O. R. & N. GO Practical Hints Regarding Torna-

JOHN D. PARKER, U. S. A.

The following hints regarding tornadoes are given in the belief that many people are killed every year that could save their lives by a little practical knowledge of the movements of these destructive storms.

The tornado season is embraced the 1st of April and the 1st of September, but in the latitude of Kansas City most torna does occur in the months of May and June. As we go north or south of this latitude they are proportionally earlier or later, and early or late seasons vary the time of their occurrence correspondingly.

Tornadoes occur in the afternoon, generelly between two o'clock and evening, four o'clock being called the tornad

The approach of a tornado may be known by ominous clouds appearing in the southwest and northwest. The clouds sometimes resemble the smoke of a hay stack, to ther times they appear like iridescent fog. Sometimes they present a deep greenish hue, or are intensely black, or have a purplish, yellowish, or bluish tinge. When these two masses or banks of clouds, under the impulse of op posing currents, approach each other they are thrown into great confusion; there is a roaring, likened to the rumbling of dis tant thunder, and an expulsion of air and vapor. Seen the funnel of the tornade is let down to the carth and moves to the front, while scuds of clouds play around it. The tornado now formed has four characteristic movements; a linear movement toward the northeast: a gyratory movement (north of the equator), contrary to the hands of a watch; a zigzag or ewaying movement, which leaves dentatee edges in the path of the tornado; and a rising and falling movement, the poise of the upper current, by which the tornsdo

If one is familiar with these premonito y signs he is put on his guard, and when the tornade appears, he is prepared to act intelligently and promptly. The real point is that the episode of the Peking indicates the organization of a regular eye tem to circumvent the Exclusion Act Under the definitions set up no coolie can be kept out. When any difficulty is en. countered the resources of Chinese perjury can be called into requisition, and it is well known that they are enormous and equal to any emergency. It would seem as if Chung of Canton had some sort of an inkling that any kind of gauzy story would suffice at this end of the line, when he began to issue at random his certificates to merchants and students. It is would have been admitted. These tribunals have plumbed the depths of Chinese mendacity. that the drams of the Peking cannot very often be repeated. If the decisions of the courts and the rulings of the Federal officials be correct, we must right off have large accessions to the Chinese mercantile and student classes. These accessions, if veritable, will register themselves in the assessor's office, and in our seminaries of learning. It will not do to pack them away in wash-houses, and in back known that females, sclemnly pronounced M. Kenney vs. John O'Donnell; judg- temple of justice to the vile dans awaiting their reception. But the case of the merchants and students is quite differ ent. They will have to give evidence of their presence. If they do not turn up in the tions, the public will have an opportunity its mind has not already been made up as to the true nature of late proceedings,

It will not mend matters in the least to say that the Exclusion Act is loose or defective. No Act of Congress could stand the interpretation placed on the one under consideration. The term "merchant" and "student" were stretched so as practically to mean nothing at all. With the dissolvents brought into requisition no language could be employed that would have the least precision. Students coming to this country to learn English will strike the most unsophisticated as a very large class. We do not know that any individual could be kept out under that definition. But whatever the by-play, the Exclusion Act was torn into shreds. Nothing need here be said of the reckless indifference to the welfare of the state that was manifested throughout. But one would suppose that the flagitious conduct of the venal mandarin at the other end of the line, who is beyond dispute, instead of certifying to the facts which the late treaty with China required, solid permissions to enter the United States without distinction to all who had the money to pay for them, ought, if nothing else was at stake, to have met with a with his report upon the case. WHY WE REDUCE DRESS GOODS

REASONS

The completion of the Northern Pacific Railroad brings New York, from a business point of view, as near as San Francisco.

The Prices in those Cities Differ very Widely

We have made arrangements with eastern importers and manufacturers for the future delivery of Dress Goods and Silks in this city and the difference in prices between New Vork and San Francisco revealed an alarming situation. It has revealed the positive fact that Dress Goods and Silks purchased in San Francisco are too high in price.

OUR REMEDY.

The remedy for all this will be to us a dead loss, but we grasp the situation as it exists. Events once in a while make startling changes, and the channel of trade in this case develops a solid advantage to the public although we lose

WE HAVE MARKED GOODS DOWN TO THE SAME PRICE THE WOULD BE SOLD FOR IF PURCHASED FROM THE MANUFACTURERS.

The public, we believe, are convinced of the fact that our prices have always been the lowest in this Territory, but they can scarcely realize the actual importance of this announcement.

For example we have been selling diagonal suitings for $1 Ou a yard, that were considered at that price the most desirable goods ever offered for sale in this city. NOW THEY ARE ALL MARKED 75 CENTS. All other dress goods and silks are cut down in the same proportion.

WE WANT ONE THING UNDERSTOOD

We have no old goods in stock—nothing faded or shop-wern, or out of siyls.

Our goods are all this reason's goods, fresh and desirable, Of course most merchante would be slow to sell NEW goods at cost price, as no doubt such a thing was never heard of before, but that's no argument. The altered means of communication demand a change of system. In the future we propose to buy goods and to sell goods as low as any house in New York, but to do that our present stock must be sacrificed.

There is no pairing a supplied to the shop-wern, or out of siyls our goods are all this reason's goods, fresh and desirable, Of course most merchante would be slow to sell NEW goods at cost price, as no doubt such a thing was never heard of before, but that's no argument. The altered means of communication demands a change of system. ing goods, its the plain law of low prices that comes out shead. If we cannot all goods as low as in New York some one else will come here to do it, and it is because we recognize that fact that we are now, cutting down price

63 GOODS SOLD ONLY FOR CASH 2

The fact that we sell goods exclusively for each is one very important reason why we can sell dress goods and silks at cost price. We sell dress goods now let 50 cents per yard that cost us 50 cents, but we must have the cash. If we gate credit where would we be? It is very reasonable to understand that a house print credit where would we be? It is very reasonable to understand that a house print of the contract of the contrac credit cannot effer goods at low prices. Suppose they sell goods to ten different prisons on credit two at least out of the ten will never pay for them, so that the sufference that pay cash must pay the bad debts of the other two. Our business is regulated on a different basis. We can always afford to sell goods at the lower possible rates, and when we want to clear out goods at cost, like in the present in tance, we can do it with but a triffing loss.

ONE PRICE-All Goods Marked in Plain Figures.

Since our advent in business in this city these rules have been some of the chief reasons why our establishment has become so popular. They were a radical innortion on the old custom of "getting all you can." Cur competitors didn't believe it, but strange, most all of them have now pretended to adopt these rules themselves.

To our patrons residing at a distance from Walla Walla such an opportunity has er before been offered in this Territory. Any lady can get the same advantage never before been effered in this Territory. Any lady can get the same advantage 100 miles away as if she were personally present. If a lady leaves an Order to or selection we guarantee BETTER goods than she could select herself because the same advantage.

omee Seekera.

It is said that not less than fifteen exmembers of Congress are in Washington seeking positions as clerks and door-keep ers.—Er.

That only fifteen members are seeking positions in the new Congress is quite a com diment to the Democratic party. At the ast Republican Congress there were scores of ex-congressmen hunting a job, which goes to show that a better class of men represent the Democratic party than the Republicans eso show. We have a strong recollection of a Republican who was once sent to Congress from Oregon, who, when the session was over, had not sufficient means left to purchase a stove for the use of his family, yet he could afford to keep a woman questionable character and even bring her to dregen, where he introduced her as his consin. He was afterwards appointed judge in a neighboring territory and lectured upon "Men I Have Known." It was suggested at the time that he could have spoken assoch. The Women Suffrage Law.

cious impartiality; an impartiality that de-mands justice though the heavens fall. Who that has noticed the unnecessary sympathy wasted by women upon the most hardened criminals, wretches of the Frank James type, brutes like Forter, the car hook murer, can question this? Bear is mind, it is not asserted that women have more faults than men; the scribe does not so far forget himself. It is only contended, that they have mental peculiarities rendering them unfit for this hard school.

By physical inability, is meant the inability to perform those duties that the fairest impartiality demands, of whoever takes up the ballot, and, through its use, attempts to lay down law to his fellow mau. He seems a poor student of history, who has not learnad from the records of past ages, that all human law is founded upon physical force. The ability to back up on the field of carnage the will of a government is the only thing that has ever enforced respect among the nations of men. Even handed justice seems fairly to demand that whoever assists by vote in swaying the destiny of the nation, wheever assists in bringing about a state of affsirs that necessitates war, however just, shall back up, if necessary, on the field of blood, the word he spoke at the polls. This thought of human law being founded upon physical force, is not a pleasant one, for christian men especially: but fact is inexorable and cold blooded. Even the great moral reforms that have swept the earth like cyclones were necessarily supplemented by war. "I came not to bring peace on earth, but a sword !" said He of Nazareth, and history has backed up His word. Sunk in oblivion to-day, would be Luther's Reformation, save for the thirty years war in Germany, the deadly struggle of the devoted Hollanders in throwing off the Spanish wake, and the milk of the Spanish wake, and the milk of the Spanish wake and the milk of the mi the Spanish yoke, and the sublime march to victory of the indomitable old Puritans of Cromwell. The scribe was a trifle amused at the tribute to military valor paid almost knowledges a friendly call. unconsciously by the truest poet. America has yet produced, a tribute that the gentle Quaker education of the "Barefoot boy" seemed hardly to warrant. "Call ye coward, will join his wife and will be gone a month.

As heretofore announced our esteemed home from the above named place on Fri day evening last, and all day Saturday was engaged in receiving congratulations of his many friends. To our reporter he confirms all that the Statzsman has heretotore said concerning our institution at Stellscoon.

Mr. Edmond LeBoucher, returned to Statistics of the statistic of the statis friend, Mr. Edmond LeBoucher, returned stention and careful treatment which the satients receive at the hands of Dr. J. W. apply for Waughop, the superintendent in charge, and says that the hospital is excellently managed; that all departments are daily carefully inspected, and that the cleanliness he found there is something he never believed possible in an institution of this kind. Mr. B. is greatly pleased, and in gratitude, hopes that Dr. Waughop may be spared many, very many years of usefulness to minister his good offices to the many patients. under his care. But Mr. B's, favorable report does not stand alone, in fact every persen, returning from the asylum, whether sheriff, patient or visitor, brings to us the some excellent report, and, indeed, our hospital at Steilacoom, under the able managemest of Dr. Waughop, is a great credit to the territory. So may it ever be.
