HOPES.

Hopes are but waking dreams,
As baseless as the wind;
No silver cord is strong enough
Their phantom wings to bind;
In clearest light, as in the night,
They cheat the strongest mind.

Daily they dawn and die,
Like buds that with cold and wet
Are blighted on the blooming tree,
Ere the fruit begins to set;
But on and on, till life is gone,
We trust their promise yet.

ALICE CARY.

A RACE FOR LIFE.

A few years since a couple of young men, scarcely arrived of age, were caught by a snow-storm while taking up their traps on the head of the Big Horn river, in the Rocky mountains. The storm lasted for several days, nor was there any hope of escape until the snow should become compact enough to bear their weight upon snow-shoes.

The lodge of the brothers, Nicholas and Jules Semineau, consisted of a couple of Buffalo robes stretched in front of an overhanging rock that overlooked the river.

Here were stored their furs, neatly tied up in small bales, made up principally of the skins of minks, otters and beavers, with a few pelts of the silver fox. Over these were laid robes which served them for a bed. A little fire was replenished from time to time by the dry branches of pine and cedar, of which they fortunately had an ample supply. Thus they were enabled to pass the days pleasantly, notwithstanding the raging of the elements without.

Up the canyon, through which the river flowed, the wind sucked and roared terribly. The icy face of the stream was soon cleared of snow, which drifted into the lateral canyons, gorging them completely.

In order to pass away the time, the young men busied themselves in making skates from the horns of an elk. The art of skating they had learned while boys on the broad bosom of the St. Lawrence.

Their meat running short Nicholas concluded to have a run on his skates up the river, with the hope of killing an elk, which were numerous on the pine-covered slopes of the mountains. Rifle in hand he started in high spirits. The quick gaze of Nicholas searched in every shelter for the mighty antlers of the elk or the blue coat of the black-tailed deer, the best of all venison.

It was not long ere he spied a herd of the latter, of which he had the good luck to kill two. The saddles of these he secured together, strapped them around his shoulders and started on his return home, distant about four miles.

He skated leisurely along, humming a light French air, when suddenly his ears were struck by an unearthly cry, which he at once recognized as the roar of the mountain lion, and he could distinguish, also, that the cries proceeded from more than one.

He quickened his pace. His skates rang hard against the solid ice. The cries became clearer, and he instinctively felt that he was pursued.

Fear lent him wings. He let fall a saddle hoping thereby to satisfy the hunger of the lions. He found presently, however, that they made no halt. It was the young man they raged after, and nought but his blood would appease them.

He now cast aside his remaining saddle and his rifle, and leaned forward upon his skates with all the power he possessed, yet the beasts gained rapidly upon him. He could hear their mighty bounds At times he fancied he could feel their hot breath. He gazed over his shoulder, and the glance revealed the lions, their mouths wide open and their blood-red tongues hanging over their jaws, while their cries were as frequent as the baying of a blood hound.

He was now compelled to double on his course, the weight and impetus of the lions carrying them beyond him.

Nicholas preserved his presence of mind, and by his skill as a skater, combined with wonderful activity, he eluded the efforts made by the lions to seize him, and drew slowly toward home.

Presently he saw the smoke curling from under the rocky shelf, and as he shot past his ears were greeted by the welcome crack of a rifle, and one of the lions tumbled over dead almost at his feet. The voyager also turned toward the rock. Jules had reloaded. His unerring aim stretched the remaining lion upon the ice, and Nicholas was saved. It was some months, however, ere he recovered from the superhuman efforts made by him in his race for life.

The next summer he served as a guide, and it was while fishing in this same river that he related to the writer his thrilling adventure.

The Great Danger of Ministers.

The establishment of such relations between a pastor and his flock as shall secure for him that intimacy which ought to exist only in the domestic circle is an evil of fearful tendency and unspeakable danger. Ministers are censurable in a high degree who encourage their people, men or women, to come to them with family matters or secret sores. Some men are themselves gossips, and delight to get and give all they can of social news, and the more secret the richer the prize. They encourage revelations when their ears should be deaf to everything approaching scandal. All judicious pastors discourage familiarity on the part of their people, especially of the female denomination.

For this way lies the danger. A silly woman, pious perhaps, but very soft and shallow, hears the stirring words of her eloquent pastor, is roused, warmed, soothed—she thinks edified—and straightway she believes him to be the man sent to do her good. She finds enjoyment in his words; and writes him a letter and pours out her little soul full of twaddle about her gratitude for what her dear pastor has done for her. We wish to be understood as saying that what worldly preachers and sentimental women call "communion of soul," is carnal, conceived in sin, of the earth earthy—no religion about it.—N. Y. Observer.

Small Means.

The power of money is, on the whole, over-estimated. The greatest things which have been done for the world have not been accomplished by rich men, or by subscription lists, but by men generally of small means. The greatest thinkers, discoverers, inventors and artists have been men of moderate wealth, many of them little raised above the condition of manual labors.

And it will always be so. Riches are oftener an impediment than a stimulus to action, and in many cases they are quite as much a misfortune as a blessing. The youth who inherits fortune is apt to have life made too easy for him. Having no special object to struggle for, he finds time heavy on his hands; remains morally and mentally asleep; and his position in society is degraded to that of a sloth.

Stokes.

Stokes, the murderer of Fisk, has conparatively an easy time at Sing Sing. He wears the prison garb; is locked up in his cell at night, and of course does not go outside of the prison walls. Besides this he is scarcely more confined than an ordinary clerk in a New York mercantile house. His hair, cut short when he entered the prison, is drifting away from the penitentiary style, and his beard is allowed to grow. He was for awhile in the hospital, where he had his quarters night and day. He is now in the buckle department, where he is clerk, and proves himself a capital bookkeeper. He is getting enormously fat, and says he has not been in as good health for years as he is now.

INTERESTING DECISION.—The Attorney General has decided that matters pertaining to results of elections in the Territories are questions to be settled in the local courts.

Matrimony, said a modern Benedict, the other day, produced remarkable revolutions. Here am I, for instance, in ten short months changed from a sighing lover to a loving sire.

"THE OLD WOMAN."

It was thus, a few days since, we heard a stripling of sixteen designate the mother who bore him.

An "old woman" should be an object of reverence above and beyond most all other phases of humanity. Her very age should be her surest passport to courteous consideration. She has fought faithfully "the good fight," and come off conqueror. Upon her venerable face she bears the marks of the conflict in all its furrowed lines.

The most grievous of the ills of life have been hers; trials untold and known only to her God and herself, she has borne incessantly; and now in her old age—her duty done! patiently awaiting her appointed time—she stands more honorable and deserving than he who has slain his thousands, or stood triumphantly upon the proudest fields of victory.

Young man speak kindly to your mother, and even courteously—tenderly of her. But a little time and you will see her no more for ever. Her eye is dim, her form is bent, and her shadow falls graveward.

Others may love you when she has passed away — kind-hearted sisters, perhaps, or she whom of all the world you choose for a partner—she may love you warmly, passionately; children may love you fondly, but never again, never, while time is yours shall the love of woman be to you as that of your old trembling mother has been.

A Queer Religious Sect.

The Chicago Tribune contains the following:

Scattered all through portions of Southern Colorado and New Mexico, and extending even into Arizona and Utah, are members of a queer religious sect known as the Penitentes. Those fellows act upon the theory that all moral sins, no matter how hideous, can be attoned by physical suffering, and accordingly, at certain seasons of the year, generally in the fall, they castigate themselves into a condition of godliness, and they commence the battle of life anew. In Colorado and New Mexico the order numbers 10,000 souls, who are all under the control of, and yield implicit obedience to the high priest, Romeo Minguel, a man whom they aver is a direct descendant of Montezuma. He lives in great state at Taos, New Mexico, is surrounded by numerous servants, and religiously exacts one-third of whatever is produced by his subjects, no matter whether it be grain, wood, gold or silver. A neglect or refusal to comply with this ordinance subjects the offender to excommunication, and in aggravated cases to death.

The Last from Mark Twain.

I got into the cars in juxtaposition to a female. That female's face was a perfect insurance company for her. It insured her against marrying anybody except a blind man. Her mouth looked like a crack in a dried lemon; there was no more expression in her face than there is in a cup of cold custard. She appeared as though she had passed through one famine, and got about two-thirds through another. She was old enough to be the great grandmother of Mary who had a little lamb. I was full of curiosity to hear her speak, so I said: The orb of day shines very resplendent in the vault above. She hitched around uneasy, then raised her umbrella and said, I don't want any of yoor sass—git out! and I got

A Horrible Deed.

The Portland Bulletin says, we were informed that a week ago Friday eight drunken soldiers of Vancouver, by some means, enticed Miss Miller, a young girl aged thirteen, to a spot near the cemetery, a short distance from the barracks, where they poured whisky down her throat, and by force subjected her to the most fiendish outrages. For some time did these eight vile wretches—to whom the name of murderer would be a base flattery—hold the almost lifeless child in the grasp of satanic outlawry. Her body and face were torn and bleeding, and a more pitiable sight never lay beneath the clouds of Washington Territory.

From this World to the Other.

We start in life an unbroken company; brothers and sisters, friends and lovers, neighbors and comrades are with us; there is circle within circle, and each one of us is at the charmed centre where the heart's affections are aglow, and whence they radiate outward upon society. Youth is exuberant with joy and hope; the earth looks fair, for it sparkles with May-dews yet, and no shadow hath fallen upon it. We are all here and we could live here forever. The home centre is on the other side of the river, and why should we strain our eyes to look beyond? But this state of things does not continue long. Our circle grows less and less. It is broken and broken, and then closes up again; but every break and close makes it narrower and smaller. Perhaps before the sun is at his meridian the majority are on the other side; the circle there is as large as the one here, and we are drawn contrariwise and vibrate between the two. A little longer, and we have almost crossed over; the balance settles down in the spiritual side, and the home centre is removed to the upper sphere. At length you see nothing but an aged pilgrim standing alone on the river's brink, and looking earnestly toward the country on the other side. In the morning that large and goodly company rejoicing together with music and wine; in the evening, dwindled down to that solitary old man, the last of his family, and the last of his generation, waiting to go home, and filled with pensive memories of the long ago.

Cremation Among the Greeks.

The body was placed upon a pyre built of wood, to which fire was communicated in the presence of those who attended the funeral; when the flames were extinguished, the bones were collected and placed in urns made of various materials. These were preserved in tombs, built commonly on the road-sides without the city gates. The funeral took place at night. The procession was headed by musicians; these were followed by hired mourners, who lamented and sang the funeral song; after these came the freedmen of the deceased, sometimes amounting to considerable number, wearing the cap of liberty. Immediately preceding the corpse were persons bearing waxen masks, representing the ancestry of the deceased; the corpse, itself, placed upon a couch, was commonly borne by the freedmen or by the immediate relatives, the family following after—the men contrary to the usual custom, with their heads covered, the women with their heads bare, their hair disheveled, and often beating their breasts, and uttering piercing cries. If warranted by the rank of the deceased, the procession passed through the forum, and an oration was then pronounced over the body. Finally, the corpse, with the couch upon which it was borne, was placed on the funeral pyre, built commonly in the form of an altar, with four equal sides. The nearest relative with averted face, kindled the pyre, and perfumes, oils, articles of food, ornaments and clothing were frequently thrown on while it was being consumed. When the pile was burned down, the embers were extinguished with wine, the bones and ashes collected by the nearest kin, sprinkled with perfumes, and placed in an urn.

Use of a Receipt.

An Indian of the Miamie tribe owed a lawyer some money. He brought the amount to his creditor and waited, expecting the lawyer would give him a receipt.

What are you waiting for? said the lawyer.

Receipt, said the Indian.

A receipt said the lawyer—receipt; what do you know about a receipt? Do you understand the nature of a receipt? Tell me the use of one and I will give it to you.

The indian looked at him a moment and said:

S'pose maybe me die; I'me go to heben; me find the gate locked; me see the 'postle Peter; he say, Simon, what you want? 'me want to get in; he say you pay Mr. J. that money? what me do! I hab no receipt! hab to hunt all over hell to find you!

He got a receipt.

THAT CARSON BILL.

The last number of the Washington Standard comes loaded down with an old and stale account of Judge Jacob's endorsement of Sheriff Carson's bill for the keeping and transportation of prisoners. This whole matter has been published and republished before, and is dug up now to furnish material for the Democratic tooth to convert into scandal, to detract from Judge Jacobs' fair fame.

Under the law authorizing the Sheriffs to collect their fees for such services, the duty of the Judge was confined to the certifying that the services were actually rendered, and it was the duty of the Territorial Auditor to credit the value of those services and issue the scrip to which the claimant was entitled.

In the case cited by the Standard the Judge certified that the services were rendered, and the Auditor, who was new in the business, issued the scrip for the amount expressed on the face of the bill. Subsequently suit was brought against Sheriff Carson by the Prosecting Attorney of this District, in Judge Jacob's Court, and four hundred dollars recovered and paid back to the Territory.

The plain inference to be drawn from the Standard's article is, that Judge Jacobs had profited by the allowance of illegal claims upon the Territory and the counties.

This inuendo, raised just before the election and scattered broadcast before the people, when there is but little time to thoroughly expose its falseness, it is hoped by the Democratic leaders will mislead the honest, but unsuspecting in such tricks, into the belief that the Judge, instead of being the incorruptible and honest Jurist we have known him to be, is the reverse.

We think it will take something more than the editor of the Standard to weaken the confidence of our people in the Judge's integrity and purity.

HE IS COMING.

From Walla Walla to Whitman and Stevens counties, from thence to the lower Columbia, from lower Columbia to the Sound, step by step, comes our candidate, Judge Jacobs. Our locals announce some of the particulars of his reception in Olympia. By private telegrams we learn that it was enthusiastic beyond description. The feeling in his favor is growing every day, and we predict that he will sweep these Sound counties with a majority beyond the hopes of the most sanguine. The truth is that our people are convinced that Mr. Sharpstein is not a candidate of the Territory but of a Walla Walla clique. A man that has made such a canvass as he has of the Sound cannot represent favorably its interests. He sees but one way and that is toward his own banker. His hand goes into his pocket but never comes out, even when hard labor demands its just reward.

On the other hand Judge Jacobs is identified with every interest of the Territory, and particularly of the Sound. Poor and plain, but honest and true, his duty has been to uphold the right and administer justice. His abilities are of a higher order than those of the Beau Brummell class. In behalf of benevolent as well as educational and agricultural associations, his voice has often been heard and his influence ever given. The voice of individual distress never plead in his ear in vain. Philanthropy, Education, Agriculture have found their ablest advocate here, in Judge Jacobs, and he has ever been the friend of that large class WHOSE POVERTY has been their only crime. Known as the SAILOR'S Friend, the Farmer also has ever found him interested in every detail of farm life, active in every improvement in agriculture, and those interested in our schools have looked to him as their soundest adviser and sincerest well-wisher. While thus we find Judge Jacobs ever devoted to the public good, we turn on the other hand to Mr. Sharpstein. His voice never yet has reached Puget Sound in behalf of one single interest of Washington Territory till he came to claim our suffrages. In his own home he is known as the legal tool of a railroad clique, not as a promoter of the general welfare. His own words betray his weakness, and his best friends wish he had stayed at home.

With these facts before us there can be but one conclusion for our people. While local politics may divide us as our friendships and party feelings call us, our duty to ourselves and our interests, our regard for the Territory at large, and still more for our HOME on these loved shores of Puget Sound demands that for our Representative at Washington we take no enemy, nor even a luke-warm friend.

Judge Jacobs is one of us. He is well known all through; has trodden our footpaths; has skirted our thousand shores over these lovely waters, and wandered through our fields, resting by our firesides. He is coming now to ask that we entrust to him our interests in the National Councils. These interests may be small, but they are no less important. He is expected on Monday next, and we bespeak for him a popular reception, as our truest friend. With confidence in his established integrity, known ability and devotion to our interests, let us for our own sakes, forgetting local strifes, give to him a unanimous reception on Monday, and a triumphant election on Tuesday.

A NUT TO CRACK.—The Echo, a temperance paper published at Olympia, takes up the glove for Sharpstein, and among other things said by it in his faver is one that that will cause Walla Walla people to "larf." It holds him up as a TEMPERANCE man. Now, the nut that we wish the Echo to crack is this: If Mr. Sharpstein is a temperance man, why did he "fix" so many saloons to run for him on election day? We anticipate that the Echo will answer — why!—W. W. Union.—[It is well known in this place that every FREE drink the Democratic candidate was offered here, he accepted.—ED.]

THE news from Island County is cheering. Throughout its entire domain the people are enthusiastic for Jacobs.

Vote for Jacobs, the Sailors' Friend.

WE understand that there is a band of restless spirits, who are anxious to serve their country—and they may possibly have an opportunity to do so in the neighborhood of Steilacoom—who meet nightly at the rooms of certain ones of their number, for the purpose of devising ways and means to squeeze coin from the various candidates for office.

The avowed object of this high-toned and honorable organization is to secure the co-operation of all who are willing to prostitute their manhood, and to bind themselves together by a solemn agreement to vote for the candidate who will pay them the highest price for their debasement. They are men without principles, and strangers to any honorable instinct, who will sell themselves, like a wanton, for gold.

These creatures, disgracing the form of man, number a score or more, and there are certain honorable gentlemen who have succeeded in securing the names of all who are connected with the organization, and who will keep a sharp lookout for them; and if they succeed in finding a man on any of the tickets in the field, who is so low in the scale of humanity as to attempt to barter with them for their votes, that man will be openly denounced as a villainous wretch and his shame published to the world.

There is a stringent law in force in this Territory which provides severe penalties for any one who shall be engaged in election frauds or bribery, and which applies equally to the bribed and the briber.

We warn all good men against these unclean, leprous libels on the human form. And we inform this unholy organization that their infamous schems are known, and that every man connected with it is spotted, and that the first attempt which they make to rob honest voters of their rights, by selling their votes, will result in placing themselves and the monstrosity which seeks to purchase them, within the narrowed limits of a prison wall.

Thus much we say, not in the interest of any political party or clique, but in the wider and broader interest of all good citizens, whose safety lies in the purity of the ballot-box.

Let there be a combination of all honest men, who are willing to abide the choice of honest votes, against such bodies of debased humanity, as the one which we now have in our midst, and which seeks to control our election by the vilest practices. Let it be strangled in its infancy, while we have the power, and let him who attempts to buy or sell a vote, be branded as an enemy of the best government that the world has ever seen; and let him waste his days behind a dungeon wall.

An Independent's View of Judge Jacobs

The Portland Oregonian, the organ of the Independents in Oregon, in a late issue, spoke in regard to the election in this Territory as follows:

Knowing Judge Jacobs personally, and knowing him for a first-class man, we should feel gratified at his election, as we should regard it as a triumph of honesty and morality in the Republican party. It will probably be conceded that we are not wishing for Judge Jacobs' election on partisan grounds. We are of the opinion the question of Republican and Democrat is entirely too insignificant a matter to be made the basis of a contest for the Delegateship from Washington Territory, in the present situation of affairs. What the people of that Territory want is a man in Congress—a man who will make it his first and last care to attend to the great wants of the Northwest coast and especially of Washington Territory. Such a man is Judge Jacobs.

A carpet-bagger, Nash by name, and Judge Mix, are furnishing the chin music for Sharpstein east of the mountains, at the rate of $60 per month, payable in the event of their candidate's election.

P. S.—Since the above was put in type, we learn that in consequence of the almost universal enthusiasm manifested for Jacobs, they have given up believing that further work is useless.

All True Men Support Jacobs.

THE DELEGATESHIP.

The Seattle Intelligencer, which has up to its last issue preserved neutrality on the subject of the Delegateship, now speaks out its honest convictions, as follows:

In the nominee of the Republican party we find exemplified that man whom the urgent necessities of our Territory and people suggested to us before his nomination, as the candidate who would command the support of the people, and gratify all good men, irrespective of party, by his election. Furthermore, from our personal knowledge of Judge Jacobs' natural and acquired ability, his ready tact, his wide acquaintance with every want of the people of the Territory, his commanding influence and his familiarity in the walks of public life, together with our well-proven confidence in his steadfast honesty and integrity of purpose, we are further assured that after he is elected Delegate—which he will be, as sure as the evening shall succeed the morn, on the third of November next by an overwhelming majority—he will give his time and labors wholly to the duties of his trust, and devote his first and last attentions to the imperative wants of Washington Territory, and more largely contribute to her material progress and development than all the delegates we have ever had before.

For these reasons we are induced to come to his support, and, regardless of party, urge upon our readers everywhere the importance and necessity of his election, and of a prompt discharge of their duties as citizens by according him their votes, however well they may be convinced of his assured success.

DAVID HIGGINS, Esq., has purchased the interest of S. L. Maxwell, in the Seattle Intelligencer, and will henceforth conduct the columns of that journal. Mr. Higgins is a vigorous writer, a courteous and dignified gentleman, and will sustain the most sanguine expectations of its numerous supporters.

DON'T LIKE IT.—The Dayton News, a Democratic paper recently started in Walla Walla county, by A. J. Cain, is dissatisfied with the nomination of Sharpstein, and on behalf of the Democrats in that section, says: "It is with regret that we are compelled to acknowledge the deep-seated dissatisfaction amongst the Democrats of this part of the county with the nomination of B. L. Sharpstein, Esq., as the Democratic candidate for Delegate. It is particularly unfortunate."

SHARPSTEIN'S RETRENCHMENT.—If we are to accept the example the Democratic Independent candidate for Delegate has given in going around the Sound as an earnest of his ideas of retrenchment and reform—his hiring an inferior scull boat to take him from Tacoma to Seattle for $4—in case he should be elected he would be very likely to introduce a bill to have all the mails carried in the same way, and drive every steamboat from our waters.—Courier.

OUR COUNTY TICKET embraces, in its list of candidates, all that could be desired—men of experience and ability. There need be no hesitancy about giving them the support to which they are entitled. Show by an overwhelming majority for them that they are appreciated.

THE customary charge for rowing a passenger thirty miles on the Sound is $5, and this was the sum the boatman chartered at Tacoma by Sharpstein, to take him to Seattle, asked for his services. But, says the would-be Delegate, "I am up for Congress, sir; think of the honor of rowing me! It is worth a great deal to you to have a possible Delegate, like myself, in your boat, everybody will want to go rowing with you afterwards. Suffice it all, the good-natured fellow took compassion on the POOR man and threw off a dollar, the bargain being concluded for four dollars. Just before landing the candidate offered the boatman two short bits if he would lead him through the principal street whistling, "See the Conquering Hero Comes," but the magnanimous offer was declined, so the great man strode up the street humming to himself, "Hail to the Chief," while the disgusted boatman sat on the wharf singing, "There was a LITTLE Man," etc. On one of the half dollars the boatman got for the job there is the impression of a man's fore-finger and thumb quite deeply indented. The coin bears date 1866—the year the candidate for Delegate received coin change at the hotel where he stopped in Olympia, when a member of the Council, the time he paid his bill in the greenbacks he received for his pay in that body.—Courier.

Neah Bay Correspondence.

NEAH BAY, W. T., Oct. 28, 1874.

The weather in the vicinity of Cape Flattery for the past twenty days has been calm and foggy. On the 22d inst. we had a fresh breeze from the westward, bringing in a bundle of vessels that had been becalmed outside. The bark Isaac Jeans passed out on the 23d, since which time we have had northeast winds and clear weather.

A WAIF FROM THE OCEAN.

On the 18th inst. Mr. Fisher, while walking the beach about 20 miles south of Cape Flattery, saw a boat in the surf. He succeeded in getting it safe on shore and found it to be a light sharp stern boat about fifteen feet long, painted green outside and yellow inside, well finished, and apparently new. The iron row-locks were unshipped and hanging by the lanyards, which is proof she was not in use when lost. I think it is a sea otter hunter's boat, and washed off the beach or some vessel's deck. There was only a little rain water in her when found. She is now in possession of Mr. Thos. Stratton, Deputy Collector at Neah Bay, where the owner can get her by proving property and paying costs.

FUR SEALING AND SEA OTTER HUNTING.

On the 19th inst., the schooner Cygnet, M. M. Kimberly, Master, arrived from the Northwest coast, where she has been for the past four months fur sealing and sea otter hunting. The captain reports poor success, having only got about 50 sea otters and 150 fur seals. The vessel proceeded to Victoria, where it is presumed Mr. Loscowitz will purchase the furs. The Cygnet left Neah Bay on the 9th of June, taking two Makah Indians as part of the crew, paying them one dollar per diem. When the captain came on shore to settle with them in presence of the Agent, the Indians pulled out long strings full of knots, every knot representing a day. By this method they had kept the number of days out.

THE NEW DWELLING-HOUSE

For the Light-keeper on Tatoosh Island, will soon be completed. It is a fine building, strong, elegant and cozy. The materials to build it had to be landed by canoes and hoisted over 100 feet to the top of the island. The foreman in charge, Mr. Holt, is deserving of great credit for the energy he has displayed in pushing this work to completion before winter sets in, thus saving hundreds of dollars to the government. The Indians who have done most of the work landing the material, are anxiously waiting for the paymaster to redeem the paper issued to them.

The Goliah has just arrived with Indian Commissioner Smith and others, to talk with the Makah Indians, and make arrangements for their future benefit.

Government of the possessory rights of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company at the Cascades and at the Dalles, and that Congress make appropriations for the removal of all obstructions on this the great river of the West.

THAT bottle of whisky which Sharpstein and his party forgot to pay for, gave out before they reached Port Gamble, and they were obliged to forage on the captain of the plunger which carried them from Port Ludlow, and the genial and hospitable captain says that he never before saw a party with such "tremendous appetites" for free guzzling as those same distinguished gentlemen had.

Its general wards have accommodations for about one hundred patients and are peculiarly adapted for cases requiring the most careful treatment and constant supervision at limited expense. Those who desire them will be furnished with private rooms, entirely separate and distinct, at a slight additional cost.

The Weekly Argus,

LOCAL NEWS.

ALL improvements on the Sound have a secret foe in the person of B. L. Sharpstein.

JUDGE JACOBS had a rousing reception at Walla Walla—the home of Sharpstein.

THE Germania will take nearly one hundred tons of grain from Whatcom to San Francisco.

THE contract for carrying the mails from Olwmpia to Victoria has been awarded to Hon. P. D. Moore, of this city.

WORK has been suspended in the Bellingham Bay coal mines for the present in consequence of the overflow from a spring in the lower gangway.

JACOBS has had a large experience in public life, and his straightforward course is a guarantee for the future.

WE nope none of our temperance friends will be gulled by what the Echo says about Sharstein's cold-water principles.

THE Tacoma Tribune says William Renton, owner of the Port Blakely mills, who is a large stockholder in the Renton coal mine, has loaned $100,000 at 7 per cent. per annum to the Seattle and Walla Walla Railroad Company, the same to be used in finishing and equipping the road from the mines to the wharf in Seattle.

SHARPTEIN was in town on Thursday and took a drink at one of the saloons. He appeared incommunicative, and the last we saw of him he was wending his way, solitary and alone, to the steamer.

WHILE a pill vender and a lightning calculator were entertaining the people on Water street last Thursday evening with the extraordinary qualities of the pill and the mental capacity of the calculator, a saw-mill man from Utsalady outfigured the latter, and made him leave the field.

A hotel-keeper in this place—a Democrat of long standing—says that he cannot vote for such a dead beat as Sharpstein.

THE great superiority of Jacobs intellectually, morally and socially over his competitor, is conceded by every observer.

IT is related of a "venerable" gentleman, that he invested a bit at Woodley's bar the other day, exclaiming as he did so, in sonorous tones, "This is Sharpstein's money." The barkeeper says he wants no more of such kind of coin—it had evidently been carried a long time, and was badly worn, you see.

JACOBS is well and favorably known to all the heads of Departments at Washington, and will have incalculable influence with the Administration.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.—On last Tuesday evening Messrs. Laing and Smith, of the Board of Indian Commissioners, accompanied by General Howard, started on a steamer for Neah Bay, on a visit to the reservation.

SOME think that the reason why Mr. Sharpstein favors the improvement of the Columbia river in preference to the construction of the Seattle road is that he thinks a good business might some day be done in rafting his lumber down that stream. No blockades to run, you know.

IN JUSTICE COURT, before L. B. Hastings, Wm. Korter, plff. and John Anderson, deft. Civil action upon a promissory note. This case came off on the 28th, C. M. Bradshaw appearing for plaintiff, and D. M. Smith for defendant. Demurrer to complaint was sustained and leave given to plaintiff to file amended complaint. Defendant filed answer but subsequently withdrew it and allowed plaintiff to take judgment by default.

"ECONOMY is wealth," and Mr. Sharpstein understands practicing that same to the fullest extent. The amount disbursed by that gentleman and his party while in this place was just four dollars, at Hunt's Hotel. And when they left they carried away a bottle of whisky for which they forgot to pay; and Bill Crane says that if ever he flops his eyes on that crowd again, shiver his timbers if he don't attach their baggage to get pay for that bottle of cheap whisky.

THE vessel in course of construction at Port Madison during the past season, was launched on the 24th inst. She is said to have been well built. Her dimensions are, 180 feet keel, 38 feet 10 inches beam, 14 feet hold, with a shear of four feet. She is to be rigged as a barkentine.

MARRIED.—In this city, Oct. 28th, Mr. Louie Stephens to Miss Caroline Thompson. The happy couple left on Thursday morning, by the steamer Phantom, for Orcas Island. Louie has read himself out of the jolly brotherhood of bachelors; sold his single-breasted lounge, packed his baggage and checked it for glory, walked the gang-plank of courtship to the vessel of matrimony, and is now steaming down the river of bliss by the light of the honeymoon.

AND now comes word that Whitman Klikatat and Skamania counties will go strong for Jacobs.

ANY thing tending to benefit Puget Sound people is devoid of interest to Sharpstein.

JUDGE JACOBS AT OLYMPIA.

OLYMPIA, Oct. 30th.

HON. ORANGE JACOBS arrived at 7 o'clock last evening, accompanied by Gov. Ferry and Gen. McMicken. They were greeted by firing of cannon and loud cheers from citizens. Large bonfires were made in the principal streets, and a procession of 150 torch lights preceded him to the Hall, where Judge Jacobs was introduced by Judge Green to the largest audience ever congregated in that capacious hall. He delivered an eloquent and enthusiastic address which was received with tremendous cheering.

He left this A. M. for Steilacoom and points down the Sound.

POISONED BY EATING TOADSTOOLS.—Our worthy fellow townsman, D. C. H. Rothschild came very near being called to the home of his fathers last week in consequence of eating of some poison fungus which the children had gathered for mushrooms. The Chinese cook supposing them to be genuine had prepared them for breakfast without Mr. Rothschild being aware of their being in the house, he and his little daughter partook very sparingly of the dish, not liking the flavor, and the Chinaman also ate a portion. All three were taken violently sick, and the little girl dangerously so, but by the prompt action of Dr. Calhoun they were brought out of danger, but were very sick for two or three days. The virulence of the poison of these toad stools may be known from the fact that the cook fried an egg in the pan where he had cooked the toad stools, which one of the little boys eat, and he also was made sick, but not so dangerously as the others. Mushrooms are excellent eating but if people are not acquainted with the proper kind they had better leave all these fungus growths alone.

MR. KELLY, of Seattle, has recently returned to that city, from a trip to the Skykomish mining district, and reports some new discoveries of silver mines on Silver Creek. He also reports the discovery of placer mines in the same locality.

CHRISTMAS is coming and Waterman & Katz are prepared for it. Go early and select an elegant shawl or sofa to present to your wife, and don't fail to see their gorgeous array of toys for the little ones.

THE steamer Eliza Anderson, which has been lying at Olympia for some time past, was recently brought down to Freeport, where she is undergoing repairs.

EX-COLLECTOR GARFIELDE has opened a law office in Washington, D. C.

It is Not True.—There seems to be an opinion prevalent with some persons that there will be a further postponement of the Library Concert. There is no ground for this idea. We speak ex-cathedra when we say that Gov. Bramlette informs us, and through us the public, that the drawing will take place on the 30th of November as surely as that day will arrive in the calendar. Those who wish to partake of the gifts, or to add their mite to the success of the great Library, should not delay an hour to become shareholders in the grandest enterprise ever offered to the public in this or any other country.

The Great Medical Success of the Age.—Leading druggists who have been in the business for half a lifetime, state that they have never known a medicine to enlist the entire and universal confidence of the public, as rapidly as HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR. Although it has only been a few years in use, it has already taken precedence of all other medicines advertised as remedies for coughs, colds, and incipient consumption, and its annual sales are without a parallel in the history of this class of preparations.

PIKE'S TOOTH-ACHE DROPS—Cure in one minute.

Physiologists say that our bodies are renewed once in seven years. The material of which they are reconstructed is the blood, and unless it be fully charged with the elements of vitality, the strength and health of the system decline. Of all blood depurents, DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS is the safest and most infallible. There is no disease arising from depravation of the blood, which it will not speedily cure.

Tumor of 12 Years' Growth Cured by Radway's Resolvent.

BEVERLY, Mass., July 18, 1869.

DR. RADWAY:—I have had Ovarian Tumor in the ovaries and bowels. All the Doctors said "there was no help for it." I tried every thing that was recommended; but nothing helped me. I saw your Resolvent, and thought I would try it; but had no faith in it, because I had suffered for twelve years. I took six bottles of the Resolvent, and one box of Radway's Pills, and two bottles of your Ready Relief; and there is not a sign of tumor to be seen or felt, and I feel better, smarter, and happier than I have for twelve years. The worst tumor was in the left side of the bowels, over the groin. I write this to you for the benefit of others. You can publish it if you choose.

VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essential. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with the BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Mercurial affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory or Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
