[To be sung by Robeson, Belknap, the Whisky Thieves, etc., on the Strand in California.] Hail, great Ulysses, mighty chief, all hail! Thrice welcome, wanderer, to your native kind Oh, grasp our stag ring country's well-worn tail, And hold it firmly in that iron hand,

Since you departed, grand and puissant chief, This life has been a lemon squeezed to flatness: Men have reviled us as they taunt a thief— Oh, when shall come again our day of fatness: While you have wandered over foreign lands, And gathered gifts in many an old-world city Our way has stretched across the dreary sands Our city gift contempt, unmixed with pity. But, even there, we are no more respected Than if we pined behind a prison grate.

For these are days when men have little feeling For those whom you, O mighty chief, called

For those whom you, or make great;
Oh, bring us back the era of good stealing:
Lay your mailed hand upon the helm of state.
This life is but an orange, sucked and juckeless;
A weary, dreary time of dolorous grief;
And all our struggles are but vain and useless—
We cannot hide the danning brand of "thief." Then hail, Ulysses, glorious chief, thrice hail! Welcome, great trav'ler, to your native land; Oh, grasp our stag'ring country's well-worn tail, And hold it firmly in that iron hand.

In the early summer of 1877, as Mr. Jacob Lower, of Ellsworth, whose farm is on the town line joining on the west line of Can-field, Mahoning county, was clearing off the field, Mahoning county, was clearing off the dirt from a large bed of sandstone, for the purpose of quarrying stone for a building, he came upon what appeared to him to be several rows of the tracks of some gigantic animal. Not being a geologist, he could not make out what it all meant. He related the thing to Wm. Wetmore, and Mr. Wetmore, thing to Wm. Wetmore, and Mr. Wetmore, as soon as he saw me, said to me that he thought it might be something worth looking after, and we had better go out there and see about it. When we got there we found that a large portion of the tracks—for tracks they were, and no mistake about it—had been quarried out, but the blocks lay there and the tracks were on them, and the mest of them were yet whole. The rock is the common sandstone, from which is taken all our building stone, and lies immediately all our building stone, and lies immediately over the coal seam that is called No. 4, and is the rock that runs through the top of all the low hills in this vicinity. Denudation has been doing a great work hereabouts and has cut through and through this rock, making many long and narrow valleys, and it escort. There was a funeral parade in the only where the rock was harder that it has withstood the denuding action, and these places are these hills, and they are rounded off so that the rock slopes in all directions from the top. These tracks are on the west side of these rounded off hills, and the rock side of these rounded on hins, and the rock is planed down quite smooth.

The animals were all going to the east, up the slope of the rock, and their tracks were all parellel to each other, and there were several of them even on the comparatively small space of the rock uncovered. They are all of nearly the same size, eight and a half inches long by eight inches herad half inches long by eight inches broad, except one, which was about five inches long. This was a calf in this drave of cattle, and no lot of cows walking across a newly harrowed field ever left more unmis takable tracks. The tracks were mostly two inches deep. But as there had been some planting done after they were made, they were in some places worn off some. Where the rock was not much worn, the Where the rock was not much worn, the mark of the fet-lock or dew-claw appendage to the ankle was very distince, and looked just as if the end of a finger had been pressed in a little way, and there being only one, and that in the middle of the foot, showed the animal to be a solid-hoofed animal and not a cloven-hoofed one. There were no indications of any tees or of anything of the dications of any toes or of anything of the

I succeeded in getting it out whole and the cast was just like the end of a pestle. The length of the step I forgot to measure, but it was some four or five feet. For the length of the step of all animals we have very nearly the length of the leg. I was sorry that I forgot to get that measure, but I will that I forgot to get that measure, our get it when I examine that place again, as I mend to do soon. This description of the tracks themselves I think is sufficient for the tracks themselves I think is sufficient for back to camp.

Or all the ggantue animats that have nived on the earth previous to man very few of them, indeed, have solid hoofs or are "solipeda," as they are called. They are almost all either cloven-footed or with toes or claws some very long claws; as the megalonyx, that is long-clawed. The most of those that are large enough to make such tracks are either cloven-hoofed or have three toes. So we have a very limited number to select ONE BRANCH OF BUSINESS: taken from an ice bank on the coast of Sia condition that we can see just what kind of feet he had, and his feet would make just that animal was the same animal that roamed over the country and left his bones here and there, which we now dig up and call them mammoth bones.—Hartford Times.

of the strength of the democratic nomi-nation in Ohio is the persistent attempts of the republicans to belittle them, and to circulate reports of dissensions in the party. The opposition press insists that Gen. Rice hesitates to accept the nomination for Lieutenant Governor, and that Gen. Ewing desires some other chairman than John G. Thompson to manage their campaign. There is nothing or next to nothing in all this talk. It was pretty well settled last evening that Gen. Rice well settied last evening that Gen. Rice had signified his purpose to accept, and that, at the request of Gen. Ewing, whose relations with Mr. Thompson have always been of a pleasant character, that gentleman will be continued at the head of the campaign committee of Chio. In short, there is nothing in the political atmos there is nothing in the position atmosphere to dim the prospect of a strong canvass by a united party and a brilliant victory next October. The Ohio democrats, including the candidates, are confident of success, and appear to have the nerve to make a winning fight.

DEATH OF THE PRINCE IMPERIAL

The Heir of Napoleon Slain by the Zulus in South Africa.

LONDON, June 19 .- A dispatch from Cape Town, dated June 3d, via Maderia to-day, says that Prince Louis Napoleon. Prince Imperial of France accompanied by other officers, left Colonel Wood's camp to reconnoiter. The party dismoun-ted in a field, when the enemy crept upon them and assegaied the prince, killing him. His body was recovered.

The news of his death has east a glo over the city and flags are flying at half

A Times correspondent writing from It-etezi Hill on the 2d inst. says: The body of the Prince Imperial was discovered in a field of long grass. There were no bul-let wounds upon it, but there were seven-teen wounds made by thrusts. The body was found stripped, and the clothes had been taken away.

Loldon, June 20.—Following are the additional particulars of the death of the Prince Imperial: There were eighteen assagai stabs in the body when found, two of them piercing the body from chest to back, two in the side, and one destroying the right eye. A locket with hair, me-dallions and reliquary were found around his neck. His face wore a placid expression. He had evidently ineffectually tried to mount, and the leather of the flap tearing, he ran along the path to where he was found. Official accounts say that the prince with Lieut. Carey of the 98th reg-iment, six men and one friendly Zulu, left camp at Kelitzi mountain seven mile beyond Blood river, on the 1st inst., for reconnoisance. The party halted and un-saddled when ten miles from camp. Just as the prince gave the order to remount, a volley was fired from an ambush in the long grass. Lieut. Carey and four of the troopers returned to camp and reported that the prince and two troopers were mis-sing. At daybreak the cavalry patrol under Gen. Marshall, left to search for the prince and went to the kraals. Ten miles further on the body was discovered among the long grass 300 yards from the kraal. The body was borne by Gen. Marshall and officers Drury, Lowe and Stewart of the 17th lancers to meet an ambulance, by which it was then brought hither with an

Deep sorrow prevails throughout the column. The prince did not mount after the attack, his horse being restive, but ran afoot, The corpse will leave, with the escort, for transportation homeward.

News of the death of the prince reached London at a late hour last night. At about 1 o'clock this morning it was circulated in the lobbies of the house of commons, when, in reply to inquiries, Col. Hanly, secretary of state for war, read the foregoing telegram.

Lord Sydney, an old and tried friend of the imperial family, had left for Chiselhurst to break the news to ex-Empress Eugenie.

London journals, while deeply deplor-

London Journals, while deeply deplor-ing the prince's death, regard it as the end of imperialism in France.

Prince Napoleon, who has become head of the line, is a democrat in politics and is distasteful to the entire Bonapartist following. He has two sons, 17 and 15 years of age respectively. Party loyalty may fasten around the name of one of these sons, but for a time imperial counsels must be distracted and the possibility of a return to the empire appears more shadowy than ever.

Another special from South Africa says that the Prince Imperial had been sent forward by the quartermaster general to sketch a site for the next camp. When the volley was fired not a single Zulu was to be seen. The party dispersed and sought safety under cover. The prince was never seen alive again. His horse reached Kappealicone, May 29th, where a permanent camp has been established. Another of Cetewayo's envoys has reached to confer with him.

Cetewayo tried, unsuccessfully, to obtain ammunition at Delogoa Bay. A small British force was surprised on Orange river by a large body of Bashutos and several British were killed. Following is the latest concerning the war in South Africa. The movement of a party of officers from Col. Wood's camp to reconnoiter was the first step in the new invasion of Zulu land. Lord Chelmsford, commander in chief of the staff, will accompany General Newdegate. After the main force shall have pushed forward as far as possible and established an entrenched camp and secured communica-tion, Col. Wood's command with six week's supplies will cut loose from the base, make a dash at Ulundi and destroy five large military kraals there. The plan Crelock will advance from lower Tugela simultaneously with Gen. Newdegate and endeavor to push forward a detachment to Who is He.—The gentleman nomi nated by the democrats of Ohio as their candidate for governor, is thus noticed in an Ohio paper: Gen. Thomas Ewing was born in Lancaster, O., Aug ist 7, 1829. His father, Senator Thomas Ewing, was the successor of Thomas Corwin, in the senate, and his sister is the wife of Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman. Gen. Ewing was educated at Brown University and studied law at the Cincinnatti*law school. In 1849 he was appointed private secretary to President Taylor. 1856 he removed to Kansas, where had been appointed chief justice of the United States court for that territory. He was a member of the convention which framed the constitution for Kansas when it became a state. In 1862 he entered the Union army as a colonel, and after participating gallantly in several campaigns and numerous battles was pro-moted to the rank of Major-General. After the war he practiced law in Washington for some time, and going back to Onio was elected, 1876, a member of congress from the old twelfth district, beat ing the republican candidate, George K Nash, by 5087 votes. In 1878, the state had been redistricted and he was the democratic candidate in the tenth dis-trict against V. B. Horton, republican. The district was regarded as hopelessly republican, but General Ewing won a popular victory and beat his opponent by 434 votes.

CONKLING AND LAMAR.

The Disgraceful Scene in the Senate--How it was Received by the Senate and the Friends of Either--Nothing more Serious Probable.

Washington, June 19 .- The excitement caused in the senate chamber by the extraordinary and wholly unequaled interchange of denunciatory and degrading epithets between Lamar and Conk-ling was intense. Each of the two scha-ters, although wrought up to the highest pitch of unreflecting anger and resentment, maintained an ou tward appearance of calmness, and both managed to formulate their astounding insults in phraseology which kept within the bounds of par-hamentary rules. For this reason and also because the senate was taken utterly by surprise, neither was called to order; and the whole colloquy was over before the listeners could fully realize to what unpardonable lengths it had been carried. Both senators spoke slowly; but Conkling was especially deliberate in his man-ner, and threw into his words an amount of scornful and contemptuous emphasis which barbed every word like an arrow. Lamar's last utterances quivered with anger and were accompanied by a disdainful gesture, suggesting the throwing down of a wage of mortal combat, which he eagerly hoped his adversary would take up. Conkling while speaking stood in the middle aisle, and Lamar spoke from a position very near it. Vance, of North Carolina, who like his father is a Swift proposed to put a tax on female beauty, and to leave every tady to rate her own charms. He said the tax would be cheerfully paid, and be very productive.

The said the tax would be cheerfully paid, and be very productive.

was speaking.
Southern senators in conversation since the occurence universally commend Lamar's action as justifiable and even de-manded by Conkling's imputation of bad faith on his part; and they also confi-dently assert that there can be no question of his entire readiness to maintain his words with his life if necessary. They express doubts whether Conking will send Lamar a challenge, although they say it is of course incumbent upon him to push the matter further, as Lamar gave the lie first. Lamar's friends explain that he felt called upon especially to resent Conkling's charge of bad faith on the part of the democratic side of the chamber because it had come to his ears that Conkling had denounced him personally. Senator Conkling informs his friends that he does not intend to send Lamar a chal-lenge, or in any other way to be drawn into a duel, for neither he nor his constituents believe in duelling. He also says that Lamar's attack upon him was unprovoked and unexplainable upon any personal ground. (Conkling's) charge of bad faith having been made against the whole democratic side of the chamber and was not especially applica-ble to Lamar, whom, in fact, he did not have in his mind at all when uttering that remark, although he had previously re-ferred to the Mississippi levee bill of which Lamar had charge, as being one of the matters that had consumed the time of the senate to the exclusion of a proper opportunity for the republicans to debate the army appropriation bill.

HIS EXACT WORDS. WASHINGTON, June 20. - Following is a correct report of Lamar's remarks in the senate to-day in response to Conkling It is not my habit to indulge in personalities, but I desire to say to the senator that in intimating anything inconsistent, as he has done, with perfect good faith, I pronounce his statement as a falsehood, which I repel with an unmitigated con-

Wednesday night's mud throwing en-ounter between Senators Lamar and Conkling, has been the chief topic of comment to-day, and there is still much speculation as to its possible consequences. There is no prospect, however, of a duel for Conkling does not recognize the code course under no necessity to notice Conk-ling's words returning it. Although it is conceded that Conkling will not send a challenge, there are rumors that he is consulting with friends with a view to pushing the matter further in some other way, but as it can hardly be supposed that he would seek to settle it by a street fight, and especially as Lamar is greatly his inferior in physique, these rumors are to be entitled to little credence. -Oregonian.

Is it possible that the absent mindedness of the Standard Sance man is owing to the weary task imposed on him of trying to probe the "jokes" of our contempories? Care killed a cat; but some of the trash we read is enough to kill a mountain lion.

THE Oregon papers have been pow-wowing a mighty sight over the bloody shirt ravings of two reverend (?) blatherskites whom they call Cruzan and Acton. With all due respect to everybody concerned in the matter, the spirit moves us to inquire who in the devil is Cruzan and Acton anyhow.

"JUSTICE'S JUSTICE."—At the examina-tion of Miller and Trask, at Silver City, for killing E. A. Brown, Miller who swore from last that he did the killing, was discharged, while Trask, who pleaded "not guilty" every time, was held under bonds of $5000 to appear at the next term of court.

It is reported that it is the intention of Jay Gould to start a republican newspaper in Portland on a mammoth scale. He owns the New York Tribune, and wishes to have another at the western terminus on a similar means, and should be conclude to found a paper in Portland, the people of the entire Union may expect to be furnished one setting forth the advantages and resources of the North Pacific as they should be.

RINEHART.—It is very amusing to watch the plans of this model Indian agent. His premium of $5 00 per head for every Indian he would coax to go on the Malheur reserva-tion. He failed most lamentably. Since then we are informed he has been in California, and persuaded a lot of the degraded from the mountains to go with him under his charge, and the question now arises. Who has charge of W. V. Rinehart?

LABOR IN VAIN .- We are going to give up our attempts at "wit." Every time we do happen to strike anything funny and print it, the credit of it is sure to be given to one of the other papers in this city. It is cer-tainly very hard after working eighteen hours a day and lying awake the other six trying to get off something original to find it credited by the blarsted rascal and confounded scoundrel who mixes up the Standard Sauce to another paper, but this has happened every time. We warn the man who does every time. We warn the man who does this for the last time. You need not print this as a joke either.

The sooner this class of newspaper bummers see that newspaper proprietors are not afraid of them, the better it will be for all hands. PROCTOR KNOTT ON HAYES.—The Report of Proctor Knott of Kentucky upon the veto of message of Hayes, concerning the use of troops at the polls, is an able paper. It its the lunguage of the message and then shows wherein it is in conflict with the constitution. It arraigns the fraud of the white house, and in the party in the state, and the party is strong enough to carry the state.

Reports from Ohio are of the most encouraging character. The admirable candidates of the democratic party give an interest to the campaign which was not expected. It is not doubted that the ticset is stronger than the party in the state, and the party is strong enough to carry the state.

Beyond any doubt the Warner coinage well-in the party in the state. arraigns the fraud of the white house, and in bill goes over to the December session. The masterly manner proves upon him the dispo-sition to trample down the reserved rights of a determined effort of the friends of the bill the states and to subvert the civil authority the states and to subvert the civil authority the domination of the army at the will of the executive. Mr. Knott convicts Hayes of duplicity and the boldest sophistry, in every respect. As a campaigning document his report will doubtless be of much value. A cannot prevail with Hayes, because he is in the hands of the "stalwarts" of his party; but it can hardly fail to have weight with many honest radicals, who are not prepared to support the doctrine that the military power shall override the civil authority.

The Young Prince.—In another column we publish the sad news of the death of the young Prince Imperial of France, who was kided by the Zulus in South Africa.—It will be remembered that but a short thing since he left the land of his exile, and went forth like a knight of the olden time to tight the enemies of the country who had sended his enemies of the country who had succored his family in their hour of distress. His death will end the greatest romance of modern history, and is the death blow to Imperialism in France, for Napoleon and his sons are the only living representatives of Imperialism, and are decidedly unpopular in their native country. His mother the ex-Empress Excountry. His mother, the ex-Empress Eugenic, will receive the sympathy of the whole civilized world in this, her hour of affliction. But a few short years ago she was in the height of power, her wildest dreams of ambi-tion were satisfied and she was empress of one of the most powerful and prosperous one of the most powerful and prosperous countries on the earth. The Franco-German war ending with Sedan demolished the finest structure ever built by an adventurer. With her husband and son she went into exile in England, then her husband died and her son was all she had left to her; he left against her wishes and now her last prop is gone and she is left with only friends to comfort her. Truly she has found glory and ambition to be Dead Sea fruit, and is to be pitied more than any other living woman.

that is no reason why it should not have oc-cured. The main reason for its not coming to his knowledge arises from the fact that he was going to Boise as a member of the legislative council, and on that account it was considered necessary that nothing should be said to him on the subject. Mr. Willey asks us to tell the names of the participants in the action. This we could do very easily, but we do not deem it advised. but we do not deem it advisable for the reason that it might cause trouble and bother to men who are our old friends. It is possible that it might be taken up by some annoying philanthropist and occasion expense to country. As the men did but avenge the country. As the men did but avenge the cold blooded murder of their friends and relatives, we are among the last, who would get them into trouble; it is as likely as not we shall be in the same position some day as we certainly should have been in that affair had we been near the spot. As the thing is done and over it may be as well to let the matter rest. The murdered men are avenged and that is all that is necessary.

WADE HAMPTON made a fair point on Mr. Blaine when he said in reply to the complaint that there were too many confederate brigatiers in the present congress, that he regrete that there were not more Union sediers in the two houses, because he had realized that there were how houses, because he had realized that the men who had fought each other in battle had very little difficulty in understanding each other when the war was over, Progress.

The Herd or no Fence Law. In several of the eastern counties in this territory the question of a herd or no fence law is being agitated and the advantages and disadvantages discussed. We have given the subject considerable thought and have come to the conclusion that a law requiring no fences to be built would work detrimen tal to the interests of our county in particu-lar. Walla Walla county has many thouslar. Walla Walla county has many thousands of acres of land within its limits which are not arable, but fit only for grazing purposes, upon which thousands of cattle feed and grow fat, and most of said land is public domain, too poor to be worth $2.50 or even $1.25 per acre. Upon examination of the assessment roll we find that our people are assessed upon 6,362 head of horses, 205 mules, 12,117 cattle, 26,066 sheep and 4,964 hogs, representing a value of over $500,000. From the above it will be seen that stock raising in this valley figures as prominently as the raising of cereals. Our horses and cattle are the admiration of the world. Now with a herd or no fence law in force, which with a herd or no fence law in force, which law would be local in its application, it will most certainly drive this remunerative and valuable industry out of our county and inure to the benefit of the county or counties having no such law in force, because stock is taxed in the county where found. Again such a law would depreciate every farm to the value of its fences, which are estimated to cost about $400 per mile. And even with this no fence law in force we believe that every farmer would from necessities arising his own operations be compelled to keep up the fences on his place, or have them built if there are none. Such a law may be necessary in Europe, where people own only a few acres of land, and these located not in one piece but in many small patches. To apply such a law in a country like ours is certainly erroacous. Iowa and Kansas have tried the experiment of a no fence law. In the former state it has caused many quarrels and broils, work-ing disadvantageously, and efforts are now being made to repeal it; the latter state, by reason of its destrution of timber, of climate and tornadoes, was compelled to pass this sort of a law as no fence of any kind would resist the cyclones. With these views we submit the question to the different granges in our county for an expression upon the

A esterialy, against furious efforts of the republicans, the "judical expenses" bill was passed by the house. The army bills will pass to-day or to-morrow. It is believed Mr. Hayes will approve the legislative bill, and veto the others. Any republican intention to allow the army bill or the "judicial expenses" bill to go through without debate has evidently been aban-doned. In case of either approval or veto of any or all of these measures it is probable congress will adjourn without further at-tempts to present such bills as will please Mr. Hayes. There is no good ground of objection to any of the bills, and every democrat in the house and senate is satisfied with

If we can't elect a republican president without lying about the South and without dragging from its sepulchre the skeleton of the civil war, without exciting sectional jealousies and stirring the angry passions of another internetine strife, we had better suffer defeat. This journal intends to support a republican candidate for president. We hope to take an active part in an honorable campairn. We shall be glad to discuss national questions in an honorable way; but we give notice now, early in the contest, before our battle-blood is warmed by the excitement of the strife, that we hope our party headquarters as Washington will send us no stink-pots, for we will not help to explode them. Mr. Willey infers that a regular "joshing" process has been gone through with, and that we are one of the victims. But because Mr. Willey travelled through the country where the slaughter took place, and did not get to hear of it, that is no reason why it should not have occurred. Br HAPPY. - All doubts as to the complete access of the fire works on the night of the th, may at once be laid aside. Wm. Bender his received a letter from the Fortiand firm in which they have agreed to send up a man at their own expense to attend to them. Pools.—The privilege of selling pools for the nces of the 3rd, 4th and 5th of July was sold during the week at anction to the highest bidder, Ed Williams, of the Gem saloon, being the purchaser. During the race week pools will be sold at his place. Pools will also be paid off A GAY SIGHT.-It was a gay and gallant ght that pleased the eyes of our citizens on Monday last as the fire companies marched through the different streets in their new and fancy costumes headed by the Walla Walla land. They were merely practicing for the grant turn out on the 4th. -THE RACES. The races will commence at the Driving Park on Thursday next at 1 o'clock, and continue for three days. The horses are doing their work well; the track is in fine condoing their work wen't the tracks is in the con-grison, and we look to see the largest gathering on any race course in this country. Mr. Tom Tollins has spared no means or pains to make these races the grandest that have ever been trotted or run in this upper country. ROYAL ANN'S. - The finest cluster of cherries ever raised—and they must be seen to be befiered were on exhibition in Charley Davis' how window during the week. A branch nearly a foot long was covered so thickly that the wonder is how they ever found room to row. They were raised by Mike Ward. No wonder Mike puts a man on guard around his place, with such fruit a thief could steal a bushel in less than no time.

KIND WORDS WILL NEVER DIE .- We are in receipt of a cheering and kind letter from our ad time friend, the Hon. Phil. Cleary, of Idaho county. Phil. seems to be the same good fellow as of yore, and has planted his stakes at John Day's creek, and we hope is enjoying his well earned reward for his hard work and perseverance in old times. He predicts a bright future for the country up there since the Indians have left,

THE NEW MILITARY POST. - Contrary to all expectation the new military four company post will not be erected at Lake Chelan, but distance. near the mouth of the Okanagan river, this side of the Columbia near Dancing Bill's ferry. The country is admirably situated for a post; ds IT IN THE Are. This is tenly a most wonderful year for a young country like ours. Never before was there so much land under ord navy good-crop but they are growing from in pairs. We have before us a ciuster of cher-ries which are all double. This is not all, we lear of other doublings on the topis. Several of Walla Walla's best young men and fairest madens are also contemplating making a pair. If this thing keeps on our future president of the United States will yet hall from Washington territory. And why not?

THE INDIAN SCOUTS .- These scouts recently enlisted at the Umatilla agency by Lieutenant Ferrow, are getting along first rate in military tactics, and are in perfect trim. They take to soldiering very naturall, and have already learned the different commands in English. They execute movements with an accuracy and precision seldom surpassed by regular soldies. They practice daily, and the score of the majority of them is splendid, and Lieut. Farrow intends making them hit a man at 1900 yards before he gets through with them. It is very possible they will soon be sent into the fields, as they are very anxious to make a CHANGE IN THE PROGRAMME. - Owing to the absence of Gen. Forsythe in the field there was no chance until his return to the Fort to extend him an invitation to participate in the procession on the 4th. On Tuesday last an invitation was extended and very courteously acritation was extended and very courteously accepted by the General. This was the only thing required to make the affair a grand success. The three companies, headed by the splendid military band, will march at the head of the procession. They will then return to the Fort, when at noon a grand national salute will be fired, one for every state in the Union. Altogether a grand jubilee will be held here on Friday next. Come one, come all.

THE GREAT HARVEST. - A sufficient evidence of the forthcoming immense harvest in the Walla Walla valley is displayed in the show of agricultural implements by Paine Bros. They are supplied with the best and latest improved facilities for harvesting and thrashing that can be brought from the East. The celebrated Bain wagons, champion mowers, gapers, Haines single gear header, tiger self-discharging sulky hav rake, Buffalo Pitts' thrasher, and a hundred other labor saving implements are to be found in their vard. The Mansfield portable and stationery steam engines are becoming very popular and some have already been delivered to our large farmers and others are on the way. Farmers call on Paine Bros. and inspect their stock.

A $J_{\rm ONAH.}$ — In the course of his perigrinations around the country looking after his various interests in the stage lines, Uncle Jake Miller arrived in Lewiston. Without exactly placing all the blame upon him, although it looks suspicious, we relate what occurred directly after his arrival. In the first place all the squaws were found to be pretty well filled up with John Silout's ferry boat. Then Bitner broke his leg and nearly lost his life. To wind up to consequence of the ill starred visit, a fire broke out and but for the timely interposition of d. p. would have destroyed a great part of the town. As it is the Lewistoners congratulate themselves that Uncle Jake left the next day.

FROM THE FIELD. -Gen. Forsythe with his command returned from Moses country last morning. Every officer and man looked a hundred times better than when they left us. The object for which they went has been very successfully consummated. Moses perfectly satisfied, and has inspired great respect among all who came in contact with him. We hear grand accounts of the magnificant country Moses has given up. We are tabled of the Grand Cooly, a fine level tract of valley land, sixty miles long and as level as as be found, surrounded with a natural fence, lots of timber, water and grass, very little or no mow falls there and is at present without allers. The troops had a fine time and enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

Mr. Paul d'Hiery is now local editor of the East Oregonian. He is a rapid and brilliant writer, and we predict great honors yet in store for him.

Mr. C. P. Hopkins, of the Palouse Gazette, called at our office but we were unfortunately absent. He is making a good paper of the Gazette and has a large field all to himself. Mr. Corliss, chief of transportation, returned with Gen. Forsythe's command on Sunday last.
As usual he brought all his animals home in better condition than when they started. He is just the man for the place.

Mr. J. G. Mitchell, one of the solid men of the county, was in town during the week. He has 400 acres of some of the best land in the Walla Walla Valley well fenced and is mightily opposed to the "no fence" proposition. Mr. R. M. Thompson, of Ellensburg, came through with Gen. Forsythe from Moses coun-try. He was the suide throughout the trip and

THE WALLA WALLA DERBY. - Before our next issue this great race will have been run. We want every one to turn out and enjoy the greatest treat ever promised for the people. The following are the names of the horses who are to run in the great race, also their owners and the colors of the riders: Ayers & Tennant c. f. "Floga A.," colors, brown and purple; Avers & Tennant, b. f. "Edith H.," colors green and red; Hodgis & Barnes, bllk f.
"Tidal Wave," colors, black and white; Hodgis & Barnes, ch. s. "Winters," colors, black and white; J. N. Crabb, ch. f. "Trade Dollar," colors, red and green; U. Jarred, g. f.
"Jewel," colors, true blue.

T. H. BRENTS.-We received a letter during the week from the Hon. Tom Brents at Washington. He advises us that he is doing all he can for the benefit of our citizens irrespective of party or politics. We did not need his own assurance of that fact, for we are continually being asked by prominent citizens to give him word of praise for the anxiety he has shown to prove himself useful. Some of our citizens say that his aptitude for work actually saves them the expense of an agent at Washington to do the business Mr Brents considers it his duty to perform for them.

Goop Book .- "On the Verge: A Romance of the Centennial," is the title of one of the most interesting books we have read for a long time. It is well and vigorously written, replete with interest and full of exquisite word painting of scenery. The characters are fresh and drawn by a master hand. The book is most elegantly gotten up and is fit for any drawing room table. Published by Bancroft & Co., San Francisco.

THE WALLULA STEAM FERRY.-The steam ferry at Wallula, is progressing. They are mence operations. This will be important to the country, for the only road that is open all the year round to the fast increasing Yakima settlement, is from the other side of the Columbia to the mouth of the Yakima. From thence up the river, is a natural wagon road all the distance.

THE YAKIMA COUNTRY .- It is a source of great satisfaction to us to announce that emi. grass and timber is very pleatiful and the eli-mate is very healthy. Gen. Howard choose at an unprecedented rate. There is room for space and times as very plentiful and the climate is very healthy. Gen. Howard choose this place in preference to all others on account of its stration. It will be in close proximity to the Indians and can be built and kept up at a much less expense than one at Lako Cholan. It is the Indians and can be built and kept up at a wery important place. The land, climate, and people are among the best on the earth.

THANKS.—It is almost impossible to obtain well flavored hams in this city. Therefore the present of one, sugar cured, by Hon. Dan Storms, was doubly acceptable. It is put away for the 4th, when we shall give our friends a grand treat.

THE BALL. - Don't forget that Tiger Engine ompany, No. 2, give a grand bali on next Friday evening, July 4th. This ball promises to be the grandest that has ever been given in Walla Walla, and we hope everytody will go and have a good time.

ATTENTION GUARDS. - All the members of the company that wish to shoot on the 4th for the medals, are requested to assemble at their armory at 64 o'clock A. M., sharp, as the company wishes to get through in time to take their place in the procession.

THERE is a man in Walla Walla who is perfectly happy for the first time since his mar-riage. His wife put her tongue to a flat iron, to see if it was hot enough, and it was.

rom two of the finest Stallions on the Pacific These horses were brought from Cali fornia last year, and are widely known among leading horsemen as animals of superior quali-ties in every particular.

ties in every particular.

SAN FRANCISCO PATCHEN is a beautiful dapple bay; stands sixteen hands high, and for bones and muscle we doubt whether he can be excelled by any horse in America. He was sired by Geo. M. Patchen, Jr.; he by the celebrated trotting stallion Geo. M. Patchen; dam by Top Bellfounder, a well-known mare for speed and docility; g. d. by Messenger Eclipse; he by Messenger; g. g. dam by Old Eclipse. This horse comes of the best stock in the world, and is a worthy representative of his ancestry. His owner may be justiy proud of so noble an animal. San Francisco Patchen is ten years old, and is therefore just in his prime.

GEN. R. E. LEE is a chestnut sorrel; four years old; stands fifteen hands two inches; and is a marvel of horse flesh. For style and action he cannot be excelled by any cold of his age. The owner refused twenty-five hundred dollars for this colt when he was in his three-year form. Gen. Lee was sired by San Francisco Patchen; dam by the thoroughbred mare Fleita; she by Belmont, dam by Lady Charmer; she by Leviathan and Eclipse. No mare ranks higher in this country than Lady Charmer.

The need of thoroughbred stock has been long felt in Walla Walla, and it is fortunate for those who desire to breed fine animals, that they now have the best blood in America to breed from.

These horses are parmanently located at the Walla Walla Priving Park, where they will both make the season. They can be seen every Saturday at Mr. Tom Tierney's livery stable, where horsemen are invited to call. Those who are breeding horses will be well to examine these horses and their coits. Patchen has proved himself a sure foal getter in this place. Some of his colts can be seen next month. Will commence their season on April 1st. GEN. R. E. LEE is a chestnut sorrel; four

Let As it has been reported by enemies of these horses that they are going to leave Walla Walla at the close of the season, the owner wishes to contradict that statement, as it is his intention to make this the permanent home of Patchen and Lee.

PLANTING TREES.—About twelve years ago a gentleman engaged in business in New York city purchased a farm in the interior of that state, and set about improving it in accordance with his own tastes and notions. The farmers about him at first laughed in their sleeves at his attempts at "book farming," and predicted certain failure as the result of his experiments. Being an admirer of the beautiful, his first move was to surround his place with shade trees, and to give orders for their careful attention and rulture. He next employed the columns of culture. He next employed the columns of the local paper to prove to his neighbors the advantages of trees, not only for shade the advantages of trees, not only for shade and shelter, but also as a means of protection against storms. A circular was printed and distributed, setting forth the matter more fully, and giving directions as to what varieties to plant, and how to care for them after being set. Meetings were called, and the subject discussed, until at last the neighborhood caught the spirit of progress, and a tree-planting mania set in. The highways were adorned for miles, and yards heretofore bare of shade were now adorned with a bountiful supply. And the good influence of that man's example spread, until the leading roads in the whole town were converted into avenues of shade, and an unattractive into avenues of shade, and an unattractive village transformed at length into one of the most lovely towns in central New York. A short time since the place was visited by a gentleman from this city—a son of the party who first led the way in tree-planting—and it was with difficulty that he recognized the spot. The old farm, and the neighbors' farms, and the village streets were advanced spot. The old farm, and the neighbors farms, and the village streets were adorned with graceful elms and maples from twenty to thirty feet in height. Strangers had heard of the place, and attracted by its beauty had chosen it for their home, and fine residences now graced the shady avenues. The old farm, which his father had nurchased for $11 000 has been since resold. purchased for $11,000, has been since re-sold for $20,000, and a like advance in property had taken place throughout the town. Now this gentleman "builded better than he knew." We doubt whether with all his farsightedness, he ever expected such results as have followed from his efforts.

THE CARE OF CHILDREN'S HAIR.—How often the soft, flossy hair of children is seen crimped, pinched and curled, and nothing is so injurious to the ultimate health of the hair as this sort of treat-ment. Wee creatures of three or four years and even younger, are arrayed in curl papers by affectionate and admiring mothers who are bent upon making the mothers who are bent upon making the children charming, and who do not stop to consider how far they may be defeating their own ends by the actions, or how much pain they may be inflicting on the objects of their fond solicitude. An authority on that subject says, "Up to the age of six or seven children retain what is called their baby hair," which is injured, not improved by cutting. In its what is cared their oady nair, which is injured, not improved by cutting. In its soft and delicate silkiness, it is like the first plumage of a young bird, and is quite different from the harsher hair which succeeds it. If the hair curls naturally it looks charming dressed in that fashion but putting it into papers is sure to injure it and pull it out by the roots. The use of curling irons is still more objectionable; anything which tangles and cuts the hair is bad in the extreme, and it is to be regretted that mothers draw so wily upon the capital of their children's hair, instead of using the yearly increasing interest of its beauty and One disastrous result arising from the prevalent custom of allowing the hair to flow unconfined down the shoulders has been in some cases disease of the spine or other ill of a kindred nature. This has been attributed to the heat of the hair, when it is thick, and as the hair is a non-conductor the constant warmth of it about the neck and shoulders becomes a weakening agency that betrays itself in some miserable form. The scalp of the head should always be kept clean. The bair should The hair should not be brought in contact with very sharp comb teeth; it should be carefully and well brushed and loosely coiled in one of the becoming fashions that abound at present, without being injurious to the growth or beauty of the bair, or detrimental to the physical struc-ture in any way.—St. Louis Times-Jour-

Last week, one of his little children playing with it dropped it, breaking the case, and there fluttered to the floor a hundred dollar greenback of the issue of 1862.

FARM WAGONS.

The Bain Wagon is so well known to the farmers and freighters of this coast that it seems needless for us to say anything in its praise. We have sold them for the past thirteen years, and warranted every one sold, and the total claims for defective material or workmanship during that time have not amounted to one cent on each wagon sold. This fact speaks louder than anything we can say in their praise. The

PATENT "SKEIN TIGHTENER"

On the Bain Wagon is a very valuable improvement, and is on no other wagon. For the coming season all farm wagons will have the new PATENT OIL TUBES with brass screw caps, which avoid the necessity of taking off the wheels to oil the axlessan arrangement which teamsters will fully appreciate. We feel safe in asserting that there is no other wagon in the market that will compare with the Bain as now made;

Bayliss' Patent Wheel Harrow.

And the best in use for preparing land for seeding. Good as a plow to prepare summer follow ground for wheat. Covers seed nearly equal to a Drill. A small boy can operate it and do twice the work of a Drag-harrow, with less labor. The Gangs are flexible to conform to a rough surface, and will fill a dead furrow so that it can not be found. The twelve Discs act as so many little plows, turning the dirt over and making the soil inclose to the depth of six inches. It will pulverize shallow or there is no other wagon in the market that will compare with the Bain as now inade; in QUALITY of MATERIAL USED and in completeness and excellency of workmanship. Our wagons are made to order, especially for our trade, and we pay extra to have all the timber "EXTRA SELECTED" out of thoroughly seasoned stock. All the wheels are put through—soaked in—boiling linseed oil before setting of tires, making shrinkage impossible. Mr. Bain does this in a more thorough manner than some others, who simply make a pretence of doing it, and make the application, if at all, only in "homocopathic doses." The wood work, tires and ironing are extra heavy, but at the same time everything is well proportioned.
