employed on the line. Although no promises are made it is very probable that Walla Walla will have direct communication with Portland by the end of September. Three short years since and six transfers were made between the two cities and there now remains but one and that will soon be a thing of the past.

FROM BOSTON.—A ship is now on the way out from Boston to Seattle. Her mission is to load spars and choice lumber here for Boston. The spars are being cut at Amos Brown's camp, near Olympia. The Seattle Lumber & Commercial company has taken a contract to furnish 100,000 feet of decked plank at $20 per thousand, and 50,000 feet of clear cedar at $25 per thousand, to complete her cargo.

LAND OFFICE AT WALLA WALLA, W. T., May 24, 1882.

Complaint having been entered at this office by Wm. N. Wiseman against Henry Hoiler for abandoning his homestead entry No. 1627, dated Feb. 23, 1880, upon the N. E. 1/4, Sec. 2, Township 2 N., R. 23, E. in Walla Walla county, W. T., with a view to the cancellation of said entry; the said parties are hereby summoned to appear at this office on the 13th day of July 1882, at 10 o'clock A. M., to respond, and furnish testimony concerning the abandonment.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that I will offer for sale at public auction at the court house door in the City of Walla Walla, W. T., on the 24th day of July, 1882, at the hour of 2 o'clock P. M. of said day, the following described real estate for delinquent grade tax, amounting to $85 45 and accruing costs, viz: Lot 16, block 35, situated in the City of Walla Walla, W. T.

JOHN G. JUSTICE, City Marshal.

Our Present Institution.

The STATESMAN makes it a special business to foster home industries and as our readers know by this time we have taken the Walla Walla foundry under our special care and have chronicled its rise and progress since the present energetic firm took such a determined hold. That it has prepared in spite of obstacles and misfortune that would have daunted less determined men is a pleasant thing for us to contemplate as we are of those who know from experience that "nothing succeeds like success." If only one half the energy this firm are imbued with, was infused into other home industries that could as easily as not be established here, our city would very soon double its population and become an commercial center. The fact that our people have been so slow to sending to Portland and San Francisco for every little thing they need prevents them from realizing that just as good, at far less expense, could be obtained at home if they would only give home industries their countenance and support. If this now prosperous foundry were to depend upon its own city to day for work they would soon be forced to close its doors. Of all the work they are now doing by far the greater part comes from towns adjacent where the fame and most excellent quality of the work turned out here has reached.

It would surprise many of our prominent business men if they were to pay the works a visit. They will find over thirty men directly employed and as most of them are married and have families at least one hundred souls are supported from this one single industry that less than three years ago employed about two men in a busy time and was entirely closed over half the time. This gives rise to the thought that perhaps the cause of so many failures to establish industries here is because they are not managed by men who fully understand the business; therefore fail and then they curse the country. The firm now have contracts ahead for no less than 300 feet of brick tons and the greater part is from Dayton, Wabington and Pendleton and are coming all the time. Visitors from different parts are cordially invited to inspect the works and the proprietors Messrs. Marshall, Jones & Roberts will be pleased to show them around and extend them all the information in their power.

The Increase of Grain Crop.

Recently we have taken pains to interview many of our most intelligent and best posted farmers, regarding the coming grain crop of this valley, and especially with reference to these statements, we are of the opinion that the increase this over last year's production—all the present signs holding good—will be fully 30 per cent. The crops look splendid, and barring all unfortunate results, we shall have an immense yield. If it is true that at the close of last season there were 25,000 tons of grain waiting means of transportation, what is likely to be the result this season? True, it is likely to be all rail to Portland, but 50 per cent more grain this season will demand something more than the difference in handling at the Dalles and the Cascades. We believe that the O. R. & N. Co. realize these facts, and we hope are making commensurate conditions.

SALE OF THE TRACTION ENGINE.—When that Traction engine got into the street on Wednesday two or three hundred engineers and mechanics became interested in it, and scattered their opinions about it, as freely as an infatuated spoony delivers bouquets to a popular actress. Some of them sneeringly said it wouldn't run up hill at all. Others ventured the remark that it would "stick" in soft ground. Another said he doubted whether it would go on level ground with a load, and one man was even doubtful whether it would move down hill. Of course it was a surprise to these engineers when the engine moved away like a thing of life, uphill, downhill, on a level and in every possible condition of soil. The engine ascended the steep hill near the post house north of town, pulling the separator, with sixteen men on top of it. Messrs. Frank Hanna and John Palmer, farmers living near Centerville, were the purchasers of the engine and gold metal separator. They have a contract with Dr. Black to "take away" with 1,000 acres of grain as a starter.

FARM MACHINERY.—The new advertisement of Gross & Waggoner, dealers in agricultural implements, will appear next week. A press of work and a large number of new advertisements rendered it inconvenient for us to make the change in their ad for this issue, and those gentlemen kindly consented to wait until next week. They have a splendid stock of the finest machinery, comprising everything a farmer could wish in that line.

The Great Natural Demand.

In order to supply the great demand for a remedy of real merit, one capable of cleansing the system, purifying the blood, regulating the liver, and acting on the bowels, the California Fig Syrup Company has commenced the manufacture on a large scale of a concentrated Syrup of Figs, and is sending out trial bottles to be given away, so that it costs nothing to try it and convince yourself of its efficiency. And as every family needs a bottle, it is also for sale in 50 cent and $1 bottles at Holmes Drug Store, Walla Walla, and by Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, Oregon.

Quinine and Arsenic.

Form the basis of many of the aque remedies in the market, and are the last resort of physicians and people who know no better medicine to employ for this distressing complaint. The effects of either of these drugs are destructive to the system, producing headache, intestinal disorders, vertigo, dizziness, ringing in the ears and depression of the constitutional health. Ayer's Agree Cure is a vegetable, non-poisonous, containing neither quinine, arsenic, nor any deleterious ingredients, and is an infallible and rapid cure for every form of fever and ague. Its effects are permanent and certain, and no injury can result from its use. Besides furnishing a positive cure for fever and ague in all its forms, it is also a superior remedy for liver complaints. It is an excellent tonic and preventive, as well as cure, of all complaints peculiar to the liver, such as jaundice, biliousness, indigestion, and all other ailments of the digestive system. It stimulates the system to a vigorous, healthy condition.

Creditable Showing of the News of the Day in the Columns of "The Statesman."

Capt. Tuttle is in town. To what base uses "gentlemanly" runner. Cooper & Schneck's new chop mill will be in active operation this week.

The Seattle Chronicle has a very poor opinion of the head geologist of the Northern Pacific Co. Seattle Chronicle's view is a week old when they arrive here. Mr. Chronicle, cannot you do better than that?

Judge Patterson and wife left for New York on Friday's train; they will be gone two or three months. J. C. Isaac is having a neat fence put round his home on North Third street. Mr. Palmer is doing the work.

John Marshall, engineer of the steamer "Wide West," is in the city on a visit to his brother, of the foundry. Mrs. Leahy will take charge of the company's hotel at Bonneville, the last station on the line toward Portland.

A water main is being put down on Pine street, and Charles Eicher is the first to receive water to sprinkle with. On and after Sunday, May 21st, the delivery windows at the Walla Walla post-office will be open from 3.30 to 4.30 P. M.

Gen. Tamm returned from Endicott on Friday evening. He says that the country up there is the garden of the earth. A new floor is being laid in the old Harmony hall, and the entire hall will soon be converted into a mammoth restaurant.

Travel is steadily on the increase, as any one can see by a visit to the depot on the arrival and departure of trains. All interstate activity. Win. Higham, of Spokane Falls, is down from the front and reports grading and track laying progressing as rapidly as circumstances will permit.

Cheney has organized a company for the purpose of bringing the waters, medicinal and otherwise, into that town. We prefer to take our own straight. Oysters are out of season, it is too cold for ice cream and iced strawberries are not in yet and therefore the young men of the period is correspondingly happy.

Major Trux, from the front of the N. P., tells us that the cavalry and graders are scattered along the line of the road 20 miles into Montana. Everything is booming there. Mr. Frank Stone has entirely renovated and fixed up his simple room in a very hand some style. Messrs. Coon & Stockwell did the work in their usual masterly manner.

Geo. E. Bales is under bonds to appear before Judge Lacy on Wednesday on the charge of selling goods on a Sunday. Outside of the saloon men this is the first case of breaking the Sunday law in this city. It has been suggested that when Mr. Villard has built the railroad from Walla Walla to Seattle that the palm "Praise the Lord, Oh, my Soul" be changed to "Praise Villard, Oh, my Soul." We have no objection.

Kanaka Joe and King were brought before His Worship Judge Lacy for being drunk and creating a disturbance on the streets. The case was fully proved and each gentleman contributed $5 to the city treasury. Of all the schemes for supplying Walla Walla with papers that of starting an agricultural journal has not been started. It is possible that the fact of some little ability and knowledge being required, prevents this.

Monday, May 22d, 1911, is memorable for the first creation of bonobos by James I. at $100 each to raise money for his private use. Two hundred were thus created, and now their descendants are the blue blood of creation. Seattle has already contributed $850 for a Fourth of July jamboree, and double that amount is expected to be raised. It looks like it that this city will take to Seattle this year. Happy thought—let's all go to Seattle!

H. M. Chase, Esq., has our thanks for Railroad Guides of the Chicago and Northwestern and Trunk lines to and from the West and Northwest. A most excellent map of the United States is a principal feature of the work. R. P. Reynolds is in town from Texas Ferry. He informs us that the two men recently drowned in the rapid were Irishmen, and their bodies are not yet recovered. It appears that they became scared owing to the boat getting into a whirlpool and lost their wits.

A. H. Boomer, of Boise City, and contractor for the overland stages and mail routes between this city and The Dalles and Kelso, is in the city on his way up country on a visit. Mr. Boomer is an old-timer and stage man in this interior, and is interested in sixteen other routes besides that overland. The sidewalk along North 4th and Elm streets, leading to the depot, is approaching completion, and is a credit to the contractors, Horton & Whitney. With a foot bridge over Mill creek and gas lamps at intervals, the traveling community will have all the accommodation needed to reach the depot with comfort and safety.

Sergt. Dohel, formerly of "K" Co., 1st Cavalry, but now book-keeper for John H. Stahl, has fallen heir to a handsome little fortune. We have known Mr. Dohel under many circumstances, and know of none we would rather congratulate on the accession to a fortune, for he has all the characteristics that makes a gentleman—honor, bravery and generosity. Mr. H. G. Stimmel, the new agent at the depot, is the same gentleman who made such a fine reputation while agent at Wainwright. He is a thorough railroad man and has been in the business almost his lifetime. Under his management affairs at the depot are running very smoothly, and by his courtesy and uniform attention and business management to passengers and shippers, is very popular.

Cas's Cook as Mother Did.—How many a young wife's heart is saddened and happiness rendered because she cannot "cook as mother did." It is strange, sadly strange, and yet we all know it is true. How many a time has the tender-hearted reporter felt his heart bursting with grief as he told the harrowing story of some poor suffering woman, whose cheerful smile had turned to dismal darkness just because she could not "cook as mother did." And how it delights the heart of the reporter when he chances to hear of one devoted young wife who is rescued from the gloomy fate of so many, in a manner so simple and easy that the only wonder is that she is not wiser. This one wonder is that she is not wiser. This one wonder is that she is not wiser.

Bar Road.—In spite of repeated warnings, the county road which it crosses the Tam-A-Lam continues in a very dangerous state and on Sunday last one of our citizens and his family came near being upset; not long since a horse was crushed there and it is only natural to suppose that a few lives may be lost before it is considered necessary to bridge or repair that stream.

A Voice from the Tomb.

And in those days it came to pass, that those who traffic in law were assembled together at the semi-annual tribunal of justice to "hear and be heard" regarding matters pertaining to themselves and their neighbors. Others were also there who were accused of various and grievous offenses, who were to receive punishment according to their deeds.

And after many days they were taken from their dungeons (called in those days tombs) and placed in the hands of the great Hop Kin, by him to be escorted in chains to the castle of the general commonwealth, and the prisoners were chained in twos, and the great Hop Kin and his lieutenant were armed to speak in the words of those days—to the teeth, and Hop Kin was very kind in the condemned ones, buying them costly raiment for the head, sandals for their feet, and laying in plentiful supplies of the wood known as tobacco, at the expense of the general commonwealth. And behold when they were traveling and had proceeded some leagues on their journey, the great Hop Kin became weary and said, "Verily, I will lie me down and rest," and giving over the keeping of the condemned ones to the care of his lieutenant, and after seeing that all was well he retired to his luxurious couch, and sweet dreams visited him and he thought himself promoted to higher positions, step by step having gained favor in the eyes of his governor that portion of the great country.

And while he is dreaming sweet dreams, those who he left secure, have been by some means freed of their chains, and have taken upon themselves to earn their own living rather than be an encumbrance upon the state, but before they departed they said unto themselves, it is not well that we go unprepared to meet the rugged world, its dangers and its necessities, so after consulting among themselves they agreed to appropriate whatsoever would in their minds be of any use, and they placed the lieutenant in a daze, and appropriated his shekels of gold, silver, and of paper, likewise his weapons of war, then as they knew not where to find their generous conductor, and not being able to bid him adieu and give him their parting blessing, they quietly departed into the desert near the modern city of Alkali.

And lo, after many periods of time had elapsed, Hop Kin was made acquainted with the news (to him) of their exodus, and 'tis related of him that he wept large weeps likewise that he did tar his hair and attend much Billingsgate, but now he is unable to bring them to Billings Gate. Likewise did he send to the chief officer of Walla Walla messages that he might capture them near where they had so quietly left him, but the chief officer unto him, verily for five long months have I lodged and fed these men, but now that they are in another country, where my authority would not be recognized, I have no power, and verily I remember that some Dixie cost me many a noosey-awake likewise the Smith, my duty was done towards them and to the state, hence I can do nothing else. And there was weeping and gnashing of teeth, but Dixie and Smith roared with joy in their freedom and singed strange songs as:

"Hereditary bondsmen! Know ye not Who would be free themselves must strike the blow. Yes, to this thought I hold with firm persistence: The last result of wisdom stamps its truth: He only earns his freedom and exultance Who daily conquers them anew."

Memorial Day. Governor Thayer will deliver a short address on Memorial Day at Vancouver. Decoration Day will be celebrated in an elaborate manner at Vancouver. It will be the most imposing military spectacle ever witnessed in Washington Territory, and it is thought that upward of 40,000 people will be in attendance.

Capt. Pierce 21st Infantry, author of the "Dreadful" will recite his poem "The Loyal Dead" at Decoration Day ceremonies at Vancouver. Decoration Day will be Walla Walla's 4th of July this year. All turn out.

We understand that the City Council, Board of Fire Delegates, the Fire Department, the Walla Walla Artillery Battery A, and a number of civic societies of this city are going to participate in the exercises of Memorial Day, May 30, with the Grand Army Post. We predict the largest turn out ever witnessed in Walla Walla city. The Post through their committees are securing some of the best orators they can for the occasion.

The Finance committee will visit our merchants in a few days, for a small subscription to help pay the expenses that are to occur. We trust they will meet the call promptly and cheerfully. G. A. R. Abraham Lincoln Post, No. 4. The committee of Arrangements for Memorial Day are respectfully requested to meet at the usual place to-night, for transaction of important business.

WM. LESLIE, CHAIRMAN. FIRE AT OLYMPIA.—At 2 o'clock Thursday morning fire started in the Vienna restaurant, on Main street in this city, and before long the buildings on each side were wrapped in flames, and before 6 o'clock four-fifths of one of the principal business blocks in the city was a mass of smoking ruins. Had it not been for the almost superhuman efforts put forth by the citizens as well as by the firemen, coupled with the vast amount of foliage along the street, the entire business portion of the town would have been totally destroyed. The following list of losses has been hastily gathered and will give some idea of the extent of calamity: Tuitt & Holmes, tinsmith, loss $8000; insurance $5000; Joseph Clibberg, merchant, loss $4000; total loss; C. R. Tolcott, jeweler, loss $5000; insurance $1400; Toklas & Co., loss $10,000; insurance $6000; W. H. Clark, stock fully insured, loss $2000; Courier, loss $2000; Wright, baker, loss $200; R. Frost, loss $10,000; insurance $2500; Mrs. Engoley, milliner, loss $1000; insurance $2500; Vienna restaurant, kept by W. S. Smith, loss $1200; no insurance; W. J. Lewis, furniture store, loss $200; P. Hiltz, boot saloon, loss $2500; J. N. Gale, postoffice, loss $400; the mail was saved by clerk, Lyman Mann; J. M. Carragher, loss $200; Jacob Ort, loss $1500.

PAINE BROTHERS.

A GREAT CHANGE.

The O. R. & N. Co.'s road being completed from The Dalles to the Cascades passenger trains commenced running Sunday. The first train left The Dalles at 5 o'clock A. M. and reached Bonneville at 5:10 A. M. The Cascades boat will leave Portland at 9 o'clock in the morning, connecting with the train which leaves Bonneville at 8:25 o'clock P. M. The navigation of the Middle Columbia river will probably be in about two weeks, the greater part of the boats and barges on that portion of the river will be taken down over the Cascades. The craft which will make the dangerous descent of the rapids are the R. R. Thompson and Mountain Queen and the barges Atlas and Hercules, and the mammoth wharfboat at The Dalles, which is 250 feet long and 60 beam. Such a magnificent sight as the passage of the Cascades by these craft has never been seen on the river and probably never will be again.

The splendid boat R. R. Thompson, a sister boat to the Wide West, has lately been thoroughly overhauled and painted throughout and is as good as new. She will probably run in conjunction with the Wide West to Bonneville. The Mountain Queen is another fine boat. She will be thoroughly overhauled and probably take the place of one of the boats at present on the Astoria route. The withdrawal of these craft will make the middle river look lonesome to steamboat men, and will be a serious loss to The Dalles, as with them will come about 1500 men, whose homes have been there. These men, however, remain the fine stevedores, Harvest Queen and Hasallo, and two barges, which will afford much greater accommodation than part of the river furnished a few years since. This is only one of the great changes that the magnificent schemes of the O. R. & N. Co., are determined to effect in our system of transportation.

Correspondence. RUSSELL CREEK, May 20, 1882. ED. STATESMAN.—Many in this neighborhood have finished summer following while many others are still turning the soil. Cold rainy weather and frosty nights of late, seem to go hard with garden stuff, but what, oats and barley, are in fine growing condition.

The school meeting at the Melton school house, mentioned in a previous communication occurred on the evening of the 17, inst. Both parties came out in force, the voting was spirited and lively but the no school house men came out ahead by 5 votes, thus settling the school house question for this year.

Mr. Anderson McGuire who lives in the Patuxent country, is visiting at his father's, Mr. John McGuire for a few days. He reports grain in a promising condition in that country.

S. R. Maxon sold his last year's crop of wheat a few days ago, to Isaac, about 2,000 bushels for 70 cents per bushel.

Mr. Harve McGuire owns the best turkey hen in this neighborhood. She was found in the brush sitting on 18 turkey eggs and it was confidently expected that 18 young turkeys would be the result of the old hen's patience but instead of turkeys, she was seen one morning strutting around with 18 chicks, illustrating the well known lines of the Scotch bard.

"The best laid plans of mice or men, Oft go for nothing." Mr. C. Maier, who intended to go to Salina on the 20th, to attend the Granger's poor box, is obliged to remain at home owing to sickness.

Those men who went down on the John Day to look for land, as indicated in a previous communication, came back not very well satisfied with the country.

Mr. John McGuire, Sr., is entertaining a whole house full of friends, emigrants from Kansas, who arrived in Walla Walla last Thursday morning. They have left bleeding Kansas forever and they intend making Washington Territory their future home. They will find plenty of room in this territory.

Those men who went down on the John Day to look for land, as indicated in a previous communication, came back not very well satisfied with the country.

Sheriff's Sale of Real Estate.

FOR DELINQUENT TAXES FOR THE YEAR 1881. Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the statutes in such cases made and provided I will offer for sale at the court house door in this city and county of Walla Walla, W. T., on Monday, the 20th day of June, A. D. 1882, commencing at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M. of said day, and continuing from day to day until all of said real estate of said delinquents has been sold, the amount set opposite their respective names, for taxes due on said real estate for the year 1881, to-wit:
