

PUGET SOUND WEEKLY ARGUS SUPPLEMENT.

PORT TOWNSEND, WASHINGTON TERRITORY, AUGUST 8, 1878.

THAT TRIP.

On Sunday last Rev. Jno. Parsons, pastor of the M. E. Church, of this place, went to Chimacum to fill the last of his monthly appointments at that place for the Conference year just closing. Agreeable to previous arrangement, the members of his choir from here, consisting of A. A. Plummer, Jr., Miss Katie Hill and A. Weir and wife, together with members of other choirs—among whom were Mr. T. Drummond and wife and Miss Ida Plummer—bired a couple of light spring wagons and drove out to the valley to take charge of the musical portion of the services. The merry crowd also included Mr. D. H. Hill, of the drug store, and Master Willie Hancock, of the Angus force.

AT 7, A. M.

The order was given to "get under way and scud along on the starboard tack," which order was obeyed with alacrity, our flag captain meanwhile shading his weather eye with a portion of his mate's parasol. The journey, begun under such favorable auspices, with the smiles of heaven beaming down, was made intensely interesting on account of the excursions encountered such myriads of "mud with the juice squeezed out." However, the day was not excessively warm and all made the best of discouraging trifles, and enlivened each other by the free exercise of conversational powers.

Arriving at Mr. R. S. Robinson's house, after an exciting ride of a little over two hours, inquiry was made whether or not the residents of the valley, having been expecting a choir (quire), were prepared to receive a whole team. Without waiting for a reply, a few of the sojourners started off to cultivate the acquaintance of Mr. Fields, of the adjacent cheese factory (Mr. Fields is very hospitable, and always sets out lunch of crackers and cheese for his friends; but he'll take an inventory of stock before being so rash again) and succeeded in working upon that gentleman's sympathies to an alarming extent. The factory will postpone sending away its next shipment of cheese. A raid was next successfully made on Mrs. Robinson's hospitable table, and the delicacies of the season, served by her, were partaken of as though no experience of the kind had been previously gone through for a long time.

AT ELEVEN O'CLOCK

Church services, at the school house, commenced. A goodly number were in attendance, and the sermon was listened to with marked attention.

"Church" being out, the party divided up and repaired to the houses of Messrs. Wm. Bishop, R. E. Ryan, and R. S. Robinson (they being the nearest) where they were made to feel as completely at home as though previous acquaintance had extended over a lifetime. Between the hours of FOUR AND SIX P. M.

The ride home was accomplished with but little difficulty. No casualties were reported during the whole trip except the breaking of a wagon seat on the way back, caused by a tremendous increase in weight of the gustatory individual who sat on it, and the dislocating of a young gentleman's arm which got "out of place" so often that amputation is talked of. The satisfaction felt by the young folks may be understood by the fact that they were not home before a proposition was assented to looking to a repetition of the experiment.

REV. Jno. Parsons preached in Port Ludlow last Sunday evening. The praise meeting held in his church here, was only partially attended, on account of the choir returning from Chimacum at so late an hour.

Mrs. Buchman, who has been so sick for the past few months, was brought to town on Tuesday, and will be tenderly cared for at the house of Mr. J. Murphy.

The absent members of the Hastings family, consisting of the old folks and Miss Jessie, will perhaps be home some time during the present month.

WE acknowledge the receipt, from Mr. Geo. Blake, of Chimacum, of a bunch of very palatable water cress. Mr. Blake says it "does well up there."

A FINE-LOOKING band of cattle passed this place on Monday, enroute for Victoria.

CAPT. J. H. Swift and wife, of Coveland, were in town this week.

THE County Commissioners met on Monday of this week.

The new wire house at Utsahdy, 60x-120 feet, is about completed, the carpenters being now engaged in shingling the same. The new wharf on which the warehouse is built has 25 feet of water at low tide. This is intended for deep draught steamers and ships. It would seem by the preparations being made by the Puget Mill Company that the manufacture of lumber will soon be commenced at this point. The new boilers to be set up are now ready for the brick work, a boom of logs has just been towed in and the machinery is being generally overhauled and refitted. Mr. Charles Noyce, who has charge of the work there, met with a mishap while at work on the wharflast Wednesday. He fractured one of his ribs, but is now able to be about.

The schooner C. C. Perkins, Capt. Logan, passed this port on Tuesday on her way from Tacoma to Point Roberts. She had on board a load of empty barrels from the stave factory at the former place, for the fishery at the latter point.

A DIMINUTIVE pig was killed last week at the Chimacum cheese factory, weighing but little over 500 lbs., although they do think the climate out there agrees with that kind of stock.

THE light house tender Shubrick, while on her way from Astoria to the light houses of Puget Sound, broke her shaft, and is still delayed somewhere on the way on that account.

OUR friends Jas. McCurdy, proprietor of the San Juan line kiln, and Robert Canes, proprietor of the Orcas Island line kiln, were in town a few days ago.

OUR Whidbey Island friends come in this week for their share of attention from the Post office Department.

HON. H. G. STRUVE.

From the Seattle "Dispatch."
Among the trumped-up charges upon which the personal character of Mr. Struve is sought to be drummed, is one that he has for many years falsely pretended to be a citizen of the United States, and as such has held many offices of honor and emolument, including Prosecuting Attorney, Member and President of the Territorial Council and Secretary of the Territory, all of which implied perjury upon each qualification for office; and that it was only within the last year that he received from the Court a certificate of naturalization, authorizing him to vote or hold office. The circumstances are simply these: Mr. Struve, a native German, came this country with his father's family when he was a boy. Before he attained majority his father became a naturalized citizen, which was then held as conferring citizenship upon all minor children. There are many such cases within our knowledge of persons of foreign birth maintaining the rights of citizenship solely by virtue of their father's naturalization. The brother-in-law of the editor of this paper, Thomas McHugh, a lawyer by profession and a near kinsman of Chas. O'Conner, one of the best lawyers in America, was the first Secretary of the State of Wisconsin; admitted to the bar by the Supreme Court of New York under the tutelage of one of the most distinguished jurists of that State; we know that his only title to citizenship was derived from the naturalization of his father, and that neither he nor any of his friends, who knew all the circumstances of the case, ever deemed that any other was necessary. For exercising citizenship upon precisely the same tenure, and accepting from his fellow-citizens honors conceded to his ability and integrity, Mr. Struve is denounced by envious rivals and mercenary and malicious defamers, as an "alien," "false-pretender," "perjurer," "deserter," etc. Is the moral sentiment of the community so debased by the stripes of political cliques and personal rivals as to tolerate by social recognition the men who conspire to strike down and cover with infamy one of our most honored citizens on so flimsy a pretext?

But Mr. Struve has made application to the Court and taken out his naturalization papers recently! That is true, and it is no impeachment of his former conviction of the sufficiency of his previous naturalization, that he did. When the question of his citizenship began to be publicly mooted, it was reported that one of our District Judges had expressed an opinion that the naturalization of the father did not legally confer citizenship upon his minor children, whereupon Mr. Struve, to avoid the question which might be sprung in that Court at any time to the prejudice of his practice and the damage of his clients, put the matter beyond question by complying with the letter of the law and being declared a citizen by decree of Court. What honorable man will censure him for that?

PORTLAND HOTEL.—Saml. Conter and his son Clarence have purchased the lease of the St. Charles Hotel, which they will hereafter conduct in person. We know of no men better calculated to make a success of hotel-keeping. It will certainly be the favorite stopping place for all sojourners in that city from Puget Sound.

CONDITION OF WHEAT.

The wheat shipping season is now well under way, and, while it is too early, as yet, to judge of the general average quality of the crop, it is certain that a considerable proportion of what has so far come to market has been so inferior in quality as to excite apprehension regarding the general out-turn. It is to be regretted that for the past two or three years there has been deterioration in the quality of California wheat, or rather in the condition in which it has been sent to market. Less care has been taken in thrashing and cleansing. Much trash has been allowed to find its way into sacks in company with good grain, and the consequence is that the fair name of our production has hardly been up in foreign markets. This year care is especially required in sending in wheat, for the system of selling by standard in England instead of by actual samples is daily coming more into use, and the arbitrations made last season were so disadvantageous to shippers from this side, that the latter are exercising greater caution than usual, and make a wider margin between grain of standard shipping grades and inferior qualities. In some instances, the foul condition of wheat is simply due to want of care in cleaning up thrashing stacks and sacking; in others, it is to be feared that good and bad is put up and sent to market in the same lot in the hope that some of the latter may slip through inspection unnoticed and undetected. In either case the result is about alike. Carelessness and dishonesty bear much the same fruit, and it is particularly unfortunate that the ill effect is not confined to those who do the wrong, but that the whole crop actually suffers appreciably in price from the failure of some growers to put their product into first-class merchantable order.—S. F. Chronicle.

PORTLAND AND OREGON.

Senator Grover, in his speech on the Northern Pacific Railroad bill, said of Portland and Oregon as follows:
"The wheat market of Portland, Oregon, is as good as the wheat market of Chicago; for the grain, once on board at Portland, is not handled again until it is delivered at Liverpool, which can be done in less than four months, with the expense of simply seamen's wages, costing less than export rates from Chicago. No grain products, grown west of the mountains, will come east by the Northern Pacific railroad, but they will go west, and find a quicker and better market. Then, we are the nearest point of supply to Japan and China, who do not produce wheat but consume much, and will in future consume a great deal. I make these allusions to show that farmers who go to Oregon are not going out of the world, but are going to a new world, and that there are two sides to this continent.—West Shore."

Farmer Jones, of Iowa, painted his barbed wire fence blue. Farmer Smith's wife swore she wasn't going to be outdone and the fence around the Smith farm soon blossomed out red, picked with white. Mrs. Jones wasn't going to have any of the Smith family putting on airs over her, and their blue fence was soon trimmed with gold leaf stripes. Smith trumped over that by putting a gilt ball on every barb, and Jones, when last heard from was planting weather vanes, gilt horses, peacocks and lightning rod tips all over his fence, and swearing he'd beat the Smith family if he had to put a copola and buy win-low at every post and hang a chromo every two feet along the line. We should all pay more attention to the decoration of our homes.

Look out for counterfeit trade dollars. They are smaller than the genuine coins, and the metal has a yellowish tinge, but they are well calculated to deceive.

FIRE AT EAST PORTLAND.—A large fire occurred at East Portland, in the central portion of the city on Monday morning of last week, commencing at 4 o'clock. The losses were as follows: Frank Bode, bakery, loss on building and stock, $2,000, insured for $900; Chas. Bartel, saloon, loss $1000, insurance $500; John Doboest, saloon, $2000, no insurance; Adam Lope, saloon, loss $800, insurance $500; Mr. Coughill, variety store, loss $600, no insurance; W S Gordon, stores and stock of tin and hardware $5000, no insurance; Judge W W Thayer, dwelling house, loss $2000, no insurance; Postoffice, in which the postmaster, Call S Williams kept a stock of stationery, etc., loss about $400, no insurance; a few stamps and envelopes were saved, as was also a portion of the mail matter and one mail sack. The office records were destroyed, as were also the locks and keys belonging to the department; W S Smith, grocer, damage to building and by removal of goods $1000, fully insured; Doud & Newell, by removal of goods and damage to building $1000, fully insured. In addition these, Messrs. Prettyman & Bright, intelligence office, Mr. Riley, bootmaker, Ed Hyde, barber, and Mr. Neppach, butcher, sustained small losses by the removal of goods, aggregating perhaps $500, while the damages to the streets and adjoining property will amount to perhaps $1000 more, the total loss being about $16,000, on which there was an insurance of about $3400 only. The burnt district looks decidedly dismal and the loss to East Portland is one from which she will not soon recover.

A church in Chicago was scandalized recently by the efforts of a sewing machine man to make the congregation an advertising medium.

Just before church time he had a number of fans placed in the pews. These fans were of the shut-up kind, and it was not until the people began to fan themselves that the discovery was made that each fan was embellished with a conspicuous advertisement of the sewing machine man's business.

GREAT RACE.—Mr. Tate, the celebrated foot-racer, has returned to this city from Oregon, where he won several races and got away with the crack runner of that State. It is proposed to get up a great race in this city, which will be open for all runners on the coast. A large purse will be offered, and an entrance fee of some twenty-five dollars will be charged. Entries will undoubtedly be made from San Francisco, Portland, Westminster and Seattle.—Dispatch.

President Jefferson's grave will soon be marked by an appropriate monument, the Congressional appropriation for the purpose having been spent by Secretary Evarts in the purchase of a neat one.
