Seattle and Walla Walla Railroad and Transportation Co.

STATEMENT OF THE SECRETARY, June 20, 1874: Since the meeting of the stockholders of the Seattle and Walla Walla Railroad and Transportation Co., April 12, 1874, work has been commenced on the first section of the road. The Engineer force on the line began their work between Seattle and the Renton Coal Mine, on Cedar River, on the 27th of April, and have now nearly completed the work of surveying and locating between those points. Nearly six miles of the road is already graded. A force of 80 men are steadily at work which force is to be increased and kept at work until the road bed is ready for the ties. Two picnics by the citizens, (May 1st and 15th) donated to the road, netted work valued at over $1,500. There has also been donated to the Company and subscriptions to its stock since April 12, to be used on the first section, as follows: Crawford & Harrington, cash, $1,000; A. A. Denny, " 1,000; Dexter Horton, " 1,000; Wm. Renton, " 1,000; E. L. Yelder, grading two miles, 3,000; Thomas Mercer, cash, 100; Jeremiah Driggs, cash, 100; A. Returned.—Capt. Battersby, Agent and Engineer of the Cedar Mountain Coal Mine, returned to this city this (Friday) morning. The cause of his immediate return was the loss, by the wreck of the Prince Alfred, of the coal being taken to San Francisco as specimens of the quality of the mine. Pending negotiations were consequently suspended till other specimens could be procured, which is the object of Capt. Battersby's present visit.

Burglar Caught.—A Chinaman was arrested last evening, on the steamer Alida, on its arrival from Olympia, and on searching him the cash draft which was taken when the house of Mr. McCausland was plundered on last Sunday night, was found upon him. It has been subsequently learned that the Chinaman offered the draft for sale in Olympia. Mr. McCausland informs us that Fred. Dyer, Deputy Marshal, spotted the Chinaman at once, and worked up the case with the skill of an expert.

Malicious Mischief.—The editor of the Standard delights in mischief. He is trying to set Mrs. Duniway upon the editor of the Echo, which would be like setting a well fed mastiff to worrying a mangy cur. We cannot imagine what satisfaction the General can derive from witnessing a conflict between a terriquant and an idiot; the one as regardless as the other is ignorant of the decencies of newspaper discussion.

Nominating Committee.—The Committee appointed by citizens at the Pavilion on Monday evening of this week, met at the office of John Webster, last night, and adjourned till July 6th. This action was taken in view of the possible districting of the city into wards previous to election, which if done would probably necessitate new nominations.

EDITOR DISPATCH: Sir—I did not authorize any person to mention my name as one of the Committee of twenty-one to select Councilors for the City at the coming election, and most respectfully decline acting on said Committee. Yours, JAMES CRAWFORD, Seattle, June 25, 1874. EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—Church services at Trinity Church on Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock.

of winning on the score of personal merit. The foregoing statement is an invention of this character. Not a paper published on Puget Sound has thus far indicated a preference for any candidate in this section of the Territory, or intimated the least intention of claiming the candidate on sectional grounds. The Delegates thus far elected, have received their nominations and elections without any sectional conflict, and we have never heard of a complaint of the local interests of the East being neglected by a Delegate from the Sound. Neither the River counties nor the Sound counties have ever yet united on a sectional candidate in either of the party conventions. At the last election Garfield was supported by all the delegates from the River counties in the Republican convention, and McFadden in the convention which nominated him; and Mr. Newell has often made the boast, publicly, that McFadden owed his nomination to him. And now he acts which he heretofore claimed the credit of. We know of nobody on the Sound who is disposed to dispute the right of the people of the River counties to the Delegateship whenever they claim it and by the popular voice present a suitable candidate. But they do not feel bound to concede the position to any demagogue who may demand it solely on sectional grounds.

Rev. C. A. Huntington, Indian Agent at Neah Bay, is removing his family to the reservation. He says he shall use the elegant buildings and grounds for which Congress lately awarded Mr. Webster $20,000, only for the purposes of an Indian school, being too far from the agency to be of practicable use for any other purpose. These are the premises which were arbitrarily seized by order of the President, on the representation of the Indian Department of this Territory that they were absolutely necessary to that Agency. Mr. Webster was summarily driven from his beautiful home, which he had occupied for fifteen years, a Commission appointed by the President to assess his damages awarded him $20,000, which Congress ratified, the President approved and the Treasurer paid to Mr. Webster. Now, after all the expense and bother, it is demonstrated that the property is not, and never was, of any necessary use or material advantage to the Agency, and is only occupied for an inferior purpose because the Government has no other use for it. The Government at Washington has indemnified Mr. Webster for his losses, and fully vindicated his character against the slanderous accusations which were used to rob him of his home.

The cause of his immediate return was the loss, by the wreck of the Prince Alfred, of the coal being taken to San Francisco as specimens of the quality of the mine. BERNH BROWN: EDITOR

Seattle, W. T., July 2, 1874

THE PORTLAND, DALLES AND SALT LAKE RAILROAD.—The following dispatch signed by the Senators and Representatives from Oregon, was received at Portland:

WASHINGTON, June 22, 1874. CAPT. A. P. ANKENY: Owing to the great amount of business on the calendar, it will be impossible to get the bill up this session in aid of the Portland, Dalles, and Salt Lake Railroad, in either the Senate or House, for consideration or action. The bill having been reported favorably from the Committee of both Houses, it will not fall by adjournment, but stand on the calendar for action next session, when we have no doubt of its passage. Had it not been for press of business taking precedence on the calendar it would without serious doubt have passed this session.

We regret the failure of the bill before mentioned and are gratified at the favorable prospect of its passage at the next session of Congress, for it is a matter of as much interest to the people of this section as of any other. The bill is for Congressional aid to a narrow gauge railroad from Kelton, on the Union Pacific, to the Upper Columbia, and thence to Portland. At the point of intersection of that road with the Seattle and Walla Walla railroad, the distance is less to Seattle, an ocean port, than to Portland, one hundred and twenty miles from the ocean. In a national view, in connection with foreign commerce, the superior advantages of the Seattle route are too manifest for argument. When this bill was before Congress, and favorably reported upon by the Committee in both Houses, we cannot comprehend why no effort was made to extend its provisions to the Seattle road. We hope the interests of this section will be better represented at the next session. Previous to this, there have been no less than five land grants to Oregon for works of internal improvement. Like grants have been made to all the old Northwestern States and Territories. Washington Territory has been organized over twenty years, and has yet received no grant or aid of any kind to assist the settlers in developing their unparalleled resources of national wealth. Special agents, sent to Washington at the expense of private citizens, have failed to procure for us the poor privilege of taxing ourselves for improvements of national advantage, while one half of the available lands in the Territory are held and kept out of market and withheld from settlement by a rotten and bankrupt corporation, composed of non-resident unscrupulous speculators, whose operations have been a curse instead of a blessing to the Territory. Our people, if they expect any favors from Congress, must make their demands known and their protests heard. In expressing our surprise that the most factious got the most favors in Washington, an old political quaker answered us with the staid proverb: "The crying child gets the most nuts."

STREMBATING.—Mr. Samuel Coulter, who was awarded the contract for carrying the mail between this city and Bellingham Bay, we are informed has purchased the steamer Libby, and will continue her on that route. We hope he will retain her present efficient and accommodating officers, as he has promised us a free pass on his steamer.

The contract under which the North Pacific carries the mail between Olympia and Victoria expires on the first of July. The award of the contract for the next four years has not yet been announced. We are informed that it is the intention of Capt. Finch to put the steamer Olympia on that route in any event.

The steamship John T. Wright, belonging to Wright & Finch, will take the place of the lost steamer Prince Alfred, on the San Francisco and Victoria route.

CITY OFFICERS.—We have been censured by some, and our motives questioned, for suggesting the impropriety of members of the Citizens' Nominating Committee being candidates. The object of taking the nominations out of the hands of party politicians, is to secure disinterested action, looking only to the public interests. That object signally fails when members of the committee use their positions to promote their own personal ends. Ring combinations are as corrupt and objectionable under one name as another, and a nomination, or a number of nominations secured by an interchange of votes by the members of a committee popularly selected, has all the corrupt and objectionable features of the secret caucus system of the old political parties, against which this people's movement is a public protest. It is a monstrous assumption that this committee, embracing not much more than a twentieth part of the voters of the town, include so large a portion of the virtue and intelligence of the population that a suitable ticket cannot be made up without permitting the members to vote for each other and divide up the offices among themselves. If there are any who desire a nomination they have no more right to sit in that committee to influence its action than they would have to sit on a jury to determine a case in which their own interests are involved. We highly approve of the plan adopted to present a ticket free from party entanglements, but in order to be successful, it must be kept free from the suspicion of ring combinations.

A FUNNY DUEL.—A model duel recently came off at Ottawa, Canada. The two men having indulged in an excess of what Mr. Dick Swiveller poetically calls "the rosy," quarrelled and caused their employer considerable annoyance. After he had tried in vain to reconcile them and persuaded the belligerents to fight it "out like gentlemen." Having got them out into the yard he placed them back to back, capped the pistols, and told them to walk ten paces, turn and fire. The couple proceeded to pace, but the courage of one oozed out so rapidly that he never turned at all. When last seen he was still keeping straight ahead in a frightened condition.

MATRIMONY IN NEVADA.—A Nevada man, who was walking with his brother to attend his wedding, was astonished by a proposition to take the bride elect off his hands and marry her in his stead. With true good nature he consented, and the prospective bridegroom and groomsmen changed places, to the satisfaction of all parties concerned.

TROUBLES OF ROYALTY.—Just now social and political circles in London are excited by rumors of controversy between the Queen and the Prince of Wales in regard to the payment of debts to the amount of some $300,000, which the latter has incurred and refuses to pay. A portion of these are of long standing, and the creditors have become clamorous for liquidation, but his Royal Highness repudiates them on the ground that they were incurred in the performance of State duties, shouldered off upon him by her Majesty, who, as is well known, shirks as much as she possibly can the fatigues and annoyances of levees and courtly ceremonials generally. In short, the Queen has made the Prince do her work, and has failed to meet the expenses incurred; and the heir apparent, in his turn, has neglected to pay those expenses, so that, as we have said, bills to a large amount have accumulated, and the august mother and son are differing with each other as to the responsibility therefor. Both of them have immense private fortunes, and receive very large allowances from the public revenues, especially in order that they may be able to defray the cost of maintaining their regal state. The annual income of the Prince of Wales is not less than $450,000, and his mother has two or three times as much; but neither of them is willing to disburse a penny by way of keeping up the royal show. And the consequence is that Parliament will be asked to make an extra appropriation. The dread of scandal is very potent among conservative Englishmen, and that $300,000 will be ordered paid, without delay. — Troy Times.

The Norristown Herald says: "A loving wife in Bridgeport wants a divorce. She recently found pieces of an ostrich plume in her husband's beard of entirely different shade from that on her own hat. He explained that bits of ostrich feather sprinkled on the beard is the latest style in New York, and it is not his fault that the shade is different from her own."

THE PRINTERS AGAIN.—An ardent lover, pouring out his passionate devotion in verse, spoke of that night when walking with his sweetheart, he "kissed her under the silent stars." In print he was made to say that he "kicked her under the cellar stairs."

That eminently respectable and numerous body of religionists who call themselves Dunkers or Dunkards will be a good deal astonished, if not horrified, to see the way the telegraph has libeled them in transmitting the reports of their convention at Girard, Ill., to the Eastern newspapers. Several journals published the report with the heading, "A Drunkard's Convention," as the telegraph made it, and the Boston Journal improved upon it in this way: "A Novel Organization—National Convention of Drunkards."

A Washington special says Supervising Architect Mullett gave the contract for the granite for the Cincinnati Custom House to the Bain Granite Co. at 79 cents per foot or less than it would take to transport it from the quarry to Cincinnati. The mystery attached to such a singular contract has, it appears, been solved that by an agreement with W. and P. Mullett the Granite Co. are also to have the cutting of the stone on the following conditions: The company are to furnish yard room and Government men and pay all expenses and the Granite Company to have 15 per cent. of the entire cost. By this arrangement the Granite Company can afford to give stone for nothing and still clear one dollar a foot on the cutting.

INDIANS AS VOTERS.—The St. Paul Dispatch says every Indian in the State of Minnesota has a legal right to vote. They are both citizens of the United States and of the State. Every citizen of the United States is entitled to the ballot without reservation or qualifications. The judges of elections have no right to reject their votes if offered. It is true that registration laws must be complied with, but their object is to determine who are citizens, and to protect the ballot, not to withhold it. Should the Indians, then, at the coming election, offer to vote, who shall forbid them? It is for the Indians themselves to accept the ballot or to exercise their rights. No one else has the right to interfere. This is a startling doctrine. But as a legal proposition it cannot be controverted. Congress has destroyed the tribal relations. By legislative enactment the status of domestic dependent nations under guardianship has been abolished. The guardian, at once the Court and officer, has been discharged. Then the Constitution, rising superior over all laws, vests the rights of citizenship and bestows the ballot. The question is no longer one of expediency. If it were, it would be well enough to consider its propriety. It is too late now, and it becomes the duty of Congress to adapt their policy to this new state of affairs.

HOW BELKNAP BECAME SECRETARY OF WAR.—In company with Mr. Allison I called on our honored citizen, the genial and very competent Secretary of War, General Belknap. He is in appearance every inch a soldier, and in bearing a gentleman, without the frigidity or fustian of too many officials. During the pleasant private conversation he gave me this item of his personal history: "I was born in Washington, and in passing the War Department I used to wonder if I would ever get into it. In the course of time I read law, and became a clerk for six months in the War Office. I then took my satchel and started West for Iowa, with a deep conviction and presentiment in my mind that I would one day return here as head of the Department. A fellow clerk said to me: 'Belknap, you are a fool to leave a good clerkship, with a salary of twelve hundred dollars, and go West.' 'I went West,' he said, 'I am Secretary of War, he is my clerk.' This is only one of a thousand incidents illustrating the wisdom and correctness of the oft-laught-at advice of the sage of Chappaqua, 'Go West, young man!'—Washington Correspondence of the Cedar Falls Gazette.

VALE, RICHARDSON!—On his surrendering the portfolio of the Treasury, the New York Tribune bade Richardson farewell in the following pathetic terms: "Gone like a beautiful vision. Like the baseless fabric of a paper ten cent piece, the Great Minister of Finance, who for fourteen months has delighted the heart of the American people with the most unique spectacle ever witnessed in a republic, has disappeared; faded away like the plan for specie resumption in sums of five dollars and less. 'We shall meet and we shall miss him.' Think how gradually he has slid away from us; melted away like a moonbeam or a snowflake; dried up like a dewdrop or like the red herring of his native strand; gone like a slow-trotting night-mare of finance, whose retreating footsteps echo on the ear of a country that wakes up in a cold sweat and rubs its eyes. Ah! he was great. In his line the greatest we have ever had. How beautifully the succession tapered off in him. He was great in that the hue ended with him. The 'little end of the horn' was reached when he took the portfolio of Alexander Hamilton. In this his greatness lay: he was sui generis. He had no predecessor—even Mr. Boutwell—to compare with him, and there can never be such another. The mold is broken. We shall never look upon his like."

In a letter from Paris to the Utica Herald, Wirt Sikes says: "There are Americans who keep shops and stores of every sort here; one of the most popular and flourishing of dress-makers is a Connecticut man, out of Hartford, named Kingsbury—an artist whose costumes are brought by high-born French dames, and whose vogue is like that of Worth."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY. Seattle, W. T., July 2, 1874.

The donation of John Leary of $300 to the Seattle and Walla Walla Railroad, was accidentally omitted from the list as given to the printer last week. We may add, as a matter of more interest, that no man in this town has done more in proportion to his means to promote every measure of public interest and for the general prosperity of the town than has Mr. Leary.

STRAYED—A small red and white cow—rather more white than red—with a rope around her horns. A liberal reward will be paid for the return of said cow, or for information of where she may be found on application at this office.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—Five acres of land belonging to the Plummer estate, situated in the rear of the brick yard, was sold at public auction, this morning, for $1,750 gold coin. C. C. Perkins was the purchaser.

WHAT WOULD BE THE EFFECT?—A temperance lecturer in this city a few evenings since made a capital hit in commenting upon the recommendation of Paul to Timothy: "Take a little wine for the stomach's sake," so often quoted to justify the use of intoxicating drinks. "You may take a little castor oil for the stomach's sake," said the orator, "but what would be the effect should you take a dose of castor oil eight or ten times a day?" No one responded.

The election of Trustees of the Olympia Railroad Union, on Friday last resulted in the following choice: Marshall Blinn F. A. Hoffman, H. L. Chapman, Oliver Sheard, S. N. Cooper, T. I. McKenny, C. H. Hale, Geo. W. Biles, John M. Murphy, T. F. McElroy, Geo. A. Barnes, S. D. Howe, S. W. Percival, Ennard Stevens, A. A. Phillips, Ira Ward, R. W. Ryerson.

The other Olympia printers are delighted with the election of Gen. Murphy, of the Standard, as a compliment to the craft.

LARGE EGGS.—The hens on the Sound seem to have entered into a sharp competition for the production of large eggs. We have seen several notices of large eggs, but thus far a hen belonging to us has beat them all, having spread herself on an egg which measures 8 by 6 1/2 inches in circumference—full measure.

THE UNIVERSITY.—A telegram just received, brings us the gratifying intelligence that Prof. A. B. Nicholson, of Kingston, N. Y., a gentleman of large experience and rare endowments as a teacher, has accepted the Presidency of the University, tendered him by the Board of Regents. He will be here in time to organize the institution for the commencement of the next term.

Mr. Charles E. Williams, an old and highly esteemed citizen of Olympia, returned to that city on Thursday last, after an absence of three years, and had a public reception. He is now engaged in business in New York city.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. Charles McDonald, was kicked by a vicious horse he was attempting to shoe, and thrown upon a knife which cut his hand in a shocking manner, which will deprive him of its use for some time if it does not permanently impair its usefulness.

BOAT CLUB.—The boat club, composed of five young ladies, organized some time since, have adopted a "nobby" uniform, secured a good four-oar boat, and practice regularly every Wednesday and Saturday evenings. They are improving fast and we expect that they will soon be able to beat the Olympia boat club.

EXCLUSIVELY TO THE DAILY DISPATCH.

BUENOS AYRES, June 27.—Senor Sarmiento, upon his retirement from the Presidency of the Argentine Confederation, will be appointed Minister to the United States.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—At a council of Deceit's friends it was decided that the present was not the time for him to make a defense. He says he can do so at any time and effectually.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The banking house of Lizzing, Weyes & Co., doing business in Chatham street, suspended payment this afternoon. An old partner claimed everything on an adjudge-ment for money advanced, the present partner having left and no assets left for creditors, many of whom gathered around the building, clamoring for their deposits.

Police Commissioners Charlick and Gardner sent their resignations to the Mayor to-night. In a long letter accompanying they gave the reasons for their action, and concluded by saying that the main reason for it is that they desire thus to settle all questions relative to their standing.

NEW ORLEANS, June 27.—Millan L. Peeler, Kellogg's Grant Parish Collector, has been arrested for embezzlement of State funds and for forgery.

TORONTO, June 27.—Fall Mall Gazette has information that the Czar has sentenced his nephew, the Grand Duke Nicholas, who stole his mother's diamonds, to banishment to Caucasus for life, and has deprived him of the Cross of St. George, bestowed for achievements in the Khivan campaign.

BERLIN, June 27.—The report that the Roman Catholic Bishops now in conference at Fulda will endeavor to make a compromise with the Prussian Government is not true.

WASHINGTON, A dispatch says Chief of Secret service division, H. C. Whitely, has resigned, and the general impression prevails that Whitely acted under instructions from some one authorized to direct him. This Secretary Bristow will endeavor to ascertain, without regard to whom it may implicate.

Hale, by telegram from Altoona to-day, accepts the Postmaster-Generalship, and will be in Washington to qualify July 1st.

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 21.—The Attorney General of Iowa in the opinion furnished the Executive Council, holds that the validity of the railroad law is not at all affected by the failure of the companies to furnish the information required for their classification. His argument is that the law makes it imperative upon the Executive Council to classify the roads, and that if the corporations have failed to file reports giving information to aid in the discharge of this duty, the Council must have recourse to other sources. "It would be very strange," says the Attorney General, "if a person should be allowed to plead his own deliberately wrong act as reason why the law should not be enforced against him."

LONDON, June 27.—St. Petersburg dispatches say there are alarming rumors in Central Asia. One is that the Amoor of Kaskgar has seized the Russian envoy and concentrated ten thousand troops on the frontier.

MONTREAL, June 27.—About 5,000 delegates, including several from the United States and their friends, were present at French Canadian Convention yesterday, Judge Coursal, President. A report on replies to questions put by the committee on organization of Canadian societies in the United States, was submitted. It alludes to the large immigration to that country during the past 25 years, numbering over 500,000. It is urged that this return would place Quebec at the head of the confederation. The object of the convention is to devise means for insuring their return, and generous legislation to this end is urged, including grants of land and a free passage from the United States.

A resolution asking amnesty for Riel was adopted.

NEW YORK, June 27.—A Havana letter of recent date says that Cubans report that a convoy of 400 men, together with 40 car loads of provisions, has been captured by Cubans in the Jurisdiction of Santiago de Cuba, and the whole number of 400 Spaniards had been shot, in retaliation for the shooting Cubans.

MADRID, June 27.—A dispatch from Gen. Conchas states that he has executed a flank movement on the Carlists at Estella, resulting in the capture of several important positions, and that it is probable the town will fall to-morrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The Pacific Mail Steamer Alaska brings Yokohama dates to June 5th. Japanese legation is being established in Peking. Kido, a member of the Japanese Ministry at the head of Department of Education, had been murdered by his countrymen. Total number of Japanese troops in Formosa is 2,000. Collisions had occurred between them and the natives; Japs. lost 9, killed, and natives many more. Chinese had not yet taken part. Contrary Chinese Government has issued orders to subjects all along the coast invaded country to afford the Japanese every assistance possible. Admiral Pennock had arrived to take command of the Squadron in China seas. Japanese Government issues notification that after the first of August next exportations of rice and wheat beyond the seas will be prohibited. Report of the tour of the late Japanese Embassy round the world is finished and placed in the hands of censors. It will be published in Japanese.

The Alaska sailed from Hongkong the 27th of May. The latest news from Peking says all is quiet at the scene of the riot among the French and Chinese.

The Japanese Government has notified the Japanese Government to annex so much of Formosa territory as is not under control of China.

MADRID, June 27.—Gen. Concha has made an important movement and secured advantages which are confidently expected to lead to the fall of Estella in a few days. The Carlists, anticipating an attack on the right bank of the river, erected strong defensive works in that quarter, but Gen. Concha suddenly crossed the river and occupied Abraxuela and other positions east and north of Estella, in order to intercept the retreat of the enemy to Los Amezcos.

The Carlists are thus out-flanked, and their position may be considered critical. It is anticipated that they will abandon Estella and endeavor to reach Los Amezcos.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Sarah Miles, a child two years old, living with her parents on Minna St., found a jar of phosphorus in the yard last night and ate a portion of the poison. All efforts to save the life of the little one failed and she died to-day.

Steamship Japan was spoken by the Alaska June 20th. All well. The Great Republic took $300,000 in treasure; 306 steerage passengers, and 31 cabin passengers.

MADRID, June 28.—Dispatches received by the Government this morning convey the startling information that Marshal Concha was killed yesterday in an attack on the Carlist entrenchment at Mairo, near Estella. When the national forces learned of the death of their commander, they returned to their former posts without disorder, leaving no trophy in the hands of the enemy.

BERLIN, June 27.—Princess Doubril, wife of the Russian Ambassador to this country, was drowned at Potsdam yesterday.

The North German Gazette, in an article headed, "Fresh Complications in Asia," says caravans arriving from Central Asia bring reports that Yankob Bey is arming against Russia. It is believed that he is prompted to this by agents of Great Britain. There is also a possibility of a collision between Russia and China.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The Chronicle of to-morrow in an editorial upon the removal of Gen. Sherman's headquarters to St. Louis will say: "We have the highest authority for saying that the personal relations between the Secretary of War and the General of the Army are cordial and friendly, and that there has been no open rupture between them. Gen. Sherman's removal is made at this time on account of private personal matter, which, in his judgment, under all circumstances justify his course, but it is equally true that if he had any duties to perform as General of the Army, he would remain at the capital. His letter to the Secretary of War has as yet never been answered nor its receipt acknowledged. He has no authority, nor is his position as General of the Army recognized. Orders go from the Secretary of War direct to the commanders of troops, giving orders to companies and moving regiments, of which he knows nothing unless he incidentally learns it in the newspapers. Courts-martial are ordered, sentences received and punishment executed without even his knowledge."

It is due to the Secretary of War to say that the orders and present usages of the War Department concerning the relative authority of the Secretary of War and General of the Army were delivered and acted upon by his predecessors in that office, and that he has not asserted or inaugurated any new doctrine or construction of the law."

It is said in official circles that the civil service commission and subordinate boards will continue. That, although Congress did not make a special appropriation to perfect and enforce the rules, the President does not intend to abandon the system, but will do all in his power to consummate it.

It is reported that William O. Avery, Chief Clerk of the Internal Revenue Office, is to be appointed Chief Clerk of the Treasury Department.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Acheensene on the night of the 20th attacked a Dutch fort, captured it and overwhelmed the garrison. Loss of Dutch is placed at 1000 killed and 400 wounded, a great number being laborers employed to work on the fort and colonists' dwellings outside. Eight ships were required for the wounded, whom the Malar chiefs permitted to be removed from shore, as much to embarrass the Navy as to do an act of humanity. News of the complete annihilation of the Dutch expedition is known in official circles as Singapore and is purposely withheld from the press.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—A dispatch says Mr. Cushing, United States Minister to Spain, had made a peremptory demand upon the Spanish Government for full indemnity for the Virginian prisoners slain by order of General Burriel for consequential damages. The same authority makes Secretary Fish say that the American Government has made a prompt demand and one quite as decided and peremptory as that made by the British Government for indemnity for the lives of prisoners destroyed and the loss to their families.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Cuban news indicates more than ever the inability of the authorities to subdue insurrection. The proposed withdrawal of troops from some interior towns, threatened by Insurgents, is the confession of a weakness which added to the daily increasing financial embarrassment it is thought, will compel an early close of a six years' war. There is an undercurrent rumor that Mr. Cushing at Madrid is taking advantage of the crisis to make the United States mediatary to insure peace on terms which shall advance our commercial and political interests in the Island.

DETROIT, June 29.—James Gleason, wife and child were burned to death at their house in Ewart, Michigan, this morning.

BOSTON, June 29.—The Legislature to-day refused to pass a license bill over the Governor's veto by a vote of 110 to 93.

A bill was introduced and engrossed providing that women shall not be disqualified for service as school commissioners.

Prompted by my self respect, I immediately and forever ceased my attendance on his ministry." Tilton publishes the following as an extract from a document signed by Mr. Beecher:

BOOKLYN, Jan. 1st, 1872. "I ask Theodore Tilton's forgiveness and humble myself before him as I am before my God. He would have been a better man in my circumstances than I have. He served one term in the Senate several years ago, and a few days after he was sworn in he was passing one of the cloak rooms, and inside were Fessenden, Morrill and several others, whose names we can't recall. They hailed him, invited him in, and after conversing for a few moments they asked him very abruptly:

"Mr. Nesmith, you have come from a very wild country, where you say the greater portion of your life has been passed. Will you tell us what first struck you on coming to the Senate?"

"Well, gentlemen, when I took my seat in this august body, said to be composed of the brains of our great country, I was overwhelmed with the strangeness of the one idea, how I came to be here."

"Oh! Ah! Ugh! So! And then Mr. Nesmith, when then—what your next cause for wonder?"

"The next thing, gentlemen," answered Nesmith, "that came to me and puzzled me more than the first thought, was how in the deuce all you other fellows got here."

Governor Seymour preemptorily refuses to allow the use of his name in connection with the Democratic nomination to succeed Dix. He says he has done his share of public work, and must be left to the undisturbed enjoyment of private life.

The Baker City Democrat of the 17th says: "On Saturday last a young gentleman about twenty years of age, by the name of John Vandevan, while going from Union to the Cove with his brother, got out of the wagon to shoot a squirrel with his derringer, and in placing it back in his pocket it went off, the ball passing through the stomach. He lived about two hours."

The Connecticut man was in earnest and he showed some acquaintance with medical human nature when he pointed to his sick boy and said, "Doctor, do bring him out of it right away, do break up the fever at once, even if you charge as much as if he went through a whole course of fever."

Useful Hints.—A lady, writing to the Country Gentleman, thus recapitulates she had the good sense to learn from her servant girls: She says:

The other day Mary was ironing and asked for a piece of sand-paper to rub her irons on. I was astonished that I had never thought of it before; it is so nice, removes every bit of starch or anything else and makes them so smooth.

One girl thought me that old corsets make the best stove clothes. Just one half at a time is a convenient size. They are ready made and much easier to wash. Just throw them in with the brown towels, as many as you happen to get during the week, and they come out clean and ready to use again.

Another girl pours hot water on the blades only of steel knives and they wipe easily and do not need drying.

Another one told me the best way to keep hams and dried beef was to pack them in dry salt. We have tried it several years, with perfect success. Set it in some cool, dry place; put quite a thick layer of salt in the bottom, then pack in the hams, using the pieces of dried beef, if you have any, for chinking; cover with salt, then hams and salt again, till the barrel is full. There is not the least danger from insects, if the hams are smoked and the beef dried and put away, before the flies come around; and they are much nicer to handle than when put in ashes or oats, or anything of that kind.

General Ord, commanding the Department of the Platte, has instructed Captain R. H. Young, Fourth Infantry, stationed at Camp Brown, in Wyoming Territory, to enlist one hundred Shoshone Indians, as scouts, etc., for service against hostile Indians that may come on raids in the Wind River Valley and vicinity. These scouts will be armed, mounted and equipped, and paid as cavalry soldiers.

THE TRIALS OF HONEST JOURNALISM.—Mr. Haskell, of the Boston Herald, at the dinner table of the Ancient and Honorable artillery festival on Monday evening was set to speak on the press, and said among other things that just and pat things:

Independent journalism is not so much of an acrobatic performance. Its motto is to tell the truth and shame the devil. Ah! it is a blessed occupation. It has to correct so many lies told by other people—especially party organs and politicians—that it scarcely has time to tell any itself—even for fun. We might have an excuse, if we did lie a little. Congress teaches us to lie by lying promises to pay money, which it does not try to keep. Parties lie to win in platforms as false as dicers' oaths. Interested persons lie to us to obtain credit not due them or evade deserved blame. We are expected to sift all these lies and give the public nothing but truth. You see what a task is put upon us. But we can stand it. We do not complain. Welcome any sacrifice if we can make the world wiser or better. Anything, anything to lift up poor struggling humanity. I rejoice that all newspapers are becoming independent. Only a few years ago the great newspapers were all party organs. Now the great newspapers, the far-reaching newspapers—the successful newspapers—are independent. The people like them, though the politicians do not, and patronize them. So may it be more and more so until independent journalism is also both ancient and honorable.

Owning a Home.—The strength of the American Republic, is the desire to own a home. It is moulding all the people, native and foreign born, into one homogeneous mass. The ownership of home is something of which neither the Irish peasant nor the German laborer has, in his own country, any conception; but it is here the goal of his desires. Education comes next; it is something the need of which is not felt until the adornment of home is thought of. The desire to own the roof under which one sleeps is distinctively an American characteristic, and seems by nature to be adapted to the growth which is raising us in importance in the scale of nations. It is the link which connects the man with the Government; it adds to his interest in the making and execution of the laws, and identifies him with the usages and customs of the people. It is this element which gives the people of Switzerland their unity and power, the lack of it causes nine tenths of the unrest in Ireland. No feeling is stronger than the attachments of home, and no nation whose people possess this as a common sentiment, can lose their liberty.
