

Weekly Statesman. Published Every Saturday. Wm. H. Newell, OFFICE STATESMAN BUILDING, THIRD STREET, NEAR MAIN.

Walla Walla Statesman.

VOL XIV.—NO. 38. WALLA WALLA, W. T., SATURDAY, AUGUST 28, 1875. $4 00 PER YEAR.

Weekly Statesman. SATURDAY MORNING. Has the Largest Circulation, and, with one exception, is THE OLDEST PAPER IN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

DUSENBERY BROS. GREAT EXCITEMENT! 1875. GREATER COMPETITION! 1875. Are now on hand with a new and enormous Stock of SPRING & SUMMER GOODS! Dry Goods and Fancy Goods! Ladies' Misses' & Children's Summer Hats. Dress Silks and White Goods!

General Business Cards. THOMAS QUINN, Saddles, Bridles, Harness, &c. EAGLE BREWERY, LAGER BEER. DR. J. FANDERVOORT, HOMEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN. EDWARD SHELL, M. D., Practice of His Profession. GEORGE SAVAGE, Watchmaker and Jeweler. O. S. SAVAGE, Practical Painter. MERCHANT TAILOR, F. VETTER.

THE GIVER AND THE TAKER. [The following is an attempt to verify a literal translation of a poem by the Hindu writer, Tinnavaia, who lived, it is supposed, in the third century of our era. He was remarkable for his hatred of idleness and ease, and for his almost Christian conception of God and human duty.]

HOW ONE MAN DEFIED A MOB.—Some newspaper has lately unearthed a story of mob law in Henry county, Kentucky, in 1830, a story which will bear condensation, and which should go down to posterity, describing an example to be immortalized.

JOHN B. LEWIS, Successor to Lewis & Jackson, Bookseller, Stationer, and NEWS AGENT, MAIN STREET, POSTOFFICE BUILDING, Walla Walla.

ATTENTION! Stockraisers & Owners of Horses! Having PERMANENTLY LOCATED HERE, after my services as a BREEDER and FARRIER.

CITY BREWERY. JOHN H. STAHL, Proprietor, Dealer in Wines and Liquors, Bock and Lager Beer.

CHEAP AMUNITION AT THE SAN FRANCISCO Clear, Tobacco and Notion Store. (Next door to Dusenbery Bros.)

JAY GOULD. The Mystery of Wall Street. Those who remember the career of the celebrated Barnum will recall the marvellous efficacy of his schemes for "interesting the public," and, at the same time, building up his own personal fortunes.

THE OLD "TRIBUNE" CLOCK. How it made Orange Judd Rich—An Experience in Advertising, told by a Very Successful Advertiser. EDITOR N. Y. TRIBUNE.—Sir: The account in Saturday's Tribune of its new clock, with the appearance of a false story that just now met my eye for the hundredth or thousandth time, leads me to send you a true account of an incident in my business experience, of great interest to me, and probably usefully suggestive to others.

THE HEARSE. Is one of the finest sites in San Francisco, which is tendered to the public free of charge.

FOR THE BOYS.—A contemplative philosopher, whose heart is near the right place, says: "Boys, did you ever think that this world, with all its wealth and woe, with all its mines and mountains, oceans, seas and rivers, with all its shipping, its steamboats, railroads and magnetic telegraphs, with all its millions of grouping men, and all the science and progress of ages—will soon be given over to boys of the present age—boys like you? Believe it, and look abroad upon your inheritance."

PROVOKING.—Yes, we know it is provoking to have the old man come into the parlor at midnight and take your seat by the neck and suspenders, and carry him out and drop him on the walk.

A Startling Exhibit. The Cincinnati Commercial, by a tabulation of figures from official sources, shows that the debt of New York city, with its one million of population, is greater than that of twenty-one of the principal cities of Great Britain, having an aggregate population of six millions.

ORANGE JUDD. [In a private note accompanying the above, Mr. Judd mentions that he has since spent verifying, and estimates the amount spent in the Tribune alone at much above fifty thousand. He has the results to show for it.]

HOW HIGH CAN A CAT JUMP.—That birds, however apparently safely hung in cages, are unsafe from the skill and cunning of the cat, may be gathered from many instances of the extraordinary leaps they are capable of making to attain their prey.

HOW MANY LEGS HAS A SHEP?—When the Earl of Bradford was brought before Lord Chancellor Longhorough, to be examined upon application for a statute of lunacy against him, the Chancellor asked him, "How many legs has a sheep?"

IF YOU THINK OF OFFERING YOUR HAND TO A lady and fear she won't accept it, as good a time as any is when she is getting out of a wagon.

Table with 3 columns: City, Population, 1870, Debt. Lists cities like New York, Philadelphia, Boston, etc., with their respective populations and debts.

COURTING UNDER DIFFICULTIES.—The victim of the joke we are about to relate is well known to most of our readers. He is near-sighted, and cannot see a haystack a yard off, which infirmity is the source of many of his mishaps.

A BAD FAILURE.—The creditors of the publishing house of J. B. Ford & Co., are advised by a committee of their number to accept thirty per cent., in twelve monthly installments, commencing in December next.

THOSE four Baltimore babies are all dead, and their mother wipes her weeping eyes and sorrowfully exclaims: "Tain't likely I'll be mother to another such crowd!"

