Mrs. Margaret Kane died at Williamsburg, Sept. 6th, aged 107. The deflection in the Brooklyn board of education amounts to $200,000. Benjamin Sherwin, while playing base ball at Paterson, N. J., was struck in the stomach by a ball from the left and died in a few minutes.

The National Freeholders convention was held at Hornellsville, N. Y. Some 3000 delegates were present from most northern and western states and Canada. The speakers were Elisha Wright, Geo. Whitney, Prof. Bell, Prof. Tooby, Thaddeus K. Valenman, Capt. H. B. Barker, Rev. Samuel P. Putnam, Judge McCormick (Penn), Dr. Lamb and Mrs. H. S. Lake (Calif.). Col. Ingessoll spent 18 cents and wished the convention success. Condemns were sent the president and hopes were expressed for his recovery.

The Mining Associated Press reports that mining stocks have been generally dull and steady this week. Excessive heat exerted a depressing influence on the market, which has been showing off in price. Comstock shares state No. 10, No. 26 & 30 declined to 25; No. 164 to 23 and Oriental and Miller to 81. Closing prices for those stocks today are 40, 20, 26 & 30 respectively. Conditions mentioned in last week's report still prevail. No serious decline in prices is considered probable, and leading operators look for higher range and greater activity at an early day. During the week the following dividends were declared or paid: Copper Queen 10 cents per share; Empire Con 30 cents; Laputa 7 cents; Tombstone 10 cents; Robinson Con. regular dividend 25 cents, and extra dividend 10 cents. ... A Toronto Herald, Feb. 9, prints a lengthy interview with the president of which the following points are the most striking: After promising that the president would not suffer if the president's inability to perform his duties was a serious matter, he said that he would not change hands on very slight inability, if, as in history, the vice president was in open war with the president. ... A Washington dispatch of Sept. 6th says: The president was removed from his executive mansion at an early hour this forenoon to a special train at the depot, which was to convey him to Long Branch. The removal was successfully performed without any mishap of noteworthy incident. The entire route was kept clear of vehicles by policemen stationed at every intersecting street. A number of people remained up all night at the outside gates in front of the mansion, and by the time the conveyance containing the president passed through the gates about one hundred and fifty persons had assembled to witness the departure and obtain a glimpse of the president. When the president and party reached the depot, perhaps two thousand persons had gathered there. The crowd was very quiet and orderly, and the transfer of the president from the conveyance to which he rode to the car was watched in silence and with apparent solicitude lest some accident might occur. The party on board were Mrs. Cleveland, daughter, Miss Bliss, Agnew, Barnes, Boynton, Woodward and Reburn, Col. and Mrs. Rockwell and daughter Lulu, General Seaman, Col. Corbin, Secretary Brown, Dr. Edson, Rockwell, Warren S. Young and servants. The president at the depot appeared greatly unwell. His face was careworn but, as usual, Mr. Seaman said he had not been the least dispirited, but enjoyed the ride. He was taken from his room to an express wagon which was carried up to the front porch of the mansion. Mr. Seaman, Mr. Bliss, Boynton, Reburn, Swain, Rockwell and Corbin carried him. C. D. Rockwell and Warren Young remained with the patient during the removal to the depot. The president reclined easily on his bed where he has been so many days fighting for life. His right hand lay on his breast and his left was stretched at full length upon the coverlet. His forehead was covered by a linen cloth and there was a patient, resigned expression on his face. He was carefully and tenderly deposited in the wagon. At 5:50 the horses were started for the depot. The remainder of the party preceded the conveyance to the depot. The president cheerily but feebly lifted his left hand and waved a farewell as the carriage moved from the mansion, the rest of the party being in seats. At 6:30 the train moved out. The journey was accomplished without any great fatigue, the train arriving at Long Branch at 1:10 P. M.

Congressman H. B. Wright died at Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 24. An ice famine prevails in New Orleans. Only about a quarter of the usual daily supply can now be obtained by consumers. The bodies of four men were found 25 miles below El Paso on the 9th. They are supposed to be coffee thieves killed by ranchmen. As Samuel Akers and Wm. Scott were entering the air shaft of a coal mine near Van Metre, Iowa, the rope to the shaft and both were precipitated 200 feet. Both are likely to die. H. J. Fasse, greenback candidate for state senator in Davis county, Iowa, said that he was a member man than (quintessence), was compelled to withdraw from the race owing to the intense feeling on the subject. The court-martial for the trial of Lieut. Ripper, the only negro graduate of West Point, convened at San Antonio Sept. 12th under the presidency of Col. Pennington. The amount embezzled by Ripper is placed at $1700. Capt. Howgate's bondsmen are making enquiries for him in all directions, and will doubtless surrender him to the authorities as soon as they can secure his arrest. Howgate left Washington next day after his release on bail. The Pioneer Press publishes a careful estimate of the wheat yield in Minnesota by county sources. The general average arrived at for the whole state is 11 1/2 bushels to the acre. This gives a total product of 32,771,511 bushels, or about 15 per cent less than last year. The Tribune reporter called upon the agents of the steamship lines in regard to the O'Donovan dynamite case, warning them it would not be safe to patronize British vessels after Sept. 1st. The agents united in saying they did not think the matter of enough importance to feel any alarm. Deliveries of wheat in Chicago were heavier on the 29th than ever before in the history of the wheat trade. The Cincinnati syndicate turned in over 3,000,000 bushels. They are in default $200,000 to $300,000. This gives a total which will be settled for to-morrow. It is reported that the clique are going into Sept. options, and it is affirmed that they are about to embark in selling corn. Tidney, Indian agent at San Carlos, reported that Indian runners have come in from the White mountains with rumors of fighting near Fort Apache, one Lieut. and a number of soldiers are said to be killed in a fight on Cactus creek. Owing to the late heavy storms the military telegraph line is down beyond Camp Thomas and the depot from Fort Apache by mounted courier. A dispatch of Toronto dated Sept. 24 says: Fires are rapidly extending along the borders of the burning corn, which is fast fanning the flames. Telegraph communication is either totally or seriously interrupted. Insurance agents report the loss of the dynamite case, and cases of farmers having entire crops and buildings destroyed. In the Ojibwa section the damage done to timber alone will be $50,000. The dynamite case is being burned. The smoke obscures the sun, and the fire makes the atmosphere uncomfortably warm. Losses are estimated at $100,000. A special Shenandoah, Iowa, dispatch gives the following particulars of a terrible accident which occurred near that place Sept. 6th. Passenger train No. 91, north bound, on the Warsaw road, was derailed this afternoon about 5 o'clock. Nineteen persons were more or less injured and one named Thomas C. Leacock was killed outright. Two or three others will probably die. The train, except the engine, tumbled down an embankment the about fifteen feet high. The cause of the accident is not known. The Industrial League of America has addressed to manufacturers and others a circular suggesting the necessity of a tariff reform. Most of them, except cartographers, tornados, murders, fires and floods as everyday occurrences, and even a nitroglycerine explosion next door would not interrupt the routine work of the nation. But a French editor, and the editor of a Lyons paper at that, had a curiosity to know how a person feels when drowning. So he put up a job on himself. He arranged to come within a hair's breadth of drowning, but was to be pulled out in the nick of time, rolled on a barrel, hauled over the sands, blumped on the stomach, and otherwise resuscitated. All went well during the first act. He jumped into the water, refused to struggle, and gradually sank from sight. At the proper moment he was hauled up by a rope and a second commenced. This was an occasion where an editor was too smart. They rolled him according to programme, and seven or eight men fired dynamite out with rubbing him and laughing him up head downwards, but he was a dead man. He may know how it feels to drown, but he will never trouble the public with a description of his feelings. Very tough fresh meat may be made quite tender by soaking it in vinegar and water from six to twelve hours, according to the size of the piece. Three quarts of water and a little more than half a pint of vinegar will be enough for ten pounds. That quantity of moist should soak seven hours. Then wash, wipe dry and cook as desired.

PUGET SOUND ARGUS.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF JEFFERSON CO. FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1881.

The improved condition of President Garfield, as foreshadowed in our last issue, may be stated for a fact today. While there have been fluctuations since our last writing, and while fears, of other complications, have been entertained, there has been such a substantial improvement that a part of the force of attending physicians have been discharged, and the President has been able within the past three days to sit up a while each day. The time has almost arrived for pronouncing the distinguished patient entirely out of danger. He must look back upon the experiences of the past three months with curious feelings, regarding himself rather as one reclaimed from the other world than otherwise.

DELEGATE BRANTS seem greatly concerned about the admission of Washington Territory as a state under the present constitution, on account of the injustice to Eastern Washington in the matter of legislative apportionment. Of course no one denies that since the constitution was adopted the immigration to the territory has been chiefly to the eastern portion, and that a proportionate representation which would have been just to that section three years ago would be unjust to it now; but can this not be remedied? It will be remembered that one of the weightiest reasons urged for Mr. Brants' re-election was the fact that he, having had two years' experience in Washington, and being in harmony with the administration, could more easily secure the passage of the statehood bill than could Mr. Burke. The pledge made in the canvass by our delegate, and others who spoke in his behalf, was that he would, if re-elected, do his best to secure a state government at the earliest possible moment. Now, if he should shirk his plain duty, and delay the matter by indifferent action, there would be great dissatisfaction among the voters of the territory, who are in earnest about this matter of statehood. We have had enough of territorial slavery, and the "taxation without representation" so clearly prohibited by both the letter and spirit of the U. S. constitution, and on all hands the people cry out, "Give us a state government." If Mr. Brants cannot get the measure through Congress, elect some one who CAN and WILL. Mr. Brants is doubtless doing what he deems for the best, and, if he does what the people have a right to expect from him, he will leave no stone unturned to secure the passage of the statehood bill this winter. He will be seconded at Washington by able and influential public men. But what he seems to forget, is that his objections to the apportionment furnish a powerful club to the opponents of the statehood measure. Give us a state government, and THEN remedy any defects in the constitution. The matter of apportionment can be changed at any time by the state legislature, to meet the demands of the growing commonwealth.

The Olympia "Transcript" man sees a cat of huge proportions in the coal bag, in connection with the proposed establishment of a branch insane asylum east of the mountains. It is simply a matter of dollars and cents, brother—a question as to whether it would not be cheaper to maintain the insane of eastern Washington over there or to pay such enormous bills for traveling expenses and then have to maintain them here afterwards. Aside from this, there will be a question of equity as to the distribution of territorial funds. That is, whether it is justice to our eastern neighbors to expend such a large proportion of the funds over here, or whether it would not be best to divide the disbursement as nearly as possible. However, this last feature of the case may not cut a prominent figure. But we would suggest that possibly the "Transcript" has lost its cue. Governor Newell has discussed the feasibility of the proposed change more than has any member of that awful "ring" that haunts Gunn so much, and upon whom he is wont to charge this last move as a bold attempt at robbing the treasury by dishonest officials.

THE REPUBLICANS of Maine recently elected ex-Gov. Dingley to the seat in Congress vacated by Hon. W. P. Frye when he was elected Senator. The majority was very large.

LETTER FROM DAVID NEWSOME.

NEW TACOMA THE TERMINUS.

CARBONADO, W. T. Sept. 8, 1881. ED. PUGET SOUND ARGUS:—Permit your old friend to occupy a space in your excellent paper. I had thought that my tour in western W. T. was about ended; and I wrote out my farewell letter in the Seattle "Intelligencer," and left there on the 1st inst. for New Tacoma, intending to remain there two days, and then depart for Webfoot. Having an introduction to Genl. J. W. Sprague, head superintendent of the Pacific Division of the N. P. R. Co., he requested that I should visit those coal mines, on a free pass, and return and write them up for publication. Three public measures are greatly exercising the people; and from the General and his superintendent at those mines, I received full confirmation of those matters.

The Green River pass route is adopted for the N. P. R. R. from Wallula to the Sound, and 100,000 of the feet for the only developed coal mine—except New Castle—in western W. T. and as I am now posted up in this matter, I will give you a short outline of those mines.

About 20 months ago, coal was discovered at this point in satisfactory quantities, and quality, to induce eight gentlemen, mostly of the N. P. R. Co., to purchase two sections—No. 4 and 34 of the U. S. at $20 per acre as mineral lands. About 14 months ago they opened up those mines, and the N. P. Co. built a first class broad gauge R. R. to those mines, 34 miles, with 300 coal and coach cars. The coal veins crop out on each side of Carbon River, which runs here to the West. It is a rapid mountain stream, about 75 feet wide and 3 feet deep. It rises at the West base of Mount Rainier, 20 miles east. As the glaciers descend from the Mount, they crush and grind the rotten granite rocks; and the debris is precipitated into the canon through which this stream passes. Hence the river water is nearly white. Along each bluff of this stream in sec. 4, the coal veins crop out, beginning near the water, and showing nearly to the top, different strata. Four tunnels are run in; and railroad tracks run into all parts; and the cars are drawn by hand till loaded, and then brought to the main track by mules. On top of the north bluff, 500 feet elevation on a handsome plateau, the mining town of Carbonado is built. There are about 80 houses, including dwellings, hotel, store, P. O. office, engine house and saw mill. On an inclined plane on an angle of 45 degrees, run down, on a car track to the tunnels below, the empty cars, and up the loaded cars, by steam power. The coal is dumped into the large coal cars that run daily from here to New Tacoma. The daily supply from here has been about 325 tons for 14 months past. This coal is bituminous, and is of the very best quality. It is superior coal for gas and for forges. It makes no cinders in burning, but leaves only a few ashes. It is good for fuel as well. The fine and the coarse coal go together, no screening required. What I am about to state, may seem to be a "fish story."

But I am on the ground; went in to those mines, saw the veins of coal, and know what I state to be true. The veins are numbered thus: No. 1, 4 feet 4 inches; no. 2, (Wing) 7 1/2 inches; no. 4, 6 feet 6 inches; no. 5, 8 feet; no. 6, 5 feet; no. 7, 5 feet; no. 8, 5 feet; no. 9, 6 feet; no. 10, 8 feet; no. 11, (Wellington) 6 feet; no. 13, 14 feet; no. 13, 11 feet; no. 14, 6 feet; no. 15, (Pacific) 3 feet; (Cumberland) no. 16, (Pacific) 3 feet; (Cumberland) no. 17, 4 feet 6 inches; no. 18, (Heery) 13 feet; total, 116 feet 1 1/2 inches.

The Central P. Co. had been buying of Mr. Willard for perhaps a year past, 15,000 tons of lignite coal at Seattle, per month. That coal is good for fuel, but not for forges nor gas—hence it did not answer for general purposes. The same of this bituminous coal reached to a distance; it was tried and found to be very superior; hence Messrs. Crocker and Hamilton, on behalf of the Central P. Co., were here two weeks ago; and after examining every vein of the coal, and all the improvements here, gave upwards of half a million dollars for the whole. The first owners made well out of their investments. The N. P. R. Co. retain the railroad from Tacoma here, and all the rolling stock of it, right of way and stations. They have bargained to transport all the coal by rail to New Tacoma at one dollar per ton. The supply of coal here is to be doubled in four weeks. The N. P. R. Co. own four sections of this coal land, and can if need be, open out coal mines on their own lands. This purchase has interested another of the great mammoth companies in this part of W. T. I inquired here why Willard had not bought out those coal mines? The answer was, he had been negotiating for them, and was holding off for an extra bargain; when, to his surprise, the Central P. Co. closed up for this property.

The timber here and all around here is the best I have ever seen. It consists of very tall fir of all sizes, and cedar equally good, ash, alder and maple. Now, as to the quantity of coal there is on these two sections, an estimate may be made thus: One foot of solid coal on the surface of one acre, yields 1,500 tons. Multiply this by 116 feet 1 1/2 inches, and add up the product. Then estimate for 1,250 acres, deducting forty acres for breaks, and you have 1,210 acres. As you have learned men in Port Townsend, they can give the results of these estimates; and when the supply here upon those two sections will be exhausted. From all I can learn these veins run under 1000 square miles of this district.

WAYSIDE JOTTINGS.

The following items, culled by an occasional correspondent, may be of interest to some of our readers:

SEPTEMBER 2. Genl. R. H. Milroy, of Olympia, is Agent, Mr. T. R. Wilson, Teacher, and Miss Thompson Assistant Teacher, Dr. J. A. C. McGov, Physician. In this school the children are clothed, fed and taught in the common branches of the English language. There are about 60 pupils—the full capacity of the building now occupied. There is lumber now on the ground to build an addition to the schoolhouse 30 by 60 feet, 2 stories high. The population is about 500. Government has given 40 acres to the head of each family. The land is to be long to them and their children. They have horses, cattle, sheep and hogs, geese ducks and chickens, and raise wheat, barley, oats, potatoes, and most vegetables. They cut hay and sell in New Tacoma. Much of the reservation is rich alluvial deposit from the Puyallup river. They raise all the small fruits and enjoy them. There is one Roman Catholic and one Presbyterian Church. The children are making fine progress in the branches that are taught. Some of the men are building "Boston" houses and are quite comfortably fixed. The agent and teachers deserve great credit for services rendered the natives here. Everything is like "clock work" and in good running order. There will be a short vacation, "Hlop Hloking," which will be pleasant and profitable.

STELLACOOM.

SEPTEMBER 3. Old Fort Stella-coom is now occupied by the Insane Asylum of Washington Territory. Dr. Waughop is superintendent and Major Alden accountant officer. This institution has 98 inmates, 73 men and 25 women I presume some of our lady women's right orators would say that the above is a fair representation of the state—2 insane men to one woman. There is the usual per cent of the above violent. Some 30 are able to assist the duties of the institution. They have one of the finest gardens in the territory. They have an abundant supply of vegetables and small fruit. This year's harvest was over 40 bushels of straw berries and 25 of rasp and blackberries. The institution is 1 1/2 miles from the former county seat, Stellacoom, and 12 miles from the present county seat, New Tacoma. It borders on the Stellacoom Prairies and is delightfully situated. THE pilot schooner Champlain arrived from Cape Flattery on Tuesday morning. MASTER FRED WYDE, of Victoria, has been installed as an attaché of the Argus office. FOR good cigars, go to James Jones', head of Union Wharf, opposite Central Hotel. MR. E. L. CANBY called upon us this week in the course of his trip over from Portland. A NEW vessel will likely be on the ways at the shipyard of Messrs. Tobey and Fyge soon. GROSS BROS. will have their store closed from Friday, 23d inst., 6 p. m., until Monday, 26th, at 7 a. m. MR. THOS. DRUMMOND and wife, formerly of this place, recently sold their old home a brief visit. They are living in Victoria. MR. GEORGE H. JONES, of Indian, arrived here last week and assumed the duties of the Custom House clerkship vacated by Mr. E. H. Brown. MARRIED.—In this city, at the Central Hotel, on the 10th inst., by Rev. W. I. Coper, Andrew Johnson and Miss Mary Ann Plunkham, all of Jefferson county. THE grand jury was promptly discharged last Tuesday morning, they having found absolutely nothing to do—a fact highly commendatory of public morals in this and adjoining counties. THE little difficulty Uncle Sam, is having with his Apache "dillies" bids fair to be a repetition of the famous maloc war. Mr. Clinger's auction store, however, continues all the same. LAST Sunday there was no service in the Methodist church, the pastor and congregation participating in union service at the Presbyterian church. The occasion was that of the funeral sermon of Mrs. Carleton. An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Arnold died at the residence of Mr. Thos. Phillips, on Wednesday afternoon, from the dread summer complaint that has been raging. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of all. MR. HOLCOMB has closed his restaurant. He still maintains a fine assortment of stationery, books, notions, etc., and has just received a fine lot of fresh California fruits, cigars, etc., and fresh Dungeness butter. MR. WALTER P. BELL, formerly of Hill-nola, who was recently admitted to practice law, at Seattle, is now a resident of Port Townsend, having come to remain in the office, and share the law practice, of Mr. G. M. Haller. We extend to him a hearty welcome. HEAVY times have been going on among the stevedores and ship chandlery merchants, upon the advent of foreign vessels. This week two of our business men made a pilgrimage to Victoria to "scour" the trade of a deep sea craft. Capt. DeLeon came out first best. DIED.—In this city, on the 9th inst., Mrs. M. J. Carleton, aged about 65 years. She passed away in the fullness of years, enjoying the comforting faith of the Christian religion. She was the mother of Mrs. Thomas Phillips, of this place, and of Mrs. A. W. Arnold, of Island County. Their loss is a great one. We call the attention of the public to the new advertisement of Messrs. Gross Bros. They are now the regulators of low prices. This firm is energetic, buys in very large lots, and the Mr. Gross residing in San Francisco is known to be one of the most careful and shrewd buyers in the markets. They certainly deserve the patronage of the public. THE jubilee singers gave two of their laudable entertainments in Good Templars' Hall last week. It was remarkable in its natural, unaffected recitation of Ethiopian character. The voices of some of the singers were far above average, even among professionals. The inimitable Johnny Carter, in his old man and Chinese impersonations, was huge. THE American Cyclopaedia is about to be revised by the publishers, Messrs. D. Appleton & Co. Their Pacific Coast agents, Messrs. James T. White & Co., of San Francisco, have determined upon inserting articles descriptive of the prominent towns and cities on the coast, and have included Port Townsend within the range of their plans, having sent an invitation to the editor hereof to write up an article descriptive of this place for insertion in the revised work.

INTERESTING DISCOVERY.—Mr. J. S. Wyckoff, of this place, a very expert diver of the rod and line, while fishing for salmon recently at Neah Bay, made a discovery which he thinks somewhat remarkable. Getting out of bait, and wishing to know what the fish were feeding upon, he cut one open and found in its stomach a number of prawns and shrimps. The experiment was repeated upon several fish with the same result. This proves that our silver salmon are bottom feeders—a fact which has never before been known, and which may lead to still more interesting and valuable discoveries. THE facts were communicated to Judge Swan who is connected with the U. S. Fish Commission, and who has had many years of careful experience with Pacific Coast fishes, and he deemed the matter of sufficient importance to communicate the whole to Prof. Baird, of the Smithsonian, Washington. Judge Swan thinks that this solves the oft repeated conundrum as to why the Columbia river salmon are so much larger than those of Puget Sound. Undoubtedly there are immense quantities of prawns, shrimps and other small fishes off the mouth of the Columbia, at the junction of the salt and fresh waters, and upon these the salmon fattened before ascending the river to spawn. After they enter the river, cooling can be found in them to indicate what they have fed upon and it has long been a matter of speculation. AGAIN we call attention of the public to the matter of a reading room in Port Townsend. Unless more interest is taken the start already made will be lost. It is the intention of the original movers to print the constitution and rules, and see how many will undertake subscriptions to keep the enterprise moving. A few do-overs credit for the part they have taken thus far. Rev. John Reid has been working in his efforts. Mr. Rothchild has manifested a pronounced spirit; so have Prof. Kerr and Roberts and Collector Bush and wife. Mr. Barthrop kindly gave the use of the Red Men's Hall in which to hold the first meetings. But it would not be just to allow these few to bear all the burden where so important an object is in view as the maintenance of a public reading room. ANOTHER row has occurred near Dungeness, between M. Fleming and J. Douneil, resulting in a most disgraceful beating of the latter by the former. It was thought that Fleming's experience in that line last year with Douneil was enough to keep him quiet for a while, but he probably wanted to get a little more for the money expended. THE public should not fail to read the advertisement of our most energetic business firm, Messrs. Gross Bros. They are now receiving a full line of Fall and Winter goods, and we can safely say they are as well selected, and from all appearances, bought at bottom figures. We advise the public to go there and judge for themselves. CROCODS.—A curious freak of nature developed at Dungeness, not long since. A turkey gobbler drove a sitting hen off of her nest and perched in sitting upon and hatching out the eggs. The young chicks were taken from him after they were hatched, or there is no telling to what lengths his malinclination might have led him. AS a matter of fact, it has been frequently noticed lately by those whose opportunities qualify them for judging correctly, that dry goods can be bought cheaper in Port Townsend than in Seattle. This speaks volumes for the enterprise of our merchants, and should be remembered by those in adjoining rural districts. A VERY pleasant visit to the cutter Wolcott a few days ago impressed us with the neatness and order of that creditable little craft. Lieut. Blood is in temporary command, in the absence of Capt. Stodder. THE bridge across the river at Dungeness is being rebuilt, by contracting parties in Seattle. The same parties have taken a contract to build the Catholic church shortly to be erected in Port Townsend. LIEUT. FRED SCHWATKA, of Oregon, proposes soon to visit Victoria and give a course of his famous arctic lectures at the prominent points on Puget Sound—so a letter from his manager informs us. HON. H. G. STRIVE, of Seattle, came down on Wednesday, on business connected with the district court. He will go to California soon to visit the scenes of former years, on an excursion for his health. A COPY of the "Saturday Press," published at Honolulu, has reached us in exchange. It is a four page weekly paper of especial value to shippers and other commercial men. MR. CABLE BILL, formerly conductor of the blacksmith business in this place, is in Wyoming, expecting to settle there with his family. He is sorry for leaving left Port Townsend. THE Literary and Social Club, of Port Discovery, will have an anniversary reunion tomorrow evening. One year's successful existence has been completed by them. MR. C. E. P. WOOD, formerly of the Port Discovery Mill Co., is visiting Puget Sound again. He looks just as natural as of yore, and is meeting many old friends. On account of the severe illness of Mrs. Smith at Port Discovery, the school at that place has been closed, and the teacher, Miss Coper, has returned home. MR. ELL ROBINSON and Mr. J. Elster, both of New Tacoma, went to San Francisco on the Dakota last week. They will be absent a month or two. MR. JAMES SMITH, of Port Discovery is very low with typhoid fever—in fact so low that he lies in despair of life. THE schooner Encora, Capt. N. T. Oliver, has sailed from San Francisco for Puget Sound waters again. MISS OREN DAVIS, of Dungeness, was recently married to Mr. George Wright, at Victoria, B. C.

A SHORT time ago a really looking chap named Wm. Greulich was arrested in this place by officer Finn, on a charge of vagrancy. Afterwards, the officers had him examined by Dr. Minor, for insanity. A certificate of his insanity was duly made out by the physician, and he was committed before Judge Smith, for commitment to the asylum. That officer, concluding that the subject was not insane, refused to commit him on the charge, and turned him over to the tender mercies of the editor hereof, as Justice of the Peace, to be dealt with on the original charge of vagrancy. There being no other course of procedure open, the fellow was tried, and ordered to execute a bond in the sum of three hundred dollars for his good behavior for three months, and was committed to the county jail in default. On Monday a telegram was received by Judge Smith, from Dr. Waughop, saying that Greulich was an escaped patient from the asylum, and that a warden would be down on Tuesday after him. This was solved a problem upon which doctors and lawyers disagreed. THE AMOOR RIVER.—On Tuesday, Judge Swan read a paper to a number of gentlemen, "On the countries drained by the Amoor River and its tributaries, and the immense trade now lying dormant which will be brought into active life and diverted to the American shore by the Pacific coast by means of the great Northern Pacific Railroad." The gentleman, among whom were Judge Greene, officers and lawyers of the court, unanimously expressed an opinion as to the value of this paper, and the desirability of having it printed in pamphlet form. It is one of the ablest papers ever written on the subject, and shows the grand possibilities of an immense trade with Siberia, Mongolia and all the countries of north-eastern Asia, as soon as a route is opened. It shall have been completed so as to permit the directors to turn their attention to the solution of this problem. ASTORIA, Oreg., is to have a new M. E. church building. Rev. Jno. Parsons, formerly stationed at this place, is now serving his third year's appointment at that point. The new church is to cost $2750, and the contract has already been let. A generous church extension society in the East will donate $500 or $1000 for the purpose—being the largest donation ever made to any one church within the bounds of the Oregon M. E. conference. Mr. Parsons is evidently meeting with gratifying success. CAPT. JAMES M. SELDEN.—The host of friends of this gallant officer, who reside in this territory, will be pleased to learn that he is in vigorous health, attending to his duties as commander of the U. S. revenue steamer Crawford, now on the station at Pensacola, Florida. We hope that when Capt. Selden's term expires on that station, which we understand will be next spring, he will be ordered back here where he will find a hearty welcome. WE have received from Hon. T. M. Reed, Territorial auditor, a copy of the rules compiled by the Territorial Board of Equalization. These rules were adopted August 23d last, and are quite interesting and valuable to tax payers and county officers. We hope to give a synopsis of them next week. THE family of Mr. J. J. Conner, founder of La Conner, W. T., went to San Francisco on the Dakota last week. Mr. Conner will soon follow, after disposing of his immense grain crop. They will remain below during the winter. NEWS ITEMS. BUTTER and eggs are scarce and high in Seattle. THE steamer Mastick has recently been undergoing some repairs. FOREST fires in Michigan have recently destroyed much valuable property. HON. T. H. BRENTS has placed us under increased obligations for valuable congressional documents. PECK's recent cartoon illustrations of leading political characters fully rival those of the famous Nast. GEN. AMBROSE E. BURRISIDE, senator from Rhode Island, died on Monday at Providence, of heart disease. THE Seattle "Post" is to add a first-class job office to its splendid outfit of material. One of the Huttons has gone to San Francisco to make the purchase. GOV. FREEMONT, of Arizona, recommends that the U. S. government and that of Mexico unite and use the upper portion of lower California as a kind of reservation for hostile Indians. HALL BROTHERS, of Port Blakely, will soon begin the construction of a steamship for the Mexican trade. The schooner upon which they are at present at work will be completed and ready for launching in a few weeks. THE financial reports of the Territorial Auditor and Treasurer will show about $20,000 balance in the Treasury. Of this probably $5,000 is due persons for whom warrants have not been drawn, thus leaving the Territory free of debt and with $15,000 in her treasury; this too, with a tax only three mills on the dollar and under the management of "the ring" about whose dishonesty the Seattle editor of the "Transcript" writes so much. No officer deserves particular credit for being honest, but it is rank dishonesty and down-right villainy to make charges against such officers when not a single wrongful act can truthfully be alleged.—"Courier."

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

District Court convened here on Monday last, Judge R. S. Greene presiding. The following officers of the court were in attendance: U. S. Marshal and prosecuting attorney, Chas. Hopkins and C. Hamford; District attorney, Edwood Evans; besides the following named sheriffs of the different counties in the district: B. S. Miller, Jefferson; Geo. C. Cooper; Chas. J. Power, Island; John Kelly San Juan; Jas. Seavey, clerk; J. G. Clinger, Crier; J. H. Van Bokkelen Phillip Meagher, and John Fincher, Bailiffs. The following lawyers were in attendance: Messrs. Bradshaw, Haller, Smith and Bell, of this place, and Messrs. McNaught, Haines and Burke, of Seattle. Many of the cases on the docket were old, continued ones, and were easily disposed of. The following business has been transacted. Webster vs Balch; dismissed at plaintiff's cost. Blanchard, et al, vs Sayward, two cases; confirmation of sale of real estate in each. Pixley vs Pixley, divorce; default entered. Referred to J. Callahan. Corrick vs Corrick, divorce; default. Referred to W. Smith. Haller vs Gage; judgment for $137.50 and costs. Watersman & Katz vs B S Miller; judgment for $273.50. Haller vs Gilliam; continued. De Jump vs his creditors; dismissed at applicant's cost. Haller vs D Lewis; stricken from the docket. Haller vs Brewster; stricken from the docket. Eisenbets vs Willoughby; dismissed at plaintiff's cost. McCurdy vs Sheehan; dismissed at plaintiff's cost. McDonald vs Picher; dismissed at plaintiff's cost. Mrs. Catherine McGarry naturalized. Wm. Crook naturalized. Griffith vs Griffith; continued. FitzPatrick vs Connor; continued.

UNLICENSED AND INEXPERIENCED PILOTS.—Complaint has been made by a member of the Puget Sound Pilgrage District that a young man (without certificate) has been in the habit of boarding vessels bound to Victoria and representing that he is a regularly licensed pilot of the Sound District. It would be well for officers in charge to see that none but certified pilots take charge, otherwise they run the risk of losing both ship and insurance.—"Victoria Colonist."

THE above has reference to a son of Capt. E. H. McAlmond, of the pilot schooner Champlain. It seems that the present pilot law in this Territory is inadequate for the punishment of any one for piloting vessels to Victoria without a license, and hence one as good as another in the matter. The coming legislation will doubtless straighten out the crooked places in the law.

A YACHT built at Port Ludlow by the famous Hall Brothers, for a wealthy San Francisco firm, recently won a race over a thirty mile course where the land, it was stated, a large fleet of the swiftest vessels about San Francisco for competitors. This certainly speaks well for Puget Sound productions.

THE steamer Welcome is now making regular trips between Seattle and La Conner.

THE liver is the organ most speedily disordered by malarial poisons. Ayer's Ague Cure expels these poisons from the system, and is a most excellent remedy for liver complaints.

Mr. Korter has made a nice improvement in his barber-shop.

We venture to say that he has a shop as neatly fitted up as any on the Sound. He has also fitted up a bathroom for salt and fresh water baths. He has done his best to have one of the finest shops, and is master of his profession.

"The boys are coming home to-morrow!"
This our usual motto was.
While Lou and I sat dining down.

It was a simple thing to do so much—
A strip of rose pink silk—no certainly

It was just after Virginia became

He had been so long in the city, that he had almost forgotten the name of the girl who had been his pelled him to look at her.

But he had arrived late,
and Virginia and her guardian were already gone, and that was the end of the conversation.

"No," she said, clearly, "you cannot
