TO SES. Upon the white sand, There at a pilgrim land, Telling the losses that their lives had known, While evening shadows fell, From breezy cliff and bay, And the straining tides went out with weary moan.

IS DIPHTHERIA INCREASING?—An English magazine has recently published an article alleging that the disease is increasing in Walla Walla, especially among the women of the middle and upper classes in that country.

THE FLAG OF TURKEY.—There are two flags. One is the flag of Turkey proper, and the other is the flag of the Prophet, which comes to the Sultan as the host of the Moslems.

FOUNDED RESIGNATION OF JUDGE LEWIS.—Judge Lewis has resigned his position as Chief Justice of the Territory, and the resignation was received by the attorney general.

THE COLOR LINE.—The Republic of Liberia affords a striking illustration of the color line in politics. The Constitution not only excludes all whites from participation in the Government, but also denies them the right to buy or to hold real estate in the country.

HOW TO WIN A DIVORCE SUIT.—The following skeleton of an agreement was found on a table in the court room, supposed to have been left by a distinguished legal luminary engaged in a recent divorce case.

PHOTO GALLERY. FOR PHOTOGRAPHS in every style, and at reasonable prices, the public generally are invited to call at C. W. Phillips' Gallery.

The Estray Law. By request we publish the law relating to estrays, as amended by the statute book.

Too Much Government. Mr. Charles O'Connor did not exactly hit the bull's eye when he offered suggestions as to the constitution of the future; but he dropped some remarks on the general subject of government which show that his impossible structure was placed on a firm basis.

Our Washington Letter. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17, 1877. EDITOR STATESMAN.—For several days past there have been reports that the South had been ordered from Louisiana and South Carolina. It is officially denied that such an order has been issued.

Sheep the Mainstay of Agriculture. When sheep husbandry became universal in the States, the management will be such as to make it evident to the most casual observer that the farmer could not possibly make his farm pay without a numerous flock of sheep.

SAKING FRANCISCO DRUMMERS.—In the rout of observation and for information to the Snake river country, made by us last month, we had a fine opportunity of watching the wondrous operations of drumming up trade by San Francisco drummers.

BURNING STRAW.—Experiments made in Vienna prove that straw gives in effective heating power a nearer approach to its theoretical heating power than either wood or coal.

THE END OF AN UNLAWFUL LOVE.—Illegitimate conjugal joys are seldom satisfactory for a very long period of time, and particularly when the participants in them are poor and not only poor, but out of employment.

AMONG THE inmates of Nashville Lunatic Asylum is a negro woman who has almost entirely lost her mind, and who has been a great antiqity to weeds, and suffers none to grow within the enclosure.

A HARD TIME FOR CALIFORNIA SHEEP. It is estimated that from one-half to two-thirds of the sheep in the State of California have perished from starvation.

NEATNESS OF DRESS.—If she desires, a farmer's wife can be as neat or even fashionable as her city neighbors.

COFFEE HOUSES.—Philadelphia has several large coffee houses, designed for the accommodation of workmen.

This is the season when, as they fondly linger at the gate, he says in tones tremulous with the ecstasy of love, "Darling, my own precious darling, one fond kiss before we part!"

An old-fashioned minister was preaching in a tight, unventilated church, in which by some means a window was left partly open.

A sharp little girl got out of patience with her bashful lover's backwardness, and so brought matters to a favorable climax by saying to him: "I really believe you are afraid to ask me to marry you, for you know I would say 'Yes'."

It makes a man mad to get up softly in the middle of the night, noiselessly open a bottle of beer, hear its gassy foam escaping, and, despairingly jamming his thumb over the nozzle, squirt a fine little stream of beer all over his wife's face.

All hairpins look alike to men; but let a wife go off on a visit and come home and find a hairpin near the gate and you will soon know that there is a mighty deal of difference in two pieces of forked wire.

"I am afraid it is mixed goods," said the lady to the clerk. "Oh, no, madam, impossible," replied the polite gentleman; "all our camel's hair shawls are made of pure silk direct from the worm."

Scientists have long been trying to discover how a baldheaded man gets the two hairs that he weaves over the top of his head from shoulder to shoulder. They probably come from an hair loom.

In an up valley town two women, who were next door neighbors, quarreled so much that their respective husbands built a board fence twenty-eight feet high between the houses.

"Did you notice how splendidly I went through the last reel at the ball last night, Tom?" "Yes, and I also noticed that you kept it up all the way home."

WHEAT GROWING IN ENGLAND.—The lately published agricultural returns demonstrate once more in the unmistakable language of facts, the slow but apparently certain advent of a time when we shall be virtually dependent on foreign sources for the supply of our cereals.

Why Horses Eat Dirt.—It is a very common habit with horses, when turned out of close stables, to lick up dirt in their pathway, and swallow it with apparent relish.
