THE HAPPY MAN.

He walks the street with a beaming smile. His face shines like the sun. His head is crowned with a brand new tie—it is plain his side has won.

THE COMING WHITE HOUSE MISTRESS.

Mrs. Cleveland as She Is—A Well Rounded and Radiant Young Woman.

Kansas City Times: The Mrs. Cleveland who left New York last November to spend the winter in Lakewood, N. J., was a tall, thin, pale faced girl.

The Mrs. Cleveland of to-day is a tall, well rounded, radiant young matron. Lakewood mothers who used to say "poor child!" when she drove past in her carriage, muffled up in furs, would never recognize the happy, handsome home comer as the same individual.

She always was tall, but now she is big. She has fleshed up, and weighs perhaps sixty pounds more than she did when she was in the white house. Her pretty chin has doubled itself, her face is round and full, her cheeks are plump, her complexion has the rich oil and wine tints of perfect health, and her figure—well neither coxing or stretching would make her wedding dress fasten now.

Another change in her appearance has been wrought by altering the style of her head dressing. Instead of the pompadour roll that was so well suited to the girlish face and low, pretty forehead, the soft brown hair has been "banged deep," as the coiffeurs say, and arranged in loose curls, the effect being to foreshorten the face. Seen alone, the general public who worship her, would never recognize her. Her school friends might, but the first exclamation after the greeting would be: "How you have changed!"

People who saw her on the Oneida in the recent naval parade didn't know her, although she stood near Mr. Cleveland. Guests on the passing tugs and yachts cheered him, but the largest field glasses and keenest critics failed to discover the identity of his beautiful companion.

Housekeepers Should Fry

Warning crackers in the oven before using. Dipping sliced onions in milk before frying. Rubbing tough meat with a cut lemon. Steaming a stale loaf of bread to freshen it. Heating the dry coffee before pouring on the water. Stale cake with brandy sauce for dessert. Bacon fat for frying chicken and game. Fried sweet apples when you have liver or kidney. Hard boiled egg salad, made like potato salad. The juice of an orange and some nutmeg in lemonade. Stewed grapes as an appetizer. Lemon and orange peels to flavor sauces.

Born, at North Yakima, November 21, to the wife of Wm. Loryes, a son.

W. W. Leeper left Friday night for Spokane on a week's business trip.

Mrs. J. M. Haden, of Vancouver, Wash., who has been visiting Mrs. E. C. Burlingame, left for her home on Monday.

Mrs. J. W. Homan, of Ellensburg, returned home on Sunday, after spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Frank Bartholomew.

Six thousand cars loaded with wheat have passed through Yakima this season, bound from the great wheat belt of eastern Washington to Tacoma.

We cure the liquor, morphine or tobacco habit at home. No interruption of business or pleasure. Circular free. Address Avena Co., Box 1910, Spokane, Wash. 45 4t

A new gray team recently purchased by W. S. Davidson, showed their agility, Saturday evening, by running away and parting company with the two-wheeled vehicle to which they were attached.

The horse market is unusually dull, and evidently a hard winter is looked forward to, for at Cleveland, Klackit county, a band of horses was sold under the hammer the other day, and some of them failed to bring more than a dollar and a half a head.

C. F. Riggs, advance agent for the Calhoun Opera company, was a Yakima visitor on Saturday last, and made arrangements for the appearance of his company at Mason's opera house on Monday, January 22. The opera with which we are to be favored on this occasion will be "Said Pasha."

Some one is determined that Pasco shall have no hotel. In July the Hotel Cook was set on fire and destroyed, and last week the Columbia college building, which was being moved and remodeled for hotel purposes, also fell prey to the work of an incendiary. Five hundred dollars have been subscribed by citizens, and detectives will be employed to try and locate the firebrand.

The track of the Great Northern on the west side of the Cascade mountains has been laid to within 60 miles of Lowell, Wash., but track laying has been suspended, the track layers having caught up with the graders. Only as much more track will be laid on that side as will use up the material on hand, leaving about 15 miles west of the summit to be laid from the east.

Gradins on the Chehalis-South Bend branch of the Northern Pacific has been completed, and track has been laid to a point within five miles of Willapa and about nine miles of South Bend. There is nothing to prevent steady track laying into South Bend except the South Fork bridge, ten miles above the city, which it will take about two weeks to complete. The West Coast Trade gives credence to the report that the Northern Pacific will build a line from North Yakima, through Cowlitz pass, to Chehalis the coming year.

John McMahon, manager and proprietor of McMahon's circus, which has visited Yakima several times, died recently on the train carrying his company into Chicago just before that city was reached. For over three years he had been in failing health, his illness merging into consumption, and his death was not unexpected. He was regarded as the best bareback rider in the profession. His estate is valued at $10,000.

We call attention to prospectus of American Journal of Politics, of New York, found in another column. Intelligent men and women interested in the discussion of the great questions that agitate the public mind, should read this magazine. Young men especially, who will be interested in the future management of public affairs, would do well to begin with No. 1. Vol. I. of this journal, and preserve each number. In a few years they would possess a library of information of immense value. The first six numbers, making 700 pages of excellent matter, will be sent on receipt of $1, half the regular price.

Cle-Klum Tru-Tone: As shown by the experience of last Saturday night, a dam constructed at the foot of either of the upper lakes would be a constant menace to the safety of the people residing in this section. The volume of water that was turned loose by the breaking of the Northern Pacific, Yakima & Kittitas dam at Lake Katchee was sufficient to raise the Yakima river six feet in a few hours, and great damage was done by the torrent that was created. Should dams be constructed at Lake Katchee and Lake Cle-Elum, sudden and unexpected rises of water might precipitate a second Johnstown flood and wipe out every home in the lowlands of the upper and lower Kittitas valleys.

"August Flower"

For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said stomach was about worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food for a time at least. I was so weak that I could not work. Finally on the recommendation of a friend who had used your preparations I procured a bottle of August Flower, and commenced using it. It seemed to do me good at once. I gained in strength and flesh rapidly; my appetite became good, and I suffered no bad effects from what I ate. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has entirely cured me of Dyspepsia in its worst form. JAMES E. DEDRICK, Saugerties, New York.

W. B. Usey, St. George's S. C., writes: I have used your August Flower for Dyspepsia and find it an excellent remedy.

THE YAKIMA HERALD.

ISSUED EVERY THURSDAY. $2.00 PER ANNUM, IN ADVANCE. Advertising Rates Upon Application. E. M. Reed, Editor and Business Manager.

Official Paper of North Yakima.

YAKIMA'S PRODIGY.

There is no desire more universal than the vanity of being known to the world. This passion is diversified into many forms, but as a motive it seems to exist in all. With some people it is inspired by the loftiest ambitions of the mind; with others it is directed by heroic feats of the body. One beckons to the muse so that with enchanting verse he may smooth the path to fame; another cultivates his biceps that he may fight his way into notoriety. Caesar declared that he would rather be first man in a village than occupy a secondary position in the capital of the universe.

While this ambition is common enough its full fruition is attained by few. Yakima has a prodigy, however, who is bound to achieve greatness in his particular line—as a humorist and writer of comical stories. Like Bill Nye, he gravitated to the newspaper, and now his rib-tickling, laugh-provoking pen is engaged on the Republic, where his "Companion Story to the Herald's Grand Pa's Hat Tale" has nearly strangled the community with merriment. His caustic humor has been directed at this paper of late, and while we enjoy his wit it is with fear and trembling that we beg of this abnormally developed mental gladiator, this Great Intellectual Personage, this valiant Don Quixote of newspaperdom, to spare us. "Is true he is only a young man; but, ah! there is the gray matter—the Gladstonian substance which reposes within the moist casket of childhood. What counts this indication of immaturity which a little rice powder will hide, when the brilliancy of his mind will dazzle the eyes of all so that they recognize nothing—know nothing but to bow down before this wonderful receptacle of wit and knowledge.

He strides the minds of men like a Colossus, and divides their attention with the recent train robbery, the price of hops and the danger from smallpox. He came to us an obscure nothing—a germ, an undeveloped entity, a bacillus of rip-roaring wit, enchanting humor, statesmanlike craft and all-round knowledge. We know he has all of these qualifications, for in his pedantic way he is constantly informing us of the fact, and where could we get better evidence? He needs not THE HERALD'S humble testimonial for, as they say of a well known cathartic pill, "it speaks for itself," but with the same solicitude that we would express for the ossified man, the Elmeses twins or some other of the world's celebrities, we would advise him to retain his equilibrium through fear that his great weight of brain would topple such a frail physical structure over and cause his posterior to strike the ceiling.

BASEBALL SUPERCEDED.

Perhaps there is no more curious phenomenon connected with athletics than the recent rapid growth of public interest in the game of football. In its present gigantic proportions this interest is hardly more than a thing of yesterday and to-day. Now, in the big college games of the east, the struggle to get tickets of admission to the grounds is so great that men have been willing to wait in line for hours, even bivouacing all night in front of a box office, like soldiers on a field of battle, and stringent measures have had to be enforced to curtail speculation in tickets. How shall such intense eagerness and interest be explained, that will gather crowds of twenty or thirty thousand people, when a few months previous a tenth of that number would have been gratifying to the players?

This sport in football has not been confined alone to the east, but seems to have taken possession of the entire country, as if by prearrangement, and threatens to practically supersede the national game of baseball. One of the reasons for this popularity is that it combines to a wonderful extent the great elements of human power—mind and muscle. The skill, the alertness, the resourcefulness, the strategy, the instantaneous judgment required of the captain of an eleven are comparable to the same qualities in the make-up of a successful military commander, and every member of the team must have in him the stuff of a potential captain or he is unfit for his place. At the same time there is absolute necessity for immense bodily powers. Bone and sinew, nerves and flesh and blood, hand and foot, eye and ear must all be of the best, and some of them of the biggest. In football more than in baseball there is cause for the expression of greater admiration on account of courage, perseverance, pluck, foresight, and in lightning-like quickness of thought and action, and in these things Americans glory; and for this reason football has undoubtedly come to stay.

The official election returns bring no ray of consolation to the republicans as the count progresses. The latest is that Oregon elects B. N. Pierce, one of the fusion electors, and Montana will send a democrat to the U. S. senate.

FRIENDS of Mr. Cleveland predict that the new cabinet will be a brainy one, and there is a fine old gentleman in Indiana who is evidently hoping that it may contain a plentiful allowance of Gray matter.

MOSTANA elected an attorney general in the person of Miss Ella Knowles. This is probably a case of where the office has sought the woman and the man will seek the office.

THE PANAMA PROSECUTION.

The coming trial in Paris of the directors and certain contractors connected with the Panama canal enterprise promises to be one of the most sensational episodes of the century. It is sure to create intense interest if one-half the truth comes out in relation to that gigantic combination of fraud and folly—the Panama canal undertaking. The canal was an El Dorado for adventurers and sharpers from all points of the compass, and the chief wonder is that the French people, who are noted for prudence and economy, did not comprehend the situation long before the collapse. They were dazzled, doubtless, by the fame and genius of the Comte de Lesseps.

The most unfortunate picture of the present prosecution is that the veteran engineer who built the Suez canal and who was no doubt honest in projecting the Panama canal, should be arraigned as a criminal in the courts of his native land, to which his talents and achievements have brought both credit and glory. De Lesseps is 87 years old. His failure at Panama must be in itself a bitter punishment for any negligence of which he may have been guilty, and it is to be hoped that the investigation will result in his acquittal of dishonest intent.

Now that the newly discovered planet no longer threatens to strike this mundane sphere, much interest in it is gone, and the contemporaneous birth of the wonderfully well developed child, who only lived long enough to inform the world that "time is short," has lost much of its frightening powers. Tempus may be a little brief for some of us, but with the threatened comet one hundred and fifty million miles away and traveling in an opposite direction at the rate of a thousand miles a second, there doesn't seem to be much cause for feeling scared on that score. The greatest reason for solicitude now appears to be that no one seems to be properly acquainted with the new comet. If it is Biela's, as some claim, it should be hauled in and labeled before it is again turned loose. This thing of a comet "running wild" without label, trade mark or identification card, and dropping its tail feathers all over the earth, is rather wearisome to astronomers.

The state legislature will convene the second Monday in January, which is the 9th day of the month, and not January 4, as many people suppose. The constitution fixed the first Wednesday after the first Monday as the date, but it conferred upon the legislature the power to change the time, and it did so by the act of February 21, 1891. In the first legislature there were but seven democrats in the house and one in the senate. The coming legislature will contain 25 republicans and 9 democrats in the senate, and 50 republicans, 20 democrats and 8 populists in the house.

So FAR only eighty-five eligible statesmen have appeared as candidates for places in the new cabinet. The smallness of the number shows clearly that the returns from the back districts haven't begun to come in yet.

GOVERNOR-ELECT McGraw's boom for senator is like the tall of the new comet—which is to say there isn't any, or else it is nebulous and hazy to be visible to the closest observer outside of King county.

THE CELEBRATED BOHEMIAN HOPS.

FACTS About America's Chief Competitor in the World's Hop Markets.

The chief center of the hop-growing district in Austria are Saatz, Aueha and Danba. These comprise about 23,750 acres under cultivation of hops, with an average yield of 2,680,000 to 2,876,000 pounds. Some hops of a lower grade are raised in the crown lands of upper Austria, Moravia, Galicia, Styria, Carinthia and the Kingdom of Hungary. Recently the acreage has been on the increase, especially as some of the vineyards destroyed by phylloxera, etc., have been devoted to the culture of hops. The area of 1890 has been stated at 30,000 acres.

Of the Austrian hop-producing countries, Bohemia is taking the lead again, both in regard to quantity and quality. In Saatz only the light soils could not quite resist the tropical heat, while heavy soils and good situations were spared, so that we may safely expect the produce to be mostly of excellent quality. Aueha Rothlands has likewise been shortened in yield, but only on light soils and hill-sides; heavy soils are uninjured. The estimate of 40,000 cwts first made will probably reach 30,000 to 35,000 cwts. In Moravia the not considerable hop area will yield about 4,000 cwts, Galicia 15,000 cwts. Upper Austria will have a yield of about 7,000 to 8,000 cwts, which is of somewhat larger quantity than last year's. Styria's crop is estimated at about 12,000 cwts. The total quantity cannot be estimated higher than 50,000 cwts.

The fire department will give the only masquerade of the year on Monday evening, December 26, it being their third annual party of this character, and they intend that it shall eclipse all others in point of attendance, enjoyment and costume. Many elegant costumes are even now being devised, and some striking novelties will be presented.

George Hazard, chairman of the democratic advisory committee, was a Yakima visitor on Wednesday. Mr. Hazard says Cleveland hasn't an office within his gift that he would accept, and all his solicitude now is to see the rascals turned out.

Mrs. E. H. Allen and her mother, Mrs. Ellen Snipes, arrived from Goldendale yesterday.

ANOTHER AMATEUR SUCCESS PROMISED.

"The Exile, or the Midnight Bell" Will Be Presented on the Evening of December 10th.

The Knights of Pythias have again secured the services of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Kelly to assist the dramatic club in the production of another play on Saturday evening, December 10. On that occasion will be produced "The Exile, or the Midnight Bell." This drama is from the pen of Dion Boucicault, the greatest of America's playwrights, and in it the late W. J. Florence achieved a splendid success. It abounds in thrilling scenes, beautiful sentiment, pathos and true Irish wit. Mr. Kelly carries special scenery and wardrobe for this play, and will stage it in the best manner possible. An unusually strong cast has been secured, each member being especially adapted to the character allotted. Reserved seats will be on Sale Saturday morning, Dec. 3.

THE OLD SETTLER.

Some Prize Stories of Early Days in Washington Told by the Pioneers Themselves.

Early last spring the Tacoma Ledger offered a prize of two round trip railroad tickets to the world's fair to the old settler of this state who would write the most interesting story of his experience for its columns. The prize was to be awarded September 29, Old Settlers' day at the Tacoma exposition, and it was awarded by the judges, who were Judge Robinson, of Olympia, Hon. L. S. Howlett, of Yakima, and Secretary Reavis, of the Spokane chamber commerce, to Milburn J. Willis, of North Yakima, who has received his tickets.

The Ledger has made a new offer of two similar tickets for the continuation of these stories, and is still printing one every week. They are intensely interesting. They are valuable, as well, for they are preserving an important part, not only the history of the state, but of this coast, and this country, which our pioneers would soon take to their graves if it were not saved in this way. Every settler who came here before the railroads, is eligible in this competition and should send the Ledger his story and perhaps win the prize.

The Ledger is one of the best weekly papers in the state, and the cheapest. You can secure it and the THE YAKIMA HERALD for one year for $2.50 cash in advance. Send in your subscriptions at once.

HAPPENINGS OF STATE AND NATION.

The Most Important News of the Day Brought Down for the "Herald" Readers.

Dr. John W. Scott, President Harrison's father-in-law, died at Washington, D. C., November 20.

Stamboul is now the unquestioned king of stallions. He trotted a mile at Stockton, Cal., November 23, in 2:07 1/2.

Joe Crab, one of the best known sporting men of the northwest, died at his home in Walla Walla, Thanksgiving day. The completion of the Great Northern will be celebrated with an excursion, spike driving, and a grand industrial blow-out at St. Paul. The date has not yet been fixed, but it will be between this and next New Year's.

Now that the transcontinental association is smashed, a rate war has commenced, and second-class tickets from Tacoma and Seattle to Chicago have been reduced from $45 to $23. First-class rates have been similarly slashed.

Ex-Secretary of State James G. Blaine had another serious attack a few days ago, which greatly alarmed his physicians, and gave rise to the report that he was dying. He will be taken to southern California for the winter as soon as he is able to travel.

The feature of the Thanksgiving celebration at Richmond, Va., was the cutting of the mammoth Cleveland and Stevenson democratic plumb pudding by Senator Daniel. The weight of the pudding was 271 pounds. A 12-pound slice was sent to each of the successful candidates, 12 being the electoral vote of Virginia.

There will be an important meeting of the members of the Yakima club at the club room, Saturday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. It is earnestly requested that every member be present, as the affairs of the club are to be fully set forth and its future determined upon.

The Value of the Bath. We know that a bath is to refresh as well as to cleanse the person. A sponge bath, with a little bay rum or alcohol added to the water, will both cleanse and refresh. The shower bath creates a glow; this can be obtained by the sudsen application after the bath of a large towel wet with cold water, followed by friction and gentle exercise. Some people are too delicately organized for such heroic treatment. A half hour rest is no inconsiderable factor in the restoring process, and it deserves special attention. If rightly taken it is a magic rejuvenator.—Young Ladies' Bazar.

Collections of Old Shoes. The fad for collecting old boots and shoes of celebrated people is growing. The queen of Italy is an enthusiastic collector. She possesses the shoes of Marie Antoinette, Mary Stuart, the Empress Josephine, Queen Anne and the Empress Catherine of Russia. Lady Marynetraide Mallet, wife of the British ambassador at Berlin, has a beautiful collection. They are of all shapes and sizes, from dainty satin ball shoes to boots made for long tramps through the snow.—London Tit-Bits.

Try the Last and Best. The American Journal of Politics is only six months old, but has a ready taken rank with the first class magazines. The Boston Herald says of it: "The articles are excellent, and any one who is studying carefully the signs of the times cannot afford to do without it." Among the well known writers who have contributed to its pages are the following: Senator W. D. Washburne, Hon. Charles F. Troup, General M. M. Turnbull, Hon. David A. Wells, Francis E. Willard, Hon. Frank H. Hunt, Professor Theo. S. Woolsey, General A. J. Warner, Rev. J. R. Sutherland, D. D., Professor George J. Luckey, LL. D., Squire A. Gooday, Hon. C. H. Reeve, Rev. J. R. Sutherland, D. D., Professor George J. Luckey, LL. D., Laurence Irwell, Hon. John P. St. John, Hon. Mortimer Wheelock, and many others. The American Journal of Politics is devoted entirely to the discussion of live questions of political and social interest. Each year gives the reader over 1,300 pages of first class reading matter of the highest order. The magazine has already secured a circulation in every state and territory in the Union. Single copies 25 cents, $4.00 a year. AMERICAN JOURNAL OF POLITICS, 174 Nassau St., New York. Readers of the Yakima Herald will be furnished the Herald and the American Journal of Politics the coming year for $4.50. 45 ct

HERALDINGS.

Born, Monday, November 28, to the wife of W. H. James, a son.

Elections are somewhat of a luxury. The last one cost Yakima county $1,333 62.

William J. Thompson and family, of Tacoma, will soon remove to North Yakima to reside.

H. D. Brewer and family have arrived here from Tacoma, with the intention of making North Yakima their home.

Wm. Lawrence has purchased 20 acres of Sunnyside land from the N. P. Y. & K. I. company, and will plant the same to hops and fruit.

The proper thing to do is to go to James' photographic studio, on Front street, opposite Haines' old stand, and have your photograph taken for the holidays.

The Index is a new paper, that is to make its appearance to-day at Waterville. John James Graves, formerly of the Douglas county Democrat, again takes on the harness as editor and publisher.

Reserved seats for the superb Irish comedy, "The Exile," will be on sale at Janek's drug store Saturday morning, December 3. They will be in great demand. If you want a choice seat don't fall to get in line early.

V. D. Lay, of Pasco, has instituted a contest for the seat of representative in the legislature from Franklin county. He alleges that the Pasco inspector of election failed to write his initials upon the official ballots before giving them to the voters.

Senator John B. Allen and his daughter, Miss Ruth Allen, spent a couple of days in Yakima last week, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whitson. They left for Spokane, Sunday night, where they were joined on Tuesday by Mrs. Whitson, who accompanies them on their trip to Washington, where she will spend the winter.

Engineer George C. Mills with a complete camp outfit left for the reservation on Monday last where he has a government contract to survey nineteen townships. He estimates that the field work will keep him employed for seven months. Louis Boyd, formerly of the Hotel Yakima, will be among the number who will assist Mr. Mills.

Outlaws and criminals, together with the elements, are making travel rather hazardous at present. Monday's east-bound train arrived here several hours late, owing to an attempt to wreck it on the Pacific division, by tearing up and misplacing the rails. Through some fortunate cause only the engine was dinged and no one was injured. The judicious use of hemp will probably have a tendency to correct such abuses.

Patents are at the U. S. land office for the following settlers: David L. Boggs, Laura M. Thompson, George Henry Wilson, Alvin B. Wilcox, Chas. B. Morgan, Jasper Weddle, Chas. H. Dunning, James Stuart, William Burke, Joseph E. Buchtel, Emery W. R. Taylor, Alexander A. Mundson, William H. Hase, J. D. Damman, Moritz Kohman, Burns Yocom, heirs of Mark Cahoon, Harland J. Taylor, Arthur S. Fawver, Samuel S. Hawkins and Nelson Rich.

The Yakima Water & Electric Light company is making arrangements to continue uninterrupted operations this winter, no matter what the condition of the weather. An additional dynamo has been purchased for the incandescent lights, and a fine engine of 150 horsepower capacity is now on the road and will be set up as soon as received in quarters built expressly for it. Mr. Jack Sincel, the popular superintendent of the company, is ever active to advance its interests, and has greatly assisted Mr. Whitson, the president, in placing the business on a satisfactory financial basis, and in conducting it in a manner to meet the approval of consumers.

Mrs. H. H. Allen left for Goldendale, Sunday, on receipt of a message that her father, Elem Sulpes, was dying. Mr. Sulpes was 82 years of age, and his death, which occurred on Sunday night, was doubtless hastened by a fall which he received a short time ago. His birthplace was North Carolina and he had been a resident of Klickitat county since 1863. He leaves an aged widow and a large family of sons and daughters, grandchildren and great grandchildren. Mr. Ben E. Sulpes and Mrs. J. M. Smith, of Seattle; Mrs. H. H. Allen, of North Yakima; Mr. George B. Sulpes, of The Dalles; and Mr. Ed Sulpes, of Goldendale, are children who survive him.

Editor Freeman, the original and distinguished genius of the Washington Farmer, went to Pullman the other day, says the Spokane Spokesman, with his eternal arguments and luxurious whippers. The next day the winds rose furiously, drove the editor to seek shelter and blew down houses throughout the entire Palouse country. But there were more remarkable traits noticed in the editor. One of his peculiar hobbies is that electric lights are not adjusted to the eyes. Another one of his fads is that a person should not read while seated. He should stand up and take his literary food. He reasons it out philosophically that the physical discomfort of the standing posture makes the mind acute and retentive, and that mental indigestion does not result from this kind of reading as it does from the seated, hammock or siesta style. So Editor Freeman gets his awful books out and walks up to an electric light, and holding the book out at right angles reads a chapter. At its conclusion he turns about and begins a tirade against the miserable quality of electricity, and then hunts another electric globe for the next chapter, and so on to the finale of the book.

Wenatchee has acquired the name of the toughest town in the country, and there is every reason to believe that it comes by its title honestly. Murder, highway robbery, burglary and almost every other crime in the legal calendar is charged against it, until the better class of citizens have thrown down the gauntlet and swear by the Great Eternal that the atmosphere must be purified of criminals. This was brought about by two unprovoked and cold-blooded murders which occurred last week. In one case John McVicar, a rheumatic cripple, 60 years of age, was dragged from his residence, shot through the breast and his skull crushed with a rock. The object was robbery, for, although McVicar was a poor man, it was reported that he was a miser. The other murder was that of Joseph Cooper, who, in company with two friends, started up the street from the depot, and while passing through a dark place were confronted by two men with revolvers and ordered to throw up their hands. Cooper failed to obey, and asked: "What do you want?" The answer was a bullet in the head, from which he died in a few hours. These crimes alarmed and stirred the citizens into activity, and a vigilance committee was organized to patrol the streets, notify the things and tongs to make themselves scarce, and to unceremoniously string up by the neck any one caught violating the code in respect to the various forms of robbery and murder.

All of the gambling tables were closed down Wednesday evening, owing to a quarrel which exists among the fraternity. Just what the trouble is it is difficult to find out, but one sportive faction feels that it has been flim-flamed out of dealing the pasteboards, and doesn't propose to see the balance of the gentry having things all their own way. A couple of warrants for gambling were sworn out some time ago by one of the d-salted, but no case was made, owing to "lack of proof," and the closing down Wednesday night was evidently due to fear that the next complaints would be more successfully bolstered up.

The exceedingly moist and muddy weather of late has revealed to the unsophisticated bachelor of Yakima what a wonderful change has been made in the "petticoat" since the days when that useful garment was made of flannel and lined with woolsey. In those days the women lifted their skirts gingerly, but now she drags up the cloth folds of her dress above the knee and reveals a d-dazing conception of silk and lace that captures every eye. Evidently lovely woman knows what she is about and is making the most of her opportunities.

The marriage of Mr. Fred R. Ogle to Miss Edie May Woolsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Woolsey, was celebrated at the Methodist church, Thanksgiving evening, November 24th, by the Rev. S. H. Cheadle, in the presence of numerous relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Ogle were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents and started on their wedded existence with the congratulations and best wishes of many friends. They will reside on the Moxee where Mr. Ogle is the resident manager of the Puyallup-Yakima nurseries.

The press of THE HERALD office will soon be run by water power. A motor has been purchased and will be set up as soon as connections can be made with the water mains. This will complete the equipment of THE HERALD and make it the proud possessor of the finest newspaper and job printing plant in central Washington.

During the past season H. J. Bicknell picked and shipped 5,500 boxes of fruit. He planted 500 additional trees this fall, and expects to increase the area of his orchard by from fifteen to twenty acres in the spring. Mr. Fred Thompson's shipments aggregate 2,500 boxes, and he sold a vast amount of fruit in the orchard.

The agricultural college regents, who have been in session at Pullman, have adjourned to meet at North Yakima December 12. A Pullman special to the Spokane Review says it "looks as if Yakima had stolen a march on Pullman, and that Lilley's goose was cooked."

Among the recent purchasers of Sunnyside lands, who will at once prepare to engage in the cultivation of fruits and hops, are Wm. E. Lisle, of La Salle, Ill., 40 acres in sec. 5, twp. 10, range 21, and Morgan & Mitchell, of Seattle, 60 acres in sec. 29, twp. 10, range 23.

A. B. Weed has shipped this year 1,124 bales of Yakima hops, of which 833 bales were sent to London. Mr. Weed thinks that the shipments from this time on, until the market materially improves, will be slow.

O. V. Gammon, formerly of the firm of Herke & Gammon, left on Tuesday for Maloney, Ky. Mr. Gammon travels to his old home by a circuitous route, going first to New Orleans, where he will make a short stop.

Wayne Ferguson, of West Virginia, who was a special timber agent under Cleveland, with headquarters at Spokane, will be in Yakima in a few days to look after some property interests he has here.

A good sized congregation listened with pleasure and interest, on Thanksgiving day, to Rev. S. H. Cheadle's sermon under the caption of "American Politics."

Rev. Dr. Nevins, formerly rector of St. Michael's church of this city, is seriously ill at the hospital at Tacoma, and fears are expressed that he cannot recover.

C. E. Martin, editor of the Cle-Elum Tribune, was in the city on Friday last. It is reported that he is an applicant for the receivership of the land office.

Don't fail to see the great Irish comedy, "The Exile," at Mason's opera house, Saturday evening, December 10. Secure your seats at once.

Dr. G. W. Rodman left on Tuesday for his old home in Indiana, where he expects to remain if, as he says, he can content himself to live away from Yakima.

The west-bound passenger train, or at least the Pullman sleeping car portion of it, was held up by three highwaymen near Hot Springs, Thanksgiving evening. The command to hold up hands was not responded to with enough alacrity by Julius Friedman, of Portland, and he came near losing part of his ear by a bullet from one of the robber's guns. There were half a dozen men aboard and several women, including Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Heg and Mrs. H. G. Thornton. The men all yielded gracefully, and the enterprising robbers cleared up about $1,200 and six gold watches. H. J. Snively was aboard the train, but had stepped into the next coach a few minutes previous, and this saved his Waterbury and spare change. The biggest loser was a miner named Guimares, who dropped eight hundred and odd dollars into the pot, and now, through the courts, he wants the Northern Pacific to refund and pay for injury to his feelings, for not taking the precaution of having the door locked and having conductors and porters who are willing to make targets of themselves in an endeavor to protect the wealth of the passengers. The robbers haven't been located as yet, although $1,000 reward has been offered for their capture.

It is now positively known that the Roalyn bank robbers, or at least three of those who are under arrest for the crime, visited Yakima shortly after looting the bank and spent a night here. Three men, who have since been identified as Tom Kenzie, Cal Hale and one of the Zacherys, slept one night in Wm. Lane's stable. Mr. Lane had his suspicions aroused from various circumstances, and informed the marshal that he believed they were the Roalyn robbers, but no effort was made to arrest them, nor does it seem that any credence was given his statement. Mr. Lane visited Ellensburg the other day and identified the men who are confined in the Kittitas county jail as those who slept in his barn. Nat Yates, who formerly lived in the same neighborhood with the Zacherys, Kenzie and Hale, also took a trip to Ellensburg this week and recognized the prisoners as his old neighbors, and is confident that they are the ones who stopped over in Yakima.

The ladies of the Episcopal church propose to eclipse all previous efforts in the way of church entertainments in their "Bazaar of Nations," which will be opened at Mason's opera house, in the afternoon and evening of December 14 and 15. Great preparations are being made by the ladies of the parish to make the affair a thorough success, and there will be stacks and stacks of pretty things on sale suitable for Christmas presents. No admittance fee will be charged, but opportunity sufficient will be given all to spend their surplus cash on the Japanese, Turkish, Gypsy, French, Italian, Iceland, English and Puritan broths, as well as at the New England kitchen, which will be among the attractive features.

Johnny Wyano, an Indian, is now in custody at the county jail charged with the murder of Tean-inai-Kotoben. On November 17th James Sheowitz, also an Indian, took some liquor on the reservation and after Wyano had got properly loaded with the stuff he tied a rock, weighing several pounds, in a handkerchief, with which he beat Kotoben's head to a jelly. The assailed Indian died on the following day. He was a type of the wild faction of the tribe and the red men are considerably excited over the case. Sheowitz is also under arrest charged with taking liquor on to the reservation.

Hon. Gardner G. Hubbard, of Washington, D. C., and Major Powell, director of U. S. Geological surveys, arrived in the city this morning to remain a few days. A committee of representative citizens has been chosen to wait upon Major Powell and endeavor to persuade him to meet the people of North Yakima, either at the club or the opera house, and entertain them with an account of his famous trip of discovery down the great canyon of the Colorado river.

At the election of judge No. 53, K. of P., Wednesday evening, the following officers were chosen: Chancellor commander, J. C. Liggett; vice chancellor, G. W. Rodman; prelate, Henry Carpenter; master at arms, John Island; keeper of records and seals, J. R. Coe; master of finances, W. D. Walker; master of the exchequer, J. D. Cornett; trustee, H. K. Fechter.

Kechter & Ross' sales of real estate this week approximate $20,000, the land being principally in the Selah valley. Among the purchasers were the National Ice company of Seattle, Frank Buson and Joseph Hodder, of South Prairie, and George Biehn, J. M. Beach and Wm. Richards, of Tacoma.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Byington, of Malona, N. Y., father and mother of Mrs. J. J. Carpenter, arrived here Tuesday on a visit. Mr. Byington is a staunch old democrat and is enjoying the prospect of a change of administration.

The Elite has a vast amount of Christmas goods, and after perusing the new advertisement in THE HERALD call at the store and make a personal inspection of the handsome stock.

J. M. Brown, of Prosser, county clerk elect, has purchased Robert Fraker's residence and will move here with his family in a few days.

Charles Carpenter shipped to Milwaukee, on Tuesday, 62 bales of hops grown by J. V. Carpenter and nine bales grown by O. V. Carpenter.

Pay the Price of the Royal for Royal only.

Royal Baking Powder is shown by actual chemical tests absolutely pure and 27 per cent greater in strength than any other brand.

Many grocery stores have recently been stocked with second-class brands of baking powder, which are urged upon consumers at the price of the high-cost, first-class Royal.

These powders cost from 8 to 30 cents a pound less than the Royal, besides being of 27 per cent less strength. If they are forced upon you, see that you are charged a correspondingly lower price for them.

YAKIMA TO HAVE A CREAMERY.

A Stock Company Being Formed for This Purpose—Refuse Milk to Be Used to Fatten Hogs.

Wm. M. Turner, who represents G. G. Wikson, of San Francisco, is now here, devoting his time to organizing a stock company to build and operate a creamery. He is meeting with much encouragement, and the first subscription of stock received was $2,000. There have been one or two other large subscriptions, although it is the desire of Mr. Turner to keep the amounts down to a few hundred dollars, and interest as many farmers as possible. It is proposed to capitalize the company at $15,000. This money will be used in building a creamery in the city, and in fitting it with a fifteen horsepower engine and boiler, two Alph Deleval separators, with a capacity of 7,200 pounds of milk per hour, and churns, vats and utensils necessary for a first grade creamery of 3,000 pounds of butter per day capacity.

It is proposed also to purchase hogs, and have a ranch on the river bottom where the skimmed milk and buttermilk will be piped for feed. The plans also embrace a cold storage warehouse for keeping a couple of carloads of butter, and ranch eggs when they are a drug on the market and the prices are low. The milk for the creamery will be purchased from the farmers, and 700 cows have already been pledged for this purpose. The price of milk will be governed by the price of butter and the amount of butterfat in the milk, which latter will be ascertained by the Babcock test. Mr. Turner says that in Elgin, Ill., where for many years he has been engaged in the creamery business, that the owners of cows realized from $50 to $75 a year per cow from the sale of milk, and that the average was $65, the receipts depending a good deal on the care and attention given the animals. Yakima is looked upon by Mr. Turner as an excellent location for a creamery, and he believes the business will be very profitable here. He is stopping at the Guillard house, where he will be glad to meet those interested in the project and give all the information at his command.

The county commissioners met to-day and approved of the plans prepared by Surveyor Redman for three combination truss bridges to be located at the Nelson crossing of the Natchez, at Konnewock and at Kiona. The specifications will be sent to the various bridge companies for bids. The Kions and Konnewock bridges will each have a 200 feet span and it is estimated that their cost will be about $6,000, or $12,000 for the two.

Walla Walla Statesman: North Yakima is taking unto itself the airs of a city. A new auxiliary fire alarm system is now being discussed, with boxes at different points in the business center connecting by wires with the power house and engine rooms. The expense seems to cut no figure, and the plan meets with general approval.

AMATEURS SHOW MUCH DRAMATIC TALENT.

"A Tramp's Daughter" Was a Thorough Success—Miss Ethel Parker Wins Laurels.

The presentation of the drama, "A Tramp's Daughter," by home talent at the opera-house, Thanksgiving evening, was a pleasant surprise to the very large audience in attendance. Manager Kelly evidently thoroughly understands his business for he had selected the cast with rare judgment and the play moved off with that evenness and smoothness which told of study and frequent rehearsal. To say that all who took part did exceedingly well would be to voice the sentiment of those present who by word and applause testified the appreciation which they felt. One of the pleasant surprises of the evening was the dramatic talent displayed by Miss Ethel Parker, who quickly won her way into the favor of the audience by the manner in which she carried out the part of Pauline Mellon. She is bright, sprightly, graceful and of good voice, while her stage presence might be envied by many professionals.

W. L. Conolly as Jacob Voolenstein acquitted himself as usual to the satisfaction of the audience. In his song and dance he brought down the house and he was not permitted to retire until he had responded to several encores. Mr. Kelly and his wife, as was to be expected, were excellent and came in for a generous share of applause. Mrs. Harry Spinnaz, W. H. Redman, M. Woolford, Geo. Guillard, Elvin Baxter, Frank Jordan and Fred Chandler all carried out their parts with much credit, and contributed to making the performance a thorough success.

PAROL TESTIMONY INADMISSIBLE.

A Will Case From Yakima County Reversed By the Supreme Court of This State.

George W. Bower, of Yakima county, died and left a will, in which he failed to name his children, Cora and George Ann. Julia Bower, his wife and executrix, brought suit in the superior court of Yakima county, asking the court to declare her the sole devise under the will. When the cause came on for trial Mrs. Bower offered parol testimony to show that the testator intentionally omitted to name, but intended to provide for his children. The heirs named objected to this for the reason that such evidence was inadmissible, incompetent and immaterial, and that the testator's intention must be gathered from the will. The court overruled the objection and allowed an exception. The matter was appealed to the supreme court and that tribunal, in its opinion, says: "It follows from what we have said that the action of the court below in allowing proofs outside of the will to aid it as against the appellants, was unwarranted. The judgment and decree must be reversed, and the cause remanded for further proceedings in accordance with this opinion."

John Hart and Jim Connelly will languish in the county jail for the next thirty days for being too nimble with their fingers. HE BUCKED THE TIGER.
Ex-Mayer Mailing, of Aberdeen, and His Gambling Propensities—He Loses, Then Squeals.

A very interesting case passed upon by the supreme court, last week, was that of J. B. Mailing, respondent, vs. G. W. Crumney, appellant, appealed from Chehalis county. This action was brought to recover money lost at gaming. Mailing sets forth that between the dates of September 6, 1890, and January, 1891, he played against a faro bank operated by G. W. Crumney, in Aberdeen, Chehalis county, and that he lost different sums of money, aggregating in all $2,600, for which he asks judgment, with interest from time of loss, in eleven separate, distinct causes of action, ranging from $175 to $700. In the Chehalis superior court Mailing obtained a judgment for $1,700 and costs. From this finding Crumney appealed on the plea that the jury had been unduly influenced. The supreme court could not see the matter in that light, however, and affirmed the judgment of the lower court.

The Toledo Weekly Blade.
The most popular and best known weekly paper printed in this country is the Toledo Blade. For more than twenty years it has had a circulation of 100,000 to 200,000, going regularly into every state and territory of the Union. From fifteen to twenty-five tons of print paper are consumed in each week's edition, and it is regularly mailed to more than half of the post-offices in the United States. It is a peculiar fact that the Blade is the only weekly paper published that has subscribers in all parts of the United States. It is edited with special reference to the wants of all people in all sections. It is also made to interest every member of the family. Besides all the news of the world it has serial and short stories, wit and humor, poetry, campfire, farm, Sunday school lessons, young folks, poultry, puzzles, household, answers to correspondence, etc., etc. As a special feature for 1893, Mr. Robinson Locke, the editor and proprietor of the Blade, has just called for Japan, and will contribute a series of illustrated letters on the manners and customs of that peculiar country and its people. These articles will be commenced some time in February or March, and will be worth to the readers of the Blade many times the subscription price. Every reader of this paper is invited to send for a specimen copy. The publishers of the Blade would be glad to send a specimen copy to every reader in this country. Subscription price to the Blade, one dollar a year. Five dollars in cash will be paid to any person sending in a small club of subscribers. Address: "The Blade, Toledo, Ohio."

The Blade and THE YAKIMA HERALD will be furnished one year for $2.50.

In Portland, when a certain woman was sick a Chinese doctor was called in as a last resource. His services were of so small account the woman died. As the funeral the Chinese doctor appeared in a buggy. "What does this mean?" some one asked him. He replied: "He help kill her too!" The moral of this story is that the populists are now putting in their claims for helping defeat Harrison. If their efforts assisted the demagogue more in other states than in Washington, and especially in Yakima county, their plan for consideration in the distribution of offices are liable to be overlooked.

WASHINGTON'S BIG MANSION
It Receives More Notice Than any Other Building in Chicago.
Mammoth Timbers—Contractors Annoyed by Questioning Visitors—How It Appears at the First Glance.

Spokane Review: Among the many fine buildings which now adorn Jackson park, Chicago, not one of them attracts more general attention or receives more favorable comment than that in which the people of the state of Washington will display the products of the state during the world's Columbian exposition. Thousands of persons visit the park daily, and to them the immensity of the logs used in the construction of the building, the peculiar style of architecture of the whole, and the fact that all of the material is of massive proportions, yet is placed together in a most symmetrical manner, conveys an idea of the vast resources of the wonderful west which at once creates surprise and attracts attention.

Entering the enclosure at the Fifty-seventh street station of the Illinois Central suburban line, the visitor crosses a lagoon over an arched bridge of stone and iron and reaches a broad avenue extending through to the lake front. The South Dakota building is the first state structure to be seen, and passing around this to the left the huge log sides of the Washington building come into plain view. The side walls are only about half completed, but from them a very good idea of what the building will be had, and it is these side logs which attract as much attention as anything else on the grounds.

A more desirable location for Washington's part of the immense show would be hard to select. Standing at the entrance to the building facing towards the lake, the visitor looks across the avenue into the Michigan building, beyond which Ohio's handsome structure stands. A short distance to the left and only about sixty yards distant is the art gallery annex. On the left and adjoining the Washington building is the South Dakota exhibit, and on the other side is the roomy and attractive structure of which the Oregon people have reason to feel proud. In the rear is a wide lagoon or arm of Lake Michigan, in which pleasure boats, propellers and other small craft float at anchor.

When the material for the Washington building arrived at the grounds, and before it had been unloaded, the people, who were unaccustomed to such logs and timbers, kept the men busy answering questions. After the foundation had been laid and the structure began to assume shape, so many people crowded the place that the contractors were compelled to request that a special officer be stationed there and prevent visitors from getting in the way of the workmen. In spite of this precaution the thousands of eastern people who had heard, but did not believe, the stories of the timber growth on the Pacific coast, showed their interest by making the officer's duty burdensome by asking him all manner of questions.

There is no other building in the park which is nearly so substantial in appearance as this, and when compared with the structures of other older states the people seem surprised that the young state of the extreme Pacific northwest could make so favorable a display.

Messrs. Rieby & Evans, who have the contract for the construction of the building, are pushing the work as rapidly as possible, and the twenty-five men under their employ work ten hours per day for seven days in the week, in order to have the work completed in time for the placing of the exhibit. W. P. Skilling, the architect who drafted the plans, is also on the grounds, personally supervising the work.

The dimensions of the structure are 208 by 118 feet, with an average height of 26 feet. The interior consists of a main hall with four galleries, one at each corner. On the outside the logs will be left just as they were hewn, but on the interior a wainscoting of native woods will extend around the four sides of the building. The arch at the entrance will be one of the features which will attract almost as much attention as the logs. It will consist entirely of stone quarried in this state; in fact everything used in the building will be sent from Washington except the nails.

The following brief description of the building appears in the official guide to the World's fair grounds:
"This is a unique structure. It is constructed almost entirely of material brought from the state, and forms an illustration of the building materials and industries peculiar to that young but vigorous commonwealth. The exterior is of lumber from Puget sound, and all the lumber entering into it was donated by the State Lumbermen's Association. The main entrance is made of one of the quarried in the state. In addition to what was contributed the state expended $50,000 in constructing and elaborating the details of the building. It is surrounded by a flagstaff 175 feet high, and there are four towers of unique design. A peculiar incident in connection with the acceptance of the design for this building was that the one which was at first considered third in merit was adopted, and the architect who received the first prize in the competition was relegated to the rear. The state spent $100,000 in the collection of an exhibit. Washington contributes largely to the departments of agriculture, forestry, mines, fish, ories, education, electricity, live stock, fine arts, women's work and transportation. Her displays are very creditable. The building will be completed by next February, though a part of the exhibits will probably be put in as soon as the roof is laid. It is believed that this structure will remain as one of the attractive features of Jackson park, even after the World's fair has been closed.

THE BEST APERIENT
In modern pharmacy is, undoubtedly, Ayer's Cathartic Pills. Except in extreme cases, physicians have abandoned the use of drastic purgatives, and recommend a milder, but no less effective medicine. The favorite is Ayer's Pills, the superior medicinal virtues of which have been certified to under the official seals of state chemists, as well as by hosts of eminent doctors and pharmacists. No other pill so well supplies the demand of the general public for a safe, certain, and agreeable family medicine.

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever used; and in my judgment no better general remedy was ever devised."
I have used them in my family and caused them to be used among my friends and employees for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge many cases of the following complaints have been completely and permanently cured by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colic. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above.—J. O. Wilson, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action, so that now I am in excellent health."—Wm. H. Delaunet, Dorset, Ontario.

"Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic I ever used in my practice."—J. T. Sparks, M. D., Yonkers, Ind.
