

DEAR DEWEY: The WSH Library Digest

October 2012
Volume 2 Number 10

October 7-13, 2012 Mental Illness Awareness Week Changing Attitudes, Changing Lives

New @ the WSH Library are two outstanding memoirs— Henry's Demons and Perfect Chaos. Both books are the result of collaboration between parent and child.

Henry's Demons was co-written by father and son Patrick and Henry Cockburn. At age 20, Henry nearly drowned when he obeyed voices that told him to jump into an estuary. Henry was hospitalized for the next 8 years.

Perfect Chaos was co-written by mother and daughter Cinda and Linea Johnson. Linea's teenage suicide attempt was the beginning of years of crisis and challenge for Linea and her family.

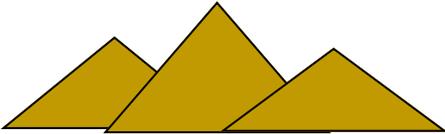

The Other Wes Moore—One Name, Two Fates. Two boys—both named Wes Moore—grew up in the same neighborhood. Both were fatherless. Both had learning problems. One became a soldier, a Rhodes Scholar and businessman. The other became a gangster and prison inmate. What made the difference? Author and motivational speaker Wes Moore offers his insight, with a message of hope for others who face similar decisions.

Geoffrey Canada was prominently featured in the new WSH Library DVD documentary Waiting For Superman. He is also the author of the best-selling memoir Fist, Stick, Knife, Gun—also available from the Library in graphic novel format. Canada tells about a childhood dominated by street violence— and the single decision that completely transformed his future.
