GUIDOR'S BURIAL. After Six Years, His Remains Finally Interred—Scenes at the Grave. MONTREAL, November 16.—The burial of the now celebrated Guidor remains in the Roman Catholic cemetery, in opposition to papal authority, was successfully accomplished on this forenoon, and the great question which has occupied the attention of the country for some time past, as far as can be seen at present, is set at rest forever.

THE STONE SAROPHAGUS Which had been made and abandoned and the maker of it ordered to be in readiness with a more simple contrivance for securing the remains after they were put down, viz: A large quantity of cement. An attempt was made to keep these matters secret, but of course without avail.

PREPARING THE GRAVE In such a manner as to defeat any attempt at foul play, by laying a bed of cement to receive the coffin. This work was commenced at an early hour, and although a considerable crowd had congregated, not the slightest opposition was made to the proceedings.

WHAT I HAVE SEEN.—An old man of much experience says: I have seen a young man sell a good farm, turn merchant, and die in the insane asylum. I have seen a farmer travel about so much that there was nothing at home worth looking after.

CO-OPERATIVE HOUSING.—A small scale is about to be tried in London. The new cooperative household will go into operation about Christmas. The building, which is very high, is near St. Anne's Gate, Westminster, and is said to resemble a cotton mill.

THE WEDDING RING.—When they came to the ring part of a marriage ceremony at Kingston, the other day, the bridegroom ran his hand into one breeches pocket and then the other, looked frightened, and said, "Ah there is a hole in me pocket, and it has slipped into me boot." He sat down, pulled off his boot, stood up like a man, put the ring where it would do the most good, and walked out with his bride.

main of the late Joseph Guidor? Mr. Rousseau—I have. Mr. Boissau—Has this grave been dug for me? Mr. Boissau—It has, according to the regulations of the fabricque.

AUSTRIAN AND RUSSIAN CENSORSHIP.—Many who have traveled in Poland or Russia will remember the disfigured appearance of the English newspapers that appeared at the breakfast tables of friends with whom they were staying.

"TWO DOLLARS ON THE JACK."—The cadaverous spectre of Greek Gulch was in town, not long ago, and I thought enough gold dust with him to afford an excuse for Chapter I to open his fare bank. The spectre last was "emuched," asked permission, in his usual polite manner, "to play two dollars on the jack."

DISCOVERED BY THE INDIANS. The Indians—those controlled by Red Cloud and Spotted Tail—are using a great deal of policy in their treatment of the miners. Take our case as an illustration. They made no objection to our going into the hills with our "outfits."

TEN DOLLARS A DAY After his sluices are made and he gets to work. I know there is gold in abundance, because I have seen it. I shall return again in the spring and go to work in the hills. It will pay any man who will work. The soldiers favor the gold-seekers all they can. They want the hills open to settlement, and do nothing more than they are ordered to do.

THE CHINESE HAVE A proverb that contains a world of wisdom. It is this: "A false statement has no feet, and cannot stand; but it has wings and can fly far." That suggests this one, of similar import: "A falsehood will go around the world while truth is putting on its boots."

RETURNED ADVENTURERS. Trials of a Colony in the Black Hills. What They Found There. (From the Kansas Times, November 10th.) A detachment of the expedition which left St. Louis last summer to seek gold in the Black Hills, reached Kansas City last night on their return trip; broken in fortune, but in determination to win the golden prize hidden beneath the pine-clad hills of Northern Wyoming.

STRUCK OUT ALONE for the Black Hills. We paid $155 for a car-load of freight from St. Louis to Cheyenne. In this car we loaded our wagon, which we bought in St. Louis; our coffee, bacon, dried fruit, a whip saw, a cross-cut saw and two smaller saws suitable for sawing lumber for sluices, and a general assortment of merchandise and provisions to last us for six months.

WE STRUCK GOLD from the time we commenced to prospect in the hills. It was fine "flour" gold all of it, and can only be collected by quicksilver. We were able to make about ten dollars every day each to the man, after we had "whipped" out enough lumber to make sluices. The pine lumber is thick and plentiful and we found abundance of water. This, you must understand, was the west side of the hills and remote from military interference.

PROSPECTIVE TROUBLE. Captain Young reports the hills full of miners, prospecting. They move about in parties of three or four. The soldiers cannot catch them. The Indians are reluctant to open hostilities, for they want to sell out at the highest price. The ferris over the North Platte are all guarded by soldiers, but a five dollar note permits any man passing on to Red Cloud or Spotted Tail agency on business.

THE returned prospectors all speak in glowing terms of the gold-bearing resources of the Black Hills, and all iterate a determination to return again next spring. They bring home some very rich specimens of gold-bearing quartz, found in various portions of the new gold region. The richest gold has been discovered far to the northward of the present diggings, away up on the Yellowstone River and in the Big Horn and Wind River range of mountains.

WASTING POWDER.—Mr. and Mrs. Jenks were preparing to go to prayer meeting a few days ago, when the cannon was roaring in a distant part of the city to call the voters to a political meeting. Mr. Jenks was sitting with his hands folded, looking into the fire, doubtless contemplating the sinfulness of politicians. The cannon roared and the reverberations almost shook the house he was sitting in. "That is a shameful waste of powder," he remarked. "It ain't no such a thing, you old brute!" replied the amiable wife, as she stood before the glass arranging her toilet. "I haven't any more powder on my face than you have!"

THE WHISKEY RING. Sketch of the Man who is on Trial in St. Louis. The career of this man McDonald has been a somewhat remarkable one. Previous to the war he was nobly—a runner for steamboats and hotels in St. Louis, in the palmy days of steamboating. Possessed of a degree of energy and boldness, though illiterate and rough, he acquired a certain prominence among men of his class, and became an intimate friend of Gen. Morgan L. Smith, who became subsequently famous as commander of the Eighth Missouri Regiment, a regiment composed chiefly of levee characters, and equally noted during the rebellion for its bad quality morally and its undeniable pluck in action.

How is it that a man with a salary no greater than yours can possibly afford to spend so much money? McDonald did not reply directly, but with a queer look on his face, answered: "Well, my wife is a very economical woman."

THE SMILE SECRET.—Twenty clerks in a store, twenty hands in a printing office, twenty apprentices in a shipyard, twenty young men in a village—all want to get on in the world and expect to do so. One of the clerks will become a partner, and make a fortune; one of the compositors will own a newspaper, and become an influential citizen; one of the apprentices will become a master builder; one of the villagers will get a handsome farm, and live like a patriarch—but which one is the lucky individual? Lucky! There's no luck about it. The thing is almost as certain as the rule of three. The young fellow who 'distances' his competitors is he who masters his business, who preserves his integrity, who devotes his leisure to the acquisition of knowledge, who gains friends by deserving them, and who saves his spare money. There are some ways to fortune shorter than this old duty-way, but the staunch men of the community, the men who achieve something really worth having, good name and serene old age, all go in this road.

THE frogs are going down into nine feet of water this fall, and are lining their nests with cotton batting, and laying in twice the usual amount of coal. You can look out for a winter which will bend shank trees double and freeze the life out of hitching-posts.

MEETING OF THE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—There will be a general meeting of the members of the Library Association at their room, this evening at half past six o'clock.

The House to Dusenbery Bros. to secure the great harvest in dry goods, clothing, general merchandise, etc., is something astonishing, and shows that the business is in a flourishing condition.

THE LADIES' FAIR for the benefit of the orphan school for by the Sisters of Charity has been in progress during the week, and will be the means of enabling the Sisters to provide for the wants of the orphan children committed to their care.

COLUMBIA COUNTY.—A lively struggle is being made for the offices in Columbia county. It is understood that two tickets will be in the field—one democratic, the other republican.

ROBERTY.—A Chinese washhouse in the alley in the rear of the St. Louis Hotel was entered on Sunday night last and robbed of $800 in currency. The money was concealed under a table, and from all the circumstances it is supposed that the robbery was committed by a Chinaman who was familiar with the premises.

Mrs. A. J. DUNNWAY was in town early in the week, and on Tuesday last started for Dupon, where it is understood she will deliver a series of lectures. On her return she will lecture for the benefit of the Lyceum Association.

DEMAND FOR MEALS.—Robert Grostiny, Esq., of Lewiston, is in the market and desires to purchase a large number of likely males. He has already bought one train of forty head, and will buy sixty or seventy more, providing he can get them at reasonable prices.

SWAMP ROBINSON.—The fruit and confectionery store of Charles Davis, at the corner of Main and Second streets, was entered on Tuesday night, and rebelled of about five hundred cigars and a lot of tobacco.

THE RACES.—Brought to the weather has been unfavorable to the races, and the result has been a disappointment. Thursday a running race was announced, with "Trid," "Rosa Mansfield," and "Emma McCormick" as the flyers, and the day being pleasant, a large number of persons were on the track.

SUPPLY OF GRAIN.—We hear complaints that grain is not shipped down the river as rapidly as desired. In order to satisfy ourselves as to the grounds for the complaint, we made application to the Agent at Walla Walla, who informs us that the boats are being taken grain forward as ordered from the Balfour Company, which is about 180 tons per week.

NEW STEAMERS.—We learn that the O. S. N. Company are now having built at Celilo the hulls of two new steamers that are being especially built with a view to the requirements of the grain trade.

LIBRARY LECTURE.—Mrs. Dunnway will deliver a lecture for the benefit of the Walla Walla Lyceum and Library Association at the Methodist church on Thursday evening, December 10th. The subject will be "Young America." The lecture will commence at seven o'clock instead of half past seven as here before.

THE HOODLUM BOYS who go around fairs and places of entertainment, and disturb peaceable persons, should receive the attention of the city marshals.

MORE FINE STOCK.—The enterprise displayed during the past several years by the people of Eastern Washington Territory and Oregon in the importation of fine blooded stock of all kinds, deserves the warmest praise at our hands, and in no instance is it more deserving than in the case of our esteemed friend Mr. George Waldron, who resides at Celilo, a short distance above Celilo.

FRIDAY'S RACE.—A race came off over the Trotting Park course yesterday that excited unusual interest. The entries were "Oceola," by Geo. Coggin, "Billy Nuts," Jake Boomer, "Oregon Rube," Joe Lamar, and "Tom Benton," Johnny Walls.

GRAND RACE.—The great race of the season comes off over the Trotting Park Course, this (Saturday) afternoon. The race will be two mile heats, best two in three.

THE BEST LIQUORS.—Messrs. Stone & Tatrore are willing to admit that other houses keep good liquor, but when the BEST articles are desired, they claim to have the article, and of a quality not to be found in any other house in Walla Walla.

SUCCESSFUL OPERATION.—A private telegram from San Francisco, states that Jas. A. Henderson, with whose illness our readers are familiar, was operated on with the most happy results. The operation was performed on Wednesday last, and although not entirely out of danger, his friends are hopeful of his final restoration to health.

IN LOCK.—The Walla Walla boys were in lock yesterday, having raked down over $300 on the half-mile race. Little Johnny Wall was the lucky one having started every dollar he had on "Tom Benton," and came out winner.

FREE NAVIGATION.—We notice that a company has been organized in Portland that proposes to ask Congress to appropriate money in aid of locking and damming the Columbia River.

LIGHT DRAFT BOATS.—The people living in the Palouse and Crab Creek country must depend upon the Snake River as the outlet for their surplus products. This in point of fact is their only dependence; the idea of teaming grain to Walla Walla, and thence shipping by railroads and steamboats to tide water, being out of the question.

The Late Vice-President.

Henry Wilson was an example of what hard work, reasonable good luck and high purpose may accomplish for a man in the United States.

As an orator he was not to be compared to Nathaniel P. Banks, who was his contemporary and rival in the days when both were striving to catch the public eye.

Two preachers were, some time ago passing Hawes' old mill, on Lead Creek, which was at that time sadly delapidated.

A Philadelphia man has discovered that a house may be heated by reflection. We hail the discovery with joy.

A promising young shaver of five or six years was reading his lesson at school one day, in that deliberate manner which urchins of that age are some what remarkable.

A little fellow who was at a neighbor's house about noon the other day watched the preparations for dinner with a great deal of interest.

The Fingers.—The ring-finger, though the weakest one in the hand, possesses its peculiar honor and dignity, as ladies will allow.

A PIONEER JUSTICE.—The newspapers are publishing the docket of a Tuolumne county justice of the peace who held office in 1850.

Humorous Paragraphs.

This is the kind of weather that makes the dashing young man wish that instead of spending a dollar and a half for that massive diamond pin last summer, he had judiciously invested in a pair of winter drawers.

A lawyer, about to finish a bill of costs, was requested by his client, a baker, to make it as light as possible.

I say, Sambo, where did you git de shirt studs? 'In de shop, to be sure.' 'Yah, you just told me you hadn't no money.' 'Dat's right.'

How are you getting on at your new place? asked a lady of a girl she had recommended for a situation.

Is this the doctor's office? inquired a man who popped his head inside the sanctum door.
