

THE WASHINGTON STATESMAN is issued every Friday morning...

TERMS INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE. RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION: One year, $5.00...

WASHINGTON STATESMAN. BOOK, CARD, AND PICTURE OFFICE. The proprietors beg leave to announce to the people of Walla Walla and vicinity...

DR. J. H. HARRIS, Assistant Surgeon of the Military Post at Walla Walla.

DR. L. DANFORTH, His professional services to the people of Walla Walla and vicinity...

DR. J. A. MULLAN, Formerly Resident Physician at Blackwell's Island Prison, N. Y., and at the Baltimore Almshouse, Md...

DR. R. BERNHARD, Respects fully offers his services to the public generally in the practice of Surgery and Medicine...

WALTER W. JOHNSON, CIVIL ENGINEER, United States Deputy Surveyor for Donation claims, Walla Walla.

L. TERRY, M. D., PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON—Office in Dr. Craig's Drug Store.

E. HAMILTON, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW, Office on Washington street, second door above First street.

R. T. ALLEN, AUCTIONEER, WALLA WALLA—Will attend to the purchase and sale of Horses, Cattle, Goods sold upon the most reasonable commission.

MOSS & BROOKS, CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS—Shop on the Corner, first street south of Main street, Walla Walla.

W. PHILLIPS, HAS ON HAND a large and well selected stock of TIN WARE, manufactured under his supervision...

J. W. COOK, MANUFACTURER and Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Tents, Awnings, Wagon Covers, Ceilings and Sacks...

J. R. CARDWELL, DENTIST—Will visit Walla Walla on professional business within a few weeks. Definite notice of the time will be given.

ELFELT BROS., MAIN STREET, DALLES, OREGON—Dealers in Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishing goods, and Groceries.

GRADON & STUDDERUS, WAGON, CARRIAGE AND BUGGY MANUFACTURERS—Front street, Portland, at North end of the Bridge, nearly opposite Rosser's Saw-mill.

BUTLER & BRO., PIONEER HATTERS, Portland, Oregon—Manufacture to order, and have on hand, every description of Hats to be found in San Francisco.

CHARLES BARRETT, BOOKSELLER, Stationer, and dealer in Blank Books, School Books, Newspapers, and all kinds of Cheap Publications...

MOSSMAN & Co's EXPRESS, TO AND FROM THE NEZ PERCES MINES!

EXTENDED to all parts of Oregon and California. Offices are established at the places hereinafter mentioned...

CATIN & NUGENT, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, Walla Walla, W. T.—Office, near the residence of A. J. Cain.

CHARLES HERZOG, DENTIST—Tenders his services to the citizens of Walla Walla and vicinity...

DR. D. G. CAMPBELL, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, formerly of Corvallis, Oregon—Office at the Walla Walla Hotel, Main street, Walla Walla.

D. S. BAKER, FIRE-PROOF BRICK BUILDING, MAIN STREET, Walla Walla, Wholesale and Retail dealer in GENERAL MERCHANDISE...

W. A. GEORGE, J. G. SPARRE, GEORGE & SPARKS, ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELORS AT LAW—Walla Walla, Washington Territory.

E. M. SAMMIS, PHOTOGRAPHER AND AMBROTYPE—Main street, Walla Walla. Pictures taken in cloudy as well as clear weather.

FARMERS' HOUSE, FRONT STREET, Portland, Oregon, first door above the Court House—Thos. McBurney, Proprietor.

GRANVILLE B. GILMAN, (Successor to Trevitt & Co.) WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN Wines and Liquors—Three doors below the Express office, Main street, Dalles, Oregon.

F. G. STEWART, WATCHMAKER, Front Street, at Wm. Hindman's Old Stand, has constantly on hand a variety of CLOCKS and WATCHES...

L. C. KINNEY, M. D., PHYSICIAN & SURGEON, TENDERS his professional services to the citizens of Walla Walla and vicinity.

FOR NEZ PERCES MINES. THE OREGON STEAM NAVIGATION CO'S Steamers will run on the Columbia river as follows:

WOLF, Commandeur, Will leave Portland every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, at 6 A. M. Connecting with the steamer IDAHO.

NEW STEAMER TENINO, WHITE, Commandeur, Will leave Des Chutes for Walla Walla every Tuesday. Returning, leaves Walla Walla every Thursday at 6 A. M.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY Shaving and Hair Dressing Saloon—BY J. W. LAUPHUS and J. B. MITCHELL. MAIN STREET, next door to Phillips' Tin Shop, Walla Walla.

WHERE we shall be happy to wait upon all who desire Shaving and Hair Dressing done in the Very Best style of the Art.

BOOT-MAKING done neatly and expeditiously. Dec. 18th, 1861.

National Anthem for America. (From the "rejected addresses" of the National Hymn Committee.)

Anthem of liberty, Solemn and grand, Wake in thy loftiness, Sweep through the land!

Spirit of Unity, Potent, divine, Come to thy kindness, All hearts entwine!

Shades of our forefathers, Pass through the land, Clothed in full majesty, Terrible, grand!

God save the Government, Long it defend! This is the Kingdom, Father and Friend!

The Old Orchard. The old Orchard! Don't you wish you were there to-day?

Of course we mean nothing like that at all, but the dear old orchard on the southern slope...

Every one of us, you remember, had a tree of his own then, that bore our name; that were planted when we were born.

We know you have not forgotten where the "Seek-no-further" stood; we called them "Signify-then," but that don't signify.

The trees—the most of them—are withered and gone; the grave has subsided, and the plow has passed over the spot.

Alexander, after having climbed the dizzy ladder of his ambition, and with his temples bowed, his cheeks dipped in the blood of countless nations...

Cesar, after having conquered eight hundred cities, and dyed his garments in the blood of one million of his foes; after having pursued to death the only rival he had on earth...

Bonaparte, whose mandate kings and popes obeyed, after having filled the earth with the terror of his name—after having deluged Europe with tears and blood...

he could see his country's banner waving o'er the deep, but which would not or could not bring him aid.

Thus these four men, who from the peculiar situation of their portraits, seemed to stand as the representatives of all those whom the world calls great—those four, who each in turn made the earth tremble to its very center...

Parson Brownlow's Last Address to his Readers. The patriot, Parson Brownlow, has issued the last number of his paper, he having received the ultimatum of the Secession State authorities...

The real object of my arrest and contemplated imprisonment is, to dry up, break down, silence and destroy the last and only Union paper left in the eleven seceded States...

Many who have heard the anecdote of the cool composure and resignation of Sir Isaac Newton, when his little dog overturned a lamp, and burned up his papers, destroying the fruits of many years labor...

SINGING FOR WORKING MEN.—Smith, the razor-strap man, says, "When I drank grog I owned a cat, a poor, lean, lantern-jawed thing that was always getting into scrapes."

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

these they were gold. Down to the cellar, whither we all tend, when wintry winds begin to blow, they went in baskets, and barrels and bins.

The sparrows held a council one day, went up in a cloud and rode away on the billowy air; the leaves grew pale and yellow, and rusty and brown...

The snows have drifted round the Russets; icicles are pendant from the Gillflower, but the winter's fire is glowing and crackling, and roaring steep up the broad chimney.

and the bowl and its comrade pass from hand to hand. We were all talking of the summers that had gone, of the springs that were to come...

That grave in the orchard! Ah! the fruit that fell out of our hands and out of our hearts, and in the midst of the rain, and lies there in the little grave under the trees.

Every one of us, you remember, had a tree of his own then, that bore our name; that were planted when we were born.

We would not see the old orchard if we could. The trees—the most of them—are withered and gone; the grave has subsided, and the plow has passed over the spot.

Alexander, after having climbed the dizzy ladder of his ambition, and with his temples bowed, his cheeks dipped in the blood of countless nations...

Cesar, after having conquered eight hundred cities, and dyed his garments in the blood of one million of his foes; after having pursued to death the only rival he had on earth...

Bonaparte, whose mandate kings and popes obeyed, after having filled the earth with the terror of his name—after having deluged Europe with tears and blood...

he could see his country's banner waving o'er the deep, but which would not or could not bring him aid.

Thus these four men, who from the peculiar situation of their portraits, seemed to stand as the representatives of all those whom the world calls great—those four, who each in turn made the earth tremble to its very center...

Parson Brownlow's Last Address to his Readers. The patriot, Parson Brownlow, has issued the last number of his paper, he having received the ultimatum of the Secession State authorities...

The real object of my arrest and contemplated imprisonment is, to dry up, break down, silence and destroy the last and only Union paper left in the eleven seceded States...

Many who have heard the anecdote of the cool composure and resignation of Sir Isaac Newton, when his little dog overturned a lamp, and burned up his papers, destroying the fruits of many years labor...

SINGING FOR WORKING MEN.—Smith, the razor-strap man, says, "When I drank grog I owned a cat, a poor, lean, lantern-jawed thing that was always getting into scrapes."

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

he could see his country's banner waving o'er the deep, but which would not or could not bring him aid.

Thus these four men, who from the peculiar situation of their portraits, seemed to stand as the representatives of all those whom the world calls great—those four, who each in turn made the earth tremble to its very center...

Parson Brownlow's Last Address to his Readers. The patriot, Parson Brownlow, has issued the last number of his paper, he having received the ultimatum of the Secession State authorities...

The real object of my arrest and contemplated imprisonment is, to dry up, break down, silence and destroy the last and only Union paper left in the eleven seceded States...

Many who have heard the anecdote of the cool composure and resignation of Sir Isaac Newton, when his little dog overturned a lamp, and burned up his papers, destroying the fruits of many years labor...

SINGING FOR WORKING MEN.—Smith, the razor-strap man, says, "When I drank grog I owned a cat, a poor, lean, lantern-jawed thing that was always getting into scrapes."

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion...

Bashful Men. Let all bashful people, and there are a great many of them, take comfort and consolation from the remarks of a modern writer touching their cases:

We seldom see a genuine bashful man who is not the soul of honor. Though such may blush and stammer, and appear awkward, shrug their shoulders and appear unable to throw out with ease the thoughts to which they would give expression, yet commend us to a bashful man for a real friend.

There are fine touches in their character that time will mellow and bring out; perceptions as delicate as the faintest tint of the unfolded rose; and their thoughts are none the less refined and beautiful that they do not flow with the impetuosity of the shallow streamlet.

The man who is bashful in the presence of women, is his defender when the loose tongue of the bold slanderer would defame them; it is not he who boasts of his conquests, or dares to talk glibly of failings that exist only in imagination; his cheeks will flush with resentment, his eyes flash with anger to hear the name of woman coupled with a coarse oath; and yet he who would die to defend them, is least honored by a majority of the sex.

Ladies! a word in your ear. Have you lovers? and would you possess a worthy husband? Choose then the man whose delicacy of deportment, whose sense of your worth, leaves him to stand aloof, while others, with less modesty and no feeling, crowd around you. If he blushes, if he stammers even, at your approach, consider these things as many signs of his exalted opinion of your sex. If he is retiring and modest, let not a thousand fancies weigh him down in the balance; for depend upon it, with him your life will be happier, even with comparative poverty, than with many that are surrounded by the splendor of palaces.

Never Despair. Many who have heard the anecdote of the cool composure and resignation of Sir Isaac Newton, when his little dog overturned a lamp, and burned up his papers, destroying the fruits of many years labor...

A pair of Norway rats having taken possession and appropriated it, had reared there a family. A few gnawed bits of paper were the only remains of what a few months before had been a thousand marvelous representations of the curious inhabitants of the air.

Returning from Philadelphia after an absence of several months, absorbed in the delights of home, he failed to inquire into the fate of a certain wooden box, which, before his departure, he had entrusted to the care of a relative, with the strictest injunctions as to its safety.

interrogation, this treasure was produced, the dearly prized deposit of all his drawings, more cherished than a casket of great jewels. It was opened, and what was Audubon's dismay to perceive the misfortune which had befallen it.

A pair of Norway rats having taken possession and appropriated it, had reared there a family. A few gnawed bits of paper were the only remains of what a few months before had been a thousand marvelous representations of the curious inhabitants of the air.

Like an electric stroke it thrilled his whole nervous system, and for some time it caused the entire prostration of his physical powers. A burning heat rushed through his brain on the discovery—the discovery of the entire wreck of the result of all his efforts and his patience.

For nights he could not sleep, and days were passed with listless apathy, till at length invigoration of mind and frame, under kindly influences, returned. He again took up his pencils, his notebook and his gun, and went forth to the woods. Then, consoling himself with the reflection that he could make much better drawings than before, he persevered untiringly for three whole years, till his portfolio was replenished.

SINGING FOR WORKING MEN.—Smith, the razor-strap man, says, "When I drank grog I owned a cat, a poor, lean, lantern-jawed thing that was always getting into scrapes. As I had nothing for her to eat she had to take the highway, and the neighbors were continually crying out, 'Cuss that Smith's cat, she's drunk all the milk.' She had to steal or die, for she could find no picking at home, for even the poor mice that were left were so poor and scraggy that it took several of them to make a shadow, and a decent cat would starve to death on an allowance of eighteen pence per day.

But when I reformed things took a different turn. The kitchen was well provided the crumbs were plenty, and the old cat grew fat and honest together. Even the mice grew fat and oily, and the old lady would make a hearty supper on two of them, and then lie down and snore with the pleasing consolation of knowing that when she awoke there would be plenty more of the same sort.

And again, when I was a beer guzzler, mother cried, father cried, Bill cried, Moll cried, and the cat cried. But when I signed the pledge, father sung, Bill sung, wife sung, mother sung, Moll sung, Bet sung, the cat sung, and the kettle sung, and I bought on it a new frying pan, and placed a piece of meat on it on the fire; and that sung, and that's the kind of singing for the working man."

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion; when I see the tombs of the parents themselves, I consider the vanity of grieving for those who must quickly follow. When I see kings lying by those who have deposed them, when I consider the rival wife placed side by side, or the holy men that divided the world with their interests and disputes, I reflect with sorrow and astonishment on the little competitions, factions and debates of mankind.

When I read the several dates of the tombs of some six hundred years ago, I consider that great day when we shall all of us be contemporaries and make our appearance together.

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion; when I see the tombs of the parents themselves, I consider the vanity of grieving for those who must quickly follow.

When I see kings lying by those who have deposed them, when I consider the rival wife placed side by side, or the holy men that divided the world with their interests and disputes, I reflect with sorrow and astonishment on the little competitions, factions and debates of mankind.

When I read the several dates of the tombs of some six hundred years ago, I consider that great day when we shall all of us be contemporaries and make our appearance together.

THE LITTLENESS OF LIFE.—When I look upon the tombs of the great, every emotion of envy dies in me; when I read the epitaphs of the beautiful, every inordinate desire goes out; when I meet with the griefs of parents upon a tombstone, my heart melts with compassion; when I see the tombs of the parents themselves, I consider the vanity of grieving for those who must quickly follow.

The President's Message.

The most significant passages in the President's message, are those which relate to the conduct of foreign states towards the United States in the present war, and the recognition of the independence and sovereignty of Hayti and Liberia.

Of the first Mr. Lincoln says justly (in substance,) that the perpetuity of the Union of the State, and of our present form of government, depends less on the conduct of foreign powers than on the patriotism, virtue and intelligence of Americans themselves.

The President favors the compulsory colonization of negroes "contraband of war," and the encouragement of free negroes to emigrate. The recognition of Hayti and Liberia evidently looks to those two countries as the place of settlement for negro emigrants.

The proposition to build a railroad through Cumberland Gap, to connect the loyal countries of Kentucky and North Carolina, is placed on the ground of "military necessity."

Mr. Lincoln appears to be disposed to deal frankly and boldly with foreign powers; avoiding causes of offense, yet disposed to resent encroachments. He renders prompt satisfaction in the case of the detention of a British merchantman, and seizes the Confederate Commissioner aboard of another, for which he makes no apology.

The financial statement is very meager, and in postal matters evidently erroneous—probably a fault of the telegraph. The war expenses amount to near a hundred million a quarter.

The revision, codification and condensation of the United States statutes, is a subject of great general interest, and if successfully accomplished—as proposed by the President—will be of incalculable value to the legal profession and laymen as well.

The re-organization of the circuit courts of the United States, so as to extend their jurisdiction over all the states and territories of the United States, is but an act of simple justice to the various communities of the Union.

The proposition to establish courts under the military power to collect repudiated debts, is one which may lead to monstrous abuses. If it is done, thousands of good Union men in the South may yet be despoiled by the strong hand of military power, under the pretense of paying northern creditors.

The editor of the Oregonian, not content with having his person covered all over with brass buttons, arrogates the right to question the right of one of our correspondents to speak of the Rev. Mr. Pearne's address on the occasion of Col. Baker's death, and takes us to task in extremely dictatorial terms, for admitting the matter in question into our columns.

Passing over all the minor points in the message, Mr. Lincoln has struck upon a popular chord when he defends the dignity of labor. The destinies of the Union have been too long in the hands of men who despised the everyday employments of life.

Those of our patrons who have promised to furnish us wood will greatly oblige by bringing it in immediately.

Christmas.

The word mass is of Saxon origin, and signifies a feast; so that the word Christmas signifies the festival of Christ—the day on which his nativity is generally commemorated by his disciples throughout the world.

Among the Jews, God appointed several feasts to perpetuate the memory of certain great events; such as the passover, the feast of weeks, of tabernacles, and of trumpets, when the civil year was ushered in. In the christian church the Lord's supper is kept in remembrance of his death and coming again; Easter Sunday in memory of his resurrection, and Christmas day to celebrate the wonderful event of his incarnation.

The first traces we find of the observation of this day, are in the second century, about the time of the emperor Commodus. That it was kept before the time of Constantine we have a melancholy proof; for while the persecution raged under Diocletian, who then kept his court at Nicomedia, that tyrant, among other acts of cruelty, finding multitudes of christians assembled together to celebrate Christ's nativity, commanded the church doors where they were met to be shut, and fire to be put to it, which soon reduced them and the church to ashes.

Whether this festival was always observed on the twenty-fifth of December, is a point which has been greatly disputed. Mr. Cure is of opinion that it was first kept by the Eastern church in January; till receiving better information from the Western churches, they changed it to that day.

All christians are agreed that when observed it should not be with "rioting and drunkenness," or in "making provisions to fulfill the lusts of the flesh," but with gratitude and sacred joy. The birth of Christ was the greatest blessing ever bestowed on mankind. The angels from heaven celebrated it with a joyful song.

No TRAIL FROM GRAND RONDE TO SALMON RIVER.—Mr. P. Lowe, an old and reliable resident of Linn county, called at our office during the past week to furnish us information obtained by himself during a recent prospecting trip through the Grand Ronde valley, Powder river, etc.

Mr. Lowe gives us a decidedly unfavorable report. He states that up to this time, no practicable trail has been discovered across the mountain, and that no one has ever been over with the exception of a party of Frenchmen, who left Grand Ronde some time since and are supposed to have crossed the mountains in the direction of Salmon river.

Mr. Abbott, who has been most persevering and energetic in his efforts to cross the mountains, as also to open a communication through to Salmon river from points below, viz Grand Ronde valley, informed Mr. Lowe that he had made thorough and close examination along the banks of Snake river for a distance of fifty miles, to obtain a safe crossing, and had not yet met with success; and the large band of cattle which Mr. Abbott has been endeavoring for the past month or more to rush into the Salmon river market, are still in the Grand Ronde valley.

Mr. Lowe gives it as his opinion that it will be impossible to open a trail through the mountains, and returning from Grand Ronde to this place, has fallen into the ranks with those who prefer a direct and pleasant road to prospecting for new routes, and has proceeded on his way to the Salmon river mines.

Mr. Lowe desires us to request the Oregon Democrat to copy the substance of the above, for the benefit of his friends and the public in that county.

The editor of the Oregonian, not content with having his person covered all over with brass buttons, arrogates the right to question the right of one of our correspondents to speak of the Rev. Mr. Pearne's address on the occasion of Col. Baker's death, and takes us to task in extremely dictatorial terms, for admitting the matter in question into our columns.

Passing over all the minor points in the message, Mr. Lincoln has struck upon a popular chord when he defends the dignity of labor. The destinies of the Union have been too long in the hands of men who despised the everyday employments of life.

Those of our patrons who have promised to furnish us wood will greatly oblige by bringing it in immediately.

Sports of the Season.

Every season has its enjoyments, and every variety of temperature and weather its uses. Winter, in this climate, is certainly not the least useful and agreeable of the four great divisions of the year. Aside from its benefits in an agricultural point of view, its sharp frosts and chilling winds are frequently the means of rejuvenating the exhausted bodies that a long residence in the land of Webfoot has relaxed.

"Fun is fun," driving in "jumpers" and "pungs" is fun; galloping around in the frost is fun; "snow-balling" is fun; but putting small cobbles in snow-balls and shying them at the heads of passers-by, is no fun. Not only is it unbecomingly frisky and fun-loving denizens of this place as an indication of the effect of our dry, elastic atmosphere, Walla Walla is the place of all places in point of healthiness.

Well, we have had sleigh-riding, snow-balling—with small cobbles—the snow-balls—small cobbles—the "Ingomar" for the first time in this place, and J. B. R. doing the "reformed" rhabrian, and dancing parties until the boys and girls could not rest.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

Oregon Items.

The dwelling house of Mr. James Gore, near Albany, was destroyed by fire, on the 12th inst. Pretty much all the contents of the house were lost, entire loss $4000.

The late rise in the Willamette was two feet higher than the back-water of 1859, and three feet above the high water of 1852 and '53.—Mr. L. F. Beatty, of Shoshone has been giving recitations in Portland at the Willamette Theater, and has met a flattering reception.

Portland Correspondence. PORTLAND, Oregon, Dec. 21, 1861. MESSRS. EDITORS: The regiment of cavalry under Col. Cornelius, is progressing slowly.

There are some now who are about ready to enlist, and I presume the company will be filled up ultimately. The regiment has done much better than I had anticipated; the gold fever had attacked so many of our citizens, that it seemed almost impossible for any to be induced to enlist in the service of Uncle Sam for three years.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

There is very little news since my last. The mails have got down to their regular time yet, and we get no news from the east except by steamer. The Brother Jonathan is hourly expected with something important from the States.

Letter from Oregon City.

A returned miner writes us as follows, from Oregon City, under date of Dec. 10, 1861: MESSRS. EDITORS: After numerous delays, I reached this place yesterday, safely. There is but one topic here now, and that the great flood. The papers will give you full accounts of the immense destruction of property in this valley by the high water.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

Everybody is going to Salmon river in the Spring. The rich deposits of gold discovered there, will induce every one who can possibly get there to go, either as miners or traders. It will be useless to advise the farmer or mechanic that they can do better at home—they will not believe it; they will point to A and B, who have made their "piles," while they forget that C, D, E and F have made nothing.

More About the Flood.

The Corvallis Union in reference to the destruction by the late freshet in the southern part of the State says: Mr. B. F. Dowell, who left Jacksonville on Sunday, Dec. 1st, says the destruction was great in Rogue River and the Umpqua valleys. He says Evan's bridge on Rogue River is gone. Briggs' bridge on the South Umpqua, the North Umpqua bridge at Winchester, the bridge on Pass Creek in Umpqua, near Mr. Drain's place, and several others of lesser note. He thinks that the freshet out South has been full as severe as in the Willamette valley.

From L. F. Mosher Esq. we learn that Markham's mill about a quarter of a mile above the Winchester bridge is gone with the houses adjoining the same, and about 300 head of hogs belonging to Markham. Also Kind's saw mill on North Umpqua, Mulvan's saw mill on Pass Creek in Umpqua county is gone, and that all the bridges between Mulvan's and Estes are rendered useless. Mr. Mosher came by the Pass Creek road, and represents it almost impassable by reason of the quantity of fallen timber, logs and drift upon it. He came down the coast Fork, arriving December 8th, in Eugene City. The water in Eugene was then six inches higher than it had been the highest time of the first flood December 2d.

From Eugene City to Coyle's on the river road, there is scarcely one rail on top of another except in drift piles. The loss of stock is very considerable. The grass is all covered up with mud and sand so that what stock has escaped the flood will probably starve to death for want of pasture. If anybody proposes to travel South, Mr. Mosher advises them to go with the expectation of working their passage, and to take a life preserver along with them. Workmen were busily engaged putting up a new bridge on Pass Creek, near Mr. Drain's place, as our informant came by.

We would feel greatly obliged to our contemporaries in Portland if they would send us their exchanges by Tracy's express. At present, they fail to reach here in time to be of any service to us.

We learn that the Christmas ball, given at the residence of Mr. McWhirk, seven miles in the country, was pleasant and well attended. Owing to other engagements, and the scarcity of sleighs, we could not be present.

We return thanks to our friends of the editorial corps for the flattering notices they have been pleased to bestow upon our paper, and shall strive in the future to merit their commendations.

Lieut. Hillier, of Company A, 9th Regt. California Volunteers, stationed at the Fort, has resigned, and left last Sunday for California, to take his seat in the Legislative Assembly of that State.

Messrs. Kyger & Reese brought to this office, as a Christmas treat, a jug of very fine strawberry brandy. They have a few more left of the same sort, and for sale at a very low price.

MEMBER FROM SHOSHONE.—It appears that Mr. L. F. Beatty, from Shoshone county, was admitted to a seat in the Territorial legislature.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.—Methodist Episcopal Church, First street, Walla Walla—Rev. John Finis, Pastor—Preaching every Sunday morning and evening at the usual hours. The public generally are invited.

Kyger & Reese are constantly receiving large stocks of goods. Miners will find everything they require—either in the line of dry goods or supplies—at their store.

ORO FINO PRICES CURRENT. BACON—per lb., 50 to 60c. FLOUR—per 100 lbs., 25 to 30c. BEANS—per lb., 25 to 30c. SUGAR—per lb., 40 to 50c. RICE—per lb., 40 to 50c. APPLES—Dried, per lb., 45 to 60c. BUTTER—per lb., 75c to $1. COFFEES—per lb., 80c to $1. TEA—per lb., $1.25 to $1.50. TOBACCO—per lb., $1 to $1.50.

New-Year's Ball!

J. B. ROBINSON MOST respectfully announces to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Walla Walla and vicinity that he will give a Grand New-Year's Ball at the Theater, on Tuesday Evening, Dec. 31st, 1861, and solicits the patronage of the public generally.

COACHES will be in attendance, free of charge. J. B. ROBINSON, Manager.

The next DRAMATIC PERFORMANCE will take place on Saturday, 28th. A GOOD BILL will be offered.

Sheriff's Sale.

Territory of Washington, County of Walla Walla, ss: I, JAMES HICKLEY, Sheriff of said County, do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the proceedings in said court on the 10th of December, aforesaid, in favor of Christ Kirz and against John Buseneger and Henry Brown, for the sum of twelve hundred dollars and costs, taxed at one dollar, and interest, the following property, to-wit: Lot No. seven (7) in Block No. four, (4) according to the plat of survey of the town of Walla Walla, and all the buildings and improvements thereon, and will sell the above described lot number seven in block four, at public auction, to the highest bidder, on Saturday, the 25th day of January, A. D. 1862 at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to satisfy said execution, or so much thereof as may be necessary, and cost and interest, and all accruing interest, costs and charges. Sale to take place on the premises.

JAMES HICKLEY, Sheriff. Dec. 27, 1861.—[w4] BY GEO. H. FORSTER, Dep'y.

Territory of Washington.

County of Walla Walla, ss: In the District Court of Walla Walla County—First Judicial District. To JOHN MULLEN: YOU are hereby notified that James B. Robbins has filed a complaint against you in said Court, which will come on to be heard at the first term of the Court which shall convene more than three months after the 28th day of December, A. D. 1861; and unless you appear at said term and answer, the same will be taken as confessed, and the prayer thereof granted. The object and prayer of said complaint is to recover of you the sum of two hundred and fifty-six dollars and fifty-cents, debt, and interest thereon, and after the sixth day of May, 1861, on a judgment rendered against you in the county court in and for the county of Walla Walla in the State of Oregon, on the said sixth day of May, 1861, and also for his costs in said suit in said court, and expenses and paid, amounting to the further sum of eighteen dollars and five cents, and for his costs and expenses in this action, and for accruing interest and costs. Birdseye & Gates, Dec. 27, 1861.—[w4] ATT'Y for Plff.

BY all your Oil Cloth, of H. J. M. TROUTT.

WALLA WALLA PRICES CURRENT.

BAKON—per lb. 25 to 28c. FLOUR—per hundred, $4 to 7. BEANS—per lb. 15 to 18c. SUGAR—China, 18 to 20c; New Orleans, 22 to 25c; Island, 20 to 22c; Crushed, 15c. RICE—per lb. 18 to 20c. DRIED APPLES—per lb. 20 to 25c. YEAST POWDER—per doz. $4 to 6. CANDLES—per lb. 50c. SOAP—Hill's, per lb. 17 1/2c; Fays, 18c. TOBACCO—per lb. 50c to $1. NAILS—per lb. 15c. BUTTER—Fresh rolls, per lb. 75c; Oregon, 50c. EGGS—per doz. 25c to 30c. WHEAT—per bushel, $1.25 to 1.00.

Brown Bro's & Co.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN—

Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, clothing,

GROCERIES, &c.

TAKE pleasure in announcing to the public generally that they are now in receipt of a full and complete stock for the winter trade.

DRESS GOODS—French and English Merinos, Scotch plaids and all the latest styles; French and American Calicoes; Black and Colored Silks.

DOMESTICS—Bleached and Brown Shirtings, and Sheetings; Linens; Grey, Blue, Red and white Blankets; Plain and Twilled Flannels.

White Goods—Jaconets; Swiss Mull and check Muslin; Colored and Striped; Embroidered Bands and Laces; Russia and Linen Towels; Irish and table Linens.

Shawls! Shawls! Shawls Shawls!

Brushes, Sticks and wool; also,

Ladies' and Misses Cloaks.

Clothing:

Business, Dress and Overcoats and Cloaks, Pants and Vests;

Merino, Silk, and Lambswool Drawers and Undershirts; Linen and Silk Handkerchiefs; Cotton Socks, and Wool Half Hose.

BOOTS! BOOTS! BOOTS!

MATTING AND CARPETING.

and an endless variety of

GROCERIES!

AND—

Miners' Outfitting Goods!

all of which will be sold

CHEAP FOR CASH!

Schwabacker Bro's & Co.,

WALLA WALLA

AND ORO FINO CITY, W. T.

Wholesale and Retail dealers in

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

Clothing of all descriptions;

Men's and boys' hats and caps;

Gents' and boys' furnishing goods;

Boots, shoes and gaiters; also,

Staple and Fancy Groceries,

PROVISIONS, WINES AND LIQUORS,

Cigars, Crockery and Glassware,

Hardware, and Tinware.

We call the attention of the public to our well-assorted stock.

BETTER INDICEMENTS

THAN ANY OTHER HOUSE

In this Upper Country.

Orders from the Country promptly attended to.

Produce bought at market rates.

Dec. 26, 1861.

Walla Walla Brewery.

JOSEPH HELLMUTH,

Manufacturer of

LAGER BEER,

And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

WINES AND LIQUORS,

MAIN STREET, WALLA WALLA.

THE proprietor keeps constantly on hand wines and liquors of all kinds, and of the best brands, and will always take great pleasure in waiting upon all who may visit his well-arranged saloon.

Nov. 23, 1861.

JOHN WILSON,

Portland, Oregon.

DEALER IN

Staple and Fancy Dry Goods,

CLOTHING,

BOOTS, SHOES, AND GROCERIES,

Billiard Cloth,

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S FURNISHING GOODS,

Tailors' Trimmings, &c.

New Goods are received by almost every steamer.

Orders (with the Cash) for any kind of merchandise promptly filled.

Dec. 20, 1861.

SHERIFF SALE.

TERMINATION OF WASHINGTON,

County of Walla Walla,

NOTICE is hereby given that by virtue of a writ of execution issued out of the District Court of Walla Walla county, W. T., and to the undersigned directed upon a certain judgment rendered in said court on the 23d day of October, 1861, in a suit therein pending for the sum of $47.15, interests and costs, in favor of Samuel M. Baldwin and against C. Langley, I will, on Monday the 30th December, sell at public auction in the town of Walla Walla, W. T., at 12 o'clock, noon, to the highest bidder, for cash, one dark roan stallion, levied upon as the property of said Langley, the proceeds thereof to apply on said judgment, interests, costs and accruing costs.

JAMES BURLEY, Sheriff.

For Geo. H. Foster, Deput.

Dec. 19, 1861.

WALLA WALLA

Wagon and Carriage Manufactory

MAIN STREET, WALLA WALLA.

THE undersigned would respectfully announce to the citizens of Walla Walla and the surrounding country that they have opened a

WAGON MANUFACTORY

in this city, and are prepared to execute all kinds of work pertaining to the business.

We shall keep constantly on hand and for sale

WAGONS AND BUGGIES

of the very best manufacture; also all kinds of wagon material, consisting of

SPOKES, FELLOES,

HUBS,

OAK AND ASH PLANK,

All of which is of the best quality and well seasoned.

REPAIRING.

Particular attention will be given to this department of the business; and all work entrusted to us will be done with neatness and dispatch, at reasonable rates.

PACK SADDLES,

Of the best quality and style, always kept on hand.

SMITH & DAVIS,

PORTLAND, OREGON,

APOTHECARIES,

and wholesale dealers in every variety of

DRUGS, MEDICINES, CHEMICALS

WOULD call the attention of Merchants and artists of the Cascades, to their large stock of articles in this line of trade, calculated to supply the wants of a

Frontier and Mining Population.

The recent gold discoveries in the great basin of the Columbia, and the rush of population thither, have created a demand for many articles of the Drug Trade which have not heretofore been generally kept; but we are now prepared to execute orders from the mining region in a manner that will give satisfaction to the purchaser both as to

QUALITY AND PRICE!

Goods packed in a manner that will insure safe and easy transportation to the most remote districts.

SMITH & DAVIS,

Portland, Dec. 6th, 1861.

PORTLAND FOUNDRY

MACHINE SHOP!

FIRST STREET,

Between Yamhill and Morrison.

HAVING become sole proprietor of this old and favorably known establishment, the undersigned is now preparing to manufacture all kinds of

STEAM ENGINES

of from 4 to 40 horse-power, either Portable or Stationary; also,

Circular Saw-mills complete,

Hay Presses of all sizes,

Planing Machines, (Woodworth's pattern.)

Wrought and cast iron work for Vertical saw and Grist Mills; Brass and Iron Castings, and Wrought iron work of all descriptions.

All orders executed with dispatch, and in a workmanlike manner.

P. S.—A reduction has been made in all kinds of work at my shop, to suit the times and correspond with California prices. D. MONNASTES.

Dec. 6th, 1861.

H. HOWARD,

MAIN ST., WALLA WALLA,

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

GENERAL MERCHANDISE

CLOTHING, GROCERIES,

BOOTS AND SHOES, HATS AND CAPS, &c.

THE attention of the citizens of this town and surrounding country, is respectfully called to the fact that I am prepared with a complete stock of goods in the above line, to offer good bargains to purchasers. I shall do a

GENERAL MERCHANDISE BUSINESS, and endeavor to keep constantly on hand a full assortment of

DRY GOODS,

CLOTHING,

BOOTS AND SHOES,

HATS AND CAPS,

GROCERIES,

PROVISIONS, &c.

Also a full assortment of Miners' and Packers' Goods.

H. HOWARD,

Dec. 6, 1861.

HODGE & CALEF

PORTLAND, OREGON,

IMPORTING AND WHOLESALE

DRUGGISTS,

Offer for sale at Reduced Rates:

50 Cans Camphene,

50 Cans Kerosene,

50 " Coal Oil,

50 " Lined Oil,

50 " Turpentine,

300 Boxes Window Glass,

20,000 Pounds Pure White Lead;

WITH A COMPLETE STOCK OF

BRUSHES, VARNISHES,

Painters' Materials, &c.

—OUR STOCK OF—

DRUGS AND MEDICINES

Consists of regular importations from the Eastern Markets, and for

EXTENT AND COMPLETENESS

is without an equal in the State. Goods put up in a superior manner, and carefully packed for safe transportation to any part of the country.

Prices and quality guaranteed to give satisfaction.

HODGE & CALEF,

Wholesale dealers in Drugs, Paints and Oils, Portland, Oregon.

J. C. ISAACS,

Wholesale and retail dealer in

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING,

HATS, CAPS, BOOTS, SHOES,

Hardware, Groceries, Provisions,

Miners' Tools, etc.

Main street, next door to Printing Office.

WHEAT, BARLEY and OATS taken in exchange for Goods.

TWO WAGONS FOR SALE.

Two new Carriage Bells; Horse and Mule Shoes; Norway shoe-shapes, and Norway Nail Rods, at NORTHROP & CO'S Portland, Oregon.

THE newest styles Paper Hangings can always be found at

H. J. M. TROUT'S

IRON, Steel, Wagon and Seat Springs, Griffin (G) Nails, at

NORTHROP & CO'S,

Portland, Oregon.

WALLA WALLA AND DALLES STAGE CO.

THROUGH

IN TWO DAYS!

THE Undersigned will commence running on December 24, 1861, a

TRI-WEEKLY STAGE LINE

—FROM—

Walla Walla to Dalles and Back.

THE STAGE will start at FOUR O'CLOCK every

TUESDAY, THURSDAY & SATURDAY

mornings, making the trip through to the DALLES

IN TWO DAYS!

THE Stages will start from WALLA WALLA and DALLES at the same time.

MILLER & BLACKMOR.

D. McCRAITH,

Nex Perce street, Walla Walla,

IMPORTER AND WHOLESALE AND RE-

TAIL dealer in

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

LIQUORS,

WINE, &c.

AGENT FOR THE SALE OF

Vancouver Brewery Ale,

Lager Beer,

California Native Wines,

Essence of Jamaica Ginger,

Turner's Syrup,

Cordials, &c., &c.

BRANDIES:

Holland Gin,

Jamaica Rum,

Irish and Scotch Whisky,

Old Bourbon and Rye whisky,

Bowers' Bourbon whisky,

Monongahela whisky,

London Stout,

Dublin Porter, &c.

THE CELEBRATED

Oldner's Delta Eye-Opener!

AND A GREAT VARIETY OF

CASE GOODS, CORDIAL GIN, CIGARS,

SADDLE BAG WHISKY, &c.

Country Orders solicited and punctually attended to. TERMS invariably CASH.

1y

ABBOTT'S

LIVERY, SALE AND EXCHANGE STABLES.

MAIN STREET, WALLA WALLA.

Regular Line of Stages

TO THE OLD FORT.

Running in connection with the arrival and departure of the Steamers.

THE ATTENTION OF THE CITIzens of Walla Walla and vicinity, is respectfully called to the fact that I have a full and complete stock of goods in this line of trade, calculated to supply the wants of a

Frontier and Mining Population.

The recent gold discoveries in the great basin of the Columbia, and the rush of population thither, have created a demand for many articles of the Drug Trade which have not heretofore been generally kept; but we are now prepared to execute orders from the mining region in a manner that will give satisfaction to the purchaser both as to

QUALITY AND PRICE!

Goods packed in a manner that will insure safe and easy transportation to the most remote districts.

SMITH & DAVIS,

Portland, Dec. 6th, 1861.

Wagon and Carriage Manufactory

MAIN STREET, WALLA WALLA.

THE undersigned would respectfully announce to the citizens of Walla Walla and the surrounding country that they have opened a

New Grocery and Provision Store!

MAIN STREET, (Next door to the Drug Store.)

Mastin & Fisher,

GENERAL DEALERS IN

GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS,

Flour and Bacon,

Sandwich Island, S. F. Refined and Crushed Sugars

Black and Green Tea,

Green and Ground Coffee,

Butter, Cheese and Crackers,

Syrup, Salt, Brooms,

Pepper and Allspice,

Gold Scales,

Gold Dust Bags, &c., &c.

A general assortment of Miners' and Packers' Goods.

DRIED AND GREEN FRUITS:

Apples and Peaches,

Dried Apples and Peaches.

CAN FRUIT:

Oysters, Sardines, Chickens,

Table Fruits, &c.

TOBACCO AND CIGARS:

Plain and Fancy Pipes,

Combs and Brushes,

Playing Cards,

Fancy Soaps,

Mirrors, &c.

—ALSO—

General Assortment of Confectionary.

MASTIN & FISHER.

COSMOPOLITAN

RESTAURANT!

MAIN STREET, OPPOSITE THE POST OFFICE,

WALLA WALLA.

S. M. Nolan, Proprietor.

THE Proprietor of the Cosmopolitan takes occasion to say to the public generally that he will spare no pains to make his Restaurant second to none in this city, in the style of conducting it and in the quality of edibles with which the table will be supplied.

Notwithstanding the other houses have raised in the prices of board, I shall retain the

The Old Standard Prices,

