Reformers.
Since we opened our columns to the exposition and denunciation of one of the most infamous institutions which was ever tolerated in any community with the least pretensions to Christian civilization, we have been flooded with communications from professional reformers of every hue, representing every practicable and impracticable project of reform ever conceived, with the design on the part of each of securing for their own pet scheme a recognition with the practicable reform we had in view. We simply sought to remove a cancer which is preying upon the public vitals, and not by the same operation attempt to exterminate all the sores upon the body politic. A system of purging and bleeding may be good for one disease; fumigating and sweating for another; blistering and excoarcing for another; the use of the knife for another; soothing appliances for another. Some diseases cannot be cured without a thorough renovation of the whole system; others may be removed by a direct application to the parts affected. Your radical reformer makes no discrimination in moral diseases, but like a certain political organization in New York a few years ago, called "Barn Burners;" they would burn the barn to exterminate the rats.

Such impracticables always marmore than they aid any necessary reform, because they concede nothing to established social customs, tolerate no differences of opinion, or make any allowances for the prejudices of education or association in others. In fact, they will accept no reform, however necessary to the well being of society, except upon their own terms—a recognition of their own peculiar notions. Thus, when we attempt to concentrate public opinion upon the manifest public scandal and demoralizing consequences of tolerating a squaw brothel and dance house in the midst of our fair city, and open gambling houses upon our public thoroughfares in defiance of law and public decency, the radical temperance reformer diverts attention from the main issue by declaring that it is the "infernal liquor traffic" which is the fountain of all the other public and private vices; and the advocate of "women suffrage" creates another diversion by asserting that it is the natural depravity and conventional tyranny of man which fosters and sustains these places of criminal indulgence, which can never be exterminated until women are invested with equal political rights. Neither makes any discrimination between the law-abiding and the lawless engaged in pursuits which conflict with their own views. The men of character and standing engaged in the liquor traffic, who strictly conform to the laws and are endorsed by public sentiment, are assailed in common with the most lawless and vicious portion of the community, and forced in self-defense to make common cause with the latter class in defense of their own rights. It is sheer folly and madness to assail men engaged in lawful pursuits, because public sentiment is so far educated and reformed as to enforce the laws already existing for the suppression of immoral practices. The first question to be determined is, whether the laws against public gambling and prostitution can be enforced. When that is settled, it will be time enough to discuss other reforms in law. Until then, all attempts to divert the public mind from the main issue, by dragging into the controversy other questions of reform, is simply to divide our forces and give aid and comfort to the common enemy.

ELECTORAL NOTES.—Mr. Greeley's death was deemed by many persons to have absolved the Presidential Electors chosen in those states which he carried from voting for him in their electoral colleges. We find, therefore, that the following disposition was made of the respective electoral votes in the states named. Georgia three votes for Greeley, six for Gratz Brown and two for Charles Jenkins. Kentucky gave eight to Thomas A. Hendricks, and four to Gratz Brown. Maryland gave eight votes to Hendricks. Missouri gave six to Hendricks, eight to Gratz Brown, and one to David Davis. Tennessee gave twelve to Hendricks. Florida and Texas are yet to be heard from. The totals according to this showing, stand, Greeley 3, Hendricks 34, Gratz Brown 18, Charles Jenkins 2, David Davis 1.

Last year, months before his death, Horace Greeley said:
I have forgiven and almost forgotten every unkindness and injury that has been done me; and I would rather be able to recall and be forgiven for every unkind word and act of my life than to be the President of the United States; for then I could lie down to die, as I shall soon, in peace.

SUPREME COURT.—We understand that the case of Griffin v. Nichols et al. has been affirmed by the Supreme Court.—The case of Sires v. Newton, from Port Townsend has been reversed. Judge Jacobs will be home on Thursday next.

Open Letter.
SEATTLE, January 6, 1873.
To Hon. WILLIAM WINDOM, U. S. Senator, Hon. SELUCIUS GARFIELD, House of Representatives, and Mr. WILLIAM KING, Postmaster of the House:
Gentlemen—The matter of the contested Donation Claim of David S. Maynard and wife, certificate No. 440, is now pending before the Secretary of the Interior upon appeal from the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

A letter has recently been filed in the Secretary's office by James McNaught, as the attorney for some of the contestants, in which he tells the Honorable Secretary of the Interior, if his (McNaught's) arguments already filed in the case, do not satisfy him that he ought to decide in his favor, he, in that event, refers to yourselves as being in a position to render such further service to him as the exigency may require.

It is to be taken for granted that Mr. McNaught cannot intend either or all of you gentlemen to aid him by professional advice, or that you should appear publicly as advocates before the Secretary for either of the contestants, for this would be contrary to law.

If, then, the reference to yourselves has any significance at all, it must be expected by him that you will bring your official influence to bear, in some outside or underhanded way, in order to compel a decision in his favor, when neither the merits of his case, nor the cogency of his arguments would be likely to produce such a result.

However, we shall refuse to believe you have in any way authorized such use of your names, or that in any possible event you could use your official or personal influence to procure a decision from the Honorable Secretary, in any mere contest between citizens, claiming adversely under a law of Congress.

As the attorneys of Lydia A. Maynard, who is as certainly the donee of the Government as is her husband, and whose rights are sought to be taken away by a fraudulent legislative divorce, and false affidavits, we have no objection to your examining the case, for upon such examination you will be satisfied your aid has been invoked by Mr. McNaught to procure a decision not only contrary to law, but palpably unjust.

Your obedient servants,
LARRABEE & WHITE.

San Juan Correspondence.
SAN JUAN, Dec. 27, 1872.
Editor Dispatch:—Items here are like the grace of God in a lawyer's office—few and far between. Christmas was duly celebrated at the garrison, in, to say the least, a very creditable manner. The soldiers had the officer's and their own illuminated on Christmas eve, and on Christmas day had a very bountiful dinner which would do credit to any hotel on this coast. Mrs. Ebstein, wife of Lieut. F. H. E. Ebstein, supplied the soldiers with as choice lot of cakes as I ever saw. The even, with a few invited guests, enjoyed their dinner to perfection. The first sergeant, Mr. John Buckley, is a credit to the service.
CIVIL GOVERNMENT.
His Excellency Governor Ferry—was here on Monday last and took formal possession of these Islands, and now we have civil rule here in place of military, which has been in existence for the last twelve years. The people are much pleased with the change and just as soon as we get a justice of the peace and constable appointed by the Commissioners of Whatcom county, shall have the rules of civil government in full operation.

Mr. F. H. Winslow, the deputy U. S. Collector, was here as the first civil officer. The boatmen who have been making a good living here for many years, or find their occupation gone. Mr. Winslow has made many friends for himself and the custom house collector, who keeps so worthy a man in the service.

Capt. Harry Dwyer, of the sloop Mystery, goes over to Port Townsend to have his vessel Americanized, which no doubt will be all right in a few days.
Mr. Oregon Hastings, of Port Townsend, was over here on business and takes this communication to your paper. He is a brick.
The people here like the change and are satisfied with the award of these Islands to the United States.
Until my next I remain
Your's truly
BARNEY O'RAGAN.

Supreme Court Decisions.
Territory of Washington, }
Charles Watts, }
In the Supreme Court of W. T., December Term 1872.
Error to 3d Judicial District.
The status of this case as shown by the records of this court, is this:
At the September Term A. D., 1869, of the District Court of the Third Judicial District, the defendant was indicted by a Grand Jury on the part of the United States, for the crime of murder, alleged to have been committed on the Island of San Juan, in the month of June 1869, within "the sole and exclusive jurisdiction of the United States," and within the jurisdiction of said court.

He was put upon trial on the United States side of the court, convicted of murder, and the sentence and judgment of the court was, that he suffer death.
From that judgment he appealed to this court, and among the errors assigned to reverse the judgment were the following:
"The court erred in refusing to instruct the jury that the island of San Juan is within the limits of the Territory of Washington."
"The court erred in overruling the motion for a new trial for the tenth cause assigned, to-wit:
"Because the evidence showed the homicide to have been committed within the civil jurisdiction of the Territory of Washington."
The questions made by the defendant in his assignment of errors, and submitted to this court for decision, were, that the island of San Juan, upon which the murder was committed, was within the civil jurisdiction of Washington Territory, and such offense was cognizable by the Territorial courts, and not by the courts in the exercise of their jurisdiction under the laws of the United States.

The evidence clearly showed that the offense was committed on the island in June, 1869, at which time it was in the joint occupation of the United States and Great Britain.
The opinion of the court was filed in August, 1871, by Greene, J., Kennedy, J., occurring, and Jacobs, C. J., dissenting; both of which opinions show that the question involved received much consideration.
The court resolved the points in favor of defendant. The following extract from the opinion of the court covers the questions raised:
"We are of the opinion that the jurisdiction of the United States is not 'exclusive' on the island of San Juan, within the meaning of the act of 30th of April, 1790; that the statute of the Territory against murder, at the time laid in the indictment, was, and still is, in force there, and that the District Court of the Third Judicial District, in the exercise of its jurisdiction over 'all cases arising under the laws of the Territory,' had authority to try and punish any person who had committed murder on that island."
The judgment of the District Court was reversed, and defendant committed to the custody of the sheriff of the proper county to be proceeded against under the laws of the Territorial side of the court.

Whereupon, at the September term of said District Court, A. D. 1871, the case was submitted to a Territorial grand jury, and a bill of indictment was found and presented against the defendant for the crime of murder in the first degree, committed at the county of Whatcom.

At the February term, 1872, of said court, he was tried and convicted under laws of the Territory of murder in the first degree, and the judgment and sentence of the court was, that he suffer death, and the defendant has again brought his case to this court for review.
Numerous errors have been assigned for the reversal of the judgment of the District Court.
It is now insisted by the defendant, that the court below, had no jurisdiction under the laws of the Territory, to try and determine the cause. The error assigned as to that point is this:
"The court erred in refusing to charge the jury that if the proof shows that the offense was committed on San Juan Island, they must acquit, because of the time of the alleged, commission of the offense charged, San Juan Island was not within the civil jurisdiction of the Courts of Washington Territory."
Fearful that he will obtain under the laws of the Territory, justice more than he deserves, defendant now insists, that not even the laws of the Territory can reach him.

This court, however, when the defendant was before it, in the case of the United States vs. Watts, decided, that the District Court of the Third Judicial District, in the exercise of its jurisdiction, under the laws of the Territory, had authority to try and punish any person who had committed murder on the Island of San Juan; and this ruling of the court was not dictum, but that point had to be determined before the court could discharge him from the custody of the marshal, or commit defendant to be proceeded against under the Territorial laws.
The defendant now asks that the decision be reviewed and overruled and has made an able argument in support of his views. While we have no doubt of the authority of this court to re-examine and review any and all decisions heretofore made, yet when the highest tribunal in a State or Territory has determined any question after careful consideration, such decision should not be disturbed except for weighty reasons.

If this court adopt the policy of reviewing its former decisions upon every occasion it is asked so to do, the laws of the Territory will become much more confused than now; nothing will be considered as settled and determined. It were better that we follow the settled adjudications of the court whatever changes be made in the members thereof. We therefore accept the decision heretofore made in the case of the United States vs. Watts as the law in case under consideration, and conclude that the District Court had ample jurisdiction in the case.
Defendant further insists that the court erred in overruling his objections to the Grand Jury.
What were these objections? Not that any of the jurors were not qualified; not that any of these had any prejudice or bias against him; no objection whatever is made on those facts, but the record discloses the fact that after the Grand Jury had been discharged for the term:
It was shown to the court that the public interest would be promoted by re-summoning the Grand Jury in the manner prescribed by law.

A summons was accordingly issued to the sheriff for that purpose, and he proceeded to re-summon the jury, but he could not find all of them, and the court ordered the panel filled from the bystanders, in accordance with the provisions of section 172 of the criminal code, and herein the defendant interposes his objections, and claims that panel cannot be filled until all of the former Grand Jury have been re-summoned. Such a construction is wholly unreasonable and unwarranted and would tend to defeat the object and purpose of the law, to-wit: to enable a court at all times when in session to bring in a Grand Jury; to the end that persons charged with crime might if probably guilty be put upon trial and, if not guilty, be at once discharged; this is a matter of interest to the public, as well as to the individual citizen, the court very properly, on a return 'not found' as to a part of the jurors, ordered the panel filled.
It is further claimed that the record does not show that twelve Grand Jurors occurred in finding the bill.

The record shows that the Grand Jury appeared in open court, and that the foreman in their presence presented to the court the indictment in question, which was filed by the clerk in the presence of the jury; that the indictment was endorsed "a true bill" and such endorsement signed by the foreman of the Grand Jury.

The law declares that no bill shall be found without the concurrence of twelve jurors and that when so found, it shall be endorsed, signed and presented to the court in the exact manner in which this bill was.
No provision has been made for keeping a record of the votes of the Grand Jury, and the law especially declares, that no Grand Juror shall be permitted to inform any person, in what manner himself or any member of the jury voted upon any question before them.
Now when the Grand Jury come into open court, and present to the court a bill duly endorsed and signed by the foreman, it is a most solemn declaration on their part, that twelve jurors concurred in finding the bill, in fact, it is evidence of the most satisfactory kind, hence the record does show that twelve jurors concurred in finding the bill.
It is also urged that the indictment is bad for the reason that the offense is not charged with having been committed feloniously.
The offense is charged in the exact language of the Statute, and the law has long been settled that an indictment so charging the offense is good.
It is further claimed that the court erred in admitting in evidence the statutes of Washington Territory defining the boundaries of Whatcom county; as also White and Stevens' maps of the Territory.
The court was bound to take notice of the statutes in question, and it not appearing to the contrary it is presumed that the map was properly admitted; at all events it would have worked no injury to defendant, for the evidence sent up, all agrees that the offense was committed on San Juan Island. No question was made on that point, and if on San Juan Island, the law declares that it was in Whatcom county.
Finally, it is claimed that the court erred in instructing the jury as to the question of self-defense, to-wit:
"In order to justify the killing on the grounds of self-defense, there must be a necessity, real or apparent, to prevent death or great bodily harm."
"The prisoner has a right to act on the circumstances as they appeared and are proven, provided you are convinced that the circumstances, as proven, showed in appearance imminent, threatening, present and immediate danger to life, or great bodily harm—the jury and not defendant must be judges of these matters."
We think the above charge is a fair exposition of the law.
The judgment of the District Court must be affirmed.
LEWIS, J.
I concur in the conclusion of my brother Lewis. R. S. GREENE, ASSO. J.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday a boy about ten years of age; a little son of Mr. Spencer, who runs the planer in the saw mill, met with quite a serious accident, which occurred by the boy putting powder and a revolver half in a little toy pistol, the same accidentally exploding, driving the ball through the palm of his hand, shattering the bone and lodging immediately under the skin on the back of the hand, from whence it was extracted. The pistol was exploded by one of the caps which boys usually use on these dangerous toys.

Seattle Library Association.

About one month ago Dexter Horton, Esq., made a proposition to the Seattle Library Association to donate five hundred dollars upon condition that one thousand dollars be contributed to the same object by others within thirty days.

In a mere material view this is a most judicious investment, and needs but the active and cordial cooperation of all good citizens to greatly enhance its value.

To achieve these benefits—which are manifestly achievable—requires only united purpose and unity of endeavor among all of those interested.

EXPLANATORY.—After we had left the office on Monday evening, the printers, in making up the Daily, placed the communication of Messrs. Larrabee & White under the editorial head, thus apparently giving it editorial endorsement.

SUBSIDIZED EDITORS.—The following remarks of an Eastern journal apply as well to this locality as any other.

A SCENE IN THE HOUSE.—There was a genuine sensation in the House on Wednesday, the 11th ult. It only lasted a few minutes, but it brought all the members to their feet and sent them trooping down the aisles toward the speaker's desk.

"It is worthy of him, your man," exclaimed Mr. Morgan. "Worthy of him," echoed a score of voices.

The platoon of the Democracy began to flock to the front and rally around Speaker and Monson, and on the other side the Republicans were nearly all on their feet pressing forward down the aisles.

"Where were you during the war?" "I was at home," replied Townsend.

"Yes, you were at home making money out of the soldiers," said Randall.

"I was a private," Randall replied. "In the Home Guards," suggested some one on the Republican side.

The bill which caused all this had already been so severely handled by Gen. Hawley of Connecticut that very little life was left in it.

WE SHALL MEET AGAIN.—The following is said to be one of the most brilliant articles ever written by the lamented Geo. D. Prentice:

The fiat of nature is inexorable. There is no appeal for relief from the great law which dooms us to dust. We flourish and fade as the leaves of the forest, and the flowers that bloom and wither in a day have no trainter hope on life than the mightiest monarch that ever shook the earth with his footsteps on the shore.

From a Washington dispatch of the 21st ult. it appears that the President is in earnest about the suppression of polygamy in Utah.

Gen. O. G. Maxwell, of Ohio, a distinguished officer of the Rebellion, and a revenue assessor under President Johnson, deliberately shot himself dead with a revolver while at supper with his wife and two children at Dayton, last week. Cause—financial embarrassment.

Chinese Proverbs.

Confucius said: To dwell with a good man is like entering a house wherein are the fragrant "lan" flowers; after a while you may not seem to smell the fragrance, because you yourself have changed—(your whole person has become impregnated with the fragrance.)

To dwell with a bad man is like entering a market of abalones (a large shell fish); after a while you do not notice the stench, because you yourself have changed—(your garments are saturated with it.)

The vessel in which cinnabar is stored will have the carnation color; the vessel which contains black varnish will become black.

Therefore, all ye gentlemen, take great care with whom ye associate. Association with good men is like the fragrance of the lan-wai flower. Let one man cultivate it, and all people will enjoy its fragrance.

Association with bad men is like carrying a child to the top of a wall; if the man misses his step, both will meet with disaster.

In the family sayings of Confucius it is said: To dwell with a good man is like walking in a gentle mist; although your garments do not become suddenly wet, yet they are all the time imbuing the moisture.

Among mankind we use riches to try friendship—(real friendship is tested by wealth and poverty.) Fire is used for trying gold. With water we take a stick to sound it as to deepness or shallowness.—Overland Monthly for January.

Gardner Kellogg vs. Moses B. Madocks, IN THE SUPREME COURT.

The case is this: The plaintiff filed his complaint in the District Court alleging as his cause of action:

That in July, 1869, defendant commenced suit against him in the District Court of King County, to recover a sum of money alleged to be due.

That issue was joined, and the cause heard, and that defendant testified in the case, which testimony was wilfully false, and was given for the purpose of wronging plaintiff herein.

That he was taken by surprise by reason of said testimony.

That the District Court rendered judgment against him in said cause; a motion for a new trial was made and overruled; that in truth, and in fact he owed defendant nothing.

That a bill in equity was filed by the defendant to subject separate property of plaintiff's wife, to payment of said judgment; that by advice of able counsel he paid the judgment.

That the matter of said alleged perjury was laid before the Grand Jury, who fully investigated the charge, and refused to find a bill.

All of these proceedings of the defendant in his suit in said court, against plaintiff, were malicious, and for the sole purpose of annoying and injuring the plaintiff herein.

The defendant interposed his demurrer in the court below for the reason that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to cause an action.

The demurrer was sustained and a judgment rendered for defendant, who brings his cause to this court for review, alleging the ruling of the District Court on demurrer as error.

This is a most extraordinary proceeding; it is in fact an attempt to re-try a question of fact tried by the District Court in another and different case.

The original case of Madocks vs. Kellogg raised the question as to the indebtedness of Kellogg to Madocks; that issue was tried and decided against the plaintiff herein. He made his motion for a new trial on the ground of surprise; this motion was denied, but instead of presenting to the appellate court the question as to the correctness of the judgment of the District Court, he has brought this suit to agitate the same question:

"It would be against public policy, and convenience; it would be productive of endless litigation and it would be contrary to established precedent to allow the losing party to try the cause over again in a counter suit, because he was not prepared to meet his adversary at the trial of the first suit, and in Phelps vs. Stearns, 4 Gray 105, it is held that there is no precedent for such an action, and that the authorities are numerous, that no such action can be maintained at common law.

Were the position of counsel for plaintiff correct, such a proceeding as is motion for a new trial would be heard of no more in our courts. But the same issues would be from time to time heard in collateral proceedings. The courts would be filled with actions and counter actions. The end of a case would never be reached.

The judgment of the court below should be affirmed.

The Locks of the Willamette Falls, at Oregon City, are completed, and were opened to the passage of boats, with imposing ceremonies, on the New Years day. The work, including five locks, has all been done under the direction of Isaac W. FORREST'S DIVORCED WIFE CLAIMS A DOWER.

A caveat has been filed in the office of the Register of Wills in the city of Philadelphia in behalf of his divorced wife, notifying him and the devisees of Edwin Forrest, that she intends to claim dower in the decedent's real estate. Her alimony of $6,000 a year which she has hitherto received is cut off by his death—all she can obtain now is the present worth of her life estate in the real estate he has left, and such as he has sold since the date of her divorce.

A law has just gone into effect in Illinois which authorizes the appointment of guardians for habitual drunkards. The heirs of an Illinoisian, who fatally fractured his skull by falling out of his wagon while intoxicated, have recovered $1000 damages from the bar-keeper who sold him the liquor.

The official report of the Court of Engineers, held at Nassau to investigate the loss of the steamship Missouri, has been received in Washington. It says that the Missouri went to sea without the testing of her new boilers and repaired machinery, and that the fire originated from the defective fitting of the boiler; also, that the supply of boats was insufficient, and their adjustment improper, and that there was a total want of discipline and organization after the fire broke out. Of 89 persons on board 73 perished.

It has been truly remarked that there is no pontic for drawing out a man's virtues like the sod that covers his grave. The Radical papers are just beginning to discover the great virtues of Horace Greeley.

Puget Sound Dispatch.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

SEATTLE, THURSDAY, JAN. 9, 1873.

Financial and Commercial.

SEATTLE, Jan. 9, 1873.
The Puget Sound Banking Company report gold in New York 112, currency buying 88 1/2; Sight Exchange on Portland and San Francisco, 1/2 per cent. premium, on New York 1 per cent. premium for Currency, 1 1/2 per cent. premium for Gold. Sterling Sight Drafts on Jay Cooke, McCullough & Co., London, England, $5 10 per £. These drafts are cashed by special agreement all over Ireland, Scotland and the Continent free of charge.
Trade during the week has been quite dull.
Money is in fair demand at 1 1/2 to 2 per cent. per month with a considerable inquiry for long loans on city real estate for improvement and building purposes.
We hear that property owners at Bellingham Bay have sent a party to New York to negotiate with the N. P. R. R. Co. to locate the terminus at that point, and offering the Company one-half the lands on the Bay and ten miles back, which is a very liberal offer and will no doubt secure the consideration of the Directors of the Company, for Bellingham Bay has much in its favor.
There has not been as much shipping at this Port for some months as at present. The decline of one-half on freights in San Francisco, for the wheat trade, will tend to improve our lumber and coal exports which have materially suffered in the last three months by the high rates for freight and scarcity of ships. Puget Sound lumber in San Francisco is bringing good prices. Seattle coal is selling at $14 per ton, the highest yet reached.

Marine Intelligence.

PORT GAMBLE, Jan. 6.—Sailed, the bark Cananda, Robinson, for San Francisco.

PORT TOWNSEND, Jan. 5.—Sailed, the ship King Phillip, Jan. 3d. ship Rev. Barks Benua Vista and Camden sailed to-day.
PORT BLAKELY, Jan. 6.—Arrived, the bark Florence, from San Francisco.

COUNTY OFFICIALS.—On Monday the new county officers were formally installed in their respective offices. They are as follows: Auditor—C. C. Perkins; Sheriff—H. A. Atkins; Treasurer—O. C. Shorey; Probate Judge—W. M. York; Commissioners—J. T. Stewart, R. Robinson, A. C. Kimball; Assessor—J. T. Kenworthy; School Superintendent; George F. Whitworth; Surveyor—John Whitworth; Coroner—J. F. Roberts.
Mr. Shorey is the only one of the old county officers re-elected, and we believe his personal or official integrity was never in question; the principal opposition to him being based upon the popular demand for an entire change in the management of county affairs—the principle upon which all the other officers for the present term were elected, and to the understanding implied thereby they will be held strictly accountable. We have great faith that the public confidence has not been misplaced, and that we shall not again be called upon, during their term of office, to inaugurate a crusade against official "rings," organized to manage public affairs for private purposes.

TEAS.—If you want good Teas inquire for Clayton & Co.
LIBRARY OPEN.—The Seattle Library will be kept open every Saturday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock, for the purpose of drawing and returning Books.
DENTISTRY.—Dr. B. R. Freeland, formerly of San Francisco, and more recently from Portland, has taken rooms over the Seattle Market, for the practice of Dentistry. He comes very highly recommended by notable persons who have tested his skill.
A WRECK.—The last news from the J. B. Libby is, that she will probably be a total wreck, from which nothing can be saved but her engines and fixtures. The loss falls chiefly upon Hon. A. A. Denny, her principal owner. The boat has been unfortunate from its launch, and a constant loss to its owners, and its final loss, though greatly to be regretted, may prove a blessing in disguise.

Telegraphic

EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE DAILY DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Gov. Booth telegraphs his belief, that if the Modocs are allowed 5,000 acres properly located on Lost River, instead of being forced on proposed reservation, a treaty is practicable which should satisfactorily protect bona fide settlers. Cole laid the subject before the department yesterday. There was no decision in consequence of engagements. Acting Secretary of the Interior probable policy will be unchanged unless new reports on the subject are obtained from officials in California, as Modocs are ordered to new reservation only after careful consideration upon recommendation of the Indian Agent.
The announcement of Government purchase of site for public buildings in Sacramento is premature. The Houghton lot, corner 4th and L streets, has been accepted, subject to Congressional appropriation of $30,000. Cole doubts any appropriation for the purpose, when the city offers a larger and better site for nothing.
Sargent strongly condemns Drummond's decision giving the Meadow Valley lands as swamped, and declares it to be his purpose to sustain Hardenberg.
New York, Jan. 4.—In Stokes' trial, after exhaustive argument in which Fisk and witnesses for the prosecution were severely excoriated, Tremaine closed at 1 o'clock. There was great applause from the audience upon the conclusion of his address, which was suppressed by the Judge. After recess, Beach commenced his reply for the prosecution. He spoke several hours and reviewed at length the testimony of the principal witnesses; and called upon the jury to judge whether from the story of Stokes himself, if the case was not one of murder, it was the case of a man of the circumstances of the murder were commented upon with severity. Beach submitted to the jury on broad principles, whether at the firing of the fatal shot, prisoner intended to kill. When Beach had concluded, the Judge at once proceeded to deliver his charge. After complimenting the jury, counsel and the press, for abstaining from criticizing in the case he hoped all questions were to be discarded which bore upon the character and habits of the social surroundings of either deceased or prisoner. The killing being practically conceded, the question was whether that killing was either murder in the first degree, or manslaughter in the third degree, or justifiable homicide. To determine the point at issue it was important to consider whether there were two pistols found, whether prisoner was acting in self-defense. He then explained that theory of prosecution that there was but one pistol, and the defense that there was a pistol in Fisk's pants but the prisoner. The silence of the prisoner when arrested did not necessarily involve guilt. If the jury believed that the prisoner fired from premeditated design to kill without danger, they should find a verdict of murder in the first degree, unless they found manslaughter in the third degree. In conclusion the Judge said it would be a great misfortune if the jury disagreed.

SEATTLE THE RIVAL OF BOSTON!
To make eventually Seattle the rival of Boston in the art of Music, all that is needed is a good teacher and everybody to patronize him. Now is the chance. Prof. Seliger's well-known on the coast as a thorough master, and being permanently located here, has taken a large room on the corner of Maine and Second streets, and is ready to give lessons on the Piano, Violin, Guitar, Flute and Organ, etc. He is also arranging a singing class, and has reduced the prices so low that everybody will have a chance to form their voices, even for the most difficult pieces, and to be on hand when the "Great Seattle Peace Jubilee" shall take place. For particulars, apply at Crawford & Harrington's store, also, at his office on the corner of Maine and Second streets, up-stairs.

HERE IS A LADY WHO INTENDS TO lecture on a subject which she ought thoroughly to understand. Miss Alexander, now a California actress, but formerly Mrs. Brigham Young, No. 30-and-so, announces her intention of discoursing during the next lecture season upon Mormonism in general and polygamy in particular. This will be entertaining but it hardly seems to be necessary. It is a remarkable and somewhat cheering fact that the doctrine of many wives never made any converts outside the Mormon profession. By this we mean that no religionists, however absurd their creed ever proposed to take up this absurdity. We are satisfied, therefore, that the world is no danger from the heresy, whether the lady lectures against it or not. Still, curiosity is one of the most respectable of the human faculties, and ought to be gratified.—N. Y. Tribune.

CANADA.—Arrangements have been completed for the organization of a company to build the Canadian Pacific Railroad, authorized under the act of the last session of Parliament. Negotiations have resulted in an agreement to raise the necessary capital among the people of Canada, and to submit to such restrictions as will prevent the danger apprehended—that the control of the road and lands would fall into the hands of foreigners interested in a rival project.

LATELY.—The jury in the Stokes case after a few hours absence, entered about 11 o'clock, and rendered a "verdict of murder in the first degree." Judge Boardman deferring sentence until Monday. The anticipation that the verdict would not be given till some time to night created much interest in many places throughout the city, and it was hardly expected, however, that a verdict would be rendered so soon. During the latter days of the trial some apprehension was awakened among the friends of the prisoner, at the pertinacity and skill shown by the attorneys for the prosecution, still the feeling existed among many that conviction of murder in the first degree would not be found, that if there was any disagreement among the jury the verdict would be either justifiable homicide or manslaughter.

WEATHER AT THE EAST.—To those who complain of our rains we commend the following, by way of comparison. It is from a dispatch dated New York, Dec. 22:
Last night the streets were deserted from an early hour in the evening. Business is mostly suspended. No person ventured out except from absolute necessity. Thousands slept down town at the hotels or in their offices owing to inability to reach their homes.
In the upper parts of the city classes dependant upon their day's earnings for the following night's shelter suffered immensely. Thousands wandered about the streets not knowing where to go.
Some of the principal lines of street cars are running to-day with double teams, heavily loaded. A few stages continue running on the great thoroughfares, but it is only at rare intervals that carts or other vehicles are seen.
The street cleaning bureau yesterday ordered a force of laborers to work "today" cleaning the cross-walks and approaches to the ferries, and in general shoveling snow. Special attention will be given to cleaning Broadway, on which the snow lays a foot deep on the level. The entire cost of cleaning this street for a distance of seventy blocks will reach the sum of $20,000.

ONE OF THE SADDEST INSTANCES of woman's faithfulness with which we have met was that of the wife of a man in Syracuse. It seems that the couple had arranged that for six months the husband was to get up in the morning and make the kitchen fire, and that the wife was to perform the task for the succeeding six months. The man's half year expired on the 2d, and the morning of the 3d the woman suddenly died. He is nearly heart-broken over his affliction. He says if he could only have foreseen this bereavement he would have shuffled her out of bed at daylight every morning since January. And to think that she lay there snoring all that time in comfort, when she wasn't going to take her turn, makes him feel as if he would either have to wrap about sixteen yards of crape around his Sunday hat, or burst. And yet there are people who say that these women haven't their rights forsooth!

THE SLAVE-TRADE is not quite dead yet. Our Australia advices have disclosed a system which is in limited application, there, the difference between which and slavery is not very distinguishable. The Peruvian Coolie-trade is nothing but slavery—out and out. A word from England and the United States would stop it; but the unlovely "Chinamen" is not quite dark enough to command sympathy. Now we learn, via Honolulu, that a regular system of slave piracy has been established in certain grounds of Pacific Islands, the natives of which are stolen and sold both to the Guano merchants and to Australia. As these unfortunates are tolerably black, it is thought their call may ultimately engage attention.

MR. McPHERSON, the Clerk of the House, has prepared, as far as he is able at this time, the roster of the next House of Representatives. The full membership will be 292. The Democrats or opposition must have, therefore, 147 votes to break the two-thirds majority of the Republicans. Thus far the Democrats have 89 votes, and New Hampshire and Connecticut have yet to elect their members. The relative strength here given does not also include the members from Florida, Louisiana, or West Virginia, these being subject to future decision. There is a prospect that five or at most six more Democrats may be added, making in all not more than 95, or three less than a third of the membership.

THE BATTLE ROW GANG, to which H. Rogers, lately hanged in Brooklyn, belonged, is composed of fourteen of the most dangerous, drunken ruffians in Brooklyn, who never stop at any crime, from rape to murder—their mildest recreation being to knock down innocent and offensive passers-by into gutters. Two days before Rogers was hanged, his mother was arrested for drunkenness, and while she was being brought into court a number of men passed, bearing the beams of her son's gallows. The shock was terrible, even to a Jew in her condition, and the pitting judge released her without further punishment.

A TERRIBLE DISEASE has broken out in parts of the South among the hogs. It has but little resemblance to hog cholera and is much more fatal, never failing to kill in a few hours, and the hogs actually become very offensive before death. Its first symptoms is soreness in the nose, followed frequently by bleeding. Then the tongue commences to swell, protrudes from the mouth and turns black, and the hog dies frequently in an hour or less time after being attacked. No remedy has been discovered that affects it in the least.

A REFORMED CHURCH SYNOD, at Cincinnati, confirmed the judgment of the Illinois classes, viz: That Rev. J. H. Knepper is guilty of adultery in marrying a woman whose divorced husband is living, while Knepper's divorced wife is living. Knepper was deposed from the ministry and excommunicated from the church. A committee was appointed for uniting the Reformed with the Dutch Church.

A FAMINE STRICKEN EDITOR in Pennsylvania tearfully remarks: "Twenty-five cents each is the price asked for California pears in town, and yet we are told that Providence tempers the shorn lamb who cannot raise the wind."

NOTICE

Telegraphic

EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE DAILY DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31.—All the Conular flags are at half-mast out of respect to the late King Kamehameha.

A meeting will be held Saturday evening under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, at which Governor Booth and ex-Mayor Selby will preside. The object of the meeting, which will be a representative one, is to enter a formal protest in behalf of the people of the State and of San Francisco against the passage of the Goat Island bill by Congress.

The gold coinage in this city during the year was $16,000,000; silver, $16,380,000.

The Coos Bay Coal Company has been organized to mine for coal in Coos county. Trustees—R. H. Rogers, A. A. Jennings, C. B. Land, R. Sherwood and A. K. Phannon.

New York, Dec. 31.—In the Stokes trial to-day Commodore Vanderbilt testified that Fisk was a reckless man. He had this opinion of him from the start. His knowledge, however, as to Fisk was based on hearsay.

Vice President Diven of the Erie Railroad also testified concerning the character of Fisk.

A gas metro exploded in Powers' Chemical Works, Maiden Lane, this morning, creating some excitement but doing no serious damage except smashing all the glass in the building. A dispatch to the Pacific Mail Steamship Co., received this morning, states that on December 20th the Costa Rica broke the axle of her propeller in the Gulf of Mexico and is disabled.

ROCHESTER, Dec. 31.—Yesterday afternoon fourteen of the women held for illegal voting at the late election gave bail to appear at the Albany Court. Susan B. Anthony refused to furnish bail and was remanded.

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Near Pittsfield, Illinois, on Friday last, William and Thomas Clark, brothers, and well-to-do bachelor farmers, were found frozen to death in their house, having been dead one week.

Thomas La Nalgivette, one of the oldest operators in the Western Union Telegraph Office in this city, died yesterday of the small-pox.

A New York special says Samuel Sinclair yesterday offered his resignation as publisher of the Tribune, and it was accepted, to take place to-day.

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—A Washington dispatch says Sumner's physician pronounces his condition as very bad. He has frequent recurrences of acute pain in the region of the heart—a relief of spinal difficulty which has afflicted him for the last fifteen years. These attacks are very violent and prostrating, but of short duration.

Since it has been established that the salary of the Nicaragua Minister is fixed, applications for that position have increased in a wonderful manner. The names mentioned as applying for the place are two Governors of Territories and several Senators whose terms expire this session.

The Journal's Washington special says there is no truth in the report that Secretary Boutwell has tendered his resignation, but states that he cannot remain in the Cabinet after the 4th of March.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Dec. 31.—A fire this morning destroyed a block of fire-brick warehouses on Union street. Loss, $100,000; insurance, $55,000.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 30.—The ice gorge above this city broke at one o'clock this morning, sinking two steamers and a number of barges, and damaging others considerably.

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—The Journal's Washington special says an executive order will probably be issued to-morrow, addressed to Federal officers in the various States, warning them not to interfere in State matters whatever, but to confine their efforts strictly to the performance of their legitimate duties.

WASHINGTON, Dec.—Advices from New Orleans are that the excitement has nearly subsided, and the people generally are acquiescing.

The statement that Attorney General Williams will voluntarily retire from the Cabinet is groundless.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—By a railroad accident last night, seven miles north of Glasgow, forty persons were injured.

ORANGE, N. Y., Dec. 31.—A fire last night destroyed the dry goods store of J. C. Carroll, the stores of Maria Wilson Gold & Co. and several others. Loss, $40,000.

MONTREAL, Dec. 31.—A fire this morning destroyed a fancy dry goods establishment, the broom factory of Nilson, Wood & Co., the boot and shoe factory of Ames & Millard, and an adjoining warehouse. The firemen saved the surrounding buildings with the high Mansard roofs. The thermometer was 15 degrees below zero. Water froze wherever it fell. The loss is estimated at half a million.

SALOMON AHEAD.—The Washington correspondent of the Oregon Herald says: From all that I can learn it is highly probable that Salomon will be reappointed Governor of Washington Territory. He is strongly backed by the California delegation, and as Garfield, who is his enemy, is without the slightest influence, it is almost certain that Salomon will be successful. No change will be made however until the 4th of March.

Northern Pacific Railroad.

REPORT OF GEN. GEO. W. CASS, THE PRESIDENT OF THE COMPANY.

From the Philadelphia Press of December 20th we copy the following:

In recently accepting the Presidency of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, Gen. Geo. W. Cass, well known to our citizens as one of the ablest railroad managers in the country, made the following remarks to the Board of Directors. They constitute a remarkably explicit and influential endorsement of the great enterprise to which they refer:

It is now about three months since you expressed your confidence in my devotion to the best interest of this corporation, and of my ability to serve it, by electing me to the most responsible position within your gift—that of the Presidency, which will soon become vacant. For this evidence of your appreciation I feel most grateful; but the position I cannot accept with an unmixed feeling of gratitude. I accept it with doubt and hesitation, in view of its great responsibilities.

When the Board made its selection of a successor to the gentleman who created this great enterprise as it stands before the public to-day, I was by your appointment on a committee to go to the Pacific Coast, and afterwards to Minnesota and Dakota, to make a personal examination of the road, its route and its land grant, and to look into everything which concerned the Company's present and future. Before accepting or declining the trust you offered to me, I thought it to be fit—to be due to myself, to you, and to that small portion of the public that might place confidence in the enterprise by reason of my presiding over it—that I should first make this personal examination, and thereon found my judgment of the ultimate value of the Northern Pacific Railroad and of its land grant.

That examination has been made, and my opinion of the property has been formed on the examination, and I come to-day to announce to you my acceptance of the honor and the office you have tendered to me, and to promise to devote to this enterprise all of my time and whatever of experience and judgment I have acquired in forty years of active business life, most of it spent in works of a character similar to the construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad.

In making a personal examination of the road, the route and the land grant to which I have referred, I was one of a committee of a majority of your Board, and thus had the full advantage of observation from the various standpoints at which different minds and temperaments would naturally view so great a project, all aiding me to reach a more sounder judgment.

In the journey we examined about 1,000 miles of the route of your road and of the lands contiguous. Of the line and the lands more than one-half was on the Pacific coast. Of the constructed portion of the road we first passed over 400 miles, examining the whole of the property and the whole of the thousands of miles of route by daylight, proposing to rely on what we saw, and not on what we heard, as to the route, the land, and the property and the probable future development of the enterprise.

It is not my purpose to go into an elaborate recital of all the facts and the theories on which I base my opinion that the Northern Pacific Railroad can be constructed at a reasonable cost—that it can be operated and maintained at a less cost than any other railroad across the continent north of the parallel 33, for very obvious reasons, and that it will have when constructed, and at once, a larger traffic than any other road can have west of the one hundredth meridian of longitude; but I will say to you that such is my well-considered judgment.

I will also say that the vast country within the limits of your land not equalled by any similar extent of country west of the Mississippi river in all the elements necessary to support an intelligent, enterprising population in the comforts and luxuries of life. There is no problem to solve as to the success of the Northern Pacific Railroad after it shall have been constructed. The only question after that event will be how intelligent men of this age should ever have had a doubt about its success.

With these views, gentlemen, I enter upon the duties of the trust you have committed to me.

Week of Prayer.

The officers of the different branches of the Evangelical Alliance have issued their annual programme of topics for the Week of Prayer, extending from Jan. 5, 1873, to the 12th. The following are the subjects selected:

Sunday, Jan. 5.—Sermons—Subjects: The foundation, security and universal extension of the Christian church.

Monday, Jan. 6.—Devout Acknowledgment—Remembrance of God's mercies to the nation, to families and churches; providential and spiritual blessings to ourselves; confession of sin.

Tuesday, Jan. 7.—Prayer—For Christian churches; their increase in love, activity, fidelity to the truth, and the clearer manifestations of the unity in faith; for ministers, missionaries and evangelists.

Wednesday, Jan. 8.—Prayer—For families; for sons and daughters of Christian parents; for a blessing on home influence, and on the services and ordinances of "the church of God;" for schools, colleges and universities; for children at sea or in foreign lands; for young men in business and professions; for servants, and for all in sickness and tribulation.

Thursday, Jan. 9.—Prayer—for nations; for kings and all in authority; for the maintenance of peace; for the spread of religious liberty; for the growth of sound knowledge; for contentment, concord and good will among all classes; for the discernment of God's hand in the national judgements, and for the removal of intemperance, immorality and the sins which are a reproach to any people.

Friday, Jan. 10.—Prayer—For mankind; for the circulation of the Holy Scriptures, and the spread of pure literature; for the overthrow of all forms of tyranny and oppression; for the removal of every form of anti-Christ; for all prisoners and captives, and for the increase of that kingdom which is "righteousness peace and joy in the Holy Ghost."

Saturday, Jan. 11.—Prayer—For Sunday schools; for missionary, tract and other religious societies; for the raising up and sending forth of more laborers into His harvest, and for the removal of all hindrances to the spread of the Gospel, and the conversion of the world.

Sunday, Jan. 12.—Sermons—"Let the whole earth be filled with His glory." "Amen, and Amen."

A SOLDIER'S SOLDIERY WIFE.—A plucky woman is Mrs. Kendall, wife of First Lieutenant F. G. Kendall of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, stationed at Fort Davis, Texas. She was awakened early the next morning by the noise of some one trying to enter her window. Her husband was absent on duty and she saw that her safety lay in the prompt use of a revolver in her possession. She called three times, "Who is there?" and receiving no response, fired straight at the head of the intruder, who had nearly succeeded in getting into her apartment. An examination proved him to be Corporal Taliferro, a hideous negro belonging to Company One, Ninth U. S. Cavalry, one of the companies composing the garrison. The bullet had penetrated the skull and must have killed him instantly.
