

THE EASTERN NEWS.—It seems to be always the case that just at a time when the news from the East is looked for with the most interest, the telegraph wires get down.

WE cannot imagine, as some others, that the break downs always occur on account of bad news or disasters to the Union arms, for we have too frequently seen it otherwise. The report of the capture of Fort Darling seems yet to need confirmation.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Under this head, the Republican party of Idaho advertise in our columns to-day for information in regard to the whereabouts of their Delegate to Congress.

Under this head, the Republican party of Idaho advertise in our columns to-day for information in regard to the whereabouts of their Delegate to Congress. We could not, even in sympathy for the great concern they must feel about the fate of their lot one, venture the opinion that he is in Congress; for the reports of the proceedings of that body would contradict such an idea.

INDEPENDENT.—The Lewiston Golden Age, since it lost the Territorial printing patronage, has been free from the shackles of party. It now takes an independent and respectable stand.

FROM THE MILITARY EXPEDITION.—We learn from Capt. Curry's military expedition that his campaign thus far has resulted in the death of six Indians. The command was composed some three or four weeks ago, on the Owyhee, and learning that there was a small party of Snake Indians engaged in fishing on Jordan creek, a tributary of the Owyhee, they set out to capture them.

WENDELL PHILLIPS' DEMOCRACY.—Wendell Phillips wrote to the late Cleveland Convention, defining his position, as follows: "Let me tell you the National policy I advocate: Subdue the South as rapidly as possible. The moment Territory comes under our flag reconstruct States thus: Extend the right of suffrage broadly as possible to whites and blacks; let the Federal Constitution prohibit slavery throughout the Union, and forbid the States to make any distinction among their citizens on account of color or race."

KOOTENAI.—The news from Kootenai this week is rather favorable than otherwise, though accounts of the mines are still given more as matter of opinion than from actual knowledge of the country. Nothing definite can be known until the water falls, though many seem willing to risk the chances of going there upon the judgment of their friends and acquaintances who speak favorably of the country.

"Free soil, free speech, free press and Fremont," is to be the rallying cry of the Fremont party during the Presidential campaign. The followers of the feeble Fremont may fret and fume, but they will feel forsaken and forlorn when they find they have fizzled and failed in the Fall.

THE PRESIDENT DEFINES HIS POSITION.

—President Lincoln, in a letter written by him to Mr. A. G. Hodge, Frankfort, Ky., April 4th, thus defines his "positish": "I am naturally anti-slavery. If slavery is not wrong nothing is wrong. I cannot remember the time when I did not so think and feel."

I did understand, however, that my oath to preserve the Constitution to the best of my ability, imposed on me the duty of preserving, by indispensable means, that Government, that Nation of which the Constitution was the organic law. Was it possible to lose the Nation and yet preserve the Constitution? By general law, life and limb must be protected, yet often a limb is amputated to save a life, but a life is never wisely given to save a limb.

It will be observed, by reading the foregoing, that Mr. Lincoln claims the right to violate the Constitution whenever in his own judgment he may think it proper to do so. The doctrine of violating the Constitution in order to preserve it, certainly has the merit of being original with Mr. Lincoln.

Fourth of July Celebration.

The Committee of Arrangements are making extensive preparations for a general Celebration and Sunday School on the coming 4th of July. The Committee invite the citizens generally to come, participate, and aid us by their presence to make it a day of social enjoyment and a pleasure to all.

PROGRAME OF THE DAY: 1. Procession to form at the Church, punctually, at 10 o'clock, A. M., and march to the Grove. 2. Opening Ceremonies.

W. T. ELECTION.—In Thurston county the Union ticket is elected with the exception of one representative, J. Longmire, Democrat, being elected over F. M. Rhoades by one majority.

Clark county—Union ticket elected. H. G. Streue, Union, is elected Prosecuting Attorney in the 2d Judicial District over A. J. Lawrence, Democrat.

HON. GEO. E. COLE writes to Judge McFadden, under date of April 27th as follows: "The committee which has the Railroad in charge has agreed to accept my amendment, to extend the grant for a road to Puget Sound. It has already reported the bill for a road from Lake Superior to Puget Sound."

PLACERVILLE, Boise Co., Idaho Territory, June 13, 1864. EDG. STATSMAN.—By order of the Territorial Democratic Central Committee of this county, recently organized, I herewith transmit to you a copy of the proceedings of said committee, as well as the manner in which said committee was organized.

On the 13th day of June, 1864, pursuant to notice, a County Convention was held at Centerville, in Boise county, for the purpose of electing Delegates to a Territorial Convention, and for the purpose of organizing a Territorial Central Committee.

DEAD.—John, the war chief of the Rogue river Indians, who committed so many depredations upon the whites in Southern Oregon a few years ago, died at Fort Yamhill, Oregon, on the 6th of June.

The Oregon papers give accounts of ratifications meetings, held all over Oregon, ratifying the nomination of Mr. Lincoln for the Presidency. The meetings pretty generally passed resolutions denouncing Fremont for being so unpatriotic as to accept the nomination from the Cleveland Convention.

THE SANTIAM (Og'n) gold and silver mining Company have sent for machinery to commence working their quartz lode. Prospects recently obtained from the ledge indicate that it will pay richly.

FOR WEST POINT.—Henry Vansyckle of this County, and Charley Newell, son of the editor of the Mountaineer, have gone to West Point to take their places in the Naval Academy.

SHUT YOUR DOORS.—We are informed that nearly all the merchants and business men in Walla Walla will close their stores and shops on the 4th.

Discovery of the Bodies of the Murdered Men.

The party which left Lewiston some weeks ago to look for the bodies of Magruder and the other murdered men furnish the Golden Age the following account of the discovery of the bodies:

"We arrived at the spot after a long and tedious ride, about 4 o'clock P. M., we unsaddled our animals, and proceeded to search for the remains. The first thing discovered was the gunny sacks of tin cups, coffee pots, etc., which all who heard the evidence of Page, at the trial of Renton, Lower and Roman, will remember as being described by him; the next discovery was the blankets, which were wound around the bodies of the two brothers; the next discovery was the tent and blankets, which Allen and Phillips were washed up; these were searched with care; we found in the pockets of Allen a portmonee, in which we found two twenty-five cent pieces, American coin, a gold ring, a thimble and some needles; we also found Allen's watch; we found Phillip's hat; Holt knew the hat to be Phillip's hat; Page knew the pants to be Allen's pants, in which was found the portmonee; we also found pieces of skull bones in this particular spot, and some hair said to be, by those who knew, Allen's; also the under jaw of Allen or Phillips; we also found the under jaw of one of the brothers, or supposed to be, as it was near the blankets which had once encased their bodies; we also found two blue jean coats, in one of which was found the memorandum book, which shows that the two brothers had $1,658.73 on their person when they started for Oregon in company with Magruder and party; we found in camp, near the spot where Page saw Allen shot, a piece of his skull, supposed to have been blown off with the shot gun; we found the quartz specimens, which were taken from Magruder's canteens, and thrown away by one of the villains; we found the rings, buckles, etc., as described by Page, buried in the ashes; we then repaired to the spot where Magruder received the fatal blow, or, we may say, blows, for we found several pieces of his skull, which was literally hacked to pieces. Oh, what an awful sight! He was murdered nearly a half mile from the others; his coat and vest was somewhat torn by the wolves, but enough was left so that they looked quite natural; we then went with Page to the spot where he had thrown the guns; we there found Mr. Beechy's gun, the one he had loaned Magruder, and found it to be loaded, but the caps had been removed; we also found the gun, which Page said belonged to one of the brothers; also, one rifle and the shot gun which Page said was one Roman's; we found other relics and things much the same as Page had described at the trial. On our return we went to the spot which had been described by Page, and found the remains of the slaughtered animals."

DEBRANDED.—The volunteers raised at the Dalles for the purpose of proceeding against the Indians on the Canyon city road have been disbanded, owing to a notification from Major McLean that he had received instructions from Washington not to muster troops into the service for less than three years, or during the war.

DEBRANDED.—The volunteers raised at the Dalles for the purpose of proceeding against the Indians on the Canyon city road have been disbanded, owing to a notification from Major McLean that he had received instructions from Washington not to muster troops into the service for less than three years, or during the war.

CAN'T BEAR PROSPERITY.—Mr. J. R. Watson, the printer editor and proprietor of the Seattle Gazette has been elected to the Territorial Legislature, and in consequence (so his contemporaries say), has suspended the publication of his paper. The prospect of three dollars a day, all in greenbacks, for the term of sixty days, seems to have proved too much for his printer nerves, and bewildered by glowing anticipations of the joys that such a fortune must bring, he has, in the classic language of our President, "turned tail" upon his former plebeian occupation and gone out to prepare himself for the mighty change.

LOST DIGGINGS.—A party of miners lately left the Owyhee mines in search of a mining region, in a southerly direction, which they term "lost diggings." Perhaps the adventurers, in perambulating those distant wilds, may bring to light the lost Delegate, Wallace. That would be a discovery worthy of note.

ORDERED BELOW.—The detachments of Cavalry which have been stationed at the Post, as escorts for the Paymasters, have been ordered below, to enter the field on the Canyon city road, against the Snake Indians.

MALHEUR.—A party of twenty-seven men are now out prospecting on the head waters of the Malheur. Some of the men belonging to the party were in that country last fall, and they state that they found good prospects there as were ever obtained in the Boise Basin. The company are with, or near, the military expedition under charge of Capt. Carry, now in that country.

THE COMPLAINT still continues to come from Boise that the market there is overstocked with goods. It is estimated that there are now goods enough in the Basin, to supply the demands of the present population for a year. Mr. A. Frank, of this city, who has had a branch store there, is having his goods shipped back here.

A "Stage" line is now running between Idaho city (Boise mines) and Boise city.—It is called Ward & Co.'s Stage line. Mr. Ward, formerly driver for Thomas & Co., still holds the reins, and makes the trip between the points named every two days.

THE SANTIAM (Og'n) gold and silver mining Company have sent for machinery to commence working their quartz lode. Prospects recently obtained from the ledge indicate that it will pay richly.

FOR WEST POINT.—Henry Vansyckle of this County, and Charley Newell, son of the editor of the Mountaineer, have gone to West Point to take their places in the Naval Academy.

SHUT YOUR DOORS.—We are informed that nearly all the merchants and business men in Walla Walla will close their stores and shops on the 4th.

PREPARE YE.—Old residents say that windy springs and "falling summers" in the upper country are always followed by severe winters. Taking the spring, summer and autumn of 1861 as a criterion, we might judge this theory to be correct. But, as we have never yet seen any of the predictions of "the oldest inhabitant," Indians, or other weatherwise prophets fulfilled on this coast, we might argue from this fact that the reverse of weather prophecies should be the correct guide to go by, and thus it would follow that the coming winter, instead of being severe will be mild and pleasant. Still, it is better to be on the safe side, and their stock will fare well in case of a hard winter. It is better to be on the safe side, regardless of weather speculations.

THE "spell of weather" we have been visited with recently seems not to have been confined to this particular locality. In the Boise Basin there has been more than a usual amount of rain for the season, and in the Blue mountains heavy rain storms have soaked luckless travelers and rendered the roads very bad. In the Willamette, the use of the semi-aquatic people have been as fully spread by recent showers as during the prevalence of their six months' misadventure, and on the 17th instant Portland was visited by a genuine hail storm.

Eastern News.

St. Louis, June 7.—The Sanitary Fair was practically brought to a close on Saturday night. It proved a magnificent success, exceeding the expectations of the most sanguine. The gross receipts to date, from all sources, are not less than $750,000. The net proceeds which will pass into the hands of the Sanitary Commission will be at least a half million.—The army wound was awarded to Gen. Hancock, who received 7,468 votes. McClellan was second on the list.

Washington, May 12.—The President sent a letter to the Secretary of the War and Provost Marshal General, recommending the repeal of the $300 exemption clause. A Wisconsin, of Minnesota, introduced a joint resolution to change the point of starting of the emigrant escort on the Northern route, from Fort Abercrombie and Benton to Fort Ridgely, in Minnesota, as it would offer more protection to the emigrants. A Richmond dispatch says the Confederate treasury for the first time in its history is without a dollar to pay anybody, and that there is much grumbling in consequence. The Examiner thinks that Grant will attempt to take Richmond from the south, side of James river, but that he will not succeed.

Cincinnati, June 14.—Gen. Morgan with 5,000 men attacked the 168th and 175th Ohio regiments, under Tolson, at Cynthia yesterday. After a severe fight he compelled Tolson to surrender, on the condition that his men should be immediately exchanged. The fight took place principally in the streets of Cynthia. Some of our troops took refuge in the Court House. In order to get them out, the town was set on fire and about 30 buildings were consumed before the fire was extinguished. Our loss was killed 12 and 60 wounded. Col. Berry, Provost Marshal of Covington was mortally wounded and Col. Garrison of the 168th severely. Our losses in prisoners amount to 1,300 to 1,500.

This morning Gen. Burbridge, who left Paris last night, fell upon Morgan whilst his men were at breakfast, and after a severe fight, completely defeated him, and scattering his forces in all directions. About 150 prisoners were taken including 30 officers. Burbridge at last achieved what he had been striving to accomplish. We had the good news on the morning of the 13th inst. at Stanton on the R.R. Speak No Ill! - Nay, speak no ill; a kindly word can never leave a sting behind; And oh! to breathe such words is far beneath a noble mind.

Then speak no ill, but let it be To others' failings as your own; If you're the first to make it known, Be not the first to make it known.

CHEERFULNESS - Tonics, stimulatives, medicines! There is nothing in all the pharmacopoeia half so inspiring as a cheerful temper!

By an aching brain and sick stomach; and if long persisted in, you will ruin your own health and character, and prove to the world that you had no fixed principles and were unworthy of the being whom you sought.

Then, consider yourself rather a subject for congratulation than otherwise, and remember the homely old maxim, that "There are still as good fish in the sea as ever were caught."
