Wm. Barker the Young Patriot. BY ARTEMUS WARD.

"No, William Barker, you cannot have ny danghter's hand in marriage until you tre her equal in wealth and social position."

The speaker was a haughty old man of some sixty years, and the person whom he addressed was a fine looking young man who withdrew from the stately mansion.

Six months later the young man stood in the presence of the haughty old man. "What! you here again?" angrily cried the old man.

"What! you here again?" angrily cried the old man, "Ay, old man," proudly exclaimed William Barker, "I am here, your daughter's equal and yours!"

The old man's lips curled with score.—A derisive smile lit up the cold features, when, casting violently upon the marble centre table an enormous roll of green-backs, William Barker cried—"See! Look on this wealth. And I've ten-fold more. Listen, id man! You spurned me from your door. But I did not despair. I secured a contract for furnishing the army of the—with beef—"

gy in the contest, to call for new exertions and new sacrifices, to remind our people of the nature of the conflict and the object of the enemy, to bring out our whole strength and to let the world see of what we are capable. While the Yankees think they have subjugated us. by taking Vicksburg, we repeat, in the language of Paul Jones, "we have not begun to fight." Such is the spirit of our people, such the resources of our countrymen in their own determined will, such the obstacles which the enemy will have to overcome, before he can ever subdue us. We have lost Vicksburg and Port Hudson. What of that; Suppose we lose Charleston, Savannah, Mobile, Wilmingion—all our seaports. What of that, we ask sgain?

—"What though the field be lost?

All is not lost! The unconquerable wand study of revenge, immortal hate, and courage never to submit or yield: All these remain."

The old man's lips curled with scorn.—

It was thought that this might be used in maxwal wafare as the ancient Greek fire was employed. The subject is fully treated by Scoffern in his work "Projectle weapons of war and Baylosive Compounds," (London, 1839) in which he also names several liquid mixtures that spontaneously ignic, and may be useful for the same purposes an Greek fire. A solution of phosphoras in sulpharet of carbon strown in a glass greased was cattered. Chloride of sulphur may be substituted for the sulphuret of carbon, the ignition not taking place quites so soon, thus giving time for the liquid to penetrate into wood work and cannax. An abounisable door is diffused during the combustion.

FORWARDED .- Mr. E. E. Kelly, the Agent for the Sanitary Aid Society for this county, forwarded this week $1000 to Dr. Bellows, the General Agent at New York. Wells, Fargo & Co., with their usual liberality, expressed the amount free of charge.

ARRIVED .- Rev. J. W. Franklin, the new pastor of the M. E. Church in this city, has arrived. He entered upon the duties of his appointment on Sunday morn-ing last, and preached to a large congregation of attentive listeners.

THE LAST TRIP .- Several pack trains have left for Boise this week on their last trip for the season. Trains leaving now can not return before the middle of next month, by which time the mountains will hearts made glad around his camp-fire.—

MILITARY .- We are informed that there will probably be but four companies stationed at Fort Walla Walla during the wintioned at Fort Waila Waila during the winter—two Cavalry and two Infantry companies. Col. Maury will go to Fort Dalles.

Dr. W. H. Watkins, who has for the pattype command, hare discovered a Surgeon at this post, has one, belonging to Col. Mautype command, hare discovered a fall on en our streets the familiar faces of "old settlers" who have been absent during the oise and other mining regions. Those from Boise generally agree that that lation by returning miners.

COLUMBIA MINES .- The miners on the Columbia are still reported to be doing statement that there were two falls, and it commons are still reported to be doing well—some of them making as high as an onnee perday. The gold on all the bars worked is very fine and is only saved by the use of quicksilver and copper plates. Miners generally work with rockers, there only fall of Sunke river; so Q. V. Z. and a "noatis;" or still better, in eating mother than the previous forms. being but few places along the river where mining on some of the bars is the absence of wood sufficient for fuel.

THE SNAKE RIVER MINES .- We have had vague accounts for the past month of the discovery of rich, coarse gold mines somewhere on the head-waters of Snake river; but we have failed to find any one who can give a definite account of their lo cation or extent. Every few days some one comes in from Boise, bringing the cld story that "rich mines have been struck on the headwaters of Snake river," and that miners there are doing exceedingly well." The mines are said to be nearer to Elk City and East Bannock than they are to Boise.

THE OHIO AND PENNSYLVANIA ELEC-TIONS.—The elections in the above States will be holden on Tuesday next. In Pennsylvania, the Democracy are confident of electing Woodward, their candidate for In Ohio the conservative Democrats will not vote at all, and Vallandigham will be beaten by from 20,000 to 40,000 majority, as he should be. This will be a just punishment to the Democracy of that State for consulting their passions rather than their reason in the selection of their gubernatorial candidate. The soldier vote Ohio, which is quite large, will be almost unanimous against Vallandigham.

WALLA WALLA SORGHUM .- Mr. T. P. Denny, one of the enterprising farmers or Dry Creek, surprised us no little, yesterday, by presenting us a large bottle o tiful sorghum syrup of his own manufacture He informed us that he constructed a rude cane crushing apparatus from timber though the 'mill' was a bad one, he suc ceeded in crushing some cane with it, and manufactored from the juice of the cane nearly a barrel of delicious syrup. He expects to manufacture two or three barrels more of the syrup yet this season. By next fall, Mr. D. thinks he will have a better crushing mill, and be prepared to manu factors syrup on a more extensive scale.— We wish him abundant success, as the pio-neer sorghum man of the upper country. A specimen of the syrup may be seen, tasted vast numbers who have visited that country and its qualities tested by calling on our this summer have been successful, and feet

PASTORAL.—Reverend Father De Smett States, via Fort Benton, was announced last week) accompanied by Dr. J. F. Martin, of Dublin, Ireland, left in the Wallula Stage on Tuesday last, en route for the States, via Isthmus of Panama, The Rev Father's Headquarters are in St. Louis Missouri, where his presence is ever comed by all sects and classes as really a venerable Father. He must now be sixty-odd years of age. The humility of his daily walk, the simplicity of his attire, profundity of thought and beauty of expres-sion, added to a sincerely religious charac-ter of the highest order, combine to make Father De Smett one of the most versatile and companionable men in America; and this has given him an influence over the hearts and sympathics of mankind which but few have obtained. Nobles and peasants alike have loved to do him obesiance. The Indians of the Mountain wild—rich and poor—one and all, have often had their

THE "BOISE NEWS."-We are indebted to Tracy & Co's Express for a copy of the first number of the Boise News, published at Bannock City, I. T., by Messrs. T. J. & J. S. Butler. It is printed on a sheet half the size of the STATESMAN, and is well filled with interesting news items. The subscription price is $12 per year, and $7 for six months. Cheap enough for that far away, golden region.

The press on which the News is printed was brought to the Pacific, and made the voyage, from New York, around Cape Horn, to Portland, Oregon, in the "early days." It was brought to Portland by T. J. Dryer and used by him in the estab-lishment and publication of the Oregonian, when that town was in its infancy; when the tall firs stood a dense forest upon the ground where many of the principal streets of the city are now built, and when the fa ilities for receiving late news from the Atlantic States were far behind those which its present proprietors have in their primi-tive town amid the snow clad mountains of Idaho,-then a wilderness almost unknown to the white man; its wealth unthought-of, and its future unpromising. The tales that it has impressed of the early history of Oregon and Washington-which, with Ideho ere one when it commenced its career of usefulness-are, we believe, all among the archives of the Oregonian office, and, printed upon white, brown and yellow sheets—or whatever colors could be ob-tained amid the "emergencies of the early times," when the San Francisco stocks used to give out—bid fair to last as long as its old iron frame will hang together, and will ferings and privations endured by west-

STATESMAN:—Another bloody of fair occurred this moraing, the particulars of which, I have been informed, are these of which, I have been informed, are these of which, I have been informed, are these on the many citizens—James Pinney, a respectable merchant of the firm of Pinney & Sternes—gave a birthday party last night, inviting some of his friends and acquaintances to a strictly select and private little dance. Tom Fitzhugh, a bar tender in White's gambling saloon, attempted to enter the ball room and was requested by Mr. Pinney to leave. Fitzhugh was very indignant, and nursing his wrath to keep it hot, he, about 9 o'clock this morning assaulted Mr. Pinney in his own store with a cowhide in one hand and leaded revolver in the other. He exhausted the Billingsgate vocabulary in expressing his opinion of Mr. P., giving him two or three cuts across the face by way of emphasis, and telling him if he made the slightest motion he would blow the top of his head off; just as he turned to leave, Pinney drew his revolver and fired at Fitzhugh, but did not hit him. Fitzhugh then fired two shots at Pinney, both taking effect. The former's revolver did not work easily, and when the latter saw this, he rushed to within a few feet of his victim and fired his second shot as Pinney to the face of the property possible that he will recover. He has many warm friends in this locality, and should he die from his wounds to-day, Mr. Fitzhugh will probably be tried before a burley possible that he will recover. City Council Proceedings. CITY COUNCIL CHAMBER, Walla Walla, October 6th, 1863.

Council met at 7 o'clock, P. M. Present-Messrs, Guichard, Kyger, Link on and Kelly.

The Committee on Public Improvements submitted a Report, setting forth that the ction of the water, discharged from the city flume, is cutting and wearing a channel through the premises of certain citizens, thereby damaging their property; and re-commended that the Council adopt some measure to remedy the evil. In connection with this matter a petition was presented from the property holders interested, praying that the City would allow Messrs Winship and Ammon, (Cabinet Makers) to onstruct a flume, commencing at the point where the water now discharges, and ex-tending thence to their Manufactory.

Mesers Winship and Ammon appeared, and after consultation with the Council, an agreement was made by which they bind themselves to convey the water into Mill creek by way of their Manufactory, and to construct all necessary bridges and cross-ings, and keep the flume in a perfect state of repair; the City appropriating 8133 to-ward purchasing lumber for the flume.

A remonstrance was read, praying the Council not to pass an Ordinance requiring business houses to be closed on Sunday

Salmon Falle, I. T. Sept. 23, 1863.

Ed. Statesman:—Since my last, from Port Neaf viver, our Expedition has been pursuing the even tenor of our way; and nothing has occurred to shed either glory or gloom over our pathway. While returning to Camas Prairie, a detachment was sent toward Beaver Head, which scouted along the north side of Snake for 45 miles above the Blackfoot ferry. During this time detachments from the command of Maj. Rinearson, at Many Depot, in Camas Prairie, were recounting the country from that point toward South Boise and south toward main Malada River. Since our effects we have been secouting the surrounding country, and far back from the river. But all this scooting and hunting has failed to disclose to us the hiding-place of the large bands of hostile Indians that are supposed to people these lonely wilds. Indeed I am allest—is composed chiefly of fable. Any other lands of the surrounding country, and far back from the river. Some of the rebels in the South contend Some of the receis in the South control that it is an advantage to them to have lost Vicksburg and Port Hudson, as they will no longer have them to defend. No doubt it will be an advantage to them to have their whole Confederace explode, for thee they will no longer have that to defend.

President Lincoln has undoubtedly had a great deal to do in di-recting the movements of our ar-mies, and we now have the rather startling information that he is about to take the field in person—for the next Presidency.

A rebel lady threatens anonymously to write us a terrible letter. Echo-let her.

A young rebel woman lately wrote to us from Shelby that she had got up to thrust our paper out of her bedchamber. We wrote back that we thought it very likely she would have treated us in the same manner. And she got very mad at the imputation.

WHITTLING .- One Tomlinson member of the Connecticut Leg-islature, who possesses the Yan-kee passion for whittling and indulges in that amusement to a great extent, received lately a bundle of shingles by express, to be used as whittling material.— Tomlinson duly distributed them among the whittling members of the house, who were delighted with the donation and very thank-ful to the unknown giver. The Hartford Press protests against any more such proceedings. "If a Yankee Legislature is to be provided with such luxuries, they will prolong the session until next Spring."

A Bancor (Me.) paper says the females of that city were shocked lately by a pulpit tirade against crinoline. The minister reminded his hearers "that the path to heaven is narrow, while that to perdition is broad; and I would advise you to suit your garments to the road you wish to walk in To my mind, hoop skirts were made for the broad road and the wearer who designs to go in the narrow one will find them a serious impediment to her progress, Mark me, you ladies, it will be a hard thing for you to get to heave en in low necked dresses and hoop skirts. It will be a hard road

Many children grow up like plants under bell glasses. They are surrounded only by artificial and prepared influences. They are house bred, room bred, nurse bred, mother bred, everything bred but self bred. The object of training is to teach the child to take care of himself, but many parents use their children only as a kind of spool on which to reel off their own experience; and they are bound and corded until they perish by insanity, or break all conds and cords and rush to ruin by reaction.

A Massachusetts Judge has de-cided that a husband may open his wife's letters, on the ground so often and tersely stated by Theophilus Parsons, of Cambridge "that the husband and the wife are one, and the husband is THAT

When a married man pays more attention to his wife's cous-in than to his wife, it is a certain sign that the cousin's visit has been long enough.

WE find a very simple cure for WE find a very simple con-lock-jaw afloat in the papers:— "When any one runs a nail or sharp iron in any part of his body, take a common smoking pipe, fill take a common smoking pipe, fill it with tobacco, light it well, then take a cloth or silk handkerchief, place it over the bowl of the pipe and blow the smoke through the stem into the wound. Two or three pipe's full will be sufficient to set the wound discharging.

What is virtue? A student put this question to the late Dr. Ar-chibald Alexander. His simple and admirable reply, was, "vir-tue consists in doing our duty in the several relations that we sustain in respect to ourselves, to our fellowmen and to God, as known from reason, conscience and revelation."

An Irishman meeting a countryman, inquired his name:—
"Walsh," said the gentleman.
"Walsh," responded the Paddy,
"are you from Dublin? I knew
two old malds there of that name;
was either of 'em your mother?" was either of 'em your mother ?

PEACE makes plenty, plenty makes pietry, pietry makes pride; pride breeds quar-rels, and quarrels make war; war brings spoil, and spoil, poverty; poverty patience, and patience peace. So peace brings war, and war brings peace.

Whenever I find a great deal of gratitude in a poor man, I take it for granted that there would be as much generosity if he were a rich man.—Cullen.
