

TO ADVERTISERS.—The Walls Statesman has a much larger circulation than any other paper published in the Territory of Washington, and hence offers superior inducements to advertisers who would reach the very best class of paying customers.

Triumph of the Sioux.

The Indian campaign has virtually ended, and the United States, as usual, have had the worst of it. Ever since the war in the West began the red men have baffled our government, which they have learned to hate, despise and use.

Now the forces of the United States are about to go into winter quarters. Our information is conclusively to the point that the campaign is over. Crook will return home after a scout which will find nothing, and Terry will retire.

The army does not deserve the blame of this failure. It has always done its best in Indian wars, but it has always been held back and neutralized by the blunders of the government.

TURKEY may gain another respite if the present negotiations for peace are successful. Any war of this kind must be disastrous to Turkish power, and the ports will be as glad to make peace as Serbia can be.

THE LONDON TIMES has some sensible remarks upon our Presidential question and the electoral system by which a small majority in a State gives the whole electoral vote to one ticket, and annuls the voice of the minority.

GRASSHOPPERS IN POLITICS.—The republican State convention of Colorado has adopted a resolution calling upon the government to take action against the grasshoppers.

THE BECHER CASE.—Mr. Becher's counsel declares that an impartial jury cannot be had in Kings county, and that they will apply to the supreme court for a change of venue to some other county in the suit of Mr. Frank Moulton.

RUSSIA DECLARES WAR.—The telegraph has a report (not confirmed) that Russia has declared war. On the strength of this report breadstuffs had advanced, and the grain market was lively.

THE COAL COMBINATION.—The companies which entered into a combination to advance the price of coal have paid dearly for their experience. Shares in three or four best known companies had fallen some days before the sale from $50 to $30.

JUDGE JACOBS.—The following card in the Seattle Intelligencer, the editor of which is a republican, and who endorses the author as "one of the staunchest republicans in King county," shows how Judge Jacobs is regarded in his own home:

EDITOR INTELLIGENCER.—In the Daily Tribune of the 11th inst., in speaking of the call for the Territorial Republican Convention, to be held at Kalama the 20th of September next, it was intimated that "our present delegate might be expected to tender an account, do, and enter the list for re-election."

European Wheat Market. Liverpool, September 4, 1876. A large proportion of the crops have been secured in satisfactory condition. In one of the principal countries the deficit is not so great, and the present wet weather continues, the condition and quality will be deteriorated.

AN IMPORTANT SUIT.—A very important suit was argued at Seattle on the recent term of court on a demurrer. In 1862 one Jason Mulberry died intestate; letters of administration were granted to Frank Clark on his estate.

IN GOOD CREDIT.—The credit of the general government at this time is exceedingly good, for we notice that the new issue of United States bonds—four and a half per cent.—are held in London at three and a half per cent. premium.

INDIANA.—The canvass in Indiana is progressing favorably for the democrats, who are now confident of carrying the State for Tilden and reform.

AN IMPORTANT ACCESSION.

Dr. Isaac M. Wise is the editor of the American Israelite, and as a writer and speaker exercises great influence with his brethren of the Hebrew faith. Heretofore he has been a staunch republican, but the corruptions of that party have disgusted him, and in a late issue of his paper he occupies some six columns in giving the reasons for his change and adducing arguments in favor of Tilden and reform. He says:

CENTRALIZATION OF POWER. Ever since the outbreak of the civil war the centralization of power, under the President of the United States, with his immediate supporters, has been the avowed policy of the ruling party, who wanted a strong government.

It must always be borne in mind, that demoralization is epidemic, and when it comes from above it presses with crushing weight below. Every demoralizing act is the progenitor of another. Like a rolling snowball it grows a rolling, and like a falling stone, its destructive effect below is in proportion to the height of its fall.

EXTRAVAGANT EXPENDITURES. Again, to sustain and extend this centralized power, over four hundred millions of dollars during the past ten years were taken from the public treasury to pay salaries to surplus officers, clerks, holders of sinecures, and voters when they were needed in the form of laborers or appointees in various departments of the government or under government patronage.

INCOMPETENCY. Incompetency is the very worst sin of a ruler and a governing party. Incompetency is a charge sufficiently incriminating to overthrow any European ministry and to force any monarch to abdication.

HIGH TARIFF. In order to raise these immense sums of money, to pay interest on the national debt, and support the costliest and most extravagant government in the world, direct taxation, would have driven this people to rebellion or revolution at last.

THOMAS QUINN. SADDLES, BRIDLES, HARNESS, &c. HAS REMOVED TO THE BRICK BUILDING, corner of Main and Third streets, where he will at all times have on hand a very full stock of thinking men know. Governments must be sustained by direct taxes or go to bankruptcy. High tariffs enrich a few and are productive of that proletariat, which is dreaded so much in France and Germany, England and Austria.

SYSTEM OF ESPIONAGE. Again, in consequence of these unjust taxation, violations of the revenue laws must have necessarily become epidemic. Immorality begets immorality, therefore a system of espionage was introduced which outdoed Prentice Metterlich and his Spitzel system, so abominable to Austrians.

party of men, however wise, ingenious and influential, or any party however powerful, starting from the basis of centralization of power in any democratic country, must fail in its measures, because democracy and centralization of power are antagonistic principles—a house divided against itself.

DECLINES.—The New York democratic convention nominated Seymour for governor and Dorseimer for lieutenant governor. Seymour declines.
