Official Paper of North Yakima.

SEYMOUR Dolph has declined to allow his name to be used as a candidate for the office of circuit judge of the 9th judicial district, and now it seems probable that the office will be offered to Senator John B. Allen.

JUDGE SACHS, of Port Townsend, who was tried before the last legislature on a charge of gambling, has begun a crusade against the games, and insists on holding the sheriff and chief of police answerable for their continuance in the city.

SPOKANE Review: It is said over 600 acres will be planted to hops in the vicinity of Yakima next spring. This season's yield, unimpaired by pests or other foes, encouraged an increase in the industry, and this garden spot is likely to be as famous for hops as it already is for fruit.

A KENTUCKY minister named Parish, has recently given the great Yakima country a slap direct in the face by maintaining in his sermons that the watermelon was the forbidden fruit. If the Reverend Parish could throw his lips over the juicy and fragrant heart of one of our sixty or seventy pound melons he would become convinced that God in his kindness and wisdom never intended to keep such delicious fruit from his children.

REV. DR. BURCHARD, whose famous alliteration, "Rom, Romanism and Rebellion" was one of the potent factors in the defeat of James G. Blaine in 1884, died at Saratoga, New York on Sept. 25th. Burchard came in time to believe that he was the instrument of divine power to effect exactly opposite what was in his heart to do, when he made his famous speech that brought down upon his head the wrath and objections of all republicans.

The reunion of the Missourians has been postponed and is now in a state of indetermination from which it is difficult to get head or tail. If there is to be a reunion THE HERALD would suggest that there be a round-up of coons and that the committee send south for a supply of "possums which would add immensely to the barbecue and be certain of attracting every Missourian within the confines of this state besides inducing many from Oregon and Idaho to be present. "Possum and coon meat is a delicacy a genuine Missourian cannot resist.

The state board of equalization is now in session at Olympia and a number of counties have had their representatives in attendance, and among them Yakima county, who was represented by Auditor Myron H. Ellis. Mr. Ellis has asked that the assessment of this county be not increased and he has the well wishes of every citizen in his efforts, for many are still groaning under the injustice which was perpetrated last year. Yakima is ready to meet an equitable and necessary taxation, but it protests against being ground down to raise money to pay for extravagant and corrupt measures such as were imposed by the late republican legislature.

The official axe has dropped, and S. W. Lamping, special agent of the interior department, spoke a few mornings ago to find his head in the same condition as that of ex-Collector Bradshaw. The de-capitalization thus commenced is not to end there, but Register Ira M. Krutz is the next one to go. Mr. Krutz promised to resign way back in April last, but he has been holding on like grim death, but now even the Northern Pacific cannot hold him in position much longer. Congressman Wilson is vigorously urging his removal and the inspector, who recently visited this office will report against his longer being retained on the grounds that the good of the service demands a change.

There is blood on the face of the moon. Irrigation ditches are liable to run red and the citizens of Yakima obliged to wade through gore knee deep. What the trouble is no one knows but a federal office holder and a prominent republican spent a half hour in criminalations and recriminations on Yakima avenue, Thursday, and the former has told the latter that if certain things are the case he will make him eat his words, and the latter has sworn a mighty oath that he will not partake of the bill of fare nominated. A leading democrat who witnessed the wordy waging of war was so disgusted with the amount of hard talk without a blow that he was forced to take to his bed, and dreamed all night of a terrific battle in which mountain howitzers were the weapons and codfish balls the ammunition.

WHAT is to be done with Colonel J. C. Haines and Adjutant-General Ross G. O'Brien in the question now agitating militia circles. O'Brien was insolent to the subordinate officer and received a slap in the face in return. Col. Haines insists that he used the flat of his hand in the assault, but eye witnesses claim that it was even more gross than that and the blow was dealt with a sheet of music—"Annie Rooney," in fact. The newspaper comments on the affair do not agree as to the best course to be pursued. The Olympian says it was the first time O'Brien was ever in an engagement, and maintains that Haines should be court-martialed—for not hitting O'Brien harder. The Press-Times suggests a twenty-four foot ring, with Margala of Gooseberry rules, in which to vindicate their wounded honor; but a better plan, and one which would satisfy the militia as well as the people in general, would be to induce Thug Sullivan to kidnap both and spirit them out of the state. There is no danger that a reward would be offered for their return.

The Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias, at regular meeting Saturday night, elected J. H. Greer, Sir Knight Captain; W. S. Scott, Sir Knight Lieutenant and W. H. Crook, Sir Knight Herald. Hereafter this organization will meet every second and fourth Saturday night in the month, in the old G. A. R. hall. The rank is in good working order and the Sir Knights are drilling hard.

The reservation blacksmith, an Indian named Shullen, was arrested Wednesday, by Marshal McMurty. Shullen was drunk and at the time of the arrest was chasing his squaw whom he claimed was unduly intimate with both Indians and white men. That the arrest was a relief to the squaw was evidenced by her informing her spouse in very good English that it served him just right.

Joe Humphrey, a colored man in the employ of Ed. Whitson, was arrested Saturday night for assaulting a Chinaman in a Front street restaurant and severing a celestial artery with a knife. At the preliminary examination before Justice Gardner the defendant was bound over to the superior court in the sum of $200.

A report has been circulated in Tacoma that the artesian well here has ceased flowing. Well, we just guess not! It is belching forth the fluid that is to redeem the arid lands of that section in a manner most gratifying. Instead of lessening the flow has increased very materially since the well was opened.

The second artesian well of the artesian company was down 250 feet when a stratum of sand was encountered and work had to be suspended to secure casing. The casing arrived here Wednesday and the boring has again been resumed. Every indication so far is favorable to the early striking of artesian water.

It is reported that all lands of the Northern Pacific, Yakima & Kittitas Irrigation company are at once to be put on the market at a uniform price of $45 an acre with perpetual water right. Manager Granger is now at Tacoma so THE HERALD is unable to verify the report.

Congressman J. L. Wilson informed THE HERALD representative while in Spokane the other day that he expected to visit Yakima within the next thirty days. Mr. Wilson is urging the appointment of R. K. Nichols as register of the U. S. land office at this place.

There will be service at the Presbyterian church, Sunday morning, when the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed. There will be no service in the evening, the congregation being invited to the opening services of the new Methodist minister.

A dozen arrests have been made within the past month of persons charged with selling liquor to Indians. The last arrest was made yesterday. Four prisoners are now ready for the pen and will be taken there by the sheriff within a day or two.

RECOLLECTIONS OF SPOKANE.

Settings of What The Herald Representative Saw and Heard in the Falls City.

The democratic delegation to the love feast of the untrifled at Spokane have returned and all unite in expressions favorable to Spokane and the entertainment accorded them. The people up there showed much interest in this section and seemed to be well advised of the artesian schemes and the big irrigation canal being built through the Sunnyside country and in all of their expressions showed their faith in Yakima. The meeting of the various societies was an unqualified success. Out of a possible 305 delegates nearly two hundred and fifty were present and a better looking or more intelligent appearing body of men it would be difficult to secure in any state. A marked fact noticeable about the gathering was the preponderance of young men, who were there as delegates, many of whom were of republican parentage plainly showing that the vigorous young men of Washington are not taking up with party through inheritance but are giving the issues of the day careful thought and study and are allying themselves with that side which best represents their convictions of progressive, honest government, and a government that will pass and execute laws to benefit the people in general instead of those measures which are especially framed to create and build up a plutocracy. The Yakima delegation had secured quarters at the "Cosmos" the very comfortable hotel in the magnificent Hyde block, which is presided over by Mrs. Welch, a most estimable lady, who is ever active and solicitous to give her guests those attentions which will tend to make their stay pleasant. Spokane, as all know, has passed through a very dull and trying period, but the rim of silver is now to be seen circling the black clouds of depression with a halo that indicates coming prosperity. Magnificent crops and high prices have stimulated business and the merchants and business men in general are feeling in better spirits and more hopeful than for many months past. The bankers talk cheerily and say the money market is getting easier every day and that a return of good old times is confidently expected—surely, if a little slowly—but that the improvement will be by graduating steps and ever in the right direction. Of the ex-Yakimites in Spokane there are none to be seen but what are doing at least fairly well. E. S. Robertson is the chief clerk in a successful insurance agency and has been presented by his wife with a bonneting boy. He thinks there was never such a kid in existence before, and treats the boy at night, during the testing and policy seasons with little or no complaint.

ARSENIC AND AMMONIA.

Remarkable Contrast in the Effect of Two Poisons on the Complexion.

The slow absorption of many poisons changes in some more or less modified form the complexion, but arsenic and ammonia show their effect about as quickly as any. The popular belief that arsenic clears the complexion has led many silly women to kill themselves with it in small, continued doses.

It produces a waxy, ivory-like appearance of the skin during a certain stage of the poisoning, but its terrible after effects have become too well known to make it of common use as a cosmetic.

The effects of ammonia upon the complexion are directly the opposite to that of arsenic. The first symptoms of ammonia poisoning which appears among those who work in ammonia factories is a discoloration of the skin of the nose and forehead. This gradually extends over the face until the complexion has become stained, blotched, and unsightly appearance. With people who take ammonia into their systems in smaller doses, as with their water or food, these striking symptoms do not appear so soon. The only effect of the poison that is visible for a time is a general unwholesomeness and sallowness of the complexion.

Many people are slowly absorbing ammonia poison without knowing it. The use of ammonia in the manufacture has greatly increased of late, and it is unquestionably used as an adulterant in certain food preparations. Official analysis have plainly shown its use even in such cheap articles of every day consumption as baking powder. The continued absorption of ammonia in even minute quantities as an adulterant in food is injurious not merely from its effect upon the complexion, but because it destroys the coating of stomach and causes dyspepsia and kindred evils.

Professor Long of Chicago, is authority for the statement that, if to fifty million parts of water there is one part of ammonia, the water is dangerous.

Tribute From Glendale, Montana.

To whom it may concern: Prof. Mutch came among us unknown and went away carrying the kind wishes and hearty thanks of our people. From a personal knowledge of his merits as a phrenologist, I most cheerfully state that I believe in him. C. G. EARLE, Superintendent Glendale Works, Hecla Consolidated Mining Co. Office of city health office, Centralia, Wash. None should neglect to obtain a chart for self or children.

A. T. BAKER, M. D. President of Lewis county Physicians Association.

Professor Mutch, an unsurpassed Phrenologist is stopping at the Hotel Bartholet, room 2, who he may be consulted until Monday noon.

Mother!

Remember that Castoria does not contain Morphine, Opium, or any other narcotic substance, in any quantity, shape or form. It is entirely vegetable, pleasant to take, positively effective, and perfectly harmless. It is not a secret remedy; the formula is printed on the wrapper. Your physician will recommend it. Paregoric, Eucalypti Drops and many so-called Soothing Syrups, are composed principally of Opium or Morphine; in any quantity they stupefy, and in large quantities are deadly poisons. Castoria stimulates the food and regulates the bowels, cures diarrhea, colic, feverishness and fretfulness, soothes the pain in teething, relieves constipation and kills worms. It brings refreshing and natural sleep to the child and gives rest to the mother. "Castoria is so well adapted to infants and children, that I recommend it as superior to any other known remedy."

Da. H. A. ASCHESS, '111 S. Oxford St. Brooklyn, N. Y. March 8, 1887.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pain in bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. OSOONO, v3-27-104t. Lowell, Mass.

Saved From Death by Onions.

There has no doubt been more lives of children saved from death in croup or whooping cough by the use of onions than any other known remedy. Our mothers used to make poultices of them, or a syrup, which was always effective in breaking up a cough or croup. Dr. Grant's Onion Syrup is made by combining a few remedies with it which makes it more effective as a medicine and destroys the taste and odor of the onion. 50c. Sold by Janock's Pharmacy.

—Love, courtship and marriage at Mason's opera house Saturday evening.

—Mrs. Matt Bartholet will, in a few days, open a dressmaking establishment in the new building on south First street. She is arranging to secure the services of a first-class dressmaker from Portland, and will carry a full stock of linings and finishings.

—Mrs. Cary wishes to announce that she has received a new lot of straw and felt hats of the latest style for fall and winter. 35-2t

—Fingree & Smith's shoes for ladies, gentlemen and children, just received at Ditter's.

—Honest workmanship is the best advertisement. C. E. McEwen can have his harness, bridles and saddles. They are cheaper than inferior articles because they have the lasting qualities and always look well.

—If you desire a loan on your farm or city property, Crippen, Lawrence & Co. can accommodate you. No delays. 25-1t

—Remember that Dudley Ebelman carries a full line of school books.

—If you want to invest in real estate, A. L. Fix has the choicest of bargains.

—The Elite oysters are now open to the public. 35-4t

—The best line of white bed spreads for rich and poor at Ditter's.

—Go to C. E. McEwen for ladies' side saddles. He has a splendid stock.

—For your table linens in bleached, unbleached and turkey-red, call at Ditter's.

HOPE NOTES.—Mr. Charles Carpenter is of the opinion that the hop crop of Yakima county this year will be 3000 bales, or 600 bales in excess of last year.

NO BEARS BUT COONS GALORE.—The report that several bears were committing depredations in the vicinity of the Moxee bridge brought out the following merriment on Wednesday: Sam Vinson, S. J. Love, I. H. Dilla, Matt Bartholet, Emil Schanno, W. F. Jones and Mr. Brownfield.

BARTHOLET-HEALEY.—There have been a number of marriages within the past year that have carried with them surprise to this community, but no one event in this line has created greater astonishment than the announcement of the marriage at Seattle on Wednesday, Aug. 30, of Joseph Bartholet, Sr., to Mrs. Mary Healey, both of this city.

THE CITY JAIL IS NOW BEING LIBERALLY patronized both by Indians and whites. Forty-yard and agitating whiskey seems to be the main factor in bringing about this result.

RAILROADED OUT OF EXISTENCE.—On the night of September 30th a man was killed on the railroad track about three miles this side of Satah. He was standing or walking on the track when he was struck by an extra east bound freight, and knocked into the ditch.

KEENE WILL VISIT YAKIMA.—Thomas Keene, the great tragedian, will appear at Mason's opera house, Monday evening, Oct. 19th. It is not known what drama will be presented on this occasion, but probably Bulwer's greatest composition, "Richard III."

WILL BOGUS BUILD THE RAILROAD?—A party of surveyors who have been running a line from the Columbia river to the summit of the Moxee divide finished work to-day. They claimed that the surveys were for ditch work but a fact that may have some bearing on this statement is that the chief of the corps was in the city during the visit of V. G. Bogus to Yakima and is known to have been closeted with him for some time.

MANSLAUGHTER.—A son of Columbus Jock, an Indian, is an outlaw from justice charged with manslaughter. On Sunday last he filled his carcass full of lemon extract or some of the patent medicines and while in a delicious state rode his pony over a four-year-old boy at Capt. Dunn's ranch, killing the youngster almost instantly.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Born, Tuesday, Sept. 26th, to the wife of Al. Whitson, a daughter. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Conley have taken rooms in the Syndicate block.

The ladies of the Relief Corps will give a dime social at the residence of H. L. Tucker Friday evening. Negotiations are pending for the sale of W. E. Thornton's Koonwock ranch to eastern parties for $10,000.

The total assessment of real and personal property of the state, according to the returns just completed is $407,523,752. H. Kuechler has purchased two lots on the corner of Second and E streets and proposes erecting a $2,500 residence thereon.

W. J. Hackett, who has been seriously ill with typho-malarial fever, for some weeks past, is now reported as convalescent. Dr. E. E. Heg has moved to his new home on Nob Hill where he can be reached by phone, retaining his old number, 30.

M. A. Ward is building a large two story hotel at Prosser. The frame work is already up and presents an imposing appearance from the track. Mrs. V. M. Massey, of Spokane, died in that city on Thursday.

Another lot of Seattle citizens are here to-day for the purpose of taking up and reclaiming desert land. They are being located by Messrs. Howlett & Walker. Two thousand acres of land in the Cold Creek basin have been taken up by homesteaders within the past week.

There is some talk of having a grand rabbit chase with bounds, on Thanksgiving day, in which everybody who can scare up a saddle horse will be invited to participate. Wah Yom, who is better known as "Melican Yakima," is in limbo at Ellensburg, charged with robbing a brother Celestial of money and valuables to the amount of $500.

At 5:30 p. m. Friday, Oct. 2nd, the Jewish festival of Rosh Hoshannah will begin. This is the commencement of the Hebrew year 5661, which dates from the creation of the world. C. H. Haines and Harry Spratt have purchased the windmill which has been a landmark on the Steiner ranch and have taken it to the Moxee to pump water onto their homesteads.

Kay & Lucy have refitted and opened the restaurant in the Steiner building where meals are served at all hours of the day and night. Lyman Taggart is manager of the restaurant. A social hop will be given at the Hotel Yakima Friday evening, Oct. 2nd.

Arthur L. Whaley, Northern Pacific baggage man at Pasco, died on the 28th of Sept. at that place, from an overdose of anti-pyrene, taken to ease a severe attack of headache. Whaley was 30 years old. Rev. W. H. Cornett, Walter Cornett and Henry Lombard have taken rooms in the Syndicate block formerly occupied by Crippen, Lawrence & Co, the latter having removed to the First National bank building.

Rev. D. D. Proper, the Baptist missionary for the state of Washington will hold forth at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at the Presbyterian church. A general invitation is extended to the public to be present. S. W. Lamping, the recently removed special agent, has gone on to Washington in hopes of prevailing upon Secretary Noble to reinstate him. Mr. Lamping's backing is said to center in the Grand Army people.

Dr. G. W. Cary has been convicted by the superior court of Spokane of practicing medicine illegally. Dr. Carey's attorney, C. S. Voorhees, has given notice of a motion for a new trial. He is confident of winning the case. Tacoma Globe: The exhibit of North Yakima, in charge of Mr. Ross, shows the greatest variety of products from any one place. The grapes, melons and peaches are prominent and valuable features of the productions of that valley.

The Artesian well being bored by J. M. Stout and son, on the Wood ranch, in the Wide Hollow section, is now down 230 feet and the drill is going through a very hard cement formation. Water was struck at the depth of 200 feet that welled up 20 feet. The immense amount of job work now being turned out by this office and the crowded condition of THE HERALD'S advertising columns is a strong indication that the good old times are returning and driving away the clouds of financial depression.

PERSONAL.

A. B. Ross returned from Tacoma to-day. J. M. Baxter left Tuesday for the Sound country. He returned to-day. Henry Teal returned from a visit to Portland and Tacoma Thursday.

J. D. McDaniel and family returned from Portland and Tacoma to-day. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ker attended the Bernhart entertainment at Tacoma. Mrs. T. C. Griffiths and daughter, of Spokane, are visiting friends in this city.

Tom L. Martin, of the Hotel Yakima, is down with a severe attack of malarial fever. Mr. Amasa Walker expects to leave for Boston to-morrow, to be absent a couple of weeks. W. P. Sawyer returned from Tacoma Tuesday, where he has been taking in the exposition.

E. Cory, formerly of Yakima now of Douglas county, is in the city renewing old friendships. G. W. Wilgus, Morris Henry and Nelson Rich of Prosser, spent a couple of days in the city this week. Mrs. F. B. Shardlow left on Sunday last for a visit with friends and relatives at Moscow, Spokane and Colfax.

Mrs. Wm. Lee and son, Wm. Lee, Jr., will leave to-morrow (Friday) for Walla Walla with the remains of their daughter and granddaughter. Mrs. O. M. Graves has returned from an extended visit to the Sound, and the old-time smile once more illuminates the doctor's countenance.

Hon. H. J. Snively is again able to be out, after his long and severe sickness, although no greater exertion is permitted him than a short drive. Walter Tuley and W. W. Wilcox, of Tacoma, are the guests of C. P. Wilcox. They will leave for the mountains next week on a hunting trip.

Rev. John Uren and wife left for Colfax Wednesday. They were accompanied to the train by many friends, who wished them every happiness in their new home. Rev. Robert Warner, the new pastor of the Methodist church, arrived from Columbus Thursday. Mr. Warner will be tendered a reception at the church Friday evening.

Rev. S. H. Cheddie and Rev. F. McConaughy have returned from Tacoma, where they have been attending a session of the State Association of Congregational ministers. J. M. Moore, of Orting, is here and proposes to make his home in Yakima. His family will join him in a couple of months or at as early a date as he can secure a house for them.

Mrs. Margaret Evans, of Charleston, Ill., has been appointed matron of the Wilbur school at Fort Simcoe. She arrived at her post last week and immediately entered upon her new duties. J. T. Ebelman and S. D. Cave returned from Klickitat county Wednesday. They leave for the Sound Sunday and from there Mr. Cave will continue his journey home via San Francisco.

Hon. Frank A. Sears, of Tacoma, who owns a half section of land on the bench west of the city, spent several days here this week, arranging to have an artesian well bored on his property. Jason Carpenter, Nicholas McCoy and L. C. Read left Tuesday on a hunting and prospecting trip to the Swank, Wenaschie and Okanagan districts. They anticipate being gone several weeks.

C. P. Chamberlin, of Whitman county, whose activity in the agricultural college contest was made especially prominent by the famous interview of Miss Bertha Denton, published in the Press-Times, spent several days in the city during the past week. Andrew Gibson, superintendent of the Cascade tunnel spent a couple of days in the city, during the past week, looking after his property interests which are considerable. Mr. Gibson has never wavered in his faith in Yakima and it is now stronger than ever.

John Toles, a leading merchant of Pasco, was in the city Monday greeting his old-time friends, of whom he has a host in this city. Mr. Toles has been on a visit to Fort Simcoe and he is enthusiastic regarding the present administration and the treatment received by him while there at the hands of Agent Jay Lynch.

WILL WORK THE ONYX LEDGE.—E. K. Current has interested A. W. Frater, Mr. Luce, cashier of the Snobomish National Bank, and Geo. Boggs, city treasurer of Tacoma in his onyx and other claims. These gentlemen will be in Yakima in a few days for the purpose of visiting their new possessions and making necessary arrangements for their development. Mr. Current's sale included an interest in some promising ledges which show rich in silver, copper and antimony. It is proposed to put in a lapidary's lathe, and mill here for the purpose of dressing and polishing the onyx from the Current ledge.

STRAWBERRIES IN OCTOBER.—Mr. Fintel who has a small ranch on the Natchees and is celebrated for his strawberries, brought to THE HERALD office this week some large and delicious strawberries, the second crop for this year. Mrs. Fintel also sent to the editor a handsome bouquet of roses and rare flowers for which we bow our acknowledgments. Samuel Starow, engineer of the Yakima Artesian Well Boring company, has left for the east to purchase four additional engines of machinery. The company is now ready to make contracts for sinking wells.

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

—David Brown, of Sault Ste Marie, Michigan, has sold through the agency of Messrs. Howlett & Walker, fifteen acres on the bench west of the city, to John Methuen, of Edinburgh, Scotland, the consideration being $3000.

—The steamer Norma, which was built to run on the Snake river to the Seven Devils mines, has been sold to Capt. W. P. Gray, of Pasco, and will be placed on the upper Columbia. It will now be seen which was right, Capt. Symmons or Capt. Gray, as to the feasibility of navigating the upper Columbia.

—At the recent Methodist conference at Spokane Rev. John Uren, who has been a resident of Yakima for the past three years, was assigned to Colfax. His successor here is the Rev. Robert Warren, who will hold services at the church this coming Sunday.

—The work on the big Selah ditch is progressing rapidly. John A. Stone came in from there Wednesday and reports that the main trestle is already framed. It is a huge structure 200 feet long, by 56 feet high, and of the pattern known as a "treble decker."

—The growth of the Catholic population of Washington necessitates the erection of a new diocese. Bishop Junger is in firm health and a coadjutor bishop is to be appointed with jurisdiction over western Washington and the right of succession to Bishop Junger's see.

—The hop picking is practically over and while there has been a splendid crop and the hops are of an excellent quality, the gloom on the faces of the growers fails to lift. The stumbling block is now the lowness of price and there are absolutely no transactions.

—Vade Lillie returned from Minnesota Sunday, and reports having advantageously disposed of his cayuses. He also says that "Bangum" and "Twenty-one," the two Yakima bred racers, have knocked out everything that would run against them.

—A Both oysters, 75 cents per quart; fresh Olympia oysters at the same figure. Leave your orders at the Candy Factory, open both day and night.

GOOD LUCK. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is often called the Good-Luck Baking Powder. Owing to the fact that good luck always attends the use of Dr. Price's, it is not essential to use it the moment it is mixed nor is it required to have the oven always just so, as in the case with ammonia or alum powders.

LAST DAY OF THIS EARTH.

A Great Scientist's Sketch of the Probable End of All Things.

May Happen 2,000,000 Years From Now--The Earth Will Grow Cold, but Love Will Forever Glow.

Camille Flammarion in the Forum: The earth has been inhabited for about 22,000,000 years.

The primary age had occupied more than 6,000,000 years; the secondary age, 2,300,000 years; the tertiary age, 500,000 years; the primitive human age, the time of national divisions, of barbarism and of militarism, had filled about 300,000 years, and the sixth age, that of intellectual humanity, had reigned for nearly 2,000,000 years.

During that long succession of ages the earth had grown older and the sun cooler, and, in consequence, the geographical aspect of the globe had metamorphosed itself; the water of the ocean had slowly penetrated through the earth's crust; the sea was contracted to a fourth of its area in the early human period; warm valleys and equatorial regions alone were habitable.

All the rest was frozen. From century to century humanity had attained forms of exquisite beauty and no longer worked materially.

A network of electricity covered the globe, producing at will all that was needed. It was then a united race, entirely different from the rude and heterogeneous races that had characterized the first period.

About the year 2,000,000 after Jesus Christ the last great focus of human civilization shone in the center or equatorial Africa, in the brilliant city of Suntown, which had already several times been raised again from its ashes.

The capital of this aristocratic republic had attained the last limits of a luxurious and voluptuous civilization. Wives no longer became mothers except by accident; they no longer desired the inconvenience of maternity, and reigned in all the splendor of their unblemished beauty.

Life had been, if not dried up at its source, at least rendered irremediably unfruitful. No young women remained; the soil, too, was sterilized, and the generation saw the end approaching.

In this dilemma an aerial flotilla was constructed, and all the strong men started on a voyage of investigation of the equatorial zone, to see whether any isolated human groups still existed.

The entire earth had almost disappeared beneath snow and ice, and already half the members of the expedition had died of hunger and cold, when the survivors discovered a human settlement on the banks of an unfrozen river.

They were received as saviors by men who believed themselves the only survivors of terrestrial humanity, looking only despair at the last days of the world.

The river on whose banks they were camped was the once famous Amazon.

The last woman of the community was already dead, the wise and the grain were extinct, and the men subsisted solely on fish.

On hearing of this the guests were in despair; their country was still wealthy, science rendered them independent of soil and natural temperature, and the leader of the party exclaimed:

"We came in search of female associates, and had we found but one single wife all the riches of our land would have been here."

Some time before these events happened in Africa and America the island of Ceylon, now attached to Asia, was the last refuge of the human in Asia; and there in this earthly paradise, not far from the equator, at the foot of Adam's Peak, dwelt twelve women, sole heiresses of the last unextinguished families.

The male sex had completely disappeared. The youngest of the females, little Eva, was 9 years old. The decline of natural forces had brought about a decline of human forces, and with it the decline of inventions and usages which had formerly seemed so indispensable.

Crossing the Pacific ocean our adventurers observed that Ceylon was freer from ice than other regions, and approaching it they saw to their joy a group of five women in mourning, the then last survivors of the race in Asia. They alighted, told the object of their explorations and had no difficulty in convincing the fair Asiatics.

Their despair disappeared like a mist, and a few hours after the arrival of the aeronauts, the five nuns had become the most elegant of women. But Ceylon was more desolate than Sautun; provisions were scarce, and the whole party, taking the women with them, returned to their African home.

Arrived there, they found that the friends and relatives they had left behind were all dead or dying from an epidemic; the cold, too, was increasing; and, although they kept up fires and shut off all communication with the outer air, death was busy among them, until, at the end of a few weeks, all had passed away save only the youngest woman, Eva, her lover, Omega, who saw with out detestation the inevitable fate which awaited them, well knowing that no other spring would ever bloom on earth.

However, the sky cleared, and the young couple, taking all the provisions available, rose in their serial boat to judge of the last invasions of the snow, and saw that the whole city was buried.

They then started for the Nile valley, and on reaching it saw with delight that the great pyramid was still standing, the last evidence on earth of the work of man's hands.

There they found shelter among the ruins, and, folded in each other's arms, took their last look at earth, and murmuring eternal love to each other they sunk into the sleep of death.

And the snow continued to fall, as a fine powder, on the surface of the earth.

And the earth continued to revolve on its axis and to float through the immensity of space.

And the sun continued to shine, but with a reddish and barren light, and stars continued to scintillate in the immensity of the heavens.

And the infinite universe continued to exist, with its billions of living or extinct planets.

And in all the worlds peopled with the joys of life love continued to bloom before the smiling glance of the eternal.

CREASING THE GROWLER.

A Trick by Which Its Operators Got Good Measure for a While.

The "growler rusers" all over Philadelphia, and notably the vicinity of Lombard and South street, by an ingenious scheme have secured in outwitting the wily saloon keepers for a couple of weeks past, says the Philadelphia Record.

About two weeks ago the saloon keepers noticed a wonderful and new characteristic concerning the beer they had on draught. One night about that time a stalwart negro, as black as a coal, came into a saloon with a pitcher nearly big enough to hold a keg of beer and called for "ten cents' wuff."

The barkeeper eyed the pitcher for a moment and then proceeded to draw the beer. To his surprise the beer would not foam in the lively manner which heretofore had been its principle characteristic. No amount of shaking and sloshing around would make the amber-colored beverage assume a frothy appearance, and before the barkeeper could realize it the pitcher was brimming full.

The negro remarked in an off-handed manner: "Dat beer looks dead and flat but I talk dat kin mahself."

With that the barkeeper handed him the pitcher, and the grinning darkey walked out of the room. He was met just around the corner by half a dozen other dusky citizens, all carrying pitchers, and at once divided up.

It was noticed that the beer immediately came to life when it was poured out of the big pitcher, and the colored rascals laughed immoderately as the creamy foam ran down the sides of the vessels they were carrying. Directly after this another customer walked into the same saloon and the beer was found to draw all right.

Here was a mystery indeed, and it took two long weeks to solve it. The saloon keepers in the vicinity always noticed that the beer would not foam when put into pitchers carried by certain colored individuals. As a result these same persons got about 50 cents worth of beer and paid only 10 cents for it.

An investigation was started, as the saloon keepers knew that some trick was being played upon them. No solution was arrived at, however, until Friday, when a colored man under the influence of liquor told how the scheme had been worked.

It seems that the plan consisted in simply greasing the inside of the "growler" with butter or a piece of fat meat. When this was done no amount of gas or agitation will put the proper head on beer. The discoverer of it reaped a rich harvest by selling the secret of it to other "growler workers," and, as a result, the saloon keepers have been victimized.

The New York Press Exposes That "Important Bill" Business.

The article credited to the New York Press going the rounds of the papers, in which it is alleged that unfavorable action has been taken in the New York legislature against the Royal Baking Powder, proves to have been a canard, gotten up and circulated by opposition bakers for purposes quite apparent to every one.

The New York Press, in exposing the fraud, says: "No such legislation as that stated in this article has ever been had in this State--or in any legislation, to our knowledge." The lie is made from whole cloth. The Press disclaims any responsibility for the publication, and objects to being a party to such methods adopted by some baking powder manufacturers in their efforts to substitute their goods for others now in use.

LIFE BEYOND THE GRAVE.

The Doctrine of Evolution Governs the Hereafter.

F. W. Myers in the Nineteenth Century: The effort to prove there is life beyond the grave is sometimes spoken of as selfish, by the very men who declare themselves most eager to promote the terrestrial welfare of their fellows.

In reality, this confusion of mind has a deeper source; it is a vestige of the old monkish belief that man's welfare in the next world was something in itself and personal, and was to be attained by means inconsistent with man's welfare in this. Whether Christianity ever authorized such a notion I do not now inquire. It is certain, at any rate, that science will never authorize it.

We are making as safe a deduction from worldwide analogy as man can ever make regarding things thus unknown, when we assume that spiritual evolution will follow the same laws as physical evolution; that there will be no discontinuity between terrene and post terrene bliss or virtue, and that the next life, like this, will "resemble wrestling rather than dancing," and will find its delight in progress, not attainable without effort so strenuous as may well resemble pain.

POWER OF THE PRESS.

A Catholic Bishop Thinks St. Paul, if Living, Would Be a Journalist.

American Economist: The importance of the press as a political educator is not confined to the United States, nor is it of recent origin, though it would seem that the Republican masses and leaders of this country have for a time overlooked it.

In the early part of our national history the leaders in politics made frequent use of the press to announce their views or form public opinion. During the violent controversies which agitated the several States pending the discussion of the proposed federal constitution of 1789, no greater or more beneficent influence was exerted in behalf of its adoption than the publication in the newspapers of the day of those masterly expositions of the Constitution, by Hamilton, Madison and Jay, which have since been combined in the volume known as "The Federalist."

The letters of Junius, which first appeared in a London paper in the latter half of the eighteenth century, and which have since become a part of the classic literature of England, were written to promote a political purpose. Napoleon, at the zenith of his power, at the beginning of the nineteenth century, often tested the popularity of the proposed measures by submitting them to public criticism in the Moniteur. In our day it is known that Bismarck used the press--in different parts of the German Empire--to advocate before the tribunal of the people his own measures, or to denounce those of his opponents.

Just at this time the Catholic, or Conservative party in France is awakening to the fact that it is deficient in newspapers, having lost during the past year 36 out of the 503 papers which supported that party. During the same time the whole number of papers in circulation in France increased 27, or from 4,901 to 5,178. A prominent Conservative organ asked: Why is the Conservative party, the majority of public opinion, represented by the smallest circulation?"

It seems that the catholic party of Germany has shown greater intelligence. In a country with less than one-third of its population Catholic, it has succeeded by the energetic activity of its press, in electing fifty priests--not to speak of Catholic laymen--into the different parliaments of the empire, on issues directly affecting the interests of the Roman Church. The means by which the success was achieved may be seen in the rapid increase of Catholic journals in Prussia--from fifty in 1880 to 150 in 1890.

In the whole empire the number is now 450, with more than a million subscribers, representing 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 daily readers. Herein lies the power which has given victory to the Catholic party against the majority of the nation, under the lead so potent an adversary as Prince Bismarck.

Mgr. de Ketteler, Bishop of Mayence, the eminent leader of the Catholic party--who is also a no less vigorous protectionist--has said: "If St. Paul were to appear in our time he would be a journalist."

What is Death.

Amiel's Journal: Is death the passage from the successive to the simultaneous--that is to say, from time to eternity? Shall we then understand, in its unity, poem or mysterious episode of our existence, which till then we have spelled out phrase after phrase?

And is this the secret of that glory which so often unwraps the brow and countenance of those who are nearly dead? If so, death would be like the arrival of a traveler at the top of a great mountain, whence he sees spread out before him the whole configuration of the country, of which till then he had had but passing glimpses.

To be able to overwork one's own history, to divine its meaning in the general concert and in the divine plan, would be the beginning of eternal felicity. Till then we had sacrificed ourselves to the universal order, but then we should understand and appreciate the beauty of that order. We had toiled and labored under the conductor of the orchestra, and we should find ourselves become surprised and delighted hearers. We had seen nothing but our own little path in the mist; and suddenly a marvelous panorama and boundless distances would open before our dazzled eyes. Why not?

Old Cures for Eczema.

Boorde's Bureau of Health, 1649: To bedward be ye merry, or have merry company about you, so that, to bedward, no anger nor heaviness, sorrows, nor penitiveness do trouble or disquiet you. To bedward and also in the morning, have a fire in your chamber, to waste and consume the evil vapors within the chamber, for the breath of man may putrefy the air within the chamber.

In the night, let the windows of your house, specially of your chamber, be closed; when you be in your bed, lie a little while on your left side, and sleep on your right side.

And when you do wake of your first sleep, then sleep on the left side, and, look, so often as you do wake, so often turn yourself in the bed from one side to the other.

To sleep on the back upright is utterly to be abhorred. When that you do sleep, let not your neck, neither your shoulders, neither your hands, nor feet, nor on other place of your body, lie bare undecovered. Sleep not with an empty stomach, nor sleep not after that you have eaten meat, one hour or two after.

Every Day is Sunday.

Baltimore American: The Greeks observe Monday, the Persians Tuesday, the Assyrians Wednesday, the Egyptians Thursday, the Turks Friday, the Jews Saturday, and the Christians Sunday, thus there is a perpetual Sabbath being celebrated on earth. It was during the French revolution of 1793 that a weekly Sabbath was totally abolished. The convention which declared France a republic determined, at the instance of Sieyès, archbishop of Paris, to abandon Christianity and to substitute instead the worship of liberty, equality and reason; churches were quickly despoiled and civic feasts substituted for religious festivals. The convention also enacted that time, instead of being reckoned from the birth of Christ, should thereafter count from the birthday of the French revolution, the year to begin anew from that date, September 22, 1792. That the Christian Sabbath might not be observed, the months were to consist of thirty days each, a day of rest being granted only at the close of each decade (every ten days).

Under the directory established by a new constitution in 1795, the laws of Robespierre were repealed, the church was opened and Sunday took its rightful place in the calendar.

A Wonder Worker.

Mr. Frank Huffman, a young man of Burlington, Ohio, states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be Consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds and at that time was unable to walk across the street without resting. He found before he had used half a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it and is to-day enjoying good health. If you have any Throat, Lung or Chest Trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free at Janack's Pharmacy.
