A Good Idea.—A correspondent of the New Haven Register suggests that "as the war is now over, and there is no further necessity for the war-clergy to arouse the fighting qualities of their congregations, they now go back to the serene on the Mount, and see if public sentiment cannot be brought back to something like old-fashioned honesty. Wickedness is still in this land, and the worst passions of men have been suffered to run to seed, during the war. There was never before such a lexicon of morals to this country as there is to-day—so little regard for honesty among men or virtue among women. There is no disguising this fact; it is palpable to every eye; and the state of the country calls upon all good citizens to exert themselves for a reform. The war clergy are morally responsible for this state of things; let them see what they can do for restoring matters. That the political clergy have done more than all others to produce the state of affairs above described is undeniable; and it is equally apparent that they are both disinclined and unable to undo the work of immorality and wickedness so thoroughly done. They have been false guides, not blind ones, to people, with the leading them in the paths of wickedness. They have done this from the same motives that govern our petty demagogues. As a class they have shown themselves most dishonest and unworthy of public respect than any other; and the day is not far distant when the moral and settled conviction of the mass of honest and intelligent people. Whether they can or will do anything to avert the natural consequences of this fact and conviction, remains to be seen. If so, the sooner they set about it and the more earnestly they labor in the work, the better it will be for themselves and the people.—[New Hampshire Patriot.]

The Boxholders.—The Hunterdon (N. J.) Democrat, in referring to the untaxed holders of the certificates of national indebtedness and national bank stock, says: "they are our Lords and Dukes barring the title. They draw their support from the Government, and the poor class (farmers and mechanics), are taxed to raise the money. These assertions are not political dodges, but plain, unadorned facts. Farmers are taxed and bonds are not. The tax on a farm valued at $15,000 is forty-five dollars, besides a per cent. on products, etc. The tax on $10,000 in bonds is nothing. Can any one help but see that the Republican party, in having full sway in carrying out its principles, have proved a curse and a humbug? And now to cap the climax of their power, they propose to check the white race down with a race of pestiferous negroes and call them brothers. Is it not time for sensible men to turn away in disgust? Is there any wonder the Democratic ball is beginning to roll—that the sober second thought of the people is beginning to be aroused?"

The Peeling at the South. The Petersburg News was suppressed a short time since by the military authorities. The last number contained the following: "For us of the South, the position and the path are plain. We have much to bewail, nothing to be ashamed of in the retrospect of the past four years. Never has a people fought an unequal fight with more illustrious devotion, or a more splendid courage, and the darkness of the final defeat is brightened with many a victory that challenges comparison with the most superb achievements of history or inventions of romance. There is no concession in us to the touch of a man's hand—no man, republican or royal. We claim to be met for any labor, and worthy of any laurel in the achievement of restoration, and stripped and sore-stricken as we are, we are ready for our full part in the common toil. In no spirit of depression do we say, 'let bygones be bygones.' We make no cowardly appeals for mercy at the expense of leaders. We say merely to our fellow-citizens of the North, by the memories of the past as bright as yours, for the hopes of a future as promising as yours, for the sake of a destiny which you have resolved by the law of the sword we shall work out together with you; we conjure you to unite with us, as you promise to unite with us, in burying past differences and healing the wounds of strife. That which the war has accomplished we frankly accept as irrevocable; we cast no lingering look behind. Do not dishonor yourself by the effort to dishonor us, for such a Union would less resemble the holy bonds of wedded life than the foul embrace of harlotry, in which that party is least disgraced who is most degraded. Show that you are worthy of the victory which numbers gave by the magnanimity with which numbers use it, and no effort will be wanting on our part to bridge the cruel gulch which severs us. We have gone out into the fields to finish the started furrows; we through our places of trade to woo the prospering breezes of commerce; we are filling our workshops to wake again the echoes of the anvil and the whir of the wheels. We have seen three thousand millions of dollars swept from us by the stroke of a pen, and indulge no repinings or reproaches at this greatest financial loss that ever befel any people, or the united of the earth in any year. We have seen the vision of independence vanish in an instant from our eye, and have wept no tears over the falling shadow. We have seen—the greatest trial of all—the flower and glory of our homes fall like Autumn leaves in the blast of a fatal and fruitless strife, and yet we ask not the respite of a single day of mourning privacy in our overwhelming grief. Our very desolation is imposing—our calamities are august. The brave will sympathize with them, and magnanimous people will respect them—wise people will not mock them. A people capable of a little history, and fit for freedom, will appreciate the heroism of the resolve we have taken amid all this cruel loss and bitter memory, to labor now, and henceforth, in the interests of peace, reconstruction, Union. Could a fallen foe say less—could he say more? Read it over again and think of the narrow mind of the official that would suppress a paper that could give utterance to such sentiments. But thanks to whatever may be the ruling cause, the day is passing away when every popinjay in the form of a military officer can set the part of 'informant' and, under the protection of his 'little brief authority,' suppress every newspaper that does not coincide with his narrow views.

It has long been believed on the authority of certain historical statements, that the hair continues to grow after death. Thus, it is stated that when the sarcophagus which contained the head of Charles I. was lately opened, the hair was found to have attained a marvelous length.

The La Crosse Democrat says, Henry Barnard, of that city, has shut up his gambling rooms, sold his stock of whisky and accepted the chaplaincy of the 4th Ohio (colored).

It is estimated that there are now at least eighty millions of copies of the Bible in existence, and that the work is still being printed at the rate of one million copies per year.

The population of Boston, which its inhabitants, in their vanity, consider the "Hub of the Universe," in 1820, according to the late census. This is considerably less than the population of some of the Western "spokes," such as Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago, which were in the wilderness for a hundred and fifty years after Boston became a city.

It is said to be satisfactorily demonstrated that every time a wife scolds her husband she adds a wrinkle to her face! Its thoughtful announcement of this fact will have the most salutary effect, especially as it is understood, that every time a wife smiles on her husband it will remove one of the old wrinkles!

It is estimated that there are 800 acres in culture in California, this year. The counties of Colton and Los Angeles are the most favorable in that State for its production.

Do you see anything ridiculous in this wig? said a brother judge of Curran. "Nothing but the head."

The Boston Post says in that State apothecaries are forbidden to sell medicine Saturday evening this is liable to work on Sunday.

A. P. Stone, an Abolition Collector of Internal Revenue of Columbus, Ohio, committed suicide recently. He was a defaulter to the tune of $140,000. It is understood his defaulting operation so pryed upon his conscience that he killed himself to end his troubles.—Exchange.

The idea that a swindling abolitionist would kill himself to ease his conscience, is most absurd; for who ever knew one of that kind to have a conscience. No, the fellow killed himself because he wasn't a big gun—a greater defaulter.

THE MENKEN.—When Adah Isaacs Menken was about to leave Paris for New York, she announced that she was coming again to the Pacific. Her carriages, horses and dogs were advertised for sale by private contract, "the present high rate of transit, and the long voyage, precluding the possibility of shipping so many horses and carriages to California." The stud consists of a thoroughbred Arabian horse, a white mare, a pair of bay geldings, a pair of beautiful white ponies, a bay hunter also a bay horse. She has also two broughams, a trotting buggy and a pony phaeton. Her dogs include a thoroughbred greyhound, a toy terrier, a tan terrier, a French poodle, a Scotch terrier and four black and tan terrier pups.

GOOD ADVICE.—The Sacramento (Cal.) noticing late editorial quarrels and strong talk in the papers of Oregon, Idaho and Colorado, takes occasion to advise all the editorial fraternity to avoid personalities, as calculated to impair the usefulness of the important mission confided to the public press. This is sensible talk; but the worst of it is some editors have only one language—bilinguistic—and only one line of argument—abuse; if you take these from them, they are dumb, they cannot tell their thoughts, not that the world would be any worse off, however, on that account.

HYPOCRISY AND MURDER.—The prodigious hypocrisy of some men who curse the Christian religion in professing its virtues, is shown in the case of Dr. Pritchard, the English wife murderer, who rose from an adulterous bed one morning and wrote this in his diary concerning the wife he had poisoned:—"17, Friday. Died here at 1. a. m. Mary Jane, my own beloved wife, aged 38 years; no torment surrounding her bedside, but like a calm, peaceful lamb of God; passed Minnie away. Prayer on prayer till mine be over, everlasting love. Save us, Lord, for Thy dear Son."

THE Vigilantes in the Stinkingwater and Blackfoot mines continue active hostilities against the "roughs" that infest that country. Every number of the Montana Post that comes to hand records the finding of one or more persons suspended by the neck, and labeled "thief," "pick-pocket," or "road agent," indicating the crime for which the suspended individual has been hanged.

Every resort having failed to induce Kentucky to ratify the late Constitutional Amendment and abolish slavery, the military authorities are now granting passes to all the negroes who apply for them, to leave the State. The fact that this violates one of the laws of that State, lends additional zest to the Abolitionist's enjoyment of this latest outrage on "loyal" Kentucky.

The matchmakers, (not the matrimonial makers) try all sorts of dodges, to evade the internal revenue law. One of them makes matches double length, with the phosphoric mixtures on each end. The customer breaks each of these double-enders in the middle, and he has two matches for one. The tax is one cent on all packages of not more than a hundred. By the double-ender system the dealer pays about half the government tax intended by the law.

NEW STEAMER.—Mr. Dorsey arrived in this city a few days since, to contract for the transportation of the steamer to run from Old's Ferry to Salmon Falls on Snake River. Mr. Dorsey has contracted with Mr. A. H. Robie for the lumber, to be delivered at Old Fort Boise within fifty days. He also secured the services of Mr. S. Peasley of this place, and they left yesterday morning to commence operations.—Idaho Statesman.

Penny trains are now "an institution" in London. They run early and late on the underground railroads. The working man descends into a spacious subterranean depot, well lighted, in a part of London, takes his seat in a third class "carriage," and for two cents, in ten minutes is landed miles away in another part of London, whither by "buses" would have cost twelve cents and an hour's ride. In this way the mechanic in his petty cottage in the country, or in a distant street, is really close by his work; and one great evil in a large city checked in part.

The population of Boston, which its inhabitants, in their vanity, consider the "Hub of the Universe," in 1820, according to the late census. This is considerably less than the population of some of the Western "spokes," such as Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago, which were in the wilderness for a hundred and fifty years after Boston became a city.

Our connection with the STATESMAN as editors and proprietors ceases with the present issue. We have sold the office to Mr. Wm. H. Newell...

Our First Dun. Our readers will bear in mind that we have never dunned them through the columns of our paper...

No PAPER NEXT WEEK.—On account of the change in the proprietorship, and in order that the office may be set in trim for a good beginning under the new proprietorship, there will probably be no paper issued next week.

A GREAT CONSPIRACY DISCOVERED.—AND NO MISTAKE.—Don't start reader, at this terrific caption, it won't hurt you—that is, the conspiracy won't.

Can heart, the Government of the United States—the Government as administered by those who made it. We believe President Johnson will aid the people bringing back the government to its legitimate Constitutional position...

Too Much.—A citizen of this city, with decided Webfoot predilections, rushed into our office on Thursday evening, after the opposition meeting...

CATHOLIC CEREMONIES.—The religious observance, of what is known to Catholics as the "Jubilee" will commence in the Church in this city on Wednesday next, the 1st of November...

Dr. Hogg and family arrived here from the Dalles on Wednesday night. The Doctor will probably spend the winter in this valley.

The Devil's Adieu. PROPRIETORS STATESMAN.—Having been under your superintendence, in the capacity of "Devil," for the past two and a half years, and having received that kindness and respect at your hands which makes one's heart cling to others with tenderness...

BRINGING UP THE REAR.—Fourteen immigrant wagons have arrived in the valley during the past two weeks. The last train comprising seven wagons, and containing five families, arrived in town on Saturday last.

Notice that the different meat and vegetable stands on Main street are well supplied with their respective assortments. We quote meats—beef, 10, 15, 20c. per pound, according to choice...

The best time made over the Walla Walla Course, during the late races, was run by the trim little Stallion, Dasher—making a single mile in 1:02 1/2. This is the best time ever made over this track.

A Proposition to Open the Mullan Road. Mr. R. H. Johns, who is every way responsible, authorizes us to state that if the citizens of Walla Walla, with the assistance of the people of other points interested, will subscribe the sum of ten thousand dollars for opening the Mullan road, he will obligate himself to do the work for that sum, and commence it immediately.

CALEBTONYONFLONDATE is on his way from Washington to Idaho to resume the office of Governor. Meersham Wallace appears to have been laid on the shelf.

HON. E. D. HOLBROOK, Delegate to Congress elect from Idaho, was in town last week, on his way to Washington City. Before his departure from Idaho City, the democrats of that place presented Mr. Holbrook with a magnificent gold watch.

MR. J. ROSENTHAL has disposed of nearly all of the tickets for his grand lottery. If any one desires to secure a prize they must apply soon for a ticket.

FENIAN BROTHERHOOD.—In another column will be noticed a call for a meeting of the Irishmen of Walla Walla county, to be held at the Court House, on Wednesday Nov. 1st, for the purpose of forming a Circle of the Fenian Brotherhood, and to cooperate with their countrymen in Ireland.

Notwithstanding the general glowing accounts of the fabulous richness of the Blackfoot mines, that reach us from week to week from that section, we have heard of one or two instances of men returning with the old song, "mines a humbug," "played out," &c.

Mails.—We notice that the P. M. General has invited proposals for carrying the mails on a number of routes in Idaho and Montana Territories. Among the list is the route from Anthonie Plains, Spokane river, via Coeur d'Alene Mission to Redgate House. Bids to be opened in February, 1866, and to run four years.

FLORA.—We have been using some of I. T. Ross's "Standard" flour, this week, baked into loaves, biscuits, "slap-jacks," and so on; but it was no use—it would make good bread any way it could be cooked up.

CHANGE.—There has been a decided change in the weather during the week. The "cold spell" commenced on Monday—since which the mercury has been as low as 3 degrees below freezing.

We learn that Dr. J. A. Mullan, of this Valley, has contracted with Medical Director Ten Brock at Fort Vancouver, to perform the duties of Physician at "Camp Watson," Oregon.

Laid Over.—The communication of "Dry Creek," on the subject of "annexation," we are compelled to lay over for want of time to get it in type.

Notice to Tax-Payers. The materials for the District School House are now on the ground, and the contract for building the house has been let.

Opposition Meeting. In pursuance of a call signed by many persons, residents of this County, for a meeting in opposition to the proposed annexation of Walla Walla County to the State of Oregon, a large number of the citizens of said County assembled at the Court House in the City of Walla Walla, Thursday, Oct. 26, 1865.

HOURS OF SPINSTERIES.—The La Crosse Democrat discourses in the following "villainous" strain concerning Mr. Mercer's project of distributing Massachusetts' surplus of women through this Territory.

The surplus sweetness of Massachusetts spinsterhood is soon to be wasted on the desert air of Washington Territory, for the relief of territorial bachelors who now darn their buckskin breeches and darn their hours of solitude.

FROM BLACKFOOT.—The following is an extract from a letter from Mr. G. W. Savage of this city, now at Helena, Montana Territory:

"This is a very large mining country; larger than any that has been struck since California. I have yet to meet with a man in this country who does not speak well of it. The worst feature is the class of men who are here. A great deal of the ground is held by immigrants, who hold about ten times as much as they should and will neither work themselves nor sell to those who would work. There have been some large pieces taken out. My partner, A. Williams Clarke, took out one piece weighing over $950,000—the second largest piece that has been taken out of the Blackfoot mines. From all I can learn, the winters here (Helena City, Eastern slope of the mountains,) are about as mild as in Walla Walla. At Blackfoot City, which is only about 35 miles from here, the winters are very severe.

This is a very lively town and contains about twice as many business houses as Walla Walla. There are a great many men who are doing nothing here; but they all seem full of hope, as the mining country extends over one hundred miles, and new strikes are being made all the time.

THE PEOPLE OF WALLA WALLA SHOULD SEE TO IT THAT THEY HAVE THE MULLAN ROAD OPENED, as no goods can be brought in here by way of Fort Benton until July.

THE UPPER COLUMBIA MINES.—Some stir has been created in the community by reports of very rich gold discoveries on the upper Columbia. The most authentic news we have from that section is contained in the following extract from a letter from Mr. Park Winans. The letter bears date, "Colville, W. T. Oct. 16:

"The news from the Upper Columbia is encouraging. One claim on Carnes Creek is paying from $15 to $20 to the hand per day. Nearly all the miners have left there and gone to French Creek, where the miners are doing well. Henry LaFleur writes us that his claim is paying well, he having taken out 103 ounces the five days before writing—over twenty ounces per day. But few claims were opened, but all prospect well. About one hundred claims were staked off and taken up. The miners complain of rain, saying it has rained most of the time all summer. In September it rained almost incessantly, day and night, and weather warm. But few will winter in the mines. Most of the claims are laid over until next June."

FROM CARIBOO.—Mr. J. L. Miller and party arrived here during the past week from the Cariboo country, where they left on the 9th of September. Mr. M. says that there was considerable mining going on on William's, Antler and Cunningham's Creeks. Some claims are paying from 20 to 100 ounces of gold per day; but this is not the rule. There are about one thousand persons in the mines. The supplies for the mines go in from Victoria, by way of Forts Yale and Hope—a good wagon road. During the spring the price paid for freight was 30c. per pound; the figures have come down to 15c. When he left flour was worth 22c; sugar, 45c; coffee, 75c; tea, $1.25 per pound; beans 30c; bacon from 50 to 60c. The price of beef varies; plenty in the market from 10c. to 20c. per pound. Estimated distance from Walla Walla to the mining district in Cariboo, 800 miles.

GOOD FORTUNE.—Mr. R. H. Johns, who fitted out Mr. Jerry Douglas, last summer, to go to the Blackfoot mines, has just received word from Mr. Douglas that he is occupying a claim on Crevice Gulch, at the head of McClellan Gulch; from which he has taken out forty thousand dollars. He sends Mr. Johns two thousand dollars, and writes him that there is $18,000 more, together with an equal interest in the claim, awaiting him on his arrival in the mines. Mr. Johns will start for the mines in a few days, and all acquainted with him will congratulate him upon his rare good fortune. Jerry Douglas must be a model of gratitude and honesty.

THERE have been a number of arrivals from Blackfoot during the week; among the rest, Messrs. E. B. Whitman and Hank Lehman, who left here with their pack trains some two months ago. These parties state that they found no snow on the mountains or in the valleys on the route. They came by the Couer d'Alene route, and state that the only obstruction to travel was the fallen timber in the St. Regis Borgia and Couer d'Alene valleys, and after leaving the Mission to the Spokane river.

PERSONAL.—Mr. A. Nolter, of the (Salem, Og'n) Democratic Review, called upon us this week. Mr. N. reports the Review, with a weekly circulation of nearly four thousand, in a most flourishing condition. The paper will soon be considerably enlarged. Democrats desiring to subscribe for a reliable Democratic paper will do well to send their names, with $3, and get the Review.

THE BLACKFOOT MINES.—There have been no mines discovered since the early days of California that have been so universally applauded as those of the Blackfoot country. Everybody seems to be intending to go there; but before they start, a word of advice to them may not be amiss. Provisions and goods are very scarce and high there. You should provide yourselves with a good supply of the best quality of these articles, not forgetting to buy them where they are sold the cheapest. Call, then, at the store of Brown, Wolf & Co., who are selling off their magnificent stock of Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Miners' Supplies, Groceries, etc., at cost. Ladies and gentlemen, everybody, who desires to purchase an excellent article of goods at the lowest figure that they can be sold at here, go to the above establishment and buy.

CAUTION.—Colds and coughs can be prevented by dressing comfortably, and you can find the preventive in the shape of a large and fashionable stock of Dry Goods and Clothing at the store of Harris & Marks. One of the firm now in San Francisco, is sending up the newest and latest styles of goods by every steamer. Call and get a genuine article.

OWYHEE QUARTZ LEDGES.—Mr. J. J. Ryan, who has just returned from a trip to Owyhee gives us the following list of the width of the prospected quartz lodes in that section:

Table listing quartz ledge widths: Morning Star, 3 feet; Oro Fino, 6; New York, 3; Poor Man's, 1 1/2; War Eagle, 4; Silver Legion, 2; Columbia and Oro Fino, 3 feet; Calaveras, 3 1/2; Empire, 3; Red Jacket, 1 1/2; Trook & Jennings, 1; Minnesota, 4; Whisky Gulch, 4; Alison, 4.

While Mr. R. was at Owyhee, Messrs. Donnelly & Co. sold 100 feet of the Morning Star Ledge (adjoining Moore & Fogus' claim) to Wilson Waddingham, for $20,000. They also sold to the same party 400 feet of the "West Fork of the Oro Fino" for $15,000.

Mr. Ryan has specimens of quartz from all the above-mentioned ledges on exhibition at the Challenge saloon.

WALLA WALLA PEANUTS.—We were presented last week with a lot of peanuts, raised by Mr. Angus McKay, in his garden, adjoining the city. The nuts were rather above the average size and well matured. Mr. M. says the nuts produce about as well here as in any climate where they are raised, and he intends to experiment more extensively next year in raising them. They should be planted, he states, in hills, about five feet apart, and when the vines bloom the blooms should be covered up with earth, as it is these that produce the nuts. The blooming season continues for three or four weeks.

KILLED.—We learn from Mr. J. J. Ryan that Johnny Ewing was shot and killed at Rocky Bar, I. T., on the 14th instant, by Charley Ridgely. It appeared on an investigation of the case that the killing was done in self-defense. The parties got into a quarrel about some money matter, when Ewing made an assault upon Ridgely with a pistol. Both of these men formerly lived in this city.

PAPERS FOR MONTANA.—"It never rains but it pours." The last number of the Lewiston Radiator comes to hand, dressed up in brown paper, with the announcement that the office is to be removed immediately to Helena, Montana Territory. We learn that the material for another office will be shipped to that place early in the spring.

LIVE STOCK.—Mr. Charles Randall left here this morning with a four-horse wagon laden with a cargo of some twenty Chinamen—some with families—for the Boise mines. Mr. R. freighted the Celestials for $30 a head.

REV. FATHER DELAHENY, preceptor of St. Joseph's College, has had completed this week a comfortable school house, adjoining the Catholic Church.

Two or three of the first trains that left here for Blackfoot returned this week. It is the intention of their owners to start them out again as soon as possible with another load.

COLVILLE GRAIN MARKET.—Wheat, 30c; Oats, $1.00 to $1.25; Flour, $10 and $11 per hundred.
